20 Then Job arose, and rent his robe, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground and worshiped, 21 And said, Naked [without possessions] came I [into this world] from my mother's womb, and naked [without possessions] shall I depart. The Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away; blessed [praised and magnified in worship] be the name of the Lord!

22 In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly.

CHAPTER 2

AGAIN there was a day when the sons of God [the angels] came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan — the adversary and the accuser — came also among them to present himself before the Lord.

2 And the Lord said to Satan, From where do you come? And Satan — the adversary and the accuser — answered the Lord, From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking up and down on it.

3 And the Lord said to Satan, Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who [reverently] fears God and abstains from and shuns all evil [because it is wrong]? And still he holds fast his integrity, although you moved Me against him, to destroy him without cause.

4 Then Satan answered the Lord, Skin for skin, yes, all that a man has will he give for his life.

5 But put forth Your hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse and renounce You to Your face.

6 And the Lord said to Satan, Behold, he is in your hand; only spare his life.

7 So Satan went forth from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with loathsome and painful sores from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head.

8 And he took a piece of broken pottery with which to scrape himself and he sat down among the ashes.

9 Then his wife said to him, Do you still hold fast your blameless uprightness? Renounce God, and die!

10 But he said to her, You speak as one of the impious and foolish women would speak. What? Shall we accept [only] good at the hand of God and shall we not accept [also] misfortune: and what is of a bad nature? In [spite of] all this Job did not sin with his lips.

11 Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came each one from his own place, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite; for they had made an appointment together to come to condole with him and to comfort him.

12 And when they looked from afar off and saw him [disfigured] beyond recognition, they lifted up their voices and wept; and they each one tore his robe, and they cast dust over their heads toward the heavens.

13 So they sat down with [Job] on the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spoke a word to him, for they saw that his grief and pain were very great.

CHAPTER 3

AFTER this Job opened his mouth, and cursed his day [birthday].

2 And Job said,

3 Let the day perish wherein I was born, and the night which announced, There is a man-child conceived.

4 Let that day be darkness! May not God above regard it, nor light shine upon it.

5 Let gloom and deep darkness claim it for their own; let a cloud dwell upon it; let all that blackens the day terrify it [the day that I was born].

6 As for that night, let thick darkness seize upon it; let it not rejoice among the days of the year; let it not come into the number of the months.

7 Yes, let that night be solitary and barren, let no joyful voice come into it.

8 Let those curse it who curse the day, who are skilled in rousing up Leviathan.

9 Let the stars of the early dawn of that day be dark; let [the morning] look in vain for the light, nor let it behold the day's dawning,

10 Because it shut not the doors of my mother's womb, nor hid sorrow and trouble from my eyes.

11 Why was I not stillborn? Why did I not give up the ghost when my mother bore me?

12 Why did the knees receive me? Or why the breasts, that I should suck?

13 For then should I have lain down and been quiet; I should have slept; then had I been at rest [in death],

14 With kings and counselors of the earth, who built up [now] desolate ruins for themselves;

15 Or with princes who had gold, who filled their houses with silver.

16 Or [why] was I not a miscarriage, hidden and put away, as infants who never saw light?

17 There [in death] the wicked cease from troubling, and there the weary are at rest.

18 There the [captive] prisoners rest together; they hear not the taskmaster's voice.

19 The small and the great are there, and the servant is free from his master. [Jer. 20:14-18.]

20 Why is light [of life] given to him who is in misery, and life to the bitter in soul,

21 Who long and wait for death, but it comes not, and dig for it more than for hid treasures;

22 Who rejoice exceedingly, and are elated when they find the grave?

23 [Why is the light of day given] to a man whose way is hidden, and whom God has hedged in?

24 For my sighing comes before my food, and my groanings are poured out like water.

25 For the thing which I greatly fear comes upon me, and that of which I am afraid befalls me.

26 I was not or am not at ease, nor had I or have I rest, nor was I or am I quiet, yet trouble came and still comes upon me.

CHAPTER 4

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,

2 If we venture to converse with you, will you be offended? Yet who can restrain himself from speaking?

3 Behold, you have instructed many, and you have strengthened the weak hands.

4 Your words have held firm him who was falling, and you have strengthened the feeble knees.

5 But now it is come upon you, and you faint and are grieved; it touches you, and you are troubled and dismayed.

6 Is not your (reverent) fear of God your confidence, and the integrity and uprightness of your ways your hope?

7 Think (earnestly), I beg of you; who that was innocent ever perished? Or where were those upright and in right standing with God cut off?

8 As I myself have seen, those who plow iniquity and sow trouble and mischief reap the same.

9 By the breath of God they perish, and by the blast of His anger they are consumed.

10 The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions, are broken.

11 The old and strong lion perishes for lack of prey, and the whelps of the lioness are scattered abroad.

12 Now a thing was secretly brought to me, and my ear received a whisper of it.

13 In thoughts from the visions of the night, when deep sleep falls on men, 14 Fear came upon me and trembling, which made all my bones shake.

15 Then a spirit passed before my face; the hair of my flesh stood up!

16 [The spirit] stood still, but I could not discern the appearance of it. A form was before my eyes, there was silence; then I heard a voice, saying,

17 Can mortal man be just before God, or be more right than He is? Can a man be pure before his Maker, or be more cleansed than He is? [I John 1:7; Rev. 1:5.]

18 Even in His [heavenly] servants He puts no trust or confidence, and His angels He charges with folly and error;

19 How much more those who dwell in houses [bodies] of clay, whose foundation is the dust, who are crushed like the moth.

20 Between morning and evening they are destroyed; without any one noticing it they perish for ever.

21 Is not their tent cord plucked up within them [so that the tent falls]? Do they not die, and that without acquiring wisdom?

CHAPTER 5

CALL now; is there any who will answer you? And to which of the holy [angels] will you turn?

2 For "vexation and rage kill the foolish man; jealousy and indignation slay the simple.

3 I have seen the foolish taking root [and outwardly prospering]; but suddenly I saw his dwelling was cursed [for his doom was certain].

4 His children are far from safety; [involved in their father's ruin] they are crushed in the [court of justice in the city's] gate, and there is no one to deliver them.

5 His harvest the hungry eat, and take it even [when it grows] among the thorns; the snare opens for [his] wealth.

6 For affliction comes not forth from the dust, neither does trouble spring forth out of the ground;

7 But man is born to trouble as the sparks and the flame fly upward.

8 As for me, I would seek God, and inquire of and require Him and to God would I commit my cause;

9 Who does great things and unsearchable, marvelous things without number;

10 Who gives rain upon the earth, and sends waters upon the fields;

11 So that He sets on high those who are lowly, and those who mourn He lifts to safety.

12 He frustrates the devices of the crafty, so that their hands cannot perform their enterprise or anything of [lasting] worth.

13 He catches the [so-called] wise in their own trickiness, and the counsel of the schemers is brought to a quick end. [I Cor. 3:19, 20.]

14 In the daytime they meet in darkness, and at noon they grope as in the night.

15 But [God] saves [the fatherless] from the sword of their mouth, and the needy from the hand of the mighty.

16 So the poor have hope, and iniquity shuts her mouth.

17 Happy and fortunate is the man whom God reproves; so do not despise or reject the correction of the Almighty [subjecting you to trial and suffering].

18 For He wounds, but He binds up; He smites, but His hands heal.

19 He will rescue you in six troubles; in seven nothing that is evil [for you] will touch you.

20 In famine He will redeem you

a) This was written many centuries ago, but physicians and psychiatrists are continually emphasizing the importance today of recognizing the principle it lays down, if one would avoid being among the constantly increasing number of the mentally ill and those killed by avoidable illnesses.

from death, and in war from the power of the sword.

21 You shall be hidden from the scourge of the tongue, neither shall you be afraid of destruction when it comes.

22 At destruction and famine you shall laugh, neither shall you be afraid of the living creatures of the earth.

23 For you shall be in league with the stones of the field, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with you.

24 And you shall know that your tent shall be in peace, and you shall visit your fold and your dwelling, and miss nothing [from them].

25 You shall know also that your children shall be many, and your offspring as the grass of the earth.

26 You shall come to your grave in ripe old age, and as a shock of grain goes up [to the threshing floor] in its season.

27 This is what we have searched out; it is true; hear and heed it, and know for yourself [for your good].

CHAPTER 6

THEN Job answered,
2 Oh, that my impatience and vexation might be [thoroughly] weighed, and all my calamity be laid up over against them in the balances one against the other [to see if my grief is unmanly]!

3 For now it would be heavier than the sand of the sea; therefore my words have been rash and wild;

4 [But it is] because the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poison of which my spirit drinks up; the terrors of God set themselves in array against me.

5 Does the wild ass bray when he has grass? Or does the ox low over his fodder?

6 Can that which has not taste to it be eaten without salt? Or is there any flavor in the white of an egg?

7 [These afflictions] my soul refuses to touch! Such things are like diseased food to me [sickening and repugnant]!

8 Oh, that I might have my request, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!

9 I even wish that it would please God to crush me; that He would let loose His hand and cut me off!

10 Then should I still have consolation; yes, I should leap for joy amid unsparring pain [though I shrink from it], that I have not concealed or denied the words of the Holy One!

11 What strength have I left, that I should wait and hope? And what is ahead of me, that I should be patient?

12 Is my strength and endurance that of stones? Or is my flesh made of bronze?

13 Is it not that I have no help in myself, and that wisdom is quite driven from me?

14 To him who is about to faint and despair, kindness is due from his friend, lest he forsake the fear of the Almighty.

15 [You] my brethren, have dealt deceitfully as a brook, as the channel of brooks that pass away,

16 Which are black and turbid by reason of the ice, and in which the snow hides itself;

17 When they get warm, they shrink and disappear; when it is hot, they vanish out of their place.

18 The caravans which travel by way of them turn aside; they go into the waste places and perish. [Such is my disappointment in you, the friends I fully trusted.]

19 The caravans of Tema looked [for water], the companies of Sheba waited for them in vain.

20 They were confounded because they had hoped [to find water]; they came there and were bitterly disappointed.

21 Now to me you are [like a dried-up brook]; you see my dismay and terror, and [believing me to be a victim of God's anger] you are afraid [to sympathize with me].

22 Did I ever say, Bring me a gift?
Or, Pay a bribe on my account from your wealth,

23 To deliver me from the adver-sary's hand? Or, Redeem me from the hand of the oppressors?

24 Teach me, and I will hold my peace, and cause me to understand wherein I have erred.

25 How forcible are words of straightforward speech! But what does your arguing argue or your reproof reprove?

26 Do you imagine your words to be an argument, but the speeches of one who is desperate to be as wind?

27 Yes, you would cast lots over the fatherless, and bargain for your friend.

28 Now be pleased to look upon me, that it may be evident to you if I lie [for surely I would not lie to your face].

29 Return [from your suspicion], I pray you, let there be no injustice;
yes, return again [to confidence in me],
my vindication is in it.

30 Is there wrong on my tongue?
Cannot my taste discern what is destructive?

CHAPTER 7

IS there not an [appointed] warfare and hard labor to man upon earth?
And are not his days like the days of a hireling?

2 As a servant earnestly longs for the shade and evening shadows, and as a hireling who looks for the reward of his work,

3 So am I allotted months of futile [suffering], and [long] nights of misery are appointed to me.

4 When I lie down, I say, When shall I arise, and the night be gone? And I am full of tossings to and fro till the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust; my skin is broken and become loathsome, and it closes up and breaks out afresh.

6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and are spent without hope.

7 Oh, remember that my life is but wind — a puff, a breath, a sob; my eye shall see good no more.

8 The eye of him who sees me shall see me no more; while your eyes are upon me, I shall be gone.

9 As the cloud is consumed and vanishes away, so he who goes down to Sheol [the place of the dead] shall come up no more.

10 He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not restrain my mouth; I will speak in the anguish of my spirit; I will complain in the bitterness of my soul, [O Lord]!

12 Am I a sea, or a sea monster that You set a watch over me?

13 When I say, My bed shall comfort me, my couch shall ease my complaint,

14 Then You scare me with dreams, and terrify me through visions:

15 So that I would choose strangling and death rather than these my bones.

16 I loathe my life; I would not live for ever. Let me alone, for my days are a breath [futility].

17 What is man, that You should magnify him and think him important?
And that You should set Your mind upon him? [Ps. 8:4.]

18 And that You should visit him every morning, and try him every moment?

19 How long will Your [plaguing] glance not look away from me, nor You let me alone till I swallow my spittle?

20 If I have sinned, what [harm] have I done You, O You watcher and keeper of men? Why have You set me as a mark for You, so that I am a burden to myself [and You]?

21 And why do You not pardon my transgression and take away my iniquity? For now shall I lie down in the dust, and [even if] You will seek me diligently, [it will be too late, for] I shall not be.

CHAPTER 8

THEN answered Bildad the Shuhite, 2 How long will you say these things [Job]? And how long shall the words of your mouth be as a mighty wind?

3 Does God pervert justice? Or does the Almighty pervert righteousness?

4 If your children have sinned against Him, and He has delivered them into the power of their transgression,

5 If you will seek diligently unto God and make your supplication to the Almighty, 6 Then, if you are pure and upright, surely He will bestir Himself for you, and make your righteous dwelling prosperous again.

7 And though your beginning was small, yet your latter end would greatly increase.

8 For inquire, I pray you, of the former age, and apply yourself to that which their fathers have searched out;

9 For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because our days upon earth are a shadow.

10 Shall not [the forefathers] teach you, and tell you, and utter words out of their heart [the deepest part of their nature]?

11 Can the rush or papyrus grow up without marsh? Can the flag or reed grass grow without water?

12 While it is yet green, in flower and not cut down, it withers before any other herb [when without water].

13 So are the ways of all who forget God; and the hope of the godless shall perish, 14 For his confidence breaks, and [the object of] his trust is a spider's web.

15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand; he shall hold fast to it, but it shall not last, 16 He is green before the sun, and his shoots go forth over his garden.

17 [Godless] his roots are wrapped about the [stone] heap, and see their way [promisingly] among the rocks.

18 But if [God] snatches him from his property, [then having passed into the hands of others] it will forget and deny him, [saying,] I have never seen you [before, as if ashamed of him — like his former friends].

19 See, this is the joy of going the way [of the ungodly]! And from the dust others will spring up [to take his place].

20 Behold, as surely as God will never uphold wrongdoers, He will never cast away a blameless man.

21 He will yet fill your mouth with laughter [Job], and your lips with joyful shouting.

22 Those who hate you will be clothed with shame, and the tent of the wicked shall be no more.

CHAPTER 9

THEN Job answered and said,

2 Yes, I know it is true; but how can mortal man be right before God?

3 If one should want to contend with Him, he cannot answer one [of His questions] in a thousand.

4 [God] is wise in heart and mighty in strength; who has [ever] hardened himself against Him, and prospered or even been safe?

5 [God] who removes the mountains, and they know it not, when He overturns them in His anger;

6 Who shakes the earth out of its place, and the pillars of it tremble;

7 Who commands the sun and it rises not, and seals up the stars [from view];

8 Who alone stretches out the heavens, and treads upon the waves and high places of the sea;

9 Who made [the constellations] the Bear, Orion, and the [loose cluster] Pleiades, and the [vast starry] spaces of the south;

10 Who does great things past finding out, yes, marvelous things without number.

11 Lo, He goes by me, and I see Him not; He passes on also, but I perceive Him not.

12 Behold, He snatches away; who can hinder or turn Him back? Who will say to Him, What are You doing?

13 God will not withdraw His anger; the [proud] helpers of Rahab [arrogant monster of the sea] bow under Him.

14 How much less shall I answer Him, choosing out my words to reason with Him?

15 Whom, though I were righteous — upright and innocent — yet I could not answer; I must appeal for mercy to my opponent and judge [for my right].

16 If I called, and He answered me, yet would I not believe that He listened to my voice.

17 For He overwhelms and breaks me with a tempest, and multiplies my wounds without cause.

18 He will not allow me to catch my breath, but fills me with bitterness.

19 If I speak of strength, lo, He is mighty! And if of justice, Who, says He, will summon Me?

20 Though I am innocent and in the right, my own mouth would condemn me; though I am blameless, He would prove me perverse.

21 Though I am blameless, I regard not myself; I despise my life.

22 It is all one; therefore I say, God [does not discriminate, but] destroys the blameless and the wicked.

23 When [His] scourge slays suddenly, He mocks at the calamity and trial of the innocent.

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked; He covers the faces of its judges [so that they are blinded to justice]. If it is not [God], who then is it [responsible for all this inequality]?

25 Now my days are swifter than a runner; they flee away; they see no good.

26 They are passed away like the swift rowboats made of reeds, or like the eagle that swoops down on the prey.

27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will put off my sad countenance, be of good cheer and brighten up, 28 I become afraid of all my pains and sorrows [yet to come], for I know You will not pronounce me innocent [by removing them].

29 I shall be held guilty and be condemned; why then should I labor in vain [to appear innocent]?

30 If I wash myself with snow, and cleanse my hands with lye, 31 Yet You will plunge me into the ditch, and my own clothes will abhor me [and refuse to cover so foul a body].

32 For [God] is not a mere man, as I am, that I should answer Him, that we should come together in court.

33 There is no umpire between us, who might lay his hand upon us both [would that there were!] [I Tim. 2:5.]

34 That He might take His rod away from [threatening] me, and that fear of Him might not terrify me.

35 [Then] would I speak, and not fear Him, for I am not so with myself [to make me afraid, were only a fair trial given me].

CHAPTER 10

I AM weary of my life and loathe it! I will give free expression to my complaint; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.

2 I will say to God, Do not condemn me — do not make me guilty! Show me why You contend with me.

3 Does it seem good to You that You should oppress, that You should despise and reject the work of Your hands, and favor the schemes of the wicked?

4 Have You eyes of flesh? Do You see as man sees?

5 Are Your days as the days of man, are Your years as man's [years],

6 That You inquire after my iniquity and search for my sin,

7 Although You know that I am not wicked or guilty, and there is none who can deliver me out of Your hand?

8 Your hands have formed me and made me, would You turn around and destroy me?

9 Remember [earnestly], I beseech You, that You have fashioned me as clay [out of the same earth-material, exquisitely and elaborately], and will You bring me into dust again?

10 Have you not poured me out as milk and curdled me like cheese?

11 You have clothed me with skin and flesh, and have knit me together with bones and sinews.

12 You have granted me life and favor, and Your providence has preserved my spirit.

13 Yet these [the present evils] have You hid in Your heart [for me since my creation]; I know that this was with you [in Your purpose and thought].

14 If I sin, then You observe me, and You will not acquit me from my iniquity and guilt.

15 If I were wicked, woe unto me! And if I am righteous, yet must I not lift up my head, for I am filled with disgrace and the sight of my affliction.

16 If I lift myself up, You hunt me like a lion, and again show Yourself [inflicting] marvelous [trials] upon me.

17 You renew Your witnesses against me, and increase Your indignation toward me; I am as if attacked by a troop time after time.

18 Why then did you bring me forth out of the womb? Would that I had perished, and no eye had seen me!

19 I should have been as though I had not existed; I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.

20 Are not my days few? Cease then and let me alone, that I may take a little comfort and cheer up,

21 Before I go whence I shall not return, even to the land of darkness and the shadow of death;

22 The land of sunless gloom as intense darkness; [the land] of the shadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as thick darkness.

CHAPTER 11

THEN Zophar the Naamathite replied,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? And should a man full of talk [and making such great professions] be pronounced free from guilt or blame?

3 Should your boastings and babble make men keep silent? And when you mock and scoff, shall no man make you ashamed?

4 For you have said, My doctrine [that God afflicts the righteous knowingly] is pure, and I am clean in God's eyes. [Job 10:7.]

5 But oh, that God would speak, and open His lips against you;

6 And that He would show you the secrets of wisdom! For He is manifold in understanding! Know therefore that God exacts of you less than your guilt and iniquity [deserve].

7 Can you find out the deep things of God, or can you by searching find out the limit of the Almighty [explore His depths, ascend to His heights, extend to His breadths, and comprehend His infinite] perfection?

8 His wisdom is as high as the heights of Heaven! What can you do? It is deeper than Sheol [the place of the dead]! What can you know?

9 Longer in measure [and scope] is it than the earth, and broader than the sea.

10 If God sweeps in and arrests and calls into judgment, who can hinder Him? — If He be against a man, who shall call Him to account for it?

11 For He recognizes and knows hollow, wicked and useless men — men of falsehood; when He sees iniquity, will He not consider it?

12 But a stupid man will get wisdom [only] when a wild donkey's colt is born a man [like which he thinks himself free because he is lifted up in pride].

13 If you set your heart aright and stretch out your hands to God;

14 If you put sin out of your hand and far away from you, and let not evil dwell in your tents;

15 Then can you lift up your face to Him without stain of sin [and unashamed]; yes, you shall be steadfast and secure; you shall not fear.

16 For you shall forget your misery; you shall remember it as waters that pass away.

17 And your life shall be clearer than the noonday, and rise above it; though there be darkness, it shall be as the morning.

18 And you shall be secure and feel confident because there is hope; yes, you shall search about you, and you shall take your rest in safety.

19 You shall lie down and none shall make you afraid; yes, many shall sue for your favor.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall look [for relief] in vain, and they shall not escape [the justice of God], and their hope shall be to give up the ghost.

CHAPTER 12

THEN Job answered,

2 No doubt you are the [only wise] people [in the world], and wisdom will die with you!

3 But I have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you. Who does not know such things as these [of God's wisdom and might]?

4 I am become one who is a laughingstock to his friend; I, one whom God answered when he called upon Him; a just, upright (blameless) man is laughed to scorn!

5 In the thought of him who is at ease there is contempt for misfortune; but it is ready for those whose feet slip.

6 The dwellings of robbers prosper; those who provoke God are [apparently] secure; God supplies them abundantly [who have no god but their own hand and power].

7 For ask now the animals and they will teach you [that God does not deal with His creatures according to their character]; ask the birds of the air and they will tell you.

8 Or speak to the earth [with its other forms of life], and it will teach you; and the fish of the sea will declare [this truth] to you.

9 Who [is so blind as] not to recognize in all these [that good and evil are promiscuously scattered throughout nature and human life] that it is God's hand which does it [and God's way]?

10 In His hand is the life of every living thing and the breath of all mankind.

11 Is it not the task of the ear to discriminate between [wise and unwise] words, just as the mouth distinguishes [between desirable and undesirable] food?

12 With the aged [you say] is wisdom; and with length of days comes understanding.

13 But only with God is [perfect] wisdom and might; He alone has [true] counsel and understanding.

14 Behold, He tears down, and it cannot be built again: He shuts a man in, and none can open.

15 He withholds the waters, and the land dries up; again, He sends forth [rains], and they overwhelm the land or transform it.

16 With Him are might and wisdom: the deceived and the deceiver are His [and in His power].

17 He leads [great and scheming] counselors away stripped and barefoot, and makes the judges fools [in human estimation, by overthrowing their plans].

18 He looses the fetters ordered by kings, and has the waistcloth [of a slave] bound about their own loins.

19 He leads away priests as spoil, and men firmly seated He overturns.

20 He deprives of speech those who are trusted, and takes away the discernment and discretion of the aged.

21 He pours contempt on princes, and loosens the belt of the strong [disabling them, bringing low the pride of the learned].

22 He uncovers deep things out of darkness, and brings out to light black gloom and the shadow of death.

23 He makes nations great, and He destroys them; He enlarges nations [and then straitens and shrinks them again], and leads them [away captive].

24 He takes away understanding from the leaders of the people of the land and of the earth, and causes them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and He makes them to stagger and wander like a drunken man.

[JOB continued:] Lo, my eye has seen all this, my ear has heard and understood it.

2 What you know, I also know; I am not inferior to you.

3 Surely I wish to speak to the Almighty, and I desire to argue and reason my case with God [that He may explain the conflict between what I believe of Him and what I see of Him].

4 But you are forgers of lies [you defame my character most untruthfully]; you are all physicians of no value and have no remedy to offer.

5 Oh, that you would altogether hold your peace! Then you would evidence your wisdom and might pass for wise men.

6 Hear now my reasoning, and listen to the pleadings of my lips.

7 Will you speak unrighteously for God, and talk deceitfully for Him?

8 Will you show partiality to Him [be unjust to me in order to gain favor with Him]? Will you act as special pleaders for God?

9 Would it be profitable for you if He should investigate your tactics [with me]? Or as one deceives and mocks a man, do you deceive and mock Him?

10 He will surely reprove you, if you do secretly show partiality.

11 Shall not His majesty make you afraid, and should not your awe for Him restrain you?

12 Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes [valueless]; your defenses are defenses of clay [and will crumble].

13 Hold your peace! Let me alone, so I may speak, and let come on me what will.

14 Why should I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in my hand [incurring the danger of God's wrath]?

15 [I do it because though He slay me, yet will I wait for and trust Him and] behold, He will slay me; I have no hope; nevertheless I will maintain and argue my ways before Him — even to His face.

16 This will be my salvation, that a polluted and godless man shall not come before Him.

17 Listen diligently to my speech, and let my declaration be in your ears.

18 Behold now, I have prepared my case; I know that I shall be justified and vindicated.

19 Who is he who will argue against and refute me? For then I would hold my peace and expire.

20 Only [O Lord] grant two conditions to me, then will I not hide myself from You:

21 Withdraw Your hand and this bodily suffering far from me; and let not my [reverent] dread of You terrify me.

22 Then [Lord] call, and I will answer; or let me speak, and You answer me.

23 How many are my iniquities and sins [that so much sorrow should come to me]? Make me recognize and know my transgression and my sin. [Rom. 8:1.]

24 Why do You hide Your face [as if offended], and alienate me as if I were Your enemy?

25 Will You harass and frighten a [poor, helpless] leaf driven to and fro, and will You pursue the chaff of the dry stubble?

26 For You write bitter things against me [in Your bill of indictment], and make me inherit and be accountable now for the iniquities of my youth.

27 You put my feet also in the stocks, and observe critically all my paths; You set a circle and limit around the soles of my feet [which I must not overstep].

28 And he wastes away as a rotten thing, like a garment that is moth-eaten.

CHAPTER 14

MAN that is born of a woman is of few days and full of trouble.

2 He comes forth like a flower, and withers; he flees also like a shadow, and continues not.

3 And [Lord] do You open Your eyes upon such a one, and bring me into judgment with You?

4 Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? Not one. [Cf. Isa. 1:18; I John 1:7.]

5 Since a man's days are already determined and the number of his months is wholly in Your control, and he cannot pass the bounds of his allotted time;

6 [O God] turn from him [and cease to watch him so pitilessly]; let him rest until he has accomplished as does a hireling the appointed time for his day.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender shoots of it will not cease. [But there is no such hope for man.]

8 Though its root grows old in the earth, and its stock dies in the ground,

9 Yet through the scent [and breathing] of water [the stump of the tree] will bud, and bring forth boughs like a young plant.

10 But (the brave, strong) man must die and lie prostrate; yes, man breathes his last, and where is he?

11 As waters evaporate from the lake, and the river drains and dries up, 12 So man lies down and does not rise [to his former state]. Till the heavens are no more, men will not awake, nor be raised [physically] out of their sleep.

13 O that You would hide me in Sheol [the unseen state], that You would conceal me until Your wrath is past, that You would set a definite time and then remember me earnestly [and imprint me on your heart]!

14 If a man die, shall he live again? All the days of my warfare and service I will wait, till my change and release shall come. [John 5:25; 6:40; I Thess. 4:16.]

15 Then You would call and I would answer You; You would yearn for [me] the work of Your hands.

16 But now You number each of my steps; and take note of my every sin.

17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag, and You glue up my iniquity [to preserve it in full for the day of reckoning].

18 But as a mountain, if it falls, crumbles to nothing, and as the rock is removed out of its place;

19 As waters wear away the stones, and as floods wash away the soil of the earth; so You, O Lord, destroy the hope of man.

20 You prevail forever against him, and he passes on; You change his appearance [in death], and send him away [from the presence of the living].

21 His sons come to honor, and he knows it not; they are brought low, and he perceives it not.

22 But his body [lamenting its decay in the grave] shall grieve over him, and his soul shall mourn [over the body of clay which it once enlivened].

CHAPTER 15

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite answered [Job],

2 Should a wise man utter such windy knowledge [as we have just heard], and fill himself with the east wind [of withering, parching and violent accusations]?

3 Should he reason with unprofitable talk? Or with speeches with which he can do no good?

4 Indeed, you are doing away with (reverential) fear, and hindering and diminishing meditation and devotion before God.

5 For your iniquity teaches your mouth, and you choose the tongue of the crafty.

6 Your own mouth condemns you, and not I; yes, your own lips testify against you.

7 Are you the first man that was born [the original wise man]? Or were you created before the hills?

8 Were you present to hear the secret counsel of God? And do you limit [the possession of] wisdom to yourself?

9 What do you know that we know not? What do you understand that is not equally clear to us?

10 Among us are both the gray-haired and the aged, older than your father by far.

11 Are God's consolations [as we have interpreted them to you] too trivial for you? Is there any secret thing [any bosom sin] which you have not given up? Or were we too gentle [in our first speech] toward you to be effective?

12 Why does your heart carry you away [why allow yourself to be controlled by feeling]? And why do your eyes flash [in anger or contempt], 13 That you turn your spirit against God, and let [such] words [as you have spoken] go out of your mouth?

14 What is man, that he can be pure and clean? And he who is born of a woman, that he can be right and just?

15 Behold, [God] puts no trust in His holy ones [the angels]; indeed, the heavens are not clean in His sight.

16 How much less that which is abominable and corrupt, a man who drinks iniquity like water?

17 I will show you, hear me; and that which I have seen I will relate.

18 What wise men have not hid but have freely communicated; it was told to them by their fathers, 19 Unto whom alone the land was given, and no stranger intruded or passed among them: [corrupting the truth].

20 The wicked man suffers with (self-inflicted) torment all his days, through all the years that are numbered and laid up for him, the oppressor.

21 A [dreadful] sound of terrors is in his ears; in prosperity the destroyer shall come upon him [the dwellings of robbers are not at peace].

22 He believes that he will not return out of darkness, and [because of his guilt] he is waited for by the sword [of God's vengeance].

23 He wanders abroad for food, saying, Where is it? He knows that the day of darkness and destruction is already close upon him.

24 Distress and anguish terrify him; [he knows] they shall prevail against him, as a king ready for battle.

25 Because he has stretched out his hand against God, and bids defiance and behaves himself proudly against the Almighty,

26 Running stubbornly against Him with a thickly ornamented shield;

27 Because he has covered his face with his fat, adding layers of fat on his loins [giving himself up to animal pleasures];

28 And has lived in desolate [God-forsaken] cities, and in houses which no man should inhabit, which were destined to become heaps [of ruins];

29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his wealth last, neither shall his produce bend to the earth or his possessions be extended on the earth.

30 He shall not depart out of darkness [and escape from calamity; the wrath of God] shall consume him as flame consumes a dry tree, and by the blast of His mouth he shall be swept away.

31 Let him not deceive himself and trust in vanity — emptiness, falseness and futility; for these shall be his recompense [for such living].

32 It shall be accomplished and paid in full while he still lives, and his branch shall not be green [but shall wither away].

33 He shall fail to bring his grapes to maturity [leaving them to wither un-nourished] on the vine, and shall cast off blossoms as the olive tree [and fail of fruit].

34 For the company of the godless shall be barren, and fire shall consume the tents of bribery [wrong and injustice].

35 They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity, and their inmost soul hatches deceit.

CHAPTER 16

THEN Job answered,

2 I have heard many such things; wearisome and miserable comforters are you all!

3 Will your futile words of wind have no end? Or what makes you so bold to answer [me like this]?

4 I also could speak as you do; if you were in my stead, I could join words together against you, and shake my head at you.

5 But I would strengthen and encourage you with [the words of] my mouth, and the consolation of my lips would soothe your suffering.

6 If I speak [to you miserable comforters], my sorrow is not soothed or lessened; and if I refrain [from speaking], in what way am I eased? [I hardly know whether to answer you or be silent.]

7 But now [God] has taken away my strength. You [O Lord] have made desolate all my family and associates.

8 You have laid fast hold on me and have shriveled me up, which is a witness against me; and my leanness [and wretched state of body] are further evidence [against me]; [they] testify to my face.

9 [^bMy adversary Satan] has torn [me] in his wrath, and hated and persecuted me; he has gnashed upon me with his teeth; my adversary sharpens his eyes against me.

10 [The forces of evil] have gaped at me with their mouth; they have struck me upon the cheek insolently; they massed themselves together and conspired unanimously against me. [Ps. 22:13; 35:21.]

11 God has delivered me to the ungodly [to the evil one] and cast me [headlong] into the hands of the wicked [Satan's host].

12 I was living at ease, but [Satan] crushed me and broke me apart; yes, he seized me by the neck and dashed me in pieces, then set me up for his target.

13 [Satan's] arrows whiz around me: he slashes open my vitals, and does not spare; he pours out my gall on the ground.

14 [Satan] stabs me, making breach

b) The next six verses leave the casual reader at a loss to know of whom Job is speaking — of God, of Eliphaz, or of Satan, each of whom has been the choice of various translators and commentators. But careful study of the text itself, particularly the eleventh verse, seems to leave no question that while Job is blaming God for abandoning him to Satanic forces, nevertheless the monstrous, appalling and disgusting behavior which Job describes is by him being attributed to Satan himself. Verse eleven in any translation seems to reveal what the reader has known all along, but which Job only now sees. He still does not understand God's motive, but he is facing the facts as they are: he is at the mercy of Satan! But God's thrilling and rewarding motive is still unknown to him.

after breach and attacking again and again; he runs at me like a giant and irresistible warrior.

15 I have sewed sackcloth over my skin [as a sign of mourning], and have defiled my horn — my [insignia of] strength — in the dust.

16 My face is red and swollen with weeping, and on my eyelids is the shadow of death — my eyes are dimmed;

17 Although there is no guilt or violence in my hands, and my prayer is pure.

18 O earth, cover not my blood, and let my cry have no resting place [where it will cease being heard].

19 Even now, behold, my Witness is in Heaven, and He who vouches for me is on high. [Rom. 1:9.]

20 My friends scorn me, but my eye pours out tears to God.

21 O that there were one who might plead for a man with God and that he would maintain his right with Him, as a son of man pleads with or for his neighbor! [I Tim. 2:5.]

22 For when a few years are come, I shall go the way from which I shall not return.

CHAPTER 17

MY spirit is broken; my days are spent — snuffed out; the grave is ready for me.

2 Surely there are mockers and mockery around me, and my eye dwells on their obstinacy, insults and resistance.

3 Give me a pledge with Yourself [acknowledge my innocence before my death]; who is there that will give security for me?

4 But their heart [Lord] You have closed to understanding, therefore You will not let them triumph [by giving them a verdict against me].

5 He who denounces his friends [in order to make them] a prey and get a share, the eyes of his children shall fail [to find food].

6 But He has made me a byword of the people, and they spit before my face.

7 My eye has grown dim because of grief, and all my members are [wasted away] like a shadow.

8 Upright men shall be astonished and appalled at this, and the innocent shall stir himself up against the godless and polluted.

9 Yet shall the righteous — those upright and in right standing with God — hold to his way, and he who has clean hands shall grow stronger and stronger. [Ps. 24:4.]

10 But as for you, come on again, all of you, though I find not a wise man among you.

11 My days are past, my purposes and plans are frustrated; even the thoughts (desires and possessions) of my heart are broken off.

12 These [thoughts] extend from the night into the day, [so that] the light is short because of darkness.

13 But if I look to Sheol [the unseen state] as my abode, if I spread my couch in the darkness,

14 If I say to the grave and corruption, You are my father, and to the worm [that feeds on decay], You are my mother and my sister [because I will soon be closest to you], 15 Where then is my hope? And, if I have hope, who will see [its fulfillment]?

16 [My hope] shall go down to the bars of Sheol [the unseen world], when once there is rest in the dust.

CHAPTER 18

THEN Bildad the Shuhite answered, 2 How long will you lay snares for words and have to hunt for your argument? Do some clear thinking, and then we will reply.

3 Why are we counted as beasts [as if we had no sense]? Why are we unclean in your sight?

4 You who tear yourself in your anger, shall the earth be forsaken for you, or the rock be removed out of its place?

5 Yes, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the flame of his fire shall not shine. [Prov. 13:9; 24:20.]

6 The light shall be dark in his dwelling, and his lamp beside him shall be put out. [Ps. 18:28.]

7 The steps of his strength shall be shortened, and his own counsel and the plans in which he trusted shall bring about his downfall.

8 For the wicked is cast into a net by his own feet, and he walks upon a lattice-covered pit.

9 A trap will catch him by the heel, and a snare shall lay hold on him.

10 A noose is hid for him on the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall chase him at his heels.

12 The strength [of the wicked] shall be hunger-bitten, and calamity ready at his side if he halts.

13 By disease his strength and his skin shall be devoured; the first-born of death [the worst of diseases] shall consume his limbs.

14 He shall be rooted out of his dwelling place in which he trusted, and he shall be brought to [death] the king of terrors.

15 There shall dwell in his tent that which is none of his [family]; sulphur shall be scattered over his dwelling [to purify it after his going].

16 The roots [of the wicked] shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut off and wither.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.

18 He shall be thrust from light into darkness, and driven out of the world.

19 He shall neither have son nor grandson among his people, nor any remaining where he sojourned.

20 They [of the west] that come after [the wicked man] shall be astonished and appalled at his day, as they

[of the east] that went before were seized with horror.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the ungodly, and such is the place of him who knows not (recognizes not, and honors not) God.

CHAPTER 19

THEN Job answered:

2 How long will you vex and torment me, and break me in pieces with words?

3 These ten times you have reproached me; you are not ashamed that you make yourselves strange: [harden yourselves against me and deal severely with me].

4 And if it were true that I have erred, my error would remain with me: [I would be conscious of it].

5 If indeed you magnify yourselves against me, and plead against me my reproach and humiliation,

6 Know that God has overthrown and put me in the wrong, and has closed His net about me.

7 Behold, I cry out, Violence! But I am not heard; I cry aloud for help, but there is no justice.

8 He has walled up my way, so that I cannot pass, and He has set darkness upon my paths.

9 He has stripped me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.

10 He has broken me down on every side, and I am gone; my hope has He pulled up like a tree.

11 He has also kindled His wrath against me, and He counts me as one of His adversaries.

12 His troops come together, and cast up their way and siegeworks against me, and encamp round about my tent.

13 He has put my brethren far from me, and my acquaintances are wholly estranged from me.

14 My kinsfolk have failed me, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15 Those who live temporarily in my house, and my maids, count me for a stranger; I am an alien in their sight.

16 I call to my servant, and he gives me no answer, though I beseech him with words.

17 I am repulsive to my wife and loathsome to the children of my own mother.

18 Even young children despise me; when I get up they speak against me.

19 All the men of my council and my familiar friends abhor me; those whom I loved are turned against me.

20 My bone clings to my skin and to my flesh, and I have escaped with the skin or gums of my teeth.

21 Have pity on me! Have pity on me, O you my friends, for the hand of God has touched me!

22 Why do you, as if God, pursue and persecute me? [Acting like wild beasts] why are you not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh, that the words I now speak were written! Oh, that they were inscribed in a book — carved on a tablet of stone!

24 That with an iron pen and [molten] lead they were graven in the rock for ever!

25 For I know that my Redeemer and Vindicator lives, and at last — the Last One — He will stand upon the earth; [Isa. 44:6; 48:12.]

26 And after my skin, even this body, has been destroyed, then from my flesh or without it I shall see God, 27 Whom I, even I, shall see for myself and on my side! And my eyes shall behold Him, and not as a stranger! My heart pines away and is consumed within me.

28 If you say, How we will pursue him! [And continue to persecute me with the claim] that the root [cause] of all these [afflictions] is found in me, 29 Then beware and be afraid of the sword [of divine vengeance], for wrathful are the punishments of that sword, that you may know there is a judgment.

CHAPTER 20

THEN Zophar the Naamathite answered,

2 Therefore do my thoughts give me an answer, and I make haste [to offer it] for this reason.

3 I have heard the reproof which puts me to shame, but out of my understanding my spirit answers me.

4 Do you not know from of old, since the time that man was placed on the earth,

5 That the triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the godless and defiled is but for a moment? [Ps. 37:35, 36.]

6 Though his [proud] height mount up to the heavens, and his head reach to the clouds,

7 Yet he will perish for ever like his own dung; those who have seen him will say, Where is he?

8 He will fly away like a dream and will not be found; yes, he will be chased away as a vision of the night.

9 The eye which saw him will see him no more, neither will his [accustomed] place any more behold him.

10 The poor will oppress his children, and his hands will give back his [ill-gotten] wealth.

11 His bones are full of youthful energy, but it will lie down with him in the dust.

12 Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth, though he hides it under his tongue, 13 Though he is loath to let it go, but keeps it still within his mouth, 14 Yet his food turns [to poison] in his stomach; it is the venom of asps within him.

15 He has swallowed down [his ill-gotten] riches, and he shall vomit them up again; God will cast them out of his belly.

16 He shall suck the poison of asps [which ill-gotten wealth contains]; the viper's tongue shall slay him.

17 He shall not look upon the rivers, the flowing streams of honey and butter [to enjoy his wealth].

18 That which he labored for shall he give back, and shall not swallow it down [to enjoy it]; according to his wealth shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoice in it.

19 For he has oppressed and forsaken the poor; he has violently taken away a house which he did not build.

20 Because his desire and greed knew no quietness within him, he will not save anything of that in which he delights.

21 There was nothing left that he did not devour; therefore his prosperity will not endure.

22 In the fulness of his sufficiency — in the time of his great abundance — he shall be poor and in straits; every hand of every one who is in misery shall come upon him [he is but a wretch on every side].

23 When he is about to fill his belly [as in the wilderness when God sent the quails], God will cast the fierceness of His wrath upon him, and will rain it upon him while he is eating. [Num. 11:33; Ps. 78:26-31.]

24 He will flee from the iron weapon, but the bow of bronze shall strike him through.

25 [The arrow] is drawn forth, and it comes out after passing through his body; yes, the glittering point comes out of his gall; terrors march in upon him.

26 Every misfortune is laid up for his treasures; a fire not blown by man shall devour him; it shall consume what is left in his tent [and go ill with him who remains there].

27 The heavens shall reveal his iniquity, and the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The produce and increase of his house will go into exile [with the victors], dragged away in the day of [God's] wrath.

29 This is the wicked man's portion from God, and the heritage appointed to him by God.

CHAPTER 21

THEN Job answered,
2 Hear diligently my speech, and let this [your attention] be your consolation [given me].

3 Allow me, and I also will speak; and after I have spoken, mock on.

4 As for me, is my complaint to man or of him? And why should I not be impatient and my spirit be troubled?

5 Look at me, and be astonished — appalled; and lay your hand upon your mouth.

6 Even when I remember I am troubled and afraid; horror and trembling take hold of my flesh.

7 Why do the wicked live, become old, and become mighty in power?

8 Their children are established with them in their sight, and their offspring before their eyes.

9 Their houses are safe and in peace, without fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull breeds and fails not; their cows calve and do not miscarry.

11 They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children skip about.

12 They themselves lift up their voices and sing to the tambourines and the lyre, and rejoice to the sound of the pipe.

13 They spend their days in prosperity, and peacefully go down to Sheol [the unseen state] in a moment.

14 Yet they say to God, Depart from us, for we do not desire the knowledge of Your ways.

15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve Him? And what profit do we have, if we pray to Him? [Exod. 5:2.]

16 But notice, [you say] the prosperity of the wicked is not in their power; the mystery [of God's dealings] with the ungodly is far from my comprehension.

17 How often then is it that the lamp of the wicked is put out? That their calamity comes upon them? That God distributes pains and sorrows to them in His anger? [Luke 12:46.]

18 That they are as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm steals and carries away?

19 You say, God lays up [the punishment of the wicked man's] iniquity for his children. Let Him recompense it to the man himself, that he may know and feel it.

20 Let his own eyes see his destruction, and let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure or interest has a man in his house and family after he is dead, when the number of his months is cut off?

22 Shall any teach God knowledge, seeing that He judges those who are on high? [Rom. 11:34; I Cor. 2:16.]

23 One dies in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet;

24 His pails are full of milk [his veins are filled with nourishment] and the marrow of his bones is fresh and moist.

25 Whereas another man dies in bitterness of soul, and never tastes of pleasure or good fortune.

26 They lie down alike in the dust, and the worm spreads a covering over them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts and plans, and the devices with which you would wrong me.

28 For you say, Where is the house of the rich and liberal prince [meaning me]? And where is the tent in which the wicked [Job] dwelt?

29 Have you not asked those who travel this way, and do you not accept their testimony and evidences,

30 That the evil man is [now] spared in the day of calamity and destruction; and they are led forth and away on the day of [God's] wrath?

31 But who declares a man's way [and rebukes] him to his face? And who pays him back for what he has done?

32 When he is borne to the grave, watch is kept over his tomb.

33 The clods of the valley are sweet to him, and every man shall follow him to a grave, as innumerable people [have gone] before him.

34 How then can you comfort me with empty and futile words, since in your replies there lurks falsehood?

CHAPTER 22

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite answered [Job],

2 Can a man be profitable to God? Surely he that is wise is profitable to himself. [Ps. 16:2; Luke 17:10.]

3 Is it any pleasure or advantage to the Almighty that you are righteous (upright and in right standing with Him)? Or is it gain to Him that you make your ways perfect? [Isa. 62:3; Zech. 2:8; Mal. 3:17; Acts 20:28.]

4 Is it for your [reverential] fear of Him that He [thus] reproves you, that He enters with you into judgment?

5 Is not your wickedness great? There is no end to your iniquities.

6 For you have taken pledges of your brother for nothing, and stripped the naked of their clothing.

7 You have not given water to the weary to drink, and you have withheld bread from the hungry. [Matt. 25:42.]

8 But [you, Job] the man with power possessed the land, and the favored and accepted man dwelt in it.

9 You have sent widows away empty-handed, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about you, and sudden fear troubles and overwhelms you;

11 Your light is darkened, so that you cannot see, and a flood of waters covers you.

12 Is not God in the height of Heaven? And behold the height of the stars, how high they are!

13 Therefore you say, How and what does God know [about me]? Can He judge through the thick darkness?

14 Thick clouds are a covering to Him, so that He does not see, and He walks on the vault of the heavens.

15 Will you pay attention and keep to the old way that wicked men trod [in Noah's time]? [II Pet. 2:5.]

16 Men who were snatched away before their time, whose foundation was poured out as a stream [during the flood];

17 Who said to God, Depart from us, and, What can the Almighty do for or to us?

18 Yet He filled their houses with good [things]. But the counsel of the ungodly is far from me.

19 The righteous see it, and are glad; and the innocent laugh them to scorn [saying], 20 Surely those who rose up against us are cut off, and that which remained to them the fire has consumed.

21 Acquaint now yourself with Him [agree with God and show yourself to be conformed to His will] and be at peace; by that [you shall prosper and great] good shall come to you.

22 Receive, I pray you, the law and instruction from His mouth, and lay up His words in your heart. [Ps. 119:11.]

23 If you return to the Almighty [and submit and humble yourself before Him], you will be built up; if you put away unrighteousness far from your tents,

24 If you lay gold in the dust, and the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brook [considering them of little worth],

25 And make the Almighty your gold and the Lord your precious silver treasure, 26 Then you will have delight in the Almighty, and you will lift up your face to God.

27 You will make your prayer to Him, and He will hear you, and you will pay your vows.

28 You shall also decide and decree a thing and it shall be established for you, and the light [of God's favor] shall shine upon your ways.

29 When they make you low, you will say, There is a lifting up; and the humble person He lifts up and saves.

30 He will even deliver the one [for whom you intercede] who is not innocent; yes, he will be delivered through the cleanness of your hands. [Cf. Job 42:7, 8.]

CHAPTER 23

THEN Job answered,

2 Even today is my complaint rebellious and bitter; my stroke is heavier than my groaning.

3 Oh, that I knew where I might find Him, that I might come even to His seat!

4 I would lay my cause before Him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would learn what He would answer me, and understand what He would say to me.

6 Would He plead against me with His great power? No: He would give heed to me. [Isa. 27:4, 5; 57:16.]

7 There the righteous [one who is upright and in right standing with God] could reason with Him: so I should be acquitted by my Judge for ever.

8 Behold, I go forward [and to the east], but He is not there: or backward [and to the west], but I cannot perceive Him;

9 On the left hand [and to the north], where He works [I seek Him], but I cannot behold Him: He turns Himself to the right hand [and the south], but I cannot see Him.

10 But He knows the way that I take [He has concern for it, appreciates and pays attention to it]. When He has tried me, I shall come forth as refined gold [pure and luminous]. [Pss. 17:3; 66:10; James 1:12.]

11 My foot has held fast to His steps, His ways have I kept and not turned aside.

12 I have not gone back from the commandment of His lips; I have esteemed and treasured up the words of His mouth more than my necessary food.

13 But He is unchangeable, and who can turn Him? And what He wants to do, that He does.

14 For He performs [that which He has] planned for me, and of many such matters He is mindful.

15 Therefore am I troubled and terrified at His presence; when I consider, I am in dread and afraid of Him.

16 For God has made my heart faint, timid and broken, and the Almighty has terrified me, 17 Because I was not cut off before the darkness [of these woes befell me], neither has He covered the thick darkness from my face.

CHAPTER 24

WHY [seeing times are not hidden from the Almighty] does He not set seasons for judgment? Why do those who know Him not see His days [for punishment of the wicked]? [Acts 1:7.]

2 Some remove the landmarks; they violently take away flocks, and pasture them [appropriating land and flocks openly].

3 They drive away the donkey of the fatherless; they take the widow's ox for a pledge.

4 They crowd the poor and needy off the road; the poor and meek of the earth all hide themselves.

5 Behold, as wild asses in the desert, [the poor] go forth to their work, seeking diligently for prey and food; the wilderness yields them bread for their children [in roots and herbage].

6 They reap every one his fodder in a field [that is not his own], and they glean the vintage of the wicked man.

7 They lie all night naked, without clothing, and have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains, and cling to the rock for want of shelter.

9 [The violent men whose wickedness seems unnoticed] pluck the fatherless infants from the breast [to sell or make them slaves], and take [the clothing on] the poor for a pledge.

10 So that the needy go about naked for lack of clothing, and though hungry they must carry [but not eat from] the sheaves.

11 Among the olive rows [of the wicked, the poor] make oil; they tread [the fresh grape juice from] the presses, but suffer thirst.

12 From out of the populous city men groan, and the very life of the wounded cries for help; yet God [seemingly] regards not the wrong done them.

13 These wrongdoers are of those who rebel against the light; they know not its ways, nor stay in its paths.

14 The murderer rises with the light; he kills the poor and the needy, and in the night becomes as a thief.

15 The eye also of the adulterer waits for the twilight, saying, No eye shall see me; and he puts a disguise upon his face.

16 In the dark they dig through [the penetrable walls of] houses; by day they shut themselves up; they do not know the sunlight.

17 For midnight is morning to all of them; for they are familiar with the terrors of deep darkness.

18 [You say,] Swiftly such men pass away on the face of the waters; their portion is cursed in the earth; [no trader] turns into their vineyards.

19 Drought and heat consume the snow waters; so does Sheol [the place of the dead] those who have sinned.

20 The womb shall forget him; the worm shall feed sweetly on him; he shall be no more remembered, and unrighteousness shall be broken as a tree [which cannot be healed]. [Prov. 10:7.]

21 [The evil man] preys upon the barren, childless woman, and does no good to the widow.

22 Yet [God] prolongs the life of the [wicked] mighty by His power; they rise up when they had despaired of life.

23 God gives them security, and they rest on it; and His eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted for a little while, then are gone and brought low; they are taken out of the way as all others are, and cut off as the tops of the ears of grain.

25 And if this is not so, who will prove me a liar and make my speech worthless?

CHAPTER 25

THEN Bildad the Shuhite answered, 2 Dominion and fear are with [God]; He makes peace in His high places.

3 Is there any number to His armies? And upon whom does not His light arise?

4 How then can man be justified and righteous before God? Or how can he who is born of a woman be pure and clean? [Pss. 130:3; 143:2.]

5 Behold, even the moon has no brightness [compared to God's glory] and the stars are not pure in His sight.

6 How much less man, who is a maggot! And a son of man, who is a worm!

CHAPTER 26

BUT Job answered, 2 How you have helped him who is without power! How you have sustained the arm that is without strength!

c) For millenniums, various theories of what supports the earth — elephants, giants and other fantastic means — were accepted by mankind as truth; but the Bible made no such absurd error. How could Job, more than 3000 years ago, possibly have known that God "hangs the earth upon nothing," except by divine inspiration?

3 How you have counseled him who has no wisdom! And how plentifully you have declared to him sound knowledge!

4 With whose assistance have you uttered these words? And whose spirit [inspired what] came forth from you?

5 The shades of the dead tremble underneath the waters and their inhabitants.

6 Sheol [the place of the dead] is naked before God, and Abaddon [the place of destruction] has no covering [from His eyes].

7 He it is Who spreads out the northern skies over emptiness and "hangs the earth upon or over nothing.

8 He holds the waters cloud-bound [that else would spill on earth all at once] and the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He covers the face of His throne and spreads over it His cloud.

10 He has placed an enclosing limit [the horizon] upon the waters at the boundary between light and darkness.

11 The pillars of the heavens tremble and are astonished at His rebuke.

12 He stills or stirs up the sea by His power, and by His understanding He smites proud Rahab.

13 By His breath the heavens are garnished: His hand pierced the [swift] fleeing serpent. [Ps. 33:6.]

14 Yet these are but [a small part of His doings] the outskirts of His ways or the mere fringes of His force, the faintest whisper of His voice! Who dares contemplate or who can understand the thunders of His full, magnificent power?

CHAPTER 27

JOB again took up his discourse, and said,

2 As God lives, Who has taken away my right and denied me justice, and the Almighty, Who has vexed and embittered my life:

3 As long as my life is still whole within me and the breath of God is yet in my nostrils,

4 My lips shall not speak untruth, nor my tongue utter deceit.

5 God forbid that I should justify you — saying you are right [in your accusations against me]; till I die I will not put away my integrity from me.

6 My uprightness and my right standing with God I hold fast, and will not let them go; my heart does not reproach me for any of my days, and it shall not reproach me as long as I live.

7 Let my enemy be as the wicked, and let him who rises up against me be as the unrighteous.

8 For what is the hope of the godless and polluted, even though he has gained [in this world], when God cuts him off and takes away his life?

9 Will God hear his cry when trouble comes upon him?

10 Will he take delight in the Almighty? Will he call upon God at all times?

11 I will teach you regarding the hand and handiwork of God; that which is with the Almighty [God's actual treatment of the wicked man] will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all of you have seen it yourselves; why then have you become altogether vain [cherishing foolish notions]?

13 This [I am about to tell] is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage which oppressors shall receive from the Almighty.

14 If his children are multiplied, it is for the sword; and his offspring have not sufficient bread.

15 Those who survive him [the pestilence] will bury, and [their] widows will make no lamentation.

16 Though he heaps up silver like dust, and piles up clothing like clay;

17 He may prepare it, but the just will wear it, and the innocent will divide the silver.

18 He builds his house like a moth or a spider, like a booth which a watchman makes [to last for a season].

19 [The wicked] will lie down rich, but does it not again; he opens his eyes, and [his wealth] is gone.

20 Terrors overtake him like a [suddenly loosened] flood; a windstorm steals him away in the night.

21 The east wind lifts him up, and he is gone; it sweeps him out of his place.

22 For [God and the storm] hurl at him without pity and unsparingly [their thunderbolts of wrath]; he flees in haste before His power.

23 [God causes] men to clap their hands at him [in malignant joy], and hiss him out of his place.

CHAPTER 28

SURELY there is a mine for silver, and a place for gold where they refine it.

2 Iron is taken out of the earth, and copper is smelted from the stone ore.

3 Man sets an end to darkness, and searches out the farthest bounds of the ore buried in gloom and deep darkness.

4 Men break open shafts away from where people sojourn, forgotten by [human] foot; and [descend into them], hanging afar from men, they swing or flit to and fro.

5 As for the earth, out of it comes bread; but underneath [its surface, down deep in the mine] there is ⁴blasting, turning it up as by fire.

6 Its stones are the bed of sapphires; it holds dust of gold — which he wins.

7 That path no bird of prey knows, and the falcon's eye has not seen it.

8 The proud beasts [and their young] have not trodden it, nor has the fierce lion passed over it.

9 Man puts forth his hand upon the flinty rock; he overturns the mountains by the roots.

d) Blasting of rocks is said to have been practiced on a large scale by the ancients. (Speaker's Commentary.)

10 He cuts out channels and passages among the rocks, and his eye sees every precious thing.

11 [Man] binds the streams so that they do not trickle [into the mine], and the thing that is hidden he brings forth to light.

12 But where shall *Wisdom be found? And where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knows not the price of it, neither is it found in the land of the living.

14 The deep says, [Wisdom] is not in me, and the sea says, It is not with me.

15 It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price of it.

16 It cannot be valued in [terms of] the gold of Ophir, in the precious onyx or beryl, or the sapphire.

17 Gold and glass cannot equal [Wisdom], nor can it be exchanged for jewels or vessels of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of coral or of crystal, for the possession of Wisdom is even above rubies or pearls.

19 The topaz of Ethiopia cannot compare with it, nor can it be valued in pure gold.

20 From where then does Wisdom come? And where is the place of understanding?

21 It is hid from the eyes of all living, and knowledge of it is withheld from the birds of the heavens.

22 Abaddon (the place of destruction) and Death say, We have only heard the report of it with our ears.

23 God understands the way [to Wisdom], and He knows the place of it [Wisdom is with God alone].

24 For He looks to the ends of the earth, and sees everything under the heavens.

25 When He gave to the wind weight or pressure, and allotted the waters by measure;

26 When He made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunder;

27 Then He saw [Wisdom] and declared it, He established it, yes, and searched it out [for His own use, and He alone possesses it].

28 But to man He said, Behold, the reverential and worshipful fear of the Lord, that is Wisdom, and to depart from evil is understanding.

CHAPTER 29

AND Job again took up his discussion, and said,

2 Oh, that I were as in the months of old, as in the days when God watched over me; [Eccl. 7:10.]

3 When His lamp shone above and upon my head, and by His light I walked through darkness;

4 As I was in the [prime] ripeness of my days, when the friendship and counsel of God were over my tent:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children were about me:

6 When my steps [through rich pasturage] were washed with butter, and the rock poured out for me streams of oil!

7 When I went out to the gate of the city, when I prepared my seat in the street — the broad place [for the council at the city's gate];

8 The young men saw me, and hid themselves: the aged rose up and stood:

9 The princes refrained from talking, and laid their hand on their mouth;

10 The voice of the nobles was hushed, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.

11 For when the ear heard, it called me happy and blessed me; and when the eye saw, it testified for me [approving];

12 Because I delivered the poor who cried, the fatherless and him who had none to help him.

13 The blessing of him who was

e) Wisdom is capitalized as a reminder of its divine implications. See footnote on Proverbs 1:23.

about to perish came upon me, and I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.

14 I put on 'righteousness, and it clothed me or clothed itself with me; my justice was like a robe and a turban or a diadem or a crown!

15 I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poor and needy, the cause of him I did not know I searched out.

17 And I broke the jaws or the big teeth of the unrighteous, and plucked the prey out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in or beside my nest, and I shall multiply my days as the sand;

19 My root is spread out and open to the waters, and the dew lies all night upon my branch;

20 My glory and honor are fresh in me, [being constantly renewed] and my bow gains [ever] new strength in my hand.

21 Men listened to me and waited, and kept silence for my counsel.

22 After I spoke they did not speak again, and my speech dropped upon them [like a refreshing shower].

23 And they waited for me as for the rain; and they opened their mouths wide as for the spring rain.

24 I smiled on them when they had no confidence, and their depression did not cast down the light of my countenance.

25 I chose out their way [for them], and sat as [their] chief, and dwelt like a king among his soldiers, like one who comforts mourners.

CHAPTER 30

BUT now they who are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I disdained to set with the dogs of my flock.

2 Yes, how could the strength of their hands profit me? Men whose ripe age and vigor have perished.

3 They are gaunt with want and famine; they gnaw the dry and barren ground, or flee into the wilderness, into the gloom of wasteness and desolation.

4 They pluck saltwort or mallows among the bushes, and roots of the broom for their food or to warm them.

5 They are driven from among men, who shout after them as after a thief.

6 They must dwell in the clefts of frightful valleys [gullies made by torrents], and in holes of the earth and of the rocks.

7 Among the bushes they bray and howl [like wild animals]; beneath the prickly scrub they fling themselves and huddle together.

8 Sons of the worthless and nameless, they have been scourged and crushed out of the land.

9 And now I have become their song; yes, I am a byword to them.

10 They abhor me, they stand aloof from me, and do not refrain from spitting in my face or at the sight of me.

11 For God has loosed my bowstring and afflicted and humbled me; they have cast off the bridle [of restraint] before me.

12 On my right hand rise the rabble brood; they jostle me and push away my feet, and they cast up against me their ways of destruction [like an advancing army].

13 They break up and clutter my path [embarrassing my plans]; they urge on my calamity, even though they have no helper [and are themselves helpless].

14 As through a wide breach they come in, amid the crash [of falling walls] they roll themselves upon me.

15 Terrors are turned upon me; my

D) Blameless and upright as Job had been — and God had so pronounced him — his misunderstood afflictions had caused him to get dangerously off center. Instead of keeping his mind stayed on God and justifying Him, he is giving his whole thought to justifying himself. Instead of humility there is only self-righteousness. In this chapter he uses pronouns referring to himself fifty times. But when he was able to see himself as God saw him, he loathed himself and repented "in dust and ashes."

honor and reputation they chase away like the wind, and my welfare has passed away as a cloud.

16 And now my life is poured out within me; the days of affliction have gripped hold upon me.

17 My bones are pierced [with aching] in the night season, and the pains that gnaw me take no rest.

18 By the great force [of my disease] my garment is disguised and disfigured; it binds me about like the collar of my coat.

19 [God] has cast me into the mire, and I am become like dust and ashes.

20 I cry to You, [Lord,] and You do not answer me; I stand up, but You [only] gaze [indifferently] at me.

21 You have become harsh and cruel to me; with the might of Your hand You [keep me alive only to] persecute me.

22 You lift me up on the wind; You cause me to ride upon it, and You toss me about in the tempest.

23 For I know that You will bring me to death, and to the house (of meeting) appointed for all living.

24 However, does not one falling in a heap of ruins stretch out his hand? Or in his calamity will he not therefore cry for help?

25 Did not I weep for him who was in trouble? Was not my heart grieved for the poor and needy?

26 But when I looked for good, then evil came to me, and when I waited for light, there came darkness.

27 My heart is troubled and does not rest; days of affliction come to meet me.

28 I go about blackened, but not by the sun. I stand up in the congregation and cry for help.

29 I am a brother to jackals [which howl], and a companion to ostriches [which scream dismally].

30 My skin falls from me in blackened flakes, and my bones are burned with heat.

31 Therefore my lyre is turned to mourning, and my pipe into the voice of those who weep.

CHAPTER 31

I DICTATED a covenant — an agreement — to my eyes; how then could I look [lustfully] upon a girl?

2 For what portion should I have from God above [if I were lewd], and what heritage from the Almighty or high?

3 Does not calamity [justly] befall the unrighteous, and disaster the workers of iniquity?

4 Does not [God] see my ways, and count all my steps?

5 If I have walked with falsehood or vanity, or if my foot has hastened to deceit —

6 Oh, let me be weighed in a just balance and let Him weigh me, that God may know my integrity!

7 If my step has turned out of [God's] way, and my heart has gone the way my eyes [covetously] invited, and if any spot has stained my hands with guilt,

8 Then let me sow, and let another eat; yes, let the produce of my field be rooted out, or my offspring.

9 If my heart has been deceived and I made a fool by a woman, or if I have [covetously] laid wait at my neighbor's door [until his departure], 10 Then let my wife grind [meal, as a bond slave] for another, and let others bow down upon her.

11 For [adultery] is a heinous and chief crime, an iniquity [to demand action by] the judges, and punishment. [Deut. 22:22; John 8:5.]

12 For [uncontrolled passion] is a fire which consumes to Abaddon [to destruction, ruin and the place of final torment]; [that fire once lighted would rage until all is consumed] and would burn to the root all my [life's] increase.

13 If I have despised and rejected the cause of my manservant or my maidservant when they contended or brought a complaint against me,

14 What then shall I do when God rises up [to judge]? When He visits [to inquire of me], what shall I answer Him? [Ps. 44:21.]

15 Did not He Who made me in the womb make [my servant]? And did not One fashion us both in the womb? [Prov. 14:31; 22:2; Mal. 2:10.]

16 If I have withheld from the poor and needy what they desired, or have caused the eyes of the widow to look in vain [for relief],

17 Or have eaten my morsel alone, and have not shared it with the fatherless —

18 No, from my youth [the fatherless] grew up with me as a father, and I have been [the widow's] guide from my mother's womb.

19 If I have seen any one perish for want of clothing, or any poor person without covering;

20 If his loins have not blessed me [for clothing them], and if he was not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;

21 If I have lifted my hand against the fatherless, when I saw [that the judges would be favorable and be] my help at the [council] gate, 22 Then let my shoulder fall away from my shoulder blade, and my arm be broken from its socket.

23 For calamity from God was a terror to me, and because of His majesty I could not endure [to face Him], and could do nothing. [Isa. 13:6; Joel 1:15.]

24 If I have made gold my trust and hope, or have said to fine gold, You are my confidence;

25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great and because my [powerful] hand [alone] had gotten much;

26 If I beheld [as an object of worship] the sunlight when it shone, or the moon walking in its brightness;

27 And my heart has been secretly enticed by them, or my mouth has kissed my hand [in homage to them];

28 This also would have been [a heinous and principal] iniquity to demand the judges' action and punishment, for I would have denied and been false to the God Who is above. [Cf. Deut. 4:19; 17:2-7.]

29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him who hated me, or lifted myself up [in malicious triumph] when evil overtook him —

30 No, I neither have let my mouth sin by cursing my enemy nor by praying that he might die.

31 [Just ask] if the men of my tent will not say, Who can find one in need who has not been satisfied with food he gave them?

32 The temporary resident has not lodged in the street, but I have opened my door to the wayfaring man.

33 If like Adam or like [other] men I have concealed my transgressions by hiding my iniquity in my bosom,

34 Because I feared the great multitude and the contempt of families terrified me, so that I kept silence and did not go out of the door —

35 Oh, for a hearing! Oh, for an answer from the Almighty, and that my adversary would write out His indictment [and put His vague accusations in tangible form] in a book!

36 Surely I would [proudly] bear it on my shoulder, and wind the scroll about my head as a diadem.

37 I would count out to Him the number of my steps [with every detail of my life], approaching His presence as a prince.

38 For if my land has cried out against me, and its furrows have complained together with tears [that I have no right to them];

39 If I have eaten its fruits without paying for them, or have caused its [rightful] owners to breathe their last;

40 Let thistles grow instead of wheat, and cockleburs instead of barley. The [controversial] words of Job [with his friends] are ended.

CHAPTER 32

SO these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was [rigidly] righteous [upright and in right standing with God] in his own eyes. [But there was a fifth man there also.]

2 Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, became indignant. His indignation was kindled against Job because he justified himself rather than God [even made himself out to be better than God].

3 Also against [Job's] three friends was [Elihu's] anger kindled, because they had found no answer [were unable to show his real error], and yet they had declared him to be in the wrong [and responsible for his own afflictions].

4 Now Elihu had waited to speak to Job because the others were older than he.

5 But when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, he became angry.

6 Then Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite said, I am young, and you are aged; for that reason I was timid and restrained, and dared not declare my opinion to you.

7 I said, Age should speak, and a multitude of years should teach wisdom [so let it be heard].

8 But there is [a vital force] a spirit [of intelligence] in man, and the breath of the Almighty gives men understanding. [Prov. 2:6.]

9 It is not the great [necessarily] who are wise, nor [always] the aged who understand justice.

10 So I say, Listen to me; I also will give you my opinion [about Job's situation] and my knowledge.

11 You see, I waited for your words; I listened to your wise reasons, while you searched out what to say.

12 Yes, I paid attention to what you said, and behold, not one of you convinced Job or made [satisfactory] replies to his words [you could not refute him].

13 Beware lest you say, We have found wisdom. God thrusts [Job] down [justly], not man [God alone is dealing with him].

14 Now [Job] has not directed his words against me [therefore I have no cause for irritation], neither will I answer him with speeches like yours. [I speak for truth, not for revenge.]

15 [Job's] friends are amazed and embarrassed; they answer no more; they have not a thing to say [reports Elihu].

16 And shall I wait because they say nothing, but stand still and answer no more?

17 I also will answer my [God-assigned] part, I also will declare my opinion and my knowledge.

18 For I am full of words, the spirit within me constrains me.

19 My breast is as wine that has no vent; like new wineskins, it is ready to burst.

20 I must speak, that I may get relief and be refreshed; I will open my lips and answer.

21 I will not [I warn you] be influenced by respect for any man's person and show partiality, neither will I flatter any man.

22 For I know not how to flatter, [wasting my time in mere formalities, for then] my Maker would soon take me away.

CHAPTER 33

BE that as it may, Job, I beg of you to hear what I have to say and give heed to all my words.

2 Behold, here I am with open mouth, here is my tongue talking.

3 My words shall express the uprightness of my heart, and my lips shall speak what they know with utter sincerity.

4 [It is] the Spirit of God that made me [which has stirred me up], and the breath of the Almighty that gives me life [which inspires me].

5 Answer me now if you can; set your words in order before me; take your stand.

6 Behold, I am toward God and before Him even as you are; I also am formed out of the clay [though I speak with abnormal wisdom because of a divine illumination].

7 See, my terror, [for I am only a fellow-mortal, not God] I shall not make you afraid, neither shall my pressure be heavy upon you.

8 Surely you have spoken in my hearing, and I have heard the voice of your words, saying,

9 I am clean, without transgression; I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me;

10 But lo, God finds occasions against me and causes of alienation and indifference; He counts me for His enemy;

11 He puts my feet in the stocks; He [untrusting] watches all my paths [you say].

12 I reply to you, Behold, in this you are not just; God is superior to man.

13 Why do you contend against Him? For He does not give account of any of His actions. [Sufficient for us it should be to know that it is He Who does them.]

14 For God [does reveal His will; He] speaks not only once, but more than once, even though men do not regard it [including you, Job].

15 [One may hear God's voice] in a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falls on men, while slumbering upon the bed;

16 Then He opens the ears of men, and seals their instruction [terrifying them with warnings]

17 That He may withdraw man from his purpose, and cut off pride from him [disgusting him with his own disappointing self-sufficiency].

18 He holds him back from the pit [of destruction], and his life from perishing by the sword [of God's destructive judgments].

19 [God's voice may be heard by man when] he is chastened with pain upon his bed, and with continual strife in his bones, or while all his bones are firmly set;

20 So that his desire makes him loathe food, and even dainty dishes [nauseate him].

21 His flesh is so wasted away that it cannot be seen, and his bones that were not seen stick out.

22 Yes, his soul draws near to corruption, and his life to the inflictors of death — the destroyers.

23 [God's voice may be heard] if there is for the hearer a messenger or an angel, an interpreter, one among a thousand to show to man what is right for him [how to be upright and in right standing with God];

24 Then [God] is gracious to him, and says, Deliver him from going down into the pit [of destruction]; I have found a ransom [a price of redemption, an atonement]!

25 [Then the man's] flesh shall be restored; it becomes fresher and more tender than a child's; he returns to the days of his youth.

26 He replies to God, and He is favorable to him, so that he sees His face with joy; for [God] restores to him his righteousness [his uprightness and right standing with God — with its joys].

27 He looks upon other men or sings out to them, I have sinned and perverted that which was right, and it did not profit me, or He did not requite me [according to my iniquity]!

28 [God] has redeemed my life from going down to the pit [of destruction], and my life shall see the light!

29 [Elihu comments] Lo, God does all these things twice, yes, three times with a man;

30 To bring back his life from the pit [of destruction], that he may be enlightened with the light of the living.

31 Give heed, O Job, listen to me; hold your peace, and I will speak.

32 If you have anything to say, answer me; speak, for I desire to justify you.

33 If [you do] not [have anything to say], listen to me; hold your peace, and I will teach you wisdom.

CHAPTER 34

ELIHU answered [continued his discourse] and said,

2 Hear my words, you wise men, and give ear to me, you who have [so much] knowledge.

3 For the ear tries words as the palate tastes food.

4 Let us choose for ourselves that which is right; let us know among ourselves what is good.

5 For Job has said, I am [innocent and uncompromisingly] righteous, and God has taken away my right; [Job 33:9.]

6 Would I lie against my right? Yet, notwithstanding my right, I am counted a liar. My wound is incurable, though I am without transgression.

7 What man is like Job, who drinks up scoffing and scorning like water?

8 Who goes in company with the workers of iniquity and walks with wicked men?

9 For he has said, It profits a man nothing that he should delight himself with God and consent to Him.

10 Therefore hear me, you men of understanding; far be it from God that He should do wickedness, and from the Almighty that He should commit iniquity.

11 For according to the deeds of a man God will [exactly] proportion his pay, and cause every man to find [re-compense] according to his ways.

12 Truly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert justice.

13 Who put [God] in charge over the earth? Or who laid on Him the whole world?

14 If [God] should set His heart upon him [man], and withdraw His [life-giving] spirit and His breath [from man] to Himself,

15 All flesh would perish together, and man turn again to dust. [Ps. 104:29; Eccl. 12:7.]

16 If now you have understanding, hear this; listen to my words.

17 Is it possible that an enemy of right should govern? And will you condemn Him Who is just and mighty?

18 [God] Who says to a king, You are worthless and vile, or to princes and nobles, You are ungodly and evil?'

19 [God] is not partial to princes, nor does He regard the rich more than the poor, for they all are the work of His hands.

20 In a moment they die; even at midnight the people are shaken and pass away, and the mighty are taken away by no [human] hand.

21 For [God's] eyes are upon the ways of a man, and He sees all his steps. [Ps. 34:15; Prov. 5:21; Jer. 16:17.]

22 There is no darkness nor thick gloom where the evildoers may hide themselves.

23 [God] sets before man no appointed time that he should appear before [Him] in judgment.

24 He breaks in pieces mighty men without inquiry [before a jury], and in ways past finding out, and sets others in their stead. [Dan. 2:21.]

25 Therefore He takes knowledge of their works, and He overturns them in the night, so that they are crushed and destroyed.

26 God strikes them down as wicked men in the open sight of beholders,

27 Because they turned aside from Him, and would not consider or show regard for any of His ways, [I Sam. 15:11.]

28 So that they caused the cry of the poor to come to Him, and He heard the cry of the afflicted. [James 5:4; Exod. 22:23.]

29 When He gives quietness [peace and security from oppression], who then can condemn? When He hides His face [withdrawing His favor and help], who then can behold Him [and make Him gracious], whether it be a nation or a man singly?—

30 That the godless man may not reign, that there be no one to ensnare the people.

31 For has any one said to God, I have borne my chastisement, I will not offend any more;

32 Teach me what I do not see [in regard to how I have sinned]; if I have done iniquity, I will do it no more?

33 Should [God's] recompense [for your sins] be as you will it, that you refuse to accept it? For you must do the choosing and not I. Therefore say what is your truthful conclusion.

34 Men of understanding will tell me, indeed, every wise man who hears me [will agree], 35 That Job speaks without knowledge, and his words are without wisdom and insight.

36 [Would that Job's afflictions be continued and] he be tried to the end, because of his answering like wicked men!

37 For he adds rebellion [in his unsubmitive, defiant attitude toward God] to his unacknowledged sin; he claps his hands [in open mockery and contempt of God] among us, and he multiplies his words of accusation against God.

CHAPTER 35

ELIHU spoke further [to Job] and said,

2 Do you think this to be your right, or are you saying, My righteousness is more than God's,

3 That you ask, What advantage have you? And, What am I profited more than if I had sinned?

4 I will answer you, and your companions with you.

5 Look to the heavens, and see; and behold the skies which are higher than you.

6 If you have sinned, how does that affect God? And if your transgressions are multiplied, What have you done to Him?

7 If you are righteous, what do you [by that] give God? Or what does He receive from your hand?

8 Your wickedness touches and affects a man such as you are, and your righteousness is for yourself, one of the human race [but it cannot touch God, Who is above such influence].

9 Because of the multitudes of oppressions the people cry out; they cry for help because of the violence of the mighty.

10 But no one says, Where is God my Maker, Who gives songs of rejoicing in the night, [Acts 16:25.]

11 Who teaches us more than the beasts of the earth, and makes us wiser than the birds of the heavens?

12 [The people] cry out because of the pride of evil men, but He does not answer.

13 Surely God will refuse to answer [the cry which is] vanity — vain and empty [instead of abiding trust]; neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 How much less when [missing His righteous judgment on earth] you say that you do not see Him, that your cause is before Him, and you are waiting for Him!

15 But now because God has not [speedily] punished in His anger, and seems to be unaware of the wrong and oppression [of which a person is guilty], 16 Job uselessly opens his mouth, and multiplies words without knowledge [drawing the worthless conclusion that the righteous have no advantage more than the wicked].

CHAPTER 36

ELIHU proceeded, and said,

2 Bear with me and wait a little longer, and I will show you; for I have something still to say on God's behalf.

3 I will bring my knowledge from afar, and will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.

4 For truly my words shall not be false; He Who is perfect in knowledge is with you.

5 Behold! God is mighty, and yet despises no one, nor regards anything as trivial; He is mighty in power of understanding and heart.

6 He does not prolong the life of the wicked, but gives the needy and afflicted their right.

7 He withdraws not His eyes from the righteous [the upright in right standing with God]; but He sets them forever with kings upon the throne, and they are exalted.

8 And if they are bound in fetters [of adversity] and held by cords of affliction, [Ps. 107:10, 11.]

9 Then He shows to them [the true character of] their deeds and their transgressions, that they have acted arrogantly [with presumption and self-sufficiency].

10 He also opens their ear to instruction and discipline, and commands that they return from iniquity.

11 If they obey and serve him, they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasantness and joy.

12 But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword [of God's destructive judgments], and they shall die in ignorance of true knowledge.

13 But the godless and profane in heart heap up anger [at the divine discipline]; they do not cry to Him when He binds them [with cords of affliction]. [Rom. 2:5.]

14 They die in youth, and their life perishes among the unclean — those who are Sodomites.

15 He delivers the afflicted by their affliction, and opens their ears [to His voice] by adversity.

16 Indeed, God would have allured you out of the mouth of distress into a broad place where there is no situation of perplexity or privation, and that which would be set on your table would be full of fatness.

17 But if you [Job] are filled with the judgment of the wicked, judgment and justice will keep hold on you.

18 For let not wrath entice you into scorning chastisements; and let not the greatness of the ransom [the suffering, if rightly endured] turn you aside.

19 Will your cry be sufficient to keep you from distress, or will all the force of your strength do it?

20 Desire not the night, when peoples are cut off in their place;

21 Take heed, turn not to iniquity, for this [the iniquity of complaining against God] you have chosen rather than [submission in] affliction.

22 Behold, God exalts and does loftily in His power; who is a ruler or a teacher like Him?

23 Who has appointed God His way? Or who can say, You have done unrighteousness?

24 Remember that [by submission] you magnify God's work, of which men have sung.

25 All men have looked upon God's work; man may behold it afar off.

26 Behold! God is great, and we know Him not; the number of His years is unsearchable. [I Cor. 13:12.]

27 For He draws up the drops of water, which distil in rain from His vapor, 28 Which the skies pour down and drop abundantly upon [the multitudes of] mankind.

29 Not only that, but can any one understand the spreadings of the clouds or the thunderings of His pavilion? [Ps. 18:11; Isa. 40:22.]

30 Behold, He spreads His lightning against the dark clouds, and covers the roots of the sea.

31 For by [His clouds] God executes judgment upon the peoples; He gives food in abundance.

32 He covers His hands with the lightning, and commands it to strike the mark.

33 His thunderings speak [awesome-ly] concerning Him; the cattle are told of His coming storm.

CHAPTER 37

INDEED, [at His thunderings] my heart also trembles, and leaps out of its place.

2 Hear, oh, hear the roar of His voice and the sound of rumbling that goes out of His mouth!

3 Under the whole heaven He lets it loose, and His lightning to the ends of the earth.

4 After it His voice roars; He thunders with the voice of His majesty, and He restrains not [His lightnings against His adversaries] when His voice is heard.

5 God thunders marvelously with His voice; He does great things which we cannot comprehend.

6 For He says to the snow, Fall on the earth; likewise He speaks to the showers and to the downpour of His mighty rains.

7 God seals up [stops, brings to a standstill by severe weather] the hand of every man; [and now under His seal their hands are forced to inactivity], that all men whom He has made may know His doings [His sovereign power and their subjection to it].

8 Then the beasts go into dens, and remain in their lairs.

9 Out of its chamber comes the whirlwind, and cold from the scattering winds.

10 By the breath of God ice is given, and the breadth of the waters is frozen over. [Ps. 147:17, 18.]

11 He loads the thick cloud with moisture; He scatters the cloud of His lightning.

12 And it is turned round about by His guidance, that they may do whatever He commands them upon the face of the habitable earth.

13 Whether it be for correction, or for His earth generally, or for His mercy and lovingkindness, He causes it to come. [Exod. 9:18, 23; I Sam. 12:18, 19.]

14 Hear this, O Job; stand still and consider the wondrous works of God.

15 Do you know how God lays His command upon them, and causes the lightning of His [storm] cloud to shine?

16 Do you know how the clouds are balanced [and poised in the heavens], the wonderful works of Him Who is perfect in knowledge?

17 Or why your garments are hot when He quiets the earth [in sultry summer] with the [oppressive] south wind?

18 Can you along with Him spread out the sky, which is strong as a molten mirror?

19 Tell us [Job] with what words of man we may address such a Being; we cannot state our case because we are in the dark [in the presence of the unsearchable God].

20 So shall it be told Him that I wish to speak? If a man speaks, shall he be swallowed up?

21 And now men cannot look upon the light when it is bright in the skies, when the wind has passed and cleared them.

22 Golden brightness and splendor come out of the north; [if men can scarcely look upon it, how much less upon the] terrible splendor and majesty God has upon Him!

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find Him out; He is excellent in power, and to justice and plenteous righteousness He does no violence [He will disregard no right]. [I Tim. 6:16.]

24 Men therefore [reverently] fear Him; He regards and respects not any who are wise in heart [in their own understanding and conceit]. [Matt. 10:28.]

CHAPTER 38

THEN the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,

2 Who is this that darkens counsel by words without knowledge? [Job 35:16.]

3 Gird up now your loins like a man, and I will demand of you, and you declare to Me.

4 Where were you when I laid the foundation of the earth? Declare, if you have and know understanding.

5 Who determined the measures of the earth, if you know? Or who stretched the measuring line upon it?

6 Upon what were the foundations of it fastened, or who laid its cornerstone,

7 When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy?

8 Or who shut up the sea with doors, when it broke forth and issued out of the womb?

9 When I made clouds the garment of it, and thick darkness a swaddling band for it,

10 And marked for it My appointed boundary, and set bars and doors, [Jer. 5:22.]

11 And said, Thus far shall you come and no farther, and here shall your proud waves be stayed? [Ps. 89:9; 93:4.]

12 Have you commanded the morning since your days began, and caused the dawn to know its place, 13 So that [light] may get hold of the corners of the earth and shake the wickedness [of night] out of it?

14 It is changed as clay into which a seal is pressed, and things stand out like a many-colored garment.

15 From the wicked their light is withheld, and their uplifted arm is broken.

16 Have you explored the springs of the sea? Or have you walked in the recesses of the deep?

17 Have the gates of death been revealed to you? Or have you seen the doors of deep darkness?

18 Have you comprehended the breadth of the earth? Tell it, if you know it all.

19 Where is the way* where light dwells? And as for darkness, where is its abode, 20 That you may conduct it to its home, and may know the paths to its house?

21 You must know, since you were born then? Or because you are so extremely old!

22 Have you entered the treasuries of the snow, or have you seen the treasuries of the hail,

23 Which I have reserved for the time of trouble, for the day of battle and war? [Exod. 9:18; Josh. 10:11; Isa. 30:30; Rev. 16:21.]

24 By what is the light distributed, or the east wind spread over the earth?

25 Who has prepared a channel for the torrents of rain, or a path for the thunderbolt,

26 To cause it to rain on the uninhabited land, and on the desert where no man lives, 27 To satisfy the waste and desolate ground, and to cause the tender grass to spring forth?

28 Has the rain a father? Or who has begotten the drops of dew?

29 Out of whose womb came the ice? And the hoary frost of heaven, who has given it birth?

30 The waters are congealed like stone, and the face of the deep is frozen.

31 Can you bind the chains of [the cluster of stars called] Pleiades, or loose the cords of [the constellation] Orion?

32 Can you lead forth the signs of the Zodiac in their season? Or can you guide [the stars of] the Bear with her young?

^{a)} How, except by divine inspiration, could Job have known that light does not dwell in a place, but a way? For light, as modern man has discovered, involves motion, wave motion, and traveling 186,000 miles a second it can only dwell in a way.

33 Do you know the ordinances of the heavens? Can you establish their rule upon the earth?

34 Can you lift up your voice to the clouds, so that an abundance of waters may cover you?

35 Can you send lightnings, that they may go, and say to you, Here we are?

36 Who has put wisdom in the inward parts [or in the dark clouds]? Or who has given understanding to the mind [or to the meteor]?

37 Who can number the clouds by wisdom? Or who can pour out the [water] bottles of the heavens, 38 When [heat has caused] the dust to run into a mass and the clods to cleave fast together?

39 Can you [Job] hunt the prey for the lion? Or satisfy the appetite of the young lions, 40 When they couch in their dens, or lie in wait in their hiding place?

41 Who provides for the raven its prey, when its young ones cry to God and wander about for lack of food?

CHAPTER 39

DO you know the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth [their young]? Or observe when the hinds are giving birth? [Do you attend to all this, Job?]

2 Can you number the months that they carry their offspring? Or do you know the time when they are delivered,

3 When they bow themselves, bring forth their young ones and cast out their pains?

4 Their young ones become strong, they grow up in the open field; they go forth, and return not to them.

5 Who has sent out the wild donkey, giving him his freedom? Or who has loosed the bands of the swift donkey [by which his tame brother is bound — he, the shy, the swift-footed and the untamable],

6 Whose home I have made the wilderness, and the salt land his dwelling place?

7 He scorns the tumult of the city, and hears not the shoutings of the taskmaster.

8 The range of the mountains is his pasture, and he searches after every green thing.

9 Will the wild ox be willing to serve you, or remain beside your manger?

10 Can you bind the wild ox with harness to the plow in the furrow? Or will he harrow the furrows for you?

11 Will you trust him, because his strength is great, or to him will you leave your labor?

12 Will you depend upon him to bring home your seed and gather the grain of your threshing floor? [Who, Job, was the author of this strange variance in disposition of animals so alike in appearance? Was it you?]

13 The wings of the ostrich wave proudly, but are they the pinions and plumage of love?

14 The ostrich leaves her eggs on the ground and warms them in the dust, 15 Forgetting that a foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may trample them.

16 She is hardened against her young ones, as though they were not hers; her labor is in vain because she has no sense of danger [for her unborn brood].

17 For God has deprived her of wisdom, neither has He imparted to her understanding.

18 Yet when she lifts up herself in flight, [so swift is she that] she can laugh to scorn the horse and his rider.

19 Have you given the horse his might? Have you clothed his neck with quivering, and a shaking mane?

20 Was it you, [Job,] who made him to leap like a locust? The majesty of his [snorting] nostrils is terrible.

21 He paws in the valley, and exults in his strength; he goes out to meet the weapons [of armed men].

22 He mocks at fear, and is not dismayed or terrified; neither does he turn back [in battle] from the sword.

23 The quiver rattles upon him, as do the glittering spear and the lance [of his rider].

24 [He seems in running to] devour the ground with fierceness and rage; neither can he stand still at the sound of the [war] trumpet.

25 As often as the trumpet sounds he says, Ha, ha! And he smells the battle from afar, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.

26 Is it by your wisdom [Job] that the hawk soars and stretches her wings toward the south [as winter approaches]?

27 Does the eagle mount up at your command, and make his nest on a high [inaccessible place]?

28 On the cliff he dwells and remains securely, upon the point of the rock and the stronghold.

29 From there he spies out the prey, and his eyes see it afar off.

30 His young ones suck up blood, and where the slain are, there is he.

CHAPTER 40

MOREOVER the Lord said to Job,
2 Shall he who would find fault with the Almighty contend with Him? He who disputes with God, let him answer it.

3 Then Job replied to the Lord,

4 Behold, I am of small account and vile! What shall I answer You? I lay my hand upon my mouth. [Ezra 9:6; Ps. 51:4.]

5 I have spoken once, but I will not reply again; indeed, twice [have I answered], but I will proceed no further.

6 Then the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind, saying,

7 Gird up your loins now like a man; I will demand of you, and you answer Me.

8 Will you also annul — set aside and render void — My judgment? Will you condemn Me [your God] that you may [appear] righteous and justified?

9 Have you an arm like God? Or can you thunder with a voice like His?

10 [Since you question the manner of the Almighty's rule] deck yourself now with the excellency and dignity [of the supreme Ruler, and yourself undertake the government of the world, if you are so wise], and array yourself with honor and majesty;

11 Pour forth the overflowings of your anger, and look on every one who is proud, and abase him;

12 Look on every one who is proud, and bring him low, and tread down the wicked where they stand [if you are so able, Job].

13 [Bury and] hide them all in the dust together, and shut them up [in the prison house of death].

14 [If you can do all this, Job, proving yourself of divine might] then will I, [God,] praise you also [and acknowledge that] your own right hand can save you.

15 Behold now behemoth (the hippopotamus), which I created as I did you; he eats grass as an ox.

16 See now, his strength is in his loins, and his power is in the sinews of his belly.

17 He moves his tail like a cedar tree; the tendons of his thighs are twisted together [like a rope].

18 His bones are as tubes of bronze; his limbs [or ribs] are like bars of iron.

19 [The hippopotamus] is the first [in magnitude and power] of the works of God [in animal life]; only He Who made him provides him with his [sword-like tusks, or God Who made him, alone can bring near His sword to master him].

20 Surely the mountains bring him forth food, where all the wild animals play.

21 He lies under the lotus trees, in the covert of the reeds and in the marsh.

22 The lotus trees cover him with their shade; the willows of the brook compass him about.

23 Behold, if a river is violent and overflows, he does not tremble; he is confident though a Jordan [River] swells and rushes against his mouth.

24 Can any take him when he is on the watch, or pierce through his nose with a snare?

CHAPTER 41

CAN you draw out leviathan [the crocodile] with a fishhook? Or press down his tongue with a cord?

2 Can you put a rope into his nose? Or pierce his jaw through with a hook or a spike?

3 Will he make many supplications to you [begging to be spared]? Will he speak soft words to you [to coax you to treat him kindly]?

4 Will he make a covenant with you to take him for your servant forever?

5 Will you play with [the crocodile] as with a bird? Or will you put him on leash for your maidens?

6 Will traders bargain over him? Will they divide him up among the merchants?

7 Can you fill his skin with harpoons? Or his head with fishing spears?

8 Lay your hand upon him! Remember your battle with him; you will not do [such an ill-advised thing] again!

9 Behold, the hope of [his assailant] is disappointed; one is cast down even at the sight of him!

10 No one is so fierce [and fool-hardy] that he dares to stir up [the crocodile]; who then is he who can stand before Me [the beast's Creator, or dares to contend with Me]?

11 Who has first given to Me, that I should repay him? Whatever is under the whole heavens is Mine. [Therefore, who can have a claim against God, God who made the unmastered crocodile?] [Rom. 11:35.]

12 I will not keep silence concerning his limbs, nor his mighty strength, nor his goodly frame.

13 Who can strip off [the crocodile's] outer garment? [Who can penetrate his double coat of mail?] Who shall come within his jaws?

14 Who can open the doors of his [lipless] mouth? His [extended jaws and bare] teeth are terrible round about.

15 His scales are [the crocodile's] pride, [for his back is made of rows of shields] shut up together as with a close seal.

16 One is so near to another that no air can come between them.

17 They are joined one to another, they stick together so that they cannot be separated.

18 His sneezings flash forth light, and his eyes are like the [reddish] eyelids of the dawn.

19 Out of his mouth go burning torches, and sparks of fire leap out.

20 Out of his nostrils goes forth smoke, as out of a seething pot with a fire of rushes.

21 His breath kindles coals, and a flame goes forth from his mouth.

22 In [the crocodile's] neck abides strength, and terror dances before him.

23 The folds of his flesh cleave together, they are firm upon him, they cannot shake [when he moves].

24 His heart is as firm as a stone; indeed, as solid as a nether millstone.

25 When [the crocodile] raises himself up, the mighty are afraid; because of terror and the crashing they are beside themselves.

26 Even if one strikes at him with the sword, it cannot get any hold, nor the spear, the dart, nor the javelin.

27 He counts iron as straw, and bronze as rotten wood.

28 The arrow cannot make [the crocodile] flee; slingstones are treated by him as stubble.

29 Clubs [also] are counted as stubble; he laughs at the rushing and the rattle of the javelin.

30 His underparts are like sharp pieces of broken pottery; he spreads [grooves like] a threshing sledge upon the mire.

31 He makes the deep boil like a pot; he makes the sea like a [foaming] pot of ointment.

32 [His swift darting] makes a shining track behind him; one would think the deep to be hoary [with foam].

33 Upon earth there is not [the crocodile's] like, a creature made without fear and he behaves fearlessly.

34 He looks all mighty [beasts of prey] in the face [without terror]; he is monarch of all the sons of pride.

[And now, Job, ^hwho are you, who dares not arouse the unmastered crocodile, yet who dares resist Me, the beast's Creator; to My face? Everything under the heavens is Mine; therefore who can have a claim against God?]

CHAPTER 42

THEN Job said to the Lord,

2 I know that You can do all things and that no thought or purpose of Yours can be restrained or thwarted.

3 [You said to me] Who is this that darkens and obscures counsel [by words] without knowledge? Therefore [I now see] I have [rashly] uttered what I did not understand, things too wonderful for me, which I did not know.

4 [I had virtually said to You what You have said to me:] Hear, I beseech You, and I will speak; I will demand of You, and You declare to me.

5 I had heard of You [only] by the hearing of the ear; but now my [spirited] eye sees You.

6 Therefore I loathe [my words] and abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 After the Lord had spoken the previous words to Job, the Lord said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against you and against your two friends; for you have not spoken of Me the thing that is right, as My servant Job has.

8 Now therefore take seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to My servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and My servant Job shall pray for you, for I will accept [his prayer] that I deal not with you after your folly, in that you have not spoken of Me the thing which is right, like My servant Job.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord commanded them; and the Lord accepted [Job's prayer].

10 And the Lord turned the captivity of Job and restored his fortunes, when he prayed for his friends; also the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before. [Deut. 30:1-3; Ps. 126:1, 2.]

11 Then there came to him all his brothers and sisters, and all who had known him before, and they ate bread with him in his house: and they sympathized with him and comforted him over all the [distressing] calamities that the Lord had brought upon him. Every man also gave him a piece of money and every one an earring of gold.

12 And the Lord blessed the latter days of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand female donkeys. [Cf. Job 1:3.]

13 He had also seven sons and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of the first Jemimah and the name of the second, Keziah, and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

15 And in all the land there were no women so fair as the daughters of Job; and their father gave them inheritance among their brothers.

16 After this Job lived a hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations.

17 So Job died, an old man and full of days. [James 5:11.]

THE PSALMS

BOOK I

*PSALM 1

BLESSED — happy, fortunate, prosperous and enviable — is the man who walks and lives not in the counsel of the ungodly [following their advice, their plans and purposes], nor stands [submissive and inactive] in the path where sinners walk, nor sits down [to relax and rest] where the scornful [and the mockers] gather.

2 But his delight and desire are in the law of the Lord, and on His law — the precepts, the instructions, the teachings of God — he habitually meditates (ponders and studies) by day and by night. [II Tim. 3:16; Gal. 3:1-29; Rom 13:8-10.]

3 And he shall be like a tree firmly planted [and tended] by the streams of water, ready to bring forth his fruit in its season; his leaf also shall not fade or wither, and everything he does shall prosper [and come to maturity]. [Jer. 17:7, 8.]

4 Not so the wicked [those disobedient and living without God are not so]. But they are like the chaff [worthless, dead, without substance] which the wind drives away.

5 Therefore the wicked, those disobedient [and living without God], shall not stand [justified] in the judgment; nor ^bsinners in the congregation of the righteous [those who are upright and in right standing with God].

6 For the Lord knows and is fully acquainted with the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly [those living outside God's will] shall perish (end in ruin and come to nought).

PSALM 2

WHY do the nations assemble with commotion [uproar and confusion of voices], and why do the people imagine (meditate upon and devise) an empty scheme?

2 The kings of the earth take their places; the rulers take counsel together against the Lord and His Anointed One — the Messiah, the Christ. They say, [Acts 4:25-27.]

3 Let us break Their bands [of restraint] asunder, and cast Their cords [of control] from us.

4 He Who sits in the heavens laughs; the Lord has them in derision [and in supreme contempt He mocks them].

5 He speaks to them in His deep anger, and troubles (terrifies and confounds) them in His displeasure and fury, saying,

6 Yet have I anointed [installed and placed] My King [firmly] on My holy hill of Zion.

7 I will declare the decree of the Lord:

a) This has been called The Preface Psalm, because in some respects it may be considered "the text upon which the whole of the Psalms make up a divine sermon." It opens with a benediction, "Blessed," as does our Lord's Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5:3).

b) Charles Haddon Spurgeon said, "Sinners cannot live in Heaven. They would be out of their element. Sooner could a fish live upon a tree than the wicked in Paradise." The only way they will ever be able to endure Heaven is to be born again and become new creatures, with pure hearts able fully to enjoy the presence of God, His holy angels and the redeemed.

c) See footnote on Ps. 45:1.

PSALMS 2, 3, 4, 5

He said to Me, You are My Son; this day [I declare] I have begotten You. [Heb. 1:5; 3:5, 6; II Pet. 1:17, 18.]

8 Ask of Me, and I will give You the nations as Your inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Your possession.

9 You shall break them with a rod of iron; You shall dash them in pieces like potter's ware. [Rev. 12:5; 19:15.]

10 Now therefore, O you kings, act wisely; be instructed and warned, O you rulers of the earth.

11 Serve the Lord with reverent awe and worshipful fear; rejoice and be in high spirits, with trembling [lest you displease Him].

12 Kiss the Son [pay homage to Him in purity] lest He be angry, and you perish in the way, for soon shall His wrath be kindled. O blessed — happy, fortunate and to be envied — are all those who seek refuge and put their trust in Him!

PSALM 3

A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

LORD, how they are increased who trouble me! Many are they who rise up against me.

2 Many are saying of me, There is no help for him in God. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

3 But You, O Lord, are a shield for me, my glory, and the lifter up of my head.

4 With my voice I cry to the Lord, and He hears and answers me out of His holy hill. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

5 I lay down and slept; I wakened again, for the Lord sustains me.

6 I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, who have set themselves against me round about.

7 Arise, O Lord; save me, O my God; for You have struck all my enemies on the cheek; You have broken the teeth of the ungodly.

8 Salvation belongs to the Lord;

Your blessing be upon Your people. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

PSALM 4

To the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments.
A Psalm of David.

ANSWER me when I call, O God of my righteousness [uprightness, justice and right standing with You]! You have freed me when I was hemmed in and enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me and hear my prayer.

2 O you sons of men, how long will you turn my honor and glory into shame? How long will you love vanity and futility, and seek after lies? Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

3 But know that the Lord has set apart for Himself [and given distinction to] him who is godly [the man of loving-kindness]. The Lord listens and heeds when I call to Him.

4 Be angry [or stand in awe] and sin not; commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be silent [sorry for the things you say in your heart]. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]! [Eph. 4:26.]

5 Offer just and right sacrifices; trust [lean on and be confident] in the Lord.

6 Many say, O that we might see some good! Lift up the light of your countenance upon us, O Lord.

7 You have put more joy and rejoicing in my heart than [they know] when their wheat and new wine have yielded abundantly.

8 In peace I will both lie down and sleep, for You, Lord, alone make me dwell in safety and confident trust.

PSALM 5

To the Chief Musician; on wind instruments.
A Psalm of David.

LISTEN to my words, O Lord; give heed to my sighing and groaning.

2 Hear the sound of my cry, my King and my God, for to You do I pray.

3 In the morning you hear my voice, O Lord; in the morning I prepare [a prayer, a sacrifice] for You, and watch and wait [for You to speak to my heart].

4 For You are not a God Who has pleasure in wickedness, neither will the evil [man] so much as dwell [temporarily] with You.

5 Boasters can have no standing in Your sight; You abhor all evildoers.

6 You will destroy those who speak lies; the Lord abhors [and rejects] the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.

7 But as for me, I will enter Your house through the abundance of Your steadfast love and mercy; I will worship toward and at your holy temple in reverent fear and awe of You.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in Your righteousness because of my enemies; make Your way level (straight and right) before my face.

9 For there is nothing trustworthy or steadfast or truthful in their talk; their heart is destruction [for a destructive chasm, a yawning gulf]; their throat is an open sepulcher; they make smooth and flatter with their tongue. [Rom. 3:13.]

10 Hold them guilty, O God; let them fall by their own designs and counsels; cast them out because of the multitude of their transgressions, for they have rebelled against You.

11 But let all those who take refuge and put their trust in You rejoice; let them ever sing and shout for joy, because You make a covering over them and defend them; let those also who love Your name be joyful in You and be in high spirits.

12 For You, Lord, will bless the [uncompromisingly] righteous [him who is upright and in right standing with You]; as with a shield You will surround him with good will (pleasure and favor).

PSALM 6

To the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments, set [possibly] an octave below. A Psalm of David.

O LORD, rebuke me not in Your anger, nor discipline and chasten me in Your hot displeasure.

2 Have mercy on me and be gracious to me, O Lord, for I am weak (faint and withered away). O Lord, heal me, for my bones are troubled.

3 My [inner] self [as well as my body] is also exceedingly disturbed and troubled. But You, O Lord, how long [until You return and speak peace to me]?

4 Return [to my relief], O Lord, deliver my life; save me for the sake of Your steadfast love and mercies.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of You; in Sheol [the state of the dead] who will give You thanks?

6 I am weary with my groaning; all night I soak my pillow with tears; I drench my couch with my weeping.

7 My eye grows dim because of grief; it grows old because of all my enemies.

8 Depart from me, all you workers of iniquity, for the Lord has heard the voice of my weeping. [Matt. 7:23; Luke 13:27.]

9 The Lord has heard my supplication; the Lord receives my prayer.

10 Let all my enemies be ashamed and sorely troubled; let them turn back and be put to shame suddenly.

PSALM 7

An Ode of David, [probably] in a wild, irregular, enthusiastic strain, which he sang to the Lord, concerning the words of Cush, a Benjamite.

O LORD my God, in You I take refuge and put my trust; save me from all those who pursue and persecute me, and deliver me;

2 Lest my foe tear my life [from my body] like a lion, dragging me away, while there is none to deliver.

3 O Lord my God, if I have done this, if there is wrong in my hands,

4 If I have paid back with evil him who was at peace with me, or without cause have robbed him who was my enemy,

5 Let the enemy pursue my life and take it; yes, let him trample my life to the ground and lay my honor in the dust. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

6 Arise, O Lord, in Your anger, lift up Yourself against the rage of my enemies; and awake [and stir up] for me the justice and vindication [that] You have commanded.

7 Let the assembly of the peoples be gathered about You, and return on high over it.

8 The Lord judges the people; judge me, O Lord, and do me justice according to my righteousness [my rightness, justice and right standing with You] and according to the integrity that is in me.

9 O let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish the [uncompromisingly] righteous [those upright and in harmony with You]; for You, Who try the hearts and emotions and thinking powers, are a righteous God. [Rev. 2:23.]

10 My defense and shield depend on God, Who saves the upright in heart.

11 God is a righteous judge, yes, a God Who is indignant every day.

12 If a man does not turn and repent, [God] will whet His sword; He has strung and bent His [huge] bow and made it ready [by treading it with His foot].

13 He has also prepared for him deadly weapons; He makes His arrows fiery shafts.

14 Behold, [the wicked man] conceives iniquity, and is pregnant with mischief, and gives birth to lies.

15 He made a pit, and hollowed it out, and has fallen into the hole which he made [before the trap was completed].

16 His mischief shall fall back in return upon his own head, and his violence come down [with the loose dirt] upon his own scalp.

17 I will give to the Lord the thanks due to His rightness and justice, and I will sing praise to the name of the Lord Most High.

PSALM 8

To the Chief Musician; set to a Philistine lute, or [possibly] to a particular Hittite tune. A Psalm of David.

O LORD, our Lord, how excellent (majestic and glorious) is Your name in all the earth! You have set Your glory on [or above] the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and unweaned infants You have established strength because of Your foes, that You might silence the enemy and the avenger [Matt. 21:15, 16.]

3 When I view and consider You, heavens, the work of Your fingers, the moon and the stars which You have ordained and established;

4 What is man, that You are mindful of him, and the son of [earthborn] man that You care for him?

5 Yet You have made him but little lower than God [or heavenly beings] and You have crowned him with glory and honor.

6 You made him to have dominion over the works of Your hands; You have put all things under his feet [I Cor. 15:27; Eph. 1:22, 23; Heb 2:6-8.]

7 All sheep and oxen, yes, and the beasts of the field,

8 The birds of the air, and the fish of the sea, and whatever passes along the paths of the seas.

9 O Lord, our Lord, how excellent (majestic and glorious) is Your name in all the earth!

PSALM 9

To the Chief Musician; set for [possibly] soprano voices. A Psalm of David.

I WILL praise You, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will show forth (recount and tell aloud) all Your marvelous works and wonderful deeds!

2 I will rejoice in You and be in high spirits; I will sing praise to Your name. O Most High!

3 When my enemies turned back, they stumbled and perished before You.

4 For You have maintained my right and my cause; You sat on the throne judging righteously.

5 You have rebuked the nations, You have destroyed the wicked, You have blotted out their name for ever and ever.

6 The enemy have been cut off and ve vanished in everlasting ruins; You ve plucked up and overthrown their ties; the very memory of them has ished and vanished.

7 But the Lord shall remain and conue forever; He has prepared and tablished His throne for judgment.
[eb. 1:11.]

8 And He will judge the world in ighteousness — rightness and equity;
e will minister justice to the peoples uprightness. [Acts 17:31.]

9 The Lord also will be a refuge and high tower for the oppressed, a refuge d a stronghold in times of trouble igh cost, destitution and desperation].

10 And they who know Your name ho have experience and acquaintance th Your mercy] will lean on and con-tently put their trust in You; for You, ord, have not forsaken those who seek quire of and for You) [on the au-ority of God's Word and the right their necessity]. [Ps. 42:1.]

11 Sing praises to the Lord, Who vells in Zion! Declare among the oples His doings!

12 For He Who avenges the blood
[His people shed unjustly] remembers em; He does not forget the cry of the licted (the poor and the humble).

13 Have mercy upon me and be acious to me, O Lord; consider how im afflicted by those who hate me, You ho lift me up from the gates of death,

14 That I may show forth (recount d tell aloud) all Your praises! In the tes of the daughter of Zion I will oice in Your salvation and Your ving help.

15 The nations have sunk down in e pit that they made; in the net which cy hid is their own foot caught.

16 The Lord has made Himself own; He executes judgment; the cked is snared in the work of his own nds. Higgsaion [meditation]. Selah ause, and calmly think of that!

17 The wicked shall be turned back eadlong, into premature death] into

Sheol [the place of the departed spirits of the wicked]; even all the nations that forget or are forgetful of God.

18 For the needy shall not always be forgotten, and the expectation and hope of the meek and the poor shall not perish for ever.

19 Arise, O Lord! Let not man prevail; let the nations be judged before You.

20 Put them in fear [make them realize their frail nature], O Lord, that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

PSALM 10

WHY do You stand afar off, O Lord? Why do You hide Yourself, [veiling Your eyes] in times of trouble (distress and desperation)?

2 The wicked in pride and arrogance hotly pursue and persecute the poor; let them be taken in the schemes which they have devised.

3 For the wicked man boasts (sings the praises) of his own heart's desire, and the one greedy for gain curses and spurns, yes, renounces and despises the Lord.

4 The wicked in the pride of his countenance will not seek, inquire for and yearn for God; all his thoughts are that there is no God [so He never punishes].

5 His ways are grievous [or persist] at all times; Your judgments [Lord] are far above and on high out of his sight [so he never thinks about them]; as for all his foes, he sniffs and sneers at them.

6 He thinks in his heart, I shall not be moved; for throughout all generations I shall not come to want or be in adversity.

7 His mouth is full of cursing, deceit, oppression (fraud); under his tongue are trouble and sin (mischief and iniquity).

8 He sits in ambush in the villages;
in hiding places he slays the innocent; he watches stealthily for the poor (the helpless and unfortunate).

9 He lurks in secret places like a lion in his thicket; he lies in wait that he may seize the poor (the helpless and the unfortunate); he seizes the poor when he draws him into his net.

10 [The prey] is crushed, sinks down, and the helpless falls by his mighty [claws].

11 [The foe] thinks in his heart, God has quite forgotten; He has hidden His face; He will never see [my deed].

12 Arise, O Lord! O God, lift up Your hand; forget not the humble [patient and crushed].

13 Why does the wicked condemn (spurn and renounce) God? Why has he thought in his heart, You will not call to account?

14 You have seen it; yes, You note trouble and grief (vexation), to requite with Your hand. The unfortunate commits himself to You; You are helper of the fatherless.

15 Break the arm of the wicked; and as for the evil man, search out his wickedness until You find no more.

16 The Lord is King for ever and ever; the nations are perished out of His land.

17 O Lord, You have heard the desire and the longing of the humble and oppressed; You will prepare and strengthen and direct their heart, You will cause Your ear to hear, 18 To do justice to the fatherless and the oppressed, so that man who is of the earth may not terrify them any more.

PSALM 11

To the Chief Musician or Choir Leader.
[A Psalm] of David.

IN the Lord I take refuge [and put my trust]; how can you say to me, Flee like a bird to your mountain?

2 For see, the wicked are bending the bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they [furtively] in darkness may shoot at the upright in heart.

3 If the foundations are destroyed, what can the [unyieldingly] righteous do, or what has he wrought or accomplished?

4 The Lord is in His holy temple, the Lord's throne is in Heaven; His eyes behold, His eyelids test and prove the children of men. [Acts 7:49; Rev. 4:2.]

5 The Lord tests and proves the [unyieldingly] righteous, but His soul abhors the wicked and him who loves violence. [James 1:12.]

6 Upon the wicked He will rain quick burning coals or snares; fire, brimstone and a [dreadful] scorching wind shall be the portion of their cup.

7 For the Lord is [rigidly] righteous; He loves righteous deeds; the upright shall behold His face, or He beholds the upright.

PSALM 12

To the Chief Musician; set [possibly] an octave below.
A Psalm of David.

HELP, Lord! For principled and godly people are here no more; faithfulness and the faithful vanish from among the sons of men.

2 To his neighbor each one speaks words without use or worth or truth; with flattering lips and double heart [deceitfully] they speak.

3 May the Lord cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaks proud boasting,

4 Those who say, With our tongue we prevail, our lips are our own [to command at our will]; who is lord and master over us?

5 Now will I arise, says the Lord, because the poor are oppressed, because of groans of the needy; I will set him in safety and in the salvation for which he pants.

6 The words and promises of the Lord are pure words, like silver refined in an earthen furnace, purified seven times over.

7 You will keep them and preserve them, O Lord; You will guard and keep us from this [evil] generation for ever.

8 The wicked walk or prowl about on every side, as vileness is exalted (and baseness is rated high) among the sons of men.

PSALM 13

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

HOW long will you forget me, O Lord? For ever? How long will you hide Your face from me?

2 How long must I lay up cares within me, and have sorrow in my heart day after day? How long shall my enemy exalt himself over me?

3 Consider and answer me, O Lord my God; lighten the eyes [of my faith to behold Your face in the pitch-like darkness], lest I sleep the sleep of death;

4 Lest my enemy say, I have prevailed over him, and those that trouble me rejoice when I am shaken.

5 But I have trusted, leaned on and been confident in Your mercy and loving-kindness; my heart shall rejoice and be in high spirits in Your salvation.

6 I will sing to the Lord, because He has dealt bountifully with me.

PSALM 14

To the Chief Musician. [A Psalm] of David.

THE [empty-headed] fool has said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable deeds, there is none that does good or right. [Rom. 3:10.]

2 The Lord looked down from Heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any who understood, dealt wisely and sought after God, inquiring for and of Him and requiring Him [of vital necessity].

3 They are all gone aside, they are all together become filthy; there is none that does good or right, no, not one. [Rom. 3:11, 12.]

4 Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? Who eat up my people as

d) "Israel was originally not a mercantile people, and the law aimed at an equal diffusion of wealth, not at enriching some while others were poor. The spirit of the law still is obligatory, not to take advantage of a brother's distress to lend at interest ruinous to him; but the letter of the law is abrogated, and a loan at moderate interest is often of great service to the poor. Hence, it is referred to by our Lord in parables, apparently as a lawful as well as recognized usage. (Matt. 25:27; Luke 19:23)." — Fausset's Bible Encyclopedia and Dictionary.

they eat bread, and do not call on the Lord?

5 There they shall be in great fear (literally, dreading a dread), for God is with the generation of the [uncompromisingly] righteous — those upright and in right standing with Him.

6 You evildoers would put to shame and confound the plans of the poor and patient, but the Lord is his safe refuge.

7 Oh, that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When the Lord shall restore the fortunes of His people, then Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad. [Rom. 11:25-27.]

PSALM 15

A Psalm of David.

LORD, who shall dwell [temporarily] in Your tabernacle? Who shall dwell [permanently] in Your holy hill?

2 He who walks and lives uprightly and blamelessly, who works rightness and justice, and speaks and thinks the truth in his heart.

3 He who does not slander with his tongue, nor does evil to his friend, nor takes up a reproach against his neighbor.

4 In whose eyes a vile person is despised, but he honors those who fear the Lord — who revere and worship Him; who swears to his own hurt and does not change;

5 He who does not put out his money for "interest [to one of his own people], and who will not take a bribe against the innocent. He who does these things shall never be moved. [Exod. 22:25, 26.]

PSALM 16

A Poem of David [probably] intended to record memorable thoughts.

KEEP and protect me, O God, for in You I have found refuge, and in You do I put my trust and hide myself.

2 I say to the Lord, You are my Lord;

I have no good beside or beyond You.

3 As for the godly (the saints) who are in the land, they are the excellent, the noble, and the glorious, in whom is all my delight.

4 Their sorrows shall be multiplied who choose another god; their drink offerings of blood will I not offer or take their names upon my lips.

5 The Lord is my chosen and assigned portion, my cup; You hold and maintain my lot.

6 The lines are fallen for me in pleasant places; yes, I have a good heritage.

7 I will bless the Lord Who has given me counsel; yes, my heart instructs me in the night seasons.

8 I have set the Lord continually before me; because He is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory [my inner self] rejoices; my body too shall rest and confidently dwell in safety.

10 For You will not abandon me to Sheol [the place of the dead], neither will You suffer Your holy one to see corruption. [Acts 13:35.]

11 You will show me the path of life; in Your presence is fullness of joy, at Your right hand there are pleasures for evermore. [Acts 2:25-28, 31.]

PSALM 17

A Prayer of David.

HEAR the right (my righteous cause), O Lord; listen to my shrill, piercing cry! Give ear to my prayer, that comes from unfeigned and guileless lips.

2 Let my sentence of vindication come from You! Your eyes behold the things that are just and upright.

3 You have proved my heart; You have visited me in the night; You have tried me and find nothing — no evil purpose in me; I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.

4 Concerning the works of men, by the Word of Your lips I have avoided the ways of the violent — the paths of the destroyer.

5 My steps have held closely to Your paths — to the tracks of the One Who has gone on before; my feet have not slipped.

6 I have called upon You, O God, for You will hear me; incline Your ear to me and hear my speech.

7 Show Your marvelous loving-kindness, O You Who save by Your right hand those who trust and take refuge in You, from those who rise up against them.

8 Keep and guard me as the pupil of the eye; hide me in the shadow of Your wings, 9 From the wicked who despoil and oppress me, my deadly adversaries who surround me.

10 They are enclosed in their own prosperity and have shut up their heart to pity; with their mouth they make exorbitant claims and proudly and arrogantly speak.

11 They track us down in each step we take; now they surround us: they set their eyes to cast us to the ground, 12 Like a lion greedy and eager to tear his prey, and as a young lion lurking in hidden places.

13 Arise, O Lord! Confront and forestall him, cast him down! Deliver my life from the wicked by Your sword, 14 From men by Your hand, O Lord, from men of this world [these poor moths of the night], whose portion in life is idle and vain. Their belly is filled with Your hidden treasure — what You have stored up; their children are satiated, and they leave the rest of their wealth to their babes.

15 As for me, I will continue beholding Your face in righteousness — righteousness, justice and right standing with You; I shall be fully satisfied, when I awake [to find myself] beholding Your form [and having sweet communion with You].

PSALM 18

To the Chief Musician. [A Psalm] of David the servant of the Lord, who spoke the words of this song to the Lord on the day when the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies and from the band of Saul. And he said:

I LOVE You fervently and devotedly,
O Lord, my strength.

2 The Lord is my rock, my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my keen and firm strength in Whom I will trust and take refuge, my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower. [Heb. 2:13.]

3 I will call upon the Lord, Who is to be praised; so shall I be saved from my enemies. [Rev. 5:12.]

4 The cords or bands of death surrounded me, and the streams of ungodliness and torrents of ruin terrified me.

5 The cords of Sheol [the place of the dead] surrounded me; the snares of death confronted and came upon me.

6 In my distress [when seemingly closed in] I called upon the Lord, and cried to my God; He heard my voice out of His temple [heavenly dwelling place], and my cry came before Him, to His [very] ears.

7 Then the earth quaked and rocked; the foundations also of the mountains trembled, they moved and were shaken, because He was indignant and angry.

8 There went up smoke from His nostrils, and lightning out of His mouth devoured; coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down; and thick darkness was under His feet.

10 And He rode upon a cherub [a storm] and flew [swiftly]; yes, He sped on with the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness His secret hiding place; as His pavilion [His canopy] round about Him were dark waters and thick clouds of the skies.

12 Out of the brightness before Him there broke forth through His thick clouds hailstones and coals of fire.

13 The Lord also thundered from the heavens, and the Most High uttered His voice, hailstones and coals of fire.

14 And He sent out His arrows, and scattered them; and He flashed forth lightnings, and put them to rout.

15 Then the beds of the sea appeared, and the foundations of the world were laid bare at Your rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of Your nostrils.

16 He reached from on high, He took me, He drew me out of many waters.

17 He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from those who hated and abhorred me; for they were too strong for me.

18 They confronted and came upon me in the day of my calamity; but the Lord was my stay and support.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place; He was delivering me, because He was pleased with me and delighted in me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness [my conscious integrity and sincerity with Him]; according to the cleanness of my hands has He recompensed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all His ordinances were before me, and I put not away His statutes from me.

23 I was upright before Him and blameless with Him, ever [on guard] to keep myself free from my sin and guilt.

24 Therefore has the Lord recompensed me according to my righteousness [my uprightness and right standing with Him], according to the cleanness of my hands in His sight.

25 With the kind and merciful You will show Yourself kind and merciful; with an upright man You will show Yourself upright;

26 With the pure You will show Yourself pure, and with the perverse You will show Yourself contrary.

27 For You deliver an afflicted and humble people, but will bring down haughty looks.

28 For You cause my lamp to be lighted and shine; the Lord my God illumines my darkness.

29 For by You I can run through a troop, and by my God I can leap over a wall.

30 As for God, His way is perfect! The Word of the Lord is tested and tried; He is a shield to all those who take refuge and put their trust in Him.

31 For who is God except the Lord? Or who is a rock save our God, 32 The God who girds me with strength, and makes my way perfect?

33 He makes my feet like hinds' feet [able to stand firmly or make progress on the dangerous heights of testing and trouble]; He sets me securely upon my high places.

34 He teaches my hands to war, so that my arms bend a bow of bronze.

35 You have also given me the shield of Your salvation, and Your right hand has held me up; Your gentleness and condescension have made me great.

36 You have given plenty of room for my steps under me, that my feet did not slip.

37 I pursued my enemies and overtook them; neither did I turn again till they were consumed.

38 I smote them so they were not able to rise; they fell wounded under my feet.

39 For You have girded me with strength for the battle; You have subdued under me and caused to bow down those who rose up against me.

40 You have also made my enemies turn their backs to me, that I might cut off those who hate me.

41 They cried [for help], but there was none to deliver, even unto the Lord, but He answered them not.

42 Then I beat them small as the dust before the wind; I emptied them out as the dirt and mire of the streets.

43 You have delivered me from strivings of the people; You made me the head of the nations; a people I had not known served me.

44 As soon as they heard of me they obeyed me; foreigners submitted themselves cringingly and yielded feigned obedience to me.

45 Foreigners lost heart and came trembling out of their caves or strongholds.

46 The Lord lives! Blessed be my rock, and let the God of my salvation be exalted,

47 The God Who avenges me and subdues peoples under me;

48 Who delivers me from my enemies; yes, You lift me up above those who rise up against me; You deliver me from the man of violence.

49 Therefore will I give thanks and extol You, O Lord, among the nations, and sing praises to Your name. [Rom. 15:9.]

50 Great deliverances and triumphs gives He to His king, and shows mercy and steadfast love to His anointed, to David and his offspring for ever. [II Sam. 22:2-51.]

PSALM 19

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

THE heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament shows and proclaims His handiwork. [Rom. 1:20, 21.]

2 Day after day pours forth speech, and night after night shows forth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor spoken word [from the stars]; their voice is not heard;

4 Yet their voice [in evidence] goes out through all the earth, their sayings to the end of the world. Of the heavens has God made a tent for the sun, [Rom. 10:18.]

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoices as a strong man to run his course.

6 His going forth is from the end of the heavens, and his circuit to the ends of it; and nothing [yes, no one] is hidden from the heat of it.

7 The law of the Lord is perfect, restoring the [whole] person; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.

8 The precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure and bright, enlightening the eyes;

9 The [reverent] fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever; the ordinances of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.

10 More to be desired are they than gold, even than much fine gold; sweeter also than honey and drippings from the honeycomb.

11 Moreover by them is Your servant warned [reminded, illuminated and instructed]; and in keeping them there is great reward.

12 Who can discern his lapses and errors? Clear me from hidden [and unconscious] faults.

13 Keep back Your servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me! Then shall I be blameless, and I shall be innocent and clear of great transgression.

14 Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Your sight, O Lord, my [firm, impenetrable] rock and my redeemer.

PSALM 20

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

THE Lord answer you in the day of trouble! The name of the God of Jacob set you up on high [and defend you];

2 Send you help from the sanctuary, and support, refresh and strengthen you from Zion;

3 Remember all your offerings, and accept your burnt sacrifice; Selah [pause, and think of that]!

4 Grant you according to your heart's desire, and fulfill all your plans.

5 We will (shout in) triumph at your salvation and victory, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners; the Lord fulfill all your petitions.

6 Now I know that the Lord saves His anointed; He will answer him from His holy Heaven with the saving strength of His right hand.

7 Some trust in and boast of chariots, and some of horses; but we will trust in and boast of the name of the Lord our God.

8 They are bowed down and fallen; but we are risen and stand upright.

9 O Lord, give victory; let the King answer us when we call.

PSALM 21

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

THE king [David] shall joy in Your strength, O Lord; and in Your salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!

2 You have given him his heart's desire, and have not withheld the request of his lips. Selah [pause, and think of that]!

3 For You send blessings of good things to meet him; You set a crown of pure gold on his head.

4 He asked life of You, and You gave it to him, long life for ever and evermore.

5 His glory is great because of Your aid; splendor and majesty You bestow upon him.

6 For You make him to be blessed and a blessing for ever; You make him exceedingly glad with the joy of Your presence. [Gen. 12:2.]

7 For the king trusts, relies on and is confident in the Lord, and through the mercy and steadfast love of the Most High he will never be moved.

8 Your hand shall find all Your enemies; Your right hand shall find all those who hate You.

9 You will make them as if in a blazing oven in the time of Your anger; the Lord will swallow them up in His wrath, and the fire will utterly consume them.

10 Their offspring You will destroy from the earth, and their sons from among the children of men.

11 For they planned evil against You; they conceived a mischievous plot which they are not able to perform.

12 For You will make them turn their back; You will aim Your bow [of divine justice] at their faces.

13 Be exalted, Lord, in Your strength; we will sing and praise Your power.

PSALM 22

To the Chief Musician; set to [the tune of] Aijeleh Hashlahar [the hind of the morning dawn]. A Psalm of David.

MY God, my God, why have You forsaken me? Why are You so far from helping me, and from the words of my groaning? [Matt. 27:46.]

2 O my God, I cry in the daytime, but You answer not; and by night I am not silent or find no rest.

3 But You are holy, O You Who dwell in [the holy place where] the praises of Israel [are offered].

4 Our fathers trusted in You; they trusted — leaned on, relied on You and were confident — and You delivered them.

5 They cried to You and were delivered; they trusted, leaned on and confidently relied on You, and were not ashamed or confounded or disappointed.

6 But I am a worm, and no man; I am the scorn of men, and despised by the people. [Matt. 27:39-44.]

7 All who see me laugh at me and mock me; they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying, [Matt. 27:43.]

8 He trusted and rolled himself on the Lord, that He would deliver him. Let Him deliver him, seeing He delights in him! [Matt. 27:39, 43; Mark 15:29, 30; Luke 23:35.]

9 Yet You are He Who took me out of the womb; You made me hope and trust when I was on my mother's breasts.

10 I was cast upon You from my very birth; from my mother's womb You are my God.

11 Be not far from me, for trouble is near and there is none to help.

12 Many [foes like] bulls have surrounded me; strong bulls of Bashan have hedged me in. [Ezek. 39:18.]

13 Against me they opened their mouths wide, like a ravening and roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint; my heart is like wax, it is softened [with anguish], and melted down within me.

15 My strength is dried up like a fragment of clay pottery; [with thirst] my tongue cleaves to my jaws; and You have brought me into the dust of death. [John 19:28.]

16 For [like a pack of] dogs they have encompassed me; a company of evildoers has encircled me; they pierced my hands and my feet. [Isa. 53:7; John 19:37.]

17 I can count all my bones; [the evildoers] gaze at me. [Luke 23:27, 35.]

18 They part my clothing among them, and cast lots for my raiment [a long, shirt-like garment, a seamless undertunic]. [John 19:23, 24.]

19 But be not far from me, O Lord; O my help, hasten to aid me!

20 Deliver my life from the sword; my dear life — my only one — from the power of the dog [the agent of execution].

21 Save me from the lion's mouth; for You have answered me [kindly] from the horns of the wild oxen.

22 I will declare Your name to my brethren; in the midst of the congregation will I praise You. [John 20:17; Rom. 8:29; Heb. 2:12.]

23 You who fear — revere and worship — the Lord, praise Him! All you the offspring of Jacob, glorify Him. Fear — revere and worship — Him, all you offspring of Israel.

24 For He has not despised or abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, neither has He hid His face from him; but when he cried to Him, He heard.

25 My praise shall be of You in the great congregation. I will pay to Him my vows [made in the time of trouble]

e) "This is beyond all others 'The Psalm of the Cross.' It may have been actually repeated by our Lord when hanging on the tree; it would be too bold to say so, but even a casual reader may see that it might have been. It begins with, 'My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?' and ends [with the thought], 'It is finished.' For plaintive expressions uprising from unutterable depths of woe, we may say of this Psalm, 'There is none like it.'" — Charles Haddon Spurgeon in Treasury of David.

Quoted in the Gospels as being fulfilled at Christ's crucifixion.

before them who fear — revere and worship — Him.

26 The poor and afflicted shall eat and be satisfied; they shall praise the Lord who [diligently] seek for, inquire of and for Him and require Him [as their greatest need]. May your heart be quickened now and for ever!

27 All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to the Lord, and all the families of the nations shall bow down and worship before You.

28 For the kingship and the kingdom are the Lord's, and He is the ruler over the nations.

29 All the mighty ones upon earth shall eat [in thanksgiving] and worship; all they that go down to the dust shall bow before Him, even he who cannot keep himself alive.

30 Posterity shall serve Him; they shall tell of the Lord to the next generation.

31 They shall come and shall declare His righteousness to a people yet to be born, that He has done it [that it is finished]! [John 19:30.]

PSALM 23

A Psalm of David.

THE Lord is my shepherd [to feed, guide and shield me]; I shall not lack.

2 He makes me lie down in (fresh, tender) green pastures; He leads me beside the still and restful waters. [Rev. 7:17.]

3 He refreshes and restores my life — my self; He leads me in the paths of righteousness [uprightness and right standing with Him — not for my earning it, but] for His name's sake.

4 Yes, though I walk through the [deep, sunless] valley of the shadow of death, I will fear or dread no evil; for You are with me; Your rod [to protect] and Your staff [to guide], they comfort me.

5 You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies; You anoint my head with 'oil; my [brimming] cup runs over.

6 Surely or only goodness, mercy and unending love shall follow me all the days of my life; and through the length of days the house of the Lord [and His presence] shall be my dwelling place.

PSALM 24

A Psalm of David.

THE earth is the Lord's, and the fullness of it, the world and they who dwell in it. [1 Cor. 10:26.]

2 For He has founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the currents and the rivers.

3 Who shall go up into the mountain of the Lord? Or who shall stand in His holy place?

4 He who has clean hands and a pure heart, who has not lifted himself up to falsehood, or to what is false, nor sworn deceitfully. [Matt. 5:8.]

5 He shall receive blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

6 This is the generation [description] of those who seek Him, who inquire of and for Him, and [of necessity] require Him, who seek Your face, [O God of] Jacob. Selah [pause, and think of that]! [Ps. 42:1.]

7 Lift up your heads, O you gates; and be lifted up, you age-abiding doors; that the King of glory may come in.

8 Who is the King of glory? The Lord, strong and mighty, the Lord, mighty in battle.

9 Lift up your heads, O you gates; yes, lift them up, you age-abiding doors, that the King of glory may come in.

10 Who is [He then], this King of

f) It is difficult for those living in a temperate climate to appreciate, but it was customary in hot climates to anoint the body with oil to protect it from excessive perspiration. When mixed with perfume, the oil imparted a delightfully refreshing and invigorating sensation. Athletes anointed their bodies as a matter of course before running a race. As the body, therefore, anointed with oil was refreshed, invigorated and better fitted for action, so the Lord would anoint His "sheep" with the Holy Spirit Whom oil symbolizes, to fit them to engage more freely in His service and run in the way He directs, in heavenly fellowship with Him.

glory? The Lord of hosts, He is the King of glory. Selah [pause, and think of that]!

PSALM 25

[A Psalm] of David.

UNTO You, O Lord, do I bring my life.

2 O my God, I trust, lean on, rely on and am confident in You; let me not be put to shame or [my hope in You] be disappointed; let not my enemies triumph over me.

3 Yes, let none who trust and hopefully wait and look for You be put to shame or be disappointed; let them be ashamed who forsake the right or deal treacherously without cause.

4 Show me Your ways, O Lord; teach me Your paths.

5 Guide me in Your truth and faithfulness and teach me, for You are the God of my salvation; for You [You and altogether] do I wait (expectantly) all the day long.

6 Remember, O Lord, Your tender mercies and loving-kindnesses; for they have been ever of old.

7 Remember not [my lapses and frailties] the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions; according to Your mercy and steadfast love remember me for Your goodness' sake, O Lord.

8 Good and upright is the Lord; therefore will He instruct sinners in [His] way.

9 He leads the humble in what is right, and the humble He teaches His way.

10 All the paths of the Lord are mercy and steadfast love, even truth and faithfulness are they for those who keep His covenant and His testimonies.

11 For Your name's sake, O Lord, pardon my iniquity and my guilt, for they are great.

12 Who is the man who reverently fears and worships the Lord? Him shall He teach in the way that he should choose.

13 He himself shall dwell at ease, and his offspring shall inherit the land.

14 The secret [of the sweet, satisfying companionship] of the Lord have they who fear — revere and worship — Him, and He will show them His covenant, and reveal to them its [deep, inner] meaning. [John 7:17; 15:15.]

15 My eyes are ever toward the Lord, for He will pluck my feet out of the net.

16 Lord, turn to me and be gracious to me, for I am lonely and afflicted.

17 The troubles of my heart are multiplied; bring me out of my distresses.

18 Behold my affliction and my pain; and forgive all my sins [of thinking and doing].

19 Consider my enemies, for they abound; they hate me with cruel hatred.

20 O keep me, Lord, and deliver me; let me not be ashamed or disappointed, for my trust and my refuge are in You.

21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait for and expect You.

22 Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSALM 26

[A Psalm] of David.

VINDICATE me, O Lord, for I have walked in my integrity; I have [expectantly] trusted, leaned and relied on the Lord without wavering, and I shall not slide.

2 Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; test my heart and my mind.

3 For Your loving-kindness is before my eyes, and I have walked in Your truth [faithfully].

4 I do not sit with false persons, nor fellowship with pretenders;

5 I hate the company of evildoers, and will not sit with the wicked.

6 I will wash my hands in innocence, and go about Your altar, O Lord,

7 That I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard, and tell of all Your wondrous works.

8 Lord, I love the habitation of Your house, and the place where Your glory dwells.

9 Gather me not with sinners and sweep me not away with them, nor my life with bloodthirsty men,

10 In whose hands is wickedness, and their right hand is full of bribes.

11 But as for me, I will walk in my integrity; redeem me, and be merciful and gracious to me.

12 My foot stands on an even place; in the congregations will I bless the Lord.

PSALM 27

[A Psalm] of David.

THE Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear or dread? The Lord is the refuge and stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even my enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though a host encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war arise against me, (even then) in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I asked of the Lord, that will I seek after, inquire for and [insistently] require, that I may dwell in the house of the Lord [in His presence] all the days of my life, to behold and gaze upon the beauty [the sweet attractiveness and the delightful loveliness] of the Lord, and to meditate, consider and inquire in His temple. (Pss. 65:4; 18:6; 16:11; Luke 2:37.)

5 For in the day of trouble He will hide me in His shelter; in the secret place of His tent will He hide me; He will set me high upon a rock.

6 And now shall my head be lifted up above my enemies round about me; in His tent I will offer sacrifices and shouting of joy; I will sing, yes, I will sing praises to the Lord.

7 Hear, O Lord, when I cry aloud; have mercy and be gracious to me and answer me!

8 You have said, Seek you My face — inquire for and require My presence [as your vital need]. My heart says to You, Your face [Your presence], Lord, will I seek, inquire for and require [of necessity and on the authority of Your Word].

9 Hide not Your face from me; turn not Your servant away in anger, You Who have been my help! Cast me not off, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation!

10 Although my father and my mother have forsaken me, yet the Lord will take me up [adopt me as His child]. [Ps. 22:10.]

11 Teach me Your way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain and even path because of my enemies — those who lie in wait for me.

12 Give me not up to the will of my adversaries; for false witnesses have risen up against me; they breathe out cruelty and violence.

13 [What, what would have become of me] had I not believed to see the Lord's goodness in the land of the living!

14 Wait and hope for and expect the Lord; be brave and of good courage, and let your heart be stout and enduring. Yes, wait and hope for and expect the Lord.

PSALM 28

[A Psalm] of David.

UNTO You do I cry, O Lord; my rock, be not deaf and silent to me; lest, if You be silent to me, I become like those going down to the pit [the grave].

2 Hear the voice of my supplication, as I cry to You for help, as I lift up my hands toward Your innermost sanctuary [the holy of holies].

3 Drag me not away with the wicked, with the workers of iniquity, who speak peace with their neighbors, but malice and mischief are in their hearts.

4 Repay them according to their work, and according to the wickedness of their doings; repay them according to the work of their hands; render to them what they deserve. [II Tim. 4:14; Rev. 18:6.]

5 Because they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of His hands, He will break them down and not rebuild them.

6 Blessed be the Lord, because He has heard the voice of my supplications.

7 The Lord is my strength and my [impenetrable] shield; my heart trusts, relies on and confidently leans on Him, and I am helped; therefore my heart greatly rejoices, and with my song will I praise Him.

8 The Lord is their [unyielding] strength, and He is the stronghold of salvation to [me] His anointed.

9 Save Your people and bless Your heritage; nourish and shepherd them and carry them for ever.

*PSALM 29

A Psalm of David.

ASCRIBE to the Lord, O sons of the mighty, ascribe to the Lord glory and strength.

2 Give to the Lord the glory due to His name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness or in holy array.

3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters; the God of glory thunders; the Lord is upon many (great) waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is powerful; the voice of the Lord is full of majesty.

5 The voice of the Lord breaks the cedars; yes, the Lord breaks in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He makes them also to skip like a calf; Lebanon and Sirion [Mount Hermon] like a young, wild ox.

7 The voice of the Lord splits and flashes forth forked lightning.

8 The voice of the Lord makes the wilderness tremble; the Lord shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.

9 The voice of the Lord makes the hinds to bring forth their young, and it strips bare the forests, while in His temple every one is saying, Glory!

10 The Lord sat as King over the deluge; the Lord [still] sits as King [and] forever!

11 The Lord will give [unyielding and impenetrable] strength to His people; the Lord will bless His people with peace.

PSALM 30

A Psalm; a Song at the Dedication of the Temple. [A Psalm] of David.

I WILL extol You, O Lord, for You have lifted me up, and have not let my foes rejoice over me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried to You and You have healed me.

3 O Lord, You have brought my life up from Sheol [the place of the dead]; You have kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit [the grave].

4 Sing to the Lord, O you saints of His, and give thanks at the remembrance of His holy name.

5 For His anger is but for a moment, but His favor is for a lifetime or in His favor is life. Weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning. [II Cor. 4:17.]

6 As for me, in my prosperity I said, I shall never be moved.

7 By Your favor, O Lord, You have established me as a strong mountain; You hid Your face, and I was troubled.

8 I cried to You, O Lord, and to the Lord I made supplication.

9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit [the grave]? Will the dust praise You? Will it declare Your truth and faithfulness to men?

10 Hear, O Lord, have mercy and be gracious to me! O Lord, be my helper!

11 You have turned my mourning into dancing for me; You have put off my sackcloth and girded me with gladness, 12 To the end that my tongue and my heart and everything glorious within me may sing praise to You, and not be silent. O Lord my God, I will give thanks to You for ever.

PSALM 31

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

IN You, O Lord, do I put my trust and I seek refuge; let me never be put to shame or [have my hope in You]

g) This psalm has been called "The Song of the Thunderstorm," a glorious psalm of praise sung during an earth-shaking tempest, that reminds the psalmist of the time of Noah and the deluge (v. 10).

disappointed; deliver me in Your righteousness!

2 Bow down Your ear to me, deliver me speedily! Be my rock of refuge, a strong fortress to save me!

3 Yes, You are my rock and my fortress; therefore for Your name's sake lead me and guide me.

4 Draw me out of the net that they have laid secretly for me; for You are my strength and my stronghold.

5 Into Your hand I commit my spirit; You have redeemed me, O Lord God of truth and faithfulness. [Luke 23:46; Acts 7:59.]

6 [You and] I abhor those who pay regard to vain idols; but I trust, rely on and confidently lean on the Lord.

7 I will be glad and rejoice in Your mercy and steadfast love, because You have seen my affliction, You have taken note of my life in distresses,

8 And You have not given me into the hand of the enemy; You have set my feet in a broad place.

9 Have mercy and be gracious unto me, O Lord, for I am in trouble; with grief my eye is weakened, also my inner self and my body.

10 For my life is spent with sorrow, and my years with sighing; my strength has failed because of my iniquity; even my bones have wasted away.

11 To all my enemies I have become a reproach, but especially to my neighbors, and a dread to my acquaintances, who flee from me on the street.

12 I am forgotten like a dead man, and out of mind; like a broken vessel am I.

13 For I have heard the slander of many, terror on every side! While they schemed together against me, they plotted to take my life.

14 But I trusted, relied on and was confident in You, O Lord; I said, You are my God.

15 My times are in Your hand; deliver me from the hand of my foes and those who pursue me and persecute me.

16 Let Your face shine on Your servant; save me for Your mercy's sake and in Your loving-kindness.

17 Let me not be put to shame, O Lord, or disappointed; for I am calling upon You; let the wicked be put to shame, let them be silent in Sheol [the place of the dead].

18 Let the lying lips be silenced, which speak insolently against the [consistently] righteous, with pride and contempt.

19 Oh, how great is Your goodness, which You have laid up for those who fear, revere and worship You, goodness which You have wrought for those who trust and take refuge in You before the sons of men!

20 In the secret of Your presence You hide them from the plots of men; You keep them secretly in Your pavilion from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the Lord! For He has shown me His marvelous loving favor when beset as in a besieged city.

22 As for me, I said in my haste and alarm, I am cut off from before Your eyes. But You heard the voice of my supplications when I cried to You for aid.

23 O love the Lord, all you His saints; the Lord preserves the faithful, and plentifully pays back him who deals haughtily.

24 Be strong and let your heart take courage, all you who wait and hope for and expect the Lord!

PSALM 32

[A Psalm of David.] A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem.

BLESSED — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is he who has forgiveness of his transgression continually exercised upon him, whose sin is covered.

2 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man to whom the Lord imputes no iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no deceit. [Rom. 4:7, 8.]

3 When I kept silence [before I confessed], my bones wasted away through my groaning all the day long.

4 For day and night Your hand [of displeasure] was heavy upon me; my moisture was turned into the drought of summer. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

5 I acknowledged my sin to You, and my iniquity I did not hide. I said, I will confess my transgressions to the Lord [continually unfolding the past till all is told], then You [instantly] forgave me the guilt and iniquity of my sin. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

6 For this [forgiveness] let every one who is godly pray; pray to You in a time when You may be found; surely when the great waters [of trial] overflow they shall not reach [the spirit in] him.

7 You are a hiding place for me; You, Lord, preserve me from trouble; You surround me with songs and shouts of deliverance. Selah [pause, and think calmly of that]!

8 I, the Lord, will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go; I will counsel you with My eye upon you.

9 Be not like the horse or the mule, which lack understanding; which must have their mouths held firm with bit and bridle, else they will not come with you.

10 Many are the sorrows of the wicked, but he who trusts, relies on and confidently leans on the Lord shall be compassed about with mercy and with loving-kindness.

11 Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, you [uncompromisingly] righteous — you who are upright and in right standing with Him; shout for joy, all you upright in heart!

PSALM 33

REJOICE in the Lord, O you [uncompromisingly] righteous [you upright, in right standing with God]; for praise is becoming and appropriate for those who are upright in heart.

2 Give thanks to the Lord with the lyre, sing praises to Him with the harp of ten strings.

3 Sing to Him a new song; play skillfully [on the strings] with a loud and joyful sound.

4 For the word of the Lord is right; and all His work is done in faithfulness.

5 He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the loving-kindness of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made, and all their host by the breath of His mouth. [Heb. 11:3; II Pet. 3:5.]

7 He gathers the waters of the sea as in a bottle; He puts the deeps in storage places.

8 Let all the earth fear the Lord — revere and worship Him; let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of Him.

9 For He spoke, and it was done; He commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The Lord brings the counsel of the nations to nought; He makes the thoughts and plans of the peoples of no effect.

11 The counsel of the Lord stands for ever, the thoughts of His heart to all generations.

12 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the nation whose God is the Lord, the people He has chosen as His heritage.

13 The Lord looks from Heaven, He beholds all the sons of men.

14 From His dwelling place He looks [intently] upon all the inhabitants of the earth, 15 He Who fashions the hearts of them all, Who considers all their doings.

16 No king is saved by the great size and power of his army; a mighty man is not delivered by his much strength.

17 A horse is devoid of value for victory; neither does he deliver any by his great power.

18 Behold, the Lord's eye is upon those who fear Him — who revere and worship Him with awe; who wait for Him and hope in His mercy and loving-kindness, 19 To deliver them from death, and keep them alive in famine.

20 Our inner selves wait [earnestly] for the Lord; He is our help and our shield.

21 For in Him does our heart rejoice, because we have trusted (relied on and been confident) in His holy name.

22 Let Your mercy and loving-kindness, O Lord, be upon us in proportion to our waiting and hoping for You.

PSALM 34

[A Psalm] of David, when he pretended to be insane before Abimelech, who drove him out, and he went away.

I WILL bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My life makes its boast in the Lord; let the humble and afflicted hear and be glad.

3 O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together.

4 I sought (inquired of) for the Lord, and required Him [of necessity, and on the authority of His Word], and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. [Ps. 73:25; Matt. 7:7.]

5 They looked to Him, and were radiant; their faces shall never blush for shame or be confused.

6 This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

7 ¹The Angel of the Lord encamps around those who fear Him — who revere and worship Him with awe; and each of them He delivers. [Pss. 145:20; 18:1.]

8 O taste and see that the Lord [our God] is good! Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man who trusts and takes refuge in Him. [1 Pet. 2:2, 3.]

9 O fear the Lord, you His saints — revere and worship Him! For there is no want to those who truly revere and worship Him with godly fear.

10 The young lions lack food and suffer hunger, but they who seek (inquire of and require) the Lord [by right of their need and on authority of His Word] none of them shall lack any beneficial thing.

11 Come, you children, listen to me; I will teach you to revere and worshipfully fear the Lord.

12 What man is he who desires life and longs for many days, that he may see good?

13 Keep your tongue from evil and your lips from speaking deceit.

14 Depart from evil and do good; seek, inquire for and crave peace, and pursue — go after — it!

15 The eyes of the Lord are toward the [uncompromisingly] righteous, and His ears are open to their cry.

16 The face of the Lord is against those who do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth. [1 Pet. 3:10-12.]

17 When the righteous cry for help, the Lord hears, and delivers them out of all their distress and troubles.

18 The Lord is close to those who are of a broken heart, and saves such as are crushed with sorrow for sin and are humbly and thoroughly penitent.

19 Many evils confront the [consistently] righteous; but the Lord delivers him out of them all.

20 He keeps all his bones; not one of them is broken.

21 Evil shall cause the death of the wicked, and they who hate the just and righteous shall be held guilty and shall be condemned.

22 The Lord redeems the life of His servants, and none of those who take refuge and trust in Him shall be condemned or held guilty.

PSALM 35

[A Psalm] of David.

CONTEND, O Lord, with those who contend with me; fight against those who fight against me!

2 Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for my help!

3 Draw out also the spear and javelin, and close the way of those who pursue and persecute me. Say to me, I am your deliverance!

4 Let them be put to shame and dishonor who seek after and require my life; let them be turned back and confounded who plan my hurt!

5 Let them be as chaff before the wind, with the 'Angel of the Lord driving them on!

6 Let their way be through dark and slippery places, with the Angel of the Lord pursuing and afflicting them.

7 For without cause they hid for me their net; a pit of destruction without cause they dug for my life.

8 Let destruction befall my foe unawares; let the net he had hid for me catch him; let him fall into that very destruction.

9 Then I shall be joyful in the Lord; I shall rejoice in His deliverance.

10 Ali my bones shall say, Lord, who is like You, You Who deliver the poor and the afflicted from him who is too strong for him, yes, the poor and the needy from him who snatches away his goods?

11 Malicious and unrighteous witnesses rise up; they ask me of things that I know not.

12 They reward me evil for good to my personal bereavement.

13 But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth; I afflicted myself with fasting, and I prayed with head bowed on my breast.

14 I behaved as if grieving for my friend or my brother; I bowed down in sorrow, as one who bewails his mother.

15 But in my stumbling and limping they rejoiced, and gathered together against me; the smiters [slanderers and revilers] gathered against me, and I knew them not; they ceased not to slander and revile me.

16 Like the profane mockers at feasts [making sport for the price of a cake] they gnashed at me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long will You look on [without action]? Rescue my life from their destructions, my dear and only life from the lions!

18 I will give You thanks in the great assembly; I will praise You among a mighty throng.

19 Let not those who are my foes wrongfully rejoice over me; neither let them wink with the eye who hate me without cause. [John 15:24, 25.]

20 For they do not speak peace, but they devise deceitful matters against those who are quiet in the land.

21 Yes, they open their mouths wide against me; they say, Aha, Aha! Our eyes have seen it!

22 You have seen, O Lord; keep not silence! O Lord, be not far from me!

23 Arouse Yourself; awake to the justice due me, even to my cause, my God and my Lord!

24 Judge and vindicate me, O Lord, my God, according to Your righteousness — Your rightness and justice; and let my foes not rejoice over me!

25 Let them not say in their hearts, Aha, that is what we wanted! Let them not say, We have swallowed him up and utterly destroyed him.

26 Let them be put to shame and confusion together who rejoice at my calamity! Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify and exalt themselves against me!

27 Let those who favor my righteous cause and have pleasure in my uprightness shout for joy and be glad, and say continually, Let the Lord be magnified. Who takes pleasure in the prosperity of His servant.

28 And my tongue shall talk of Your righteousness, rightness and justice, and [my reasons for] Your praise all the day long.

PSALM 36

To the Chief Musician, [A Psalm] of David, the servant of the Lord.

TRANSGRESSION [like an oracle] speaks to the wicked deep in his

i) See footnote on Isaiah 63:9.

heart. There is no fear or dread of God before his eyes. [Rom. 3:18.]

2 For he flatters and deceives himself in his own eyes, that his iniquity will not be found out and be hated.

3 The words of his mouth are wrong and deceitful; he has ceased to be wise and to do good.

4 He plans wrongdoing on his bed; he sets himself in a way that is not good; he does not reject or despise evil.

5 Your mercy and loving-kindness, O Lord, extend to the skies, and Your faithfulness to the clouds.

6 Your righteousness is like the mountains of God; Your judgments are like the great deep; O Lord, You preserve man and beast.

7 How precious is Your steadfast love, O God! The children of men take refuge and put their trust under the shadow of Your wings.

8 They relish and feast on the abundance of Your house, and You cause them to drink of the stream of Your pleasures.

9 For with You is the fountain of life; in Your light do we see light. [John 4:10, 14.]

10 O continue Your loving-kindness to those who know You, Your righteousness [salvation] to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride overtake me, and let not the hand of the wicked drive me away.

12 There the workers of iniquity fall and lie prostrate; they are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise.

PSALM 37

[A Psalm] of David.

FRET not yourself because of evil-doers, neither be envious against those who work unrighteousness — that which is not upright, nor in right standing with God.

2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb.

3 Trust (lean on, rely on and be confident) in the Lord, and do good; so shall you dwell in the land and feed surely on His faithfulness, and truly you shall be fed.

4 Delight yourself also in the Lord, and He will give you the desires and secret petitions of your heart.

5 Commit your way to the Lord — roll and repose [each care of] your load on Him; trust (lean on, rely on and be confident) also in Him, and He will bring it to pass.

6 And He will make your uprightness and right standing with God go forth as the light, and your justice and right as [the shining sun of] the noonday.

7 Be still and rest in the Lord; wait for Him, and patiently stay yourself upon Him; fret not yourself because of him who prospers in his way, because of the man who brings wicked devices to pass.

8 Cease from anger and forsake wrath; fret not yourself; it tends only to evil-doing.

9 For evildoers shall be cut off; but those who wait and hope and look for the Lord, [in the end] shall inherit the earth. [Isa. 57:13c.]

10 For yet a little while and the evil-doer will be no more; though you look with care where he used to be, he will not be found. [Rev. 21:7, 8; Heb. 10:36, 37.]

11 But the meek [in the end] shall inherit the earth, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. [Matt. 5:5; Ps. 37:29.]

12 The wicked plots against the [uncompromisingly] righteous man — the upright in right standing with God; he gnashes at him with his teeth.

13 The Lord laughs at [the wicked]; for He sees that their own day [of defeat] is coming.

14 The wicked draw the sword and bend their bows to cast down the poor and needy, to slay those who walk uprightly — blameless in conduct and in conversation.

15 The sword of the wicked shall enter their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

16 Better is a little that the [uncompromisingly] righteous man has, than the abundance [of possessions] of many who are wrong and wicked. [1 Tim. 6:6, 7.]

17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken; but the Lord upholds the [consistently] righteous.

18 The Lord knows the days of the upright and blameless, and their heritage will abide for ever.

19 They shall not be put to shame in the time of evil, and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be as the fat of lambs [that is consumed in smoke], and as the glory of the pastures. They shall vanish; like smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borrows, and pays not again [for he may be unable]; but the [uncompromisingly] righteous deals kindly and gives [for he is able].

22 For such as are blessed of God shall [in the end] inherit the earth; and they that are cursed of Him shall be cut off. [Isa. 57:13c.]

23 The steps of a [good] man are directed and established of the Lord, when He delights in his way [and He busies Himself with his every step].

24 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down, for the Lord grasps his hand in support and upholds him.

25 I have been young and now am old, yet have I not seen the [uncompromisingly] righteous forsaken or his seed begging bread.

26 All day long he is merciful and deals graciously; he lends, and his offspring is blessed.

27 Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for ever [securely].

28 For the Lord delights in justice and forsakes not His saints; they are preserved for ever, but the offspring of the wicked [in time] shall be cut off.

29 [Then] the [consistently] righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell upon it for ever.

30 The mouth of the [uncompromisingly] righteous utters wisdom, and his tongue speaks with justice.

31 The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide.

32 The wicked lies in wait for the [uncompromisingly] righteous, and seeks to put him to death.

33 The Lord will not leave him in his hand, or (suffer him to) condemn him when he is judged.

34 Wait for and expect the Lord, and keep and heed His way, and He will exalt you to inherit the land; [in the end] when the wicked are cut off you shall see it.

35 I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil.

36 Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not; yes, I sought and inquired for him, but he could not be found.

37 Mark the blameless man and behold the upright, for there is a happy end for the man of peace.

38 As for transgressors, they shall be destroyed together; in the end the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the salvation of the [consistently] righteous is of the Lord; He is their refuge and secure stronghold in the time of trouble.

40 And the Lord helps them and delivers them; He delivers them from the wicked, and saves them, because they trust and take refuge in Him.

PSALM 38

A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance and make memorial.

O LORD, rebuke me not in Your wrath, neither chasten me in Your hot displeasure.

2 For Your arrows have sunk into me and stick fast, and Your hand is come down upon me and presses me sorely.

3 There is no soundness in my flesh because of Your indignation; neither is there any health or rest in my bones because of my sin.

4 For my iniquities are gone over my head [like waves of a flood]; as a heavy burden they weigh too much for me.

5 My wounds are loathsome and corrupt because of my foolishness.

6 I am bent and bowed down greatly; I go about mourning all the day long.

7 For my loins are filled with burning, and there is no soundness in my flesh.

8 I am faint and sorely bruised — deadly cold and quite worn out; I groan by reason of the disquiet and moaning of my heart.

9 Lord, all my desire is before You, and my sighing is not hid from You.

10 My heart throbs, my strength fails me; as for the light of my eyes, it also is gone from me.

11 My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my plague; and my neighbors and my near ones stand afar off. [Luke 23:49.]

12 They also that seek after and demand my life lay snares for me; and they that seek and require my hurt speak crafty and mischievous things; they meditate treachery and deceit all the day long.

13 But I, like a deaf man, hear not; and I am like a dumb man who opens not his mouth.

14 Yes, I have become like a man who hears not, in whose mouth are no arguments or replies.

15 For in You, O Lord, do I hope; You will answer, O Lord my God.

16 For I pray, Let them not rejoice over me, who when my foot slips boast against me.

17 For I am ready to halt and fall; my pain and sorrow are continually before me.

18 For I do confess my guilt and iniquity; I am filled with sorrow for my sin. [II Cor. 7:9, 10.]

19 But my enemies are vigorous and strong, and those who hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

20 They also that render evil for good are adversaries to me, because I follow the thing that is good.

21 Forsake me not, O Lord; O my God, be not far from me.

22 Make haste to help me, O Lord, my salvation.

PSALM 39

To the Chief Musician: for Jeduthun (founder of an official musical family). A Psalm of David.

I SAID, I will take heed and guard my ways, that I sin not with my tongue; I will muzzle my mouth as with a bridle, while the wicked are before me.

2 I was dumb with silence, I held my peace without profit, and had no comfort away from good, while my distress was renewed.

3 My heart was hot within me. While I was musing the fire burned; then I spoke with my tongue:

4 Lord, make me to know my end, and [to appreciate] the measure of my days, what it is; let me know and realize how frail I am — how transient is my stay here.

5 Behold, You have made my days as [short as] handbreadths, and my lifetime is as nothing in Your sight. Truly every man at his best is merely a breath! Selah [pause, and think calmly of that]!

6 Surely every man walks to and fro — like a shadow in a pantomime; surely for futility and emptiness they are in turmoil; each one heaps up riches, not knowing who will gather them. [I Cor. 7:31; James 4:14.]

7 And now, Lord, what do I wait for and expect? My hope and expectation are in You.

8 Deliver me from all my transgressions; make me not the scorn and reproach of the [self-confident] fool!

9 I am dumb, I open not my mouth, for it is You Who has done it.

10 Remove Your stroke away from me; I am consumed by the conflict and the blow of Your hand.

11 When with rebukes You correct and chasten man for sin, You waste his beauty like a moth and what is dear to him consumes away; surely every man is a mere breath. Selah [pause, and think calmly of that]!

12 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and give ear to my cry; hold not Your peace at my tears! For I am Your passing guest, a temporary resident, as all my fathers were.

13 O look away from me and spare me, that I may recover cheerfulness and encouraging strength and know gladness before I go and am no more!

PSALM 40

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

IWAITED patiently and expectantly for the Lord, and He inclined to me and heard my cry.

2 He drew me up out of a horrible pit — a pit of tumult and of destruction — out of the miry clay (froth and slime) and set my feet upon a rock, steadying my steps and establishing my goings.

3 And He has put a new song in my mouth, a song of praise to our God. Many shall see and fear — revere, and worship — and put their trust and confident reliance in the Lord. [Ps. 5:11.]

4 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man who makes the Lord his refuge and trust, and turns not to the proud or to followers of false gods.

5 Many, O Lord my God, are the wonderful works which You have done, and Your thoughts toward us; no one can compare with You! If I should declare and speak of them, they are too many to be numbered.

6 Sacrifice and offering You do not desire, nor have You delight in them; You have given me capacity to hear and obey [Your law, a more valuable service than] burnt and sin offerings which You do not require.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come; in the volume of the book it is written of me,

8 I delight to do Your will, O my God; yes, Your law is within my heart. [Heb. 10:5-9.]

9 I have proclaimed glad tidings of righteousness in the great assembly — tidings of uprightness and right standing with God. Lo, I have not restrained my lips, as You know, O Lord.

10 I have not concealed Your righteousness within my heart; I have proclaimed Your faithfulness and Your salvation; I have not hid away Your steadfast love and Your truth from the great assembly. [Acts 20:20, 27.]

11 Withhold not Your tender mercies from me, O Lord; let Your loving-kindness and Your truth continually preserve me!

12 For innumerable evils have compassed me about; my iniquities have taken such hold on me that I am not able to look up; they are more than the hairs of my head, and my heart has failed me and forsaken me.

13 Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me; O Lord, make haste to help me!

14 Let them be put to shame and confounded together who seek after and require my life to destroy it; let them be driven backward and brought to dishonor who wish me evil and delight in my hurt!

15 Let them be desolate by reason of their shame who say to me, Aha, aha!

16 Let all those that seek and require You rejoice and be glad in You; let such as love Your salvation say continually, The Lord be magnified!

17 [As for me] I am poor and needy, yet the Lord takes thought and plans for me. You are my help and my deliverer. O my God, do not tarry! [Ps. 70:1-5; 1 Pet. 5:7.]

PSALM 41

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

BLESSED — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is he who considers the weak and the poor; the Lord will deliver him in the time of evil and trouble.

2 The Lord will protect him, and keep him alive; he shall be called blessed in the land; and You will not deliver him to the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will sustain, refresh and strengthen him on his bed of languishing; all his bed You, O Lord, will turn, change and transform in his illness.

4 I said, Lord, be merciful and gracious to me; heal my inner self, for I have sinned against You.

5 My enemies speak evil of me, saying, When will he die, and his name perish?

6 And if one comes to see me, he speaks falsehood and empty words, while his heart gathers mischievous gossip [against me]; when he goes away, he tells it abroad.

7 All who hate me whisper together about me; against me do they devise my hurt — imagining the worst for me.

8 An evil disease, say they, is poured out upon him and cleaves fast to him; and now that he is bedfast, he will not rise up again.

9 Even my own familiar friend in whom I trusted (relied on and was confident), who ate of my bread, has lifted up his heel against me. [John 13:18.]

10 But do You, O Lord, be merciful and gracious to me and raise me up, that I may requite them.

11 By this I know that You favor and delight in me, because my enemy does not triumph over me.

12 And as for me, You have upheld me in my integrity, and set me in Your presence for ever.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel from everlasting and to everlasting — from this age to the next and forever! Amen and Amen (so be it).

BOOK II PSALM 42

To the Chief Musician. A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem of the sons of Korah.

AS the hart pants and longs for the water brooks, so I pant and long for You, O God.

2 My inner self thirsts for God, for the living God. When shall I come and behold the face of God? [John 7:37; I Thess. 1:9, 10.]

3 My tears have been my food day and night, while men say to me all day long, Where is your God?

4 These things I [earnestly] remember, and pour myself out within me: how I went slowly before the throng and led them in procession to the house of God [like a bandmaster before his band, timing the steps to sound of music and chant of song], with the voice of shouting and praise, a throng keeping festival.

5 Why are you cast down, O my inner self? And why should you moan over me and be disquieted within me? Hope you in God and wait expectantly for Him, for I shall yet praise Him, my help and my God.

6 O my God, my life is cast down upon me [and I find the burden more than I can bear]; therefore will I [earnestly] remember You from the land of the Jordan River and the summits of Mount Hermon, from the little mountain Mizar.

7 [Roaring] deep calls to [roaring] deep at the thunder of Your water-spouts; all Your breakers and Your rolling waves have gone over me.

8 Yet the Lord will command His loving-kindness in the daytime, and in the night His song shall be with me, a prayer to the God of my life.

9 I will say to God my rock, Why have You forgotten me? Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

10 As with a sword [crushing] in my bones, my enemies taunt and reproach me; while they say continually to me, Where is your God?

11 Why are you cast down, O my inner self? And why should you moan over me and be disquieted within me? Hope in God and wait expectantly for Him; for I shall yet praise Him Who is the help of my countenance, and my God.

PSALM 43

JUDGE and vindicate me, O God; plead and defend my cause against an ungodly nation. O deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man!

2 For You are the God of my strength [my stronghold — in Whom I take refuge]; why have You cast me off? Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

3 O send out Your light and Your truth; let them lead me, let them bring me to Your holy hill and to Your dwelling.

4 Then will I go to the altar of God, to God my exceeding joy; yes, with the lyre will I praise You, O God, my God!

5 Why are you cast down, O my inner self? And why should you moan over me and be disquieted within me? Hope in God and wait expectantly for Him; for I shall yet praise Him, Who is the help of my [sad] countenance, and my God.

PSALM 44

To the Chief Musician. [A Psalm] of the sons of Korah. A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem.

WE have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work You did in their days, in the days of old.

2 You drove out the nations with Your hand and it was Your power that gave [Israel] a home by rooting out [the heathen] peoples, but [Israel] You spread out.

3 For they got not the land [of Canaan] in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them; but Your right hand and Your arm and the light of Your countenance [did it], because You were favorable and did delight in them.

4 You are my King, O God; command victories and deliverance for Jacob [Israel].

5 Through You shall we push down our enemies; through Your name shall we tread them under who rise up against us.

6 For I will not trust in and lean on my bow, neither shall my sword save me.

7 But You have saved us from our foes, and have put them to shame who hate us.

8 In God we have made our boast all the day long, and we will give thanks to Your name forever. Selah [pause, and think calmly of that]!

9 But now You have cast us off and brought us to dishonor, and You go not out with our armies.

10 You make us to turn back from the enemy, and they who hate us take spoil for themselves.

11 You have made us like sheep intended for mutton, and have scattered us in exile among the nations.

12 You sell Your people for nothing, and have not increased Your wealth by their price.

13 You have made us the taunt of our neighbors, a scoffing and a derision to those who are round about us.

14 You make us a byword among the nations, a shaking of the head among the people.

15 My dishonor is before me all day long, and shame has covered my face

16 At the words of the taunter and reviler, by reason of the enemy and the revengeful.

17 All this is come upon us, yet have we not forgotten You, neither have we been false to Your covenant [which You made with our fathers].

18 Our heart is not turned back, neither have our steps declined from Your path, 19 Though You have distressingly broken us in the place of jackals and covered us with deep darkness, even with the shadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, or stretched out our hands to a strange god, 21 Would not God discover this? For He knows the secrets of the heart.

22 No, but for Your sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter. [Rom. 8:35-39.]

23 Awake! Why do You sleep, O

Lord? Arouse Yourself, cast us not off for ever!

24 Why do You hide Your face, and forget our affliction and our oppression?

25 For our lives are bowed down to the dust; our body cleaves to the ground.

26 Rise up! Come to our help, and deliver us for Your mercy's sake and because of Your steadfast love!

PSALM 45

To the Chief Musician; set to Lilies [probably a popular air. A Psalm] of the sons of Korah. A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem. A song of loves.

MY heart overflows with a goodly theme; I address my psalm to a king. My tongue is as the pen of a ready writer.

2 You are fairer than the children of men; graciousness is poured upon Your lips; therefore God has blessed You forever.

3 Gird Your sword upon Your thigh, O mighty One, in Your glory and Your majesty!

4 And in Your majesty ride on triumphantly for the cause of truth, humility and righteousness [uprightness and right standing with God]; and let Your right hand guide You to tremendous things.

5 Your arrows are sharp; the peoples fall under You; Your darts pierce the heart of the king's enemies.

6 Your throne, O God, is for ever and ever; the scepter of righteousness is the scepter of Your kingdom.

7 You love righteousness, uprightness and right standing with God, and hate wickedness; therefore God, Your God, has anointed You with the oil of gladness above Your fellows. [Heb. 1:8, 9.]

8 Your garments are all fragrant with myrrh, aloes and cassia; stringed instruments make you glad.

9 Kings' daughters are among your honorable women; at your right hand stands the queen in gold of Ophir.

10 Hear, O daughter, consider, submit and consent to my instruction; forget also your own people and your father's house;

11 So will the king desire your beauty; for he is your lord; be submissive and reverence and honor him.

12 And, O daughter of Tyre, the richest of the people shall entreat your favor with a gift.

13 The king's daughter in the inner part of the palace is all glorious; her clothing is inwrought with gold. [Rev. 19:7, 8.]

14 She shall be brought to the king in raiment of needlework; with the virgins, her companions that follow her, she shall be brought to you.

15 With gladness and rejoicing will they be brought; they will enter into the king's palace.

16 Instead of your fathers shall be your sons, whom you will make princes in all the land.

17 I will make your name to be remembered in all generations; therefore shall the people praise and give you thanks for ever and ever.

PSALM 46

To the Chief Musician. [A Psalm] of the sons of Korah, set to treble voices. A song.

GOD is our refuge and strength [mighty and impenetrable to temptation] a very present and well-proved help in trouble.

2 Therefore we will not fear, though the earth should change, and though the mountains be shaken into the midst of the seas;

3 Though its waters roar and foam, though the mountains tremble at its swelling and tumult. Selah [pause, and think calmly of that]!

4 There is a river, whose streams shall make glad the city of God, the

j) Jesus spoke of what was written of Him "in the Psalms." This is one such Messianic Psalm. However, the capitalization indicating Deity is offered provisionally. The chapter is written against the background of a secular royal wedding. But the New Testament reference to this psalm in Hebrews 1:8, 9, where verses 6 and 7 are quoted and applied to Christ, makes any other interpretation seem incidental in importance.

holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High.

5 God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved. God will help her right early [at the dawn of the morning].

6 The nations raged, the kingdoms tottered and were moved; He uttered His voice, the earth melted.

7 The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge [our fortress and high tower]. Selah [pause, and think calmly of that]!

8 Come, behold the works of the Lord, Who has wrought desolations and wonders in the earth.

9 He makes wars to cease to the end of the earth; He breaks the bow into pieces and snaps the spear in two; He burns the chariots in the fire.

10 Let be and be still, and know — recognize and understand — that I am God. I will be exalted among the nations! I will be exalted in the earth!

11 The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge [our high tower and stronghold]. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

PSALM 47

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

O CLAP your hands, all you peoples! Shout to God with the voice of triumph and songs of joy!

2 For the Lord Most High excites terror, awe and dread; He is a great King over all the earth.

3 He subdued peoples under us and nations under our feet.

4 He chose our inheritance for us, the glory and pride of Jacob whom He loves. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]! [I Pet. 1:4, 5.]

5 God has ascended amid shouting, the Lord with the sound of a trumpet.

6 Sing praises to God, sing praises! Sing praises to our King, sing praises!

7 For God is the King of all the earth; sing praises in a skillful psalm and with understanding.

8 God reigns over the nations; God sits upon His holy throne.

9 The princes and nobles of the peoples are gathered together, a [united] people for the God of Abraham; for the shields of the earth belong to God. He is highly exalted.

PSALM 48

A song; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

GREAT is the Lord, and highly to be praised in the city of our God! His holy mountain,

2 Fair and beautiful for elevation, is the joy of all the earth! The ^kMount Zion [the city of David], the sides of the north [Mount Moriah and the temple], the [whole] city of the great King! [Matt. 5:35.]

3 God has made Himself known in her palaces for a refuge [a high tower and a stronghold].

4 For, lo, the kings assembled, they came onward and they passed away together.

5 They looked; they were amazed; they were stricken with terror, and took to flight — affrighted and dismayed.

6 Trembling took hold of them there, and pain as of a woman in childbirth.

7 With the east wind You shattered the ships of Tarshish.

8 As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God; God will establish it for ever. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

9 We have thought of Your steadfast love, O God, in the midst of Your temple.

10 As is Your name, O God, so is Your praise to the ends of the earth; Your right hand is full of righteousness — rightness and justice.

11 Let Mount Zion be glad! Let the daughters of Judah rejoice because of Your righteous judgments!

12 Walk about Zion, and go round

k) Mount Zion was not on the north side of Jerusalem, as the usual translation of this passage implies, but was the city's most southern hill. But the temple did lie north-northeast of the city; and to it this passage unquestionably refers.

about her, number her towers [her lofty and noble deeds of past days];

13 Consider well her ramparts, go through her palaces and citadels; that you may tell the next generation [and cease recalling disappointments].

14 For this God is our God for ever and ever; He will be our guide even until death.

PSALM 49

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

HEAR this, all you peoples; give ear, all you inhabitants of the world,
2 Both low and high, rich and poor together.

3 My mouth shall speak wisdom; and the meditation of my heart shall be understanding.

4 I will submit and consent to a parable or proverb; to the music of a lyre I will unfold my riddle — my problem.

5 Why should I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of those who would supplant me surrounds me on every side, 6 Even of those who trust in and lean on their wealth, and boast of the abundance of their riches?

7 None of them can by any means redeem either himself or his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him;

8 For the ransom of their life is too costly, and [the price they can pay] can never suffice,

9 So that he should live on for ever and never see the pit [the grave] and corruption.

10 For he sees that even wise men die; the [self-confident] fool and the stupid alike perish and leave their wealth to others.

11 Their inward thought is, that their houses will continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations; they call their lands their own [apart from God] and after their own names.

12 But man with all his honor and pomp does not remain; he is like the beasts that perish.

13 This is the fate of those who are foolishly confident, yet after them men approve their sayings. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

14 Like sheep they are appointed for Sheol [the place of the dead]; death shall be their shepherd; and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning; and their form and beauty shall be consumed, for Sheol shall be their dwelling.

15 But God will redeem me from the power of Sheol [the place of the dead], for He will receive me. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

16 Be not afraid when [an ungodly] one is made rich, when the wealth and glory of his house are increased;

17 For when he dies he will carry nothing away; his glory will not descend after him.

18 Though while he lives he counts himself happy and prosperous, and though a man gets praise when he does well for himself, 19 He will go to the generation of his fathers, who nevermore see the light.

20 Man who is held in honor and understands not, is like the beasts that perish.

PSALM 50

A Psalm of 'Asaph

THE mighty One, God the Lord, speaks and calls the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting.

2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God shines forth.

3 Our God comes, and does not keep silence; a fire devours before Him, and round about Him a mighty tempest rages.

4 He calls to the heavens above and to the earth, that He may judge His people:

1) Asaph was a Levite and one of the leaders of David's choir. He was the head of one of the three families permanently charged with the temple music. His family formed a guild which bore his name and is frequently mentioned. One hundred and twenty-eight of them, all singers, came back from Babylon and took part when the foundations of Zerubbabel's temple were laid (Ezra 2:41; 3:10).

5 Gather together to Me My saints [those who have found grace in My sight], those who have made a covenant with Me by sacrifice.

6 And the heavens declare His righteousness — rightness and justice; for God, He is judge. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

7 Hear, O My people, and I will speak; O Israel, I will testify to you and against you; I am God, your God.

8 I do not reprove you for your sacrifices; your burnt offerings are continually before Me.

9 I will accept no bull from your house, nor he-goat out of your folds.

10 For every beast of the forest is Mine and the cattle upon a thousand hills or upon the mountains where thousands are.

11 I know and am acquainted with all the birds of the mountains, and the wild animals of the field are Mine and are with Me, in My mind.

12 If I were hungry, I would not tell you, for the world and its fullness are Mine. [I Cor. 10:26.]

13 Shall I eat of the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?

14 Offer to God the sacrifice of thanksgiving; and pay your vows to the Most High,

15 And call on Me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you shall honor and glorify Me.

16 But to the wicked, God says, What right have you to recite My statutes, or to take My covenant or pledge on your lips, 17 Seeing you hate instruction and correction and cast My words behind you — discarding them?

18 When you see a thief you associate with him, and you have taken part with adulterers.

19 You give your mouth to evil, and your tongue frames deceit.

20 You sit and speak against your brother; you slander your own mother's son.

21 These things you have done and I kept silent; you thought I was one entirely like yourself; but [now] I will reprove you, and put [the charge] in order before your eyes.

22 Now consider this, you who forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

23 He who brings an offering of praise and thanksgiving honors and glorifies Me; and he who orders his way aright — who prepares the way that I may show him — to him I will demonstrate the salvation of God.

PSALM 51

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet came to him, after he had sinned with Bathsheba.

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, according to Your steadfast love; according to the multitude of Your tender mercies and loving-kindnesses blot out my transgressions.

2 Wash me thoroughly [and repeatedly] from my iniquity and guilt, and cleanse me and make me wholly pure from my sin!

3 For I am conscious of my transgressions and I acknowledge them; my sin is ever before me.

4 Against You, You only, have I sinned, and done that which is evil in Your sight; so that You are justified in Your sentence and faultless in Your judgment. [Rom. 3:4.]

5 Behold, I was brought forth in [a state of] iniquity; my mother was sinful who conceived me [and I, too, am sinful]. [John 3:6; Rom. 5:12; Eph. 2:3.]

6 Behold, You desire truth in the inner being; make me therefore to know wisdom in my inmost heart.

7 Purify me with hyssop, and I shall be clean [ceremonially]; wash me, and I shall [in reality] be whiter than snow.

8 Make me to hear joy and gladness and be satisfied; let the bones which You have broken rejoice.

9 Hide Your face from my sins, and blot out all my guilt and iniquities.

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right, persevering and steadfast spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from Your presence, and take not Your Holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the joy of Your salvation, and uphold me with a willing spirit.

13 Then will I teach transgressors Your ways, and sinners shall be converted and return to You.

14 Deliver me from bloodguiltiness and death, O God, the God of my salvation; and my tongue shall sing aloud of Your righteousness — Your rightness and Your justice.

15 O Lord, open my lips, and my mouth shall show forth Your praise.

16 For You delight not in sacrifice, else would I give it; You find no pleasure in burnt offering. [I Sam. 15:22.]

17 My sacrifice [the sacrifice acceptable] to God is a broken spirit; a broken and a contrite heart [broken down with sorrow for sin and humbly and thoroughly penitent] such, O God, You will not despise.

18 Do good in Your good pleasure to Zion; rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.

19 Then will You delight in the sacrifices of righteousness, justice and right, with burnt offering and whole burnt offering; then bullocks will be offered upon Your altar.

PSALM 52

To the Chief Musician. A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem. [A Psalm of David, when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, David has come to the house of Ahimelech.]

WHY boast you of mischief done against the loving-kindness of God [and the godly], O mighty [sinful] man, day after day?

2 Your tongue devises wickedness, like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

3 You love evil more than good, and lying rather than to speak righteousness, justice and right. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

4 You love all destroying and devouring words, O deceitful tongue.

5 God will likewise break you down and destroy you for ever; He will lay hold of you and pluck you out of your tent, and uproot you from the land of the living. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

6 The [uncompromisingly] righteous also shall see it, and be in reverent fear and awe, but about you will [scoffingly] laugh, saying,

7 See, this is the man who made not God his strength — his stronghold and high tower; but trusted and confidently relied on the abundance of his riches, seeking refuge and security for himself through his wickedness.

8 But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God; I trust and confidently rely on the loving-kindness and the mercy of God for ever and ever.

9 I will thank You and confide in You for ever, because You have done it [delivered me and kept me safe]. I will wait, hope and expect in Your name, for it is good, in the presence of Your saints [Your kind and pious ones].

PSALM 53

To the Chief Musician; in a mournful strain. A skillful song, or didactic or reflective poem of David.

THE [empty-headed] fool has said in his heart, There is no God. Corrupt and evil are they, and doing abominable iniquity; there is none who does good.

2 God looked down from Heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any who understood, who sought, inquired after [and desperately required] God.

3 Every one of them is gone back — backslidden and fallen away; they are altogether become filthy and corrupt; there is none who does good, no, not one. [Rom. 3:10-12.]

4 Have those who work evil no knowledge — no understanding? They eat up My people as they eat bread; they do not call upon God.

5 There they are, in terror and dread, where there was [and had been] no terror and dread! For God has scattered the bones of him who encamps against you; you have put them to shame, because God has rejected them.

6 O that the salvation and deliverance of Israel were come out of Zion! When God restores the fortunes of His people, then will Jacob rejoice and Israel be glad.

PSALM 54

To the Chief Musician with stringed instruments. A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem of David, when the Ziphites went and told Saul, David is hiding among us.

SAVE me, O God, by Your name; judge and vindicate me by Your mighty strength and power.

2 Hear my pleading and my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth.

3 For strangers and insolent men are risen up against me, and violent men and ruthless ones seek and demand my life; they do not set God before them. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

4 Behold, God is my helper and ally; the Lord is my upholder and is with them who uphold my life.

5 He will pay back evil to my enemies; in Your faithfulness, Lord, put an end to them.

6 With a freewill offering I will sacrifice to You; I will give thanks and praise Your name, O Lord, for it is good.

7 For He has delivered me out of every trouble, and my eye has looked [in triumph] on my enemies.

PSALM 55

To the Chief Musician, with stringed instruments. A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem of David.

LISTEN to my prayer, O God, and hide not Yourself from my supplication!

2 Attend to me, and answer me; I am restless and distraught in my complaint, and must moan;

3 [I am distracted] by the noise of the enemy, because of the oppression and threatenings of the wicked; for they would cast trouble upon me, and in wrath they persecute me.

4 My heart is grievously pained within me, and the terrors of death have fallen upon me.

5 Fear and trembling are come upon me; horror and fright have overwhelmed me.

6 And I say, O that I had wings like a dove! I would fly away and be at rest.

7 Yes, I would wander far away, I would lodge in the wilderness. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

8 I would hasten to escape and to find me a shelter from the stormy wind and tempest.

9 Destroy [their schemes], O Lord; confuse their tongues; for I have seen violence and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about on its walls; iniquity and mischief are in its midst.

11 Violence and ruin are within it; fraud and guile do not depart from its streets and market place.

12 For it is not an enemy who reproaches and taunts me; then I might bear it; nor one who has hated me who insolently vaunts himself against me; then I might hide from him.

13 But it was you, a man my equal, my companion and my familiar friend;

14 We had sweet fellowship together, and used to walk to the house of God in company.

15 Let desolations and death come suddenly upon them; let them go down alive to Sheol [the place of the dead]; for evils are in their habitations, in their hearts and their inmost part.

16 As for me, I will call upon God; and the Lord will save me.

17 Evening and morning and at noon will I utter my complaint and moan and sigh, and He will hear my voice.

18 He has redeemed my life in peace from the battle that was against me [so that none came near me], for they were many who strove with me.

19 God will hear and humble them, even He Who abides of old. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]! Because in them there has been no change [of heart], and they do not fear, revere and worship God.

20 [My companion] has put forth his hands against those who were at peace with him; he has broken and profaned his agreement [of friendship and loyalty].

21 The words of his mouth were smoother than cream or butter, but war was in his heart; his words were softer than oil, yet they were drawn swords.

22 Cast your burden on the Lord [releasing the weight of it] and He will sustain you; He will never allow the [consistently] righteous to be moved — made to slip, fall or fail. [I Pet. 5:7.]

23 But You, O God, will bring down the wicked to the pit of destruction; men of blood and treachery shall not live out half their days; but I will trust, lean on and confidently rely on You.

PSALM 56

To the Chief Musician: to the tune, Silent Dove Among Those Far Away. Of David. A record of memorable thoughts, when the Philistines seized him in Gath.

BE merciful and gracious to me, O God, for man would trample me or devour me; all the day long the adversary oppresses me.

2 They that lie in wait for me would swallow me up or trample me all day long, for they are many who fight against me, O Most High!

3 What time I am afraid, I will have confidence and put my trust and reliance on You.

4 By [the help of] God I will praise His Word; on God I lean, rely and confidently put my trust; I will not fear; what can man who is flesh do to me?

5 All day long they twist my words and trouble my affairs; all their thoughts are against me for evil and my hurt.

6 They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, they watch my steps, even as they have (expectantly) waited for my life.

7 They think to escape with iniquity, and shall they? In Your indignation bring down the peoples, O God.

8 You number and record my wanderings; put my tears into Your bottle; are they not in Your book?

9 Then shall my enemies turn back in the day that I cry out; this I know, for God is for me. [Rom. 8:31.]

10 In God Whose Word I praise, in the Lord, Whose Word I praise, 11 In God have I put my trust, and confident reliance; I will not be afraid; what can man do to me?

12 Your vows are upon me, O God; I will render praise to You and give You thank offerings.

13 For You have delivered my life from death, yes, and my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of life and of the living.

PSALM 57

To the Chief Musician: set to the tune, Do Not Destroy. A record of memorable thoughts of David, when he fled from Saul in the cave.

BE merciful and gracious to me, O God, be merciful and gracious to me; for my soul takes refuge and finds shelter and confidence in You; yes, in the shadow of Your wings will I take refuge and be confident until calamities and destructive storms are passed.

2 I will cry to God Most High, Who performs on my behalf and rewards me — Who brings to pass [His purposes] for me and surely completes them!

3 He will send from Heaven and save me from the slanders and reproaches of him who would trample me down or swallow me up, and put him to shame. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]! God will send forth His mercy and loving-kindness and His truth and faithfulness.

4 My life is among lions; I must lie among those who are aflame, the sons of men whose teeth are spears and arrows, their tongue a sharp sword.

5 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens! Let Your glory be over all the earth!

6 They set a net for my steps; my very life was bowed down; they dug a pit in my way; into the midst of it they have fallen themselves. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

7 My heart is fixed, O God; my heart is steadfast and confident! I will sing and make melody.

8 Awake, my glory [my inner self]; awake, harp and lyre! I will awake right early [I will awake the dawn]!

9 I will praise and give thanks to You, O Lord, among the peoples; I will sing praises to You among the nations.

10 For Your mercy and loving-kindness are great, reaching to the heavens, and Your truth and faithfulness to the clouds.

11 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens; let Your glory be over all the earth.

PSALM 58

To the Chief Musician; set to the tune, Do Not Destroy. A record of memorable thoughts of David.

DO you indeed in silence speak righteousness? (Or is the righteousness, rightness and justice you should speak quite dumb) [O you mighty ones]? Do you judge fairly and uprightly, O you sons of men?

2 No, in your heart you devise wickedness; you deal out in the land the violence of your hands.

3 The ungodly are perverse and estranged from the womb; they go astray as soon as they are born, speaking lies.

4 Their poison is like the venom of a serpent; they are like the deaf adder or asp that stops its ear,

5 Which listens not to the voice of charmers, or of the enchanter casting spells never so cunningly.

6 Break their teeth, O God, in their mouths; break out the fangs of the young lions, O Lord.

7 Let them melt away as water which runs on apace; when he aims his arrows let them be as if they were headless or split apart.

8 Let them be as a snail dissolving slime as it passes on, or as a festering sore which wastes away; like [the child to which] a woman gives untimely birth, that has not seen the sun.

9 Before your pots can feel the thorns [that are placed under them for fuel], He will take them away as with a whirlwind, the green and the burning ones alike.

10 The [unyieldingly] righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance: he will bathe his feet in the blood of the wicked.

11 Men will say, Surely there is a reward for the [uncompromisingly] righteous; surely there is a God Who judges on the earth.

PSALM 59

To the Chief Musician; set to the tune, Do Not Destroy. Of David, a record of memorable thoughts, when Saul sent men to watch his house in order to kill him.

DELIVER me from my enemies, O my God; defend and protect me from those who rise up against me.

2 Deliver me from and lift me above those who work evil, and save me from the bloodthirsty men.

3 For, lo, they lie in wait for my life; fierce and mighty men are banded together against me, not for my transgression, nor for any sin of mine, O Lord.

4 They run and prepare themselves for no fault of mine; rouse Yourself, O Lord, to meet and help me, and see!

5 You, O Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, arise to visit all the nations; spare none and be not merciful to any who treacherously plot evil. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

6 They return at evening; they howl and snarl like dogs, and go [prowling] about the city.

7 Behold, they belch out [insults] with their mouth; swords [of sarcasm, ridicule, slander and lies] are in their lips; for who, they think, hears us?

8 But You, O Lord, will laugh at them [in scorn]; You will hold all the nations in derision.

9 O my Strength, I will watch and give heed to You and sing praises; for God is my defense — my protector and high tower.

10 My God in His mercy and steadfast love will meet me; God will let me look [triumphantly] on my enemies — those who lie in wait for me.

11 Slay them not, lest my people forget; scatter them by Your power and make them wander to and fro; and bring them down, O Lord our shield!

12 For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips let them even be trapped and taken in their pride, and for the cursing and lying which they utter.

13 Consume them in wrath, consume them so that they shall be no more; and let them know that God rules over Jacob [Israel], unto the ends of the earth. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

14 And at evening let them return; let them howl and snarl like dogs, and go prowling about the city.

15 Let them wander up and down for food, and tarry all night if they be not satisfied — not getting their fill.

16 But I will sing of Your mighty strength and power; yes, I will sing aloud of Your mercy and loving-kindness in the morning; for You have been to me a defense — a fortress and a high tower — and a refuge in the day of my distress.

17 Unto You, O my Strength, I will sing praises; for God is my defense, my fortress and high tower, the God Who shows me mercy and steadfast love.

PSALM 60

To the Chief Musician; set to the tune of The Lily of Testimony. A poem intended by David to record memorable thoughts; to teach; when he had striven with the Arameans of Mesopotamia and the Arameans of Zobah, and Joab returned and smote twelve thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

O GOD, You have rejected us and cast us off, broken down [our defenses] and scattered us; You have been angry; O restore us and turn Yourself to us again!

2 You have made the land to quake and tremble; You have rent it (open); repair its breaches, for it shakes and totters.

3 You have made Your people suffer hard things; You have given us to drink wine that made us reel and be dazed.

4 [But now] You have set up a banner for those who fear and worshipfully revere You — to which they may flee from the bow — a standard displayed because of the truth. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

5 That Your beloved ones may be delivered, save with Your right hand and answer us [or me].

6 God has spoken by His holiness [in His promises]. I will rejoice; I will divide and portion out [the land] Shechem and the valley of Succoth [west to east].

7 Gilead is Mine, and Manasseh is Mine; Ephraim also is My helmet [the defense of My head]; Judah is My scepter and My lawgiver.

8 Moab is My washpot [reduced to vilest servitude]; upon Edom I cast My shoe in triumph; over Philistia I raise the shout of victory.

9 Who will bring me [David] into the strong city [of Petra]? Who will lead me into Edom?

10 Have You not rejected us, O God? And You go not forth, O God, with our armies.

11 O give us help against the adversary, for vain — ineffectual and to no purpose — is the help or salvation of man.

12 Through God we shall do valiantly; for He it is Who will tread down our adversaries.

PSALM 61

To the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. [A Psalm] of David.

HEAR my cry, O God; listen to my prayer.

2 From the end of the earth will I cry to You, when my heart is overwhelmed and fainting; lead me to the rock that is higher than I — yes, a rock that is too high for me.

3 For You have been a shelter and a refuge for me, a strong tower against the adversary.

4 I will dwell in Your tabernacle for ever; let me find refuge and trust in the shelter of Your wings. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

5 For You, O God, have heard my vows; You have given me the heritage of those who fear, revere and honor Your name.

6 You may prolong the [true] King's life [adding days upon days], and may His years be to the last generation [of this world and the generations of the world to come].

7 May He sit enthroned for ever before (the face of) God. O ordain that loving-kindness and faithfulness may watch over Him!

8 So will I sing praise to Your name for ever, paying my vows day by day.

PSALM 62

To the Chief Musician; according to Jeduthun [Ethan, the noted musician]. A Psalm of David.

FOR God alone my soul waits in silence; from Him comes my salvation.

2 He only is my rock and my salvation, my defense and my fortress; I shall not be greatly moved.

3 How long will you set upon a man that you may slay him, all of you, like a leaning wall, like a tottering fence?

4 They only consult to cast him down from his height [to dishonor him]; they delight in lies; they bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

5 My soul, wait only upon God and silently submit to Him; for my hope and expectation are from Him.

6 He only is my rock and my salvation; He is my defense and my fortress; I shall not be moved.

7 With God rests my salvation and my glory; my rock of unyielding strength and impenetrable hardness, and my refuge is in God!

8 Trust, lean on, rely on and have confidence in Him at all times, you people; pour out your heart before Him. God is a refuge for us — a fortress and a high tower. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

9 Men of low degree [in the social scale] are emptiness — futility, a breath; and men of high degree [in the same scale] are a lie and a delusion. In the balances they go up; they are together lighter than a breath.

10 Trust and rely confidently not on extortion and oppression, and do not vainly hope in robbery; if riches increase, set not your heart on them.

11 God has spoken once, twice have I heard this, that power belongs to God.

12 Also to You, O Lord, belong mercy and loving-kindness, for You render to every man according to his work. [Jer. 17:10; Rev. 22:12.]

PSALM 63

A Psalm of David, when he was in the Wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, You are my God; earnestly will I seek You; my inner self thirsts for You, my flesh longs and is faint for You, in a dry and weary land, where no water is;

2 So I have looked upon You in the sanctuary, to see Your power and Your glory.

3 Because Your loving-kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise You.

4 So will I bless You while I live; I will lift up my hands in Your name.

5 My whole being shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise You with joyful lips,

6 When I remember You upon my bed, and meditate on You in the night watches.

7 For You have been my help, and in the shadow of Your wings will I rejoice.

8 My whole being follows hard after You and clings closely to You; Your right hand upholds me.

9 But those who seek and demand my life, to ruin and destroy it, shall [themselves be destroyed and] go into the lower parts of the earth [into the underworld of the dead].

10 They shall be given over to the power of the sword; they shall be a prey for foxes and jackals.

11 But the king shall rejoice in God; every one who swears by Him [that is, who binds himself by God's authority, acknowledging His supremacy, and devoting himself to His glory and service alone] every such one shall glory, for the mouth of those who speak lies shall be stopped.

PSALM 64

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

HEAR my voice, O God, in my complaint; guard and preserve my life from the terror of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the secret counsel and conspiracy of the ungodly, from the scheming of evildoers,

3 Who whet their tongue like a sword, who aim venomous words like arrows,

4 Who shoot from ambush at the blameless; suddenly do they shoot at him, without self-reproach or fear.

5 They encourage themselves in an evil purpose; they talk of laying snares secretly; they say, Who will discover us?

6 They think out acts of injustice, and say, We have accomplished a well-devised thing; for the inward thought of each one [is unsearchable], and his heart is deep.

7 But God will shoot an unexpected arrow at them, and suddenly shall they be wounded.

8 And they will be made to stumble, their own tongue being against them; all who gaze upon them will shake the head and flee away.

9 And all men shall (reverently) fear and be in awe, and will declare the work of God; for they will wisely consider and acknowledge that it is His doing.

10 The [uncompromisingly] righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust and take refuge in Him; and all the upright in heart shall glory and offer praise.

PSALM 65

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. A Song.

TO You belongs silence [the submissive wonder of reverence which bursts forth into praise], and praise is due and fitting to You, O God, in Zion; and to You shall the vow be performed.

2 O You Who hear prayer, to You shall all flesh come.

3 Iniquities and much varied guilt prevail against me; yet as for our transgressions, You forgive and purge them away [make atonement for them and cover them out of Your sight]!

4 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man whom You choose and cause to come near, that he may dwell in Your courts! We shall be satisfied with the goodness of Your house, Your holy temple.

5 By fearful and glorious things [that terrify the wicked, but make the godly sing praises] do You answer us in righteousness — rightness and justice — O God of our salvation, You Who are the confidence and hope of all the ends of the earth, and of those far off on the seas;

6 Who by Your might have founded the mountains, being girded with power;

7 Who still the roaring of the seas, the roaring of their waves, and the tumult of the peoples;

8 So that those who dwell in earth's farthest parts are afraid at nature's signs of Your presence; You make the places where morning and evening have birth to shout for joy.

9 You visit the earth and saturate it with water, You greatly enrich it; the river of God is full of water; You provide them grain when You have so prepared the earth.

10 You water the field's furrows abundantly, You settle the ridges of it, You make the soil soft with showers, blessing the sprouting of its vegetation.

11 You crown the year with Your bounty and goodness, the tracks of Your chariot wheels drip with fatness.

12 The luxuriant pastures in the uncultivated country drip [with moisture], and the hills gird themselves with joy.

13 The meadows are clothed with flocks, the valleys also are covered with grain, they shout for joy and sing together.

PSALM 66

To the Chief Musician. A song, a Psalm.

MAKE a joyful noise unto God, all the earth;

2 Sing forth the honor and glory of His name; make His praise glorious!

3 Say to God, How awesome and fearfully glorious are Your works! Through the greatness of Your power shall Your enemies submit themselves to You — with feigned and reluctant obedience.

4 All the earth shall bow down to You and sing praises to You; they shall praise Your name in song. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

5 Come and see the works of God; see how [to save His people He smites their foes] He is terrible in His doing toward the children of men.

6 He turned the sea into dry land; they crossed through the river on foot; there did we rejoice in Him.

7 He rules by His might for ever, His eyes observe and keep watch over the nations; let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

8 Bless our God, O peoples, give Him grateful thanks and make the voice of His praise to be heard, 9 Who put and kept us among the living, and has not allowed our feet to slip.

10 For You, O God, have proved us; You have tried us as silver is tried, refined and purified.

11 You brought us into the net [the prison fortress, the dungeon]; You laid a heavy burden upon our loins.

12 You caused men to ride over our heads [when we were prostrate]; we went through fire and through water; but You brought us out into a broad, moist place — to abundance and refreshment and the open air.

13 I will come into Your house with burnt offerings [of entire consecration]; I will pay You my vows, 14 Which my lips uttered, and my mouth promised, when I was in distress.

15 I will offer to You burnt offerings of fat lambs, with rams consumed in sweet-smelling smoke; I will offer bullocks and he-goats. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

16 Come and hear, all you who reverently and worshipfully fear God, and I will declare what He has done for me!

17 I cried aloud to Him; He was extolled and high praise was under my tongue.

18 If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me; [Prov. 15:29; 28:9; Isa. 1:15; John 9:31; James 4:3.]

19 But certainly God has heard me; He has given heed to the voice of my prayer.

20 Blessed be God, Who has not rejected my prayer, nor removed His mercy and loving-kindness from being [as it always is] with me.

PSALM 67

To the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm, a song.

GOD be merciful and gracious to us and bless us, and cause His face to shine upon us and among us, Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

2 That Your way may be known upon earth, Your saving power [Your deliverances and Your salvation], among all nations.

3 Let the peoples praise You, [turn away from their idols] and give thanks to You, O God; let all the peoples praise and give thanks to You.

4 O let the nations be glad and sing for joy; for You will judge the peoples fairly, and guide, lead or drive the nations upon earth. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

5 Let the peoples praise You, [turn away from their idols] and give thanks to You, O God; let all the peoples praise and give thanks to You!

6 The earth has yielded its harvest [in evidence of God's approval]; God, even our own God will bless us.

7 God will bless us, and all the ends of the earth shall reverently fear Him.

PSALM 68

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, a song.

GOD is [already] beginning to arise, and His enemies to scatter; let them also who hate Him flee before Him!

2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away; as wax melts before the fire, so let the wicked perish before the presence of God.

3 But let the [uncompromisingly] righteous be glad; let them be in high spirits and glory before God, yes, let them [jubilantly] rejoice!

4 Sing to God, sing praises to His name; cast up a highway for Him who rides through the deserts; His name is the Lord, be in high spirits and glory before Him!

5 A father of the fatherless, and a judge and protector of the widows, is God in His holy habitation.

6 God places the solitary in families and gives the desolate a home in which to dwell; He leads the prisoners out to prosperity; but the rebellious dwell in a parched land.

7 O God, when You went forth before Your people, when You marched through the wilderness, Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

8 The earth trembled, the heavens also poured down [rain] at the presence of God; yonder Sinai quaked at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

9 You, O God, did send a plentiful rain, You did restore and confirm Your heritage when it languished and was weary.

10 Your flock found a dwelling place in it; You, O God, in Your goodness did provide for the poor and needy.

11 The Lord gives the word [of power]; the women who bear and publish (the news) are a great host.

12 The kings of the enemies' armies, they flee, they flee! She who carries at home divides the spoil [left behind], 13 Though you [the slackers] may lie among the sheepfolds [in slothful ease], yet for Israel the wings of a dove covered with silver, its pinions excessively green with gold [are trophies taken from the enemy].

14 When the Almighty scattered kings in [the land], it was as when it snows on Zalmon [a wooded hill near Shechem].

15 Is Mount Bashan, the high mountain of summits, Mount Bashan [east of the Jordan], the mount of God?

16 Why look you with grudging and envy, you many-peaked mountains, at the mountain [of the city called Zion] which God has desired for His dwelling-place? Yes, the Lord will dwell in it for ever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands upon thousands. The Lord is among them, as He was in Sinai, [so also] in the holy place — the sanctuary [in Jerusalem].

18 ^mYou have ascended on high. You have led away captive a train of vanquished foes; You have received gifts of men, yes, of the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell there with them. [Eph. 4:8.]

19 Blessed be the Lord, Who bears our burdens and carries us day by day, even the God Who is our salvation! Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

m) David sang of the ark of the covenant, which after a great victory was transferred or brought back to Zion. In this fact he sees the principle of the history of the kingdom of God, appearing in ever widening circles and nobler manner. The fact is to him a type of the method and course of the Messiah's kingdom. So the Apostle Paul (in Eph. 4:8) is perfectly justified in finding the psalmist's eye directed toward Christ, and so interpreting it. The "on high" in the Psalm is first of all Mount Zion, but this is a type of Heaven, as Paul makes clear. (Lange's Commentary.)

20 God is to us a God of deliverances and salvation, and to God, the Lord, belongs escape from death [setting us free].

21 But God will shatter the head of His enemies, the hairy scalp of such a one as goes on still in his trespasses and guilty ways.

22 The Lord said, I will bring back [your enemies] from Bashan, I will bring them back from the depths of the [Red] Sea, 23 That you may crush them, dipping your foot in blood, that the tongue of your dogs may have its share from the foe.

24 They see Your goings, O God, even the [solemn processions] of my God, my King, into the sanctuary — in holiness.

25 The singers go in front, the players on instruments last; between them the maidens playing on tambourines.

26 Bless, give thanks and gratefully praise God in full congregations, even the Lord, O you who are from [Jacob] the fountain of Israel.

27 There is little Benjamin in the lead [in the procession], the princes of Judah and their company, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Your God has commanded your strength [your might in His service and impenetrable hardness to temptation]. O God, display Your might and strengthen what You have wrought for us!

29 [Out of respect] for Your temple at Jerusalem kings shall bring gifts to You.

30 Rebuke the wild beasts dwelling among the reeds [in Egypt], the herd of bulls [the leaders], with the calves of the peoples; trample under foot those who lust for tribute money; scatter the peoples who delight in war.

31 Princes shall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall hasten to stretch out her hands [with the offerings of submission] to God.

32 Sing to God, O kingdoms of the earth; sing praises to the Lord! Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

33 Sing praises to Him Who rides upon the heavens, the ancient heavens; lo, He sends forth His voice, His mighty voice.

34 Ascribe power and strength to God; His majesty is over Israel, and His strength and might are in the skies.

35 O God, awe inspiring, profoundly impressive and terrible are You out of Your holy places; the God of Israel, He gives strength and fullness of might to His people. Blessed be God!

PSALM 69

To the Chief Musician, set to the tune of Lilies.
[A Psalm] of David.

SAVE me, O God; for the waters are come up to my neck — they threaten my life.

2 I sink in deep mire, where there is no foothold; I have come into deep waters, where the floods overwhelm me.

3 I am weary with my crying; my throat is parched; my eyes fail with [hopefully] waiting for my God.

4 Those who hate me without cause are more than the hairs of my head; those who would cut me off and destroy me, being my enemies wrongfully, are many and mighty; I am [forced] to restore what I did not steal. [John 15:25.]

5 O God, You know my folly and blundering; my sins and my guilt are not hid from You.

6 Let not those who wait and hope and look for You, O Lord of hosts, be put to shame through me; let not those who seek and inquire for and require You [as their vital necessity] be brought to confusion and dishonor through me, O God of Israel.

7 Because for Your sake I have borne taunt and reproach; confusion and shame have covered my face.

8 I have become a stranger to my brethren, and an alien to my mother's children. [John 7:3-5.]

9 For the zeal for Your house has eaten me up; and the reproaches and insults of those who reproach and insult You are fallen upon me. [John 2:17; Rom. 15:3.]

10 When I wept and humbled myself with fasting, I was jeered at and humiliated.

11 When I made sackcloth my clothing, I became a byword — an object of scorn — to them.

12 They who sit in the city's gate talk about me, and I am the singsong of the drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is to You, O Lord. At an acceptable and opportune time, O God, in the multitude of Your mercy and the abundance of Your loving-kindness hear me; and in the truth and faithfulness of Your salvation answer me.

14 Rescue me out of the mire, and let me not sink; let me be delivered from those who hate me and from out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the flood waters overflow and overwhelm me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the (dug) pit [with water perhaps in the bottom] close its mouth over me.

16 Hear and answer me, O Lord; for Your loving-kindness is sweet and comforting; according to Your plenteous tender mercies and steadfast love, turn to me.

17 Hide not Your face from Your servant, for I am in distress. O answer me speedily!

18 Draw close to me and redeem me, ransom and set me free because of my enemies [lest they glory in my prolonged distress!]

19 You know my reproach and my shame and my dishonor; my adversaries are all before You — fully known to You.

20 Insults and reproach have broken my heart; I am full of heaviness and distressingly sick. I looked for pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also gall (poisonous and bitter) for my food, and in my thirst they gave me vinegar [a soured wine] to drink. [Matt. 27:34, 48.]

22 Let their own table [with all its abundance and luxury] become a snare to them; and when they are secure in peace [or at their sacrificial feasts,] let it become a trap to them.

23 Let their eyes be darkened, so that they cannot see; and make their loins tremble continually [from terror, dismay, and feebleness].

24 Pour out Your indignation upon them, and let the fierceness of Your burning anger catch up with them.

25 Let their habitation and their encampment be a desolation, let no one dwell in their tents. [Matt. 23:38; Acts 1:20.]

26 For they pursue and persecute him whom You have smitten, and they gossip about those whom You have wounded, [adding] to their grief and pain.

27 Let one [unforgiven] perverseness and iniquity accumulate upon another for them [in Your book], and let them not come into Your righteousness or be justified and acquitted by You.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living and the book of life, and not be enrolled among the uncompromisingly righteous — those upright and in right standing with God. [Rev. 3:4, 5; 20:12, 15; 21:27.]

29 But I am poor, sorrowful, and in pain. Let Your salvation, O God, set me up on high.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify Him with thanksgiving, 31 And it will please the Lord better than an ox or a bullock that has horns and hoofs.

32 The humble shall see it and be glad; you who seek after God, inquiring for and requiring Him [as your first need], let your heart revive and live! [Pss. 22:26; 42:1.]

33 For the Lord hears the poor and needy, and despises not His prisoners [His miserable and wounded ones].

34 Let Heaven and earth praise Him, the seas and everything that moves in them.

35 For God will save Zion and rebuild the cities of Judah; and [His servants] shall remain and dwell there and have it in possession.

36 The children of His servants shall inherit it, and those who love His name shall dwell in it.

PSALM 70

To the Chief Musician. [A Psalm] of David, to bring to remembrance or make memorial.

MAKE haste, O God, to deliver me; make haste to help me, O Lord!

2 Let them be put to shame and confounded that seek after and demand my life; let them be turned backward and brought to confusion and dishonor who desire and delight in my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back and appalled because of their shame and disgrace who say, Aha, aha!

4 May all those who seek, inquire of and for You, and require You [as their vital need] rejoice and be glad in You, and may those who love Your salvation say continually, Let God be magnified!

5 But I am poor and needy; hasten to me, O God! You are my help and my deliverer; O Lord, do not tarry!

PSALM 71

IN You, O Lord, do I put my trust and confidently take refuge; let me never be put to shame or confusion!

2 Deliver me in Your righteousness and cause me to escape; bow down Your ear to me and save me!

3 Be to me a rock of refuge in which to dwell, and a sheltering stronghold to which I may continually resort, which You have appointed to save me; for You are my rock and my fortress.

4 Rescue me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the grasp of the unrighteous and ruthless man.

5 For You are my hope; O Lord God,

You are my trust from my youth and the source of my confidence.

6 Upon You have I leaned and relied from birth; You are He Who took me from my mother's womb and have been my benefactor from that day. My praise is continually of You.

7 I am as a wonder and surprise to many, but You are my strong refuge.

8 My mouth shall be filled with Your praise and with Your honor all the day.

9 Cast me not off nor send me away in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength is spent and my powers fail.

10 For my enemies talk against me; those who watch for my life consult together, 11 Saying, God has forsaken him; pursue and persecute and take him, for there is none to deliver him.

12 O God, be not far from me! O my God, make haste to help me!

13 Let them be put to shame and consumed who are adversaries to my life; let them be covered with reproach, scorn and dishonor who seek and require my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually, and will praise You yet more and more.

15 My mouth shall tell of Your righteous acts and of Your deeds of salvation all the day, for their number is more than I know.

16 I will come in the strength and with the mighty acts of the Lord God; I will mention and praise Your righteousness, even Yours alone.

17 O God, You have taught me from my youth, and hitherto have I declared Your wondrous works.

18 Yes, even when I am old and gray-headed, O God, forsake me not, but keep me alive until I have declared Your mighty strength to this generation, and Your might and power to all that are to come.

19 Your righteousness also, O God, is very high [reaching to the heavens]; You Who have done great things, O

God, who is like unto You, or who is Your equal?

20 You Who have shown us [all], troubles great and sore, will quicken us again and will bring us up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Increase my greatness (my honor), and turn and comfort me.

22 I will also praise You with the harp, even Your truth and faithfulness, O my God; unto You will I sing praises with the lyre, O Holy One of Israel.

23 My lips shall shout for joy when I sing praises to You, and my inner being, which You have redeemed.

24 My tongue also shall talk of Your righteousness all the day long; for they are put to shame, for they are confounded, who seek and demand my hurt.

PSALM 72

[A Psalm] for Solomon.

ⁿ GIVE the king [knowledge of] Your way of judging, O God, and [the spirit of] Your righteousness to the king's son [to control all his actions].

2 Let him judge and govern Your people with righteousness, and Your poor and afflicted with judgment and justice.

3 The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the hills, through [the general establishment of] righteousness.

4 May he judge and defend the poor of the people, deliver the children of the needy, and crush the oppressor;

5 So that they may revere and fear You while the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations.

6 May he [Solomon as a type of King David's greater Son] be like rain that comes down upon the mown grass, as showers that water the earth.

7 In His [Christ's] days shall the [uncompromisingly] righteous flourish, and peace abound till there be a moon no longer. [Cf. Isa. 11:3-9.]

8 He [Christ] shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the River [Euphrates] to the ends of the earth. [Zech. 14:9.]

9 Those who dwell in the wilderness shall bow before Him, and His enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The kings of Tarshish and of the coasts shall bring offerings; the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

11 Yes, all kings shall fall down before Him; all nations shall serve Him. [Ps. 138:4.]

12 For He delivers the needy when he calls, the poor also and him who has no helper.

13 He will have pity on the poor and weak and needy, and will save the lives of the needy.

14 He will redeem their life from oppression and fraud and violence, and precious and costly shall their blood be in His sight.

15 And He shall live, and to Him shall be given of the gold of Sheba; prayer also shall be made for Him and through Him continually, and they shall bless and praise Him all the day long.

16 There shall be abundance of grain in the soil upon the top of the mountains [the least fruitful places in the land]; the fruit of it shall wave as do the forests of Lebanon, and the inhabitants of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17 His name shall endure for ever; His name shall be continued as long as the sun [indeed, His name continues before the sun]. And men shall be blessed and bless themselves by Him; all nations shall call Him blessed!

18 Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, Who alone does wondrous things!

n) "This Psalm, in highly wrought figurative style, describes the reign of a king, as 'righteous, universal, beneficent, and perpetual.' By the older Jewish and most of the modern Christian interpreters it has been referred to Christ, whose reign present and prospective alone corresponds with its statements. As the imagery of the Second Psalm was drawn from the martial character of David's reign, that of this is from the peaceful and prosperous state of Solomon's." — Jamieson, Fausset and Brown Commentary.

"Jesus is here, beyond all doubt, in the glory of His reign, both as He now is and as He shall be revealed in the latter-day glory." — Charles Haddon Spurgeon.

19 Blessed be His glorious name for ever; let the whole earth be filled with His glory! Amen and Amen!

20 The prayers of David, the son of Jesse, are ended.

BOOK III

PSALM 73

A Psalm of Asaph.

TRULY (only) good is God to Israel, even to those who are upright and pure in heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone, my steps had well-nigh slipped.

3 For I was envious at the foolish and arrogant, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For they suffer no violent pangs in their death, but their strength is firm.

5 They are not in trouble as other men; neither are they smitten and plagued like other men.

6 Therefore pride is about their neck as a chain; violence covers them as a garment [as a long, luxurious robe].

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness, they have more than heart could wish, and the imaginations of their minds overflow [with follies].

8 They scoff and wickedly utter oppression; they speak loftily [from on high, maliciously and blasphemously].

9 They set their mouth against and speak down from heaven, and their tongue swaggers through the earth [invading even heaven with blasphemy and smearing earth with slanders]. [Rev. 13:6.]

10 Therefore His people return here, and waters of a full cup [offered by the wicked] are blindly drained by them.

11 And they say, How does God know? Is there knowledge in the Most High?

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who always prosper and are at ease in the world; they increase in riches.

13 Surely then in vain have I cleansed my heart and washed my hands in innocence.

14 For all the day long have I been smitten and plagued, and chastened every morning.

15 Had I spoken thus [and given expression to my feelings], I would have been untrue and have dealt treacherously against the generation of your children.

16 But when I considered how to understand this, it was too great an effort for me and too painful, 17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God; then I understood [for I considered] their end.

18 [After all] You do set the [wicked] in slippery places; You cast them down to ruin and destruction.

19 How are they become a desolation in a moment! They are utterly consumed with terrors.

20 As a dream [which seems real] until one awakens, so, O Lord, when You arouse Yourself [to take note of the wicked] You will despise their outward show.

21 For my heart was grieved, embittered and in a state of ferment, and I was pricked in my heart [as with the sharp fang of an adder].

22 So foolish, stupid and brutish was I, and ignorant; I was as a beast before You.

23 Nevertheless I am continually with You; You do hold my right hand.

24 You will guide me with Your counsel, and afterward receive me to honor and glory.

25 Whom have I in Heaven but You? And I have no delight or desire on earth beside You.

26 My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the rock and firm strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

27 For lo, those who are far from You shall perish; You will destroy all who are false to You and like [spiritual] harlots depart from You.

28 But it is good for me to draw near to God; I have put my trust in the Lord God and made Him my refuge, that I may tell of all Your works.

PSALM 74

A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem of Asaph.

O GOD, why do You cast us off for ever? Why does Your anger burn and smoke against the sheep of Your pasture?

2 [Earnestly] remember Your congregation, which You have acquired of old, which You have redeemed to be the tribe of Your heritage; remember Mount Zion where You have dwelt.

3 Direct Your feet [quickly] to the perpetual ruins and desolations; the foe has devastated and desecrated everything in the sanctuary.

4 In the midst of Your holy place Your enemies have roared [with their battle cry]; they set up their own [idol] emblems for signs [of victory].

5 They seemed as men who lifted up axes upon a thicket of trees to make themselves a record.

6 And then all the carved wood of the holy place they broke down with hatchets and hammers.

7 They have set Your sanctuary on fire; they have profaned the dwelling place of Your name by casting it to the ground.

8 They said in their heart, Let us make havoc of such places altogether. They have burned up all God's meeting houses in the land.

9 We do not see our symbols; there is no longer any prophet, neither does any among us know for how long.

10 O God, how long is the adversary to scoff and reproach? Is the enemy to blaspheme and revile Your name for ever?

11 Why do You hold back Your hand, even Your right hand? Draw it out of Your bosom and consume them — make an end!

12 Yet God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.

13 You did divide the [Red] Sea by Your might; You broke the heads of the [Egyptian] dragons on the waters. [Exod. 14:21.]

14 You crushed the heads of Leviathan [Egypt]; You did give him as food for the creatures inhabiting the wilderness.

15 You did cleave open [the rock bringing forth] fountains and streams; You dried up mighty, ever-flowing rivers [Jordan]. [Exod. 17:6; Num. 20:11; Josh. 3:13.]

16 The day is Yours, the night also is Yours; You have established the [starry] light and the sun.

17 You have fixed all the borders of the earth [the divisions of land and sea, and of the nations]. You have made summer and winter. [Acts 17:26.]

18 [Earnestly] remember how the enemy has scoffed, O Lord, and reproached Thee, and that a foolish and impious people has blasphemed Your name.

19 O do not deliver the life of your turtledove to the wild beast — to the greedy multitude. Forget not the life [of the multitude] of Your poor for ever.

20 Have regard for the covenant [You made with Abraham], for the dark places of the land are full of the habitations of violence.

21 O let not the downtrodden return in shame; let the oppressed and needy praise Your name.

22 Arise, O God, plead Your own cause; remember [earnestly] how the foolish and impious man scoffs and reproaches You day after day and all day long.

23 Do not forget the [clamoring] voice of Your adversaries, the tumult of those who rise up against You which ascends continually.

PSALM 75

To the Chief Musician; set to the tune of Do Not Destroy. A Psalm of Asaph, a song.

WE give praise and thanks to You, O God, we praise and give thanks; that Your name is near Your wondrous works declare, and they who invoke Your name rehearse Your wonders.

2 When the proper time is come [for executing My judgments] I will judge uprightly [says the Lord].

3 When the earth totters, and all the inhabitants of it, it is I who will poise and keep steady its pillars. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

4 I said to the arrogant and boastful, Deal not arrogantly — do not boast; and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn [of personal aggrandizement];

5 Lift not up your [aggressive] horn on high, speak not with a stiff neck and insolent arrogance.

6 For not from the east nor from the west nor from the south come promotion and lifting up, [Isa. 14:13.]

7 But God is the judge! He puts down one and lifts up another.

8 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup [of His wrath], and the wine foams and is red, well mixed; and He pours out from it, and all the wicked of the earth must drain it and drink its dregs. [Ps. 60:3; Jer. 25:15; Rev. 14:9, 10; 16:19.]

9 But I will declare and rejoice for ever; I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.

10 All the horns of the ungodly also will I cut off [says the Lord]; but the horns of the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall be exalted.

PSALM 76

To the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments.
A Psalm of Asaph, a song.

IN Judah God is known and renowned; His name is highly praised and is great in Israel.

2 In [Jeru-]Salem also is His tabernacle, and His dwelling place is in Zion.

3 There He broke the bow's flashing arrows, the shield, the sword, and the weapons of war. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

4 Glorious and excellent are You from the mountains of prey — splendid and majestic, more than the everlasting mountains.

5 The stouthearted are stripped of their spoil; they have slept the sleep

[of death], and none of the men of might could raise their hands.

6 At Your rebuke, O God of Jacob, both chariot [rider] and horse are cast into a dead sleep [of death]. [Exod. 15:1, 21; Nah. 2:13; Zech. 12:4.]

7 You, even You, are to be feared [with awe and reverence]! Who may stand in Your presence when once Your anger is roused?

8 You caused sentence to be heard from heaven; the earth feared and was still,

9 When God arose to (establish) judgment, to save all the meek and oppressed of the earth. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

10 Surely the wrath of man shall praise You; the remainder of wrath shall You restrain and gird and arm Yourself with it.

11 Vow, and pay to the Lord your God; let all who are round about Him bring presents to Him Who ought to be (reverently) feared.

12 He will cut off the spirit [of pride and fury] of princes; He is terrible to the [ungodly] kings of the earth.

PSALM 77

To the Chief Musician, after the manner of Jeduthun [one of David's three chief musicians]. A Psalm of Asaph.

I WILL cry to God with my voice, even to God with my voice, and He will give ear and hearken to me.

2 In the day of my trouble I seek, [inquire of and desperately require] the Lord; in the night my hand is stretched out (in prayer) without slacking; I refuse to be comforted.

3 I [earnestly] remember God; I am disquieted and I groan; I muse in prayer, and my spirit faints — overwhelmed. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

4 You hold my eyes from closing; I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

5 I consider the days of old, the years of bygone times [of prosperity].

6 I call to remembrance my song in the night; with my heart I meditate and my spirit searches diligently;

7 Will the Lord cast off for ever?
And will He be favorable no more?

8 Have His mercy and loving-kindness ceased for ever? Are His promises ended for all time?

9 Has God [deliberately] abandoned or forgotten His graciousness? Has He in anger shut up His compassion? Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

10 And I say, This [apparent desertion of Israel by God] is my appointed lot and trial, but I will recall the years of the right hand of the Most High [in loving-kindness extended toward us] for this is my grief, that the right hand of the Most High changes.

11 I will [earnestly] recall the deeds of the Lord; yes, I will [earnestly] remember the wonders [You performed for our fathers] of old.

12 I will meditate also upon all Your work and consider all Your [mighty] deeds.

13 Your way, O God, is in the sanctuary [in holiness, away from sin and guilt]; who is a great God like our God?

14 You are the God Who does wonders; You have demonstrated Your power among the peoples.

15 You have with Your [mighty] arm redeemed Your people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah [stop, and calmly think of that]!

16 When the waters [at the Red Sea and the Jordan] saw You, O God, they were afraid; the deep shuddered also, for [all] the waters saw You.

17 The clouds poured down water; the skies sent out a sound [of rumbling thunder]; Your arrows went forth [in forked lightning].

18 The voice of Your thunder was in the whirlwind; the lightnings illumined the world; the earth trembled and shook.

19 Your way [in delivering Your people] was through the sea, and Your paths through the great waters; yet Your footsteps were not traceable, but were obliterated.

20 You led Your people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

PSALM 78

A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem of Asaph.

GIVE ear, O my people, to my teaching; incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable — in instruction by [numerous] examples; I will utter dark sayings of old [that hide important truth], [Matt. 13:34, 35.]

3 Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, but tell to the generation to come the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, and His might, and the wonderful works that He has performed.

5 For He established a testimony [an express precept] in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel commanding our fathers that they should make [the great facts of God's dealing with Israel] known to their children;

6 That the generation to come might know them, that the children still to be born might arise and recount them to their children,

7 That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep His commandments;

8 And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation that set not their heart aright nor prepared their heart [to know God], and whose spirit was not steadfast and faithful to God.

9 The children of Ephraim were armed and carrying bows, yet they turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the covenant of God and refused to walk according to His law, 11 And forgot His works and His wonders that He had shown them.

12 Marvellous things did He in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan [where Pharaoh resided].

13 He divided the [Red] Sea and caused them to pass through it, and He made the waters to stand like a heap. [Exod. 14:22.]

14 In the daytime also He led them with a [pillar of] cloud, and all the night with a light of fire. [Exod. 13:21; 14:24.]

15 He split rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink abundantly as out of the deep.

16 He brought streams also out of the rock [at Rephidim and Kadesh] and caused waters to run down like rivers. [Exod. 17:6; Num. 20:11.]

17 Yet they went on still to sin against Him by provoking and rebelling against the Most High in the wilderness — in the land of drought.

18 And they tempted God in their heart by asking food according to their selfish desire and appetite.

19 Yes, they spoke against God; they said, Can God furnish [the food for] a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, He did smite the rock so that waters gushed out and the streams overflowed, but can He give bread also? Can He provide flesh for His people?

21 Therefore, when the Lord heard, He was [full of] wrath; a fire was kindled against Jacob, His anger mounted up against Israel;

22 Because in God they believed not (they relied not on Him, they adhered not to Him) and they trusted not in His salvation (His power to save).

23 Yet He commanded the clouds above and opened the doors of Heaven,

24 And He rained down upon them manna to eat and gave them Heaven's grain. [Exod. 16:14; John 6:31.]

25 Everyone ate the bread of the mighty — man ate angel's food; God sent them meat in abundance.

26 He let forth the east wind to blow in the heavens, and by His power He guided the south wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as the dust, and winged birds [quails] like sand of the seas. [Num. 11:31.]

28 And He let the birds fall in the midst of their camp, round about their tents.

29 So they ate and were well filled; He gave them what they craved and lusted after.

30 But scarce had they stilled their craving, and while their meat was yet in their mouths, [Num. 11:33.]

31 The wrath of God came upon them and slew the strongest and sturdiest of them, and smote down Israel's chosen youth.

32 In spite of all this they sinned still more, for they believed not in (relied not on and adhered not to Him for) His wondrous works.

33 Therefore their days He consumed like a breath — in emptiness, falsity and futility — and their years in terror and sudden haste.

34 When he slew some [of them, the remainder] inquired after Him diligently, and they repented and sincerely sought God [for a time].

35 And they [earnestly] remembered that God was their rock, and the Most High God their redeemer.

36 Nevertheless they flattered Him with their mouth, and lied to Him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not right or sincere with Him, neither were they faithful and steadfast to His covenant. [Acts 8:21.]

38 But He, full of (merciful) compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yes, many a time He turned His anger away, and did not stir up all His wrath and indignation.

39 For He [earnestly] remembered that they were but flesh, a wind that goes and does not return.

40 How often they defied and rebelled against Him in the wilderness and grieved Him in the desert!

41 And time and again they turned back and tempted God, provoking and incensing the Holy One of Israel.

42 They remembered not [seriously the miracles of the working of] His hand, nor the day when He delivered them from the enemy;

43 How He wrought His miracles in Egypt, and His wonders in the field of Zoan [where Pharaoh resided], 44 And turned their rivers into blood, and their streams, so that they could not drink from them.

45 He sent swarms of [venomous] flies among them which devoured them, and frogs which destroyed them.

46 He gave also their crops to the caterpillar and [the fruit of] their labor to the locust.

47 He destroyed their vines with hail and their sycamore trees with frost and [great chunks of] ice.

48 He (caused them to shut up their cattle or) gave them up also to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunderbolts. [Exod. 9:18-21.]

49 He let loose upon them the fierceness of His anger, wrath and indignation, and distress, by sending [a mission of] angels of calamity and woe among them.

50 He leveled and made a straight path for His anger [to give it free course]; He did not spare [the Egyptian families] from death, but gave their beasts over to the pestilence and the life [of their eldest] over to the plague.

51 He smote all the first-born in Egypt, the chief of their strength in the tents [of the land of the sons] of Ham.

52 But [God] led His own people forth like sheep, and guided them [with a shepherd's care] like a flock in the wilderness.

53 And He led them on safely and in confident trust, so that they feared not; but the sea overwhelmed their enemies. [Exod. 14:27, 28.]

54 And He brought them to His holy border, the border of [Canaan] His sanctuary, even to this mountain [Zion], which His right hand had acquired.

55 He drove out the nations also before [Israel], and allotted their land as a heritage, measured out and partitioned; and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in the tents of those dispossessed.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked and rebelled against the Most High God, and kept not His testimonies.

57 But turned back and dealt unfaithfully and treacherously like their fathers; they were twisted like a warped and deceitful bow [that will not respond to the archer's aim].

58 For they provoked Him to [righteous] anger with their high places [for idol worship], and moved Him to jealousy with their graven images.

59 When God heard this, He was full of [holy] wrath, and utterly rejected Israel, greatly abhorring and loathing [her ways],

60 So that He forsook the tabernacle at Shiloh, the tent in which He had dwelt among men [and never returned to it again],

61 And delivered His strength and power [the ark of the covenant] into captivity, and His glory into the hand of [the Philistines] the foe. [I Sam. 4:21.]

62 He gave His people over also to the sword, and was wroth with His heritage, Israel. [I Sam. 4:10.]

63 The fire [of war] devoured their young men, and their bereaved virgins were not praised in a wedding song.

64 Their priests [Hophni and Phinehas] fell by the sword, and their widows made no lamentation [for the bodies came not back from the scene of battle, and the widow of Phinehas also died that day]. [I Sam. 4:11, 19, 20.]

65 Then the Lord awakened as from sleep, as a strong man whose consciousness of power is heightened by wine.

66 And He smote His adversaries in the back [as they fled]; He put them to lasting shame and reproach.

67 Moreover He rejected the tent of Joseph and chose not the tribe of Ephraim [in which the tabernacle had been accustomed to stand].

68 But He chose the tribe of Judah [as Israel's leader], Mount Zion which He loves [to replace Shiloh as His capitol].

69 And He built His sanctuary [exalted] like the heights [of the heavens], and like the earth which He established forever.

70 He chose David His servant and took him from the sheepfolds; [I Sam. 16:11, 12.]

71 From tending the ewes that had their young He brought him to be the shepherd of Jacob His people, of Israel His inheritance. [II Sam. 7:7, 8].

72 So [David] was their shepherd with an upright heart; he guided them by the discernment and skillfulness which controlled his hands.

PSALM 79

A Psalm of Asaph.

O GOD, the nations have come into [the land of Your people] Your inheritance; Your sacred temple have they defiled; they have made Jerusalem heaps of ruins.

2 The dead bodies of Your servants they have given to be food to the birds of the heavens, the flesh of Your saints to the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood they have poured out like water round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them.

4 [Because of such humiliation] we have become a taunt and reproach to our neighbors, a mocking and derision to those who are round about us.

5 How long, O Lord? Will You be angry forever? Shall Your jealousy [which cannot endure a divided allegiance] burn like fire?

6 Pour out Your wrath on the Gentile nations who do not acknowledge You, and upon the kingdoms that do not call on Your name. [II Thess. 1:8.]

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his dwelling and his pasture.

8 O do not [earnestly] remember against us the iniquities and guilt of our forefathers! Let Your compassion and tender mercies speedily come to meet us, for we are brought very low.

9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of Your name! Deliver us, forgive us and purge away our sins, for Your name's sake.

10 Why should the Gentile nations say, Where is their God? Let vengeance for the blood of Your servants which is poured out be known among the nations in our sight [not delaying until some future generation].

11 Let the groaning and sighing of the prisoner come before You; according to the greatness of Your power and Your arm spare those who are appointed to die!

12 And return into the bosom of our neighbors sevenfold the taunts with which they have taunted and scoffed at You, O Lord!

13 Then we Your people, the sheep of Your pasture, will give You thanks for ever; we will show forth and publish Your praise from generation to generation.

PSALM 80

To the Chief Musician; set to Lilies, a Testimony.
A Psalm of Asaph.

GIVE ear, O shepherd of Israel, You Who lead Joseph like a flock; You Who sit enthroned upon the cherubim [of the ark of the covenant], shine forth,

2 Before °Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh! Stir up Your might, and come to save us!

3 Restore us again, O God, and cause Your face to shine [in pleasure and approval on us], and we shall be saved!

4 O Lord God of hosts, how long will You be angry with Your people's prayers?

5 You have fed them with the bread

o) "It is supposed that these three tribes represented the whole [twelve tribes of Israel], Benjamin being incorporated with Judah, Manasseh comprehending the country beyond Jordan, and Ephraim the rest." It was natural for the Israelites to think of the three in one group, for they had camped together on the west side of the tabernacle during the years in the wilderness, and also they were the only descendants of Jacob's wife Rachel.

of tears, and given them tears to drink in large measure.

6 You make us a strife and scorn to our neighbors, and our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 Restore us again, O God of hosts, and cause Your face to shine [upon us with favor as of old], and we shall be saved!

8 You brought a vine [Israel] out of Egypt; You drove out the (heathen) nations and planted it [in Canaan].

9 You prepared room before it, and it took deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs of it were like the great cedars — cedars of God.

11 [Israel] sent out its boughs to the [Mediterranean] Sea, and its branches to the [Euphrates] River. [I Kings 4:21.]

12 Why have You broken down its hedges and walls, so that all they who pass by pluck from its fruit?

13 The boar out of the wood wastes it, and the wild beast of the field feeds on it.

14 Turn again, we beseech You, O God of hosts! Look down from Heaven and see, visit and have regard for this vine!

15 [Protect and maintain] the stock which Your right hand planted, and the branch (the son) that You have reared and made strong for Yourself.

16 They have burned it with fire, it is cut down; may they perish at the rebuke of Your countenance.

17 Let Your hand be upon the man of Your right hand, upon the son of man whom You have made strong for Yourself.

18 Then will we not depart from You; revive us — give us life — and we will call upon Your name.

19 Restore us, O Lord God of hosts, cause Your face to shine [in pleasure, approval and favor on us], and we shall be saved!

PSALM 81

To the Chief Musician; set to Philistine lute, or [possibly] a particular Gittite tune. [A Psalm] of Asaph.

SING aloud to God our strength! Shout for joy to the God of Jacob!

2 Raise a song, sound the timbrel, the sweet lyre with the harp.

3 Blow the trumpet at the new moon, at the full moon, on our feast day.

4 For this is a statute for Israel, an ordinance of the God of Jacob.

5 This He ordained in Joseph [the savior] for a testimony, when He went out over the land of Egypt. The speech of one whom I knew not did I hear [saying],

6 I removed his shoulder from the burden; his hands were freed from the basket.

7 You called in distress, and I delivered you; I answered you in the secret place of thunder; I tested you at the waters of Meribah. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]. [Num. 20:3, 13, 24.]

8 Hear, O My people, and I will admonish you; O Israel, if you would listen to Me!

9 There shall no strange god be among you, neither shall you worship any alien god.

10 I am the Lord your God, Who brought you up out of the land of Egypt. Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But My people would not hearken to My voice, and Israel would have none of Me.

12 So I gave them up to their own hearts' lust and let them go after their own stubborn will, that they might follow their own counsels. [Acts 7:42, 43; 14:16; Rom. 1:24, 26.]

p) Once, Joseph had gone out over Egypt with the title "Zaphenath-paneah," meaning according to some, "Savior of the Age," to bring deliverance from famine to the Egyptians (Gen. 41:45). Later they forgot their benefactor and severely oppressed his family and their descendants. "Then Joseph's God arose and went forth over the land [of Egypt] in righteous judgment, yet still as savior of that people [Israel], in whom dwelt the germ of blessing for all nations." (Kay, quoted in Gray and Adams' Bible Commentary.)

13 O that My people would listen to Me, that Israel would walk in My ways!

14 Speedily then I would subdue their enemies, and turn My hand against their adversaries.

15 [Had Israel listened to Me in Egypt, then] those who hated the Lord would have come cringing before Him, and their defeat would have lasted forever.

16 God would feed Israel [now] also with the finest of the wheat, and with honey out of the rock would I satisfy you.

PSALM 82

A Psalm of Asaph.

GOD stands in the assembly [of the representatives] of God; in the midst of the magistrates or judges He gives judgment [as] among the gods.

2 How long will you magistrates or judges judge unjustly, and show partiality to the wicked? Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

3 Do justice to the weak (poor) and fatherless; maintain the right of the afflicted and needy.

4 Deliver the poor and needy; rescue them out of the hand of the wicked.

5 The magistrates and judges know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in the darkness [of complacent satisfaction]; all the foundations of the earth [the fundamental principles upon which rests the administration of justice] are shaking.

6 I said, You are gods [since you judge on My behalf, as My representatives]; indeed, all of you are children of the Most High. [John 10:34-36; Rom. 13:1, 2.]

7 But you shall die as men, and fall as one of the princes.

8 Arise, O God, judge the earth! For to You belong all the nations. [Rev. 11:15.]

PSALM 83

A song, a Psalm of Asaph.

KEEP not silence, O God; hold not Your peace or be still, O God.

2 For, lo, Your enemies are in tumult and those who hate You have raised their heads. [Acts 4:25, 26.]

3 They lay crafty schemes against Your people and consult together against Your hidden and precious ones.

4 They have said, Come, and let us wipe them out as a nation; let the name of Israel be in remembrance no more.

5 For they have consulted together with one consent and one heart; against You they make a covenant,

6 The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites, of Moab and the Hagrites,

7 Gebal and Ammon and Amalek, the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyre;

8 Assyria also has joined with them; they have helped the children of Lot [the Ammonites and the Moabites] and have been an arm to them. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

9 Do to them as [You did to] the Midianites, as to Siserah and Jabin at the brook of Kishon, [Judg. 4:12-24.]

10 Who perished at Endor, who became as manure for the earth.

11 Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb; yes, all their princes as Zebah and Zalmunna, [Judg. 7:23-25; 8:10-21.]

12 Who say, Let us take possession for ourselves of the pastures of God.

13 O my God, make them like whirling dust, as stubble or chaff before the wind!

14 As fire consumes the forest, and as the flame sets the mountains ablaze, 15 So pursue and afflict them with Your tempest and terrify them with Your tornado or hurricane.

16 Fill their faces with shame, that they may seek, inquire for and insistently require Your name, O Lord.

17 Let them be put to shame and dismayed for ever; yes, let them be put to shame and perish, 18 That they may know that You Whose name alone is the Lord, are the Most High over all the earth.

PSALM 84

To the Chief Musician; set to a Philistine lute, or [possibly] a particular Gittite tune. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

HOW lovely are Your tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!

2 My soul yearns, yes, even pines and is homesick for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh cry out and sing for joy to the living God.

3 Yes, the sparrow has found a house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even Your altars, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God.

4 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — are those who dwell in Your house and Your presence; they will be singing Your praises all the day long. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

5 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man whose strength is in You; in whose heart are the highways to Zion.

6 Passing through the valley of weeping they make it a place of springs; the early rain also fills [the pools] with blessings.

7 They go from strength to strength — increasing in victorious power; each of them appears before God in Zion.

8 O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer; give ear, O God of Jacob! Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!

9 Behold our shield [the king as Your agent], O God, and look upon the face of Your anointed!

10 For a day in Your courts is better than a thousand [anywhere else]; I had rather be a doorkeeper and stand at the threshold in the house of my God than to dwell [at ease] in the tents of wickedness.

11 For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord bestows [present] grace and favor and [future] glory — honor, splendor and heavenly bliss! No good thing will He withhold from those who walk uprightly.

12 O Lord of hosts, blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man who trusts in You, (leaning and believing on You, committing all and confidently looking to You, and that without fear or misgiving)!

PSALM 85

To the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

LORD, You have [at last] been favorable and have dealt graciously with Your land [of Canaan]. You have brought back [from Babylon] the captives of Jacob.

2 You have forgiven and taken away the iniquity of Your people, You have covered all their sin. Selah [pause, and calmly realize what that means]!

3 You have withdrawn all Your wrath and indignation; You have turned away from the blazing anger [which You had let loose].

4 Restore us, O God of our salvation, and cause Your anger toward us to cease [for ever].

5 Will You be angry with us for ever? Will You prolong Your anger [and disfavor] and spread it out to all generations?

6 Will You not revive us again that Your people may rejoice in You?

7 Show Your mercy and loving-kindness, O Lord, and grant us Your salvation.

8 I will listen [with expectancy] to what God the Lord will say, for He will speak peace to His people, to His saints [those who are in right standing with Him]; but let them not turn again to [self-confident] folly.

9 Surely His salvation is near to those who reverently and worshipfully fear Him, and [is ready to be appropriated] that [the manifest presence of God, His] glory may tabernacle and abide in our land.

10 Mercy and loving-kindness and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 Truth shall spring up from the earth, and righteousness shall look down from Heaven.

12 Yes, the Lord will give what is good, and our land will yield its increase.

13 Righteousness shall go before Him, and will make His footsteps a way in which to walk.

PSALM 86

A Prayer of David.

INCLINE Your ear, O Lord, and answer me, for I am poor and distressed, needy and desiring.

2 Preserve my life, for I am godly and dedicated; O my God, save Your servant for I trust in You (leaning and believing on You, committing all and confidently looking to You, without fear or doubt).

3 Be merciful and gracious to me, O Lord, for to You do I cry all the day.

4 Make me, Your servant, to rejoice, O Lord, for to You do I lift myself up.

5 For You, O Lord, are good, and ready to forgive [our trespasses]—sending them away, letting them go completely and for ever; and You are abundant in mercy and loving-kindness to all those who call upon You.

6 Give ear, O Lord, to my prayer, and listen to the cry of my supplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call on You, for You will answer me.

8 None like unto You are among the gods, O Lord, neither are their works like unto Yours.

9 All nations whom You have made shall come and fall down before You, O Lord, and they shall glorify Your name.

10 For You are great and work wonders! You alone are God.

11 Teach me Your way, O Lord, that I may walk and live in Your truth; direct and unite my heart [solely, reverently] to fear and honor Your name. [Pss. 5:11; 69:36.]

12 I will confess and praise You, O Lord my God, with my whole (united) heart; and I will glorify Your name for evermore.

13 For great is Your mercy and loving-kindness toward me, and You have delivered me from the depths of Sheol [from exceeding depth of affliction].

14 O God, the proud and insolent are risen against me; the rabble of violent and ruthless men have sought after and demanded my life, and have not set You before them.

15 But You, O Lord, are a God merciful and gracious, slow to anger and abounding in mercy and loving-kindness and truth.

16 O turn to me, and have mercy and be gracious to me; grant strength—might and inflexibility [to temptation]—to Your servant, and save the son of Your handmaiden.

17 Show me a sign of [Your evident] goodwill and favor, that those who hate me may see it and be put to shame because You, Lord, [will show Your approval of me when you] help and comfort me.

PSALM 87

A Psalm of the sons of Korah; a song.

ON the holy hills stands the city [of Jerusalem and the temple] God founded.

2 The Lord loves the gates of Zion [through which the crowds of pilgrims enter from all nations] more than all the dwellings of Jacob [Israel].

3 Glorious things are spoken of you, O city of God. Selah [pause, and calmly think what that means].

4 I will make mention of Rahab [the poetic name for Egypt] and Babylon as among those who know [the city of God]; behold, Philistia and Tyre, with Ethiopia (Cush), say, This man was born there.

5 Yes, of Zion it shall be said, This and that man were born in her; for the Most High Himself will establish her.

6 The Lord shall count, when He registers the peoples, that this man was born there. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall say, All my springs—my sources of life and joy — are in you [city of our God].

PSALM 88

A song, a Psalm of the sons of Korah; to the Chief Musician; set to chant mournfully. A didactic or reflective poem of Heman the Ezrahite.

O LORD, the God of my salvation, I have cried to You for help by day; at night I am in Your presence. [Luke 18:7.]

2 Let my prayer come before You and [really] enter into Your presence; incline Your ear to my cry!

3 For I am full of troubles, and my life draws near to (Sheol) the place of the dead.

4 I am counted among those who go down into the pit (the grave); I am as a man who has no help or strength — a mere shadow;

5 Cast away among the dead, like the slain that lie in a [nameless] grave, whom You [seriously] remember no more, and they are cut off from Your hand.

6 You have laid me in the depths of the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deeps.

7 Your wrath lies hard upon me, and You have afflicted me with all Your waves. [Ps. 42:7.] Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

8 You have put my (familiar) friends far from me; You have made me an abomination to them. I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 My eye grows dim because of sorrow and affliction. Lord, I have called daily on You, I have spread forth my hands to You.

10 Will You show wonders to the dead? Shall the departed arise and praise You? Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

11 Shall Your steadfast love be declared in the grave? Or Your faithfulness in Abaddon (Sheol, as a place of ruin and destruction)?

12 Shall Your wonders be known in the dark? And Your righteousness in the place of forgetfulness — where the dead forget and are forgotten?

13 But to You I cry, O Lord; and in the morning shall my prayer come to meet You.

14 Lord, why do You cast me off? Why do You hide Your face from me? [Matt. 27:46.]

15 I am afflicted and close to death from my youth up; while I suffer Your terrors I am distracted — I faint.

16 Your fierce wrath has swept over me; Your terrors destroy me.

17 They surround me like a flood all day long; together they close in upon me.

18 Lover and friend have You put far from me; my familiar friends are darkness and the grave.

PSALM 89

A skillful song or a didactic or reflective poem of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I WILL sing of the mercies and loving-kindness of the Lord for ever; with my mouth will I make known Your faithfulness from generation to generation.

2 For I have said, Mercy and loving-kindness shall be built up for ever; Your faithfulness will You establish in the very heavens [unchangeable and perpetual].

3 [You have said] I have made a ^ocovenant with My chosen one, I have sworn to David My servant,

4 Your ^oSeed I will establish forever, and build up your throne for all generations. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that!] [Gal. 3:16; Isa. 9:7; Luke 1:32, 33.]

5 Let heaven [the angels] praise Your wonders, O Lord, Your faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones [the holy angels].

6 For who in the heavens can be compared to the Lord? Who among the

q) "This covenant most incontestably had Jesus Christ in view. This is the Seed, or Posterity, that should sit on the throne, and reign for ever and ever. David and his family are long since become extinct; none of his race has sat on the Jewish throne for more than two thousand years; but the Christ . . . will reign until all His enemies are put under His feet; and to this the Psalmist says, Selah." (One of many similar 19th century comments.)

mighty [heavenly beings] can be likened to the Lord,

7 A God greatly feared and revered in the council of the holy [angelic] ones, and to be feared and worshipfully revered above all those who are round about Him?

8 O Lord God of hosts, who is a mighty one like unto You O Lord? And Your faithfulness is round about You [an essential part of You at all times].

9 You rule the raging of the sea; when the waves of it arise, You still them.

10 You have broken Rahab (Egypt) in pieces; with Your mighty arm You have scattered Your enemies.

11 The heavens are Yours, the earth also is Yours; the world and all that is in it, You have founded them.

12 The north and the south, You have created them; Mount Tabor and Mount Hermon joyously praise Your name.

13 You have a mighty arm; strong is Your hand; Your right hand is soaring high.

14 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of Your throne; mercy and loving-kindness and truth go before Your face.

15 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — are the people who know the joyful sound [who understand and appreciate the spiritual blessings symbolized by the feasts]; they walk, O Lord, in the light and favor of Your countenance!

16 In Your name they rejoice all the day, and in Your righteousness they are exalted.

17 For You are the glory of their strength [their proud adornment], and by Your favor our horn is exalted and we walk with uplifted faces!

18 For our shield belongs to the Lord, and our king to the Holy One of Israel.

19 Once You spoke in a vision to Your devoted one and said, I have endowed one who is mighty [a hero, giving him the power to help — to be a champion for Israel]; I have exalted one chosen from among the people.

20 I have found David, My servant; with My holy oil have I anointed him; [Acts 13:22.]

21 With whom My hand shall be established and ever abide, My arm also shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not exact from him or do him violence or outwit him, or the wicked afflict and humble him.

23 I will beat down his foes before his face, and smite those who hate him.

24 My faithfulness and My mercy and loving-kindness shall be with him, and in My name shall his horn be exalted [great power and prosperity shall be conferred upon him].

25 I will set his hand in control also on the [Mediterranean] Sea and his right hand on the rivers [Euphrates with its tributaries].

26 He shall cry to Me, You are my Father, my God, and the rock of my salvation!

27 Also I will make him the first-born, highest of the kings of the earth. [Rev. 1:5.]

28 My mercy and loving-kindness will I keep for him for evermore, and My covenant shall stand fast and be faithful with him.

29 His offspring also will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven. [Gal. 3:16; Isa. 9:7.]

30 If his children forsake My law, and walk not in My ordinances;

31 If they break or profane My statutes and keep not My commandments,

32 Then will I punish their transgression with the rod [of chastisement], and their iniquity with stripes. [II Sam. 7:14.]

33 Nevertheless My loving-kindness will I not break off from him, nor allow My faithfulness to fail [to lie and be false to him].

34 My covenant will I not break or profane, nor alter the thing that is gone out of My lips.

35 Once [for all] have I sworn by My holiness that cannot be violated, I will not lie to David:

36 His offspring shall endure for ever, and His throne [shall continue] as the sun before Me. [Gal. 3:16; Isa. 9:7.]

37 It shall be established for ever as the moon, the faithful witness in the heavens. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]. [Rev. 1:5; 3:14.]

38 But [in apparent contradiction to all this] You [even You the faithful Lord] have cast off and rejected, You have been full of wrath against Your anointed.

39 You have despised and loathed and renounced the covenant with Your servant; You have profaned his crown by casting it to the ground.

40 You have broken down all his hedges and his walls; You have brought his strongholds to ruin.

41 All that pass along the road spoil and rob him, he has become the scorn and reproach of his neighbors.

42 You have exalted the right hand of his foes; You have made all his enemies rejoice.

43 Moreover, You have turned back the edge of his sword, and have not made him to stand in battle.

44 You have made his glory and splendor to cease, and have hurled to the ground his throne.

45 The days of his youth have You shortened; You have covered him with shame. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

46 How long, O Lord? Will You hide Yourself for ever? How long shall Your wrath burn like fire?

47 O [earnestly] remember how short my time is, and what a mere fleeting life mine is, for what emptiness, falsity, futility and frailty You have created all men!

48 What man can live and shall not see death, can deliver himself from the [powerful] hand of Sheol [the place of the dead]? Selah [pause, and calmly consider that].

49 Lord, where are Your former loving-kindnesses [shown in the reigns of David and Solomon], which You swore to David in Your faithfulness?

50 Remember, Lord, and earnestly imprint [on Your heart] the reproach of Your servants, scorned and insulted; how I bear in my bosom the reproach of all the many and mighty peoples, 51 With which Your enemies have taunted, O Lord; with which they have mocked the footsteps of Your anointed.

52 Blessed be the Lord for evermore! Amen and Amen.

BOOK IV

PSALM 90

A Prayer of Moses, the man of God.

LORD, You have been our dwelling place and our refuge in all generations [says Moses].

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever You had formed and given birth to the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting You are God.

3 You turn man back to dust and corruption, and say, Return, O sons of the earthborn [to the earth]!

4 For a thousand years in Your sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. [II Pet. 3:8.]

5 You carry away [these disobedient people, doomed to die within forty years] as with a flood; they are as a sleep [vague and forgotten as soon as gone]. In the morning they are like grass which grows up:

6 In the morning it flourishes and springs up; in the evening it is mown down and withers.

7 For we [the Israelites in the wilderness] are consumed by Your anger, and by Your wrath are we troubled, overwhelmed and frightened away.

8 Our iniquities, our secret heart and its sins [which we would so like to conceal even from ourselves] You have set in the [revealing] light of Your countenance.

9 For all our days [out here in this wilderness, says Moses] are passed away in Your wrath; we spend our years as a tale that is told [for we adults know we are doomed to die soon, without reaching Canaan]. [Num. 14:26-35.]

10 The days of our years are 'threescore years and ten, or even if by reason of strength fourscore years, yet is their pride [in additional years] only labor and sorrow; for it is soon gone, and we fly away.

11 Who knows the power of Your anger? [Who worthily connects this brevity of life with Your recognition of sin?] And Your wrath, who connects it with the reverent and worshipful fear that is due to You?

12 So teach us to number our days that we may get us a heart of wisdom.

13 Turn, O Lord [from Your fierce anger]; how long—? Revoke Your sentence and be comforted and eased toward Your servants.

14 O satisfy us with Your mercy and loving-kindness in the morning [now, before we are older] that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad in proportion to the days in which You have afflicted us, and to the years in which we have suffered evil.

16 Let Your work [the signs of Your power] be revealed to Your servants, and Your (glorious) majesty to their children.

17 And let the beauty and delightfulness and favor of the Lord our God be upon us; confirm and establish the work of our hands, yes, the work of our hands confirm and establish it.

PSALM 91

HE who dwells in the secret place of the Most High shall remain stable

r) This Psalm is credited to Moses, who is interceding with God to remove the curse which made it necessary for every Israelite over twenty years of age (when they rebelled against God at Kadesh-barnea) to die before reaching the Promised Land (Num. 14:26-35). Moses says most of them are dying at seventy years. This number has often been mistaken as a set span of life for all mankind. It was not intended to refer to any one except those Israelites under the curse during that particular forty years. Seventy years never has been the average span of life for humanity. When Jacob, the father of the twelve tribes had reached 130 years (Gen. 47:9), he complained that he had not attained to the years of his immediate ancestors. In fact, Moses himself lived to be 120, Aaron 123, Miriam several years older, and Joshua 110; while in the Millennium a person dying at 100 will still be a child (Isa. 65:20).

s) The rich promises of this whole chapter are dependent upon one's meeting exactly the conditions of these first two verses. [Exod. 15:26.]

and fixed under the shadow of the Almighty [Whose power no foe can withstand].

2 I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, on Him I lean and rely, and in Him I (confidently) trust!

3 For [then] He will deliver you from the snare of the fowler and from the deadly pestilence. [Then]

4 He will cover you with His pinions, and under His wings shall you trust and find refuge; His truth and His faithfulness are a shield and a buckler. [Then]

5 You shall not be afraid of the terror of the night, nor of the arrow [the evil plots and slanders of the wicked] that flies by day,

6 Nor of the pestilence that stalks in darkness, nor of the destruction and sudden death that surprise and lay waste at noonday. [Then]

7 A thousand may fall at your side, and ten thousand at your right hand, but it shall not come near you.

8 Only a spectator shall you be [yourself inaccessible in the secret place of the Most High] as you witness the reward of the wicked.

9 Because you have made the Lord your refuge, and the Most High your dwelling place, [Verses 1, 14.]

10 There shall no evil befall you, nor any plague or calamity come near your tent.

11 For He will give His angels [especial] charge over you, to accompany and defend and preserve you in all your ways [of obedience and service].

12 They shall bear you up on their hands, lest you dash your foot against a stone. [Luke 4:10, 11; Heb. 1:14.]

13 You shall tread upon the lion and adder, the young lion and the serpent shall you trample under foot. [Luke 10:19.]

14 Because he has set his love upon Me, therefore will I deliver him; I will set him on high, because he knows and understands My name [has a personal knowledge of My mercy, love and kindness; trusts and relies on Me, knowing I will never forsake him, no, never].

15 He shall call upon Me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him and honor him.

16 With long life will I satisfy him, and show him My salvation.

PSALM 92

A Psalm, a song for the Sabbath day.

IT is a good and delightful thing to give thanks to the Lord, to sing praises [with musical accompaniment] to Your name, O Most High;

2 To show forth Your loving-kindness in the morning, and Your faithfulness by night,

3 With an instrument of ten strings, and with the lute, with a solemn sound upon the lyre.

4 For You, O Lord, have made me glad by Your work; of the deeds of Your hands I joyfully sing.

5 How great are Your doings, O Lord! Your thoughts are very deep.

6 A man in his rude and uncultivated state knows not; neither does a [self-confident] fool understand this:

7 That though the wicked spring like grass, and all evildoers flourish, they are doomed to be destroyed for ever.

8 But You, Lord, are on high for ever.

9 For lo, Your adversaries, O Lord, for lo, Your enemies shall perish; all the evildoers shall be scattered.

10 But my horn [emblem of excessive strength and stately grace] you have exalted like that of a wild ox; I am anointed with fresh oil.

11 My eye looks upon those who lie in wait for me; my ears hear the evildoers that rise up against me.

12 The [uncompromisingly] righteous shall flourish like the palm tree [be longlived, stately, upright, useful and fruitful]; he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon [majestic, stable, durable and incorruptible].

13 Planted in the house of the Lord, they shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14 [Growing in grace] they shall still bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be full of sap [of spiritual vitality] and rich in the verdure [of trust, love and contentment];

15 [They are living memorials] to show that the Lord is upright and faithful to His promises; He is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in Him. [Rom. 9:14.]

PSALM 93

THE Lord reigns; He is clothed with majesty; the Lord is robed, He has girded Himself with strength and power; the world also is established, that it cannot be moved.

2 Your throne is established from of old; You are from everlasting.

3 The floods have lifted up, O Lord, the floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up the roaring of their waves.

4 The Lord on high is mightier and more glorious than the noise of many waters, yes, than the mighty breakers and waves of the sea.

5 Your testimonies are very sure; holiness [apparent in separation from sin, with simple trust and hearty obedience] is becoming to Your house, O Lord, for ever.

PSALM 94

O LORD God, You to Whom vengeance belongs; O God, You to Whom vengeance belongs, shine forth!

2 Rise up, O Judge of the earth; render to the proud a fit compensation!

3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph and exult?

4 They pour out arrogant words, speaking hard things; all the evildoers boast loftily. [Jude 14, 15.]

5 They crush Your people, O Lord, and afflict Your heritage.

6 They slay the widow and the transient stranger, and murder the unprotected orphan.

7 Yet they say, The Lord does not see, neither does the God of Jacob notice it.

8 Consider and understand, you stupid ones among the people! And you [self-confident] fools, when will you become wise?

9 He Who planted the ear, shall He not hear? He Who formed the eye, shall He not see?

10 He Who disciplines and instructs the nations, shall He not punish, He Who teaches man knowledge?

11 The Lord knows the thoughts of man, that they are vain, empty and futile — only a breath. [I Cor. 3:20.]

12 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man whom You discipline and instruct, O Lord, and teach out of Your law;

13 That You may give him power to hold himself calm in the days of adversity, until the [inevitable] pit of corruption is dug for the wicked.

14 For the Lord will not cast off nor spurn His people, neither will He abandon His heritage.

15 For justice will return to the [uncompromisingly] righteous, and all the upright in heart will follow it.

16 Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? Who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?

17 Unless the Lord had been my help, I would soon have dwelt in [the land where is] silence.

18 When I said, My foot is slipping, Your mercy and loving-kindness, O Lord, held me up.

19 In the multitude of my (anxious) thoughts within me, Your comforts cheer and delight my soul!

20 Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with You, they who frame and hide their unrighteous doings under [the sacred name of] law?

21 They band themselves together against the life of the [consistently] righteous, and condemn the innocent to death.

22 But the Lord has become my high tower and defense, and my God, the rock of my refuge.

23 And He has turned back upon them their own iniquity, and will wipe them out by means of their own wickedness; the Lord our God will wipe them out.

PSALM 95

O COME, let us sing to the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation!

2 Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving; let us make a joyful noise to Him with songs of praise!

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

4 In His hand are the deep places of the earth; the heights and strength of the hills are His also.

5 The sea is His, for He made it; and His hands formed the dry land.

6 O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our Maker [in reverent praise and supplication].

7 For He is our God; and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand. Today if you will hear His voice, [Heb. 3:7-11.]

8 Harden not your heart, as at Meribah, and as at Massah in the day of temptation in the wilderness; [Exod. 17:1-7; Num. 20:1-13; Deut. 6:16.]

9 When your fathers tried My patience and tested Me, proved Me and saw My work [of judgment].

10 Forty years long was I grieved and disgusted with that generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they do not approve, acknowledge or regard My ways.

11 Wherefore I swore in My wrath that they should not enter [the land of promise] My rest. [Heb. 4:3-11.]

PSALM 96

O SING to the Lord a new song; sing to the Lord, all the earth!

2 Sing to the Lord, bless [affectionately praise] His name; show forth His salvation from day to day.

3 Declare His glory among the nations, His marvelous works among all the peoples.

4 For great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised; He is to be reverently feared and worshiped above all so-called gods. [Rev. 14:7; Deut. 6:5.]

5 For all the gods of the nations are [lifeless] idols, but the Lord made the heavens.

6 Honor and majesty are before Him; strength and beauty are in His sanctuary.

7 Ascribe to the Lord, O you families of the people, ascribe to the Lord glory and strength.

8 Give to the Lord the glory due to His name; bring an offering and come (before Him) into His courts.

9 O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness; tremble and reverently fear before Him, all the earth.

10 Say among the nations that the Lord reigns; the world also is established, that it cannot be moved; He shall judge and rule the people righteously and with justice. [Rev. 11:15; 19:6.]

11 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice; let the sea roar and all the things which fill it.

12 Let the field be exultant, and all that is in it! Then shall all the trees of the wood sing for joy

13 Before the Lord; for He comes, for He comes to judge and govern the earth! He shall judge the world with righteousness and justice, and the people with His faithfulness and truth. [Rev. 19:11; I Chron. 16:23-33.]

PSALM 97

THE Lord reigns; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles and coastlands be glad!

2 Clouds and darkness are round about Him [as at Sinai]; righteousness and justice are the foundation of His throne. [Exod. 19:9.]

3 Fire goes before Him and burns up His adversaries round about.

4 His lightnings illumine the world; the earth sees and trembles.

5 The hills melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare His righteousness, and all the peoples see His glory.

7 Let all those be put to shame who serve graven images, who boast themselves of idols. Fall prostrate before Him, all you gods. [Heb. 1:6.]

8 Zion heard, and was glad, and the daughters of Judah rejoiced [in relief] because of Your judgments, O Lord.

9 For You, Lord, are high above all the earth; You are exalted far above all gods.

10 O you who love the Lord, hate evil; He preserves the lives of His saints [the children of God]; He delivers them out of the hand of the wicked. [Rom. 8:13-17.]

11 Light is sown for the [uncompromisingly] righteous and strewn along their pathway, and for the upright in heart [the irrepressible joy which comes from consciousness of His favor and protection].

12 Rejoice in the Lord, you [consistently] righteous — upright and in right standing with God — and give thanks at the remembrance of His holiness.

PSALM 98

A Psalm.

O SING to the Lord a new song, for He has done marvelous things; His right hand and His holy arm have wrought salvation for Him.

2 The Lord has made known His salvation; His righteousness has He openly shown in the sight of the nations. [Luke 2:30, 31.]

3 He has [earnestly] remembered His mercy and loving-kindness, His truth and His faithfulness toward the house of Israel. All the ends of the earth have witnessed the salvation of our God. [Acts 13:47; 28:28.]

4 Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth; break forth and sing for joy, yes, sing praises!

5 Sing praises to the Lord with the lyre; with the lyre and the voice of melody.

6 With trumpets and sound of the horn make a joyful noise before the King, the Lord!

7 Let the sea roar and all that fills it, the world and those who dwell in it!

8 Let the rivers clap their hands; together let the hills sing for joy

9 Before the Lord; for He is coming to judge [and rule] the earth; with righteousness will He judge [and rule] the world, and the peoples with equity.

PSALM 99

THE Lord reigns; let the peoples tremble [with reverential fear]! He sits [enthroned] above the cherubim; let the earth quake!

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and He is high above all the peoples.

3 Let them confess and praise Your great name, awesome and reverence inspiring! It is holy, and holy is He! [Rev. 15:4.]

4 The strength of the king who loves righteousness and equity You establish in uprightness; You execute justice and righteousness in Jacob [Israel].

5 Extol the Lord our God, and worship at His footstool! Holy is He!

6 Moses and Aaron were among His priests, and Samuel was among those who called upon His name; they called upon the Lord, and He answered them.

7 He spoke to them in the pillar of cloud; they kept His testimonies, and the statute that He gave them. [Ps. 105:9, 10.]

8 You answered them, O Lord our God. You were a forgiving God to them, although avenging their evil-doings and practices.

9 Extol the Lord our God, and worship at His holy hill; for the Lord our God is holy!

PSALM 100

A Psalm of thanksgiving and for the thank offering.

MAKE a joyful noise to the Lord, all you lands!

2 Serve the Lord with gladness! Come before His presence with singing!

3 Know — perceive, recognize and understand with approval — that the Lord is God! It is He Who has made us, not we ourselves [and we are His]! We are His people and the sheep of His pasture. [Eph. 2:10.]

4 Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and with a thank offering, and into His courts with praise! Be thankful and say so to Him, bless and affectionately praise His name!

5 For the Lord is good; His mercy and loving-kindness are everlasting; His faithfulness and truth endure to all generations.

PSALM 101

A Psalm of David.

I WILL sing of mercy and loving-kindness and justice; to You, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will behave myself wisely and give heed to the blameless way. O when will You come to me? I will walk within my house in my integrity and with a blameless heart.

3 I will set no base or wicked thing before my eyes. I hate the work of them who turn aside [from the right path]; it shall not grasp hold of me.

4 A perverse heart shall depart from me. I will know no evil person or thing.

5 Whoso privily slanders his neighbor, him will I cut off [from me]. He who has a haughty look and a proud and arrogant heart I cannot and I will not tolerate.

6 My eyes shall [look with favor] upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me. He who walks blamelessly, he shall minister to me.

7 He who works deceit shall not dwell in my house, he who tells lies shall not continue in my presence.

8 Morning after morning I will root up all the wicked in the land, that I may eliminate all the evildoers from the city of the Lord.

PSALM 102

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed and faints, and pours out his complaint to God.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, and let my cry come to You.

2 Hide not Your face from me in the day when I am in distress! Incline Your ear to me; in the day when I call answer me speedily.

3 For my days consume away like smoke, and my bones are burned as a firebrand or as a hearth.

4 My heart is smitten like grass, and withered; so that [in absorption] I forget to eat my food.

5 By reason of my loud groaning [from suffering and trouble] my flesh cleaves to my bones.

6 I am like a melancholy pelican or vulture of the wilderness; I am like a (desolate) owl of the waste places.

7 I am sleepless and lie awake (mourning), like a bereaved sparrow alone on the housetop.

8 My adversaries taunt and reproach me all the day; and they that are angry with me use my name for a curse.

9 For I have eaten of the ashes [in which I sat] as if they were bread, and have mingled my drink with weeping, 10 Because of Your indignation and Your wrath; for You have taken me up and cast me away.

11 My days are like an evening shadow that stretches out and declines [with the sun], and I am withered like grass.

12 But You, O Lord, are enthroned for ever, and the fame of Your name endures to all generations.

13 You will arise and have mercy and loving-kindness for Zion, for it is time to have pity and compassion for her, yes, the set time is come—the moment designated. [Pss. 12:5; 119:126.]

14 For Your servants take [melancholy] pleasure in the stones of her ruins, and show pity for her dust.

15 So the nations shall fear and worshipfully revere the name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth Your glory. [Ps. 96:9.]

16 When the Lord builds up Zion, He will appear in His glory;

17 He will regard the plea of the destitute, and will not despise their prayer.

18 Let this be recorded for the generation yet unborn, and a people yet to be created shall praise the Lord.

19 For He looked down from the height of His sanctuary, from Heaven did the Lord behold the earth,

20 To hear the sighing and groaning of the prisoner, to loose those who are appointed to death;

21 That men may declare the name of the Lord in Zion, and His praise in Jerusalem, 22 When peoples are gathered together, and kingdoms, to worship and serve the Lord.

23 He has afflicted and weakened my strength, humbling and bringing me low [with sorrow] in the way; He has shortened my days [aging me prematurely].

24 I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days, You Whose years continue throughout all generations.

25 At the beginning You existed and laid the foundation of the earth; the heavens are the work of Your hands.

26 They shall perish, but You shall remain and endure; yes, all of them shall wear out and become old like a garment. Like clothing You shall change them, and they shall be changed and pass away.

27 But You remain the same, and Your years shall have no end. [Heb. 1:10-12.]

28 The children of Your servants shall dwell safely and continue, and their descendants shall be established before You.

PSALM 103

[A Psalm] of David.

BLESS — affectionately, gratefully praise — the Lord, O my soul, and all that is [deepest] within me, bless His holy name!

2 Bless — affectionately, gratefully praise — the Lord, O my soul, and forget not [one of] all His benefits,

3 Who forgives [every one of] all your iniquities, Who heals [each of] all your diseases;

4 Who redeems your life from the pit and corruption; Who beautifies, dignifies and crowns you with loving-kindness and tender mercies;

5 Who satisfies your mouth [your necessity and desire at your personal age] with good; so that your youth, renewed, is like the eagle's [strong, overcoming, soaring]! [Isa. 40:31.]

6 The Lord executes righteousness and justice [not for me only, but] for all who are oppressed.

7 He made known His ways [of righteousness and justice] to Moses, His acts to the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy and loving-kindness. [James 5:11.]

9 He will not always chide or be contending, neither will He keep His anger for ever or hold a grudge.

10 He has not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

11 For as the heavens are high above the earth, so great are His mercy and loving-kindness toward those who reverently and worshipfully fear Him.

12 As far as the east is from the west, so far has He removed our transgressions from us.

13 As a father loves and pities his children, so the Lord loves and pities those who fear Him — with reverence, worship and awe.

14 For He knows our frame; He [earnestly] remembers and imprints [on His heart] that we are dust.

15 As for man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourishes.

16 For the wind passes over it, and it is gone, and its place shall know it no more.

17 But the mercy and loving-kindness of the Lord are from everlasting to everlasting upon those who reverently and worshipfully fear Him, and His righteousness is to children's children, [Deut. 10:12.]

18 To such as keep His covenant — hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it; and to those who [earnestly] remember His commandments to do them [imprinting them on their hearts].

19 The Lord has established His throne in the heavens; and His kingdom rules over all.

20 Bless — affectionately, gratefully praise — the Lord, you His angels, you mighty ones who do His commandments, hearkening to the voice of His word.

21 Bless — affectionately, gratefully praise — the Lord, all you His hosts, you ministers of His who do His pleasure.

22 Bless the Lord, all His works in all places of His dominion; bless — affectionately, gratefully praise — the Lord, O my soul!

PSALM 104

BLESS — affectionately, gratefully praise — the Lord, O my soul! O Lord my God, You are very great! You are clothed with honor and majesty:

2 Who cover Yourself with light as with a garment, Who has stretched out the heavens like a curtain or a tent,

3 Who lays the beams of the upper room of His abode in the waters [above the firmament], Who makes the clouds His chariot, Who walks on the wings of the wind,

4 Who makes winds His messengers, flames of fire His ministers. [Heb. 1:7.]

5 You laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be moved for ever. [Job 38:4, 6.]

6 You covered it with the deep as with a garment; the waters stood above the mountains. [Gen. 1:2; II Pet. 3:5.]

7 At Your rebuke they fled; at the voice of Your thunder they hastened away.

8 The mountains rose, the valleys sank down to the place which You appointed for them.

9 You have set a boundary [for the waters] which they may not pass over, that they turn not again to deluge the earth.

10 He sends forth springs into the valleys; their waters run among the mountains.

11 They give drink to every [wild] beast of the field; the wild asses quench their thirst there.

12 Beside them the birds of the heavens have their nests; they sing among the branches. [Matt. 13:32.]

13 He waters the mountains from His upper rooms; the earth is satisfied and abounds with the fruit of His works.

14 He causes vegetation to grow for the cattle, and all that the earth produces for man to cultivate, that he may bring forth food out of the earth;

15 And wine that gladdens the heart of man, to make his face shine more than oil, and bread to support, refresh and strengthen man's heart.

16 The trees of the Lord are watered abundantly and are filled with sap, the cedars of Lebanon which He has planted, 17 Where the birds make their nests; as for the stork, the fir trees are her house.

18 The high mountains are for the wild goats; the rocks are a refuge for the conies and badgers.

19 The Lord appointed the moon for seasons; the sun knows [the exact time of] its setting.

20 You, O Lord, make darkness, and it becomes night, in which creeps forth every wild beast of the forest.

21 The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their food from God.

22 When the sun arises, they withdraw themselves, and lie down in their dens.

23 Man goes forth to his work and remains at his task until evening.

24 O Lord, how many and varied are Your works! In wisdom have You made them all; the earth is full of Your riches and Your creatures.

25 Yonder is the sea, great and wide, in which are swarms of innumerable creeping things, creatures both small and great.

26 There go the ships of the sea, and Leviathan (the sea monster) which You have formed to sport in it.

27 These all wait and are dependent upon You, that You may give them their food in due season.

28 When You give to them they gather it up; You open Your hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 When You hide Your face, they are troubled and dismayed; when You take away their breath, they die and return to their dust.

30 When You send forth Your Spirit and give them breath, they are created; and You replenish the face of the ground.

31 May the glory of the Lord endure for ever; may the Lord rejoice in His works, 32 Who looks on the earth and it quakes and trembles; Who touches the mountains and they smoke!

33 I will sing to the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have any being.

34 May my meditation be sweet to Him; as for me, I will rejoice in the Lord.

35 Let sinners be consumed from the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bless — affectionately, gratefully praise — the Lord, O my soul! Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 105

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, call upon His name, make known His doings among the peoples!

2 Sing to Him, sing praises to Him; meditate and talk of all His marvelous deeds and devoutly praise them.

3 Glory in His holy name; let the heart of those rejoice who seek and require the Lord [as their indispensable necessity].

4 Seek, inquire of and for the Lord, and crave Him and His strength [His might and inflexibility to temptation, seek and require His face and His presence continually] evermore.

5 [Earnestly] remember the marvelous deeds that He has done, His miracles and wonders, the judgments and sentences which He pronounced [upon His enemies, as in Egypt]. [Ps. 78: 43-51.]

6 O you offspring of Abraham His servant, you children of Jacob, His chosen ones,

7 He is the Lord our God; His judgments are in all the earth.

8 He is [earnestly] mindful of His covenant, and for ever [it is imprinted on His heart], the word which He commanded and established to a thousand generations;

9 The covenant which He made with Abraham, and His sworn promise to Isaac, [Luke 1:72, 73.]

10 Which He confirmed to Jacob as a statute, to Israel as an everlasting covenant;

11 Saying, Unto you will I give the land of Canaan, as your measured portion, possession and inheritance.

12 When they were but a few men in number, in fact, very few, and were temporary residents and strangers in it;

13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people,

14 He allowed no man to do them wrong; in fact, He reprov'd kings for their sakes, [Gen. 12:17; 20:3-7.]

15 Saying, Touch not My anointed, and do My prophets no harm. [I Chron. 16:8-22.]

16 Moreover He called for a famine upon the land [of Egypt]; He cut off every source of bread. [Gen. 41:54.]

17 He sent a man before them, even Joseph, who was sold for a servant. [Gen. 45:5; 50:20, 21.]

18 His feet they hurt with fetters, he was laid in chains of iron and his soul entered into the iron;

19 Until his word [to his cruel brothers] came true, the word of the Lord tried and tested him.

20 The king sent and loosed him, even the ruler of the peoples, and let him go free.

21 He made Joseph lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance, [Gen. 41:40.]

22 To bind his princes at his pleasure and teach his elders wisdom.

23 Israel also came into Egypt, and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham. [Gen. 46:6.]

24 There [the Lord] greatly increased His people, and made them stronger than their oppressors.

25 He turned the heart [of the Egyptians] to hate His people, to deal craftily with His servants.

26 He sent Moses His servant, and Aaron whom He had chosen.

27 They showed His signs among them, wonders and miracles in the land of Ham [Egypt].

28 He sent [thick] darkness, and made the land dark, and they [God's two servants] rebelled not against His word. [Exod. 10:22; Ps. 99:7.]

29 He turned [Egypt's] waters into blood, and caused their fish to die. [Exod. 7:20, 21.]

30 Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, even in the chambers of their kings. [Exod. 8:6.]

31 He spoke, and there came swarms of beetles and flies and mosquitoes and lice in all their borders. [Exod. 8: 17, 24.]

32 He gave them hail for rain, with lightning like flaming fire on their land. [Exod. 9:23, 25.]

33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees, and broke the [ice-laden] trees of their borders. [Ps. 78:47.]

34 He spoke, and the locust came, and the grasshopper, and that without number, [Exod. 10:4, 13, 14.]

35 And ate up all the vegetation in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.

36 He smote also all the first-born in their land, the beginning and chief substance of all their strength. [Exod. 12:29; Ps. 78:51.]

37 He brought [Israel] forth also with silver and gold, and there was not one feeble person among their tribes. [Exod. 12:35.]

38 Egypt was glad when they departed, for the fear of them fell upon the people. [Exod. 12:33.]

39 The Lord spread a cloud for a covering [by day], and fire to give light in the night. [Exod. 13:21.]

40 The Israelites asked, and He brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread of heaven. [Exod. 16:12-15.]

41 He opened the rock, and waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river. [Exod. 17:6; Num. 20:11.]

42 For He [earnestly] remembered His holy word and promise, and Abraham His servant. [Gen. 15:14.]

43 And He brought forth His people with joy, and His chosen with gladness and singing.

44 And gave them the lands of the nations [of Canaan], and they reaped the fruits of those peoples' labor, [Deut. 6:10, 11.]

45 That they might observe His statutes and keep His laws [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them]. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 106

PRAISE the Lord! — Hallelujah! O give thanks to the Lord, for He is good; for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever! [I Chron. 16:34.]

2 Who can put into words and tell the mighty deeds of the Lord? Or can show forth all the praise [that is due Him]?

3 Blessed (happy, fortunate) [to be envied] are those who observe justice — treating others fairly — and who do right and are in right standing with God at all times.

4 [Earnestly] remember me, O Lord, when You favor Your people! O visit me also when You deliver them, and grant me Your salvation!

5 That I may see and share the welfare of Your chosen ones, that I may rejoice in the gladness of Your nation, that I may glory with Your heritage.

6 We have sinned as did also our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly. [Lev. 26:40-42.]

7 Our fathers in Egypt understood not nor appreciated Your miracles; they did not [earnestly] remember the multitude of Your mercies, nor imprint Your loving-kindness [on their hearts], but they were rebellious and provoked the Lord at the sea, even at the Red Sea. [Exod. 14:21.]

8 Nevertheless He saved them for His name's sake [to prove the righteousness of the divine character], that He might make His mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up; so He led them through the depths, as through a pasture land. [Exod. 14:21.]

10 And He saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the [Egyptian] enemy. [Exod. 14:30.]

11 And the waters covered their adversaries; not one of them was left. [Exod. 14:27, 28; 15:5.]

12 Then [Israel] believed His words — trusting in, relying on them; they sang His praise.

13 But they hastily forgot His works;

they did not [earnestly] wait for His plans [to develop] respecting them;

14 But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted and tried to restrain God [with their insistent desire] in the desert. [Num. 11:4.]

15 And He gave them their request, but sent leanness into their soul and [thinned their numbers by] disease and death. [Ps. 78:29-31.]

16 They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron, the high priest, the holy one of the Lord; [Num. 16:1-3.]

17 Therefore the earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and closed over the company of Abiram. [Num. 16:31, 32.]

18 And a fire broke out in their company; the flame burned up the wicked. [Num. 16:35, 46.]

19 They made a calf in Horeb and worshiped a molten image. [Exod. 32:4.]

20 Thus they exchanged Him Who was their glory for the image of an ox that eats grass — they traded their honor for the image of a calf!

21 They forgot God, their Savior, Who had done such great things in Egypt, 22 Wonders and miracles in the land of Ham, dreadful and awesome things at the Red Sea.

23 Therefore He said He would destroy them. [And He would have done so] had not Moses, His chosen one, stepped into the breach before Him, to turn away His threatening wrath. [Exod. 32:10, 11, 32.]

24 Then they spurned and despised the pleasant and desirable land [Canaan]; they believed not His word — neither trusting, relying on nor holding to it;

25 But they murmured in their tents, and hearkened not to the voice of the Lord.

26 Therefore He lifted up His hand [as if taking an oath] against them, that He would cause them to fall in the wilderness,

27 Would cast out their descendants among the nations, and scatter them in the lands [of the earth].

28 They joined themselves also to the [idol] Baal of Peor, and ate sacrifices [offered] to the lifeless [gods].

29 Thus they provoked the Lord to anger with their practices, and a plague broke out among them.

30 Then stood up Phinehas [the priest] and executed judgment, and so the plague was stayed. [Num. 25:7, 8.]

31 And that was credited to him for righteousness [right doing and right standing with God] to all generations for ever.

32 They angered the Lord also at the waters of Meribah, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes; [Num. 20:3-13.]

33 Because they provoked Moses' spirit, so that he spoke unadvisedly with his lips.

34 They did not destroy the (heathen) nations, as the Lord commanded them;

35 But mingled themselves with the [idolatrous] nations and learned their ways and works, 36 And served their idols, which were a snare to them.

37 Yes, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons, [II Kings 16:3.]

38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan; and the land was polluted with blood.

39 Thus were they defiled by their own works, and played the harlot and practiced idolatry with their own deeds [of idolatrous rites].

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against His people, inasmuch that He abhorred and rejected His own heritage. [Deut. 32:17.]

41 And He gave them into the hand of the (heathen) nations, and they that hated them ruled over them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under the hand of their foes.

43 Many times did [God] deliver them, but they were rebellious in their counsel, and sank low through their iniquity.

44 Nevertheless He regarded their distress, when He heard their cry.

45 And He [earnestly] remembered for their sake His covenant, and relented their sentence of evil — comforting and easing Himself — according to the abundance of His mercy and loving-kindness [when they cried out to Him].

46 He also caused Israel to find sympathy among those who had carried them away captive.

47 Deliver us, O Lord our God, and gather us from among the nations, that we may give thanks to Your holy name and glory in praising You.

48 Blessed [affectionately and gratefully praised] be the Lord God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting! And let all the people say, Amen! Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah! [I Chron. 16:35, 36.]

BOOK V

PSALM 107

O GIVE thanks to the Lord for He is good, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever!

2 Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom He has delivered from the hand of the adversary,

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the east and from the west, from the north and from the Red Sea in the south.

4 Some wandered in the wilderness in a solitary desert track; they found no city for habitation.

5 Hungry and thirsty they fainted; their life was near being extinguished.

6 Then they cried to the Lord in their trouble, and He delivered them out of their distresses.

7 He led them forth by the straight and right way, that they might go to a city where they might establish their homes.

8 Oh, that men would praise [and confess to] the Lord His goodness and loving-kindness, and His wonderful works to the children of men!

9 For He satisfies the longing soul, and fills the hungry soul with good.

10 Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and in irons, [Luke 1:79.]

11 Because they rebelled against the words of God, and spurned the counsel of the Most High.

12 Therefore He bowed down their heart with hard labor; they stumbled and fell down, and there was none to help.

13 Then they cried to the Lord in their trouble, and He saved them out of their distresses.

14 He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and broke apart the bonds that held them. [Acts 12:7; 16:26; Ps. 68:6.]

15 Oh, that men would praise [and confess to] the Lord His goodness and loving-kindness, and His wonderful works to the children of men!

16 For He has broken the gates of bronze, and cut the bars of iron apart.

17 Some are fools, (made ill) because of the way of their transgressions, and afflicted because of their iniquities;

18 They loathe every kind of food, and they draw near to the gates of death.

19 Then they cry to the Lord in their trouble, and He delivers them out of their distresses.

20 He sends forth His word and heals them and rescues them from the pit and destruction. [II Kings 20:4, 5; Matt. 8:8.]

21 Oh, that men would praise [and confess to] the Lord His goodness and loving-kindness, and His wonderful works to the children of men! [Heb. 13:15.]

22 And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and rehearse His deeds with shouts of joy and singing!

23 Some go down to the sea and travel over it in ships, to do business in great waters;

24 These see the works of the Lord, and His wonders in the deep.

25 For He commands and raises the stormy wind, which lifts up the waves of the sea.

26 Those aboard mount up to the heavens, they go down again to the deeps; their courage melts away because of their plight.

27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wit's end — all their wisdom has come to nothing.

28 Then they cry to the Lord in their trouble, and He brings them out of their distresses.

29 He hushes the storm to a calm and to a gentle whisper, so that the waves of the sea are still. [Ps. 89:9; Matt. 8:26.]

30 Then the men are glad because of the calm, and He brings them to their desired haven.

31 Oh, that men would praise [and confess to] the Lord His goodness and loving-kindness, and His wonderful works to the children of men!

32 Let them exalt Him also in the congregation of the people, and praise Him in the company of the elders.

33 He turns rivers into a wilderness, water springs into a thirsty ground, [I Kings 17:1, 7.]

34 A fruitful land into barren, salt waste, because of the wickedness of those who dwell in it. [Gen. 13:10; 14:3; 19:25.]

35 He turns a wilderness into a pool of water, and dry ground into water springs. [Isa. 41:18.]

36 And there He makes the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;

37 And sow fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield fruits of increase.

38 He blesses them also, so that they are multiplied greatly, and allows not their cattle to decrease.

39 When they are diminished and bowed down through oppression, trouble and sorrow,

40 He pours contempt upon princes, and causes them to wander in the waste places, where there is no road.

41 Yet He raises the poor and needy from affliction, and makes them families like a flock.

42 The upright shall see it and be glad, and all iniquity shall shut her mouth.

43 Whoso is wise [if there be any truly wise] will observe and heed these things; and they will diligently consider the mercy and loving-kindness of the Lord.

PSALM 108

A song, a Psalm of David.

O GOD, my heart is fixed — steadfast [in the confidence of faith]; I will sing, yes, I will sing praises, even with my glory [all the faculties and powers of one created in Your image]!

2 Awake, harp and lyre; I myself will awake very early — I will waken the dawn!

3 I will praise and give thanks to You, O Lord, among the peoples; and I will sing praises unto You among the nations.

4 For Your mercy and loving-kindness are great and high as the heavens! Your truth and faithfulness reach to the skies! [Ps. 57:7-11.]

5 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens, and Your glory be over all the earth;

6 That Your beloved [followers] may be delivered, save with Your right hand, and answer us! [or me]!

7 God has promised in His holiness [regarding the establishment of David's dynasty]: I will rejoice, I will distribute [Canaan among My people], dividing Shechem and [the western region, and allotting the eastern region which contains] the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead is Mine; Manassah is Mine; Ephraim also is My stronghold and the defense of My head; Judah is My scepter and lawgiver. [Gen. 49:10.]

9 Moab is My washbasin; upon Edom [My slave] My shoe I cast [to be cleaned]; over Philistia I shout — in triumph.

10 Who will bring me [David] into the strong, fortified city [of Petra]? Who will lead me into Edom?

11 Have not You cast us off, O God? And You go not forth, O God, with our armies.

12 Give us help against the adversary, for vain is the help of man.

13 Through and with God we shall do valiantly, for He it is Who shall tread down our adversaries. [Ps. 60:5-12.]

PSALM 109

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

O GOD of my praise! Keep not silence,

2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit are opened against me, they have spoken to me and against me with a lying tongue.

3 They have compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 In return for my love they are my adversaries; but I resort to prayer.

5 And they have rewarded and laid upon me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

6 Set a wicked man over him [as a judge], and let [a malicious] accuser stand at his right hand.

7 When the wicked shall be judged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer [for leniency] be turned into a sin.

8 Let his days be few, and let another take his office and charge. [Acts 1:20.]

9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continual vagabonds [as was Cain] and beg; let them seek their bread and be driven far from their ruined homes. [Gen. 4:12.]

11 Let the creditor and extortioner seize all that he has, and let strangers [barbarians and foreigners] plunder the fruits of his labor.

12 Let there be none to extend or continue mercy and kindness to him, neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children.

13 Let his posterity be cut off, and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered by the Lord, and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.

15 Let them be before the Lord continually, that He may cut off the memory of them from the earth!

16 Because the man did not [earnestly] remember to show mercy, but pursued and persecuted the poor and needy man, and the broken in heart he was ready to slay.

17 Yes, he loved cursing, and it came back upon him; as he delighted not in blessing, it was far from him.

18 He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment, and it seeped into his inward [life] like water, and like oil into his bones.

19 Let it be to him as the raiment with which he covers himself, and for the girdle with which he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward of my adversaries from the Lord, and of those who speak evil against my life.

21 But You deal with me and act for me, O God the Lord, for Your name's sake; because Your mercy and loving-kindness are good, O deliver me.

22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded and stricken within me.

23 I am gone like the shadow when it lengthens and declines; I toss up and down and am shaken off as the locust.

24 My knees are weak and totter through fasting, and my body is gaunt and has no fatness.

25 I am become also a reproach and a taunt to others; when they see me they shake their heads. [Matt. 27:39.]

26 Help me, O Lord my God; O save me according to Your mercy and loving-kindness!

27 That they may know that this is Your hand; that You, Lord, have done it.

28 Let them curse, but do You bless. When adversaries arise, let them be put to shame, but let Your servant rejoice.

29 Let my adversaries be clothed with shame and dishonor, and let them cover themselves with their own disgrace and confusion, as with a robe.

30 I will give great praise and thanks to the Lord with my mouth; yes, and I will praise Him among the multitude.

31 For He will stand at the right hand of the poor and needy, to save him from those who condemn his life.

PSALM 110

A Psalm of David.

THE Lord (God) says to my Lord [the Messiah], Sit You at My right hand, until I make Your adversaries Your footstool. [Matt. 26:64; Acts 2:34; I Cor. 15:25; Col. 3:1; Heb. 12:2.]

2 The Lord will send forth from Zion the scepter of Your strength; rule, then, in the midst of Your foes. [Rom. 11:26, 27.]

3 Your people will offer themselves willingly in the day of Your power, in the beauty of holiness and in holy array out of the womb of the morning; to You will spring forth Your young men who are as the dew.

4 The Lord has sworn, and will not revoke or change it: You are a priest for ever after the manner and order of Melchizedek. [Heb. 5:10; 7:11, 15, 21.]

5 The Lord at Your right hand will shatter kings in the day of His indignation.

6 He will execute judgment [in overwhelming punishment] upon the nations; He will fill the valleys with the dead bodies; He will crush the chief heads over lands many and far extended. [Ezek. 38:21, 22; 39:11, 12.]

7 He will drink of the brook by the way; therefore will He lift up His head [triumphantly].

PSALM 111

PRAISE the Lord! — Hallelujah! I will praise and give thanks to the Lord with my whole heart, in the council of the upright, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the Lord are great, sought out by all those who have delight in them.

3 His work is honorable and glorious, and His righteousness endures for ever.

4 He has made His wonderful works to be remembered; the Lord is gracious, merciful and full of loving compassion.

5 He has given food and provision to those who reverently and worshipfully fear Him; He will remember His covenant for ever and imprint it [on His mind]. [Ps. 96:9; Deut. 10:12.]

6 He has declared and shown to His people the power of His works, in giving; them the heritage of the nations [of Canaan].

7 The works of His hands are [absolute] truth and justice — faithful and right; and all His decrees and precepts are sure — fixed, established and trustworthy.

8 They stand fast and are established for ever and ever, and are done in [absolute] truth and uprightness.

9 He has sent redemption to His people; He has commanded His covenant to be for ever; holy is His name, inspiring awe, reverence and godly fear.

10 The reverent fear and worship of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom and skill [the preceding and the first essential, the prerequisite and the alphabet of them]. A good understanding, wisdom and meaning have all those who do [the will of the Lord]. Their praise of Him endures for ever. [Rev. 14:7; Matt. 22:37, 38.]

PSALM 112

PRAISE the Lord! — Hallelujah! Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man who fears (reveres and worships) the Lord, who delights greatly in His commandments. [Deut. 10:12.]

2 His [spiritual] offspring shall be a mighty one upon earth; the generation of the upright shall be blessed.

3 Prosperity and welfare are in his house, and his righteousness endures for ever.

4 Light arises in the darkness for the upright, gracious, compassionate and just — who are in right standing with God.

5 It is well with the man who deals generously and lends, who conducts his affairs with justice. [Ps. 37:26; Luke 6:35; Col. 4:5.]

6 He will not be moved, for ever; the [uncompromisingly] righteous — the upright, in right standing with God — shall be in everlasting remembrance. [Prov. 10:7.]

7 He shall not be afraid of evil tidings; his heart is firmly fixed, trusting (leaning on and being confident) in the Lord.

8 His heart is established and steady, he will not be afraid while he waits to see his desire upon his adversaries.

9 He has distributed freely, he has given to the poor and needy; his righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God — endures for ever; his horn shall be exalted in honor. [II Cor. 9:9.]

10 The wicked man will see it and be grieved and angered; he will gnash his teeth and disappear [in despair]; the desire of the wicked shall perish and come to nothing.

PSALM 113

PRAISE the Lord! — Hallelujah! Praise, O servants of the Lord, praise the name of the Lord!

2 Blessed be the name of the Lord from this time forth and for ever!

3 From the rising of the sun to the going down of it, and from east to west the name of the Lord is to be praised!

4 The Lord is high above all nations, and His glory above the heavens!

5 Who is like the Lord our God, Who has His seat on high,

6 Who humbles Himself to regard the heavens and the earth! [Ps. 138:6; Isa. 57:15.]

7 The Lord raises up the poor out of the dust, and lifts up the needy from the ash heap and the dung hill,

8 That He may set them with princes, even with the princes of His people.

9 He makes the barren woman to be a homemaker, and a joyful mother of [spiritual] children. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 114

WHEN Israel came forth out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a people of strange language,

2 Judah became God's sanctuary (the holy place of His habitation), and Israel His dominion. [Exod. 29:45, 46; Deut. 27:9.]

3 The [Red] Sea looked and fled; the Jordan [River] was turned back. [Exod. 14:21; Josh. 3:13, 16; Ps. 77:16.]

4 The mountains skipped like rams, the little hills like lambs.

5 What ails you, O sea, that you flee? O Jordan, that you turn back?

6 You mountains, that you skip like rams, and you little hills, like lambs?

7 Tremble, O earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob;

8 Who turned the rock into a pool of water, the flint into a fountain of waters. [Exod. 17:6; Num. 20:11.]

PSALM 115

NOT to us, O Lord, not to us, but to Your name give glory, for Your mercy and loving-kindness and for the sake of Your truth and faithfulness!

2 Why should the nations say, Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in Heaven; He does whatever He pleases.

4 The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.

5 They have mouths; but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not;

6 They have ears, but they hear not; noses have they, but they smell not;

7 They have hands, but they handle not; feet have they, but they walk not; neither can they make a sound with their throat.

8 They who make idols are like them; so are all who trust and lean on them. [Ps. 135:15-18.]

9 O Israel, trust and take refuge in the Lord! (Lean on, rely on and be confident in Him!) He is their help and their shield.

10 O house of Aaron [the priesthood], trust and lean on the Lord! He is their help and their shield.

11 You who (reverently) fear the Lord, trust and lean on the Lord! He is their help and their shield.

12 The Lord has been mindful of us; He will bless us; He will bless the house of Israel; He will bless the house of Aaron [the priesthood].

13 He will bless those who reverently and worshipfully fear the Lord, both small and great. [Rev. 11:18; 19:5; Ps. 103:11.]

14 The Lord give you increase more and more, you and your children.

15 Blessed be you of the Lord, Who made Heaven and earth!

16 The heavens are the Lord's heavens, but the earth has He given to the children of men.

17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into silence.

18 But we will bless — affectionately and gratefully praise — the Lord from this time forth and for ever. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 116

I LOVE the Lord, because He has heard (and now hears) my voice and my supplications.

2 Because He has inclined His ear to me, therefore will I call upon Him as long as I live.

3 The cords and sorrows of death were around me, and the terrors of Sheol [the place of the dead] had laid hold of me; I suffered anguish and grief — trouble and sorrow.

4 Then called I upon the name of the Lord: O Lord, I beseech You, save my life and deliver me!

5 Gracious is the Lord, and [rigidly] righteous; yes, our God is merciful.

6 The Lord preserves the simple; I was brought low, and He helped and' saved me.

7 Return to your rest, O my soul, for the Lord has dealt bountifully with you. [Matt. 11:29.]

8 For You have delivered my life from death, my eyes from tears, and my feet from stumbling and falling.

9 I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living.

10 I believed — trusted in, relied on and clung to my God — and therefore have I spoken (even when I said), I am greatly afflicted. [II Cor. 4:13.]

11 I said in my haste, All men are deceitful and liars.

12 What shall I render to the Lord for all His benefits toward me? — How can I repay Him for all His bountiful dealings?

13 I will lift up the cup of salvation and deliverance, and call on the name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vows to the Lord, yes, in the presence of all His people.

15 Precious (important and no light matter) in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints — His loving ones.

16 O Lord, truly I am Your servant; I am Your servant, the son of Your handmaid; You have loosed my bonds.

17 I will offer to You the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call on the name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my vows unto the Lord, yes, in the presence of all His people, 19 In the courts of the Lord's house, in the midst of you, O Jerusalem, Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 117

O PRAISE the Lord, all you nations! Praise Him, all you people! [Rom. 15:11.]

2 For His mercy and loving-kindness are great toward us, and the truth and faithfulness of the Lord endure for ever. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 118

O GIVE thanks to the Lord, for He is good; for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever!

2 Let Israel now say, that His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever.

3 Let the house of Aaron [the priesthood] now say, that His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever.

4 Let those now who reverently and worshipfully fear the Lord say, that His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever.

5 Out of my distress I called upon the Lord; the Lord answered me, and set me free and in a large place.

6 The Lord is on my side; I will not fear. What can man do to me? [Heb. 13:6.]

7 The Lord is on my side and takes my part, He is among those who help me; therefore shall I see my desire upon those who hate me.

8 It is better to trust and take refuge in the Lord than to put confidence in man.

9 It is better to trust and take refuge in the Lord than to put confidence in princes.

10 All nations [the surrounding tribes] compassed me about, but in the name of the Lord will I cut them off!

11 They compassed me about, yes, they surrounded me on every side; but in the name of the Lord I will cut them off!

12 They swarmed about me like bees; they blaze up and are extinguished like a fire of thorns; in the name of the Lord I will cut them off! [Deut. 1:44.]

13 You [my adversary] thrust sorely at me that I might fall, but the Lord helped me.

14 The Lord is my strength and song, and He is become my salvation.

15 The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tents and private dwellings of the [uncompromisingly] righteous; the right hand of the Lord does valiantly and achieves strength!

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted; the right hand of the Lord does valiantly and achieves strength!

17 I shall not die, but live, and declare the works and recount the illustrious acts of the Lord.

18 The Lord has chastened me sorely, but He has not given me over to death. [II Cor. 6:9.]

19 Open to me the [temple] gates of righteousness; I will enter through them, and I will confess and praise the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lord; the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall enter through it. [Ps. 24:7.]

21 I will confess, praise and give thanks to You, for You have heard and answered me, and have become my salvation and deliverer.

22 The stone which the builders rejected is become the chief corner stone.

23 This is from the Lord and is His doing; it is marvelous in our eyes. [Matt. 21:42; Acts 4:11; I Pet. 2:7.]

24 This is the day which the Lord has brought about; we will rejoice and be glad in it.

25 Save now, we beseech You, O Lord; send now prosperity, O Lord, we beseech You, and give to us success!

26 Blessed be he who comes in the name of the Lord; we bless you from the house of the Lord [you who come into His sanctuary under His guardianship]. [Mark 11:9, 10.]

27 The Lord is God, Who has shown and given us light — He has illuminated us [with grace, freedom and joy]. Decorate the festival with leafy boughs and bind the sacrifices to be offered with thick cords [all over the priest's court, right up] to the horns of the altar.

28 You are my God, and I will confess, praise and give thanks to You; You are my God, I will extol You.

29 O give thanks to the Lord, for He is good; for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever.

PSALM 119

BLESSED, happy, fortunate [to be envied] are the undefiled — the upright, truly sincere and blameless — in the way [of the revealed will of God]; who walk — that is, order their conduct and conversation — in [the whole of God's revealed will] the law of the Lord.

2 Blessed, happy, fortunate [to be envied] are they who keep His testimonies, and who seek, inquire for and of Him and crave Him with the whole heart.

3 Yes, they do no unrighteousness — no willful wandering from His precepts; they walk in His ways. [I John 3:9; 5:18.]

4 You have commanded us to keep Your precepts, that we should observe them diligently.

5 O that my ways were directed and established to observe Your statutes — hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them!

6 Then shall I not be put to shame [by failing to inherit Your promises], when I have respect to all Your commandments.

7 I will praise and give thanks to You with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned [by sanctified experiences] Your righteous judgments [Your decisions against and punishments for particular lines of thought and conduct].

8 I will keep Your statutes; O forsake me not utterly.

9 Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed and keeping watch [on himself] according to Your word [conforming his life to it].

10 With my whole heart have I sought You, inquiring for and of You, and yearning for You; O let me not wander or step aside [either in ignorance or willfully] from Your commandments. [II Chron. 15:15.]

11 Your word have I laid up in my heart, that I might not sin against You.

12 Blessed are You, O Lord; teach me Your statutes.

13 With my lips have I declared and recounted all the ordinances of Your mouth.

14 I have rejoiced in the way of Your testimonies, as much as in all riches.

15 I will meditate on Your precepts and have respect to Your ways [the paths of life marked out by Your law] [Ps. 104:34.]

16 I will delight myself in Your statutes; I will not forget Your Word

17 Deal bountifully with Your servant, that I may live; and I will observe Your word [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it]. [Ps. 119:97-101.]

18 Open my eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of Your law.

19 I am a stranger and a temporary resident on the earth; hide not Your commandments from me. [Ps. 39:12 Gen. 47:9; I Chron. 29:15; II Cor. 5:6 Heb. 11:13.]

20 My heart is breaking with longing that it has for Your ordinances and judgments at all times.

21 You rebuke the proud and arrogant, the accursed ones, who err and wander from Your commandments.

22 Take away from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept Your testimonies.

23 Princes also sat and talked against me, but Your servant meditated on Your statutes.

24 Your testimonies also are my delight and my counselors.

25 My earthly life cleaves to the dust revive and stimulate me according to Your word! [Ps. 143:11.]

26 I have declared my ways and opened my griefs to You, and You listened to me; teach me Your statutes

27 Make me to understand the way of Your precepts; so shall I meditate and talk of Your wondrous works. [Ps 145:5, 6.]

28 My life dissolves and weeps itself away for heaviness; raise me up and strengthen me according to [the promises of] Your Word.

29 Remove from me the way of falsehood and unfaithfulness [to You], and graciously impart Your law to me.

30 I have chosen the way of truth and faithfulness; Your ordinances have I set before me.

31 I cleave to Your testimonies; O Lord, put me not to shame!

32 I will [not merely walk, but] run the way of Your commandments, when You give me a heart that is willing.

33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of Your statutes, and I will keep it unto the end — steadfastly.

34 Give me understanding, that I may keep Your law; yes, I will observe it with my whole heart. [Prov. 2:6; James 1:5.]

35 Make me to go in the path of Your commandments, for in them do I delight.

36 Incline my heart to Your testimonies, and not to covetousness [robbery, sensuality, unworthy riches]. [Ezek. 33:31; Mark 7:21, 22; I Tim. 6:10; Heb. 13:5.]

37 Turn away my eyes from beholding vanity [idols and idolatry]; and restore me to vigorous life and health in Your ways.

38 Establish Your word and confirm Your promise to Your servant, which is for those who reverently fear and devotedly worship You. [Ps. 96:9; Deut. 10:12.]

39 Turn away my reproach which I fear and dread, for Your ordinances are good.

40 Behold, I long for Your precepts; in Your righteousness give me renewed life.

41 Let Your mercies and loving-kindness come also to me, O Lord, even Your salvation, according to Your promise.

42 Then shall I have an answer for those who taunt and reproach me, for I lean on, rely on and trust in Your word.

43 And take not the word of truth

utterly out of my mouth, for I hope in Your ordinances.

44 I will keep Your law continually for ever and ever [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it].

45 And I will walk at liberty and at ease, for I have sought, inquired for [and desperately required] Your precepts.

46 I will speak of Your testimonies also before kings, and will not be put to shame. [Ps. 138:1; Matt. 10:18, 19; Acts 26:1, 2.]

47 For I will delight myself in Your commandments, which I love.

48 My hands also will I lift up (in fervent supplication) to Your commandments, which I love, and I will meditate on Your statutes.

49 Remember [fervently] the word and promise to Your servant, on which You have caused me to hope.

50 This is my comfort and consolation in my affliction, that Your word has revived me and given me life. [Rom. 15:4.]

51 The proud have had me greatly in derision, yet have I not declined in my interest or turned aside from Your law.

52 When I have [earnestly] recalled Your ordinances from of old, O Lord, I have taken comfort.

53 Burning indignation, terror and sadness seize upon me because of the wicked who forsake Your law.

54 Your statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

55 I have [earnestly] remembered Your name, O Lord, in the night, and have observed Your law.

56 This I have had [as the gift of Your grace and as my reward], that I have kept Your precepts [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them].

57 You are my portion, O Lord; I have promised to keep Your words.

58 I entreat Your favor with my whole heart; be merciful and gracious to me according to Your promise.

59 I considered my ways; I turned my feet to obey Your testimonies.

is good; for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever.

PSALM 119

BLESSED, happy, fortunate [to be envied] are the undefiled — the upright, truly sincere and blameless — in the way [of the revealed will of God]; who walk — that is, order their conduct and conversation — in [the whole of God's revealed will] the law of the Lord.

2 Blessed, happy, fortunate [to be envied] are they who keep His testimonies, and who seek, inquire for and of Him and crave Him with the whole heart.

3 Yes, they do no unrighteousness — no willful wandering from His precepts; they walk in His ways. [I John 3:9; 5:18.]

4 You have commanded us to keep Your precepts, that we should observe them diligently.

5 O that my ways were directed and established to observe Your statutes — hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them!

6 Then shall I not be put to shame [by failing to inherit Your promises], when I have respect to all Your commandments.

7 I will praise and give thanks to You with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned [by sanctified experiences] Your righteous judgments [Your decisions against and punishments for particular lines of thought and conduct].

8 I will keep Your statutes; O forsake me not utterly.

9 Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed and keeping watch [on himself] according to Your word [conforming his life to it].

10 With my whole heart have I sought You, inquiring for and of You, and yearning for You; O let me not wander or step aside [either in ignorance or willfully] from Your commandments. [II Chron. 15:15.]

11 Your word have I laid up in my heart, that I might not sin against You.

12 Blessed are You, O Lord; teach me Your statutes.

13 With my lips have I declared and recounted all the ordinances of Your mouth.

14 I have rejoiced in the way of Your testimonies, as much as in all riches.

15 I will meditate on Your precepts, and have respect to Your ways [the paths of life marked out by Your law]. [Ps. 104:34.]

16 I will delight myself in Your statutes; I will not forget Your Word.

17 Deal bountifully with Your servant, that I may live; and I will observe Your word [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it]. [Ps. 119:97-101.]

18 Open my eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of Your law.

19 I am a stranger and a temporary resident on the earth; hide not Your commandments from me. [Ps. 39:12; Gen. 47:9; I Chron. 29:15; II Cor. 5:6; Heb. 11:13.]

20 My heart is breaking with longing that it has for Your ordinances and judgments at all times.

21 You rebuke the proud and arrogant, the accursed ones, who err and wander from Your commandments.

22 Take away from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept Your testimonies.

23 Princes also sat and talked against me, but Your servant meditated on Your statutes.

24 Your testimonies also are my delight and my counselors.

25 My earthly life cleaves to the dust; revive and stimulate me according to Your word! [Ps. 143:11.]

26 I have declared my ways and opened my griefs to You, and You listened to me; teach me Your statutes.

27 Make me to understand the way of Your precepts; so shall I meditate and talk of Your wondrous works. [Ps. 145:5, 6.]

28 My life dissolves and weeps itself away for heaviness; raise me up and strengthen me according to [the promises of] Your Word.

29 Remove from me the way of falsehood and unfaithfulness [to You], and graciously impart Your law to me.

30 I have chosen the way of truth and faithfulness; Your ordinances have I set before me.

31 I cleave to Your testimonies; O Lord, put me not to shame!

32 I will [not merely walk, but] run the way of Your commandments, when You give me a heart that is willing.

33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of Your statutes, and I will keep it unto the end — steadfastly.

34 Give me understanding, that I may keep Your law; yes, I will observe it with my whole heart. [Prov. 2:6; James 1:5.]

35 Make me to go in the path of Your commandments, for in them do I delight.

36 Incline my heart to Your testimonies, and not to covetousness [robbery, sensuality, unworthy riches]. [Ezek. 33:31; Mark 7:21, 22; I Tim. 6:10; Heb. 13:5.]

37 Turn away my eyes from beholding vanity [idols and idolatry]; and restore me to vigorous life and health in Your ways.

38 Establish Your word and confirm Your promise to Your servant, which is for those who reverently fear and devotedly worship You. [Ps. 96:9; Deut. 10:12.]

39 Turn away my reproach which I fear and dread, for Your ordinances are good.

40 Behold, I long for Your precepts; in Your righteousness give me renewed life.

41 Let Your mercies and loving-kindness come also to me, O Lord, even Your salvation, according to Your promise.

42 Then shall I have an answer for those who taunt and reproach me, for I lean on, rely on and trust in Your word.

43 And take not the word of truth

utterly out of my mouth, for I hope in Your ordinances.

44 I will keep Your law continually for ever and ever [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it].

45 And I will walk at liberty and at ease, for I have sought, inquired for [and desperately required] Your precepts.

46 I will speak of Your testimonies also before kings, and will not be put to shame. [Ps. 138:1; Matt. 10:18, 19; Acts 26:1, 2.]

47 For I will delight myself in Your commandments, which I love.

48 My hands also will I lift up (in fervent supplication) to Your commandments, which I love, and I will meditate on Your statutes.

49 Remember [fervently] the word and promise to Your servant, on which You have caused me to hope.

50 This is my comfort and consolation in my affliction, that Your word has revived me and given me life. [Rom. 15:4.]

51 The proud have had me greatly in derision, yet have I not declined in my interest or turned aside from Your law.

52 When I have [earnestly] recalled Your ordinances from of old, O Lord, I have taken comfort.

53 Burning indignation, terror and sadness seize upon me because of the wicked who forsake Your law.

54 Your statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

55 I have [earnestly] remembered Your name, O Lord, in the night, and have observed Your law.

56 This I have had [as the gift of Your grace and as my reward], that I have kept Your precepts [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them].

57 You are my portion, O Lord; I have promised to keep Your words.

58 I entreat Your favor with my whole heart; be merciful and gracious to me according to Your promise.

59 I considered my ways; I turned my feet to obey Your testimonies.

60 I made haste and delayed not to keep Your commandments.

61 Though the cords of the wicked have enclosed and ensnared me, I have not forgotten Your law.

62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks to You because of Your righteous ordinances.

63 I am a companion of all those who fear, revere, and worship You, and of those who observe and give heed to Your precepts.

64 The earth, O Lord, is full of Your mercy and loving-kindness; teach me Your statutes.

65 You have dealt well with Your servant, O Lord, according to Your promise.

66 Teach me good judgment, wise and right discernment and knowledge, for I have believed [trusted, relied on and clung to] Your commandments.

67 Before I was afflicted I went astray, but now Your word do I keep [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it].

68 You are good and kind and do good; teach me Your statutes.

69 The arrogant and godless have put together a lie against me, but I will keep Your precepts with my whole heart.

70 Their heart is as fat as grease [their minds are dull and brutal]; but I delight in Your law.

71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn Your statutes.

72 The law from Your mouth is better to me than thousands of gold and silver.

73 Your hands have made me, cunningly fashioned and established me; give me understanding, that I may learn Your commandments.

74 Those who reverently and worshipfully fear You will see me and be glad, because I have hoped in Your word and carried for it.

75 I know, O Lord, that Your judgments are right and righteous, and that in faithfulness You have afflicted me. [Heb. 12:10.]

76 Let, I pray You, Your merciful kindness and steadfast love be for my comfort, according to Your promise to Your servant.

77 Let Your tender mercies and loving-kindness come to me, that I may live; for Your law is my delight!

78 Let the proud be put to shame, for they dealt perversely with me without a cause; but I will meditate on Your precepts.

79 Let those who reverently and worshipfully fear You turn to me, and those who have known Your testimonies.

80 Let my heart be sound — sincere and wholehearted and blameless — in Your statutes, that I be not put to shame.

81 My soul languishes and grows faint for Your salvation, but I hope in Your word.

82 My eyes fail with watching for [the fulfillment of] Your promise. I say, When will You comfort me?

83 For I have become like a bottle [a wineskin blackened and shriveled] in the smoke [in which it hangs], yet do I not forget Your statutes.

84 How many are the days Your servant must endure? When will You judge those who pursue and persecute me? [Rev. 6:10.]

85 The godless and arrogant have dug pitfalls for me, men who do not conform to Your law.

86 All Your commandments are faithful and sure. The godless pursue and persecute me with falsehood; help me, Lord!

87 They had almost consumed me upon earth, but I forsook not Your precepts.

88 According to Your steadfast love give life to me; then I will keep the testimony of Your mouth [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it].

89 For ever, O Lord, Your Word [stands firm as the heavens] is settled in Heaven. [Ps. 89:2; Matt. 24:34, 35; I Pet. 1:25.]

90 Your faithfulness is from generation to generation; You have established the earth, and it stands fast.

91 All [the whole universe] are Your servants; therefore they continue this day according to Your ordinances. [Jer. 33:25.]

92 Unless Your law had been my delight, I would have perished in my affliction.

93 I will never forget Your precepts; [how can I?] for it is by them You have quickened me — granted me life.

94 I am Yours, therefore save me — Your own; for I have sought (inquired of and for) Your precepts, and required them [as my urgent need]. [Ps. 42:1.]

95 The wicked waited for me to destroy me, but I considered Your testimonies.

96 I have seen that everything [human] has its limits and end, [no matter how extensive, noble and excellent] but Your commandment is exceedingly broad and extends without limits [into eternity]. [Rom. 3:10-19.]

97 Oh, how love I Your law! It is my meditation all the day. [Ps. 1:2.]

98 You through Your commandments make me wiser than my enemies; for Your words are ever before me.

99 I have better understanding and deeper insight than all my teachers, because Your testimonies are my meditation. [II Tim. 3:15.]

100 I understand more than the aged, because I keep Your precepts [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them].

101 I have restrained my feet from every evil way, that I might keep Your Word [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying it]. [Prov. 1:15.]

102 I have not turned aside from Your ordinances, for You have taught me.

103 How sweet are Your words to my taste, sweeter than honey to my mouth! [Ps. 19:10; Prov. 8:11.]

104 Through Your precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way.

105 Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path. [Prov. 6:23.]

106 I have sworn [an oath] and have confirmed it, that I will keep Your righteous ordinances — hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them. [Neh. 10:29.]

107 I am sorely afflicted; renew and quicken me — give me life — O Lord, according to Your Word!

108 Accept, I beseech You, the free-will offerings of my mouth, O Lord, and teach me Your ordinances. [Hos. 14:2; Heb. 13:15.]

109 My life is continually in my hand, yet do I not forget Your law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me, yet I do not stray from Your precepts.

111 Your testimonies have I taken as a heritage for ever, for they are the rejoicing of my heart. [Deut. 33:4.]

112 I have inclined my heart to perform Your statutes for ever, even to the end.

113 I hate the thoughts of the undecided [in religion] double-minded people; but Your law do I love.

114 You are my hiding place and my shield; I hope in Your word. [Pss. 32:7; 91:1.]

115 Depart from me, you evildoers; that I may keep the commandments of my God [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them]. [Pss. 6:8; 139:19; Matt. 7:23.]

116 Uphold me according to Your promise, that I may live, and let me not be put to shame in my hope! [Ps. 25:2; Rom. 5:5; 9:33; 10:11.]

117 Hold me up, that I may be safe and have regard for Your statutes continually!

118 You spurn and set at nought all those who stray from Your statutes, for their own lying deceives them and their tricks are in vain.

119 You put away and count as dross all the wicked of the earth [for there is no true metal in them]; therefore I love Your testimonies.

120 My flesh trembles and shudders for fear and reverential, worshipful awe of You, and I am afraid and in dread of Your judgments.

121 I have done justice and righteousness; leave me not to those who would oppress me.

122 Be surety for Your servant for good [as Judah was surety for the safety of Benjamin]; let not the proud oppress me. [Gen. 43:9.]

123 My eyes fail with watching for Your salvation, and for the fulfillment of Your righteous promise.

124 Deal with Your servant according to Your mercy and loving-kindness, and teach me Your statutes.

125 I am Your servant; give me understanding — discernment and comprehension — that I may know (discern and be familiar with the character of) Your testimonies.

126 It is time for the Lord to act; they have frustrated Your law.

127 Therefore I love Your commandments more than [resplendent] gold; yes, more than [perfectly] refined gold.

128 Therefore I esteem as right all, yes, all Your precepts; I hate every false way.

129 Your testimonies are wonderful — far exceeding anything conceived by man; therefore my [penitent] self keeps them [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them.]

130 The entrance and unfolding of Your words gives light; it gives understanding — discernment and comprehension — to the simple.

131 I opened my mouth and panted (with eager desire), for I longed for Your commandments.

132 Look upon me, be merciful unto me and show me favor, as is Your way to those who love Your name.

133 Establish my steps and direct them by (means of) Your word; let not any iniquity have dominion over me.

134 Deliver me from the oppression of man; so will I keep Your precepts [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them]. [Luke 1:74.]

135 Make Your face to shine [with pleasure] upon Your servant, and teach me Your statutes. [Ps. 4:6.]

136 Streams of water have run down my eyes because men do not keep Your law [they hear it not, nor receive it, love it or obey it].

137 [Rigidly] righteous are You, O Lord, and upright are Your judgments and all expressions of Your will.

138 You have commanded and appointed Your testimonies in righteousness and in great faithfulness.

139 My zeal has consumed me and cut me off, because my adversaries have forgotten Your words.

140 Your word is very pure — tried and well-refined; therefore Your servant loves it.

141 I am small (insignificant) and despised, but I do not forget Your precepts.

142 Your righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and Your law is truth. [Ps. 19:9; John 17:17.]

143 Trouble and anguish have found and taken hold on me, yet Your commandments are my delight.

144 Your righteous testimonies are everlasting and Your decrees are binding to eternity; give me understanding and I shall live — give me discernment and comprehension and I shall not die.

145 I cried with my whole heart; hear me, O Lord; I will keep Your statutes [I will hear, receive, love and obey them].

146 I cried to You; save me, that I may keep Your testimonies [hearing, receiving, loving and obeying them.]

147 I anticipated the dawning of the morning and cried [in childlike prayer]; I hoped in Your word.

148 My eyes anticipate the night watches and I am awake before the cry of the watchman, that I might meditate on Your word.

149 Hear my voice according to Your steadfast love; O Lord, quicken me and give me life, according to Your (righteous) decree.

150 They draw near that follow after wrong thinking and persecute me with wickedness; they are far from Your law.

151 You are near, O Lord, [nearer to me than my foes] and all Your commandments are truth.

152 Of old have I known Your testimonies, and for a long time, therefore, [it is a thoroughly established conviction] that You have founded them for ever. [Luke 21:33.]

153 Consider my affliction and deliver me, for I do not forget Your law.

154 Plead my cause and redeem me, revive me and give me life according to Your word.

155 Salvation is far from the wicked, for they seek not nor hunger for Your statutes.

156 Great are Your tender mercies and loving-kindness, O Lord; give me life according to Your ordinances.

157 Many are my persecutors and my adversaries, yet I do not swerve from Your testimonies.

158 I beheld the treacherous and was grieved and loathed them, because they do not respect Your law [neither hearing, receiving, loving nor obeying it].

159 Consider how I love Your precepts; revive me and give life to me, O Lord, according to Your loving-kindness!

160 The sum of Your Word is truth [the total of the full meanings of all Your individual precepts] and every one of Your righteous decrees endures for ever.

161 Princes pursue and persecute me without cause, but my heart stands in awe of Your words [dreading violation of them far more than the force of prince or potentate]. [I Sam. 24:11, 14; 26:18.]

162 I rejoice at Your word as one who finds great spoil.

163 I hate and abhor falsehood, but Your law do I love.

164 Seven times a day and all day long do I praise You because of Your righteous decrees.

165 Great peace have they who love Your law; nothing shall offend them or make them stumble. [Prov. 3:2; Isa. 32:17.]

166 I am hoping and waiting (eagerly) for Your salvation, O Lord, and I do Your commandments. [Gen. 49:18.]

167 Your testimonies have I kept [hearing, receiving and obeying them]; I love them exceedingly!

168 I have observed Your precepts and Your testimonies, for all my ways are (fully known) before You.

169 Let my mournful cry and supplication come near before You, O Lord; give me understanding — discernment and comprehension — according to Your word [of assurance and promise].

170 Let my supplication come before You; deliver me according to Your word!

171 My lips pour forth praise [with thanksgiving and renewed trust] when You teach me Your statutes.

172 My tongue shall sing [praise for the fulfillment] of Your word, for all Your commandments are righteous.

173 Let Your hand be ready to help me, for I have chosen Your precepts.

174 I have longed for Your salvation, O Lord, and Your law is my delight.

175 Let me live that I may praise You, and let Your decrees help me.

176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek, inquire for and demand Your servant, for I do not forget Your commandments. [Isa. 53:6; Luke 15:4; I Pet. 2:25.]

PSALM 120

A Song of 'Ascents.

IN my distress I cried to the Lord, and He answered me.

†) Possibly the fifteen Psalms known as the "Songs of Degrees or Ascents" were sung by the caravans of pilgrims going up to attend the annual feasts at Jerusalem; but it is quite as possible that the title has reference to some peculiarity in connection with the music or the manner of using it.

2 Deliver me, O Lord, from lying lips and from a deceitful tongue.

3 What shall be given to you? Or what more shall be done to you, you deceitful tongue?

4 Sharp arrows of a (mighty) warrior, with (glowing) coals of the broom tree!

5 Woe is me, that I sojourn with Meshech, that I dwell beside the tents of Kedar [as if among notoriously barbarous people!] [Gen. 10:2; 25:13; Jer. 49:28, 29.]

6 My life has too long had its dwelling with him who hates peace.

7 I am for peace; but when I speak, they are for war.

PSALM 121

A Song of *Ascents.

I WILL lift up my eyes to the hills [around Jerusalem, to sacred Mount Zion and Mount Moriah]. From whence shall my help come? [Jer. 3:23.]

2 My help comes from the Lord, Who made Heaven and earth.

3 He will not allow your foot to slip or to be moved; He Who keeps you will not slumber. [I Sam. 2:9; Prov. 3:23, 26; Ps. 127:1; Isa. 27:3.]

4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

5 The Lord is your keeper; the Lord is your shade on your right hand [the side not carrying a shield]. [Isa. 25:4.]

6 The sun shall not smite you by day, nor the moon by night. [Ps. 91:5; Isa. 49:10; Rev. 7:16.]

7 The Lord will keep you from all evil; He will keep your life.

8 The Lord will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and for evermore. [Deut. 28:6; Prov. 2:8; 3:6.]

PSALM 122

A Song of *Ascents. Of David.

I WAS glad when they said to me, Let us go to the house of the Lord! [Isa. 2:3; Zech. 8:21.]

2 Our feet are standing within your gates, O Jerusalem!

3 Jerusalem, which is built as a city that is compact together;

4 To which the tribes go up, even the tribes of the Lord, as was decreed and as a testimony for Israel, to give thanks to the name of the Lord.

5 For there thrones of judgment were set, the thrones of the house of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem! May they prosper that love you [the Holy City]!

7 Peace be within your walls and prosperity within your palaces!

8 For my brethren and companions' sake, I will now say, Peace be within you!

9 For the sake of the house of the Lord our God I will seek, inquire for and require your good.

PSALM 123

A song of *Ascents.

UNTO You do I lift up my eyes, O You who are enthroned in heaven.

2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master, and as the eyes of a maid to the hand of her mistress, so our eyes look to the Lord our God, until He have mercy and loving-kindness for us.

3 Have mercy on us, O Lord, have mercy and loving-kindness for us; for we are exceedingly surfeited with contempt.

4 Our life is exceedingly filled with the scorning and scoffing of those who are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud — irresponsible tyrants, who disregard God's law.

PSALM 124

A Song of *Ascents. Of David.

IF it had not been the Lord Who was on our side, now may Israel say,

2 If it had not been the Lord Who was on our side, when men rose up against us,

3 Then they would have quickly swallowed us up alive, when their wrath was kindled against us;

4 Then the waters would have overwhelmed us and swept us away, the torrent would have gone over us;

5 Then the proud waters would have gone over us.

6 Blessed be the Lord, Who has not given us as prey to their teeth!

7 We are like a bird escaped from the snare of the fowlers; the snare is broken, and we have escaped!

8 Our help is in the name of the Lord Who made Heaven and earth.

PSALM 125

A Song of ^aAscents.

THOSE who trust, lean on and confidently hope in the Lord are as Mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abides and stands fast for ever.

2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about His people from this time forth and for ever.

3 For the scepter of wickedness shall not rest upon the land of the [uncompromisingly] righteous, lest the righteous [God's people] stretch forth their hands to iniquity and apostasy.

4 Do good, O Lord, to those who are good, and to those who are right [with You and all people] in their hearts.

5 As for such as turn aside to their crooked ways [of indifference to God], the Lord will lead them forth with the workers of iniquity. Peace be upon Israel!

PSALM 126

A Song of ^aAscents.

WHEN the Lord brought back the captives who returned to Zion, we were like those who dream [it seemed so unreal]. [Ps. 53:6; Acts 12:9.]

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue was singing. Then they said among the nations, The Lord has done great things for them.

3 The Lord has done great things for us! We are glad!

4 Turn to freedom our captivity and restore our fortunes, O Lord, as the streams in the South [are restored by the torrents].

5 They who sow in tears shall reap in joy and singing.

6 He who goes forth bearing seed and weeps [at needing his precious supply of grain for sowing], shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

PSALM 127

A Song of ^aAscents. Of Solomon.

EXCEPT the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it; except the Lord keeps the city, the watchman wakes but in vain. [Ps. 121: 1, 3, 5.]

2 It is vain for you to rise up early, to take rest late, to eat the bread of [anxious] toil; for He gives [blessings] to His beloved in sleep.

3 Lo, children are a heritage from the Lord, the fruit of the womb a reward. [Deut. 28:4.]

4 As arrows are in the hand of a warrior, so are the children of one's youth.

5 Happy, blessed and fortunate is the man whose quiver is filled with them! They will not be put to shame when they speak with their adversaries [in gatherings] at the city's gate.

PSALM 128

A Song of ^bAscents.

BLESSED — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is every one who fears, reveres and worships the Lord; who walks in His ways and lives according to His commandments. [Ps. 1:1, 2.]

2 For you shall eat [the fruit] of the labor of your hands; happy, blessed, fortunate [envious] shall you be, and it shall be well with you.

3 Your wife shall be as a fruitful vine in the innermost parts of your house; your children like olive plants round about your table.

4 Behold, thus shall the man be blessed who reverently and worshipfully fears the Lord.

5 The Lord bless you out of Zion [His sanctuary], and may you see the prosperity of Jerusalem all the days of your life;

6 Yes, may you see your children's children. Peace be upon Israel!

PSALM 129

A Song of ⁴Ascents.

MANY a time and much have they afflicted me from my youth up, let Israel now say,

2 Many a time and much have they afflicted me from my youth up, yet they have not prevailed against me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my back; they made long their furrows.

4 The Lord is [uncompromisingly] righteous; He has cut asunder the thick cords by which the wicked [enslaved us].

5 Let them all be put to shame and turned backward who hate Zion.

6 Let them be as the grass upon the housetops, which withers before it grows up,

7 With which the mower fills not his hand, nor the binder of sheaves his bosom;

8 While those who go by do not say, The blessing of the Lord be upon you! We bless you in the name of the Lord!

PSALM 130

A Song of ⁴Ascents.

OUT of the depths have I cried to You, O Lord.

2 Lord, hear my voice; let Your ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications.

3 If You, Lord, should keep account and treat [us according to our] sins, O Lord, who could stand? [Ps. 143:2; Rom. 3:20; Gal. 2:16.]

4 But there is forgiveness with You, [just what man needs] that You may be reverently feared and worshiped. [Deut. 10:12.]

5 I wait for the Lord, I expectantly wait, and in His word do I hope.

6 I am looking and waiting for the Lord more than watchmen for the morning; I say, more than watchmen for the morning.

7 O Israel, hope in the Lord! For with the Lord there is mercy and loving-kindness, and with Him is plenteous redemption.

8 And He will redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

PSALM 131

A Song of ⁴Ascents. Of David.

LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor my eyes lofty; neither do I exercise myself in matters too great or in things too wonderful for me.

2 Surely I have calmed and quieted my soul, like a weaned child with his mother; like a weaned child is my soul within me [ceased from fretting].

3 O Israel, hope in the Lord from this time forth and for ever.

PSALM 132

A Song of ⁴Ascents.

LORD, [earnestly] remember to David's credit all his humiliations and hardships and endurance.

2 How he swore to the Lord, and vowed to the mighty God of Jacob,

3 Surely I will not enter my dwelling house, or get into my bed,

4 I will not permit my eyes to sleep, or my eyelids to slumber,

5 Until I have found a place for the Lord, a habitation for the Mighty One of Jacob. [Acts 7:46.]

6 Lo, at Ephratah we [first] heard of [the discovered ark]; we found it in the fields of the wood — at [Kiriath-] Jearim. [I Sam. 6:21.]

7 Let us go into His tabernacle; let us worship at His footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, to Your resting place, You and the ark [the symbol] of Your strength.

9 Let Your priests be clothed with righteousness [right living and right standing with God], and let Your saints shout for joy!

10 For Your servant David's sake turn not away the face of Your anointed and reject not Your own king.

11 The Lord swore to David in truth; He will not turn back from it: Of the fruit of your body will I set upon your throne. [Ps. 89:3, 4; Luke 1:69; Acts 2:30, 31.]

12 If your children will keep my covenant and My testimony that I shall teach them, their children also shall sit upon your throne for ever.

13 For the Lord has chosen Zion; He has desired it for His habitation.

14 This is My resting place for ever [says the Lord]; here will I dwell, for I have desired it.

15 I will surely and abundantly bless her provision; I will satisfy her poor with bread.

16 Her priests also will I clothe with salvation, and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

17 There will I make a horn spring forth unto David and bud; I have ordained and prepared a lamp for My anointed [fulfilling the promises of old]. [I Kings 11:36; 15:4; II Chron. 21:7; Luke 1:69.]

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but upon himself shall his crown flourish.

PSALM 133

A Song of *Ascents. Of David.

BEHOLD, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!

2 It is like the precious ointment poured on the head, that ran down on the beard, even the beard of Aaron [the first high priest], that came down upon the collar and skirts of his garments [consecrating the whole body]; [Exod. 30:25, 30.]

3 Like the dew of [lofty] Mount Hermon, and the dew that comes on the hills of Zion; for there the Lord has commanded the blessing, even life for evermore [upon the high and the lowly].

PSALM 134

A Song of *Ascents.

BEHOLD, bless [affectionately and gratefully praise] the Lord, all you servants of the Lord, [singers] who by night stand in the house of the Lord. [I Chron. 9:33.]

2 Lift up your hands in holiness and to the sanctuary, and bless the Lord [affectionately and gratefully praise Him]!

3 The Lord bless you out of Zion, even He Who made Heaven and earth.

PSALM 135

PRAISE the Lord! — Hallelujah! Praise the name of the Lord; praise Him, O you servants of the Lord!

2 You who stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God,

3 Praise the Lord! For the Lord is good; sing praises to His name, for He is gracious and lovely!

4 For the Lord has chosen [the descendants of] Jacob for Himself, Israel for His peculiar possession and treasure. [Deut. 7:6.]

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatever the Lord pleased, that has He done in the heavens and on earth, in the seas and all deeps;

7 Who causes the vapors to arise from the ends of the earth, Who makes lightnings for the rain, Who brings the wind out of His storehouses;

8 Who smote the first-born of Egypt, both of man and beast; [Pss. 78:51; 136:10; Exod. 12:12, 29.]

9 Who sent signs and wonders into the midst of you, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh and all his servants;

10 Who smote nations many and great, and slew mighty kings, 11 Sihon king of the Amorites, Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan.

12 The Lord gave their land for a heritage, a heritage to Israel His people.

13 Your name, O Lord, endures for ever; Your fame, O Lord, throughout all ages.

14 For the Lord will judge and vindicate His people, and He will stay His judgments [manifesting His righteousness and mercy] and take into favor His servants [those who meet His terms of separation to Him]. [Heb. 10:30.]

15 The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.

16 Idols have mouths, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not;

17 They have ears, but they hear not, nor is there any breath in their mouths.

18 Those who make idols are like them; so is every one who trusts and relies on them. [Ps. 115:4-8.]

19 Bless [affectionately and gratefully praise] the Lord, O house of Israel; bless the Lord, O house of Aaron [God's ministers].

20 Bless the Lord, O house of Levi [the dedicated tribe]; you who reverently and worshipfully fear the Lord, bless the Lord [affectionately and gratefully praise Him]! [Deut. 6:5; Ps. 31:23.]

21 Blessed out of Zion be the Lord, Who dwells [with us] at Jerusalem! Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 136

O GIVE thanks to the Lord, for He is good; for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever.

2 O give thanks to the God of gods, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever.

3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

4 To Him Who alone does great wonders, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

5 To Him Who by wisdom and understanding made the heavens, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

6 To Him Who stretched out the earth upon the waters, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

7 To Him Who made great lights, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

8 The sun to rule over the day, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

9 The moon and stars to rule by night, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

10 To Him Who smote Egypt in their first-born, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever; [Exod. 12:29.]

11 And brought out Israel from among them, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever; [Exod. 12:51; 13:3, 17.]

12 With a strong hand and with a stretched-out arm, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

13 To Him Who divided the Red Sea into parts, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever; [Exod. 14:21, 22.]

14 And made Israel to pass through the midst of it, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

15 But shook off and overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

16 To Him Who led His people through the wilderness, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

17 To Him Who smote great kings, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

18 And slew famous kings, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever; [Deut. 29:7.]

19 Sihon king of the Amorites, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever; [Num. 21:21-24.]

20 And Og the king of Bashan, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever; [Num. 21:33-35.]

21 And gave their land for a heritage, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

22 Even a heritage to Israel His servant, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever; [Josh. 12:1.]

23 To Him Who [earnestly] remembered us in our low estate and imprinted us [on his heart], for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

24 And rescued us from our enemies, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever;

25 To Him Who gives food to all flesh, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever!

26 O give thanks to the God of Heaven, for His mercy and loving-kindness endure for ever!

PSALM 137

BY the rivers of Babylon, there we [captives] sat down, yes, we wept when we [earnestly] remembered Zion [city of our God imprinted on our hearts].

2 On the willow trees in the midst of Babylon we hung our harps.

3 For there they who led us captive required of us a song with words; and our tormentors and they who wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

5 If I forget you, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her skill [with the harp].

6 Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth if I remember you not, if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy! [Ezek. 3:26.]

7 Remember, O Lord, against the Edomites, that they said in the day of Jerusalem's fall, Down, down to the ground with her!

8 O daughter of Babylon [you devastator, you!] who [ought to be and] shall be destroyed; happy and blessed shall he be who requites you as you have served us. [Isa. 13:1-22; Jer. 25:12, 13.]

9 Happy and blessed shall he be who takes and dashes your little ones against the rock!

PSALM 138

[A Psalm] of David.

I WILL confess and praise You O God, with my whole heart; before the gods will I sing praises to You.

2 I will worship toward Your holy temple, and praise Your name for Your loving-kindness and for Your truth and faithfulness; for You have exalted above all else Your name and Your word, and You have magnified Your word above all Your name!

3 In the day when I called, You answered me, and strengthened me with strength [might and inflexibility] [to temptation] in my inner self.

4 All the kings of the land shall give You credit and praise You, O Lord, for they have heard of the promises of Your mouth [which were fulfilled].

5 Yes, they shall sing of the ways of the Lord, and joyfully celebrate His mighty acts, for great is the glory of the Lord.

6 For though the Lord is high, yet has He respect to the lowly [bringing them into fellowship with Him]; but the proud and haughty He knows and recognizes [only] at a distance. [Prov. 3:34; James 4:6; I Pet. 5:5.]

7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble, You will revive me; You will stretch forth Your hand against the wrath of my enemies, and Your right hand will save me. [Ps. 23:3, 4.]

8 The Lord will perfect that which concerns me; Your mercy and loving-kindness, O Lord, endure for ever; forsake not the works of Your own hands. [Ps. 57:2; Phil. 1:6.]

PSALM 139

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

O LORD, You have searched me (thoroughly) and have known me.

2 You know my downsitting and my uprising; You understand my thought afar off. [Matt. 9:4; John 2:24, 25.]

3 You sift and search out my path and my lying down, and are acquainted with all my ways.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue [still unuttered], but, lo, O Lord, You know it altogether. [Heb. 4:13.]

5 You have beset me and shut me in behind and before, and have laid Your hand upon me.

6 Your (infinite) knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high above me, I cannot reach it.

7 Where could I go from Your Spirit? Or where could I flee from Your presence?

8 If I ascend up into Heaven, You are there; if I make my bed in Sheol [the place of the dead], behold, You are there. [Rom. 11:33.]

9 If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,

10 Even there shall Your hand lead me, and Your right hand shall hold me.

11 If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me, and the night shall be the only light about me,

12 Even the darkness hides nothing from You, but the night shines as the day; the darkness and the light are both alike to You. [Dan. 2:22.]

13 For You did form my inward parts, You did knit me together in my mother's womb.

14 I will confess and praise You, for You are fearfully wonderful, and for the awful wonder of my birth! Wonderful are Your works, and that my inner self knows right well.

15 My frame was not hidden from You, when I was being formed in secret and intricately and curiously wrought (as if embroidered with various colors) in the depths of the earth [a region of darkness and mystery].

16 Your eyes saw my unformed substance, and in Your book all the days of my life were written, before ever they took shape, when as yet there was none of them.

17 How precious and weighty also are Your thoughts to me, O God! How vast is the sum of them! [Ps. 40:5.]

18 If I could count them, they are more in number than the sand. When I awoke [could I count to the end] I would still be with You.

19 If you would [only] slay the wicked, O God, and the men of blood would depart from me; [Isa. 11:4.]

20 Who speak against You wickedly, and Your enemies take Your name in vain! [Jude 15.]

21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, who hate You? And am not I grieved and do not I loathe those who rise up against You?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred; they have become my enemies.

23 Search me [thoroughly], O God, and know my heart! Try me, and know my thoughts!

24 And see if there is any wicked or hurtful way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.

PSALM 140

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

DELIVER me, O Lord, from the evil man; preserve me from the violent man;

2 They devise mischiefs in their heart; continually are they gathered together and stir up wars.

3 They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent's; adders' poison is under their lips. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]. [Rom. 3:13.]

4 Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the violent men, who have purposed to thrust aside my steps.

5 The proud have hid a snare for me; they have spread cords as a net by the wayside, they have set traps for me. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

6 I said to the Lord, You are my God; give ear to the voice of my supplications, O Lord.

7 O God the Lord, the strength of my salvation, You have covered my head in the day of battle.

8 Grant not, O Lord, the desires of the wicked; further not his wicked plot and device, lest they exalt themselves. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

9 Those who are fencing me in raise their head. May the mischief of their own lips and the very things they desire for me come upon them.

10 Let burning coals fall upon them; let them be cast into the fire, into floods of water or deep water-pits, from which they shall not rise.

11 Let not a man of slanderous tongue be established in the earth; let evil hunt the violent man to overthrow him — let calamity follow his evil-doings.

12 I know, and rest in confidence upon it, that the Lord will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and justice for the poor and needy [of His believing children].

13 Surely the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall give thanks to Your name; the upright shall dwell in Your presence — before Your very face.

PSALM 141

A Psalm of David.

LORD, I have called upon You; hasten to me; give ear to my voice when I cry to You.

2 Let my prayer be set forth as incense before You, the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. [Rev. 8:3, 4; 1 Tim. 2:8.]

3 Set a guard, O Lord, before my mouth; keep watch at the door of my lips.

4 Incline my heart not to submit or consent to any evil thing, or be occupied in deeds of wickedness with men that work iniquity, and let me not eat of their dainties.

5 Let the righteous man smite and correct me; it is a kindness. Oil so choice let not my head refuse or discourage; for even in their evils or calamities shall my prayer continue. [Prov. 9:8; 19:25; 25:12; Gal. 6:1.]

6 When their rulers are overthrown in stony places, [their followers] shall hear my words, that they are sweet — pleasant, mild, and just.

7 The unburied bones [of slaughtered rulers] shall lie scattered at the mouth of Sheol, [as unregarded] as the lumps of soil behind the plowman when he breaks open the ground. [11 Cor. 1:9.]

8 But my eyes are toward You, O God the Lord; in You do I trust and take refuge; pour not out my life nor leave it destitute and bare.

9 Keep me from the trap which they have laid for me, and the snares of evildoers.

10 Let the wicked fall together into their own nets, while I pass over them and escape.

PSALM 142

A skillful song or a didactic or reflective poem of David, when he was in the cave. A Prayer.

I CRY to the Lord with my voice; with my voice to the Lord do I make supplication.

2 I pour out my complaint before Him; I tell before Him my trouble.

3 When my spirit was overwhelmed and fainted [throwing all its weight] upon me, then You knew my path. In the way wherein I walk they have hidden a snare for me.

4 Look on the right hand [the point of attack] and see, for there is no man who knows me [to appear for me]; refuge has failed me and I have no way to flee; no man cares for my life or my welfare.

5 I cried to You, O Lord; I said, You are my refuge, my portion in the land of the living.

6 Attend to my loud cry, for I am brought very low; deliver me from my persecutors, for they are stronger than I.

7 Bring my life out of prison, that I may confess, praise and give thanks to Your name; the righteous will surround me and crown themselves because of me, for You will deal bountifully with me.

PSALM 143

A Psalm of David.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord; give ear to my supplications! In Your faithfulness answer me, and in Your righteousness.

2 And enter not into judgment with Your servant, for in Your sight no man living is [in himself] righteous or justified. [Rom. 3:20-26; Gal. 2:16; Ps. 130:3.]

3 For the enemy has pursued and persecuted my soul; he has crushed my life down to the ground; he has made me to dwell in dark places, as those who have been long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed and faints within me [wrapped in gloom]; my heart within my bosom grows numb.

5 I remember the days of old, I meditate on all Your doings; I ponder on the work of Your hands.

6 I spread forth my hands to You; my soul thirsts after You like a thirsty land [for water]. Selah [pause, and calmly think of that].

7 Answer me speedily, O Lord, for my spirit fails; hide not Your face from me, lest I become like those who go down into the pit [the grave].

8 Cause me to hear Your loving-kindness in the morning; for on You do I lean and in You do I trust. Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my inner self to You.

9 Deliver me, O Lord, from my enemies; I flee to You to hide me.

10 Teach me to do Your will, for You are my God; let Your good Spirit lead me into a plain country and into the land of uprightness.

11 Save my life, O Lord, for Your name's sake; in Your righteousness bring my life out of trouble and free me from distress.

12 And in your mercy and loving-kindness cut off my enemies and destroy all those who afflict my inner self, for I am Your servant.

PSALM 144

[A Psalm] of David.

BLESSED be the Lord, my rock and my keen and firm strength, Who teaches my hands to war and my fingers to fight;

2 My steadfast love and my fortress, my high tower and my deliverer, my shield and He in Whom I trust and take refuge, Who subdues my people under me.

3 Lord, what is man, that You take notice of him? Or [a] son of man that You take account of him? [Ps. 8:4; Job 7:17; Heb. 2:6.]

4 Man is like vanity and a breath, his days are as a shadow that passes away.

5 Bow Your heavens, O Lord, and come down; touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 Cast forth lightning and scatter [my enemies], send out Your arrows and embarrass and frustrate them.

7 Stretch forth Your hand from above, rescue me and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of hostile aliens [tribes about us],

8 Whose mouth speaks deceit, and whose right hand is a right hand raised in taking fraudulent oaths.

9 I will sing a new song to You, O God; upon a harp, an instrument of ten strings, will I offer praises to You.

10 You are He Who gives salvation to kings, Who rescues David His servant from the hurtful sword [of evil].

11 Rescue me, and deliver me out of the power of (hostile) alien tribes, whose mouth speaks deceit and whose right hand is a right hand raised in taking fraudulent oaths.

12 When our sons shall be as plants grown large in their youth, and our daughters as sculptured, corner pillars hewn like those of a palace;

13 When our garner are full, affording all manner of store, and our sheep bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our pastures;

14 When our oxen are well loaded; when there is no invasion [of hostile armies], and no going forth [against besiegers] — when there is no murder or manslaughter — and no outcry in our streets;

15 Happy and blessed is the people that is in such a case; yes, happy — blessed, fortunate, prosperous [to be envied] — is the people whose God is the Lord!

PSALM 145

[A Psalm] of praise. Of David.

I WILL extol You, my God, O King; and I will bless Your name for ever and ever — with grateful, affectionate praise.

2 Every day [with its new reasons] will I bless You — affectionately and gratefully praise You; yes, I will praise Your name for ever and ever.

3 Great is the Lord and highly to be praised, and His greatness is [so vast and deep as to be] unsearchable. [Job 5:9; 9:10; Rom. 11:33.]

4 One generation shall laud Your works to another, and shall declare Your mighty acts.

5 Of the glorious splendor of Your majesty, and of Your wondrous works, I will meditate.

6 Men shall speak of the might of Your tremendous and terrible acts, and I will declare Your greatness.

7 They shall pour forth [as a fountain] the fame of Your great and abundant goodness, and shall sing aloud of Your rightness and justice.

8 The Lord is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger and abounding in mercy and loving-kindness.

9 The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works — the entirety of things created.

10 All Your works shall praise You, O Lord, and Your loving ones shall bless You — affectionately and gratefully shall Your saints confess and praise You!

11 They shall speak of the glory of Your kingdom, and talk of Your power, 12 To make known to the sons of men God's mighty deeds, and the glorious majesty of His kingdom.

13 Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and Your dominion endures throughout all generations.

14 The Lord upholds all those [of His own] who are falling, and raises up all those who are bowed down.

15 The eyes of all wait for You — looking, watching and expecting; and You give them their food in due season.

16 You open Your hand, and satisfy every living thing with favor.

17 The Lord is [rigidly] righteous in all His ways, and gracious and merciful in all His works.

18 The Lord is near to all who call upon Him, to all who call upon Him sincerely and in truth.

19 He will fulfill the desire of those who reverently and worshipfully fear Him, He also will hear their cry, and will save them.

20 The Lord preserves all those who love Him, but all the wicked will He destroy.

21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord, and let all flesh bless — affectionately and gratefully praise — His holy name for ever and ever.

PSALM 146

PRAISE the Lord! — Hallelujah! Praise the Lord, O my soul!

2 While I live will I praise the Lord. I will sing praises to my God while I have any being.

3 Put not your trust in princes, in a son of man, in whom there is no help.

4 When his breath leaves him he returns to his earth; in that very day his [previous] thoughts, plans and purposes perish. [I Cor. 2:6.]

5 Happy — blessed, fortunate [envious] — is he who has the God of [special revelation to] Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God; [Gen. 32:30.]

6 Who made Heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, Who keeps truth and is faithful for ever;

7 Who executes justice for the oppressed; Who gives food to the hungry. The Lord sets free the prisoners;

8 The Lord opens the eyes of the blind; the Lord lifts up those who are bowed down; the Lord loves the [uncompromisingly] righteous — those upright in heart and in right standing with Him. [John 9:7, 32; Luke 13:13.]

9 The Lord protects and preserves the strangers and temporary residents; He upholds the fatherless and the widow and sets them upright; but the way of the wicked He makes crooked — turns upside down and brings to ruin.

10 The Lord shall reign for ever, even Your God, O Zion, from generation to generation. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah! [Ps. 10:16; Rev. 11:15.]

PSALM 147

PRAISE the Lord! For it is good to sing praises to our God, for He is gracious and lovely; praise is becoming and appropriate.

2 The Lord is building up Jerusalem; He is gathering together the exiles of Israel.

3 He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds — curing their pains and their sorrows. [Ps. 34:18; Isa. 57:15; 61:1; Luke 4:18.]

4 He determines and counts the number of the stars; He calls them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and of great power; His understanding is inexhaustible and boundless.

6 The Lord lifts up the humble and downtrodden; He casts the wicked down to the ground.

7 Sing to the Lord with thanksgiving;

sing praises with the harp or the lyre to our God!

8 Who covers the heavens with clouds, Who prepares rain for the earth, Who makes grass to grow on the mountains.

9 He gives to the beast his food, and to the young ravens that for which they cry.

10 He delights not in the strength of the horse; nor does He take pleasure in the legs of a man.

11 The Lord takes pleasure in those who reverently and worshipfully fear Him, in those who hope in His mercy and loving-kindness. [Ps. 145:20.]

12 Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem! Praise your God, O Zion!

13 For He has strengthened and made hard the bars of your gates; and He has blessed your children within you.

14 He makes peace in your borders; He fills you with the finest of the wheat.

15 He sends forth His commandment to the earth; His word runs very swiftly.

16 He gives [to the earth] snow like [a blanket of] wool; He scatters the hoarfrost like ashes.

17 He casts forth His ice like crumbs; who can stand before His cold?

18 He sends out His word, and melts [ice and snow]; He causes His wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He declares His Word to Jacob, His statutes and His ordinances to Israel. [Mal. 4:4.]

20 He has not dealt so with any (other) nation; they have not known (understood, appreciated, given heed to and cherished) His ordinances. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah! [Ps. 79:6; Jer. 10:25.]

PSALM 148

PRAISE the Lord! Praise the Lord from the heavens, praise Him in the heights!

2 Praise Him, all His angels, praise Him, all His host!

3 Praise Him, sun and moon, praise Him, all you stars of light!

4 Praise Him, you highest heavens, and you waters above the heavens!

5 Let them praise the name of the Lord, for He commanded, and they were created.

6 He also established them for ever and ever; He made a decree which shall not pass away — He fixed their bounds which cannot be passed over.

7 Praise the Lord from the earth, you sea monsters and all deeps,

8 You lightning, hail, fog and frost, you stormy wind fulfilling His orders!

9 Mountains and all hills, fruitful trees and all cedars,

10 Beasts and all cattle, creeping things and flying birds!

11 Kings of the earth and all peoples, princes and all rulers and judges of the earth!

12 Both young men and maidens, old men and children!

13 Let them praise and exalt the name of the Lord, for His name alone is exalted and supreme! His glory and majesty are above earth and Heaven!

14 He has lifted up a horn for His people [giving them power, prosperity, dignity and pre-eminence], a song of praise for all His godly ones, for the people of Israel who are near to Him. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah! [Ps. 75:10; Eph. 2:17.]

PSALM 149

PRAISE the Lord! Sing to the Lord a new song, praise Him in the assembly of His saints!

2 Let Israel rejoice in Him, his Maker; let Zion's children triumph and be joyful in their King! [Zech. 9:9; Matt. 21:5.]

3 Let them praise His name in chorus and choir and with the [single or group] dance, let them sing praises to Him with the tambourine and lyre!

4 For the Lord takes pleasure in His people; He will beautify the humble with salvation and adorn the wretched with victory.

5 Let the saints be joyful in the glory and beauty [which God confers upon them]; let them sing for joy upon their beds.

6 Let the high praises of God be in their throat and a two-edged sword in their hand, [Heb. 4:12; Rev. 1:16.]

7 To wreak vengeance upon the nations and chastisements upon the peoples;

8 To bind their kings with chains and their nobles with fetters of iron,

9 To execute upon them the judgment written. He [the Lord] is the honor of all His saints. Praise the Lord! — Hallelujah!

PSALM 150

PRAISE the Lord! Praise God in His sanctuary; praise Him in the heavens of His power!

2 Praise Him for His mighty acts; praise Him according to the abundance of His greatness! [Ps. 145:5, 6; Deut. 3:24.]

3 Praise Him with trumpet sound; praise Him with lute and harp!

4 Praise Him with tambourine and [single or group] dance; praise Him with stringed and wind instruments or flutes!

5 Praise Him with sounding cymbals; praise Him with loud clashing cymbals!

6 Let everything that has breath and every breath of life praise the Lord! Praise you the Lord! — Hallelujah!

THE PROVERBS

CHAPTER 1

THE proverbs [truths obscurely expressed, maxims and parables] of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel:

2 *That people may know skill and godly wisdom and instruction, discern and comprehend the words of understanding and insight,

3 Receive instruction in wise dealing and the discipline of wise thoughtfulness, righteousness, justice and integrity;

4 That prudence may be given to the simple, and knowledge, discretion and discernment to the youth;

5 The wise also may hear and increase in learning, and the person of understanding acquire skill and attain to sound counsels [so that he may be able to steer his course rightly]; [Prov. 9:9.]

6 To understand a proverb and a figure of speech or an enigma with its interpretation, and the words of the wise and their dark sayings or riddles.

7 The reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord is the beginning and the principal and choice part of knowledge — that is, its starting point and its essence; but fools despise skillful and godly wisdom, instruction and discipline. [Ps. 111:10.]

8 My son, hear the instruction of your father; reject not nor forsake the teaching of your mother;

9 For they are a [victor's] chaplet of grace upon your head, and the chains and pendants [of gold worn by kings] for your neck.

10 My son, if sinners entice you, do not consent. [Ps. 1:1; Eph. 5:11.]

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lie in wait to shed blood, let us ambush the innocent without cause [and show that his piety is in vain];

12 Let us swallow them up alive as does Sheol [the place of the dead], and whole, as those who go down into the pit [of the dead];

13 We shall find and take all precious goods [when our victims are put out of the way], we shall fill our houses with plunder;

14 Throw in your lot among us [they insist], and be a sworn brother and comrade; let us all have one purse in common.

15 My son, do not walk in the way with them, restrain your foot from their path;

16 For their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed blood.

17 For in vain is the net spread in the sight of any bird;

18 But [when these men set a trap for others] they are lying in wait for their own blood, they set an ambush for their own lives.

19 So are the ways of every one who is greedy of gain; such [greed for plunder] takes away the life of its possessors. [Prov. 15:27; I Tim. 6:10.]

20 Wisdom cries aloud in the street; she raises her voice in the markets.

21 She cries at the head of the noisy intersections — in the chief gathering places — at the entrance of the city gates she speaks:

22 How long, O simple ones and open [to evil], will you love being simple? And the scoffers delight in scoffing, and [self-confident] fools hate knowledge?

23 If you will turn (repent) and give heed to my reproof, behold, I [Wisdom], will pour out my spirit upon

a) Over the doors of the school of Plato these words were written in Greek, "Let no one enter who is not a geometrician." But Solomon opens wide the doors of his Proverbs with a special message of welcome to the unlearned, the simple, the foolish, the young, and even to the wise, that all "may increase in learning."

b) Read "the Wisdom of God" instead of "Wisdom," and see the wonderful power of this book. The Apostle Paul called Christ "the wisdom of God . . . in Whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge." (I Cor. 1:24; Col. 2:3.)

you, I will make My words known to you. [Isa. 11:2; Eph. 1:17-20.]

24 Because I have called and you refused [to answer], have stretched out my hand and no man heeded it, [Isa. 65:11, 12; 66:4; Jer. 7:13, 14; Zech. 7:11-13.]

25 But you have treated as nothing all my counsel, and would accept none of my reproof,

26 I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when the thing comes that shall cause you terror and panic, 27 When your panic comes as a storm and desolation, and your calamity comes on as a whirlwind, when distress and anguish come upon you.

28 Then will they call upon me [Wisdom], but I will not answer; they will seek me early and diligently, but they will not find me. [Job 27:9; 35:12, 13; Isa. 1:15, 16; Jer. 11:11; Mic. 3:4, James 4:3.]

29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not choose the reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord, [Prov. 8:13.]

30 Would have none of my counsel, and despised all my reproof, 31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be satiated with their own devices.

32 For the backsliding of the simple shall slay them, and the careless ease of [self-confident] fools shall destroy them. [Isa. 32:6.]

33 But whoso hearkens to me [Wisdom], shall dwell securely and in confident trust, and shall be quiet without fear or dread of evil.

CHAPTER 2

MY son, if you will receive my words and treasure up my commandments with you,

2 Making your ear attentive to skillful and godly Wisdom, and inclining and directing your heart and mind to understanding — applying all your powers to the quest for it;

3 Yes, if you cry out for insight and raise your voice for understanding,

4 If you seek Wisdom as silver, and search for skillful and godly Wisdom as for hid treasures;

5 Then you will understand the reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord and find the knowledge of [our omniscient] God. [Prov. 1:7.]

6 For the Lord gives skillful and godly Wisdom; from His mouth come knowledge and understanding.

7 He hides away sound and godly Wisdom and stores it for the righteous — those who are upright and in right standing with Him; He is a shield to those who walk uprightly and in integrity,

8 That He may guard the paths of justice. Yes, He preserves the way of His saints. [I Sam. 2:9; Ps. 66:8, 9.]

9 Then you will understand righteousness, justice and fair dealing [in every area and relation]; yes, you will understand every good path.

10 For skillful and godly ‘Wisdom shall enter into your heart, and knowledge shall be pleasant to you;

11 Discretion shall watch over you, understanding shall keep you;

12 To deliver you from the way of evil and the evil man, from men who speak perverse things and are liars,

13 Men who forsake the paths of uprightness to walk in the ways of darkness,

14 Who rejoice to do evil and delight in the perverseness of evil, 15 Who are crooked in their ways, wayward and devious in their paths.

16 [Discretion shall watch over you, understanding shall keep you] to deliver you from the alien woman, from the outsider with her flattering words, [Verse 11.]

17 Who forsakes the husband and guide of her youth and forgets the covenant of her God;

18 For her house sinks down to death, and her paths to the spirits [of the dead].

19 None who go to her return again, neither do they attain or regain the paths of life.

20 So may you walk in the way of good men, and keep to the paths of the [consistently] righteous — the upright, in right standing with God.

21 For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the men of integrity, blameless and complete [in God's sight], shall remain in it;

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the treacherous shall be rooted out of it.

CHAPTER 3

MY son, forget not my law or teaching, but let your heart keep my commandments;

2 For length of days, and years of a life [worth living], and tranquility [inward and outward and continuing through old age till death], these shall they add to you.

3 Let not mercy and kindness [shutting out all hatred and selfishness], and truth [shutting out all deliberate hypocrisy or falsehood] forsake you. Bind them about your neck; write them upon the tablet of your heart; [Col. 3:9-12.]

4 So shall you find favor, good understanding and high esteem in the sight [or judgment] of God and man. [Luke 2:52.]

5 Lean on, trust and be confident in the Lord with all your heart and mind, and do not rely on your own insight or understanding.

6 In all your ways know, recognize and acknowledge Him, and He will direct and make straight and plain your paths.

7 Be not wise in your own eyes; reverently fear and worship the Lord, and turn [entirely] away from evil. [Prov. 8:13.]

8 It shall be health to your nerves and sinews, and marrow and moistening to your bones.

9 Honor the Lord with your capital and sufficiency [from righteous labors], and with the first fruits of all your income; [Deut. 26:2; Mal. 3:10; Luke 14:13, 14.]

10 So shall your storage places be filled with plenty, and your vats be overflowing with new wine. [Deut. 28:8.]

11 My son, do not despise or shrink from the chastening of the Lord — His correction by punishment, or by subjection to suffering or trial; neither be weary and impatient and loathe or abhor His reproof; [Ps. 94:12; Heb. 12:5, 6; Rev. 3:19.]

12 For whom the Lord loves He corrects, even as a father corrects the son in whom he delights.

13 Happy — blessed, fortunate [envious] — is the man who finds skillful and godly ⁴Wisdom, and the man who gets understanding — drawing it forth [from God's Word and life's experiences].

14 For the gaining of it is better than the gaining of silver, and the profit of it than fine gold.

15 Skillful and godly Wisdom is more precious than rubies, and nothing you can wish for is to be compared to her. [Job 28:12-13.]

16 Length of days is in her right hand, and in her left hand are riches and honor. [Prov. 8:12-21; I Tim. 4:8.]

17 Her ways are highways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

18 She is a tree of life to those who lay hold on her, and happy — blessed, fortunate [to be envied] — is every one who holds her fast.

19 The Lord by skillful and godly Wisdom has founded the earth; by understanding He has established the heavens. [Col. 1:16.]

20 By His knowledge the deeps were broken up, and the skies distill the dew.

21 My son, let them not escape from your sight, but keep sound wisdom and discretion, 22 And they will be life to your inner self, and a gracious ornament to your neck [your outer self].

23 Then you will walk on your way securely and in confident trust, and you shall not dash your foot or stumble. [Prov. 10:9; Ps. 91:11, 12.]

24 When you lie down you shall not be afraid; yes, you shall lie down and your sleep shall be sweet.

25 Be not afraid of sudden terror and panic, nor of the stormy blast or the storm and ruin of the wicked when it comes [for you will be guiltless],

26 For the Lord shall be your confidence, firm and strong, and shall keep your foot from being caught [in a trap or hidden danger].

27 Withhold not good from those to whom it is due [its rightful owners], when it is in the power of your hand to do it. [Rom. 13:7; Gal. 6:10.]

28 Do not say to your neighbor, Go, and come again, and tomorrow I will give it, when you have it with you. [Lev. 19:13; Deut. 24:15.]

29 Do not contrive or dig up or cultivate evil against your neighbor, who dwells trustingly and confidently beside you.

30 Contend not with a man for no reason, when he has done you no wrong. [Rðm. 12:18.]

31 Do not resentfully envy and be jealous of an unscrupulous, grasping man, and choose none of his ways. [Prov. 24:1; Pss. 37:1; 73:3.]

32 For the perverse are an abomination —extremely disgusting and detestable — to the Lord; but His confidential communion and secret counsel are with the uncompromisingly righteous — those who are upright and in right standing with Him. [Ps. 25:14.]

33 The curse of the Lord is in and on the house of the wicked, but He declares blessed — joyful and favored with blessings — the home of the just and consistently righteous. [Ps. 37:22; Zech. 5:4; Mal. 2:2.]

34 Though He scoffs at the scoffers and scorns the scorers, yet He gives His undeserved favor to the low [in rank], the humble and the afflicted. [James 4:6; I Pet. 5:5.]

35 The wise shall inherit glory — all honor and good; but shame is the highest rank conferred on [self-confident] fools. [Isa. 32:6.]

CHAPTER 4

HEAR, my sons, the instruction of a father, and give attention to gain and to know intelligent discernment, comprehension and interpretation [of spiritual matters].

2 For I give you good doctrine — what is to be received; do not forsake my teaching.

3 When I [Solomon] was a son with my father [David], tender and the only one in the sight of my mother [Bathsheba],

4 He taught me, and said to me, Let your heart hold fast my words; keep my commandments and live. [I Chron. 28:9; Eph. 6:4.]

5 Get skillful and godly Wisdom, get understanding — discernment, comprehension and interpretation; do not forget, and do not turn back from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake not [Wisdom] and she will keep, defend and protect you; love her and she will guard you.

7 The beginning of Wisdom is, get Wisdom — skillful and godly Wisdom! For skillful and godly Wisdom is the principal thing. And with all you have gotten get understanding — discernment, comprehension and interpretation. [James 1:5.]

8 Prize Wisdom highly and exalt her, and she will exalt and promote you; she will bring you to honor when you embrace her.

9 She shall give to your head a wreath of gracefulness; a crown of beauty and glory will she deliver to you.

10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings, and the years of your life shall be many.

11 I have taught you in the way of skillful and godly Wisdom [which is comprehensive insight into the ways and purposes of God]; I have led you in paths of uprightness.

12 When you walk, your steps shall not be hampered — your path will be clear and open; and when you run you shall not stumble.

13 Take fast hold of instruction, do not let go; guard her, for she is your life.

14 Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.

15 Avoid it, do not go on it; turn from it and pass on.

16 For they cannot sleep unless they have caused trouble or vexation; their sleep is taken away unless they have caused someone to fall.

17 For they eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the uncompromisingly just and righteous is like the light of dawn, that shines more and more — brighter and clearer — until [it reaches its full strength and glory in] the perfect (to-be-prepared) day. [Matt. 5:14; Phil. 2:15; II Sam. 23:4.]

19 The way of the wicked is as deep darkness; they do not know at what they stumble. [John 12:35.]

20 My son, attend to my words; consent and submit to my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from your sight; keep them in the center of your heart.

22 For they are life to those who find them, healing and health to all their flesh.

23 Keep your heart with all vigilance and above all that you guard, for out of it flow the springs of life.

24 Put away from you false and dishonest speech, and willful and contrary talk put far from you.

25 Let your eyes look right on [with fixed purpose], and let your gaze be straight before you.

26 Consider well the path of your feet, and let all your ways be established and ordered aright.

27 Turn not aside to the right hand or to the left; remove your foot from evil.

CHAPTER 5

MY son, be attentive to my wisdom [learned by actual and costly experience], and incline your ear to my understanding [of what is becoming and prudent for you];

2 That you may exercise proper discrimination and discretion, and your lips guard and keep knowledge and the wise answer [to temptation].

3 For the lips of a loose woman drip honey as a honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil; [II Pet. 2:14-17; Ezek. 20:30; Col. 2:8-10.]

4 But in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged and devouring sword.

5 Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold of Sheol (Hades) — the place of the dead.

6 She loses sight of and walks not in the path of life; her ways wind about aimlessly, and you cannot know them.

7 Now therefore, my sons, listen to me, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Let your way in life be far from her; and come not near the door of her house — avoid the very scenes of temptation; [Prov. 4:15; Rom. 16:17; I Thess. 5:19-22.]

9 Lest you give your honor to others, and your years to those without mercy;

10 Lest strangers [and false teachers] take their fill of your strength and wealth, and your labors go to the house of an alien [from God];

11 And you groan and mourn when your end comes, when your flesh and body are consumed, 12 And you say, How I hated instruction and discipline, and my heart despised reproof!

13 I have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor submitted and consented to those who instructed me.

14 [The extent and boldness of] my sin involved almost all evil in the estimation of the congregation and the community.

15 *Drink waters out of your own cistern [of pure marriage relationship], and fresh running waters out of your own well.

16 Should your offspring be dispersed abroad as water-brooks in the streets?

17 [Confine yourself to your own wife] let your children be for you alone, and not the children of strangers with you.

18 Let your fountain — of human life — be blessed [with the rewards of fidelity], and rejoice with the wife of your youth.

19 Let her be as the loving hind and pleasant doe [tender, gentle, attractive]; let her bosom satisfy you at all times; and always be transported with delight in her love.

20 Why should you, my son, be infatuated with a loose woman, embrace the bosom of an outsider, and go astray?

21 For the ways of man are directly before the eyes of the Lord, and He [Who would have us live soberly, chastely and godly] carefully weighs all man's goings. [Prov. 15:3; II Chron. 16:9; Job 31:4; 34:21; Jer. 16:17; Hos. 7:2; Heb. 4:13.]

22 His own iniquities shall ensnare the wicked, and he shall be held with the cords of his sin.

23 He will die for lack of discipline and instruction, and in the greatness of his folly he will go astray and be lost.

CHAPTER 6

MY son, if you have become security for your neighbor, if you have given your pledge for a stranger or another,

2 You are snared with the words of your lips, you are caught in the speech of your mouth.

3 Do this now [at once and earnestly], my son, and deliver yourself, when you have put yourself into the 'power of your neighbor; go, bestir and humble yourself, and beg your neighbor [to pay his debt and release you].

4 Give not [unnecessary] sleep to your eyes, nor slumber to your eyelids;

5 Deliver yourself as a roe or gazelle would from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Go to the ant, you sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise; [Job 12:7.]

7 Which having no chief, overseer, or ruler,

8 Provides her food in the summer, and gathers her supplies in the harvest.

9 How long will you sleep, O sluggard? When will you arise out of your sleep? [Prov. 24:33, 34.]

10 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to lie down and sleep;

11 So will your poverty come as a robber or one who travels [with slow but surely approaching steps], and your want as an armed man [making you helpless]. [Prov. 10:4; 13:4; 20:4.]

e) All of the Ten Commandments are reflected in the Proverbs; here it is the seventh, "You shall not commit adultery."

f) The Bible consistently teaches that one is not to forsake a friend, and this passage is not to be otherwise construed. But it is one thing to lend a friend money, and quite another thing to promise to pay his debts for him if he fails to do so himself. It might cost one, under the rigid customary law for debt, his money, his land, his bed, his clothing; and if these were not sufficient he and his wife and children could be sold as slaves, not to be released until the next year of Jubilee — fifty years after the previous one. God's Word is very plain on the subject of not underwriting another person's debts. See Prov. 11:15; 17:18; 22:26.

12 A worthless person, a wicked man is he who goes about with a perverse [contrary, wayward] mouth.

13 He winks with his eyes, he speaks by shuffling or tapping with his feet, he makes signs [to mislead and deceive] and teaches with his fingers.

14 Willful and contrary in his heart, he devises trouble, vexation and evil continually; he lets loose discord, and sows it.

15 Therefore upon him shall the crushing weight of calamity come suddenly; suddenly shall he be broken and that without remedy.

16 These six things the Lord hates; indeed, seven are an abomination to Him:

17 A proud look [the spirit that makes one overestimate himself and underestimate others], a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, [Ps. 120:2, 3.]

18 A heart that manufactures wicked thoughts and plans, feet that are swift in running to evil,

19 A false witness who breathes out lies [even under oath], and he who sows discord among his brethren.

20 My son, keep your father's [God-given] commandment, and forsake not the law of [God] your mother [taught you]. [Eph. 6:1-3.]

21 Bind them continually upon your heart, and tie them about your neck. [Prov. 3:3; 7:3.]

22 When you go, [the Word of your parents' God] it shall lead you; when you sleep, it shall keep you, and when you waken, it shall talk with you.

23 For the commandment is a lamp, and the whole teaching of the law is light, and reproofs of discipline are the way of life, [Pss. 19:8; 119:105.]

24 To keep you from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a loose woman.

25 Lust not after her beauty in your heart, neither let her capture you with her eyelids.

26 For on account of a harlot a man is brought to a piece of bread, and the adulteress will stalk and snare [as with a hook] the precious life of a man.

27 Can a man take fire in his bosom and his clothes not be burned?

28 Can one go upon hot coals and his feet not be burned?

29 So he who cohabits with his neighbor's wife [will be tortured with evil consequences and just retribution]; he who touches her shall not be innocent or go unpunished.

30 Men do not despise a thief, if he steals to satisfy himself when he is hungry;

31 But if he is found out, he must restore seven times [what he stole]: he must give the whole substance of his house [if necessary to meet his fine];

32 But whoever commits adultery with a woman lacks heart and understanding — moral principle and prudence; he who does it is destroying his own life.

33 Wounds and disgrace will he get, and his reproach will not be wiped away.

34 For jealousy makes [the wronged] man furious; therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance [upon the detected ones].

35 He will not consider any ransom [offered to buy him off from demanding full punishment], neither will he be satisfied though you offer him many gifts and bribes.

CHAPTER 7

MY son, keep my words; lay up with you my commandments [for use when needed] and treasure them.

2 Keep my commandments and live, and keep my law and teaching as the apple (the pupil) of your eye.

3 Bind them upon your fingers, write them on the tablet of your heart.

4 Say to skillful and godly Wisdom, You are my sister, and regard understanding or insight as your intimate friend;

5 That they may keep you from the loose woman, from the adventuress who flatters and makes smooth her words.

6 For at the window of my house I looked out through my lattice,

7 And among the simple [empty-headed and empty-hearted] ones, I perceived among the youths a young man void of good sense,

8 Sauntering through the street near the [loose woman's] corner; and he went the way to her house,

9 In the twilight, in the evening; night black and dense was falling [over the young man's life].

10 And lo, there met him a woman dressed as a harlot, and sly and cunning of heart.

11 She is turbulent and willful; her feet stay not in her house;

12 Now in the streets, now in the market places, she sets her ambush at every corner.

13 So she caught him and kissed him, and with impudent face she said to him, 14 Sacrifices of peace offerings were due from me; this day I paid my vows.

15 So I came forth to meet you [that you might share with me the feast from my offering]; diligently I sought your face, and I have found you.

16 I have spread my couch with rugs and cushions of tapestry, with striped sheets of fine linen of Egypt;

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning; let us console and delight ourselves with love.

19 For the man is not at home, he is gone on a long journey;

20 He has taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed — at the full moon.

21 With her much justifying and enticing argument she persuades him, with the allurements of her lips she leads him [to overcome his conscience and his fears] and forces him along.

22 Suddenly he yields, and follows her reluctantly, like an ox moving to the slaughter, as one in fetters to the correction to be given to a fool, [or as a dog enticed by food to the muzzle];

23 Till a dart [of passion] pierces and inflames his vitals; then like a bird fluttering straight into the net, he hastens, not knowing that it will cost his life.

24 Listen to me now therefore, O you sons, and be attentive to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not your heart incline toward her ways, do not stray into her paths.

26 For she has cast down many wounded; indeed, all her slain are a mighty host. [Neh. 13:26.]

27 Her house is the way to Sheol [Hades, the place of the dead] going down to the chambers of death.

CHAPTER 8

DOES not skillful and godly Wisdom cry out, and understanding raise her voice? [In contrast to the loose woman.]

2 On the top of the heights beside the way where the paths meet, stands Wisdom, skillful and godly;

3 At the gates at the entrance of the town, at the coming in at the doors she cries out:

4 To you, O men, I call, and my voice is directed to the sons of men.

5 O you simple and thoughtless, understand prudence; and, you [self-confident] fools, be of an understanding heart. [Isa. 32:6.]

6 Hear, for I will speak excellent and princely things; and the opening of my lips shall be for right things.

7 For my mouth shall utter truth, and wrong-doing is detestable and loathsome to my lips.

8 All the words of my mouth are righteous — upright and in right standing with God; there is nothing contrary to truth or crooked in them.

g) The Septuagint Version (Greek) so reads at this point.

9 They are all plain to him who understands [and opens his heart], and right to those who find knowledge [and live by it].

10 Receive my instruction in preference to [striving for] silver, and knowledge rather than choice gold;

11 For skillful and godly Wisdom is better than rubies or pearls, and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it. [Job 28:15; Pss. 19:10; 119:127.]

12 I, Wisdom [from God], have made prudence my dwelling, and I find out knowledge and discretion. [James 1:5.]

13 The reverent fear and worshipful awe of the Lord includes the hatred of evil. Pride, arrogance, the evil way, and perverted and twisted speech I hate.

14 I have counsel and sound knowledge, I have understanding, I have might and power.

15 By me kings reign, and rulers decree justice. [Dan. 2:21; Rom. 13:1.]

16 By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges and governors of the earth.

17 I love those who love me, and those who seek me early and diligently shall find me. [I Sam. 2:30; Ps. 91:14; John 14:21; James 1:5.]

18 Riches and honor are with me, enduring wealth, and righteousness [that is, uprightness in every area and relation, and right standing with God]. [Prov. 3:16; Matt. 6:33.]

19 My fruit is better than gold, yes, than refined gold, and my increase than choice silver.

20 I [Wisdom] walk in the way of righteousness [of moral and spiritual rectitude in every area and relation], in the midst of the paths of justice, 21 That I may cause those who love me to inherit [true] riches, and that I may fill their treasuries.

22 The Lord formed and brought me [Wisdom] forth at the beginning of His way, before His acts of old.

23 I [Wisdom] was inaugurated and ordained from everlasting, from the beginning, before ever the earth existed. [John 1:1; I Cor. 1:24.]

24 When there were no deeps, I was brought forth, when there were no fountains laden with water.

25 Before the mountains were settled, before the hills I was brought forth; [Job 15:7, 8.]

26 While as yet He had not made land, or the fields, or the first of the dust of the earth.

27 When He prepared the heavens, I [Wisdom] was there; when He drew a circle upon the face of the deep and stretched out the firmament over it,

28 When He made firm the skies above, when He established the fountains of the deep,

29 When He gave to the sea its limit and His decree that the waters should not transgress [across the boundaries set by] His command, when He appointed the foundations of the earth; [Job 38:10, 11; Ps. 104:6-9; Jer. 5:22.]

30 Then I [Wisdom] was 'beside Him as a master and director of the work; and I was daily His delight, rejoicing before Him always, [John 1:2, 18; Matt. 3:17.]

31 Rejoicing in His inhabited earth and delighting in the sons of men. [Ps. 16:3.]

32 Now therefore listen to me, O you sons; for blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — are those who keep my ways. [Pss. 119:1, 2; 128:1, 2; Luke 11:28.]

33 Hear instruction and be wise, and do not refuse or neglect it.

34 Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] — is the man who listens to me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.

35 For whoever finds me [Wisdom]

i) Compare footnote on Prov. 1:23.

finds life, and shall draw forth and obtain favor of the Lord.

36 But he who misses me or sins against me wrongs and injures himself; all who hate me love and court death.

CHAPTER 9

WISDOM has built her house, she has hewn out and set up her seven [perfect number of] pillars.

2 She has killed her beasts, she has mixed her [spiritual] wine, she has also set her table. [Matt. 22:2-4.]

3 She has sent out her maids to cry from the highest places of the town,

4 Whoever is simple [easily led astray, wavering], let him turn in here! As for him who lacks understanding, [God's] Wisdom says to him,

5 Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the [spiritual] wine which I have mixed. [Isa. 55:1; John 6:27.]

6 Leave off, simple ones — forsake the foolish and simple-minded — and live! And walk in the way of insight and understanding.

7 He who rebukes a scorner heaps upon himself abuse, and he who reproves a wicked man gets for himself bruises.

8 Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate you; reprove a wise man, and he will love you. [Ps. 141:5.]

9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser; teach a righteous man — one upright and in right standing with God — and he will increase in learning.

10 The reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord is the beginning [the chief and choice part] of Wisdom, and the knowledge of the Holy One is insight and understanding.

11 For by me [Wisdom from God], your days shall be multiplied, and the years of your life shall be increased.

12 If you are wise, you are wise for yourself; if you scorn, you alone will bear it and pay the penalty.

13 The foolish woman is noisy; she is simple and open to all forms of evil; she [willfully and recklessly] knows nothing whatever [of eternal value].

14 For she sits at the door of her house, or on a seat in the conspicuous places of the town,

15 Calling to those who pass by, who go uprightly on their way:

16 Whoever is simple, wavering and easily led astray, let him turn in here! And as for him who lacks understanding, she says to him,

17 Stolen waters [pleasures] are sweet [because they are forbidden], and bread eaten in secret is pleasant. [Prov. 20:17.]

18 But he knows not that the shades of the dead are there [specters haunting the scene of past transgressions], and that her invited guests are [already sunk] in the depths of Sheol [the lower world, Hades].

CHAPTER 10

THE proverbs of Solomon. A wise son makes a glad father, but a foolish and self-confident son is the grief of his mother.

2 Treasures of wickedness profit nothing, but righteousness [moral and spiritual rectitude in every area and relation] delivers from death.

3 The Lord will not allow the [uncompromisingly] righteous to famish, but He thwarts the desire of the wicked. [Pss. 34:9, 10; 37:25.]

4 He becomes poor who works with a slack and idle hand, but the hand of the diligent makes rich.

5 He who gathers in summer is a wise son, but he who sleeps in harvest is a son who causes shame.

6 Blessings are upon the head of the [uncompromisingly] righteous — the upright, in right standing with God; but the mouth of the wicked conceals violence.

7 The memory of the [uncompromisingly] righteous is a blessing, but the name of the wicked shall rot. [Pss. 112:6; 9:5.]

8 The wise in heart will accept and obey commandments, but the foolish of lips will fall headlong.

9 He who walks uprightly walks surely, but he who takes a crooked way shall be found out and punished.

10 He who winks with the eye [craftily and with malice] causes sorrow; the foolish of lips will fall headlong, [but ^{he} who boldly reproves makes peace].

11 The mouth of an [uncompromisingly] righteous man is a well of life, but the mouth of the wicked conceals violence.

12 Hatred stirs up contentions, but love covers all transgressions.

13 In the lips of him who has discernment, skillful and godly ^{Wisdom} is found, but discipline and the rod are for the back of him who is without sense and understanding.

14 Wise men store up knowledge [in mind and heart], but the mouth of the foolish is a present destruction.

15 The rich man's wealth is his strong city; the poverty of the poor is their ruin. [Ps. 52:7; I Tim. 6:17.]

16 The earnings of the righteous — the upright in right standing with God — lead to life; but the profit of the wicked leads to further sin. [I Tim. 6:10; Rom. 6:21.]

17 He who heeds instruction and correction is [not only himself] in the way of life, but is a way of life for others. And he who neglects or refuses reproof [not only himself] goes astray, but causes to err and is a path toward ruin for others.

18 He who hides hatred is of lying lips, and he who utters a slander is a [self-confident] fool. [Prov. 26:24-26.]

19 In a multitude of words transgression is not lacking, but he who restrains his lips is prudent.

20 The tongue of those who are upright and in right standing with God is as choice silver; the mind of those who are wicked and out of harmony with God is of little value.

21 The lips of the [uncompromisingly] righteous feed and guide many; but fools die for want of understanding and heart.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it makes [truly] rich, and He adds no sorrow with it, neither does toiling increase it.

23 It is as sport to a [self-confident] fool to do wickedness, but to have skillful and godly Wisdom is pleasure and relaxation to a man of understanding.

24 The thing a wicked man fears: shall come upon him, but the desire of the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall be granted.

25 When the whirlwind passes, the wicked is no more, but the [uncompromisingly] righteous has an everlasting foundation. [Matt. 7:24-27; Ps. 125:1.]

26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to those who employ and send him.

27 The reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord prolongs one's days, but the years of the wicked shall be made short.

28 The hope of the [uncompromisingly] righteous — the upright, in right standing with God — shall be gladness, but the expectation of the wicked: [those who are out of harmony with God] shall come to nothing.

29 The way of the Lord is strength and a stronghold to the upright, but it is destruction to the workers of iniquity.

30 The [consistently] righteous shall never be removed, but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth eventually. [Pss. 37:22; 125:1.]

31 The mouth of the righteous [those harmonious with God] brings forth skillful and godly ^{Wisdom}, but

j) The Septuagint Version (Greek) so reads at this point.

k) See footnote on chapter 1:23.

l) "Wisdom" is capitalized as a reminder of its divine implications. See note on chapter 1:23.

the perverse tongue shall be cut down [as a barren and rotten tree].

32 The lips of the [uncompromisingly] righteous know [and therefore utter] what is acceptable, but the mouth of the wicked knows [and therefore speaks only] what is obstinately willful and contrary.

CHAPTER 11

A FALSE balance and unrighteous dealings are extremely offensive and shamefully sinful to the Lord, but a just weight is His delight. [Prov. 16:11; Lev. 19:35, 36.]

2 When swelling and pride come, then emptiness and shame come also; but with the humble — those who are lowly, [who have been pruned or chiseled by trial] and renounce self — is skillful and godly Wisdom and soundness.

3 The integrity of the upright shall guide them, but the willful contrariness and crookedness of the treacherous shall destroy them.

4 Riches provide no security in any day of wrath and judgment, but righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God — delivers from death. [Prov. 10:2; Zeph. 1:18.]

5 The righteousness of the blameless shall rectify and make plain his way and keep it straight, but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.

6 The righteousness of the upright — their rectitude in every area and relation — shall deliver them; but the treacherous shall be taken in their own iniquity and greedy desire.

7 When the wicked dies, his hope [for the future] perishes, and the expectation of the godless comes to nothing.

8 The [uncompromisingly] righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked gets into it instead.

9 With his mouth the godless man destroys his neighbor, but through knowledge and superior discernment shall the righteous be delivered.

10 When it goes well with the [uncompromisingly] righteous the city rejoices, but when the wicked perish there are shouts of joy.

11 By the blessing of the influence of the upright and God's favor [because of them] the city is exalted; but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He who belittles and despises his neighbor lacks sense, but a man of understanding keeps silent.

13 He who goes about as a tale-bearer reveals secrets, but he who is trustworthy and faithful in spirit keeps the matter hidden.

14 Where no wise guidance is, the people fall; but in the multitude of counselors there is safety.

15 He who becomes security for an outsider shall smart for it, but he who hates suretyship is secure [from its penalties].

16 A gracious and good woman wins honor [for her husband], and violent men win riches; [but "a woman who hates righteousness is a throne of dishonor for him].

17 The merciful, kind and generous man benefits himself [for his deeds return to bless him], but he who is cruel and callous [to the wants of others] brings on himself retribution.

18 A wicked man earns deceitful wages, but he who sows righteousness [moral and spiritual rectitude in every area and relation] shall have a sure reward — permanent and satisfying. [Hos. 10:12; Gal. 6:8, 9; James 3:18.]

19 He who is steadfast in righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God — shall attain to life, and he who pursues evil does it to his own death.

20 They who are willfully contrary in heart are extremely disgusting and shamefully vile in the eyes of the Lord, but such as are blameless and whole-hearted in their ways are His delight!

21 Assuredly — I pledge it — the wicked shall not go unpunished, but the multitude of the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall be delivered.

22 As a ring of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman who is without discretion.

23 The desire of the [consistently] righteous brings only good, but the expectation of the wicked brings wrath.

24 There are those who [generously] scatter abroad, and yet increase more; there are those who withhold more than is fitting or what is justly due, but it tends only to want.

25 The liberal person shall be enriched, and he who waters shall himself be watered. [II Cor. 9:6-10.]

26 The people will curse him who holds back grain [when the public needs it]; but a blessing [from God and man] is upon the head of him who sells it.

27 He who diligently seeks good seeks [God's] favor, but he who searches after evil, it shall come upon him.

28 He who leans on, trusts and is confident in his riches shall fall, but the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall flourish like a green bough.

29 He who troubles his own house shall inherit the wind, and the foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.

30 The fruit of the [uncompromisingly] righteous is a tree of life, and he who is wise captures human lives for God [as a fisher of men] — he gathers and receives them for eternity. [Matt. 4:19; I Cor. 9:19; James 5:20.]

31 Behold, the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall be recompensed on earth; how much more the wicked and the sinner! [And ^{if} the righteous are barely saved, what will become of the ungodly and wicked?] [I Pet. 4:18.]

CHAPTER 12

WHOWER loves instruction and correction loves knowledge, but

n) The Septuagint Version (Greek) so reads for this verse.

he who hates reproof is like a brute beast, stupid and indiscriminating.

2 A good man obtains favor of the Lord, but a man of wicked devices He condemns.

3 A man shall not be established by wickedness, but the root of the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall never be moved.

4 A virtuous and worthy wife — earnest and strong in character — is a crowning joy to her husband, but she who makes ashamed is as rottenness in his bones. [Prov. 31:23; I Cor. 11:7.]

5 The thoughts and purposes of the [consistently] righteous are honest and reliable, but the counsels and designs of the wicked are treacherous.

6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them and the innocent ones [thus endangered].

7 The wicked are overthrown and are not, but the house of the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom, but he who is of a perverse heart shall be despised.

9 Better is he who is lightly esteemed but works for his own support, than he who assumes honor for himself and lacks bread.

10 A [consistently] righteous man regards the life of his beast, but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel. [Deut. 25:4.]

11 He who tills his land shall be satisfied with bread, but he who follows worthless pursuits is lacking in sense and without understanding.

12 The wicked desires the booty of evil men, but the root of the [uncompromisingly] righteous yields [richer fruitage].

13 The wicked is [dangerously] snared by the transgression of his lips, but the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall come out of trouble.

14 From the fruit of his words a man shall be satisfied with good, and the work of a man's hands shall come back to him.

15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but he who listens to counsel is wise. [Prov. 3:7; 21:2; 9:9.]

16 A fool's wrath is quickly and openly known; but a prudent man ignores an insult.

17 He who breathes out truth shows forth righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God; but a false witness utters deceit.

18 There are those who speak rashly like the piercing of a sword, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

19 Truthful lips shall be established for ever, but a lying tongue is [credited] but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but to the counselors of peace is joy.

21 No [actual] evil, misfortune or calamity shall come upon the righteous, but the wicked shall be filled with evil, misfortune and calamity. [Job. 5:19; Prov. 12:13; Isa. 46:4; Jer. 1:8; Dan. 6:27; Ps. 91:3; II Tim. 4:18.]

22 Lying lips are extremely disgusting and hateful to the Lord, but they who deal truly are His delight. [Prov. 6:17; 11:20; Rev. 22:15.]

23 A prudent man is reluctant to display his knowledge, but the heart of [self-confident] fools proclaims their folly. [Isa. 32:6.]

24 The hand of the diligent will rule, but the slothful will be put to forced labor.

25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs it down, but an encouraging word makes it glad. [Prov. 15:13; Ps. 50:4.]

26 The [consistently] righteous man is a guide to his neighbor, but the way of the wicked causes others to go astray.

27 The slothful man will not catch his game, or roast it if he should kill it: but the diligent man will get precious possessions.

28 Life is in the way of righteousness [moral and spiritual rectitude in every area and relation], and in its pathway there is no death, but immortality — perpetual, eternal life. [John 3:36; 4:36; 8:51; 11:26; I Cor. 15:54; Gal. 6:8.]

CHAPTER 13

A WISE son heeds [and is the fruit of] his father's instruction and correction, but a scoffer listens not to rebuke.

2 A good man shall eat good from the fruit of his mouth, but the desire of the treacherous is for violence.

3 He who guards his mouth keeps his life, but he who opens wide his lips will come to ruin.

4 The appetite of the sluggard craves and gets nothing, but the appetite of the diligent shall be abundantly supplied. [Prov. 10:4.]

5 A [consistently] righteous man hates lying and deceit, but a wicked man is loathsome [his very breath spreads pollution] and he comes surely to shame.

6 Righteousness [rightness and justice in every area and relation] guards him who is upright in the way, but wickedness plunges into sin and overthrows the sinner.

7 One man considers himself rich, yet has nothing [to keep permanently]; another man considers himself poor, yet has great [and indestructible] riches. [Prov. 12:9; Luke 12:20, 21.]

8 A rich man can buy his way out of threatened death by paying a ransom, but the poor man does not even have to listen to threats [from the envious.]

9 The light of the [uncompromisingly] righteous [is within him; it grows brighter and] rejoices; but the lamp of the wicked [furnishes only a derived, temporary light and] shall be put out shortly.

10 By pride and insolence comes only contention, but with the well-advised is skillful and godly "Wisdom.

11 Wealth [not earned] but won in haste, or unjustly, or from the production of things for vain or detrimental use, [such riches] will dwindle away; but he who gathers little by little will increase them.

12 Hope deferred makes the heart sick, but when the desire is fulfilled, it is a tree of life.

13 Whoever despises the Word [of God] brings destruction upon himself, but he who (reverently) fears and respects the commandment [of God] shall be rewarded.

14 The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life, that one may avoid the snares of death.

15 Good understanding wins favor, but the way of the transgressor is hard [like the barren, dry soil or the impassable swamp].

16 Every prudent man deals with knowledge, but a [self-confident] fool exposes and flaunts his folly.

17 A wicked messenger falls into evil, but a faithful ambassador brings healing.

18 Poverty and shame shall be to him who refuses instruction and correction, but he who heeds reproof shall be honored.

19 Satisfied desire is sweet to a person; therefore it is hateful and exceedingly offensive to [self-confident] fools to give up evil [upon which they have set their hearts].

20 He who walks [as a companion] with wise men shall be wise, but he who associates with [self-confident] fools will [be a fool himself and] shall smart for it. [Isa. 32:6.]

21 Evil pursues sinners, but the consistently upright and in right standing with God shall be recompensed with good.

22 A good man leaves an inheritance [of moral stability and goodness] to his children's children, and the wealth of the sinner [finds its way eventually] into the hands of the righteous, for whom it was laid up.

23 Much food is in the tilled land of the poor, but there are those who are destroyed because of injustice.

24 He who spares his rod [of discipline] hates his son, but he who loves him diligently disciplines and punishes him early. [Prov. 19:18; 22:15; 23:13; 29:15, 17.]

25 The [uncompromisingly] righteous eats to his own satisfaction, but the stomach of the wicked shall want.

CHAPTER 14

EVERY wise woman builds her house, but the foolish one tears it down with her own hands.

2 He who walks in uprightness reverently and worshipfully fears the Lord, but he who is contrary and devious in his ways despises Him.

3 In the "fool's own mouth is a rod to shame his pride, but the wise men's lips shall preserve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the grain crib is empty, but much increase of crops is by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithful witness will not lie, but a false witness breathes out falsehoods.

6 A scoffer seeks Wisdom in vain [for his very attitude blinds and deafens him to it], but knowledge is easy to him who [being teachable] understands.

7 Go from the presence of a foolish and self-confident man, for you will not find knowledge in his lips.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way, but the folly of [self-confident] fools is to deceive.

9 Fools make a mock at sin, and sin mocks the fools [who are its vic-

o) See footnote on chapter 1:23.

p) The word "fool" in the Old Testament seldom, if ever, means feeble-minded, imbecile, idiot, or moron. Rather, it always has in it the meaning of a rebel, especially against God and the laws of order, decency and justice. Notice in Proverbs how many such characteristics are listed against the fool, and God's attitude toward them.

tims] — a sin offering made by them only mocks them [bringing them disappointment and disfavor]; but among the upright there is the favor of God. [Prov. 10:23.]

10 The heart knows its own bitterness, and no stranger shares its joy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrown, but the tent of the upright shall flourish.

12 There is a way which seems right to a man and appears straight before him, but at the end of it are the ways of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful, and the end of mirth is heaviness and grief.

14 The backslider in heart [from God and God-fearing] shall be filled with [the fruit of] his own ways, and a good man shall be satisfied from himself [with the holy thoughts and actions which his heart prompts, and in which he delights].

15 The simpleton believes every word he hears, but the prudent man looks and considers well where he is going.

16 A wise man suspects danger and cautiously avoids evil, but the fool bears himself insolently and is [presumptuously] confident.

17 He who foams up quickly and flies into a passion will deal foolishly, and a man of wicked plots and plans is hated.

18 The simple acquire folly, but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evil bow before the good, and the wicked [stand suppliant] at the gates of the [uncompromisingly] righteous.

20 The poor is hated even by his own neighbor, but the rich has many friends.

21 He who despises his neighbor sins [against God, his fellow man and himself], but happy — blessed and fortunate — is he who is kind and merciful to the poor.

22 Do they not err who devise evil and wander from the way of life? But loving-kindness and mercy, loyalty and faithfulness shall be to those who devise good.

23 In all labor there is profit, but idle talk leads only to poverty.

24 The crown of the wise is their wealth of wisdom, but the foolishness of [self-confident] fools is [nothing but] folly.

25 A true witness saves lives, but a deceitful witness speaks lies [and endangers lives].

26 In the reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord is strong confidence, and His children shall always have a place of refuge.

27 Reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, that one may avoid the snares of death. [John 4:10, 14.]

28 In the multitude of people is the king's glory, but in a lack of people is the prince's ruin.

29 He who is slow to anger has great understanding, but he who is hasty of spirit exposes and exalts his folly. [Prov. 16:32; James 1:19.]

30 A calm and undisturbed mind and heart are the life and health of the body, but envy, jealousy and wrath are as rottenness of the bones.

31 He who oppresses the poor reproaches, mocks and insults his Maker, but he who is kind and merciful to the needy honors Him. [Prov. 17:5; Matt. 25:40, 45.]

32 The wicked is overthrown through his wrongdoing and calamity, but the [consistently] righteous has hope and confidence even in his death.

33 Wisdom rests [silently] in the mind and heart of him who has understanding, but that which is in the inward part of [self-confident] fools is made known. [Isa. 32:6.]

34 Uprightness and right standing with God [moral and spiritual rectitude in every area and relation] these elevate a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people.

35 The king's favor is toward a wise and discreet servant, but his wrath is against him who does shamefully. [Matt. 24:45, 47.]

CHAPTER 15

A SOFT answer turns away wrath; but grievous words stir up anger. [Prov. 25:15.]

2 The tongue of the wise utters knowledge rightly, but the mouth of [self-confident] fools pours out folly.

3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place, keeping watch upon the evil and the good. [Prov. 5:21; Job 34:21; Jer. 16:17; 32:19; Heb. 4:13.]

4 A gentle tongue [with its healing power] is a tree of life, but willful contrariness in it breaks down the spirit.

5 A fool despises his father's instruction and correction, but he who regards reproof acquires prudence.

6 In the house of the [uncompromisingly] righteous is great [priceless] treasure, but with the income of the wicked is trouble and vexation.

7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge [sifting it as chaff from the grain]; not so the mind of the self-confident and foolish.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination, hateful and exceedingly offensive to the Lord, but the prayer of the upright is His delight! [Isa. 1:11; Jer. 6:20; Amos 5:22.]

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination, extremely disgusting and shamefully vile to the Lord, but He loves him who pursues righteousness [spiritual and moral rectitude in every area and relation].

10 There is severe discipline for him who forsakes God's way, and he who hates reproof will die [physically, morally and spiritually].

11 Sheol [the place of the dead] and Abaddon [the abyss, the final place of the accuser Satan] both are before the Lord; how much more then the hearts of the children of men? [Job 26:6; Ps. 139:8; Rev. 9:2; 20:1, 2.]

12 A scorner has no love for one who rebukes him, neither will he go to the wise [for counsel].

13 A glad heart makes a cheerful countenance, but by sorrow of heart the spirit is broken. [Prov. 17:22.]

14 The mind of him who has understanding seeks knowledge, inquires after and craves it, but the mouths of [self-confident] fools feed on folly. [Isa. 32:6.]

15 All the days of the desponding afflicted are made evil [by anxious thoughts and foreboding], but he who has a glad heart has a continual feast [regardless of circumstances].

16 Better is little with the reverent, worshipful fear of the Lord than great and rich treasure and trouble with it. [Prov. 16:8, Ps. 37:16; I Tim. 6:6.]

17 Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a fattened ox and hatred with it. [Prov. 17:1.]

18 A hot-tempered man stirs up strife, but he who is slow to anger appeases contention.

19 The way of the sluggard is overgrown with thorns [it pricks, lacerates and entangles him], but the way of the righteous is plain and raised like a highway.

20 A wise son makes a glad father, but a self-confident and foolish man despises his mother and puts her to shame.

21 Folly is pleasure to him who is without heart and sense, but a man of understanding walks uprightly — making straight his going. [Eph. 5:15.]

22 Where there is no counsel, purposes are frustrated, but with many counselors they are accomplished.

23 A man has joy in making an apt answer, and a word spoken at the right moment, how good it is!

24 The path of the wise leads upward to life, that he may avoid the gloom in the depths of Sheol (Hades). [Phil. 3:20; Col. 3:1, 2.]

25 The Lord tears down the house of the proud, but He will make secure the boundaries of the [consecrated] widow.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are shamefully vile and exceedingly offensive to the Lord, but the words of the pure are pleasing words to Him.

27 He who is greedy for unjust gain troubles his own household, but he who hates bribes will live. [Isa. 5:8; Jer. 17:11.]

28 The mind of the [uncompromisingly] righteous studies how to answer, but the mouth of the wicked pours out evil things. [I Pet. 3:15.]

29 The Lord is far from the wicked, but He hears the prayer of the [consistently] righteous — the upright, in right standing with Him.

30 The light in the eyes [of him whose heart is joyful] rejoices the heart of others, and good news nourishes the bones.

31 The ear that listens to the reproof that leads to or gives life will remain among the wise.

32 He who refuses and ignores instruction and correction despises himself, but he who heeds reproof gets understanding.

33 The reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord brings instruction in Wisdom, and humility comes before honor.

CHAPTER 16

THE plans of the mind and orderly thinking belong to man, but from the Lord comes the [wise] answer of the tongue.

2 All the ways of a man are pure in his own eyes, but the Lord weighs the spirits — the thoughts and intents of the heart. [I Sam. 16:7; Heb. 4:12.]

3 Roll your works upon the Lord — commit and trust them wholly to Him; [He will cause your thoughts to become agreeable to His will, and] so shall your plans be established and succeed.

4 The Lord has made everything [to accommodate itself and contribute] to its own end and His own purpose; even the wicked [are fitted for their role] for the day of calamity and evil.

5 Every one proud and arrogant in heart is disgusting, hateful and exceedingly offensive to the Lord; be assured — I pledge it — he will not go unpunished. [Prov. 8:13.]

6 By mercy and love, truth and fidelity [to God and man, not by sacrificial offerings] iniquity is purged out of the heart, and by the reverent, worshipful fear of the Lord men depart from and avoid evil.

7 When a man's ways please the Lord, He makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8 Better is a little with righteousness — uprightness in every area and human relation and right standing with God — than great revenues with injustice. [Prov. 15:16; Ps. 37:16.]

9 A man's mind plans his way, but the Lord directs his steps and makes them sure. [Prov. 20:24; Ps. 37:23; Jer. 10:23.]

10 Divinely directed decisions are on the lips of the king; his mouth should not transgress in judgment.

11 A just balance or scales are the Lord's; all the weights of the bag are His work [established on His eternal principles].

12 It is an abomination [to God and men] for kings to commit wickedness, for the throne is established and made secure by righteousness — spiritual and moral rectitude in every area and relation.

13 Right and just lips are the delight of a king, and he loves him who speaks what is right.

14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death, but a wise man will pacify it.

15 In the light of the king's countenance is life, and his favor is as a cloud bringing the spring rain.

16 How much better it is to get skillful and godly Wisdom than gold! And to get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver. [Prov. 8:10, 19.]

17 The highway of the upright turns aside from evil; he who guards his way preserves his life.

18 Pride goes before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.

19 Better it is to be of a humble spirit with the meek and poor, than to divide the spoil with the proud.

20 He who deals wisely and heeds [God's] Word shall find good, and whoever leans on, trusts and is confident in the Lord, happy, blessed, and fortunate is he.

21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent, understanding and knowing; and winsome speech increases learning [in both speaker and listener].

22 Understanding is a wellspring of life to him who has it, but to give instruction to fools is folly.

23 The mind of the wise instructs his mouth, and adds learning and persuasiveness to his lips.

24 Pleasant words are as a honeycomb, sweet to the mind and healing to the body.

25 There is a way that seems right to a man and appears straight before him, but at the end of it are the ways of death.

26 The appetite of the laborer works for him, for the need of his mouth urges him on.

27 A worthless man devises and digs up mischief, and in his lips there is as a scorching fire.

28 A perverse man sows strife, and a whisperer separates close friends. [Prov. 17:9.]

29 The exceedingly grasping, covetous and violent man entices his neighbor, leading him into the way that is not good.

30 He who shuts his eyes to devise perverse things, and who compresses his lips [as if in concealment] will bring evil to pass.

31 The hoary head is a crown of beauty and glory, if it is found in the way of righteousness — of spiritual and moral rectitude in every area and relation. [Prov. 20:29.]

32 He who is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he who rules his own spirit than he who takes a city.

33 The lot is cast into the lap, but the decision is wholly of the Lord — even the events [that seem accidental] are really ordered by Him.

CHAPTER 17

BETTER is a dry morsel with quietness than a house full of feasting (on offered sacrifices) with strife.

2 A wise servant shall have rule over a son who causes shame, and shall share in the inheritance among the brothers.

3 The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold, but the Lord tries the hearts. [Prov. 27:21; Ps. 26:2; Jer. 17:10; Mal. 3:3.]

4 An evildoer gives heed to wicked lips, and a liar listens to a mischievous tongue.

5 Whoever mocks the poor reproaches his Maker, and he who is glad at calamity shall not be held innocent or go unpunished. [Prov. 14:31; Job 31:29; Obad. 12.]

6 Children's children are the crown of old men, and the glory of children is their fathers. [Pss. 127:3; 128:3.]

7 Fine or arrogant speech does not become [an empty-headed] fool; much less do lying lips become a prince.

8 A bribe is like a bright, precious stone that dazzles the eyes and affects the mind of him who gives it; [as if by magic] he prospers whichever way he turns.

9 He who covers and forgives an offense seeks love, but he who repeats or harps on a matter separates even close friends.

10 A reproof enters deeper into one of understanding than a hundred lashes into a [self-confident] fool. [Isa. 32:6.]

11 An evil man seeks only rebellion;

therefore a stern and pitiless messenger shall be sent against him.

12 Let [the brute ferocity of] a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a [self-confident] fool in his folly [when he is in a rage]. [Hos. 13:8.]

13 Whoever rewards evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house. [Ps. 109:4, 5; Jer. 18:20.]

14 The beginning of strife is as when water first trickles [from a crack in a dam]; therefore stop contention before it becomes worse and quarreling breaks out.

15 He who justifies the wicked and he who condemns the righteous are both an abomination — exceedingly disgusting and hateful — to the Lord. [Prov. 24:24; Exod. 23:7; Isa. 5:23.]

16 Of what use is money in the hand of a [self-confident] fool to buy skillful and godly Wisdom, when he has no understanding or heart for it?

17 A friend loves at all times, and is born, as is a brother, for adversity.

18 A man void of good sense gives a pledge and becomes security for another in the presence of his neighbor.

19 He who loves strife and is quarrelsome loves transgression and involves himself in guilt; he who raises high his gateway and is boastful and arrogant invites destruction.

20 He who has a wayward and crooked mind finds no good, and he who has a willful and contrary tongue will fall into calamity. [James 3:8.]

21 He who becomes the parent of a [self-confident] fool does it to his sorrow, and the father of [an empty-headed] fool has no joy [in him].

22 A happy heart is a good medicine and a cheerful mind works healing, but a broken spirit dries the bones. [Prov. 12:25; 15:13, 15.]

23 A wicked man receives a bribe out of the bosom [pocket] to pervert the ways of justice.

24 A man of understanding sets skillful and godly Wisdom before his face, but the eyes of a [self-confident] fool are on the ends of the earth.

25 A self-confident and foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her who bore him.

26 Also to punish or fine the righteous is not good, nor to smite the noble for their uprightness.

27 He who has knowledge spares his words, and a man of understanding has a cool spirit. [James 1:19.]

28 Even a fool when he holds his peace is considered wise; when he closes his lips he is esteemed a man of understanding.

CHAPTER 18

HE who willfully separates and estranges himself [from God and man] seeks his own desire and pretext to break out against all wise and sound judgment.

2 A [self-confident] fool has no delight in understanding, but only in revealing his personal opinions and himself.

3 When the wicked comes in [to the depth of evil], he becomes a contemptuous despiser [of all that is pure and good], and with inner baseness comes outer shame and reproach.

4 The words of a [discreet and wise] man's mouth are as deep waters [plentiful and difficult to fathom]; and the fountain of skillful and godly Wisdom is as a gushing stream [sparkling, fresh, pure and life-giving].

5 To respect the person of the wicked and be partial, so as to deprive the [consistently] righteous of justice, is not good.

6 A [self-confident] fool's lips bring contention, and his mouth invites a beating.

7 A [self-confident] fool's mouth is his ruin, and his lips are a snare to himself.

8 The words of a whisperer or tale-bearer are as dainty morsels; they go down into the innermost parts of the body.

9 He who is loose and slack in his work is brother to him who is a destroyer [and ⁹he who does not use his endeavors to heal himself is brother to him who commits suicide].

10 The name of the Lord is a strong tower; the [consistently] righteous man — upright and in right standing with God — runs into it and is safe, high [above evil] and strong.

11 The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as a high protecting wall, in his own imagination and conceit.

12 Haughtiness comes before disaster, and humility before honor.

13 He who answers a matter before he hears the facts, it is folly and shame to him. [John 7:51.]

14 The strong spirit of a man will sustain him in bodily pain or trouble, but a weak and broken spirit who can raise up or bear?

15 The mind of the prudent is ever getting knowledge, and the ear of the wise is ever seeking — inquiring for and craving — knowledge.

16 A man's gift makes room for him and brings him before great men. [Prov. 17:8; 21:14; Gen. 32:20; I Sam. 25:27.]

17 He who states his case first seems right, until his rival comes and cross-examines him.

18 To cast lots puts an end to disputes, and decides between powerful contenders.

19 A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city, and their contentions separate them like the bars of a castle.

20 A man's moral self shall be filled with the fruit of his mouth, and with the consequence of his words he must be satisfied [whether good or evil].

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they who indulge it shall eat the fruit of it [for death or life]. [Matt. 12:37.]

22 He who finds a [true] wife finds a good thing, and obtains favor of the Lord. [Prov. 19:14; 31:10.]

23 The poor use entreaties, but the rich answer roughly.

24 The man of many friends [a friend of all the world] will prove himself a bad friend, but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.

CHAPTER 19

BETTER is the poor who walks in his integrity, than the rich who is perverse in his speech and is a [self-confident] fool.

2 Desire without knowledge is not good, and to be over-hasty is to sin and miss the mark.

3 The foolishness of man subverts his way [ruins his affairs]; then his heart is resentful and frets against the Lord.

4 Wealth makes many friends, but the poor is avoided by his neighbor. [Prov. 14:20.]

5 A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he who breathes out lies shall not escape. [Prov. 6:19; 21:28; Exod. 23:1; Deut. 19:16-19.]

6 Many will entreat the favor of the liberal man, and every man is a friend to him who gives gifts.

7 All the brothers of the poor detest him; how much more do his friends go far from him! He pursues them with words, but they are gone.

8 He who gains Wisdom loves his own life; he who keeps understanding shall prosper and find good.

9 A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he who breathes forth lies shall perish.

10 Luxury is not fitting for a [self-confident] fool, much less for a slave to rule over princes.

11 Good sense makes a man restrain his anger, and it is his glory to overlook a transgression or an offense.

12 The king's wrath is as terrifying as the roaring of a lion, but his favor

q) This verse so reads in The Septuagint Version (the Greek translation of the Hebrew). Its statement squarely meets the problem as to whether one has a moral right to neglect his body by letting "nature take its course" unhindered in illness.

is as [refreshing as] dew upon the grass. [Hos. 14:5.]

13 A self-confident and foolish son is the [multiplied] calamity of his father, and the contentions of a wife are as a continual dropping [of water through a chink in the roof].

14 House and riches are the inheritance from fathers, but a wise, understanding and prudent wife is from the Lord. [Prov. 18:22.]

15 Slothfulness casts one into a deep sleep, and the idle person shall suffer hunger.

16 He who keeps the commandment [of the Lord] keeps his own life, but he who despises His ways shall die. [Luke 10:28; 11:28.]

17 He who has pity on the poor lends to the Lord, and that which he has given He will repay to him. [Prov. 28:27; Eccl. 11:1; Matt. 10:42; 25:40; II Cor. 9:6-8; Heb. 6:10.]

18 Discipline your son while there is hope, but do not [indulge your angry resentments by undue chastisements and] set yourself to his ruin.

19 A man of great wrath shall suffer the penalty, for if you deliver him [from the consequences], he will [feel free to] cause you to do it again.

20 Hear counsel, receive instruction and accept correction, that you may be wise in the time to come.

21 Many plans are in a man's mind, but it is the Lord's purpose for him that will stand. [Job 23:13; Ps. 33:10, 11; Isa. 14:26, 27; 46:10; Acts 5:39; Heb. 6:17.]

22 That which is desired in a man is loyalty and kindness, and his glory and delight are his giving, but a poor man is better than a liar.

23 The reverent, worshipful fear of the Lord leads to life, and he who has it shall rest satisfied; he cannot be visited with [actual] evil. [Job 5:19; Prov. 12:13; Isa. 46:4; Jer. 1:8; Dan. 6:27; Ps. 91:3; II Tim. 4:8.]

24 The sluggard buries his hand in the dish, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.

25 Strike a scoffer, and the simple will learn prudence; reprove a man of understanding, and he will increase in knowledge.

26 He who does violence to his father and chases away his mother is a son who causes shame and brings reproach.

27 Cease, my son, to hear instruction only to ignore it and stray from the words of knowledge.

28 A worthless witness scoffs at justice, and the mouth of the wicked swallows iniquity.

29 Judgments are prepared for scoffers, and stripes for the back of [self-confident] fools. [Isa. 32:6.]

CHAPTER 20

WINE is a mocker, strong drink a riotous brawler, and whoever errs or reels because of it is not wise. [Prov. 23:29, 30; Isa. 28:7; Hos. 4:11.]

2 The terror of a king is as the roaring of a lion; whoever provokes him to anger or angers himself against him sins against his own life.

3 It is an honor for a man to cease from strife and keep aloof from it, but every fool will be quarreling.

4 The sluggard will not plow when winter sets in; therefore shall he beg in harvest, and have nothing.

5 Counsel in the heart of man is like water in a deep well, but a man of understanding will draw it out. [Prov. 18:4.]

6 Many a man proclaims his own loving-kindness and goodness, but a faithful man who can find?

7 The righteous man walks in his integrity; blessed — happy, fortunate [enviable] — are his children after him.

8 A king who sits on the throne of judgment winnows out all evil [like chaff] with his eyes.

9 Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?

[I Kings 8:46; II Chron. 6:36; Job 9:30; 14:4; Ps. 51:5; I John 1:8.]

10 Diverse weights [one for buying and another for selling] and diverse measures, both of them are exceedingly offensive and abhorrent to the Lord. [Deut. 25:13; Mic. 6:10, 11.]

11 Even a child is known by his acts, whether or not what he does is pure and right.

12 The hearing ear and the seeing eye, the Lord has made both of them.

13 Love not sleep, lest you come to poverty; open your eyes and you will be satisfied with bread.

14 It is worthless, it is worthless! says the buyer; but when he goes his way, then he boasts [about his bargain].

15 There is gold, and a multitude of pearls; but the lips of knowledge are a vase of preciousness [the most precious of all]. [Prov. 3:15; 8:11; Job 28:12, 16-19.]

16 [The judge tells the creditor] Take his garment who is security for a stranger, and hold him in pledge when he is security for foreigners.

17 Food gained by deceit is sweet to a man, but afterward his mouth will be filled with gravel.

18 Purposes and plans are established by counsel, and only with good advice make or carry on war.

19 He who goes about as a tale-bearer reveals secrets; therefore associate not with him who talks too freely. [Rom. 16:17, 18.]

20 Whoever curses his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in complete darkness.

21 An inheritance hastily gotten [by greedy, unjust means] at the beginning, in the end will not be blessed. [Prov. 28:20; Hab. 2:6.]

22 Do not say, I will repay evil; wait (expectantly) for the Lord, and He will rescue you. [Rom. 12:17-19; I Thess. 5:15; I Pet. 3:9; II Sam. 16:12.]

23 Diverse and deceitful weights are shamefully vile and abhorrent to the Lord, and false scales are not good.

24 Man's steps are ordered by the Lord; how can a man then understand his way?

25 It is a snare to a man to utter a vow [of consecration] rashly, and not until afterward inquire [whether he can fulfill it].

26 A wise king winnows the wicked [from among the good], and brings the threshing wheel over them [to separate the chaff from the grain].

27 The spirit of man [that factor in human personality which proceeds immediately from God] is the lamp of the Lord, searching all his innermost parts. [I Cor. 2:11.]

28 Loving-kindness and mercy, truth and faithfulness preserve the king, and his throne is upheld by [the people's] loyalty.

29 The glory of young men is their strength, and the beauty of old men is their gray head [suggesting wisdom and experience].

30 Blows that wound cleanse away evil, and strokes [for correction] reach to the innermost parts.

CHAPTER 21

THE king's heart is in the hand of the Lord as are the watercourses: He turns it whichever way He will.

2 Every way of man is right in his own eyes, but the Lord weighs and tries the hearts. [Prov. 24:12; Luke 16:15.]

3 To do righteousness and justice is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice. [Prov. 15:8; I Sam. 15:22; Isa. 1:11; Hos. 6:6; Mic. 6:7, 8.]

4 Haughtiness of eyes and a proud heart, even the tillage of the wicked, or the lamp of joy to them, [whatever it may be] is sin [in the eyes of God].

5 The thoughts of the [steadily] diligent tend only to plenteousness, but every one who is impatient and hasty hastens only to want.

6 Securing treasures by a lying tongue is a vapor driven to and fro; those who seek them seek death.

7 The violence of the wicked shall sweep them away, because they refuse to do justice.

8 The way of the guilty is exceedingly crooked, but as for the pure, his work is right and his conduct is straight.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop [on the flat oriental roof, exposed to all kinds of weather] than in a house shared with a nagging, quarrelsome and faultfinding woman.

10 The soul or life of the wicked craves and seeks evil; his neighbor finds no favor in his eyes. [James 2:16.]

11 When the scoffer is punished, the fool gets a lesson in being wise; but men of wisdom and good sense learn by being instructed.

12 The [uncompromisingly] righteous man considers well the house of the wicked, how the wicked are cast down to ruin.

13 Whoever stops his ears at the cry of the poor will cry out himself and not be heard. [Matt. 18:30-34; James 2:13.]

14 A gift in secret pacifies and turns away anger, and a bribe in the lap, strong wrath.

15 When justice is done it is a joy to the righteous [the upright, in right standing with God]; but to the evildoers it is dismay, calamity and ruin.

16 The man who wanders out of the way of understanding shall abide in the congregation of the spirits — of the dead.

17 He who loves pleasure will be a poor man; he who loves wine and oil will not be rich.

18 The wicked shall be a ransom for the [uncompromisingly] righteous, and the treacherous for the upright [because the wicked fall themselves into the traps and pits they have dug for the good].

19 It is better to dwell in a desert land than with a contentious woman and vexation.

20 There are precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise, but a self-confident and foolish man swallows it up and wastes it.

21 He who earnestly seeks after and craves righteousness, mercy and loving-kindness will find life in addition to righteousness [uprightness and right standing with God] and also honor. [Prov. 15:9; Matt. 5:6.]

22 A wise man scales the city walls of the mighty and brings down the stronghold in which they trust.

23 He who guards his mouth and his tongue keeps himself from troubles. [Prov. 12:13; 13:3; 18:21; James 3:2.]

24 The proud and haughty man — scoffer is his name — deals and acts with overbearing pride.

25 The desire of the slothful kills him, for his hands refuse to labor.

26 He covets greedily all the day long, but the [uncompromisingly] righteous gives and does not withhold. [II Cor. 9:6-10.]

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is exceedingly disgusting and abhorrent [to the Lord]; how much more when he brings it with evil intention?

28 A false witness will perish, but the word of a man who hears attentively will endure and be unchallenged.

29 A wicked man puts on the bold, unfeeling face [of guilt], but as for the upright, he considers, directs and establishes his way [with the confidence of integrity].

30 There is no wisdom or understanding or counsel [that can prevail] against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared for the day of battle, but deliverance and victory are of the Lord.

CHAPTER 22

A GOOD name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold.

2 The rich and poor meet together; the Lord is the maker of them all. [Prov. 14:31; Job 31:15.]

3 A prudent man sees the evil and hides himself, but the simple pass on and are punished (with suffering).

4 The reward of humility and the reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord is riches and honor and life.

5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the obstinate and willful; he who guards himself will be far from them.

6 Train up a child in the way he should go [and in keeping with his individual gift or bent], and when he is old he will not depart from it. [Eph. 6:4; II Tim. 3:15.]

7 The rich rules over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender.

8 He who sows iniquity will reap calamity and futility, and the rod of his wrath [with which he smites others] will fail.

9 He who has a bountiful eye shall be blessed, for he gives of his bread to the poor. [II Cor. 9:6-10.]

10 Drive out the scoffer and contention will go out; yes, strife and abuse will cease.

11 He who loves purity and the pure in heart, and who is gracious in speech, will for the grace of his lips have the king for his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lord keep guard over knowledge and him who has it, but He overthrows the words of the treacherous.

13 The sluggard says, There is a lion outside! I shall be slain in the streets!

14 The mouth of loose women is a deep pit [for ensnaring wild animals]; he with whom the Lord is indignant and who is abhorrent to Him will fall into it.

15 Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child, but the rod of discipline will drive it far from him.

16 He who oppresses the poor to get gain for himself, and he who gives to the rich will surely come to want.

17 Listen [consent and submit] to the words of the wise, and apply your mind to my knowledge;

18 For it will be pleasant if you keep them in your mind [believing them]; your lips will be accustomed to [confessing] them.

19 That your trust — belief, reliance, support and confidence — may be in the Lord, I have made known these things to you today, even to you.

20 Have I not written to you [long ago] excellent things in counsels and knowledge,

21 To make you know the certainty of the words of truth, that you may give a true answer to those who sent you? [Luke 1:3, 4.]

22 Rob not the poor [being tempted by his helplessness], neither oppress the afflicted at the gate [where the city court is held]; [Exod. 23:6; Job 31:16, 21.]

23 For the Lord will plead their cause, and deprive of life those who deprive the poor or afflicted. [Zech. 7:10; Mal. 3:5.]

24 Make no friendships with a man given to anger, and with a wrathful man do not associate,

25 Lest you learn his ways and get yourself into a snare.

26 Be not one of those who strike hands and pledge themselves, or of those who become security for another's debts.

27 If you have nothing with which to pay, why should he take away your bed from under you?

28 Remove not the ancient landmark which your fathers have set.

29 Do you see a man diligent and skillful in his business? He will stand before kings; he will not stand before obscure men.

CHAPTER 23

WHEN you sit down to eat with a ruler, consider who and what are before you;

2 For you will put a knife to your throat, if you are a man given to desire.

3 Be not desirous of his dainties, for they are deceitful food [offered with questionable motives].

4 Weary not yourself to be rich; cease from this your own wisdom. [Prov. 28:20; I Tim. 6:9, 10.]

5 Will you set your eyes upon wealth, when [suddenly] it is gone? For riches certainly make themselves wings, like an eagle that flies toward the heavens.

6 Eat not the bread of him who has a hard, grudging and envious eye, neither desire his dainty foods;

7 For as he thinks in his heart, so is he. As one who reckons he says to you, eat and drink, yet his heart is not with you [but is grudging the cost].

8 The morsel which you have eaten you will vomit up, and your complimentary words will be wasted.

9 Speak not in the ears of a [self-confident] fool, for he will despise the wisdom of your words. [Isa. 32:6.]

10 Remove not the old landmark, and enter not into the fields of the fatherless, [Prov. 22:28; Deut. 19:14; 27:17.]

11 For their Redeemer is mighty; He will plead their cause against you.

12 Apply your mind to instruction and correction, and your ears to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not discipline from the child, for if you strike and punish him with the [reed-like] rod, he will not die.

14 You shall whip him with the rod and deliver his life from Sheol [Hades, the place of the dead].

15 My son, if your heart is wise, my heart will be glad, even mine.

16 Yes, my heart will rejoice when your lips speak right things.

17 Let not your heart envy sinners, but continue in the reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord all the day long.

18 For surely there is a latter end

[a future and a reward]; and your hope and expectation shall not be cut off.

19 Hear, my son, and be wise, and direct your mind in the way [of the Lord].

20 Do not associate with winebibbers; be not among them nor among gluttonous eaters of meat; [Isa. 5:22; Luke 21:34; Rom. 13:13; Eph. 5:18.]

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty, and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags.

22 Harken to your father who begot you, and despise not your mother when she is old.

23 Buy the truth and sell it not; not only that, but, also discernment and judgment, instruction and understanding.

24 The father of the [uncompromisingly] righteous — the upright, in right standing with God — shall greatly rejoice, and he who becomes the father of a wise child shall have joy in him.

25 Let your father and your mother be glad, and let her who bore you rejoice.

26 My son, give me your heart, and let your eyes observe and delight in my ways.

27 For a harlot is a deep ditch, and a loose woman is a narrow pit.

28 She also lies in wait as a robber or as for prey, and she increases the treacherous among men.

29 Who has woe? Who has sorrow? Who has strife? Who has complaining? Who has wounds without cause? Who has redness and dimness of eyes?

30 Those who tarry long at the wine, they who go to seek and try mixed wine. [Prov. 20:1; Eph. 5:18.]

31 Do not look at wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the wineglass, when it goes down smoothly.

32 At the last it bites like a serpent, and stings like an adder.

33 [Under the influence of wine] your eyes will behold strange things [and loose women], and your mind will utter things turned the wrong way, untrue, incorrect and petulant.

34 Yes, you will be [as unsteady] as he who lies down in the midst of the sea, and [as open to disaster] as he who lies upon the top of a mast.

35 You will say, They struck me, but I was not hurt! They beat me [as with a hammer], but I did not feel it! When shall I awake? I will crave and seek more wine again [and escape reality].

CHAPTER 24

BE not envious of evil men, nor desire to be with them.

2 For their minds plot oppression and devise violence, and their lips talk of causing trouble and vexation.

3 Through skillful and godly 'Wisdom is a house [a life, a home, a family] built, and by understanding it is established [on a sound and good foundation].

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers [of its every area] be filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong and 'better than a strong man, and a man of knowledge increases and strengthens his power; [Prov. 21:22; Eccl. 9:16.]

6 For by wise counsel you can wage your war, and in an abundance of counselors there is victory and safety.

7 Wisdom is too high for a 'fool; he opens not his mouth in the gate [where the city's rulers sit in judgment].

8 He who plans to do evil will be called a mischief-maker.

9 The plans of the foolish and the thought of foolishness are sin, and the scoffer is an abomination to men.

10 If you faint in the day of adversity, your strength is small.

11 Deliver those who are drawn away to death, and those who totter to the slaughter hold back [from their doom].

12 If you [profess ignorance and] say, Behold, we did not know this, does not He Who weighs and ponders the hearts perceive and consider it? And He Who guards your life, does not He know it? And shall not He render to [you and] every man according to his works?

13 My son, eat honey, because it is good, and the drippings of honeycomb are sweet to your taste.

14 So shall you know skillful and godly Wisdom to be to your life; if you find it, then shall there be a future and a reward, and your hope and expectation shall not be cut off.

15 Lie not in wait as a wicked man against the dwelling of the [uncompromisingly] righteous — the upright, in right standing with God; destroy not his fold or his resting place;

16 For a righteous man falls seven times and rises again, but the wicked are overthrown by calamity. [Job 5:19; Pss. 34:19; 37:24; Mic. 7:8.]

17 Rejoice not when your enemy falls, and let not your heart be glad when he stumbles or is overthrown;

18 Lest the Lord see it, and it be evil in His eyes and displease Him, and He turn away His wrath from him [to expend it upon you, the worse offender].

19 Fret not yourself because of evil-doers, neither be envious of the wicked;

20 For there shall be no reward to the evil man; the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

21 My son, reverently fear the Lord and the king, and do not associate with those who are given to change [of allegiance, and are revolutionary]:

22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly, and who knows the punishment and ruin which both [the Lord and the king] will bring upon the rebellious?

23 These also are sayings of the wise. To discriminate and be partial, having respect of persons in judging, is not good.

24 He who says to the wicked, You are righteous and innocent, peoples will curse him, nations will defy and abhor him.

25 But to those [upright judges] who rebuke the wicked it is well and they will find delight, and a good blessing will be upon them.

26 He kisses the lips [and wins the hearts of men] who gives a right answer.

27 [Put first things first.] Prepare your work outside, and get it ready for yourself in the field, and afterward build your house and establish a home.

28 Be not a witness against your neighbor without cause, and deceive not with your lips. [Eph. 4:25.]

29 Say not, I will do to him as he has done to me; I will pay the man back for his deed. [Prov. 20:22; Matt. 5:39, 44; Rom. 12:17, 19.]

30 I went by the field of the lazy man, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding;

31 And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered its face, and its stone wall was broken down.

32 Then I beheld and considered it well; I looked and received instruction.

33 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep;

34 So shall your poverty come as a robber, and your want as an armed man.

CHAPTER 25

THESSE are also the proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out. [I Kings 4:32.]

2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing, but the glory of kings is to search a thing out. [Deut. 29:29; Rom. 11:33.]

3 As the heaven for height, and the earth for depth, so the heart and mind of kings is unsearchable.

4 Take away the dross from the silver, and there shall come forth [the material for] a vessel for the silversmith [to work up]. [II Tim. 2:21.]

5 Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne will be established in righteousness [spiritual and moral rectitude in every area and relation].

6 Be not forward [self-assertive and boastfully ambitious] in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men;

7 For better it is that it be said to you, Come up here, than that you should be put lower in the presence of the prince whose eyes have seen you. [Luke 14:8-10.]

8 Rush not forth soon to quarrel [before magistrates or elsewhere], lest you know not what to do in the end, when your neighbor has put you to shame. [Prov. 17:14; Matt. 5:25.]

9 Argue your cause with your neighbor himself; discover not and disclose not another's secret; [Matt. 18:15.]

10 Lest he who hears you revile you and bring shame upon you, and your ill repute have no end.

11 A word fitly spoken and in due season is like apples of gold in a setting of silver. [Prov. 15:23; Isa. 50:4.]

12 As an ear or nose ring of gold, or an ornament of fine gold, is a wise reprove to an ear that listens and obeys.

13 As the cold of snow [brought from the mountains] in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to those who send him; for he refreshes the life of his masters.

14 Whoever falsely boasts of gifts [he does not give] is like clouds and wind without rain. [Jude 12.]

15 By long forbearing and calmness of spirit a judge or ruler is persuaded, and soft speech breaks down the most bonelike resistance. [Prov. 15:1; 16:14; Gen. 32:4; I Sam. 25:24.]

16 Have you found [pleasure sweet like] honey? Eat only as much as is sufficient for you, lest being filled with it you vomit it up.

17 Let your foot be seldom in your neighbor's house, lest he become tired of you and hate you.

18 A man who bears false witness against his neighbor is like a heavy sledge hammer, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.

19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth or a foot out of joint.

20 He who sings songs to a heavy heart is like him who lays off a garment in cold weather and as vinegar upon soda. [Dan. 6:18; Rom. 12:15.]

21 If your enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat, and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink; [Matt. 5:44; Rom. 12:20.]

22 For so doing you will "heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord will reward you.

23 The north wind brings forth rain; so does a backbiting tongue bring forth an angry countenance.

24 It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop than to share a house with a disagreeing, quarrelsome and scolding woman.

25 As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far [home] country.

26 Like a muddied fountain and a polluted spring is a righteous man who yields, falls down and compromises his integrity before the wicked.

27 It is not good to eat much honey, so for men to seek glory, their own glory, causes suffering and is not glory.

28 He who has no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down and without walls. [Prov. 16:32.]

u) This is not to be understood as a revengeful act, intended to embarrass its victim, but just the opposite. The picture is that of the high priest (Lev. 16:12), who on the Day of Atonement took his censer and filled it with "coals of fire" from off the altar of burnt offering, and then put on them incense for a pleasing, sweet-smelling fragrance. The cloud of it covered the mercy-seat and was acceptable to God for atonement. Samuel Wesley wrote:

"So artists melt the sullen ore of lead,
By heaping coals of fire upon its head:
In the kind warmth the metal learns to glow,
And pure from dross the silver runs below."

CHAPTER 26

AS snow in summer and as rain in harvest, so honor is not fitting for a [self-confident] fool. [Isa. 32:6.]

2 As the sparrow in her wandering, as the swallow in her flying, so the causeless curse shall not alight. [Num. 23:8.]

3 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey, and a [straight, slender] rod for the back of [self-confident] fools.

4 Answer not a [self-confident] fool according to his folly, lest you also be like him.

5 Answer a [self-confident] fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own eyes and conceit. [Matt. 16:1-4; 21:24-27.]

6 He who sends a message by the hand of a fool cuts off the feet [of satisfactory delivery], and drinks the damage.

7 Like the legs of a lame man which hang loose, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.

8 As he who binds a stone in a sling, so is he who gives honor to a [self-confident] fool.

9 As a thorn that goes [without being felt] into the hand of a drunken man, so is a proverb in the mouth of [self-confident] fools.

10 A master worker forms all correctly, but as an archer who wounds all, so is he who hires a fool or chance passers-by.

11 As a dog returns to his vomit, so a fool returns to his folly.

12 Do you see a man wise in his own eyes and conceit? There is more hope for a [self-confident] fool than for him. [Prov. 29:20; Luke 18:11; Rom. 12:16; Rev. 3:17.]

13 The sluggard says, There is a lion in the way! A lion is in the streets!

14 As the door turns on its hinges, so does the lazy man [move not from his place] upon his bed.

15 The slothful and self-indulgent buries his hand in his bosom; it distresses and wearies him to bring it again to his mouth. [Prov. 19:24.]

16 The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes and conceit than seven men who can render a reason and answer discreetly.

17 He who, passing by, stops to meddle with strife that is not his business is like one who takes a dog by the ears.

18 As a madman who casts firebrands, arrows and death,

19 So is the man who deceives his neighbor and then says, Was I not joking? [Eph. 5:4.]

20 For lack of wood the fire goes out, and where there is no whisperer, contention ceases.

21 As coals are to hot embers, and wood to fire, so is a quarrelsome man to inflame strife. [Prov. 15:18; 29:22.]

22 The words of a whisperer or slanderer are as dainty morsels or words of sport [to some, but to others are as deadly wounds], and they go down into the innermost parts of the body [or of the victim's nature].

23 Burning lips [uttering insincere words of love] and a wicked heart are like an earthen vessel covered with the scum thrown off from molten silver [making it appear to be solid silver].

24 He who hates, pretends with his lips, but stores up deceit within him.

25 When he speaks kindly, do not trust him, for seven abominations are in his heart.

26 Though his hatred cover itself with guile, his wickedness shall be shown openly before the assembly.

27 Whoever digs a pit [for another man's feet] shall fall into it himself, and he who rolls a stone [up a height to do mischief], it will return upon him. [Prov. 28:10; Pss. 7:15, 16; 9:15; 10:2; 57:6; Eccl. 10:8.]

28 A lying tongue hates those whom it has wounded and crushed, and a flattering mouth works ruin.

CHAPTER 27

DO not boast of [yourself and] tomorrow; for you know not what a day may bring forth. [Luke 12:19, 20; James 4:13.]

2 Let another man praise you, and not your own mouth; a stranger, and not your own lips.

3 Stone is heavy, and sand weighty; but a fool's [unreasoning] wrath is heavier and more intolerable than them both.

4 Wrath is cruel and anger is an overwhelming flood; but who is able to stand before jealousy?

5 Open rebuke is better than love that is hidden. [Prov. 28:23; Gal. 2:14.]

6 Faithful are the wounds of a friend, but the kisses of an enemy are lavish and deceitful.

7 He who is satiated [with sensual pleasures] loathes and treads underfoot a honeycomb, but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wanders from her nest, so is a man who strays from his home.

9 Oil and perfume rejoice the heart; so does the sweetness of a friend's counsel that comes from the heart.

10 Your own friend and your father's friend forsake not, neither go to your brother's house in the day of your calamity. Better is a neighbor who is near [in spirit] than a brother who is far off [in heart].

11 My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, that I may answer him who reproaches me [as having failed in parental duty]. [Prov. 10:1; 23:15, 24.]

12 A prudent man sees the evil and hides himself, but the simple pass on and are punished (with suffering).

13 [The judge tells the creditor] Take his garment who is security for a stranger, and hold him in pledge when he is security for foreigners.

14 The flatterer who loudly praises and glorifies his neighbor, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted as cursing him [for he will be suspected of sinister purpose].

15 A continual dripping on a day of violent showers and a contentious woman are alike. [Prov. 19:13.]

16 Whoever attempts to restrain a contentious woman might as well try to stop the wind; his right hand encounters oil [and she slips through his fingers].

17 Iron sharpens iron; so a man sharpens the countenance of his friend [to show rage or worthy purpose].

18 Whoever tends the fig tree shall eat the fruit of it; so he who patiently and faithfully guards and feeds his master shall be honored. [I Cor. 9:7, 13.]

19 As in water face answers to face, so the heart of man to man.

20 Sheol [the place of the dead] and Abaddon [the place of destruction] are never satisfied; so the lust of the eyes of man is never satisfied. [Prov. 30:16; Hab. 2:5.]

21 As the refining pot for silver and the furnace for gold [bring forth all the impurities of the metal], so let a man be in his trial of praise [ridding it of all that is base or insincere] — for a man is judged by what he praises and of what he boasts.

22 Even though like grain you should pound a fool in a mortar with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.

23 Be diligent to know the state of your flocks, and look well to your herds;

24 For riches are not for ever; does a crown endure to all generations?

25 When the hay is gone, the tender grass shows itself, and herbs of the mountain are gathered.

26 The lambs are for your clothing, and the goats furnish you the price of a field.

27 And there will be goats' milk enough for your food, for the food of your household and the maintenance of your maids.

CHAPTER 28

THE wicked flee when no man pursues them, but the [uncompromisingly] righteous are bold as a lion. [Lev. 26:17, 36; Ps. 53:5.]

2 When a land transgresses, it has many rulers; but when the ruler is a man of discernment, understanding and knowledge, its stability will long continue.

3 A poor man who oppresses the poor is like a sweeping rain which leaves no food [plundering them of their last morsels]. [Matt. 18:28.]

4 Those who forsake the law [of God and man] praise the wicked, but such as keep the law [of God and man] contend with them. [Prov. 29:18].

5 Evil men do not understand justice, but they who crave and seek the Lord understand it fully. [John 7:17; I Cor. 2:15; I John 2:20, 27.]

6 Better is the poor who walks in his integrity, than he who willfully goes in double and wrong ways, though he be rich.

7 Whoever keeps the law [of God and man] is a wise son, but he who is a companion of gluttons and the carousing, self-indulgent and extravagant shames his father.

8 He who by charging excessive interest and by unjust efforts to get gain increases his material possession, gathers it for him [to spend] who is kind and generous to the poor. [Prov. 13:22; Job 27:16, 17; Eccl. 2:26.]

9 He who turns away his ear from hearing the law [of God and man], even his prayer is an abomination, hateful and revolting to God. [Zech. 7:11; Prov. 15:8; Pss. 66:18; 109:7.]

10 Whoever leads the upright astray into an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit; but the blameless will have a goodly inheritance.

11 The rich man is wise in his own eyes and conceit, but the poor who has understanding will find him out.

12 When the [uncompromisingly] righteous triumph, there is great glory and celebration; but when the wicked rise [to power], men hide themselves.

13 He who covers his transgressions will not prosper, but whoever confesses and forsakes his sins shall obtain mercy. [Ps. 32:3, 5; I John 1:8-10.]

14 Blessed, happy, fortunate [and to be envied] is the man who reverently and worshipfully fears the Lord at all times [regardless of circumstances]; but he who hardens his heart will fall into calamity.

15 As a roaring lion or a ravenous and charging bear is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

16 A ruler who lacks understanding is [like a wicked one] a great oppressor, but he who hates covetousness and unjust gain shall prolong his days.

17 If a man willfully sheds the blood of a person [and keeps the guilt of it upon his conscience], he is fleeing to the pit [the grave] and hastening to his own destruction; let no man stop him!

18 He who walks uprightly shall be safe, but he who willfully goes in double and wrong ways shall fall in one of them.

19 He who cultivates his land shall have plenty of bread, but he who follows worthless people and pursuits will have poverty enough.

20 A faithful man shall abound with blessings; but he who makes haste to be rich [at any cost] shall not be unpunished. [Prov. 13:11; 20:21; 23:4; I Tim. 6:9.]

21 To have respect of persons and show partiality is not good, neither that man should transgress for a piece of bread.

22 He who has an evil and covetous eye hastens to be rich, and knows not that want will come upon him. [Prov. 21:5; 28:20.]

23 He who rebukes a man shall afterward find more favor than he who flatters with the tongue.

24 Whoever robs his father or his mother and says, That is no sin, he is in the same class as [an open, lawless robber and] a destroyer.

25 He who is of a greedy spirit stirs up strife, but he who puts his trust in the Lord shall be enriched and blessed.

26 He who leans on, trusts in and is confident of his own mind and heart is a [self-confident] fool, but he who walks with skillful and godly Wisdom shall be delivered. [James 1:5.]

27 He who gives to the poor will not want, but he who hides his eyes [from their want] will have many a curse. [Prov. 19:17; 22:9; Deut. 15:7.]

28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; but when they perish, the [consistently] righteous increase and become many.

CHAPTER 29

HE who being often reproved hardens his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

2 When the [uncompromisingly] righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked man rules, the people groan and sigh.

3 Whoever loves skillful and godly Wisdom rejoices his father, but he who associates with harlots wastes his substance.

4 The king by justice establishes the land, but he who exacts gifts and tribute overthrows it.

5 A man who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his own feet.

6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare, but the [uncompromisingly] righteous sing and rejoice.

7 The [consistently] righteous man knows and cares for the rights of the poor, but the wicked man has no interest in such knowledge. [Job 29:16; 31:13; Ps. 41:1.]

8 Scoffers set a city afire [inflaming the minds of the people], but wise men turn wrath away.

9 If a wise man has an argument with a foolish man, the fool only rages or laughs and there is no rest.

10 The bloodthirsty hate the blameless, but the upright care for and seek [to save] his life. [Gen. 4:5, 8; I John 3:12.]

11 A [self-confident] fool utters all his anger, but a wise man keeps it back and stills it.

12 If a ruler listens to falsehood, all his officials will be wicked.

13 The poor man and the oppressor meet together; the Lord gives light to the eyes of both.

14 The king who faithfully judges the poor, his throne shall be established continuously.

15 The rod and reproof give wisdom, but a child left undisciplined brings his mother to shame.

16 When the wicked are in authority transgression increases, but the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall see the fall of the wicked.

17 Correct your son, and he will give you rest; yes, he will give delight to your heart.

18 Where there is no vision [no redemptive revelations of God], the people perish; but he who keeps the law [of God, which includes that of man], blessed, happy, fortunate [and enviable] is he. [I Sam. 3:1, Amos 8:11, 12.]

19 A servant will not be corrected alone by words, for though he understands, he will not answer [the master who mistreats him].

20 Do you see a man who is hasty in his words? There is more hope of a [self-confident] fool than of him.

21 He who pampers his servant from a child will have him expecting the rights of a son afterward.

22 A man of wrath stirs up strife, and a man given to anger commits and causes much transgression.

23 A man's pride will bring him low, but he who is of a humble spirit shall obtain honor. [Prov. 15:33; 18:12; Isa. 66:2; Dan. 4:30; Matt. 23:12; James 4:6, 10; I Pet. 5:5.]

24 Whoever is partner with a thief hates his own life; he falls under the curse [pronounced upon him who knows who the thief is], but discloses nothing.

25 The fear of man brings a snare, but whoever leans on, trusts and puts his confidence in the Lord is safe and set on high.

26 Many crave and seek the ruler's favor, but the wise man waits for justice from the Lord.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous, and he who is upright in the way of the Lord is an abomination to the wicked.

CHAPTER 30

THE words of Agur the son of Jakeh of Massa. The man says to Ithiel, to Ithiel and Ucal:

2 Surely I am too brutish and stupid to be called a man, and have not the understanding of a man [for all my secular learning is as nothing].

3 I have not learned skillful and godly Wisdom that I should have the knowledge or burden of the Holy One.

4 Who has ascended into Heaven and descended? Who has gathered the wind in His fists? Who has bound the waters in His garment? Who has established all the ends of the earth? What is His name, and what is His Son's name, if you know? [John 3:13; Rev. 19:12.]

5 Every word of God is tried and purified; He is a shield to those who trust and take refuge in Him. [Pss. 18:30; 84:11; 115:9-11.]

6 Add not to His words, lest He reprove you, and you be found a liar.

7 Two things have I asked of You,

O Lord; deny them not to me before I die:

8 Remove far from me falsehood and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with the food that is needful for me,

9 Lest I be full, and deny You, and say, Who is the Lord? Or lest I be poor and steal, and profane the name of my God. [Deut. 8:12, 14, 17; Neh. 9:25, 26; Job 31:24; Hos. 13:6.]

10 Do not accuse and hurt a servant to his master, lest he curse you, and you be held guilty [of adding to the burdens of the lowly].

11 There is a class of people who curse their father, and do not bless their mother.

12 There is a class of people who are pure in their own eyes, and yet are not washed from their own filth.

13 There is a class of people, Oh, how lofty are their eyes and their raised high eyelids!

14 There is a class of people whose teeth are as swords and their fangs as knives, to devour the poor from the earth and the needy from among men.

15 The leech has two daughters, crying, Give, give! There are three things that are never satisfied; yes, four that do not say, It is enough:

16 Sheol [the place of the dead], the barren womb, the earth that is not satisfied with water, and the fire that says not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocks a father and scorns to obey a mother, the ravens of the valley will pick it out, and the young vultures will devour it. [Prov. 20:20; 23:22; Lev. 20:9.]

18 There are three things which are too wonderful for me; yes, four which I do not understand:

19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 This is the way of an adulterous woman; she eats and wipes her mouth and says, I have done no wickedness.

21 Under three things the earth is disquieted, and under four it cannot bear up.

22 Under a servant when he reigns, and [an empty headed] fool when he is filled with food;

23 An unloved and repugnant woman when she is married, and a maid-servant when she supplants her mistress.

24 There are four things which are little on the earth, but they are exceedingly wise:

25 The ants are a people not strong, yet they lay up their food in the summer; [Prov. 6:6.]

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet they make their houses in the rocks; [Ps. 104:18.]

27 The locusts have no king, yet they go forth all of them by bands;

28 The lizard you can seize with your hands, yet it is in kings' palaces.

29 There are three things which are stately in step; yes, four are stately in their stride:

30 The lion which is mightiest among beasts, and turns not back before any;

31 The war horse — well-knit in the loins; the male goat also, and the king [when his army is with him and] against whom there is no rising up.

32 If you have done foolishly in exalting yourself, or if you have thought evil, lay your hand upon your mouth. [Job 21:5; 40:4.]

33 Surely the churning of milk brings forth butter, and the wringing of the nose brings forth blood; so the forcing of wrath brings forth strife.

CHAPTER 31

THE words of Lemuel, king of Massa, which his mother taught him:

2 What, my ^{*}son? What, son of my

x) It is important to the purpose of this invaluable chapter that one realize that it is first of all intended for young men. It is the mother's God-given task to provide youth with this information directly from its inspired source, letting them grow up with it in their consciousness.

womb? What shall I advise you, son of my vows and dedication to God?

3 Give not your strength to [loose] women, nor your ways to those who and that which ruin and destroy kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, or for rulers to desire strong drink; [Eccl. 10:17; Hos. 4:11.]

5 Lest they drink and forget the law and what it decrees, and pervert the justice due any of the afflicted.

6 Give strong drink [as medicine] to him who is ready to pass away, and wine to those in bitter distress of heart.

7 Let him drink and forget his poverty, and [seriously] remember his want and misery no more.

8 Open your mouth for the dumb [those unable to speak for themselves], for the rights of all who are left desolate and defenseless; [Job 29:15, 16; I Sam. 19:4; Esth. 4:16.]

9 Open your mouth, judge righteously, and administer justice for the poor and needy. [Lev. 19:15; Deut. 1:16; Job 29:12; Isa. 1:17; Jer. 22:16.]

10 A capable, intelligent and virtuous woman, who is he who can find her? She is far more precious than jewels, and her value is far above rubies or pearls. [Prov. 12:4; 18:22; 19:14.]

11 The heart of her husband trusts in her confidently and relies on and believes in her safely, so that he has no lack of honest gain or need of dishonest spoil.

12 She will comfort, encourage and do him only good as long as there is life within her.

13 She seeks out the wool and flax and works with willing hands to develop it.

14 She is like the merchant ships loaded with foodstuffs, she brings her household's food from a far [country].

15 She rises while yet it is night and gets spiritual food for her household and assigns her maids their tasks. [Job 23:12.]

16 She considers a new field before she buys or accepts it—expanding prudently [and not courting neglect of her present duties by assuming others]. With her savings [of time and strength] she plants fruitful vines in her vineyard. [S. of Sol. 8:12.]

17 She girds herself with strength [spiritual, mental and physical fitness for her God-given task] and makes her arms strong and firm.

18 She tastes and sees that her gain from work [with and for God] is good; her lamp goes not out; but it burns on continually through the night [of trouble, privation or sorrow, warning away fear, doubt and distrust].

19 She lays her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff.

20 She opens her hand to the poor; yes, she reaches out her filled hands to the needy [whether in body, mind or spirit].

21 She fears not the snow for her family, for all her household are doubly clothed in scarlet. [Josh. 2:18, 19; Heb. 9:19-22.]

22 She makes for herself coverlets, cushions and rugs of tapestry. Her clothing is of linen, pure white and fine, and of purple [such as that of which the clothing of the priests and the hallowed cloths of the temple are made]. [Isa. 61:10; I Tim. 2:9; Rev. 3:5; 19:8, 14.]

23 Her husband is known in the city's gates, when he sits among the elders of the land. [Prov. 12:4.]

24 She makes fine linen garments and leads others to buy them; she delivers to the merchants girdles [or sashes that free one for service].

25 Strength and dignity are her

y) Most unfortunately this description of God's ideal woman is usually confined in readers minds merely to its literal sense—her ability as a homemaker, as was Martha of Bethany. But it is obvious that far more than that is meant. When the summary of what makes her price "far above rubies" is given (verse 30), it is her spiritual life only that is mentioned. One can almost hear the voice of Jesus (Luke 10:42), saying, "Mary has chosen that good portion . . . which shall not be taken from her."

clothing and her position is strong and secure. She rejoices over the future — the latter day or time to come [knowing that she and her family are in readiness for it!]

26 She opens her mouth with skillful and godly Wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness — giving counsel and instruction.

27 She looks well to how things go in her household, and the bread of idleness [gossip, discontent and self-pity] she will not eat. [I Tim. 5:14; Titus 2:5.]

28 Her children rise up and call her blessed [happy, fortunate and to be envied]; and her husband boasts of and praises her, saying, 29 *Many daughters have done virtuously, nobly and well [with the strength of character that is steadfast in goodness] but *you excel them all.

30 Charm and grace are deceptive, and beauty is vain [because it is not lasting], but a woman who reverently and worshipfully fears the Lord, she shall be praised!

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands, and let her own works praise her in the gates of the city! [Phil. 4:8.]

ECCLESIASTES

CHAPTER 1

THE words of the Preacher, the son of David and king of Jerusalem.

2 Vapor of vapors and futility of futilities, says the Preacher, vapor of vapors and futility of futilities, all is vanity — emptiness, falsity and vain-glory. [Rom. 8:20.]

3 What profit has man left of all his toil at which he toils *under the sun? [Is life worth living?]

4 One generation goes, and another generation comes, but the earth remains for ever. [Ps. 119:90.]

5 The sun also rises and the sun goes down, and hastens to the place where it rises.

6 The wind goes to the south, and circles about to the north; it circles and circles about continually, and on its circling the wind returns again. [John 3:8.]

7 All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full; unto the place from which the rivers come, to there and from there they return again.

8 All things are weary with toil and all words are feeble; man cannot utter it; the eye is not satisfied with seeing,

2) "Many daughters have done . . . nobly and well . . . but you excel them all." This is a very great deal to be recorded of her, a woman in private life. It means she had done more than Miriam, the leader of a nation's women in praise to God, Exod. 15:20, 21; Deborah, the patriotic military advisor, Judg. 4:4-10; Huldah, the woman who revealed God's secret message to national leaders, II Kings 22:14; Ruth, the woman of constancy, Ruth 1:16; Hannah, the ideal mother, I Sam. 1:20; 2:19; the Shunammite, the hospitable woman, II Kings 4:8-10; and even more than Queen Esther, the woman who risked sacrificing her life for her people, Esth. 4:16.

In what way did she "excel them all"? In her spiritual and practical devotion to God, which permeated every area and relationship of her life. All seven of the Christian virtues (II Pet. 1:5) are there, like colored threads in a tapestry. Her secret, which is open to every one, is the Holy Spirit's climax of the story, and of this book. In verse thirty that "reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord" which is "the beginning and principal part of Wisdom" (Prov. 1:7) is given the full responsibility for a life which is valued by God and her husband as "far above rubies or pearls."

a) Ecclesiastes is the book of the natural man whose interests are confined to the unstable, vanishing baubles and empty satisfactions of those who live merely "under the sun." The natural man is unaware that all the affirmative answers to life are to be found in Him Who is above, not "under the sun." The natural man grovels in the dust and finds only earthworms, while the spiritual man may soar up with wings as eagles, above all that is futile and disappointing, and live in the consciousness of God's companionship, favor and incomparable, everlasting rewards.

nor the ear filled with hearing. [Prov. 27:20.]

9 The thing that has been, it is what will be, and that which has been done is that which will be done, and there is nothing new under the sun.

10 Is there a thing of which it may be said, See, this is new? It has already been, in the vast ages of time [recorded or unrecorded] which were before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former happenings or men, neither will there be any remembrance of happenings of generations that are to come, with those who are to come after them.

12 I the Preacher have been king over Israel in Jerusalem.

13 And I applied by heart and mind to seek and search out by [human] ^bwisdom all human activity under heaven. It is a miserable business which God has given to the sons of man with which to be busied.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity, a striving after wind and feeding on wind.

15 What is crooked cannot be made straight, and what is defective and lacking cannot be counted.

16 I entered into counsel with my own mind, saying, Lo, I have acquired great [human] wisdom, yes, more than all who have been over Jerusalem before me; and my mind has had great experience of [moral] wisdom and [scientific] knowledge.

17 And I gave my mind to know [practical] wisdom and to discern [the character of] madness and folly [in which men seem to find satisfaction]. I perceived that this also is searching after wind and feeding on it. [I Thess. 5:21.]

18 For in much [human] wisdom is much vexation, and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

CHAPTER 2

I SAID in my mind, Come now, I will prove you with mirth and test you with pleasure, so have a good time — enjoy pleasure. But this also was vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility! [Luke 12:19, 20.]

2 I said of laughter, It is mad, and of pleasure, What does it accomplish?

3 I searched in my mind how to cheer my body with wine, yet at the same time have my mind hold its course and guide me with [human] wisdom, and to lay hold of folly till I might see what was good for the sons of men to do under heaven all the days of their life.

4 I made great works; I built myself houses; I planted vineyards.

5 I made myself gardens and orchards, and I planted in them all kinds of fruit trees.

6 I made myself pools of water from which to water the forest and make the trees to bud.

7 I bought menservants and maid-servants, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, more than any who had been before me in Jerusalem.

8 I also gathered for myself silver and gold and the treasure of kings and of the provinces. I got me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, ^dconcubines very many. [I Kings 9:28; 10:10, 14, 21.]

9 So I became great and increased more than all that were before me in

- b) The "wisdom" of Proverbs is not the "wisdom" of Ecclesiastes. The former is Godlike, the latter is usually human.
- c) Throughout this book not once is the Supreme Being recognized as "Lord" [of lords and King of kings]. The word used to designate Him is invariably the one that may be applied to God or to idols — "Elohim," the God recognized "under the sun." The wisdom which is thus limited can end only in "miserable business" and vexation of spirit until it finds "the wisdom that is from above" (James 3:17), "the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world for our glory" (I Cor. 2:7).
- d) Solomon's reign began under most promising conditions: "he loved the Lord and walked in the statutes of David his father . . . The people feared him, for they saw that the wisdom of God was in him to do judgment." But soon his own "wisdom" alone was guiding him. He openly affronted God by taking many wives, even beathen women. They seduced him into toleration or practice of idolatry (I Kings 11:1).

Jerusalem; also my wisdom remained with me and stood by me.

10 And whatever my eyes desired I kept not from them; I withheld not my heart from any pleasure, for my heart rejoiced in all my labor, and this was my portion and reward for all my toil.

11 Then I looked on all that my hands had done and the labor I had spent in doing it, and behold, all was vanity and searching for wind and feeding on it, and there was no profit under the sun. [Matt. 16:26.]

12 So I turned to consider [human] wisdom and madness and folly; for what can the man do who succeeds the king? Nothing but what has been done already.

13 Then I saw that even [human] wisdom [that brings sorrow] is better than [the pleasures of] folly as far as light is better than darkness.

14 The wise man's eyes are in his head, but the fool walks in darkness; and yet I perceived that in the end one event happens to them all. [Prov. 17:24.]

15 Then said I in my heart, As it happens to the fool, so it will happen even to me; and of what use is it then for me to be more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity — emptiness, vainglory and futility!

16 For of the wise man, the same as of the fool, there is no permanent remembrance, since in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. And how does the wise man die? Even as the fool!

17 So I hated life, because what is done under the sun was grievous to me; for all is vanity, and a striving after wind and feeding on it.

18 And I hated all my labor in which I had toiled under the sun; seeing that I must leave it to the man who will succeed me; [Ps. 49:10.]

19 And who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have dominion over all my labor in which I have toiled, and in which I have shown myself wise under the sun. This is also vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility!

20 So I turned around and gave my heart up to despair over all the labor of my efforts under the sun.

21 For here is a man whose labor is in wisdom and knowledge and skill; yet to a man who has not toiled for it he must leave it all as his portion. This also is vanity — emptiness, falsity, futility — and a great evil!

22 For what has a man left of all his labor and of the striving and vexation of his heart in which he has toiled under the sun?

23 For all his days are but pain and sorrows, and his work is a vexation and grief; his mind takes no rest even at night. This is also vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility!

24 There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and make himself enjoy good in his labor. Even this, I saw, is from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment any more than I — apart from Him?

26 For to the person who pleases Him God gives wisdom and knowledge and joy; but to the sinner He gives the work of gathering and heaping up, that he may give to one who pleases God. This also is vanity and striving for the wind and feeding on it.

CHAPTER 3

TO every thing there is a season, and a time for every matter or purpose under heaven:

2 A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted. [Heb. 9:27.]

3 A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

e) (According to the Septuagint and Syriac reading.) Jesus recognized the unprecedented glory which Solomon's human wisdom had brought him, but He said that Solomon arrayed in all of it was not equal in glory to one tiny lily of the field — which God's wisdom had made. (Matt. 6:29).

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

6 A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

7 A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; [Amos 5:13.]

8 A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace. [Luke 14:26.]

9 What profit remains for the worker from his toil?

10 I have seen the painful labor and business exertion which God has given to the sons of men in which to be exercised and busy.

11 He has made everything beautiful in its time; He also has planted eternity in men's heart and mind [a divinely implanted sense of a purpose working through the ages which nothing under the sun, but only God, can satisfy], yet so that man cannot find out what God has done from the beginning to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing better for them than to be glad and to get and do good as long as they live;

13 And also that every man should eat and drink and enjoy the good of all his labor; it is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatever God does, it endures for ever; nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it; and God does it so that men will (reverently) fear Him — know that He is, revere and worship Him. [James 1:17; Ps. 19:9.]

15 That which is now, already has been; and that which is to be, already has been; and God seeks out that which has passed by [so that history repeats itself].

16 Moreover I saw under the sun that in the place of justice there was wickedness; and that in the place of righteousness also, wickedness was there.

17 I said in my heart, God will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time [appointed] for every matter and purpose and for every work.

18 I said in my heart regarding the subject of the sons of men that God is (separating and sifting) trying them that they may see that by themselves [under the sun, without God] they are but as beasts.

19 For that which befalls the sons of men befalls beasts, even one thing befalls them; as the one dies, so dies the other. Yes, they all have one breath and spirit, so that a 'man has no pre-eminence over a beast; for all is vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility!

20 All go to one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again.

21 Who knows the spirit of man whether it goes upward and the spirit of the beast whether it goes downward to the earth?

22 So I saw that there is nothing better than that a man should rejoice in his own works, for that is his portion; for who shall bring him back to see what has happened after he is gone?

CHAPTER 4

THEN I returned and considered all the oppressions that are practiced

¶ Does the Bible really teach that "a man has no pre-eminence above a beast"? No! The Bible only records that the book of Ecclesiastes says it. Then why is this book in the Bible? Can it possibly be called inspired by God when it makes such "under the sun" pronouncements, some only partially true, others entirely false? Here is the tested answer: "Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching . . . reproof . . . correction, for instruction . . . in righteousness." (II Tim. 3:16 ASV.) The divine purpose in including Ecclesiastes in the Bible is obvious. It gives a startling picture of how fatal it is for even the wisest of men to substitute man's "wisdom" for God's wisdom and attempt to live by it. Solomon's reign began with God, gold and glory. It ended with bafflement, brass and bewildered acceptance of man's having "no pre-eminence above a beast"! — man, who was made "in the image of God," and "but little lower than God" or "the angels"! (Gen. 1:27; Ps. 8:5 with the margin, ASV.)

under the sun. And I beheld the tears of the oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors was power, but they too had no comforter.

2 So I praised and thought more fortunate those who have been long dead than the living who are still alive.

3 But better than them both I thought him who has not yet been born, who has not seen the evil deeds that are done under the sun.

4 Then I saw that all painful effort in labor and all skill in work comes from man's rivalry with his neighbor. This is also vanity, vain striving for the wind and feeding on it.

5 The fool folds his hands together, and eats his own flesh — by indolence destroying himself.

6 Better is a handful with quietness, than both the hands full with painful effort, vain striving for the wind and feeding on it.

7 Then I returned, and I saw vanity under the sun [in one of its peculiar forms].

8 Here is one alone, no one with him; he neither has child nor brother, yet there is no end of all his labor, neither is his eye satisfied with riches, neither does he ask, For whom do I labor and deprive myself of good? This is also vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility; yes, it is painful effort and unhappy business. [Prov. 27:20; I John 2:16.]

9 Two are better than one, because they have a good [more satisfying] reward for their labor;

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow. But woe to him who is alone when he falls and has not another to lift him up!

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one be warm alone?

12 And though a man might prevail against him who is alone, two will withstand him. A threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who "no longer knows how to receive counsel (friendly reproof and warning);

14 Even though the youth comes out of prison to reign, while the other, born a king, becomes needy.

15 I saw all the living who walk under the sun, with the youth who was to stand up in the king's stead.

16 There was no end of all the people; he was over all of them. Yet those who come later will not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity — emptiness, falsity, vainglory — and striving after wind and feeding on it.

CHAPTER 5

KEEP your foot — give your mind to what you are doing — when you go [as Jacob to sacred Bethel] to the house of God; for to draw near to hear and obey is better than to give the sacrifice of fools [carelessly, irreverently], too ignorant to know that they are doing evil. [Gen. 35:1-4; Exod. 3:5.]

2 Be not rash with your mouth, and let not your heart be hasty to utter a word before God; for God is in Heaven, and you upon earth; therefore let your words be few.

3 For a dream comes with much business and painful effort, and a fool's voice with many words.

4 When you vow a vow or make a pledge to God, do not put off paying it; for God has no pleasure in fools [those who witlessly mock Him]. Pay what you vow. [Pss. 50:14; 76:11; 66:13, 14.]

5 It is better that you should not vow than that you should vow and not pay. [Prov. 20:25; Acts 5:4.]

6 Do not allow your mouth to cause

g) "Christianity calls upon us to make our old age into an aspect of youth. There is to be no old age in the sense of spiritual exhaustion or moral decrepitude, or misanthropic isolation; old age is to be equivalent to increase of kingliness and bounty and holy influence." "The path of the righteous is as the dawning light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." (Prov. 4:18, ASV.)

your body to sin, and do not say before the messenger [the priest] that it was an error or mistake. Why should God be [made] angry at your voice and destroy the work of your hands? [Mal. 2:7.]

7 For in a multitude of dreams there is futility and worthlessness, and ruin in a flood of words. But do you [reverently] fear God — know He is, revere and worship Him.

8 If you see the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away justice and righteousness in the state or province, do not marvel at the matter. [Be sure that there are those who will attend to it] for a higher than the high is observing, and higher ones are over them.

9 Moreover the profit of the earth is for all; the king himself is served by the field, and in all, a king is an advantage to a land with cultivated fields.

10 He who loves silver will not be satisfied with silver, nor he who loves abundance with gain. This also is vanity — emptiness, falsity, futility!

11 When goods increase, they who eat them increase also; and what gain is there to their owner except to see them with his eyes?

12 The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eats little or much; but the fullness of the rich will not let him sleep.

13 There is a serious and severe evil which I have seen under the sun: riches were kept by their owner to his hurt.

14 But those riches are lost by a bad venture; and he becomes the father of a son, and there is nothing in his hand with which to support the child.

15 As the man came forth from his mother's womb so he will go again, naked as he came, and will take away nothing for all his labor, which he may carry in his hand.

16 And this also is a serious and severe evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go; and what gain has he that labored for the wind? [I Tim. 6:6.]

17 All his days also he eats in darkness [cheerlessly, with no sweetness and light in them], and much sorrow and sickness and wrath are his.

18 Behold, what I have seen to be good and fitting is for one to eat and to drink, and find enjoyment in all the labor in which he labors under the sun all the days which God gives him, for this is his (allotted) part. [I Tim. 6:17.]

19 Also every man to whom God has given riches and possessions and power to enjoy them, and to accept his appointed lot and to rejoice in his toil, this is the gift of God to him.

20 For he shall not much remember [seriously] the days of his life, because God [Himself] answers and corresponds to the joy of his heart [the tranquillity of God is mirrored in him].

CHAPTER 6

THERE is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it lies heavily upon men:

2 A man to whom God has given riches, possessions, and honor, so that he lacks nothing for his soul of all that he might desire, yet God does not give him the power or capacity to enjoy them [which is the gift of God], but a stranger [in whom he has no interest succeeds him and] consumes and enjoys them. This is vanity — emptiness, falsity, futility; it is a sore affliction! [Luke 12:20.]

3 If a man begets a hundred children, and lives many years so that the days of his years are many, but his life is not filled with good, and also he be given no burial [honors nor be laid to rest in the sepulcher of his fathers], I say that [he who had] an untimely birth [causing death] is better off than he,

4 For the untimely one comes in futility and goes into darkness, and in darkness his name is covered;

5 Moreover he has not seen the sun nor had any knowledge, yet he [the stillborn child] has rest rather than he [who is aware of all that he has missed and not had to suffer].

6 Even though he lives a thousand years twice over, yet has seen no good and experienced no enjoyment, do not all go to one place [the place of the dead]?

7 All the labor of man is for his mouth [for self-preservation and enjoyment], and yet his desire is not satisfied. [Prov. 16:26.]

8 For what advantage has the wise man over the fool? [Being worldly-wise is no secret of happiness.] What advantage has the poor man who has learned how to walk before the living — publicly, with men's eyes upon him? [Being poor is not the secret of happiness, either.]

9 Better is the sight of the eyes [the enjoyment of what is available to one] than the cravings of wandering desire. This is also vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility; a striving for the wind [and feeding on it!].

10 Whatever man is, he has been named that long ago, and it is known that it is Adam [Adam means man, of the ground; the very name witnesses to his frailty]; nor can he contend with him who is mightier than he [whether God or death].

11 Seeing that there are all these and many other things and words that increase the emptiness, falsity, vainglory and futility [of living], what profit and what outcome is there for man?

12 For who [limited to human wisdom] knows what is good for man in his life, all the days of his vain life which he spends as a shadow [going through motions, but accomplishing nothing]? For who can tell a man what will happen [to his work, his treasure, his plans] under the sun after he is gone?

CHAPTER 7

A GOOD name is better than precious perfume; and the day of death than the day of one's birth.

2 It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting; for that is the end of all men, and the living will lay it to heart.

3 Sorrow is better than laughter, for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better and gains gladness. [II Cor. 7:10.]

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth and sensual joy.

5 It is better for a man to hear the rebuke of the wise than to hear the song of fools.

6 For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool. This also is vanity — emptiness, falsity, futility!

7 Surely oppression and extortion make a wise man foolish, and a bribe destroys the understanding and judgment.

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning of it, and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

9 Do not be quick in spirit to be angry or vexed, for anger and vexation lodge in the bosom of fools. [James 1:19, 20.]

10 Do not say, Why were the old days better than these? For it is not wise or because of wisdom that you ask this.

11 Wisdom is as good as an inheritance, yes, more excellent it is for those [the living] who see the sun.

12 For wisdom is a defense even as money is a defense; but the excellency of knowledge is that wisdom shields

b) How impressive throughout Ecclesiastes is the evidence that, while Solomon is doing his utmost to prove that life is futile and not worth living, the Holy Spirit is using him to show that these conclusions are the tragic effect of living "under the sun" — ignoring the Lord, away from God the Father, oblivious of the Holy Spirit — and yet face to face with the mysteries of life and nature!

and preserves the life of him who has it.

13 Consider the work of God; who can make straight what He has made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider that God has made the one side by side with the other, so that man may not find out anything that shall be after him.

15 I have seen everything in the days of my vanity — my emptiness, falsity, vainglory and futility; there is a righteous man who perishes in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man who prolongs his life in [spite of] his evil-doing.

16 Be not [morbidly exacting and externally] righteous overmuch, neither strive to make yourself [pretentiously appear] overwise; why should you [get puffed up and] destroy yourself [with presumptuous self-sufficiency]?

17 [Although all have sinned] be not wicked overmuch or willfully, neither be foolish; why should you die before your time?

18 It is good that you should take hold of this, and from that withdraw not your hand; for he who reverently fears and worships God will come forth from them all.

19 True wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers or valiant generals who are in the city. [II Tim. 3:15; Ps. 127:1.]

20 Surely there is not a righteous man upon earth who does good and never sins. [Isa. 53:6; Rom. 3:23.]

21 Do not give heed to everything that is said, lest you hear your servant cursing you;

22 For often your own heart knows that you also have likewise cursed others.

23 All this have I tried and proved by wisdom; I said, I will be wise [independently of God], but it was far from me.

24 That which is, is far off, and deep, very deep; who can find it out [true wisdom independent of the fear of God]? [I Tim. 6:16.]

25 I turned about [penitent], and my heart was set to know and to search out and to seek [true] wisdom and the reason of things, and to know that wickedness is folly, and that foolishness is madness [and what had led me into such wickedness and madness].

26 And I found that [of all sinful follies none has been so ruinous in seducing one from God as idolatrous women] more bitter than death is the woman whose heart is snares and nets and whose hands are bands. Whoever pleases God shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this I have found, says the Preacher, weighing one thing after another to find out the right estimate [and the reason],

28 Which I am still seeking, but I have not found: one upright man among a thousand have I found, but an upright woman among all those [one thousand in my harem] have I not found. [I Kings 11:3.]

29 Lo, this is the only reason for it that I have found: God made man upright, but they [men and women] have sought out many devices for evil.

CHAPTER 8

WHO is like the wise man? And who knows the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom makes his face shine, and the hardness of his countenance is changed.

2 I counsel you to keep the king's command, and that in regard to the oath of God [by which you swore him loyalty]. [II Sam. 21:7.]

3 Be not terror-stricken and hasty to get out of his presence; persist not in an evil thing, for he does whatever he pleases;

4 For the word of a king is authority and power, and who can say to him, What are you doing?

5 Whoever observes the [king's] command will experience no harm, and a wise man's mind will know both when and what to do.

6 For every purpose and matter has its right time and judgment, although the misery and wickedness of man lies heavily upon him [who rebels against the king];

7 For he does not know what is to be, for who can tell him how and when it will be?

8 There is no man who has power over the spirit to retain the breath of life, neither has he power over the day of death; and there is no discharge in battle [against death], neither will wickedness deliver those who are its possessors and given to it.

9 All this have I seen while applying my mind to every work that is done under the sun; there is a time in which one man has power over another to his own hurt or to the other man's.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone out of the holy place [but did not thereby escape their doom], and they were [praised and] forgotten in the city where they had done such things. This also is vanity — emptiness, falsity, vainglory and futility!

11 Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, the heart of the sons of men is fully set to do evil.

12 Though a sinner do evil a hundred times, and his days [seemingly] be prolonged [in his wickedness], yet surely I know that it will be well with those who (reverently) fear God, who revere and worship Him, realizing His continual presence. [Ps. 37:11, 18, 19; Isa. 3:10, 11; Matt. 25:34.]

13 But it will not be well with the wicked, neither will he prolong his days like a shadow, because he does not reverently fear and worship God. [Matt. 25:41.]

14 Here also is a futility that goes on upon the earth: there are righteous men who fare as though they were wicked, and wicked men who fare as though they were righteous. I said that this also is vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility!

15 Then I commended enjoyment, because a man has no better thing under the sun [without God] than to eat, and to drink, and to be joyful, for that will remain with him in his toil through the days of his life which God gives him under the sun.

16 When I applied my mind to know wisdom, and to see the business activity [and the painful effort] that take place upon the earth, how neither day nor night some men's eyes sleep,

17 Then I saw of all the work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun; because however much a man may toil in seeking, yet he will not find it out; yes, more than that, though a wise man thinks and claims he knows, yet will he not be able to find it out. [Cf. Deut. 29:29; Rom. 11:33.]

CHAPTER 9

FOR all this I took to heart, exploring and examining it all, how the righteous — the upright, in right standing with God — and the wise and their works are in the hand of God; whether it is to be love or hatred no man knows; all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all; there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked, to the good and clean and to the unclean; to him who sacrifices and to him who does not sacrifice. As is the good man, so is the sinner, and he who swears is as he who fears and shuns an oath.

3 This evil is in all that is done under the sun; that one fate comes to all; also the hearts of men are full of evil, and madness is in their hearts while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 [There is no exemption,] but he who is joined to all the living has hope, for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they will die, but the dead know nothing, and they have no more reward here, for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Their love and their hatred and their envy have already perished; neither have they any more a share for ever in anything that is done under the sun.

7 Go your way, eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a cheerful heart [if you are righteous, wise, and in the hand of God], for God has already accepted your works.

8 Let your garments be always white [with purity], and let your head not lack the oil [of gladness].

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of your vain life which He has given you under the sun — all the days of futility; for that is your portion in this life and in your work at which you toil under the sun.

10 Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work or device or knowledge or wisdom in Sheol [the place of the dead], where you are going.

11 I returned and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither bread to the wise, nor riches to men of intelligence and understanding, nor favor to men of skill; but time and chance happen to them all. [Rom. 9:16; Ps. 33:16-19.]

12 For man also knows not his time [of death]; as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when calamity falls suddenly upon them.

13 This [illustration of] wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great to me:

14 There was a little city with few men in it; and a great king came against it and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it.

15 But there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city. Yet no man [seriously] remembered that poor man.

16 But I say that wisdom is better than might, though the poor man's wisdom is despised and his words are not heeded.

17 The words of wise men heard in quiet are better than the shouts of him who rules among fools.

18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner destroys much good.

CHAPTER 10

DEAD flies cause the ointment of the perfumer to putrefy [and] send forth a vile odor; so does a little folly [in him who is valued for wisdom] outweigh wisdom and honor.

2 A wise man's heart turns him toward his right hand, but a fool's heart toward his left. [Matt. 25:31-41.]

3 Even when he who is a fool walks along the road, his heart and understanding fail him, and he says of everyone and to everyone that he is a fool.

4 If the temper of the ruler rises up against you, do not leave your place [or show a resisting spirit]; for gentleness and calmness prevent or put a stop to great offenses.

5 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceeds from the ruler:

6 Folly is set in great dignity and in high places, and the rich sit in a low place.

7 I have seen slaves on horses, and princes walking like slaves on the earth.

8 He who digs a pit [for others] will fall into it, and whoever breaks through a fence or a stone wall, a serpent will bite him.

9 Whoever removes [landmark] stones or hews out [new ones with similar intent] will be hurt with them, and he who fells trees will be endangered by it.

10 If the axe is dull, and the man does not whet the edge, he must put forth more strength; but wisdom helps him to succeed.

11 If the serpent bites before it is charmed, then it is no use to call a charmer, [and the slanderer is no better than the uncharmed snake].

12 The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious and win him favor, but the lips of a fool will consume him.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness, and the end of his talk is wicked madness.

14 A fool also multiplies words, though no man can tell what will be; and what will happen after he is gone, who can tell him?

15 The labor of fools wearies every one of them, because [he is so ignorant of the ordinary matters that] he does not even know how to get to town.

16 Woe to you, O land, when your king is a child or a servant, and your officials feast in the morning!

17 Happy, fortunate [and to be envied] are you, O land, when your king is a free man and of noble birth and character, and your officials feast at the proper time, for strength, and not for drunkenness! [Isa. 32:8.]

18 Through indolence the rafters [of state affairs] decay and the roof sinks in, and through idleness of the hands the house leaks.

19 [Instead of repairing the breaches, the officials] make a feast for laughter, serve wine to cheer life, and depend on [tax] money to answer for all of it.

20 Curse not the king, no not in your thought, and curse not the rich in your bedchamber; for a bird of the air will carry the voice, and a winged creature will tell the matter. [Exod. 22:28.]

CHAPTER 11

CAST your bread upon the waters, for you will find it after many days.

2 Give a portion to seven, yes, even divide it to eight; for you know not what evil may come on the earth.

3 If the clouds are full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth; and if a tree falls toward the south or toward the north, in the place where the tree falls, there it will lie.

4 He who observes the wind [and waits for all conditions to be favorable] will not sow, and he who regards the clouds will not reap.

5 As you know not what is the way of the wind or how the spirit comes to the bones in the womb of a pregnant woman, even so you know not the work of God Who does all.

6 In the morning sow your seed, and in the evening withhold not your hand; for you know not which shall prosper, this or that, or whether both alike will be good.

7 Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun.

8 Yes, if a man live many years, let him rejoice in them all; yet let him [seriously] remember the days of darkness, for they will be many. All that comes is vanity — emptiness, falsity, vainglory and futility!

9 Rejoice, O young man, in your adolescence, and let your heart cheer you in the days of your full-grown youth, and walk in the ways of your heart, and in the sight of your eyes. But know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment.

10 Therefore remove [the lusts that end in] sorrow and vexation from your heart and mind, and put away evil from your body, for youth and the dawn of life are vanity — transitory, idle, empty and devoid of truth. [I Cor. 7:1; II Tim. 2:22.]

CHAPTER 12

REMEMBER [earnestly] also your Creator [that you are not your own, but His property], now in the days of your youth, before the evil days come or the years draw near when you will say [of physical pleasures], I have no enjoyment in them; [II Sam. 19:35.]

2 Before sight is impaired, and the sun and the light and the moon and the stars are darkened and the clouds [of depression] return after the rain [of tears];

3 In the day when the keepers of the house [the hands and the arms] tremble, and the strong men [the feet and knees] bow themselves, and the grinders [the molar teeth] cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows [the eyes] be darkened.

4 And the doors [the lips] are shut in the streets; when the sound of the grinding of the teeth is low, and one rises up at the voice of a bird and the crowing of a cock, and all the daughters of music [the voice and ear] shall be brought low;

5 Also when the old are afraid of danger from that which is high, and fears are in the way, and the almond tree [white hair] blooms, and the grasshopper [a little thing] is a burden, and desire and appetite fail, because man goes to his everlasting home, and the mourners go about the streets or market places. [Job 17:13.]

6 Remember your Creator earnestly now, before the silver cord of life is snapped apart, or the golden bowl is broken, or the pitcher is broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern [and the whole circulatory system of the blood ceases to function],

7 Then shall the dust [of which God made man's body] return to the earth as it was, and the spirit shall return to God Who gave it.

8 Futility of futilities, says the Preacher; all is futility — emptiness, falsity, vainglory and transitoriness!

9 And further, because the Preacher was wise, he [Solomon] still taught the people knowledge; and he pondered and sought out and set in order many proverbs.

10 The Preacher sought out acceptable words, and to write down rightly words of truth or correct sentiment.

11 The words of the wise are as prodding goads, and firmly fixed [in the mind] like nails are the collected sayings which are given [as proceeding] from one shepherd. [Ezek. 37:24.]

12 But about going further [than words given by one shepherd], my son, be warned. Of making many books there is no end [so do not believe everything you read], and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

13 All has been heard. The end of the matter is, Fear God — know that He is, revere and worship Him — and keep His commandments: for this is the whole of man [the full original purpose of his creation, the object of God's providence, the root of character, the foundation of all happiness, the adjustment to all inharmonious circumstances and conditions under the sun], and the whole duty for every man.

14 For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it is good or evil. [Matt. 12:36; Acts 17:30, 31; Rom. 2:16; I Cor. 4:5.]

THE SONG OF SOLOMON

NOTE: Among the multitudes who read the Bible are comparatively few who have a clear understanding of the Song of Solomon. Some have thought it a collection of songs, but it is more gen- erally understood to be a sort of drama, positive interpretation of which is impossible because the identity of the speakers and the length of the speeches are not disclosed.

CHAPTER 1

THE song of songs — the most excellent of them all — which is Solomon's. [I Kings 4:32.]

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth! [she cries. Then realizing that Solomon has arrived and has heard her speech, turning to him she adds] For your love is better than wine!

3 And she continues, The odor of your ointments is fragrant; your name is like perfume poured out; therefore do the maidens love you.

4 Draw me! We will run after you! The king brings me into his apartments! We will be glad and rejoice in you! We will recall [when we were favored with] your love, more fragrant than wine. The upright [are not offended at your choice, but sincerely] love you.

5 I am so black. But you are lovely and pleasant [the ladies assured her]. O you daughters of Jerusalem, I am as dark as the tents of the Bedouin tribe Kedar! like the beautiful curtains of Solomon.

6 [Please] do not look at me, she said, for I am swarthy. I have worked out in the sun and it has left its mark upon me. My stepbrothers were angry with me, and they made me keeper of the vineyards; but my own vineyard, my complexion, I have not kept.

7 [Addressing her shepherd, she said] Tell me, O you whom my soul loves, where you pasture your flock, where you make it lie down at noon. For why should I as I think of you be as a veiled one straying beside the flocks of your companions? [Ps. 23: 1, 2.]

8 If you do not know where your lover is, O you fairest among women, run along, follow the tracks of the flock, and amuse yourself by pasturing your kids beside the shepherds' tents.

9 O my love, he said as he saw her, you remind me of my favorite mare in my Pharaoh chariot spans.

10 Your cheeks are comely with ornaments, your neck with strings of jewels.

11 We will make you chains and ornaments of gold, studded with silver.

12 While the king sits at his table, she said, my spikenard [my absent lover] sends forth his fragrance over me.

13 My beloved [shepherd] is to me like a scent bag of myrrh that lies in my bosom.

14 My beloved [shepherd] is to me a cluster of henna flowers in the vineyards of Engedi [famed for its fragrant shrubs].

15 Behold, you are beautiful, my love; behold, you are beautiful; you have doves' eyes.

16 [She cried,] Behold, you are beautiful my beloved [shepherd], yes, delightful! Our arbor and couch are green and leafy;

17 The beams of our house are cedars, and our rafters and panels are cypresses or pines.

CHAPTER 2

SHE said, I am only a little rose or autumn crocus of the plain of Sharon, or a humble lily of the valleys [that grows in deep and difficult places].

2 But Solomon replied, As the lily among thorns, so are you, my love, among the daughters.

3 As an apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved [shepherd] among the sons! cried the girl. Under his shadow I delighted to sit, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.

4 He brought me to the banqueting house, and his banner over me was love — for love waved as a protecting and comforting banner over my head when I was near him.

5 Sustain me with raisins, refresh me with apples, for I am sick with love.

6 I can feel his left hand under my head and his right hand embraces me! [Deut. 33:27; Matt. 28:20.]

7 [He said,] I charge you, O you daughters of Jerusalem, by the gazelles or the hinds of the field [which are free to follow their own instincts], that you not try to stir up or awaken my love until it pleases.

8 [Vividly she pictured it:] The voice of my beloved [shepherd]! Behold, he comes leaping upon the mountains, bounding over the hills. [John 10:27.]

9 My beloved is like a gazelle or a young hart; behold, he stands behind the wall of our house, he looks in through the windows, he glances through the lattice.

10 My beloved speaks and says to me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone;

12 The flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land.

13 The fig tree puts forth and ripens her green figs, and the vines are in blossom; they give forth their fragrance. "Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 [So I went with him, and when we were climbing the rocky steps up the hillside, my beloved shepherd said to me] O my dove, [while you are there] in the seclusion of the clefts in the solid rock, in the sheltered and secret place of the cliff, let me see your face, "let me hear your voice, for your voice is sweet and your face is lovely.

15 [My heart was touched and I fervently sang to him my desire] Take us the foxes, the "little foxes that spoil the vineyards [of our love], for our vineyards are in blossom.

16 [She said distinctly] My beloved is mine, and I am his! He pastures his flocks among the lilies. [Cf. Matt. 10:32; Acts 4:12.]

17 [Then longingly addressing her absent shepherd, she cried] Until the day breaks and the shadows flee away, return hastily, O my beloved, and be like a gazelle or a young hart as you cover the mountains which separate us.

CHAPTER 3

IN the night I dreamed that I sought for the one whom I love. She said, I looked for him, but could not find him. [Isa. 26:9.]

2 So I decided to go out into the city, into the streets and broad ways [which are so confusing to a country girl] and seek him whom my soul loves. I sought him, but I could not find him.

3 The watchmen who go about the city found me, to whom I said, Did you see him whom my soul loves?

4 I had gone but a little way past them, when I found him whom my soul loves. I held him, and would not let him go until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the cham-

5 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the gazelles and by the hinds of the field, that you stir not up nor awaken love until it pleases.

6 Who or what is this, she asked, that comes gliding out of the wilderness like stately pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrh, frankincense and all the fragrant powders of the merchant? Someone answered:

7 Behold, it is the traveling litter — the bridal car — of Solomon. Sixty mighty men are about it, of the mighty men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword and are expert in war. Every man has his sword upon his thigh, that fear be not excited in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself a car or a palanquin of state of the cedar wood of Lebanon.

10 He made its posts of silver, its back of gold, its seat of purple, the inside of it being lovingly and intricately wrought in needlework by the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, O you daughters of Zion, and gaze upon King Solomon wearing the crown with which his mother [Bathsheba] crowned him on the day of his wedding, on the day of his gladness of heart.

CHAPTER 4

HOW fair you are, my love, he said, how very fair. Your eyes behind your veil remind me of those of a dove; your hair [makes me think of the black, wavy fleece] of a flock of [the Arabian] goats which one sees trailing down Mount Gilead [beyond Jordan on the frontiers of the desert].

2 Your teeth are like a flock of shorn ewes, which have come up from the washing, of which all are in pairs, and none is missing among them.

3 Your lips are like a thread of scarlet, and your mouth is lovely.

Your cheeks are like halves of a pomegranate behind your veil.

4 Your neck is like the tower of David, built for an arsenal, whereon hang a thousand bucklers, all of them shields of warriors.

5 Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle, that feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day breaks and the shadows flee away, [in my thoughts] I will get me to the mountain of myrrh and the hill of frankincense [to him whom my soul adores].

7 [He exclaimed] O my love, how beautiful you are! There is no flaw in you! [John 14:18; Eph. 5:27.]

8 Come 'away with me from Lebanon, my [promised] bride, come with me from Lebanon. Depart from the top of Amana, from the peak of Senir and Hermon, from the lions' dens, from the mountain of the leopards. [II Cor. 11:2, 3.]

9 You have ravished my heart and given me courage, my sister, my [promised] bride; you have ravished my heart and given me courage with one look from your eyes, with one jewel of your necklace.

10 How beautiful is your love, my sister, my [promised] bride! How much better is your love than wine! And the fragrance of your ointments than all spices! [Rom. 8:35; John 15:9.]

11 Your lips, O my [promised] bride, drop honey as the honeycomb. Honey and milk are under your tongue, and the odor of your garments is like the odor of Lebanon.

12 A garden enclosed and barred is my sister, my [promised] bride; a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13 Your shoots are an orchard of pomegranates or a paradise with precious fruits, henna with spikenard plants, [John 15:5; Eph. 5:9.]

14 Spikenard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense, myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 You are a fountain springing up in a garden, a well of living waters, and flowing streams from Lebanon. [John 4:10; 7:37, 38.]

16 [You have called me a garden, she said.] O, I pray the cold ^anorth wind and the soft south to blow upon my garden, that its spices may flow out [in abundance for you in whom my soul delights]. Let my beloved come into his garden and eat its choicest fruits.

CHAPTER 5

I AM come into my garden, my sister, my [promised] bride; I have gathered my myrrh with my balsam and spice. From your sweet words I have gathered the richest perfumes and spices; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk. Eat, O friends [feast on, O revelers of the palace; you can never make my love disloyal to me!] Drink, yes, drink abundantly of love, O precious one [for now I know you are mine, irrevocably mine! With his confident words still thrilling her being, through the lattice she saw her shepherd turn away and pass into the night. [John 16:33.]

2 I went to sleep, but my heart stayed awake. I dreamed that I heard the voice of my beloved as he knocked at the door of my mother's cottage. Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my spotless one, he said, for I am wet with the heavy night dew; my hair is covered with it. [Job 11:13-15.]

3 But weary from a day in the vineyards, I had already sought my rest. I had put off my garment; ^bhow could I put it on? I had washed my feet; how could I again soil them? [Isa. 32:9; Heb. 3:15.]

g) Am I willing for the north wind of adversity to blow upon me, if it will better fit me for Christ's presence and companionship?

h) In my weariness from earthly cares, do I hesitate to answer when the Divine Shepherd knocks at my door, and so turn Him from me?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my heart was moved for him.

5 I rose up to open to my beloved, and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with liquid (sweet-smelling) myrrh, which he had left upon the handles of the bolt.

6 I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had turned away and withdrawn himself, and was gone! My soul went forth to him when he spoke, but it failed me, and now he was gone! I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7 The watchmen that went about the city found me; they struck me, they wounded me; the keepers of the walls took my veil and my mantle: from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my beloved, that you tell him that I am sick from love — simply sick to be with him. [Ps. 63:1.]

9 What is your beloved more than another beloved, O you fairest among women? [taunted the ladies.] What is your beloved more than another beloved, that you should give us such a charge? [John 10:26.]

10 [She said:] My beloved is fair and ruddy, the chief among ten thousand! [John 1:14; Ps. 45:2.]

11 His head is precious as the most fine gold; his locks are curling and bushy, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are as doves beside the water brooks, bathed in milk and fitly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices or balsam, as banks of sweet herbs yielding fragrance. His lips are like blood-red anemones or lilies, distilling liquid (sweet smelling) myrrh.

14 His hands are as rods of gold, set with [nails of] beryl or topaz. His body is a figure of bright ivory overlaid with [veins of] sapphire.

15 His legs are as strong and steady pillars of marble set upon bases of fine gold; his appearance is like Lebanon, excellent, stately and majestic as the cedars.

16 His voice and speech are exceedingly sweet; yes, he is altogether lovely — the whole of him delights and is precious. 'This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem! [Col. 1:15; Ps. 92:15.]

CHAPTER 6

WHERE is your beloved gone, O you fairest among women?

[Again the ladies showed their interest in the remarkable person whom the Shulammitte had championed with such unstinted praise; they too wanted to know him, they insisted.] Where is your beloved hiding himself? For we would seek him with you.

2 She replied, My beloved is gone down to his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens and to gather lilies.

3 I am my beloved's [garden], and my beloved is mine! He feeds among the lilies [which grow there].

4 [He said.:] You are as beautiful as Tirzah [capital of northern Israel's first king], my love, and as comely as Jerusalem; but you are as terrible as a bannered host!

5 Turn away your flashing eyes from me, for they have overcome me! Your hair is like a flock of goats that trail down from Mount Gilead.

6 Your teeth are like a flock of ewes coming from their washing; each is paired, not one of them is missing.

7 Your cheeks are like halves of a pomegranate behind your veil.

8 There are sixty queens, and eighty concubines, and virgins without number,

9 But my dove, my undefiled and perfect one, stands alone above them all, she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her who bore her. The daughters saw her, called her blessed and happy, yes, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her. [Col. 2:8, 9.]

10 [The ladies asked] Who is this who looks forth as the dawn, fair as the moon, clear and pure as the sun, and terrible as a bannered host?

11 The Shulammitte replied, I went down into the nut orchard one day to look at the green plants of the valley, to see whether the grapevine had budded and the pomegranates were in flower.

12 Before I was aware of what was happening, my desire to roam about had brought me into the area of the princes of my people — the king's retinue. [I began to flee, but they called to me]

13 Return, return, O Shulammitte; return, return, that we may look upon you. [I replied], What is there for you to see in the [poor, little] Shulammitte? [And they answered], As upon a dance before two armies or a dance of Mahanaim.

CHAPTER 7

[THEN her companions began noticing and commenting on the attractiveness of her person.] How beautiful are your feet in sandals, O queenly maiden! Your rounded limbs are like jeweled chains, the work of a master hand.

2 Your body is like a round goblet, in which no mixed wine is wanting; your abdomen is like a heap of wheat set about with lilies.

3 Your two breasts are like two fawns, the twins of a gazelle.

4 Your neck is like the tower of ivory; your eyes are the pools of Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim; your

i) Is my Savior unquestionably the One altogether lovely, the One above all others most precious to me? Can I tell how and why Christ is more to me than any human being, or than all earthly possessions?

nose is like the tower of Lebanon which looks toward Damascus.

5 Your head crowns you like Mount Carmel, and the hair of your head like purple. [Then seeing the king watching the girl in absorbed admiration, the speaker added] The king is held captive in its tresses.

6 [The king came forward, saying] How fair and how pleasant you are, O love, for delights!

7 This your stature is like to a palm tree and your bosom to its clusters of dates, declared the king;

8 I resolve I will climb the palm tree, I will grasp its branches. Let your breasts be as clusters of the grapevine, and the scent of your breath like apples, 9 And your kisses like the best wine —. That goes down smoothly and sweetly for my beloved shepherd! [interrupted the Shulammite], kisses gliding over his lips while he sleeps.

10 [She proudly said] I am my beloved's, and his desire is toward me! [John 10:28.]

11 [She said] Come, my beloved! Let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages. [Luke 14:33.]

12 Let us go out early to the vineyards and see whether the vines have budded, whether the grape blossoms have opened and the pomegranates are in bloom. There I will give you my love.

13 The mandrakes give forth fragrance, and over our doors are all manner of choice fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for you, O my beloved!

CHAPTER 8

[LOOKING forward to the shepherd's arrival, the eager girl pictures their meeting and says:] Oh, that you were as my brother, who nursed from the breasts of my mother! When I should find you without, I would kiss you, yes, and none would despise me for it. [Ps. 143:6.]

2 I would lead you and bring you into the house of my mother, who would instruct me; I would cause you to drink of spiced wine and of the juice of my pomegranates. [Then musingly she added]

3 Oh, that his left hand were under my head, and that his right hand embraced me! [Exod. 19:4; Deut. 33:27.]

4 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that you never [again attempt to] stir up or awaken love until it pleases.

5 Who is this who comes up from the wilderness leaning upon her beloved? [And as they sighted the home of her childhood, the bride said] Under the apple tree I awakened you. There your mother gave you birth; there she was in travail who bore you.

6 Set me as a seal upon your heart, as a seal upon your arm; for love is strong as death: jealousy is as hard and cruel as Sheol (the place of the dead). Its flashes are flashes of fire, a most vehement flame — a very flame of the Lord! [Isa. 49:16; Deut. 4:24; I Cor. 10:22.]

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can floods drown it. If a man would offer all the goods of his house for love, he would be utterly scorned and despised.

8 [Gathered with her family and the wedding guests in her mother's cottage, the bride said to her stepbrothers, When I was a little girl, you said] We have a little sister and she has no breasts. What shall we do for our sister on the day when she is spoken for in marriage?

9 If she is a wall [discreet and womanly], we will build upon her a turret [a dowry] of silver; but if she is a door [bold and flirtatious], we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

10 Well, I am a wall with battlements, and my breasts like the towers of it. Then was I in the king's eyes as one [to be respected and to be allowed] to find peace.

11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baalhamon; he let out the vineyard to keepers; every one for the fruit of it was to bring him a thousand pieces of silver.

12 You, O Solomon, can have your thousand, and those who tend the fruit of it two hundred; but my vineyard, which is mine [with all its radiant joy] is before me!

13 O you who dwell in the gardens, your companions have been listening to your voice; now cause me to hear it.

14 [Joyfully the radiant bride turned to him, the one altogether lovely, the chief among ten thousand to her soul, and with unconcealed eagerness to begin her life of sweet companionship with him, she answered] Make haste, my beloved, and come quickly, like a gazelle or a young hart [and take me to our waiting home] upon the mountains of spices!

THE BOOK OF ISAIAH

CHAPTER 1

THE vision [seen by spiritual perception] of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah [the kingdom] and Jerusalem [its capital] in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the Lord has spoken: I have nourished and brought up sons and have made them great and exalted, and they have rebelled against Me and broken away from Me.

3 The ox instinctively knows his owner, and the donkey his master's crib; but Israel does not know or recognize Me [as Lord], My people do not consider or understand.

4 Ah, sinful nation, a people loaded with iniquity, offspring of evildoers, sons who deal corruptly! They have forsaken the Lord, they have despised and shown contempt and provoked the Holy One of Israel to anger, they have become utterly estranged — alienated.

5 Why should you be stricken and punished any more [since it brings no correction]? You will revolt more and more. The whole head is sick, and the whole heart is faint (feeble, sick and nauseated).

6 From the sole of the foot even to the head there is no soundness or health in the nation's body, but wounds and bruises and fresh and bleeding stripes. They have not been pressed out and closed up, or bound up, or softened with oil. [No one has troubled to seek a remedy.]

7 [Because of your detestable disobedience] your country lies desolate, your cities are burned with fire; your land, strangers devour it in your very presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by aliens.

8 And the daughter of Zion [Jerusalem] is left like a deserted booth in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, like a besieged city [spared, but in the midst of desolation].

9 Except the Lord of hosts had left us a very small remnant of survivors, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like Gomorrah. [Rom. 9:29.]

10 Hear [O Jerusalem] the word of the Lord, you rulers or judges of [another] Sodom! Give ear to the law and the teaching of our God, you people of [another] Gomorrah!

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices to Me [unless they are the offering of the heart]? says the Lord; I have had enough of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts [without obedience], and I do not delight in the blood of bulls, or of lambs, or of he-goats [without righteousness].

12 When you come to appear before Me, who requires of you that your [unholy feet] trample My courts?

13 Bring no more offerings of vanity — emptiness, falsity, vainglory and futility; [your hollow offering of] incense is an abomination to Me; the new moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies I cannot endure, it is iniquity and profanation, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your new moons and your hypocritical appointed feasts My soul hates; they are an oppressive burden to Me, I am weary of bearing them.

15 And when you spread forth your hands in prayer, implore help. I will hide My eyes from you; even though you make many prayers, I will not hear; your hands are full of blood!

16 Wash yourselves; make yourselves clean; put away the evil of your doings from before My eyes; cease to do evil, 17 Learn to do right; seek justice, relieve the oppressed and correct the oppressor; defend the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reason together, says the Lord; though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land;

20 But if you refuse and rebel, you will be devoured by the sword, for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it.

21 How the faithful city has become an idolatrous harlot, she who was full of justice! Uprightness and right standing with God once lodged in her, but now murderers.

22 Your silver is become dross, your wine is mixed with water.

23 Your princes are rebels and companions of thieves; every one loves bribes and runs after compensation and rewards. They judge not for the fatherless nor defend them, neither does the cause of the widow come to them [for they delay or turn a deaf ear].

24 Therefore says the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will appease Myself of My adversaries, and avenge Myself of My enemies.

25 And I will bring My hand again upon you, and thoroughly purge away your dross [as with lye], and take away all your tin or alloy.

26 And I will restore your judges as at the first, and your counselors as at the beginning; afterward you shall be called the city of righteousness, a faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed with justice, and her [returned] converts with righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God.

28 But the crushing and destruction of rebels and sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the Lord shall be consumed.

29 For you will be ashamed [of the folly and degradation] of the oak or terebinth trees in which you found idolatrous pleasure, and you will blush with shame for the [idolatrous worship which you practice in the passion inflaming] gardens which you have chosen.

30 For you shall be as an oak or terebinth whose leaf withers, and as a garden that has no water.

31 And the strong shall become as tow, and his work as a spark, and they shall both burn together, with none to quench them.

CHAPTER 2

THE word which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw revealed concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be (firmly) established as the highest of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flow to it.

3 And many people shall come and say, Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; that He may teach us His ways and that we may walk in His paths. For out of Zion shall go forth the law and instruction, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

4 And He shall judge between the nations, and shall decide [disputes] for many peoples; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of the Lord.

6 Surely [Lord] You have rejected and forsaken your people, the house of Jacob, because they are filled with customs from the east and with soothsayers who foretell like the Philistines; also they strike hands and make pledges and agreements with the children of aliens. [Deut. 18:9-12.]

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end to their chariots. [Deut. 17:14-17.]

8 Their land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, what their own fingers have made.

9 And the common man is bowed down [before idols], also the great man is brought low and humbles himself; therefore forgive them not [O Lord].

10 Enter into the rock, and hide yourself in the dust from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of His majesty.

11 The proud looks of man shall be brought low, and the haughtiness of men shall be humbled, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For there shall be a day of the Lord of hosts against all that is proud and haughty and against all that is lifted up, and it shall be brought low; [Zeph. 2:3; Mal. 4:1.]

13 [The wrath of God will begin by coming down] against all the cedars of Lebanon [west of the Jordan] that are high and lifted up, and against all the oaks of Bashan [east of the Jordan];

14 And [after that] against all the high mountains and all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And against every high tower and every fenced wall,

16 And against all the ships of Tarshish and all the picturesque and desirable imagery [designed for mere ornament and luxury].

17 Then the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols shall utterly pass away — be abolished.

19 Then shall the stricken [deprived of all in which they had trusted] go into the caves of the rocks and into the holes of the earth, from before the terror and dread of the Lord, and from the glory of His majesty, when He arises to shake mightily and terribly the earth. [Luke 23:30.]

20 In that day men shall cast away to the moles and to the bats their idols of silver and their idols of gold, which they made for themselves to worship,

21 To go into the caverns of the rocks and into the clefts of the ragged rocks, from before the terror and dread of the Lord, and from before the glory of His majesty, when He rises to shake mightily and terribly the earth.

22 Cease to trust in [weak, frail and dying] man, whose breath is in his nostrils [for so short a time]; in what sense can he be counted as having intrinsic worth?

CHAPTER 3

FOR, behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, is taking away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the staff — every kind of prop — the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,

2 The mighty man and the man of war, the judge and the professional prophet, the one who foretells by divination and the old man,

3 The captain of fifty and the man of rank, the counselor and the expert craftsman and the skillful enchanter.

4 And I will make boys their princes, and with childishness shall they rule over them — with outrage [instead of justice].

5 And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbor; the child shall behave himself proudly and with insolence against the old man, and the lowborn against the honorable person [of rank].

6 When a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying, You have a robe, you shall be our judge and ruler, and this heap of ruins shall be under your control;

7 In that day he will answer, saying, I will not be a binder-up and a healer — "I am not a physician; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing; you shall not make me judge and ruler of the people.

8 For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen; because their speech and their deeds are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of His glory and defy His glorious presence.

9 Their respecting of persons and showing of partiality witnesses against them; they proclaim their sin like Sodom, they do not hide it. Woe to them! For they have brought evil as a reward upon themselves.

10 Say to the righteous that it shall be well with them, for they shall eat the fruit of their deeds.

11 Woe to the wicked! It shall be ill with him, for what his hands have done shall be done to him.

12 As for My people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O My people, your leaders cause you to err, and confuse (destroy and swallow up) the course of your paths.

13 The Lord stands up to contend, and stands to judge the peoples and His people.

14 The Lord will enter into judgment with the elders of His people and their princes; for [by your exactions, and oppressions you have robbed the people and ruined the country] you have devoured the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 What do you mean by crushing My people and grinding the face of the poor? says the Lord God of hosts.

16 Moreover the Lord said, Because: the daughters of Zion are haughty and walk with outstretched necks and with undisciplined (flirtatious and alluring) eyes, tripping along with mincing and affected gait, and making a tinkling noise with [the anklets on] their feet;

17 Therefore the Lord will smite with a scab the crown of the heads of the daughters of Zion [making them bald], and the Lord will cause them to be [taken as captives and suffer the indignity of being] stripped naked.

18 In that day the Lord will take away the finery of their tinkling anklets, the caps of network, the crescent head ornaments,

19 The pendants, the bracelets or chains, and the spangled face veils and scarfs,

20 The headbands, the short stepping-chains [attached from one foot to the other to insure a measured gait], the sashes, the perfume boxes, the amulets or charms [suspended from the ears or neck],

21 The signet rings and nose rings,

22 The festal robes, the cloaks, the stoles and shawls, and the handbags,

a) The Vulgate (Latin) rendering.

23 The hand mirrors, the fine linen [undergarments], the turbans, and the [whole-body-enveloping] veils.

24 And it shall come to pass that instead of the sweet odor of spices there shall be the stench of rottenness; and instead of a girdle, a rope; and instead of well-set hair, baldness; and instead of a rich robe, a girding of sackcloth; and searing [of captives by the scorching heat] instead of beauty.

25 Your men shall fall by the sword, and your mighty men in battle.

26 And [Jerusalem's] gates shall lament and mourn [as those who wail for the dead]; and she, being ruined and desolate, shall sit upon the ground.

CHAPTER 4

AND in that day ^bseven women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread and provide our own apparel, only let us be called by your name to take away our reproach [of being unmarried].

2 In that day the Branch of the Lord shall be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land shall be excellent and lovely to those who have escaped of Israel. [Jer. 23:5; 33:15; Zech. 3:8; 6:12.]

3 And he who is left in Zion and remains in Jerusalem will be called holy, everyone who is recorded for life in Jerusalem and for ^ceternal life, [Phil. 4:3; Joel 3:17.]

4 After the Lord has washed away the moral filth of the daughters of Zion [pride, vanity, haughtiness], and shall have purged the blood stains of Jerusalem from the midst of it by the spirit and blast of judgment and by the spirit and blast of burning and sifting.

5 And the Lord will create over the whole site, over every dwelling place of Mount Zion and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory shall be a canopy — a defense [of divine love and protection].

6 And there shall be a pavilion for a shade in the daytime from the heat, and for a place of refuge and a shelter from storm and from rain.

CHAPTER 5

LET me sing of and for my greatly Beloved [and as His representative] a tender song of my Beloved [God, the Son] concerning His vineyard [His chosen people]. My greatly Beloved had a vineyard on a very fruitful hill. [S. of Sol. 6:3; Matt. 20:1; 21:33-40.]

2 And He dug and trenched the ground and gathered out the stones from it, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it and hewed out a winepress in it. And He looked for it to bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes.

3 And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, between Me and My vineyard [My people, says the Lord].

4 What more could have been done to My vineyard, that I have not done in it? When I looked for it to bring forth grapes, why did it yield wild grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will do to My vineyard: I will take away its hedge, and it shall be eaten and burned up; and I will break down its wall, and it shall be trodden down [by enemies].

6 And I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned or cultivated, but there shall come up briars and thorns; I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 For the vineyard of the Lord of

b) Although more boy babies are born than girl babies, the number of marriageable men in the world is constantly decreasing. Over 57% of the enlisted men in World War I became casualties (— World Almanac), and the casualties in World War II have been estimated at 33,000,000. Not counting deaths in the Armed Forces, the ratio of deaths between males and females is (in 1960) nine to seven. This was not true in previous centuries. Isaiah here foresees a time when the ratio between marriageable men and women will be one to seven in Jerusalem.

c) The Chaldee translation reads "eternal life."

hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah His pleasant planting — the plant of His delight; and He looked for justice, but behold, oppression and bloodshed; He looked for righteousness — for uprightness and right standing with God — but behold, a cry [of oppression and distress]!

8 Woe to those who join house to house [and by violently expelling the poorer occupants enclose large acreage] and join field to field, until there is no place for others, and you are made to dwell alone in the midst of the land!

9 In my [Isaiah's] ears the Lord of hosts said, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and beautiful ones, without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vineyard shall yield only about eight gallons, and ten bushels of seed will produce but one bushel.

11 Woe unto those who rise early in the morning, that they may pursue strong drink, who tarry late into the night till wine inflames them!

12 They have lyre and harp, tambourine and flute, and wine at their feasts; but they do not regard the deeds of the Lord, neither consider the operation of His hands [in mercy and in judgment].

13 Therefore My people go into captivity [to their enemies] without knowing it and because they have no knowledge of God. And their honorable men — their glory — are famished, and their common people are parched with thirst.

14 Therefore Sheol — the unseen state, the realm of the dead — has enlarged its appetite and opened its mouth without measure, and [Jerusalem's] nobility and her multitude and her pomp and tumult and [the drunken reveler] who exults in her descend into it.

15 And the common man is bowed down, and the great man is brought low, and the eyes of the haughty are humbled.

16 But the Lord of hosts is exalted in justice, and God the Holy One shows Himself holy in righteousness and through righteous judgments.

17 Then shall the lambs feed [among the ruins] as in their pasture, and among the desolate places of the [exiled] rich shall sojourners and aliens eat.

18 Woe to those who draw calamity with cords of iniquity and falsehood, who bring punishment to themselves with a cart rope of wickedness;

19 Who say, Let the Holy One make haste and speed His prophesied vengeance, that we may see it; and let the purpose of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come, that we may know it!

20 Woe to those who call evil good and good evil, who put darkness for light and light for darkness, who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter!

21 Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes, and prudent and shrewd in their own sight!

22 Woe to those who are mighty heroes at drinking wine, and men of strength in mixing alcoholic drinks!

23 Who justify and acquit the guilty for a bribe, and take away the rights of the innocent and righteous from him!

24 Therefore as the tongue of fire devours the stubble, and as the dry grass sinks down in the flame, so their root shall be as rottenness and their blossom shall go up as fine dust; because they have rejected and cast away the law and the teaching of the Lord of hosts, and have not believed but have treated scornfully and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

25 Therefore is the anger of the Lord kindled against His people, and He has stretched forth His hand against them and has smitten them, and the mountains trembled; and their dead bodies were as dung and sweepings in the midst of the streets. For all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still in judgment.

26 And He will lift up a signal to call together a hostile people from afar [to execute His judgment on Judea], and will hiss for them from the end of the earth [as bees are hissed from their hives], and behold, they shall come with speed swiftly!

27 None shall be weary or stumble among them, none shall slumber or sleep; nor shall the girdle of their loins be loosed or the latchet of their shoes be broken;

28 Their arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent; their horses' hoofs shall seem like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind.

29 Their roaring shall be like a lioness', they shall roar like young lions; they shall growl and seize their prey and carry it safely away, and there shall be none to deliver it.

30 And in that day they [the army from afar] shall roar against the Jews like the roaring of the sea; and if one look to the land, behold, darkness and distress, and the light itself will be darkened by the clouds of it.

CHAPTER 6

IN the year that King Uzziah died, [in a vision] I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne high and lifted up, and the skirts of His train filled the [most holy part of the] temple. [John 12:41.]

2 Above Him stood the seraphim; each had six wings; with two each covered his own face, and with two covered his feet, and with two he flew.

3 And one cried to another and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of His glory!

4 And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then said I, Woe is me! For I am undone and ruined, because I am a man of unclean lips, and dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts!

6 Then flew one of the seraphim [heavenly beings] to me, having a live coal in his hand which he had taken with tongs from off the altar;

7 And with it he touched my mouth and said, Lo, this has touched your lips; your iniquity and guilt are taken away, and your sin is completely atoned for and forgiven.

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for Us? Then said I, Here am I; send me.

9 And He said, Go, and tell this people, Hear and hear continually, but understand not; and see and see continually, but do not apprehend with your mind.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their hearts, and turn again and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And He answered, Until cities lie waste without inhabitant, and houses without man, and the land is utterly desolate, 12 And the Lord removes His people far away, and the forsaken places are many in the midst of the land.

13 And though a tenth [of the people] remain in it, it will be for their destruction — eaten up and burned; like a terebinth tree or like an oak whose stump and substance remain when they are felled or have cast their leaves. The holy seed [the elect remnant] is the stump and substance [of Israel].

CHAPTER 7

IN the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, son of Uzziah, king of Judah, Rezin the king of Syria and Pekah the son of Ramaliah, the king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to wage war against it, but they could not conquer it.

2 And the house of David [Judah] was told, Syria is allied with Ephraim [Israel]. And the heart of Ahaz and the heart of his people trembled and shook as the trees of the forest tremble and shake with the wind.

3 Then said the Lord to Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Judah's King Ahaz, you and your son Shearjashub [meaning, A remnant shall return], at the end of the aqueduct or canal of the upper pool on the highway to the fuller's field,

4 And say to him, Take heed and be quiet, fear not, neither be faint-hearted because of these two stumps of smoking firebrands, at the fierce anger of [the Syrian King] Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah [Pekah, usurper of the throne of Israel].

5 Because Syria, Ephraim [Israel] and the son of Remaliah have purposed evil against you, Judah, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah and harass and terrify it, and let us cleave it asunder [each of us taking a portion], and set a [vassal] king in the midst of it, namely the son of Tabeel,

7 Thus says the Lord God: It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head [the capital] of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is King Rezin. Within sixty-five years Ephraim will be broken to pieces so that it will no longer be a people.

9 And the head [the capital] of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son [Pekah]. If you will not believe and trust in and rely on God [and on the words of God's prophet, instead of Assyria], surely you will not be established nor will you remain.

10 Moreover the Lord spoke again to King Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask for yourself a sign — a token or proof — of the Lord your God [one that will be convincing to you that God has spoken and will keep His word]; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above — let it be as deep as Sheol or as high as Heaven.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 And [Isaiah] said, Hear then, O house of David! Is it a small thing for you to weary and try the patience of men, but will you weary and try the patience of my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord Himself shall give you a sign, Behold, the young woman who is unmarried and a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel — God with us. [Matt. 1:22, 23; Isa. 9:6; Jer. 31:22; Mic. 5:3-5.]

15 Butter and curds and wild honey shall he eat, when he knows to refuse the evil and choose the good.

16 For before the child shall know to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land [Canaan] whose two kings you abhor, and of whom you are in sickening dread, shall be forsaken [both Ephraim and Syria]. [Verse 2.]

17 The Lord shall bring upon you and upon your people and upon your father's house such days as have not come since the day that Ephraim [the ten northern tribes] departed from Judah, even the king of Assyria.

18 And in that day the Lord shall whistle for the fly [the numerous and troublesome foe] that is in the whole extent of the canal country of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria.

19 And these [enemies like flies and bees] shall come and shall rest all of them in the desolate and rugged valleys and deep ravines, and in the clefts of the rocks, and on all thornbushes, and on all the pastures.

20 In the same day [will the people

d) "Jesus was actually born in a time when the Holy Land found itself under the supremacy of [Assyria, when looked upon as] the universal Empire, and in a condition which went back to the unbelief of Ahaz as its ultimate cause" (Delitzsch, quoted in The New Bible Commentary).

of Judah be utterly stripped of belongings], the Lord will shave with the razor that is hired in the parts beyond the River [Euphrates], even with the king of Assyria; that razor will shave the head and the hair of the legs, and it shall also consume the beard [leaving Judah to open shame and scorn]. [II Kings 16:7, 8; 18:13-16.]

21 And [because of desolation brought on by the invaders] in that day a man will [be so poor that he will] keep alive only a young milk cow and two sheep.

22 And because of the abundance of milk that they will give, he will eat butter and curds, for only butter and curds and wild honey [no vegetables] shall everyone eat who is left in the land [these products provided from the extensive pastures, and the plentiful wild flowers upon which the bees depend].

23 And in that day in every place where there used to be a thousand vines, worth a thousand silver shekels, there will be briars and thorns.

24 With arrows and with bow shall a man come [to hunt] there, because all the land will be briars and thorns;

25 And as to all the hills that were formerly cultivated with mattock and hoe, you will not come there for fear of briars and thorns; but they will have become a place where oxen are let loose to pasture and where sheep tread.

CHAPTER 8

THEN the Lord said to me, Take a large tablet [of wood, metal or stone] and write upon it with a graving tool and in ordinary characters [which the humblest man can read], Belonging to Maher-shalal-hash-baz — They [that is, the Assyrians] hasten to the spoil [of Syria and Israel], they speed to the prey.

2 And I took faithful witnesses to record and attest [this prophecy] for me, Uriah the priest and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

3 And I approached my wife the prophetess, and when she had conceived and borne a son, the Lord said to me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz [as a continual reminder to the people of the prophecy],

4 For before the child knows how to say, My father or my mother, the riches of Damascus [Syria's capital] and the spoil of Samaria [Israel's capital] 'shall be carried away before the king of Assyria.

5 The Lord spoke to me yet again, and said,

6 Because this people [Israel and Judah] have refused and despised the waters of Shiloah [Siloam, the only perennial fountain of Jerusalem, and typical of God's protection] that go gently, and rejoice in and with Rezin the king of Syria and Remaliah's son Pekah the king of Israel,

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord brings up upon them the waters of the River [Euphrates], strong and many, even the king of Assyria and all the glory of his gorgeous retinue; and it will rise over all its channels, brooks, valleys and canals, and extend far beyond its banks; [Isa. 7:17.]

8 And it will 'sweep on into Judah; it will overflow and go over [the hills], reaching even, but only, to the neck [of which Jerusalem is the head], and the stretched out wings [of the armies of Assyria] shall fill the breadth of Your land, O Immanuel ^e[Messiah] — meaning God is with us! [Num. 14:9; Ps. 46:7.]

9 Make an uproar and be broken in pieces, O you peoples — rage, raise the war cry, do your worst, and be utterly dismayed! Give ear all you [our

e) Samaria was overthrown by Assyria in B.C. 722, ten years after the downfall of Damascus, fulfilling this prophecy.

f) This prophecy was literally fulfilled, and although Syria and Israel were conquered and led into captivity, the kingdom of Judah was spared and continued for over 130 years.

g) In its full sense it can apply only to the Messiah; "that Judea is His, was and still is a pledge that however sorely overwhelmed, it shall be saved at last."

enemies] of far countries; gird yourselves for war and be thrown into consternation; gird yourselves and be [utterly] dismayed!

10 Take counsel together [against Judah] and it shall come to nought; speak the word, but it will not stand, for God is with us — Immanuel!

11 For the Lord spoke thus to me with His strong hand upon me, and warned and instructed me not to walk in the way of this people, saying,

12 Do not call conspiracy [or hard, or holy] all that this people will call conspiracy [or hard, or holy]; neither be in fear of what they fear, nor [make others afraid and] in dread.

13 The Lord of hosts, regard Him as holy and honor His holy name [by regarding Him as your only hope of safety], and let Him be your fear and let Him be your dread [lest you offend Him by your fear of man and distrust of Him].

14 And He shall be for a sanctuary — a sacred and indestructible asylum [to those who reverently fear and trust in Him]; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offense to both the houses of Israel, for a trap and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble thereon, and fall and be broken, and be snared and taken.

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law and the teaching among my [Isaiah's] disciples.

17 And I will wait for the Lord, Who is hiding His face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for and hope in Him.

18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord has given me are "for signs and for wonders [that are to take place] in Israel from the Lord of hosts, Who dwells in Mount Zion.

19 And when the people [instead of putting their trust in God] shall say to you, Consult for direction mediums and wizards who chirp and mutter, should not a people seek and consult their God? Should they consult the dead on behalf of the living?

20 [Direct such people] to the teaching and to the testimony; if their teachings are not in accord with this word, it is surely because there is no dawn and no morning for them.

21 And they [who consult mediums and wizards] shall pass through the land, sorely distressed and hungry; and when they shall be hungry, they will fret themselves, and curse by their king and their God; and whether they look upward, 22 Or look to the earth, they will behold only distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish; and into thick darkness and widespread, obscure night they shall be driven away.

CHAPTER 9

BUT [in the midst of judgment there is the promise and the certainty of the Lord's deliverance] there shall be no gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time the Lord brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time He will make it glorious, by the way of the Sea of Galilee, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

2 The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwelt in the land of intense darkness and the shadow of death, upon them has the light shined. [Matt. 4:15, 16.]

3 You, O Lord, have multiplied the nation and increased their joy; they rejoice before You like the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil of battle.

4 For the yoke of [Israel's] burden, and the staff or rod for [goading] his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor. You have broken as in the day of [Gideon with] Midian. [Judg. 7:8-22.]

h) Isaiah's own name means, "Salvation of the Lord"; His two children's names were "signs" suggestive of the coming crisis and the need of God's help. Shear-jashub means, "A remnant shall return," and Maher-shalal-hash-baz means: "They hasten to the spoil; they speed to the prey," referring to the Assyrians. (Isa. 7:3; 8:1.)

5 For every tramping warrior's warboots and all his armor in the battle tumult and every garment rolled in blood shall be burned as fuel for the fire.

6 For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulder, and His name shall be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father (of Eternity), Prince of Peace. [Luke 2: 11; Matt. 28:18; Heb. 1:8; Eph. 5:14.]

7 Of the increase of His government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David and over His kingdom, to establish it and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from that latter time forth, even for evermore. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. [Dan. 2:44; I Cor. 15:25-28.]

8 The Lord has sent a word against Jacob [the ten tribes] and it has lighted upon Israel [the ten tribes, the kingdom of Ephraim].

9 And all the people shall know it, even Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria [its capital], who said in pride and stoutness of heart,

10 The bricks are fallen, but we will build all the better with hewn stones; the sycamores are cut down, but we will put costlier cedars in their place.

11 Therefore the Lord has stirred up [the Assyrians] the adversaries of Rezin king of Syria against Ephraim, and He will stir up his enemies and arm and join them together, 12 The Syrians [compelled then to fight with their enemies, going] before [on the east] and the Philistines behind [on the west]; and they will devour Israel with open mouth. For all this God's anger is not then turned away, but His hand is stretched out still in judgment.

13 Yet the people turn not to Him Who smote them, neither do they seek [inquire for or require as their vital need] the Lord of hosts.

14 Therefore the Lord will cut off from Israel head and tail [the highest and the lowest], high palm branch and low rush in one day.

15 The elderly and honored man, he is the head; and the prophet who teaches lies, he is the tail.

16 For they who lead this people cause them to err, and they who are led astray by them are swallowed up — destroyed.

17 Therefore the Lord will not rejoice over their young men, neither will He have compassion on their fatherless and widows; for every one is profane and an evildoer, and every mouth speaks folly. For all this God's anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still in judgment.

18 For wickedness burns like a fire, it devours the briars and thorns, and kindles in the thickets of the forest; they roll upward in a column of smoke.

19 Through the wrath of the Lord of hosts the land is darkened and burned up, and the people are like fuel for the fire; no man spares his brother.

20 They snatch in discord on the right hand, but are still hungry [their cruelty not diminished], and they devour and destroy on the left hand, but are not satisfied; each devours and destroys his own flesh [and blood] or his neighbor's.

21 Manasseh [thirsts for the blood of his brother] Ephraim, and Ephraim [for that of] Manasseh; but together they are against Judah. For all this God's anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still in judgment.

CHAPTER 10

WOE to those judges who issue unrighteous decrees, and to the magistrates who keep causing unjust and oppressive decisions to be recorded,

2 To turn aside the needy from justice and to make plunder of the rightful claim of the poor of My people, that widows may be their spoil, and that they may make the fatherless their prey!

3 And what will you do in the day of visitation of God's wrath, and in the desolation which shall come from afar? To whom will you flee for help? And where will you deposit [for safe keeping] your wealth, and with whom leave your glory?

4 Without Me they shall bow down among the prisoners, and they shall fall [overwhelmed] under the heaps of the slain on the battlefield. For all this God's anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still in judgment.

5 Ho, Assyrian, the rod of My anger, the staff in whose hand is My indignation and fury [against Israel's disobedience]!

6 I will send the Assyrian against a hypocritical and goddess nation, and against the people of My wrath; I command him to take the spoil and to seize the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

7 However, this is not his intention [nor is the Assyrian aware that he is doing this at My bidding], neither does his mind so think and plan, but it is in his mind to destroy and cut off many nations.

8 For the Assyrian says, Are not my officers all of them either [subjugated] kings or their equal?

9 Is not Calno of Babylonia conquered as is Carchemish on the Euphrates? Is not Hamath in Upper Syria as Arpad, her neighbor? Is not Samaria in Israel as Damascus in Syria? [Have any of these cities been able to resist Assyria? Not one!]

10 As my hand has reached to the kingdoms of the idols [which were unable to defend them, and] whose graven images were more to be feared and dreaded and more mighty than those of Jerusalem and of Samaria.

11 Shall I not be able to do to Jerusalem and her images as I have done to Samaria and her idols? [says the Assyrian.]

12 Therefore when the Lord has completed all His work [of chastisement and purification] to be executed on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, it shall be that He will inflict punishment on the fruit [the thoughts, words and deeds] of the stout and arrogant heart of the king of Assyria and the haughtiness of his pride.

13 For the Assyrian king has said. I have done it solely by the power of my own hand and wisdom, for I have insight and understanding; I have removed the boundaries of the peoples and have robbed their treasures, and like a bull I have brought down those who sat on thrones, and the inhabitants.

14 And my hand has found like a nest the wealth of the people, and as one gathers eggs that are forsaken, so I have gathered all the earth; and there was none that moved the wing, or that opened the mouth, or chirped.

15 Shall the ax boast itself against him who chops with it? Or shall the saw magnify itself against him who wields it back and forth? As if a rod should wield those who lift it up, or as if a staff should lift itself up as if it were not wood [but a man or God]!

16 Therefore will the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send leanness among [the Assyrian's] fat ones, and instead of his glory or under it He will kindle a burning like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be for a fire and His Holy One for a flame, and it will burn and devour [the Assyrian's] thorns and briers in one day;

18 The Lord will consume the glory of the [Assyrian's] forest and of his fruitful field, both soul and body; and

i) During a single night this prophecy was fulfilled, when "the Angel of the Lord went forth and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and eighty-five thousand men and in the morning they were all dead," just when their victory over God's people had seemed certain. (Isa. 37:38.)

it shall be as when a sick man pines away or a standard-bearer faints.

19 And the remnant of the trees of his forest shall be few, so that a child may make a list of them.

20 And it shall be in that day that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more lean upon him who smote them, but will lean upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.

21 A remnant will return [Shear-jashub, name of Isaiah's son], a remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God.

22 For though your population, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of it will return [and survive]. The fully completed destruction is decreed — decided upon and brought to an issue; it overflows with justice and righteousness [the infliction of just punishment]. [Rom. 9:27, 28.]

23 For the Lord, the Lord of hosts, will make a full end, and whatever is determined or decreed in Israel, in the midst of all the earth.

24 Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord of hosts, O My people who dwell in Zion, do not be afraid of the Assyrian, who will smite you with a rod and will lift up his staff against you, as [the king of] Egypt did. [Exod. 5.]

25 For yet a little while, and My indignation against you shall be accomplished, and My anger shall be directed to destruction [of the Assyrian].

26 And the Lord of hosts shall stir up and brandish a scourge against them as when He smote Midian at the rock of Oreb; and as His rod was over the Red Sea, so shall He lift it up as He did in the flight from Egypt. [Judg. 7:24, 25; Exod. 14:26-31.]

27 And it shall be in that day that the burden of the Assyrian shall depart from off your shoulder, and his yoke from off your neck. The yoke shall be destroyed because of fatness

[which prevents it from longer going around your neck]. [Deut. 32:15.]

28 The Assyrian with his army is come to Judah: he has arrived at Aiath, he is passed to Migron; at Michmash he gets rid of his baggage [by storing it].

29 They go through the pass, they make Geba their camping place for the night; Ramah is afraid and trembles, Gibeah the city of King Saul has fled.

30 Cry aloud in consternation, O daughter of Gallim! Harken, O Laishah! Answer her, O you poor Anathoth!

31 Madmenah is in flight; the inhabitants of Gebim seize their belongings and make their households flee for safety.

32 This very day the Assyrian will halt at Nob [the city of priests], shaking his fist at the mountain of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 [But just when the Assyrian is in sight of his goal] behold the Lord, the Lord of hosts, will lop off the beautiful boughs with terrorizing force; the high in stature will be hewn down, and the lofty will be brought low.

34 And He will cut down the thickets of the forest with an ax, and Lebanon [the Assyrian] with its majestic trees shall fall by a mighty one and mightily. [Isa. 9:6.]

CHAPTER 11

AND there shall come forth a Shoot out of the stock of Jesse [David's father], and a Branch out of his roots shall grow and bear fruit. [Rev. 5:5; 22:16.]

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon Him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the reverential and obedient fear of the Lord.

3 And shall make Him of quick understanding, and His delight shall be in the reverential and obedient fear of the Lord. And He shall not judge by the sight of His eyes, neither decide by the hearing of His ears;

4 But with righteousness and justice shall He judge the poor, and decide with fairness for the meek, the poor and downtrodden of the earth; and He shall smite the earth and the oppressor with the rod of His mouth, and with the breath of His lips He shall slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of His waist, and faithfulness the girdle of His loins.

6 And the wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf and the young lion and the fatted domestic animal together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed side by side; their young shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking child shall play over the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the adder's den.

9 They shall not hurt or destroy in all My holy mountain, for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea.

10 And it shall be in that day that the Root of Jesse shall stand for a signal to the peoples; of Him shall the nations inquire and seek knowledge, and His dwelling shall be glory — His rest glorious! [John 12:32.]

11 And in that day the Lord shall again lift up His hand a second time to recover — acquire and deliver — the remnant of His people which is left, from Assyria, from Lower Egypt, from Pathros, from Ethiopia, from Elam [in Persia], from Shinar, from Hamath [in Upper Syria], and from the countries bordering on the [Mediterranean] Sea. [Jer. 23:5-8.]

12 And He will raise up a signal for the nations, and will assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

13 The envy and jealousy of Ephraim also shall depart, and they who vex and harass Judah from outside or inside shall be cut off; Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex and harass Ephraim.

14 But [with united forces] Ephraim and Judah will swoop down upon the shoulder of the Philistine's land sloping toward the west; together they will strip the people on the east [the Arabs]. They will lay their hand upon Edom and Moab, and the Ammonites shall obey them.

15 And the Lord will utterly destroy — doom and dry up — the tongue of the Egyptian sea [the west fork of the Red Sea], and with His [mighty] scorching wind He will wave His hand over the river Nile, and will smite it into seven channels, and cause men to cross over dry-shod.

16 And there shall be a highway from Assyria for the remnant left of His people, as there was for Israel when they came up out of the land of Egypt.

CHAPTER 12

AND in that day you will say, I will give thanks to You, O Lord, for though You were angry with me, Your anger is turned away, and You comfort me.

2 Behold God, my salvation! I will trust and not be afraid, for the Lord God is my strength and song; yes, He has become my salvation.

3 Therefore with joy will you draw water from the wells of salvation.

4 And in that day you will say, Give thanks to the Lord, call upon His name and by means of His name [in solemn entreaty]; declare and make known His deeds among the peoples of the earth, proclaim that His name is exalted!

5 Sing praises to the Lord, for He has done excellent things — gloriously; let this be made known in all the earth.

6 Cry aloud and shout joyfully, you women and inhabitants of Zion, for great in your midst is the Holy One of Israel.

CHAPTER 13

THE mournful prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw [with prophetic insight].

2 Raise up a signal banner upon the high and bare mountain, summon [the Medes and Persians] with loud voice and beckoning hand that they may enter the gates of the Babylonian nobles.

3 I Myself [says the Lord] have commanded My designated ones and have summoned My mighty men to execute My anger, even My proudly exulting ones [the Medes and Persians] — those who are made to triumph for My honor.

4 Hark, the uproar of a multitude in the mountains, as of a great people! The noise of the tumult of the kingdoms of the nations gathering together! The Lord of hosts is mustering the host for the battle.

5 They come from a distant country, from the uttermost part of the heavens [the far East], even the Lord and the weapons of His indignation, to seize and destroy the whole land. [Cf. Ps. 19:4-6 for "heavens."]

6 Wait, for the day of the Lord is at hand; as destruction from the Almighty and sufficient One (Shaddai) will it come! [Gen. 17:1.]

7 Therefore will ¹all hands be feeble and every man's heart will melt.

8 And they [of Babylon] shall be dismayed and terrified; pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman in childbirth; they will gaze stupefied and aghast at one another, their faces will be aflame [from the effects of the unprecedented warfare].

9 Behold, the day of the Lord comes! Fierce, with wrath and raging anger, to make the land and the whole earth a desolation, and to destroy out of it its sinners. [Isa. 2:10-22; Rev. 19:11-21.]

10 For the stars of the heavens and their constellations will not give their light; the sun will be darkened at its rising, and the moon will not shed its light.

11 And I, the Lord, will punish the world for its evil and the wicked for their guilt and iniquity; I will cause the arrogance of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible and the boasting of the violent and ruthless.

12 I will make a man more rare than fine gold, and mankind scarcer than the pure gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will make the heavens tremble, and the ²earth shall be shaken out of its place at the wrath of the Lord of hosts in the day of His fierce anger.

14 And like the chased roe or gazelle, and like sheep that no man gathers, each [foreign resident] will turn to his own people, and flee every one to his own land.

15 Every one who is found will be thrust through, and every one who is connected with the slain and is caught will fall by the sword.

16 Their infants also will be dashed to pieces before their eyes; their houses will be plundered, and their wives ravished.

17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who have no regard for silver and do not delight in gold [so cannot be bribed].

18 Their bows will cut down the young men [of Babylon], and they will

j) Babylon was taken by surprise on the night of Belshazzar's sacrilegious feast (Dan. 5:30).

k) "By the outbreak of Jehovah's wrath the material universe is [to be] shaken to its foundations. Such representations are common in the descriptions of the day of the Lord, and are not to be dismissed as merely figurative." (Cambridge Bible.) See I Thess. 5:2; II Pet. 3:10; II Thess. 1:7, 8.

have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye will not spare children.

19 And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, shall be as Sodom and Gomorrah when God overthrew them.

20 Babylon shall never be inhabited or dwelt in from generation to generation; neither shall the Arab pitch his tent there, nor shall the shepherds make their sheepfolds there.

21 But wild beasts of the desert will lie down there, and the peoples' houses will be full of dolefully howling creatures; and ostriches shall dwell there, and wild goats [like demons] will dance there.

22 And 'wolves and howling creatures will cry and answer in the deserted castles, and jackals in the pleasant palaces. And Babylon's time is nearly come, and its days will not be prolonged.

CHAPTER 14

FOR the Lord will have mercy on Jacob [the captive Jews in Babylon] and will again choose Israel and set them in their own land, and foreigners [who are proselytes] will join them and will cleave to the house of Jacob (Israel). [Esth. 8:17.]

2 And the peoples [of Babylonia] shall "take them and bring them to their own country of Judea and aid in restoring them; and the house of Israel will possess [the foreigners who prefer to stay with] them in the land of the Lord as male and female servants; and they will take captive [not by physical, but by moral might] those whose captives they have been, and they will rule over their [former] oppressors. [Ezra 1.]

3 When the Lord has given you rest from your sorrow and pain, and from your trouble and unrest, and from the hard service with which you were made to serve,

4 You shall take up this [taunting] parable against the king of Babylon, and say, How the oppressor is stilled — stilled the restless insolence! The golden and exacting city has ceased!

5 The Lord has broken the staff of the wicked, the scepter of the [tyrant] rulers,

6 Who smote the peoples in anger with incessant blows and trod down the nations in wrath with unrelenting persecution — until he that smote is persecuted and no one hinders.

7 The whole earth is at rest and is quiet; they break forth into singing.

8 Yes, the fir trees and cypresses rejoice at you [O kings of Babylon] and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since you are laid low, no wood-cutter has come up against us.

9 Sheol [Hades] below is stirred up to meet you at your coming [O tyrant Babylonian rulers]; it stirs up the shades of the dead to greet you, even all the chief ones of the earth: it raises from their thrones [in astonishment at your humbled condition] all the kings of the nations.

10 All of them will [tauntingly] say to you, Have you also become weak as we are? Have you become like us?

11 Your pomp and magnificence are brought down to Sheol [the underworld], and the sound of your harps; the maggots [which prey upon dead bodies] are spread under you, and worms cover you [O Babylonian rulers].

12 How are you fallen from heaven.

d) This whole prophecy is generally conceded to have been written long over a century (170 yrs. according to Ussher) before Babylon's downfall, when the circumstances necessary for its fulfilment seemed most improbable; but it has been literally fulfilled in detail. Human keenness of foresight could not possibly have foreseen that great Babylon would be wiped from the face of the earth (v. 19), become ruins infested by wild animals (vss. 21, 22), feared because of superstition by the Arabs (v. 20), with only a small village near the area to mark the place, where since the days of Nimrod mighty kings had exalted themselves above the God of Heaven. Various conquerors during the centuries contributed to Babylon's downfall until by the first century B.C. it was as utterly and hopelessly destroyed "as Sodom and Gomorrah" (v. 19).

m) This prophecy (verses one and two) was fulfilled literally and in detail under King Cyrus of Persia and Babylonia. (Ezra 1.)

O "light-bringer and day-star, son of the morning! How you are cut down to the ground, you who weakened and laid prostrate the nations [O blasphemous, satanic king of Babylon!]

13 And you said in your heart, I will ascend to Heaven; I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; I will sit upon the mount of assembly in the uttermost north;

14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds, I will make myself like the Most High.

15 Yet you shall be brought down to Sheol [Hades], to the inmost recesses of the pit [the region of the dead].

16 Those who see you will gaze at you and consider you, saying, Is this the man who made the earth tremble, who shook kingdoms?

17 Who made the world like a wilderness and overthrew its cities, who would not permit his prisoners to return home?

18 All the kings of the nations, all of them lie sleeping in glorious array, every one in his own sepulcher.

19 But you are cast out, away from your tomb, like a loathed growth or premature birth or an abominable branch [of the family], and as the raiment of the slain; and you are clothed with the slain, whose thrust through with the sword, who go down to the stones of the pit [into which carcasses are thrown], like a dead body trodden under foot.

20 You shall not be joined with them in burial, because you have destroyed your land and have slain your people. May the descendants of evil-doers nevermore be named!

21 Prepare a slaughtering place for his sons because of the guilt and iniquity of their fathers, so that they may not rise, possess the earth and fill the face of the world with cities.

22 And I will rise up against them, says the Lord of hosts, and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and son and son's son, says the Lord.

23 I will also make it a possession of the hedgehog and porcupine, and marshes and pools of water, and I will sweep it with the broom of destruction, says the Lord of hosts.

24 The Lord of hosts has sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought and planned, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand:

25 That I will break the Assyrian in My land, and upon My mountains tread him under foot. Then shall the [Assyrian's] yoke depart from off [the people of Judah], and his burden depart from off their shoulder.

26 This is the [Lord's] purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth [regarded as conquered and put under tribute by Assyria], and this is [His omnipotent] hand that is stretched out over all the nations.

27 For the Lord of hosts has purposed, and who will annul it? And His hand is stretched out, and who will turn it back?

28 In the year that King Ahaz of Judah died there came this mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up:

29 Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of

- n) "Light-bringer" or "Shining one" was originally translated Lucifer, but because of the association of that name with Satan it is not now used. Some students feel that the application of the name Lucifer to Satan, in spite of the long and confident teaching to that effect, is erroneous. Lucifer, the light-bringer, is the Latin equivalent of the Greek word Phosphoros, which is used as a title of Christ in II Peter 1:19 and corresponds to the name "bright Morning Star" in Revelation 22:16, which Jesus called Himself. The application of the name has existed since the third century A.D., and is based on the supposition that Luke 10:18 is an explanation of Isaiah 14:12, which some authorities feel is not true.
- o) The city of Babylon was in the midst of a very fertile area, and it would have seemed reasonable to suppose that, regardless of what happened to the population, the region would always furnish pasturage for flocks. But Isaiah said it would become the possession of wild animals, and be covered with "marshes of water." This is how that prophecy was literally fulfilled: After Babylon was taken, the whole area around the city was put under water by the neglect of canals and dykes of the Euphrates River. It became stagnant "marshes of water" among ruins haunted by wild animals, and proclaiming to any who might see it that surely as the Lord has purposed, so shall it come to pass.
- p) The prophecy against Assyria had by this time actually been fulfilled, but Isaiah "attached it to the still unfulfilled prophecy against Babylon to give [it] as a pledge of the fulfillment of the latter."

you, because the rod [of Judah] that smote you is broken; for out of the serpent's root shall come forth an adder [King Hezekiah of Judah] and [the serpent's] offspring will be a fiery flying serpent. [II Kings 18:1, 3, 8.]

30 And the first-born of the poor and the poorest of the poor [of Judah] shall feed on My meadows, and the needy will lie down in safety; but I will kill your root with famine, and your remnant shall be slain.

31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city; melt away, O Philistia, all of you! For there is coming a smoke out of the north, and there is no straggler in his ranks and none stands aloof [in Hezekiah's battalions].

32 What then shall one answer the messengers of the [Philistine] nation? That the Lord has founded Zion, and in her shall the poor and afflicted of His people trust and find refuge.

CHAPTER 15

THE mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning Moab. Because in a night Ar of Moab is laid waste and brought to silence; because in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste and brought to silence.

2 They are gone up to Bayith and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep. Moab wails over Nebo and over Medeba; on all their heads is baldness, and every beard is cut off [as a sign of deep sorrow and humiliation].

3 In their streets they gird themselves with sackcloth; on the tops of their houses and in their broad places every one wails, weeping abundantly.

4 And Heshbon and Elealeh [cities in possession of Moab] cry out; their voice is heard even to Jahaz; therefore the armed soldiers of Moab cry out; Mbab's life is grievous and trembles within him.

5 My heart cries out for Moab; his nobles and other fugitives flee to Zoar, to Eglath-shelishiyah — like a heifer three years old. For with weeping they go up the ascent of Luhith, for on the road to Horonaim they raise a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim are desolations, for the grass is withered away and the new growth fails, there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance [of possessions] they have acquired and that which they have stored away they [now] carry over the willow-brook and to the valley of the Arabians.

8 For the cry [of distress] has gone round the borders of Moab; the wailing has reached to Eglaim, and the prolonged and mournful cry to Beerelim.

9 For the waters of Dimon are full of blood; yet I, [the Lord], will bring even more on Dimon, a lion upon those of Moab who escape, and upon the remnant of the land.

CHAPTER 16

YOU [Moabites, now fugitives in Edom which is ruled by the king of Judah, win the king's favor and protection by diverting your tribute to him, as an acknowledgment of subjection], send lambs to the ruler of the land from Selah or Petra through the desert and wilderness to the mountain of the daughter of Zion — Jerusalem. [II Kings 3:4, 5.]

2 For as wandering birds, as a brood cast out and a scattered nest, so shall the daughters of Moab be at the fords of the river Arnon. [Say to the ruler]

3 Give counsel, execute justice [for Moab, O king of Judah]; make your shade [over us] as the night in the midst of the noonday; hide the outcasts; betray not the fugitive to his pursuer.

4 Let our outcasts of Moab dwell among you; be a sheltered hiding place to them from the destroyer. When the extortion and the extortioner have been brought to nought, and destruction has ceased, and the oppressors and they who trample men down are consumed and have vanished out of the land,

5 Then in mercy and loving-kindness shall a throne be established, and "One shall sit upon it in truth and faithfulness in the tent of David, judging and seeking justice and being swift to do righteousness. [Ps. 96:13; Jer. 48:47.]

6 We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; of his arrogance, his conceit, his wrath, his untruthful boasting.

7 Moab therefore shall wail for Moab; every one shall wail. For the ruins, flagons of wine, and the raisin-cakes of Kirhareth you shall sigh and mourn, utterly stricken and discouraged.

8 For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah; the lords of the nations have broken down Moab's choice vine-branches, which reached even to Jazer, wandering into the wilderness; its shoots stretched out abroad, they passed over [the shores of] the Dead Sea.

9 Therefore I [Isaiah] will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah. I will drench you with my tears, O Heshbon and Elealeh, for upon your summer fruits and your harvest the shout [of alarm and the cry of the enemy] has fallen.

10 And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field; and in the vineyards there is no singing, neither joyful sound; the treaders tread out no wine in the presses, for the shout of joy has been made to cease.

11 Wherefore my heart sounds like a harp [in mourning compassion] for Moab, and my inner being goes out for Kirheres — for those brick-walled citadels of his.

12 It shall be that when Moab presents himself, when he wears himself [worshiping] on the high place of idolatry, he will come to his sanctuary [of Chemosh, god of Moab], but he will not prevail. [Then will he be ashamed of his god.] [Jer. 48:13.]

13 This is the word that the Lord has spoken concerning Moab since that time [when Moab's pride and resistance to God were first known].

14 But now the Lord has spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of a hireling [who will not serve longer than the allotted time], the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, in spite of all his mighty multitude of people; and the remnant that survives will be very small, feeble and no account.

CHAPTER 17

THE mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning Damascus [capital of Syria, and Israel's bulwark against Assyria]. Behold, Damascus will cease to be a city, and will become a heap of ruins.

2 The cities of Aroer [east of Jordan] are forsaken; they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

3 His bulwark [Syria] and the fortress shall disappear from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus; and the remnant of Syria will be as the departed glory of the children of Israel [her ally], says the Lord of hosts.

4 And in that day the former glory of Jacob [Israel, his might, his population, his prosperity] shall be enfeebled, and the fat of his flesh shall become lean.

q) Isaiah apparently puts these words in the mouths of the Moabite ambassadors to the king of Judah, but in "language so divinely framed as to apply to 'the latter days' under King Messiah, when the Lord shall bring again [reverse] the captivity of Moab.'" (Jamieson, Fausset and Brown Commentary.)

r) This prophecy was fulfilled after the death of King Ahaz of Judah (chapter 14:28) and the third year of King Hezekiah, three years before the conquest of Israel by Assyria. Moab was not left completely without population at this time; there was still a "remnant." The final desolation of Moab was reserved for King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, five years after the taking of Jerusalem. The ruins of Elealeh, Heshbon, Medeba, Dimon, etc., still exist definitely to confirm through modern research the accuracy of the fulfillment of this prophecy.

5 And it shall be as when the reaper gathers the standing grain and his arm harvests the ears; yes, it shall be as when one gathers the ears of grain in the fertile valley of Rephaim.

6 Yet gleanings [of grapes] shall be left in [the land of Israel], as after the beating of an olive tree [with a stick], two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost branches of the fruitful tree, says the Lord God of Israel.

7 In that day will men look to their Maker, and their eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel.

8 And they will not look to the [idolatrous] altars, the work of their hands, neither will they have respect for what their fingers have made, either the Asherim [sacred pillars or poles] or the sun-images.

9 In that day will [Syria's and Israel's] strong cities be as the forsaken places in the wood and on the mountain top, as [the *Amorites and the Hivites] forsook their cities because of the children of Israel; and there will be desolation.

10 Because you have forgotten the God of your salvation, [O Judah] and have not been mindful of the Rock of your strength, and your Stronghold; therefore you have planted pleasant nursery grounds and plantings [to Adonis, pots of quickly withered flowers used to set at their doors or in the courts of temples], and you have set the grounds with vine-slips of a strange god.

11 In the day of your planting you hedge it in, and in the morning you make your seed to blossom, but [promising as it is] the harvest shall be a heap of ruins and flee away in the day of expected possession and of desperate sorrow and sickening, incurable pain.

12 Hark, the uproar of a multitude of peoples! They roar and thunder like the noise of the seas! Ah, the roar of nations! They roar like the roaring of rushing and mighty waters!

13 The nations will rush and roar like the rushing and roaring of many waters; but God will rebuke them, and they will flee far off, and will be chased like chaff on the mountains before the wind, and like rolling thistledown or whirling dust of the stubble before the storm.

14 At evening time, behold, terror! And 'before the morning [the terrorizing Assyrians] are not. This is the portion of those who strip us [the Jews] of what belongs to us, and the lot of those who rob us. [Fulfilled in Isa. 37:36.]

CHAPTER 18

AH, the land whirring with wings which is beyond the rivers of Cush or Ethiopia;

2 That sends ambassadors by the Nile, and in vessels of papyrus upon the waters! Go, you swift messengers, to a nation tall and polished, to a people terrible from their beginning—feared and dreaded near and far; a nation strong and victorious, whose land the rivers divide!

3 All you inhabitants of the world, you who dwell on the earth, when a signal is raised on the mountains, look! When a trumpet is blown, hear!

4 For thus the Lord has said to me, I will be still and I will look on from My dwelling place like clear and glowing heat in sunshine, like a fine mist-cloud in the heat of harvest.

5 For before the harvest, when the blossom is over and the flower be-

s) The Septuagint (Greek) Version so reads.

t) Isaiah 14:25 foretells that God will break the Assyrian conqueror and tread him under foot. Now (in 17:14) further details seem to be furnished, terror (because the enemy has all but been victorious), but "before morning they are not." The fulfillment is found in Isaiah 37:36, immediately after a repetition of the prophecy in full, and it is also recorded in II Kings 19:35, 36. Just when an overwhelming victory by the Assyrian Sennacherib seemed inevitable, during a single night 185,000 of his army died, and Judah was spared — as the Lord through Isaiah had been promising.

comes a ripening grape, He will cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and the spreading branches He will remove, cut them away.

6 They [the dead bodies of the slain warriors] shall be left together to the ravenous birds of the mountains and to the beasts of the earth; and the ravenous birds will summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth will winter upon them.

7 At that time shall a present be brought to the Lord of hosts from a people tall and polished, from a people terrible from their beginning and feared and dreaded near and far; a nation strong and victorious, whose land [south of Egypt?] the rivers or great channels divide, to the place of worship of the name of the Lord of hosts, to Mount Zion in Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 19

THE mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning Egypt. Behold, the Lord is riding on a swift cloud and comes to Egypt, and the idols of Egypt shall tremble at His presence, and the heart of the Egyptians will melt within them.

2 And I will stir up Egyptians against Egyptians, and they will fight every one against his brother and every one against his neighbor, city against city, kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the spirit of the Egyptians within them will become exhausted, emptied out and will fail; and I will destroy their counsel and confound their plans; and they will seek counsel of the idols and the sorcerers, and of those having familiar spirits — the mediums — and the wizards.

4 And I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a hard and cruel master, and a fierce king shall rule over them, says the Lord, the Lord of hosts.

5 And the waters shall fail from the Nile, and the river shall be wasted and become dry;

6 And the rivers shall become foul, the stream and canals of Egypt shall be diminished and dried up, the reeds and the rushes shall wither and rot away.

7 The meadows by the Nile, by the brink of the Nile, and all the sown fields of the Nile shall become dry, be blown away, and be no more.

8 The fishermen shall lament, and all who cast a hook into the Nile will mourn, and they who spread nets upon the waters will languish.

9 Moreover they who work in combed flax, and they who weave white [cotton] cloth will be confounded and in despair.

10 [Those who are] the pillars and foundations of Egypt will be crushed, and all those who work for hire or who build dams will be grieved.

11 The princes of Zoan [ancient capital of the Pharaohs] are utterly foolish, the counsel of the wisest counselors of Pharaoh has become witless — stupid. How can you say to Pharaoh, I am a son of the wise, a son of ancient kings?

12 Where then are your wise men? Let them tell you now [if they are so wise], and let them make known what the Lord of hosts has purposed against Egypt [if they can].

13 The princes of Zoan have become fools, and the princes of Memphis are confused and deceived; those who are the cornerstones of her tribes have led Egypt astray.

14 The Lord has mingled a spirit of perverseness, error and confusion within her; her leaders have caused Egypt to stagger in all her doings, as a drunken man staggers in his vomit.

15 Neither can any work [done singly or by concerted action] accomplish anything for Egypt, whether by head or tail, palm branch or rush — high or low.

16 In that day will the Egyptians be like women [timid and helpless], and they will tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which He shakes over them.

17 And the land of Judah shall [allied to Assyria] become a terror to the Egyptians; everyone to whom mention of it is made will be afraid and everyone who mentions it, to him will they turn in fear, because of the purpose of the Lord of hosts which He purposes against Egypt.

18 In that day there shall be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of the Hebrews of Canaan and swear allegiance to the Lord of hosts. One of them will be called the City of the Sun or Destruction.

19 In that day there will be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar to the Lord at its border.

20 And it shall be for a sign and for a witness to the Lord of hosts in the land of Egypt; for they will cry to the Lord because of oppressors, and He will send them a savior, even a mighty one, and he will deliver them. [Judg. 3:9, 15.]

21 And the Lord will make Himself known to Egypt, and the Egyptians will know (have knowledge of, be acquainted with, give heed to and cherish) the Lord in that day and will worship with sacrifice of animal and vegetable offerings; they will vow a vow to the Lord and perform it.

22 And the Lord shall smite Egypt, smiting and healing it, and they will return to the Lord, and He will listen to their entreaties and heal them.

23 In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian will come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians will worship [the Lord] with the Assyrians.

24 In that day Israel shall be the third with Egypt and with Assyria [in a Messianic league], a blessing in the midst of the earth,

25 Whom the Lord of hosts has blessed, saying, Blessed be Egypt My people, and Assyria the work of My hands, and Israel My heritage.

CHAPTER 20

IN the year that the Tartan — Assyrian commander-in-chief — came to Ashdod in Philistia, sent by Sargon the king of Assyria, he fought against Ashdod and took it.

2 At that time the Lord had spoken by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, loose the sackcloth from off your loins, and take your shoes from off your feet. And he had done so, walking stripped to his loincloth and barefoot.

3 And the Lord said, As My servant Isaiah has walked [comparatively] naked and barefoot for three years for a sign and forewarning concerning Egypt and concerning Cush, that is, Ethiopia,

4 So shall the king of Assyria lead away the Egyptians captives and the Ethiopians exiles, young and old, naked and barefoot, even with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall be dismayed and confounded because of Ethiopia their hope and expectation and of Egypt their glory and boast.

6 And the inhabitants of this coastland [the Israelites and their neighbors] will say in that day, See! This is what comes to those in whom we trusted and hoped, to whom we fled for help to deliver us from the king of Assyria! But we, how shall we escape captivity and exile?

CHAPTER 21

THE mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning the desert of the sea [which was Babylon after great dams were raised to control the waters of the Euphrates River which overflowed it like a sea, and would do so again]. As whirlwinds in the South (the Negeb) sweep through, so it [the judgment of God by hostile armies] comes from the desert, from a terrible land.

2 A hard and grievous vision is declared to me; the treacherous dealer deals treacherously, and the destroyer destroys. Go up, O Elam [here put for Persia]! Besiege, O Media! All the sighing [caused by Babylon's ruthless oppressions] I will cause to cease [says the Lord].

3 Therefore are my [Isaiah's] loins filled with anguish; pangs have seized me like the pangs of a woman in childbirth; I am bent and pained so that I cannot hear, I am dismayed so that I cannot see.

4 My mind reels and wanders, horror terrifies me. [In my mind's eye I am at the feast of Belshazzar; I see the defilement of the golden vessels taken from God's temple; I watch the handwriting appear on the wall, I know that Babylon's great king is to be slain.] The twilight I looked forward to with pleasure has been turned into fear and trembling for me. [Dan. 5.]

5 They prepare the table, they spread the rugs, and having set the watchers [the revellers take no other precaution], they eat, they drink. Arise, you princes, and oil your shields [for your deadly foe is at the gates]!

6 For thus has the Lord said to me, Go, set [yourself as] a watchman, let him declare what he sees.

7 And when he sees a troop, horsemen in pairs, a troop of donkeys and a troop of camels, he shall listen diligently, very diligently.

8 And the watchman cried like a lion: O Lord, I stand continually on the watchtower in the daytime, and I am set in my station every night through.

9 And see! Here comes a troop of men and chariots, horsemen in pairs! And he [the watchman] tells what it foretells: Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and all the graven images of her gods lie shattered to the ground [in my vision]!

10 O you, my threshed and winnowed one [my own people the Jews who must be trodden down by Babylon], that which I have heard from the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, I have joyfully announced to you — Babylon is to fall!

11 The mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning Dumah (Edom). One calls to me from Seir (Edom), Watchman, what of the night? [How far is it spent? How long till morning?] Guardian, what of the night?

12 The watchman said, The morning comes, and also the night. [Another time, if Edom earnestly wishes to know] if you will inquire of me, inquire; return, come again.

13 The mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning Arabia. In the forests and thickets of Arabia you shall lodge, O you caravans of Dedanites [from northern Arabia].

14 To the thirsty [Dedanites] bring water, O inhabitants of the land of Tema in Arabia, meet the fugitive with bread [suitable] for him.

15 For they have fled from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war — the press of battle.

16 For the Lord has said this to me, Within a year, according to the years of a hireling [who will work no longer than was agreed], all the glory of Kedar [an Arabian tribe] shall fail.

17 And the remainder of the number of archers and their bows, the mighty men of the sons of Kedar, will be diminished and few; for the Lord, the God of Israel, has spoken it.

CHAPTER 22

THE mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning the valley of vision. What do you mean, I wonder, that you have all gone up to the housetops,

2 You who are full of shoutings, a tumultuous city, a joyous and exultant city? [O Jerusalem] your slain warriors have not met [a glorious] death with the sword or in battle.

3 All your military leaders have fled together; without the bow [which they had thrown away] they were taken captive and bound by the archers. All of you that were found were bound together as captives, though they had fled far away.

4 Therefore I [Isaiah] said, Look away from me; I will weep bitterly; do not hasten and try to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of discomfiture and of tumult, of treading down, of confusion and perplexity from the Lord God of hosts in the valley of vision, a breaking down of the walls and of crying to the mountains.

6 And [in my vision] I saw Elam take up the quiver, with troops in chariots, infantry and horsemen, and Kir [with Elam subject to Assyria] uncovered the shield.

7 And it came to pass, that your choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen took their station [and set themselves in offensive array at the gate of Jerusalem]. [Fulfilled in Isa. 36; II Chron. 32.]

8 Then God removed the protecting covering of Judah, and you looked to weapons in the house of the forest [the king's armory] in that day.

9 You saw that the breaches in the walls of the city of David [the citadel of Zion] were many; [the water supply being still defective] you collected within the city's walls the waters of the lower pool;

10 And you numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and you broke down the houses to get materials to fortify the city wall.

11 You also made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool. But you did not look to the Maker of it, nor did you recognize Him Who planned it long ago.

12 And in that day the Lord God of hosts called to weeping and mourning, to the shaving off of all hair in humiliation, and to girding with sackcloth.

13 But instead, see the pleasure and mirth, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine, [with the idea] Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die.

14 And the Lord of hosts revealed Himself in my ears [as He said], Surely this unatoned-for sin shall not be purged from you until [you are punished, and the punishment will be] death, says the Lord God of hosts.

15 Come, go to this contemptible steward and treasurer, to Shebna who is over the house [but who is presumptuous enough to be building himself a tomb among those of the mighty], and say to him, 16 What business have you here? And whom have you entombed here, that you have the right to hew you out a tomb here? He hews him out a sepulchre on the height! He carves out a dwelling for himself in the rock!

17 Behold, the Lord will hurl you away violently, O you strong man; yes, He will take tight hold of you and He will surely cover you [with shame].

18 He will surely roll you up in a bundle, Shebna, and toss you like a ball into a large country; there you will die, and there shall be your splendid chariots, you disgrace of your master's house!

19 And I will thrust you from your office, and from your station shall you be pulled down.

20 And in that day I will call My servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah.

21 And I will clothe him with your robe, and will bind your girdle on him and I will commit your authority to his hand; he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the house of Judah.

22 And the key of the house of David I will lay upon his shoulder; he shall open, and no one shall shut; he shall shut, and no one shall open.

23 And I will fasten him like a peg or nail in a firm place; and he will become a throne of honor and glory to his father's house.

24 And they will hang on him the honor and the whole weight of responsibility for his father's house, the offspring and issue [of the family, high and low], every small vessel, from the cups even to all the flasks and big bulging bottles.

25 In that day, says the Lord of hosts, the nail or peg that was fastened in the sure place shall give way and be moved, and be hewn down and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off, for the Lord has spoken it.

CHAPTER 23

THE mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning Tyre. Wail, you ships [of Tyre returning from] trading with Tarshish, for Tyre is laid waste, so that there is no house, no harbor; from the land of Kittim (Cyprus) they learn of it.

2 Be still, you inhabitants of the coast, you merchants of Sidon, "your messengers passing over the sea have replenished you [with wealth and industry],

3 And on great waters, the seed or grain of the Shihor, the harvest [due to the overflow] of the Nile River, was Tyre's revenue, and it became the merchandise of the nations.

4 Be ashamed, O Sidon [mother-city of Tyre, now a widow bereaved of her children], for the sea has spoken, the stronghold of the sea, saying, I have neither travailed nor brought forth children; I have neither nourished and reared young men nor brought up virgins.

5 When the report comes to Egypt, they will be sorely pained over the report about Tyre.

u) The Dead Sea Scrolls so read.

6 Pass over to Tarshish [to seek safety as exiles]! Wail, you inhabitants of the [Tyre] coast!

7 Is this your jubilant city, whose origin dates back into antiquity, whose own feet are accustomed to carry her far off to settle [daughter cities]?

8 Who has purposed this against Tyre, the bestower of crowns, whose merchants were princes, whose traders were the honored of the earth?

9 The Lord of hosts has purposed it [in accordance with a fixed principle of His government], to defile the pride of all glory and to bring into dishonor and contempt all the honored of the earth.

10 Overflow your land like [the overflow of] the Nile River, O daughter of Tarshish; there is no girdle of restraint on you any more [to make you pay tribute or custom duties to Tyre].

11 He stretched out His hand over the sea, He shook the kingdoms; the Lord has given a command concerning Canaan to destroy her strongholds and fortresses [Tyre, Sidon, etc.].

12 And He said, You shall no more exult, O Tyre, you oppressed and extorted one, virgin daughter of Sidon. Arise, pass over to Kittim [Cyprus]; but even there you will have no rest.

13 Look at the land of the Chaldeans! That people and not the Assyrians designed and assigned Tyre for the wild beasts and those who [previously] dwelt in the wilderness. They set up their siegeworks, they overthrew its palaces, they made it a ruin!

14 Howl, you ships of Tarshish, for your stronghold of Tyre is laid waste — your strength has been destroyed.

15 And in that day Tyre will be in obscurity and forgotten for seventy years, according to the days of one dynasty. After the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as a harlot [who has been forgotten, but again attracts her lovers].

16 Take a harp, go about the city, forgotten harlot; play skillfully and make sweet melody, sing many songs, that you may be remembered.

17 And after the end of seventy years the Lord will remember Tyre, and she will return to her hire and will play the harlot [resume her commerce] with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 But [the profits of Tyre's new prosperity] her gain and her hire will be dedicated to the Lord [eventually]. It will not be treasured or stored up, for her gain will be used for those who dwell in the presence of the Lord [the ministers], that they may eat sufficiently and have durable and stately clothing [suitable for those who minister at God's altar].

CHAPTER 24

BEHOOLD, the Lord will make the land and the earth empty, and make it waste, and turn it upside down — twist the face of it — and scatter abroad its inhabitants.

2 And it shall be, as what happens with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the creditor, so with the debtor.

3 The land and the earth shall be utterly laid waste and utterly pillaged; for the Lord has said this.

4 The land and the earth mourn and wither, the world languishes and withers, the high ones of the people [and the heavens with the earth] languish.

5 The land and the earth also are defiled under their inhabitants; because they have transgressed the laws, disregarded the statutes, broken the everlasting covenant. [Gen. 9:1-17; Deut. 29:20.]

6 Therefore the curse has devoured the land and the earth, and they who dwell in it suffer the punishment of its guilt; therefore the inhabitants of the land and the earth are scorched and parched [under the curse of God's wrath], and few people are left. [Rom. 1:20.]

7 The new wine mourns, the vine languishes, all the merry-hearted sigh.

8 The mirth of the timbrels is stilled, the noise of those who rejoice ends, the joy of the lyre is stopped.

9 No more will they drink wine with a song; strong drink will be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The waste city of emptiness and confusion is broken down; every house is shut up so that no one may enter.

11 There is crying in the streets for wine, all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone into captivity.

12 In the city is left desolation, and its gate is battered and destroyed.

13 For so shall it be in the midst of the earth among the peoples, as the shaking and beating of an olive tree, and as the after-gleaning when the vintage is done [and only a small amount of the fruit remains].

14 But these [who have escaped and remain] will lift up their voices, they will shout; for the majesty of the Lord they will cry aloud from the [Mediterranean] Sea.

v) This whole prophecy (verses 14-18) was literally fulfilled in following centuries. Tyre was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar and lay desolate for seventy years, after which a new city was built on the island, but taken by Alexander the Great. Eventually the true religion prevailed at Tyre. Jesus visited there (Matt. 15:21) and so did Paul (Acts 21:3-6). Eusebius (Hist. 10:4) says that "when the church of God was founded in Tyre . . . much of its wealth was consecrated to God . . . and was presented for the support of the ministry." Jerome also writing in the fourth century A.D., says the wealth of the churches of Tyre "was not treasured up or hidden, but was given to those who dwell before the Lord."

w) "The prophet transports himself in spirit to the end of all things. He describes the destruction of the world. He sees, however, that this destruction will be gradually accomplished. He here depicts the first scene: the destruction of all that exists on the surface of the earth . . . as even now occurs [in limited areas] in consequence of wars . . . Jehovah empties, devastates, depopulates the surface of the earth . . ." (Lange's Commentary.) "The writer feels that he is living in the last days, and in the universal wretchedness and confusion of the age he seems to discern the 'beginning of sorrows.' His thoughts glide almost imperceptibly from the one point of view to the other, now describing the distress and depression which exist, and now the more terrible visitation which is imminent." (Cambridge Bible.)

15 Wherefore glorify the Lord whether in the east [in the region of daybreak's lights and fires, or in the west] glorify the name of the Lord God of Israel in the isles and coasts of the [Mediterranean] Sea.

16 From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs: Glory to the righteous [people of Israel]! But I say, Emaciated I pine away, I pine away. Woe is me! The treacherous dealers deal treacherously; yes, the treacherous dealers deal very treacherously.

17 Terror, and the pit [of destruction], and the snare are upon you, O inhabitant of the earth!

18 And he who flees at the noise of the terror shall fall into the pit; and he who comes up out of the pit will be caught in the snare. For the windows of the heavens are opened [as in the deluge], and the foundations of the earth tremble and shake.

19 The earth is utterly broken, the earth is rent asunder, the earth is shaken violently.

20 The earth shall stagger like a drunken man, and shall sway to and fro like a hammock; its transgression shall lie heavily upon it, and it shall fall and not rise again.

21 And in that day, the Lord will visit and punish the host of the high ones on high — the host of heaven, in heaven, celestial beings — and the kings of the earth, on the earth. [Eph. 3:10; 6:12; I Cor. 15:25.]

22 And they will be gathered together as prisoners are gathered in a pit or dungeon; they will be shut up in the prison, and after many days they will be visited, inspected and punished or pardoned. [II Pet. 2:4; Jude 6; Zech. 9:11, 12.]

23 Then the moon will be confounded and the sun ashamed, when [they compare their ineffectual fires to the light of] the Lord of hosts Who will reign on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, and before His elders show forth His glory.

CHAPTER 25

O LORD, You are my God; I will exalt You, I will praise Your name; for You have done wonderful things, even purposes planned of old and fulfilled in faithfulness and truth.

2 For You have made of a city a heap, of a fortified city a ruin; a palace of aliens without a city — is no more a city; it will never be rebuilt.

3 Therefore [many] a strong people will glorify You, [many] a city of terrible and ruthless nations will (reverently) fear You.

4 For You have been a stronghold to the poor, a stronghold to the needy in his distress, a shelter from the storm, a shade from the heat; for the blast of the ruthless ones is like a rainstorm against a wall.

5 As the heat in a dry land [is reduced by the shadow of a cloud, so] You will bring down the noise of aliens [exultant over their enemies]; and as the heat by the shadow of a cloud is brought low, so the song of the ruthless ones shall be brought low.

6 And on this Mount [Zion] shall the Lord of hosts make for all peoples a feast of rich things [symbolical of His coronation festival inaugurating the reign of the Lord on earth, after the background of gloom, judgment and terror], a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

7 And He will destroy on this mountain the covering of the face that is cast over the head of all people [in mourning], and the veil [of profound wretchedness] that is woven and spread over all nations.

8 He will swallow up death in victory — He will abolish death forever; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the reproach of His people He will take away from off all the earth; for the Lord has spoken it. [II Tim. 1:10; I Cor. 15:26, 54.]

* The Hebrew word used here may mean visit in mercy as well as visit in punishment, but the context does not seem to indicate the possibility of mercy in this case.

9 It shall be said in that day, Behold our God upon Whom we have waited and hoped that He might save us! This is the Lord; we have waited for Him, we will be glad and rejoice in His salvation.

10 For the hand of the Lord shall rest on this Mount [Zion], and Moab shall be threshed and trodden down in his place as straw is trodden down in the (filthy) water of a [primitive] cess-pit.

11 And though Moab stretches forth his hands in the midst of the filthy water as a swimmer stretches out his hands to swim, the Lord will bring down Moab's pride in spite of the skillfulness of his hands and together with it.

12 And the high fortifications of your walls the Lord will bring down, lay low, bring to the ground, even to the dust.

CHAPTER 26

IN that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah; "We have a strong city; the Lord sets up salvation as walls and bulwarks.

2 Open the gates, that the [uncompromisingly] righteous nation which keeps her faith and her troth with God may enter in.

3 You will guard him and keep him in perfect and constant peace whose mind [both its inclination and its character] is stayed on You, because he commits himself to You, leans on You and hopes confidently in You.

4 So trust in the Lord — commit yourself to Him, lean on Him, hope confidently in Him — for ever; for the Lord God is an everlasting rock — the Rock of ages.

5 For He has brought down the inhabitants of the height, the lofty city;

He lays it low, lays it low to the ground; He brings it even to the dust.

6 The foot has trampled it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

7 The way of the [consistently] righteous — those living in religious and moral rectitude in every area and relationship of their lives — is level and straight; You, O Lord, Who are upright, direct aright and level the path of the [uncompromisingly] just and righteous.

8 Yes, in the path of Your judgments, O Lord, we wait (expectantly) for You. Our heartfelt desire is for Your name and for the remembrance of You.

9 My soul yearns for You [O Lord] in the night; yes, my spirit within me seeks You earnestly; for only when Your judgments are in the earth will the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God.

10 Though favor be shown to the wicked, yet he does not learn righteousness; in the land of uprightness he deals perversely and refuses to see the majesty of the Lord.

11 Though Your hand is lifted high to strike, Lord, they do not see it. Let them see Your zeal for Your people and be ashamed. Yes, let the fire reserved for Your enemies consume them.

12 Lord, You will ordain peace [God's favor and blessings, temporal and spiritual] for us, for You have also wrought in us and for us all our works.

13 O Lord our God, other masters besides You have ruled over us, but we will acknowledge and mention Your name only.

14 They [the former tyrant masters] are dead, they shall not live and reappear; they are powerless ghosts. they shall not rise and come back. Therefore You have visited and made an

y) The Dead Sea Scrolls here read, "You [Lord] have been to me a strong wall."

end of them, and caused every memorial of them [every trace of their supremacy] to perish.

15 You have increased the nation, O Lord, You have increased the nation; You are glorified; You have enlarged all the borders of the land.

16 Lord, when they were in trouble and distress they sought and visited You; they poured out a prayerful whisper when Your chastening was upon them.

17 Like a woman with child, drawing near the time of her delivery, is in pain and writhes and cries out in her pangs, so we have been before You — at Your presence — O Lord.

18 We have been with child, we have been writhing and in pain, we have as it were brought forth only wind. We have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, and the inhabitants of the world [of Israel] are not yet born.

19 Your dead shall live, O Lord; the bodies of our dead [saints] shall rise. You who dwell in the dust, awake and sing for joy! For Your dew is a dew of sparkling light, O Lord [heavenly, supernatural dew]; and the earth shall cast forth the dead [to life again] — for on the land of the shades of the dead You will let Your dew fall.

20 Come, my people, enter your chambers and shut your doors behind you; hide yourselves for a little while until the [Lord's] wrath is past.

21 For, behold, the Lord is coming forth out of His place [heaven] to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity; the earth also will disclose the blood shed upon her, and will no longer cover her slain and conceal her guilt.

CHAPTER 27

IN that day the Lord will deliver Israel [from her enemies and also the rebel powers of evil and darkness]; His sharp and unrelenting, great and strong sword will visit and punish Leviathan the swift fleeing serpent, Leviathan the twisting and winding serpent, and He will slay the monster that is in the sea.

2 In that day it will be said [of the redeemed nation of Israel], a vineyard beloved and lovely; sing a responsive song to it and about it!

3 I, the Lord, am its keeper; I water it every moment; lest anyone harm it, I guard and keep it night and day.

4 Wrath is not in Me. Would that the briars and thorns [the wicked internal foe] were lined up against Me in battle! I would stride in against them, I would burn them up together.

5 Or else [if all Israel would escape being burned up together there is but one alternative], let them take hold of My strength and make complete surrender to My protection, that they may make peace with Me! Yes, let them make peace with Me!

6 In the days and generations to come, Jacob shall take root; Israel shall blossom and send forth shoots, and fill the whole world with fruit [of the knowledge of the true God]. [Hos. 14:1-6; Rom. 11:12.]

7 Has the Lord smitten Israel as He smote those who smote them? Or have the Israelites been slain as their slayers were slain?

8 By driving them out of Canaan, by exile You contended with them in a measure, O Lord. He removed them with His rough blast as in the day of the east wind.

9 Only on this condition shall the iniquity of Jacob [Israel] be forgiven and purged, and this is the full fruit God requires for taking away his sin: that Israel should make all the stones of the idol altars like chalkstones crushed to pieces, so that the Asherim and the sun-images shall not remain standing or rise again.

10 For the fortified city is solitary, a habitation deserted and forsaken like the wilderness. There the calf grazes, and there he lies down; he strips its branches and eats its twigs.

11 When its boughs are withered and dry, they are broken off; the women come and set them afire. For it is a people of no understanding or discernment — ²witless folk; therefore He Who made them will not have compassion on them, and He Who formed them will show them no favor.

12 And it shall be in that day that the Lord will thresh out His grain from the flood of the river Euphrates to the brook of Egypt, and you will be gathered one by one and one to another, O children of Israel!

13 And it shall be in that day that a great trumpet will be blown, and they will come who were lost and ready to perish in the land of Assyria and those who were driven out to the land of Egypt, and they will worship the Lord on the holy mountain at Jerusalem. [Matt. 24:31; Zech. 14:16; Rev. 11:15.]

CHAPTER 28

WOE to [Samaria] the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim [the ten tribes], and to the fading flower of its glorious beauty, which is on the head of the rich valley of those overcome and smitten down with wine!

2 Behold, the Lord has [the Assyrian] a strong and mighty one; like a tempest of hail, a destroying storm, like a flood of mighty overflowing waters, he will cast down to the earth with violent hand.

3 With alien feet [Samaria] the proud crown of the drunkards of Ephraim will be trodden down.

4 And the fading flower of its glorious beauty, which is on the head of the rich valley, shall be like the early fig before the fruit harvest, which when any one sees he snatches and eats up greedily at once. [So in an amazingly short time will the Assyrians devour Samaria, Israel's capital.]

5 [But] in that [future ²Messianic] day the Lord of hosts shall become a crown of glory and a diadem of beauty to the [converted] remnant of His people;

6 And a spirit of justice to him who sits in judgment and administers the law, and strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

7 But even these reel with wine and stagger with strong drink; the priest and the prophet reel with strong drink, they are confused with wine, they stagger and are gone astray through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in pronouncing judgment.

8 For all tables are full of filthy vomit, so that there is no place clean.

9 Whom will He teach knowledge? [Ask the drunkards.] And whom will He make to understand the message? Those who are babies, just weaned from the milk and taken from the breasts? [Is that what He thinks we are?]

10 For it is [His prophets repeating over and over] precept upon precept, precept upon precept; rule upon rule, rule upon rule; here a little, there a little.

11 No, but [the Lord will teach the rebels in a more humiliating way] by men with stammering lips and another tongue will He speak to this people [says Isaiah, and teach them His lessons].

12 To these [complaining Jews the Lord] had said, This is the true rest [the way to true comfort and happiness] that you shall give to the weary, and this is the true refreshing. Yet they would not listen [to His teaching], 13 Therefore the word of the Lord will be to them [merely monotonous repetitions of] precept upon precept, precept upon precept; rule upon rule, rule upon rule; here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 Therefore hear the word of the ² The Dead Sea Scrolls so read.

^a Jonathan's Targum reads, "In that time Messiah, the Lord of hosts, shall be a crown of joy and a diadem of praise to the residue of His people." To this meaning of the passage commentators generally agree.

Lord, you scoffers, who rule this people in Jerusalem!

15 Because you have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with Sheol [the place of the dead] we have an agreement; when the overflowing scourge passes through, it will not come to us; for we have made lies our refuge, and in falsehood we have taken shelter;

16 Therefore thus says the Lord God, Behold, I am laying in Zion for a foundation a Stone, a tested Stone, a precious Cornerstone of sure foundation; he who believes — trusts in, relies on and adheres to that Stone — will not be ashamed or give way or make haste [in sudden panic]. [Rom. 9:33; I Pet. 2:4-6.]

17 I will make justice the line, and righteousness the plummet; and hail will sweep away the refuge of lies, and waters will overwhelm the hiding place — the shelter.

18 And your covenant with death shall be annulled, and your agreement with Sheol [the place of the dead] shall not stand; when the overwhelming scourge passes through, then you will be trodden down by it.

19 As often as it passes through, it [the enemy's scourge] will take you; for morning by morning will it pass through, by day and by night; and it will be utter terror merely to hear and comprehend the report and the message of it [but only hard treatment and dispersion will make you understand God's instruction].

20 For [they will find that] the bed is too short for a man to stretch himself on it, and the covering too narrow for him to wrap himself in it. [All their sources of confidence will fail them.]

21 For the Lord will rise up as on Mount Perazim, He will be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that He may do His work, His strange work, and bring to pass His act, His strange act. [II Sam. 5:20; I Chron. 14:16.]

b) The Septuagint (Greek Version) reads "be ashamed."

22 Now therefore do not be scoffers, lest the bands which bind you be made strong; for a decree of destruction have I heard from the Lord God of the hosts upon the whole land and the whole earth.

23 Give ear and hear my [Isaiah's] voice; listen and hear my words.

24 Does he who plows for sowing plow continually? Does he continue to plow and harrow his ground after it is smooth?

25 When he has leveled its surface, does he not cast abroad the seed of dill or fennel, and scatter cummin [a seasoning], and put the wheat in rows, and barley in its intended place, and spelt [an inferior kind of wheat] as the border?

26 And he trains each of them correctly, for his God instructs him correctly and teaches him.

27 For the dill is not threshed with a sharp threshing instrument, nor is a cart wheel rolled over the cummin; but the dill is beaten off with a staff and the cummin with a rod — by hand.

28 Does one crush bread grain? No, he does not thresh it continuously, but when he has driven his cart wheel and his horses over it, he scatters it — tossing it up to the wind — without having crushed it.

29 This also comes from the Lord of hosts, Who is wonderful in counsel, [and] excellent in wisdom and effectual working.

CHAPTER 29

WOE to Ariel [Jerusalem], to Ariel, the city where David encamped! Add yet another year; let the feasts run their round [but only one year more].

2 Then will I distress Ariel, and there shall be mourning and lamentation; yet she shall be to Me like an Ariel — an altar-hearth, a hearth of burning, the altar of God.

3 And I will encamp against you round about, and will hem you in with siege works, and I will set up fortifications against you.

4 And you shall be laid low, Jerusalem, speaking from beneath the ground, and your speech shall come humbly from the dust; and your voice shall be like that of a ghost [produced by a medium] coming from the earth, and your speech shall whisper and squeak as it chatters from the dust.

5 But the multitude of your enemy strangers that assail you shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the ruthless and terrible ones like chaff that blows away. And in an instant, suddenly,

6 You shall be visited and delivered by the Lord of hosts with thunder and with earthquake and great noise, with whirlwind and tempest and the flame of a devouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel [Jerusalem], even all that fight against her and her stronghold, and that distress her, shall be as a dream, a vision of the night.

8 It shall even be as when a hungry man dreams, and behold, he eats; but he wakens with his craving not satisfied; or as when a thirsty man dreams that he is drinking, but he wakens and is faint, and his thirst is not quenched. So shall the multitude of all the nations be that fight against Mount Zion.

9 Stop and wonder [at this prophecy, if you choose, whether you understand it or not; but soon you will witness the actual event] and be confounded — reluctantly! Blind yourselves [now if you choose] — take your pleasure and riot; then be blinded [at the actual occurrence]. They are drunk, but not with wine; they stagger, but not from strong drink [but from spiritual stupor].

10 For the Lord has poured out on you the spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes, the prophets; and your heads, the seers, He has covered and muffled.

11 And the vision of all this has become to you like the words of a book that is sealed. When men give it to one who can read, saying, Read this, I pray you, he says, I cannot, for it is sealed.

12 And when the book is given to him who is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray you, he says, I cannot read.

13 And the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near Me with their mouth and honor Me with their lips, but have removed their hearts and minds far from Me, and their fear and reverence for Me are a commandment of men that is learned by repetition [without any thought of the meaning];

14 Therefore, behold! I will again do marvelous things with this people, marvelous and astonishing things; and the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their discerning men shall vanish or be hidden.

15 Woe to those who seek to hide deep from the Lord their counsel, whose deeds are in the dark, and who say, Who sees us? Who knows us?

16 Oh, your perversity! — You turn things upside down! Shall the potter be considered of no more account than the clay? Shall the thing that is made say of its maker, He did not make me; or the thing that is formed say of him who formed it, He has no understanding?

17 Is it not yet a very little while until Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and out of obscurity and gloom and darkness the eyes of the blind shall see.

19 The meek also shall increase their joy in the Lord, and the poor among men shall rejoice and exult in the Holy One of Israel.

20 For the terrible one [the Assyriaan enemy] shall come to nought, and the scoffer cease, and all those who watch for iniquity as an occasion for accusation shall be cut off;

21 That make a man an offender and bring condemnation upon him for a word, and lay a trap for him who upholds justice at the city gate, and thrust aside the innocent and truly righteous with an empty plea.

22 Therefore thus says the Lord, Who redeemed Abraham [out of Ur and idolatry], concerning the house of Jacob: Jacob shall not then be ashamed, not then shall his face become pale [with fear and disappointment because of his children's degeneracy].

23 For when he sees his children [walking in the ways of piety and virtue], the work of My hands in his midst, they will revere My name; they will revere the Holy One of Jacob and reverently fear the God of Israel.

24 Those who err in spirit will come to understanding, and those who murmur [discontentedly] will accept instruction.

CHAPTER 30

WOE to the rebellious children, says the Lord, who take counsel and carry out a plan, but not Mine; and who make a league and pour out a drink offering, but not of My Spirit, thus adding sin to sin;

2 That set out to go down into Egypt, and have not asked of Me; to flee to the stronghold of Pharaoh and to strengthen themselves in his strength and to trust in the shadow of Egypt!

3 Therefore shall the strength and protection of Pharaoh turn to your shame, and the refuge in the shadow of Egypt be to your humiliation and confusion.

4 For though Pharaoh's officials are at Zoan and his ambassadors arrive at Hanes [in Egypt],

5 Yet will all be ashamed because of a people [the Egyptians] that cannot profit them, that are not a help or benefit, but a shame and disgrace.

6 A mournful, inspired prediction — a burden to be lifted up — concerning the beasts of the South [the Negeb]. Oh, the heavy burden, the load of treasures going to Egypt! Through a land of trouble and anguish, in which are the lioness and the lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches upon the shoulders of young donkeys, and their treasures upon the humps of camels, to a people that will not and cannot profit them.

7 For Egypt's help is worthless and to no purpose; therefore I have called her Rahab who sits still.

8 Now, go, write it before them on a tablet and inscribe it in a book, that it may be as a witness for the time to come for evermore.

9 For this is a rebellious people, faithless and lying sons, children who will not hear the law and instruction of the Lord;

10 Who virtually say to the seers [by their conduct], See not; and to the prophets, Prophesy not to us what is right; speak to us smooth things, prophesy deceitful illusions, 11 Get out of the true way, turn aside out of the path, cease holding up before us the Holy One of Israel.

12 Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel, Because you despise and spurn this My word, and trust in cunning and oppression, in crookedness and perverseness, and rely on them;

13 Therefore this iniquity and guilt shall be to you as a broken section of a high wall, bulging out and ready [at some distant day] to fall, whose crash will then come suddenly and swiftly, in an instant.

14 And he shall break it as a potter's vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing; so that there cannot be found among its pieces one large enough to carry coals of fire from the hearth, or to dip water out of the cistern.

15 For thus said the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, In returning to Me and resting in Me you shall be saved; in quietness and in (trusting) confidence shall be your strength. And you would not,

16 But you said, No! We will speed our own course on horses! Therefore you shall speed [in flight from your enemies]. You said, We will ride upon swift steeds [doing our own way]! Therefore shall they who pursue you be swift, so swift that 17 One thousand of you will flee at the threat of one of them; at the threat of five you will flee till you are left like a beacon or a flagpole on the top of a mountain, and like a signal on a hill.

18 And therefore the Lord [earnestly] waits — expectant, looking and longing — to be gracious to you, and therefore He lifts Himself up that He may have mercy on you and show loving-kindness to you; for the Lord is a God of justice. Blessed — happy, fortunate [to be envied] are all those who [earnestly] wait for Him, who expect and look and long for Him [for His victory, His favor, His love, His peace, His joy and His matchless, unbroken companionship]. [Rev. 3:5; II Cor. 12:9; I John 3:16; John 14:3, 27; Heb. 12:2.]

19 O people who dwell in Zion at Jerusalem, you shall weep no more. He will surely be gracious to you at the sound of your cry; when He hears it, He will answer you.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your Teacher will not hide Himself any more, but your eyes shall constantly behold your Teacher.

21 And your ears shall hear a word behind you, saying, This is the way, walk in it, when you turn to the right hand and when you turn to the left.

22 Then you will defile your carved images overlaid with silver and your molten images plated with gold; you will cast them away as a filthy blood-stained cloth, and you will say to them, Be gone!

23 Then will He give you rain for your seed with which you sow the soil, and bread grain as the produce of the ground, and it will be rich and plentiful. In that day your cattle will feed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise and the young donkeys that till the ground will eat savory and salted fodder, which has been winnowed with shovel and with fork.

25 And there will be upon every high mountain and upon every high hill brooks and streams of water in [the day of the Lord] the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall [and all His enemies are destroyed].

26 Moreover the light of the moon will be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be sevenfold, as the light of seven days [concentrated in one], in the day that the Lord binds up the hurt of His people, and heals their wound [inflicted by Him because of their sins].

27 Behold, the name of the Lord comes from afar, burning with His anger, and in thick, rising smoke. His lips are full of indignation, and His tongue is as a consuming fire.

28 And His breath is as an overflowing stream, that reaches even to the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction; and a bridle that causes to err will be in the jaws of the people.

29 You shall have a song, as in the night when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one marches in procession with a flute to come to the temple on the mountain of the Lord, to the Rock of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause His glorious voice to be heard, and the descending blow of His arm to be seen, in indignant anger and with flame of a devouring fire, amid crashing blast and cloudburst, tempest and hailstones.

31 At the voice of the Lord the Assyrians will be stricken with dismay and terror, when He smites them with His rod.

32 And every passing stroke of the staff of punishment and doom which the Lord lays upon them shall be to the sound of [Israel's] timbrels and lyres, when in battle He attacks Assyria with swinging and menacing arm.

33 For a Topheth — a place of burning and abomination — is already laid out and long ago prepared; yes, for the [idol-] king and [the god] Molech it is made ready, its pyre made deep and large, with fire and much wood; the breath of the Lord, like a stream of brimstone, kindles it. [Matt. 5.22; 25:41.]

CHAPTER 31

WOE to those who go down to Egypt for help and rely on horses, and trust in chariots because they are many and in horsemen because they are very strong, but they look not to the Holy One of Israel nor seek and consult the Lord!

2 And yet He is wise and brings calamity, and does not recall His words; He will arise against the house [the whole race] of evildoers and against the helpers of those who work iniquity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men and not God, and their horses are flesh and not spirit; and when the Lord stretches out His hand, both Egypt who helps will stumble, and Judah who is helped will fall, and they will all perish and be consumed together.

4 For the Lord has said to me, As the lion or the young lion growls over his prey, and when a large band of shepherds is called out against him will not be terrified at their voice or daunted at their noise, so the Lord of hosts will come down to fight upon Mount Zion and upon its hills.

5 As birds hovering, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem, He will protect and deliver it, He will pass over and spare and preserve it.

6 Return, O children of Israel, to Him against Whom you have so deeply plunged in revolt.

7 For in that day every man of you will cast away [in contempt and disgust] his idols of silver and his idols of gold, which your own hands have sinfully made for you.

8 Then the Assyrian shall fall by the sword, not of man; and the sword, not of men [but of God], shall devour him; and he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall become subjected to forced labor.

9 [In his flight] he shall pass beyond his rock-refuge for terror; even his officers shall desert the standard in fear and panic, says the Lord, Whose fire is in Zion and His furnace in Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 32

BEHOLD, a king will reign in righteousness, and princes will rule in justice.

2 And each one of them shall be like a hiding place from the wind, and a shelter from the storm; like streams of water in a dry place, like the shade of a great rock in a weary land [to those who turn to them].

3 Then the eyes of those who see will not be closed or dim, and the ears of those who hear will listen.

4 And the mind of the rash shall understand knowledge and have good judgment, and the tongue of the stammerers will speak readily and plainly.

5 The fool [the unbeliever and the ungodly] shall no more be called noble, nor the crafty and greedy of gain said to be bountiful and princely.

6 For the fool speaks folly and his mind plans iniquity: practicing profane ungodliness and speaking error concerning the Lord, leaving the craving of the hungry unsatisfied, and causing the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7 The instruments and methods of the fraudulent and greedy of gain are evil; he devises wicked devices to ruin the poor and the lowly with lying words, even when the plea of the needy is just and right.

8 But the noble, open-hearted and liberal man devises noble things; and he stands for what is noble, open-hearted and generous.

9 Rise up, you women who are at ease! Hear my [Isaiah's] voice, you confident and careless daughters, listen to what I am saying.

10 In little more than a year you shall be shaken with anxiety, you careless and complacent women, for the vintage will fail and the ingathering shall not come.

11 Tremble, you women who are at ease! Shudder with fear, you complacent ones! Strip yourselves bare and gird sackcloth upon your loins in grief!

12 They shall beat upon their breasts for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine, 13 For the land of my people growing up with thorns and briars; yes, for all the houses of joy in the joyous city.

14 For the palace shall be forsaken, the populous city shall be deserted; the hill and the watchtower shall be for dens [of wild animals] endlessly, a joy of wild donkeys, a pasture of flocks;

15 Until the Spirit is poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness becomes a fruitful field, and the fruitful field is valued as a forest. [Ps. 104:30; Ezek. 36:26, 27; 39:29; Zech. 12:10.]

16 Then justice will dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness [religious and moral rectitude in every area and relation] will abide in the fruitful field.

17 And the effect of righteousness shall be peace [internal and external], and the result of righteousness, quietness and confident trust for ever.

18 My people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, in safe dwellings, and in quiet resting places.

19 But [the wrath of the Lord] it shall hail, coming down overpoweringly on the forest [the army of the Assyrian], and the capital 'city shall be utterly humbled and laid prostrate.

20 Happy and fortunate are you who cast your seed upon all waters [when the river overflows its banks; for the seed will sink into the mud and when the waters subside will spring up; you will find it after many days in an abundant harvest], and can safely send forth the ox and the donkey [to range freely].

CHAPTER 33

WOE to you, destroyer, you who are not yourself destroyed; who deal treacherously though they [your victims] did not deal treacherously with you! When you have ceased to destroy, you shall be destroyed; and when you have stopped dealing treacherously, they will deal treacherously with you.

2 O Lord, be gracious to us; we have waited [expectantly] for You. Be the arm of Your servants — their strength and defense — every morning, our salvation in the time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult [caused by Your voice at which the enemy is overthrown] the peoples flee; at the lifting up of Yourself nations are scattered.

4 And the spoil [of the Assyrians] shall be gathered [by the inhabitants of Jerusalem] as the caterpillar gathers; as locusts leap and run to and fro shall the Jews [spoil the Assyrians' forsaken camp as they] leap upon it.

5 The Lord is exalted, for He dwells on high; He will fill Zion with justice and righteousness [religious and moral rectitude in every area and relation].

6 And there shall be stability in your times, abundance of salvation, wisdom and knowledge; the reverent fear and worship of the Lord is your treasure and His.

7 Behold, their valiant ones cry without; the ambassadors of peace weep bitterly.

8 The highways lie waste, the way-faring man ceases; the enemy has broken the covenant, he has despised the cities and ⁴the witnesses, he regards no man.

9 The land mourns and languishes; Lebanon is confounded, and [its luxuriant verdure] is withered away; Sharon [a fertile pasture region south of Mount Carmel] is like a desert; Bashan [a broad, fertile plateau east of the Jordan River] and Mount Carmel shake off their leaves.

10 Now will I arise, says the Lord; now will I lift up Myself; now will I be exalted.

11 You conceive chaff, you bring forth stubble; your breath is a fire that will consume you.

12 And the people will be as if burned to lime, like thorns cut down, that are burned in the fire.

13 Hear, you who are far off, says the Lord, what I have done; and, you who are near, acknowledge My might.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling has seized the godless ones. They cry, Who among us can dwell with that devouring fire? Who among us can dwell with those everlasting burnings?

15 He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly, who despises the gain of fraud and of oppressions, who shakes his hand free from the taking of bribes, who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed, and shuts his eyes to avoid looking upon evil.

16 [Such a man] will dwell on the heights; his place of defense will be the fortresses of rocks; his bread will be given him, water for him will be sure.

17 Your eyes will see the King in His beauty; your eyes will behold a land of wide distances that stretches afar.

18 Your mind will meditate on the terror, asking, Where is he who counted, where is he who weighed the tribute? Where is he who counted the towers?

19 You shall see no more the fierce and insolent people, a people of too deep and obscure a speech to be comprehended, of a strange and stammering tongue that you cannot understand.

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our set feasts and solemnities! Your eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tent that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes of it shall ever be pulled up, neither shall any of its cords be broken.

21 But there the Lord will be for us in majesty and splendor a place of broad rivers and streams, where no oar-propelled boat can go, nor mighty and stately ship can pass.

22 For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our law-giver, the Lord is our king; He will save us.

23 Your hoisting ropes hang loose; they cannot strengthen and hold firm the foot of their mast, or keep the sail spread out. Then will prey and spoil in abundance be divided; even the lame will take the prey.

24 And no inhabitant will say, I am sick; the people who dwell there will be forgiven their iniquity and guilt.

CHAPTER 34

COME near, you nations, to hear; and hearken, you peoples! Let the earth hear, and all that is in it; the world, and all things that come forth from it.

2 For the Lord is indignant against all nations, and His wrath is against all their host. He has utterly doomed them, He has given them over for slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and the stench of their dead bodies

d) The Dead Sea Scrolls read "the witnesses."

shall rise, and the mountains shall flow with their blood.

4 All the host of the heavens shall be dissolved and crumble away, and the skies shall be rolled together as a scroll; and all their host [the stars and the planets] shall drop like a faded leaf from the vine, and as a withered fig falls from the fig tree. [Rev. 6:13, 14.]

5 Because My sword has been bathed and equipped in Heaven, behold, it shall come down upon Edom [the descendants of Esau], upon the people whom I have doomed for judgment. [Obad. 8-21.]

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood of sacrifices, it is gorged and greased with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams; for the Lord has a sacrifice in Bozrah [capital of Edom], and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the wild oxen shall fall with them, and the young bullocks with the old and mighty bulls; and their land shall be drunk and soaked with blood, and their dust made rich with fatness.

8 For the Lord has a day of vengeance, a year of recompense for the cause of Zion.

9 And the streams of Edom shall be turned into pitch, and its dust into brimstone, and its land will become burning pitch.

10 The burning of Edom shall not be quenched night or day; its smoke shall go up for ever; from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever. [Rev. 19:3.]

11 But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; the owl and the raven shall dwell in it; and He will stretch over it the [measuring] line of confusion, and the plummet stones of chaos over its nobles.

12 They shall call its nobles to proclaim the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all its princes shall be no more.

13 And thorns shall come up in its palaces and strongholds, nettles and brambles in its fortresses, and it shall be a habitation of jackals, an abode for ostriches.

14 And the wild beasts of the desert will meet here with howling creatures — wolves and hyenas; and the shaggy wild goat will call to his fellow; the night monster will settle there and find a place of rest.

15 There shall the arrow snake make her nest and lay her eggs, and hatch them and gather her young under her shade; there shall the kites be gathered also to breed, every one with her mate.

16 Seek out of the book of the Lord, and read: no one of these [details of prophecy] shall fail, none shall want her mate [in fulfillment]; for the mouth of the Lord has commanded, and His Spirit has gathered them.

17 And He has cast the lot for them, and His hand has portioned Edom to the wild beasts by measuring line; they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation they shall dwell in it.

CHAPTER 35

THE wilderness and the dry land shall be glad, the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose and the autumn crocus.

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing; the glory of Lebanon shall be given to it, the excellency of Mount Carmel and the plain of Sharon. They shall see the glory of the Lord, the majesty and splendor and excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen the weak hands, and make firm the feeble and tottering knees. [Heb. 12:12.]

4 Say to those who are of a fearful and hasty heart, Be strong, fear not! Behold, your God will come with vengeance, with the recompense of God; He will come and save you.

5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped;

6 Then shall the lame man leap like a hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing for joy; for waters shall break forth in the wilderness, and streams in the desert. [Matt. 11:5.]

7 And the burning sand and the mirage shall become a pool, and the thirsty ground springs of water; in the haunt of jackals, where they lay resting, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

8 And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The Holy Way; the unclean shall not pass over it, but it shall be for the redeemed; the wayfaring men, yes, the simple ones and fools, shall not err in it and lose their way.

9 No lion shall be there, nor shall any ravenous beast come up on it; they shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk on it.

10 And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with singing, and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

CHAPTER 36

NOW in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and took them.

2 And the king of Assyria sent the Rabshakeh [the military official] from Lachish [the Judean fortress commanding the road from Egypt] to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem with a great army. And he stood by the canal of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field.

3 Then came out to meet him Eliakim, the son of Hilkiah, who was over the royal household, and Shebna the secretary, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recording historian.

4 And the Rabshakeh said to them,

Say to Hezekiah, Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria, What reason for confidence is this in which you trust?

5 Do you suppose that mere words of the lips can pass for warlike counsel and strength? Now in whom do you trust and on whom do you rely that you have rebelled against me?

6 Behold, you trust on the staff of this bruised and broken reed, Egypt, which will pierce the hand of any man who leans on it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust and rely on him.

7 But if you say to me, We trust in and rely on the Lord our God, is it not He, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, You shall worship before this altar? [II Kings 18:4, 5.]

8 Now therefore, I pray you, make a wager with my master the king of Assyria, and give him pledges, and I will give you two thousand horses, if you are able on your part to put riders on them.

9 How then can you repulse the attack of a single captain of the least of my master's servants when you put your reliance on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 Moreover, is it without the Lord that I have now come up against this land to destroy it? The Lord said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 Then Eliakim and Shebna and Joah said to the Rabshakeh, Pray, speak to your servants in the Aramaic or Syrian language, for we understand it; and do not speak to us in the language of the Jews in the hearing of the people on the wall.

12 But the Rabshakeh said, Has my master sent me to speak these words to your master and to you? Has he not sent me to the men sitting on the wall, who are doomed with you to eat their own dung and drink their own urine?

13 Then the Rabshakeh stood and cried with a loud voice in the language of the Jews: Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria!

14 Thus says the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust and rely on the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us; this city will not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Do not listen to Hezekiah; for thus says the king of Assyria: Make your peace with me and come out to me; and eat every one of his own vine and every one of his own fig tree, and drink every one the water of his own cistern;

17 Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hezekiah persuade and mislead you by saying, The Lord will deliver us. Has any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arphad [in Syria]? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim [a place from which the Assyrians brought colonists to inhabit evacuated Samaria]? And have the gods delivered Samaria [capital of the ten northern tribes of Israel] out of my hand?

20 Who among all the gods of these lands have delivered their land out of my hand, that you should think the Lord can deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 But they kept still and answered him not a word, for the king's command was, Do not answer him.

22 Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recording historian, came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of the Rabshakeh [the Assyrian military official].

CHAPTER 37

AND when King Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the royal household, and Shebna the secretary, and the older priests, clothed with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.

3 And they said to him, Thus says Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble and distress, and of rebuke, and of disgrace; for the children have come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring them forth.

4 It may be the Lord your God has heard the words of the Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to mock, reproach, insult and defy the living God, and will rebuke the words which the Lord your God has heard. Therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant [of His people] that is left.

5 So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said to them, You shall say to your master, Thus says the Lord, Do not be afraid because of the words which you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have reviled and blasphemed Me.

7 Behold, I will put a spirit in him so that he will hear a rumor, and return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

8 So the Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah [a fortified city of Judah]; for he had heard that the king had departed from Lachish.

9 And Sennacherib the king of Assyria heard concerning Tirhakah the king of Ethiopia, He has come forth to make war with you. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall you speak to Hezekiah king of Judah: Let not your God in Whom you trust deceive you by saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, destroying them utterly. And shall you be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered those whom my predecessors have destroyed, as 'Gozan, Haran [of Mesopotamia], Rezeph, and the children of Eden that were in Telassar?

13 Where are the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad [of northern Syria], and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, the king of Hena, or the king of Ivvah?

14 And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it. And Hezekiah went up to the house of the Lord, and spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed to the Lord:

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, Who [in symbol] are enthroned above the cherubim [of the ark in the temple], You are the God, You alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; You have made Heaven and earth.

17 Incline Your ear, O Lord, and hear; open Your eyes, O Lord, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to mock, reproach, insult and defy the living God.

18 It is true, Lord, that the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations and their lands, 19 And have cast the gods of those peoples into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know — understand and realize — that You are the Lord, even You only.

21 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, Because you have prayed to Me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, 22 This is the word which the Lord has spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion has despised you and laughed you to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem has shaken her head behind you.

23 Whom have you mocked and reviled — insulted and blasphemed? And against whom have you raised your voice and haughtily lifted your eyes? Against the Holy One of Israel!

24 By your servants you have mocked, reproached, insulted and defied the Lord, and you have said, With my many chariots I have come up to the height of the mountains, to the inner recesses of Lebanon; I cut down its tallest cedars and its choicest cypress trees; I came to its remotest height, its most luxuriant and dense forest;

25 I dug wells and drank foreign waters, and with the sole of my feet I have dried up all the rivers [the Nile streams] of Egypt.

26 But, says the God of Israel, have you not heard that I purposed to do it long ago, that I planned it in ancient times? Now I have brought it to pass: that you [the king of Assyria] should be My instrument to lay waste fortified cities, making them ruinous heaps.

27 Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the house tops, and as a field of grain blasted before it is grown or is in stalk.

28 But I know your sitting down and your going out and your coming in, also your raging against Me.

• The place-names in this verse are all found on the Assyrian monuments. See Cuneiform Inscriptions, Schrader, on 11 Kings 19:12. (Cambridge Bible.)

29 Because your raging against Me and your arrogance and careless ease have come to My ears, therefore will I put My hook in your nose and My bridle in your lips, and I will turn you back on the way by which you came.

30 And [now, Hezekiah, says the Lord] this shall be the sign of these things to you: you shall eat this year such as grows of itself, and in the second year that which springs of the same, and in the third year sow and reap and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

31 And the remnant that has survived of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward;

32 For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and a band that survives out of Mount Zion. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.

33 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, or shoot an arrow there, or come before it with shield, or cast up a siege mound against it.

34 By the way that he came, by the same way he shall return, and he shall not come into this city, says the Lord.

35 For I will defend this city to save it, for My own sake and for the sake of My servant David.

36 And the Angel of the Lord went forth, and 'slew a hundred and eighty-five thousand in the camp of the Assyrians; and when the living arose early in the morning, behold, all these were dead bodies.

37 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and returned and dwelt at Nineveh.

38 And as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons killed him with the sword, and they escaped into the land of Armenia or Ararat. And Esarhaddon his son reigned in his stead.

CHAPTER 38

IN those days King Hezekiah of Judah became ill and was at the point of death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said, Thus says the Lord: Set your house in order, for you shall die and not live.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And said, Remember [earnestly] now, O Lord, I beseech You, how I have walked before You in faithfulness and in truth, with a whole heart [absolutely devoted to You], and have done what is good in Your sight. And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

4 Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus says the Lord, the God of David your father: I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears. Behold, I will "add to your life fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city [Jerusalem].

7 And this shall be the sign to you from the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that He has spoken:

8 Behold, I will turn the shadow of the steps or degrees, which the sun has gone down on the [step] sun dial of Ahaz, backward ten steps or degrees. And the sunlight turned back ten steps on the steps which it had gone down.

9 This is the writing of Hezekiah

f) A startling, literal fulfillment of the prophecy made in Isaiah 31:8, 9 [See also Isa. 17:14; 14:25]. It is recorded in II Kings 19:35-37 also.

g) God's time for Hezekiah to die had come (verse 1), but he had no son. It was unthinkable to him, apparently, that he should die and leave no heir to his throne. As devout as he was, he could not trust the Lord to give His faithful servant what was best for him, but took matters in his own hands and begged to be allowed to live on. The Lord granted his request; sons were born. One, Manasseh, became Hezekiah's disgraceful and ruthless successor, not for just a few years, but for fifty-five! He undid everything reformatory that had been done, established idol worship, caused his sons to go through the fire, defied God's prophets and caused the slaughter of those who opposed him, of whom Isaiah, his father's best friend, may have been one. How little Hezekiah knew of what was best for him or for Judah! How presumptuous is any one who demands that his own shortsighted vision replace the wisdom of God's plan for his own life or for that of others!

king of Judah, when he had been sick and had recovered from his sickness:

10 I said, In the noontide and tranquillity of my days I must depart; I am to pass through the gates of Sheol [the place of the dead], deprived of the remainder of my years.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord, in the land of the living; I shall behold man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 My fleshy dwelling is plucked up and is removed from me like a shepherd's tent. I have rolled up my life as a weaver [does the finished web]; the Lord cuts me free from the loom; from day to night You bring me to an end.

13 I thought and quieted myself until morning. Like a lion He breaks all my bones; from day to night You bring me to an end.

14 Like a twittering swallow or a crane, so do I chirp and chatter; I moan like a dove. My eyes are weary and dim with looking upward. O Lord, I am oppressed; undertake for me and be my security [as of a debtor being sent to prison].

15 But what can I say? For He has both spoken to me and He Himself has done it. I must go softly — as in solemn procession — all my years, and my sleep has fled, because of the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these is the life of my spirit. O give me back my health and make me live!

17 Behold, that I had intense bitterness was for my peace; but You have loved back my life from the pit of corruption and nothingness, for You have cast all my sins behind Your back.

18 For Sheol [the place of the dead] cannot confess and reach out the hand to You, death cannot praise and rejoice in You; they that go down to the pit cannot hope for Your faithfulness [to Your promises; their probation is at an end, their destiny is sealed].

19 The living, the living, he shall thank and praise You, as I do this day; the father shall make known to the children Your faithfulness and Your truth.

20 The Lord is ready to save (deliver) me; therefore we will sing my songs with [my] stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, that he may recover.

22 Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the Lord?

CHAPTER 39

AT that time Mero-dach-bal-adan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent messengers with letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he had heard that he had been sick and had recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad and welcomed them, and showed them the house of his spicery and precious things, the silver, the gold, the spices, the precious ointment, all the house of his armor and his jewels, and all that was found in his treasuries. There was nothing in his house nor in all his dominion that Hezekiah did not show them.

3 Then came Isaiah the prophet to King Hezekiah, and said to him, What did these men say? From where did they come to you? And Hezekiah said, They came to me from a far country, even from Babylon.

4 Then Isaiah said, What have they seen in your house? And Hezekiah answered, They have seen all that is in my house; there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them.

5 Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts:

6 Behold, the days are coming when all that is in your house, and that which your predecessors have stored up till this day, shall be carried to

Babylon. Nothing shall be left, says the Lord.

7 And some of your own sons, who are born to you, shall be taken away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, The word of the Lord which you have spoken is good. And he added, For there will be peace and faithfulness [to His promises to us] in my days.

CHAPTER 40

COMFORT, comfort My people, says your God.

2 Speak tenderly to the heart of Jerusalem and cry to her that her time of service and her warfare are ended, that [her punishment is accepted and] her iniquity is pardoned; that she has received punishment from the Lord's hand double for all her sins.

3 A voice of one who cries, Prepare in the wilderness the way of the Lord — clear away the obstacles — make straight and smooth in the desert a highway for our God! [Mark 1:3.]

4 Every valley shall be lifted and filled up, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked and uneven shall be made straight and level, and the rough places a plain.

5 And the glory — majesty and splendor — of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together, for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it. [Luke 3:5, 6.]

6 A voice of one saying, Cry [prophesy]! And I said, What shall I cry? [The voice answered, Proclaim] All flesh is frail as grass, and all that makes it attractive [its kindness, its goodwill, its mercy from God, its glory and comeliness, however good] is transitory like the flower of the field.

7 The grass withers, the flower fades when the breath of the Lord blows upon it; surely all people are as grass.

8 The ^hgrass withers, the flower fades, but the word of our God will stand for ever. [James 1:10, 11; I Pet. 1:24, 25.]

9 O you who bring good tidings to Zion, get up to the high mountain; O you who bring good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up your voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say to the cities of Judah, Behold your God! [Acts 10:36; Rom. 10:15.]

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with might, and His arm will rule for Him; behold, His reward is with Him, and His recompense before Him. [Rev. 22:7, 12.]

11 He will feed His flock like a shepherd, He will gather the lambs in His arm, He will carry them in His bosom, and will gently lead those that have their young.

12 Who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, marked off the heavens with a [nine inch] span, enclosed the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales and the hills in a balance?

13 Who has directed the Spirit of the Lord, or as His counselor has taught Him? [Rom. 11:34.]

14 With whom did He take counsel that instruction might be given Him; who taught Him the path of justice, and taught Him knowledge, and showed Him the way of understanding?

15 Behold, the nations are like a drop from a bucket, and are counted as the small dust on the scales; behold, He takes up the isles like a very little thing.

16 And all Lebanon's forest would not supply sufficient fuel, nor all its wild beasts furnish victims enough to burn sacrifices [worthy of the Lord].

17 All the nations are as nothing before Him; they are regarded by Him as less than nothing, and emptiness (waste, futility and worthlessness).

18 To whom then will you liken

^h) The apostle Peter quotes this verse and then adds, "and this word is the good news [the Gospel] which was preached to you" — which confirms as fact that Isaiah is here referring to the times of Christ, the Messiah, the Anointed One.

God? Or with what likeness will you compare Him? [Acts 17:29.]

19 The graven image! A workman casts it, and the goldsmith overlays it with gold, and casts silver chains for it.

20 He who is so impoverished that he has no offering or oblation or rich gift to give [to his god, is constrained to make a wooden offering, an idol; so he] chooses a tree that will not rot; he seeks out a skillful craftsman to carve and set up for him an image that will not totter or deteriorate.

21 [You worshipers of idols, you are without excuse.] Do you not know? Have you not heard? Has it not been told you from the beginning? [These things ought to convince you of God's omnipotence and of the folly of bowing to idols.] Have you not understood from the foundations of the earth? [Rom. 1:20, 21.]

22 It is God Who sits above the circle (the horizon) of the earth, and its inhabitants are as grasshoppers; it is He Who stretches out the heavens like (gauze) curtains and spreads them out like a tent to dwell in;

23 Who brings dignitaries to nothing, Who makes the judges and rulers of the earth as chaos — emptiness, falsity and futility.

24 Yes, these men are scarcely planted, scarcely have they been sown, scarcely has their stock taken root in the earth, when the Lord blows upon them and they wither, and the whirlwind or tempest takes them away like stubble.

25 To whom then will you liken Me, that I should be equal to him? says the Holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and see! Who has created these? He Who brings out their host by number and calls them all by name; through the greatness of His might, and because He is strong in power not one is missing or lacks anything.

27 Why, O Jacob, do you say, and declare, O Israel, My way and my lot are hidden from the Lord, and my right is passed over without regard from my God?

28 Have you not known? Have you not heard? The everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, does not faint or grow weary; there is no searching of His understanding.

29 He gives power to the faint and weary, and to him who has no might He increases strength — causing it to multiply and making it abound. [II Cor. 12:9.]

30 Even youths shall faint and be weary, and the selected young men shall feebly stumble and fall exhausted;

31 But those who wait for the Lord — who expect, look for and hope in Him — shall change and renew their strength and power; they shall lift their wings and mount up [close to God] as eagles [mount up to the sun]; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint or become tired. [Heb. 12:1-3.]

CHAPTER 41

LISTEN in silence before Me, O islands and regions bordering on the sea, and let the people gather and renew their strength [for the argument; let them offer their strongest arguments]; let them come near, then let them speak; let us come near together for judgment [and decide the point at issue between us concerning the enemy advancing from the east].

2 Who has roused up one [Cyrus] from the east, whom He calls in righteousness to His service and whom victory meets at every step? He, the Lord, subdues nations before him and makes him ruler over kings. He gives them as dust to the sword [of Cyrus], and as driven straw and chaff to his bow. [Ezra 1:2.]

3 He [Cyrus] pursues them and passes safely and unhindered, even by a way his feet had not trod, and so swiftly his feet do not touch the ground.

4 Who has prepared and done this, calling and guiding the destinies of the generations of the nations from the beginning? I, the Lord, the first [existing before history began] and with the last [an ever present, unchanging God]; I am He.

5 The islands and coastlands have seen and fear, the ends of the earth tremble; they draw near and come.

6 They help every one his neighbor, and say to his brother in his tiresome idol making, Be of good courage!

7 So the carpenter encourages the goldsmith, and he who smooths the metal with the hammer him who smites the anvil, saying of the soldering, That is good! And he fastens it with nails so that it cannot be moved.

8 But you, Israel, My servant, Jacob, whom I have chosen, the offspring of Abraham, My friend; [James 2:23; Heb. 2:16.]

9 You whom I, the Lord, have taken from the ends of the earth, and have called from the corners of it, and said to you, You are My servant; I have chosen you and not cast you off [even though you are exiled].

10 Fear not; [there is nothing to fear] for I am with you; do not look around you in terror and be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen and harden you [to difficulties]; yes, I will help you; yes, I will hold you up and retain you with My victorious right hand of rightness and justice. [Acts 18:10.]

11 Behold, all they who are enraged and inflamed against you shall be put to shame and confounded; they who strive against you shall be as nothing and shall perish.

12 You shall seek those who contend with you, and shall not find them; they who war against you shall be as nothing, as nothing at all.

13 For I, the Lord your God, hold your right hand; I, Who say to you, Fear not, I will help you!

14 Fear not, you worm Jacob, you men of Israel! I will help you, says the Lord; your Redeemer is the Holy One of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make you to be a new, sharp, threshing instrument having teeth; you shall thresh the mountains and beat them small, and shall make the hills as chaff.

16 You shall winnow them and the wind shall carry them away, and the tempest or whirlwind shall scatter them. And you shall rejoice in the Lord, you shall glory in the Holy One of Israel.

17 The poor and needy are seeking water when there is none; their tongue is parched with thirst. I, the Lord, will answer them; I, the God of Israel, will not forsake them.

18 I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys; I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.

19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the acacia, the myrtle, and the wild olive; I will set in the desert the cypress, the plane and the pine trees together;

20 That men may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the Lord has done this, the Holy One of Israel has created it.

21 [You idols, made by men's hands, prove your divinity!] Produce your cause — set forth your case — says the Lord; bring forth your strong proofs, says the King of Jacob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and tell us what is to happen. Let them tell us the former things, what they are, that we may consider them, and know the outcome of them; or declare to us the things to come.

23 Tell us the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods; yes, do good or do evil, [something or other] that we may stare in astonishment and be dismayed as we behold the miracle together!

24 Behold, you [idols] are nothing, and your work is nothing! The worshiper who chooses you is an abomination—extremely disgusting and shamefully vile in God's sight. [I Cor. 8:4.]

25 I have raised up and impelled to action one from the north [Cyrus, who has now moved from the east to the north], and he is come; from the rising of the sun he calls upon My name [recognizing that his victories have been granted to him by Me]; and he shall tread upon rulers and deputies as upon mortar, and as the potter treads clay. [He is come with the suddenness of a comet, but none of the idol oracles of the nations has anticipated it.] [II Chron. 36:23; Ezra 1:1-3.]

26 What idol has declared this from the beginning, that we may know? And beforetime, that we may say that he is [unquestionably] right? Yes, there is none who declares it; yes, there is none who proclaims it; yes, [for the truth is, O you dumb idols] there is none who hears you speak!

27 I, the Lord, first gave to Zion the announcement, Behold, [the Jews will be restored to their own land, and the man shall be raised up who will deliver them] behold them! And to Jerusalem I give a herald bringing the good news.

28 For I look [upon the heathen prophets and the priests of pagan practices], and there is no man among them [who could predict these events], and among these idols there is no counselor that when I ask of them can answer a word.

29 Behold, these [pagan prophets and priests] are all emptiness (falseness and futility), their works are nought; their molten images are empty wind (confusion and waste).

CHAPTER 42

BEHOLD My Servant, Whom I uphold; My elect, in Whom My soul delights! I have put My Spirit upon Him; He will bring forth justice and right, and reveal truth to the nations. [Matt. 3:16, 17.]

2 He will not cry or shout aloud or cause His voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed He will not break, and a dimly burning wick He will not quench; He will bring forth justice in truth. [Matt. 12:17-21; 7:29.]

4 He will not fail or become weak, or be crushed and discouraged till He has established justice in the earth, and the islands and coastal regions shall hopefully wait for and expect His direction and law. [Rom. 8: 22-25.]

5 Thus says God, the Lord, He Who created the heavens and stretched them forth, He Who spread abroad the earth and that which comes out of it, He Who gives breath to the people on it and spirit to those who walk in it:

6 I the Lord have called You, the Messiah, for a righteous purpose and in righteousness; I have taken You by the hand and have kept You; I have given You for a covenant to the people [Israel], for a light to the nations;

7 To open the eyes of the blind, to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon, and those who sit in darkness from the prison. [Matt. 12:18-21.]

8 I am the Lord; that is My name, and My glory I will not give to another, nor My praise to graven images.

9 Behold, the former things have come to pass, and new things I now declare; before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing to the Lord a new song, and His praise from the end of the earth! You who go down to the sea, and all that is in it, the islands and coastal regions and the inhabitants of them sing [a song such as has never been heard in the heathen world!]

11 Let the wilderness and its cities lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar inhabits; let the inhabitants of the rock [Sela or Petra] sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains!

12 Let them give glory to the Lord, and declare His praise in the islands and coastal regions.

13 The Lord will go forth as a mighty man; He will rouse His zealous indignation and vengeance like a warrior; He will cry, yes, He will shout aloud, He will do mightily against His enemies.

14 [Thus says the Lord] I have for a long time held My peace; I have been still, and restrained Myself; now I will cry out like a woman in travail, I will gasp and pant together.

15 I will lay waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbage; I will turn the rivers into islands, and I will dry up the pools.

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they know not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known. I will make darkness light before them, and uneven places a plain. These things I have determined to do for them, and not leave them forsaken.

17 They shall be turned back, they shall be utterly put to shame, who trust in graven images, who say to molten images, You are our gods.

18 Hear, you deaf; and look, you blind, that you may see!

19 Who is blind, but My servant [Israel]? Or deaf as My messenger whom I send? Who is blind as he who is at peace with Me [who has been admitted to covenant relationship with Me]? Yes, who is blind as the Lord's servant?

20 You see many things, but you do not observe or apprehend their true meaning. His ears are open, but he hears not!

21 It was the Lord's pleasure for His righteousness' sake [in accordance with a steadfast and consistent purpose] to magnify instruction and revelation and glorify them.

22 But this is a people robbed and plundered; they are all of them snared in holes, and hidden in houses of bondage; they have become a prey with no one to deliver them, a spoil, with no one to say, Restore them! [This shows the condition that will ensue as punishment for Israel's not recognizing the Servant of Jehovah and the day of His visit among them. Luke 19:41-44.]

23 Who is there among you who will give ear to this? Who will listen and hear for the time to come?

24 Who gave up Jacob [the kingdom of Judah] for a spoil, and the kingdom of Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, He against Whom we of Judah have sinned and in Whose ways they of Israel would not walk, neither were they obedient to His law or His teaching?

25 Therefore He poured out upon [Israel] the fierceness of His anger and the strength of battle; and it set him on fire round about, yet he knew not [the lesson of repentance which the Assyrian conquest was intended to teach]; it burned him, but he did not lay it to heart.

CHAPTER 43

BUT now [in spite of the past judgments for Israel's sins] thus says the Lord Who created you, O Jacob, and He Who formed You, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed you — ransomed you by paying a price instead of leaving you captives; I have called you by your name, you are Mine.

2 When you pass through the waters I will be with you, and through the rivers they shall not overwhelm you; when you walk through the fire you shall not be burned or scorched, nor shall the flame kindle upon you.

3 For I am the Lord your God, the Holy One of Israel, your Savior; I give Egypt [to the Babylonians] for your ransom, Ethiopia and Seba [a province of Ethiopia] in exchange for your release.

4 Because you are precious in My sight, and honored, and I love you, I give men in return for you and peoples in exchange for your life.

5 Fear not, for I am with you; I will bring your offspring from the east [where they are dispersed], and gather you from the west; [Acts 18:10.]

6 I will say to the north, Give up, and to the south, Keep not back; bring My sons from afar and My daughters from the ends of the earth,

7 Even every one who is called by My name, whom I have created for My glory, whom I have formed, whom I have made.

8 Bring forth the blind people who have eyes, and the deaf who have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled. Who among the idolaters could predict this [that Cyrus will be the deliverer of Israel] and show us the former things? Let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified; or let them hear and acknowledge, It is the truth. [Ps. 123:3, 4.]

10 You are My witnesses, says the Lord, and My servant whom I have chosen, that you may know Me, believe Me and remain steadfast to Me, and understand that I am He. Before Me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after Me.

11 I, even I, am the Lord, and beside Me there is no Savior.

12 I have declared the future, and have saved the nation [in times of danger], and I have shown that I am God, when there was no strange and alien god among you; therefore you are My witnesses, says the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yes, from the time of the first existence of day and from this day forth I am He, and there is no one who can deliver out of My hand. I will work and who can hinder or reverse it?

14 Thus says the Lord, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent one to Babylon, and I will bring down all of them as fugitives, and all their nobles, even the Chaldeans into the ships over which they rejoiced.

15 I am the Lord, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King.

16 Thus says the Lord, Who makes a way in the sea and a path in the mighty waters, 17 Who brings forth chariot and horse, army and mighty warrior. They lie down together, they cannot rise; they are extinguished, they are quenched like a lamp wick.

18 Do not [earnestly] remember the former things, neither consider the things of old.

19 Behold, I am doing a new thing; now it springs forth; do you not perceive and know it, and will you not give heed to it? I will even make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert.

20 The beasts of the field shall honor Me, the jackals and the ostriches; because I give waters in the wilderness and rivers in the desert, to give drink to My people, My chosen, [Isa. 41:17, 18; 48:21.]

21 The people I formed for Myself that they might set forth My praise [and they shall do it].

22 Yet you have not called upon Me [much less toiled for Me], O Jacob; but you have been weary of Me, O Israel!

23 You have not brought Me your sheep and goats for burnt offerings, or honored Me with your sacrifices. I have not required you to serve with an offering or treated you as a slave by demanding tribute, or wearied you with offering incense.

24 You have not bought Me sweet cane with money, or satiated Me with the fat of your sacrifices. But you have only burdened Me with your sins, you have wearied Me with your iniquities.

25 I, even I, am He Who blots out and cancels your transgressions for My own sake, and I will not remember your sins.

26 Put Me in remembrance — remind Me of your merits; let us plead and argue together. Set forth your case that you may be justified — proved in the right.

27 Your first father [Jacob, in particular] has sinned, and your teachers [the priests and the prophets] — your mediators — transgressed against Me.

28 And so I have profaned the chief ones of the sanctuary, and have delivered Jacob to the curse [the ban, a solemn anathema or excommunication], and have subjected Israel to reproaches and reviling.

CHAPTER 44

YET now hear, O Jacob My servant, and Israel whom I have chosen;

2 Thus says the Lord Who made you and formed you from the womb, Who will help you: Fear not, O Jacob My servant, and you Jeshurun — the upright one [applied to Israel as type of the Messiah] — whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon him who is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground. I will pour My Spirit upon your offspring, and My blessing upon your descendants. [John 7:37-39; Isa. 35:6, 7.]

4 And they shall spring up among the grass, as willows or poplars by the water courses.

5 One shall say, I am the Lord's, and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob, and another will write [even brand or tattoo] upon his hand, I am the Lord's, and surname himself by the honorable name of Israel.

6 Thus says the Lord, the King of Israel and his Redeemer, the Lord of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last; besides Me there is no God. [Rev. 1:17; 2:8; 22:13.]

7 Who is like Me? [Let him stand and] proclaim it, declare it, and set his proofs in order before Me, since I made and established the people of antiquity. [Who has announced from of old] the things that are coming? Then let them declare yet future things.

8 Fear not, nor be afraid [in the coming violent upheavals]; have I not told it to you from of old and declared it? And you are My witnesses! Is there a God besides Me? There is no other Rock; I know not any.

9 All who make graven idols are confusion, chaos and worthlessness. Their [idol] objects in which they delight will not profit, and their own witnesses [worshippers] do not see or know, that they may be put to shame.

10 Who has been such a fool as to fashion a god or cast a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows shall be put to shame, and the craftsmen, [how can they make a god?] they are but men. Let them all be gathered together, let them stand forth: they shall be terrified, they shall be put to shame together.

12 The ironsmith sharpens and uses a chisel and works it over the coals; he shapes the core of the idol with hammers and forges it with his strong arm. He becomes hungry and his strength fails; he drinks no water and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretches out a line; he marks it out with a pencil or red ochre; he fashions [an idol] with planes, and he marks it out with the compasses, and shapes it to have the figure of a man, with the beauty of a man, to dwell in a house.

14 He hews him down cedars, and takes the holm tree and the oak, and lets them grow strong for him among the trees of the forest; he plants a fir tree or an ash and the rain nourishes it.

15 Then it becomes fuel for a man to burn. A part of it he takes and warms himself, yes, he kindles a fire and bakes bread. [Then out of the remainder, the leavings] he makes a god and worships it! He with his own hands makes it into a graven image and falls down and worships it!

16 He burns part of the wood in the fire; with part of it he [cooks and] eats flesh, he roasts meat and is satisfied; also he warms himself and says, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire!

17 And from what is left of the log he makes a god, his graven idol. He falls down to it, he worships it and prays to it, and says, Deliver me, for you are my god!

18 They do not know or understand, for their eyes God has let become besmeared so that they cannot see, and their minds so that they cannot understand.

19 And not one considers in his mind, nor has he knowledge and understanding enough to say to himself, I have burned part of this log in the fire, and also I have baked bread on its coals and roasted meat and eaten it; and shall I make the remainder of it into an abomination—the very essence of what is disgusting, detestable and shamefully vile [in the eyes of a jealous God]? Shall I fall down and worship the stock of a tree—a block of wood [without consciousness or life]?

20 That man feeds on ashes [and finds his satisfaction in ashes]! A deluded mind has led him astray so that he cannot release and save himself, or ask, Is not [this thing I am holding] in my right hand a lie?

21 Remember these things [earnestly], O Jacob, Israel, for you are My servant! I formed you, you are My servant. O Israel, you shall not be forgotten by Me.

22 I have blotted out as a thick cloud your transgressions, and as a cloud your sins. Return to Me, for I have redeemed you.

23 Sing, O heavens, for the Lord has done it; shout, you depths of the earth; break forth into singing, you mountains, O forest, and every tree in it! For the Lord has redeemed Jacob, and will glorify Himself in Israel.

24 Thus says the Lord, your Redeemer, and He Who formed you from the womb: I am the Lord Who made all things, Who alone stretched out the heavens, Who spread out the earth by Myself—who was with Me?

25 [I am the Lord] Who frustrates the signs and confounds the omens [upon which their forecasts of the future are based by the false prophets], the [boasting] liars, and makes fools of diviners; Who turns the wise backward and makes their knowledge foolishness; [I Cor. 1:20.]

26 The Lord Who confirms the word of His servant, and performs the counsel of His messengers; Who says of Jerusalem, She shall [again] be inhabited; and of the cities of Judah, They shall [again] be built, and I will raise up their ruins;

27 Who says to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up your rivers;

28 Who says of Cyrus, He is My shepherd (ruler), and he shall perform all My pleasure and fulfill all My purpose; even saying of Jerusalem, She shall again be built, and of the temple, Your foundation shall again be laid.

CHAPTER 45

THUS says the Lord to His anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have held to subdue nations before him, and I will unarm and ungird the loins of kings to open doors before him and that gates should not be shut.

2 I will go before you and level the mountains—to make the crooked places straight; I will break in pieces the doors of bronze and cut asunder the bars of iron.

3 And I will give you the treasures of darkness and hidden riches of secret places, that you may know that it is I, the Lord, the God of Israel, Who calls you by your name.

4 For Jacob My servant's sake, and Israel My chosen, I have called you by your name. I have surnamed you though you have not known Me.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God besides Me. I will gird and arm you though you have not known Me, 6 That men may know from the east and the rising of the sun, and from the west and its going down, that there is no God besides Me. I am the Lord, and no one else is He.

7 I form the light and create darkness; I make peace [national well-being. Moral evil proceeds from the will of men, but physical evil proceeds from the will of God], and I create [physical] evil — calamity; I am the Lord Who does all these things.

8 Let fall in showers, you heavens, from above, and let the skies rain down righteousness [the pure, spiritual, heavenly-life possibilities that have their foundation in the holy being of God]; let the earth open and let them, skies and earth, sprout forth salvation, and let righteousness germinate and spring up (as plants do) together; I the Lord have created it.

9 Woe to him who strives with his Maker! A worthless piece of broken pottery among other pieces equally worthless [and yet presuming to strive with his Maker]! Shall the clay say to him who fashioned it, What do you think you are making? or, Your work has no handles? [Rom. 9:20.]

10 Woe to him [who complains against his parents that they have begotten him] who says to a father, What are you begetting? or to a woman, With what are you in travail?

11 Thus says the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: Would you question Me of things to come concerning My children, and concerning the work of My hands command Me?

12 I made the earth, and created man upon it; I, with My hands, stretched out the heavens, and I commanded all their host.

13 I have raised Cyrus up in righteousness [willing in every way that which is right and proper], and I will direct all his ways; he shall build My city, and he shall let go My captives, not for hire or for a bribe, says the Lord of hosts.

14 Thus says the Lord, The labor and wealth of Egypt and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and the Sabceans, men of stature, shall come over to you and they shall be yours; they shall follow you; in chains [of subjection to you] they shall come over, and they shall fall down before you; they shall make supplication to you, saying, Surely God is in you, and there is no other, no God besides Him. [I Cor. 14:25.]

15 Truly You are a God Who hides Yourself, O God of Israel, the Savior.

16 They shall be put to shame, yes, confounded, all of them; they who are makers of idols shall go into confusion together.

17 But Israel shall be saved by the Lord with an everlasting salvation; you shall not be put to shame or confounded to all eternity. [Heb. 5:9.]

18 For thus says the Lord Who created the heavens, God Himself Who formed the earth and made it, Who established it and created it not a worthless waste; He formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord, and there is no one else.

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a corner of the land of darkness; I did not call the descendants of Jacob [to a fruitless service] saying, Seek Me for nothing [but promised them a just reward]. I the Lord speak righteousness — the truth [trustworthy, straight forward correspondence between deeds and words]. I declare the things that are right. [John 18:20.]

20 Assemble yourselves and come, draw near together, you survivors of the nations! They have no knowledge who carry about [in religious processions or into battle] their wooden idols, and keep on praying to a god that cannot save.

21 Declare and bring forward your strong arguments [for praying to gods that cannot save], yes, take counsel together. Who announced this [the rise of Cyrus and his conquests] beforehand — long ago? What god declared it of old? Have not I, the Lord? And there is no other God besides Me, a rigidly and uncompromisingly just and righteous God and Savior. There is none besides Me.

22 Look to Me and be saved, all the ends of the earth! For I am God, and there is no other.

23 I have sworn by Myself, the word is gone out of My mouth in righteousness and shall not return, that unto Me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear allegiance. [Rom. 14:11; Heb. 6:13; Phil. 2:10, 11.]

24 Only in the Lord shall one say, I have righteousness [salvation and victory] and strength [to achieve]. To Him shall all come who were incensed against Him, and shall be ashamed. [I Cor. 1:30, 31.]

25 In the Lord shall all the offspring of Israel be justified [enjoy righteousness, salvation and victory], and shall glory.

CHAPTER 46

BEL bows down, Nebo stoops [gods of Babylon whose idols are being carried off]; their idols are on the beasts of burden and on the cattle; these things that you carry about are loaded as burdens on the weary beasts.

2. The gods stoop, they bow down together; they could not save their own idols, but are themselves gone into captivity.

3 Listen to Me [says the Lord], O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, who have been borne by Me from your birth, carried from the womb:

4 Even to your old age I am He, and even to hair white with age will I carry you. I have made, and I will bear; yes, I will carry and will save you.

5 To whom will you liken Me and make Me equal, and compare Me, that we may be alike?

6 They lavish gold out of the cup or bag, weigh out silver on the scales, and hire a goldsmith, and he fashions it into a god; (then) they fall down, yes, they worship it!

7 They bear it upon their shoulders [in processions or in battle], they carry it and set it down in its place, and there it stands; it cannot move from its place. Even if one cries to it for help, yet the idol cannot answer or save him out of his distress.

8 [Earnestly] remember this, be ashamed and own yourselves guilty; bring it again to mind and lay it to heart, O you rebels!

9 [Earnestly] remember the former things which I did of old; for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like Me,

10 Declaring the end and the result from the beginning and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all My pleasure and purpose, 11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man [Cyrus] who executes My counsel from a far country. Yes, I have spoken, and I will bring it to pass; I have purposed it, and I will do it.

12 Listen to Me, you stiff-hearted and you who have lost heart, who are far from righteousness — from uprightness and right standing with God, and His righteous deliverance.

13 I bring near My righteousness [in the deliverance of Israel]; it shall not be far off, and My salvation shall not tarry; and I will put salvation in Zion, for Israel My glory — yes, give salvation in Zion and My glory to Israel.

CHAPTER 47

COME down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground [in abject humiliation]; there is no throne for you, O daughter of the Chaldeans, for you shall no longer be called dainty and delicate.

2 Take the millstones [like the poorest female slave of the household] and grind meal; take off your veil and uncover your hair; remove your skirt, bare your leg, wade through rivers [at the command of your captors].

3 Your nakedness shall be exposed, and your shame shall be seen. I will take vengeance, and I will spare no man — none I encounter [will be able to resist Me], 4 Says our Redeemer, the Lord of hosts is His name, the Holy One of Israel.

5 Sit in silence and go into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans; for you shall no more be called the lady and mistress of kingdoms.

6 I was angry with My people, I profaned My inheritance [Judah] and I gave them into your hand [Babylon]. You showed them no mercy; upon the old people you made your yoke very heavy.

7 And you said, I shall be mistress for ever; so you did not lay these things to heart, nor did you [seriously] remember the certain ultimate end of such conduct.

8 Therefore now hear this, you who love pleasures and are given up to them, who dwell safely and sit securely, who say in your mind, I am [mistress] and none else besides me; I shall not sit as a widow, nor shall I know the loss of children.

9 But these two things shall come to you in a moment, in one day, the loss of children and widowhood. They shall come upon you in their full measure in spite of the multitude of your claims to power given you by the assistance of evil spirits, and of the great abundance of your enchantments. [Rev. 18:7, 8.]

10 For you [Babylon] have trusted in your wickedness; you have said, No one sees me. Your wisdom and your knowledge led you astray, and you said in your heart and mind, I am, and there is no one besides me.

11 Therefore shall evil come upon you; you shall not know the dawning of it or how to charm it away; and disaster and evil shall fall upon you that you shall not be able to atone for [with all your offerings to your gods], and desolation shall come upon you suddenly, of which you will know nothing or how to avert it.

12 Persist then with your enchantments and the multitude of your sorceries [Babylon] in which you have labored from your youth, and see if perhaps you will be able to profit, if you may prevail and strike terror!

13 You are wearied with your many counsels and plans. Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and make known to you and save you from the things that shall come upon you [Babylon].

14 Behold, they are like stubble, the fire consumes them; they cannot even deliver themselves from the power of the flame [much less deliver the nation]. This is no coal for warming, or fire before which to sit!

15 Such to you shall they [the astrologers and their kind] be with whom you have labored and such their fate, who have done business with you from your youth; they will wander every one to his quarter and in his own direction. No one will save you.

CHAPTER 48

HEAR this, O house of Jacob, who are called by the name of Israel, and who came forth from the seed of Judah; who swear allegiance by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth and sincerity, nor in righteousness — rightness and moral rectitude in every area and relation —

2 For they call themselves citizens of the holy city and depend on the God of Israel; the Lord of hosts is His name.

3 I have declared from the beginning the former things [which happened in times past to Israel]; they went forth from My mouth and I made them known; then suddenly I did them, and they came to pass, says the Lord.

4 Because I knew that you are obstinate, and your neck is an iron sinew and your brow is brass,

5 Therefore I have declared things to come to you of old; before they came to pass I announced them to you, so that you could not say, My idol has done them, and my graven image and my molten image have commanded them.

6 You have heard [these things foretold], now you see this fulfillment; and will you not bear witness to it? I show you specified new things from this time forth, even hidden things — kept in reserve — which you have not known.

7 They are created now [called into being by the prophetic word] and not long ago; and before today you never heard of them, lest you should say, Behold, I knew them!

8 Yes, you have never heard; yes, you have never known; yes, from of old your ear was not opened. For I, the Lord, knew that you, O house of Israel, dealt very treacherously, and were called a transgressor and a rebel in revolt from your birth.

9 For My name's sake I defer My anger, and for the sake of My praise I restrain it for you, that I may not cut you off.

10 Behold, I have refined you, but not as silver; I have tried and chosen you in the furnace of affliction.

11 For My own sake, for My own sake, I do it [I refrain and do not utterly destroy you], for why should I permit My name to be polluted and profaned [which it would be if the Lord completely destroyed His chosen people]? And I will not give My glory to another [by permitting the worshippers of idols to triumph over you].

12 Listen to Me, O Jacob and Israel, My called; I am He, I am the first, I also am the last.

13 Yes, My hand has laid the foundation of the earth, and My right hand has spread out the heavens; when I call to them, they stand forth together [to execute My decrees].

14 Assemble yourselves, all of you, and hear! Who among them [the gods and Chaldean astrologers] has foretold these things? The Lord has loved him [Cyrus of Persia]; he will do His pleasure and purpose on Babylon, and his arm shall be against the Chaldeans.

15 I, even I, have foretold it; yes, I have called him [Cyrus]; I have brought him, and the Lord shall make his way prosperous.

16 Come near to me and listen to this: I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it happened I was there. And now the Lord God has sent His Spirit in and with me.

17 Thus says the Lord, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the Lord your God who teaches you to profit, Who leads you by the way that you should go.

18 Oh, that you had hearkened to My commandments! Then your peace and prosperity would have been like a flowing river; and your righteousness [the holiness and purity of the nation] like the abundant waves of the sea;

19 Your offspring would have been as the sand, and your descendants like the offspring of the sea; their name would not be cut off or destroyed from before Me. [Luke 19:42.]

20 Go forth out of Babylon, flee from the Chaldeans! With a voice of singing declare, tell this, cause it to go forth even to the end of the earth; say, The Lord has redeemed His servant Jacob!

21 And they thirsted not when He led them through the deserts; He caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them; He split the rock also, and the waters gushed out.

22 There is no peace, says the Lord, for the wicked.

CHAPTER 49

LISTEN to me, O isles and coastlands, and hearken, you peoples from afar; the Lord has called me from the womb, from the body of my mother He has named my name.

2 And He has made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of His hand has He hid me, and made me a polished arrow; in His quiver has He kept me close and concealed me.

3 And the Lord said to me, You are My servant, Israel—you who strive with God [and with men and prevail]—in whom I will be glorified. [Gen. 32:28; Deut. 7:6; 26:18, 19; Eph. 1:4-6.]

4 Then I said, I have labored in vain, I have spent my strength for nothing and in empty futility; yet surely my right is with the Lord, and my recompense is with my God.

5 And now, says the Lord Who formed 'me from the womb to be His servant, to bring Jacob back to Him, and that Israel might be gathered to Him and not swept away, for I am honorable in the eyes of the Lord and my God has become my strength;

6 He says, It is too light a thing that you should be My servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob and to restore the survivors [of the judgments] of Israel; I will also give you for a light to the nations, that My salvation may extend to the end of the earth.

7 Thus says the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel, Israel's Holy One, to him whom man rejects and despises, to him whom the nations abhor, to a servant of rulers: Kings shall see you and arise: princes, and they shall prostrate themselves; because of the Lord, Who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel, Who has chosen you.

8 Thus says the Lord, In an acceptable and favorable time I have heard and answered you, and in a day of salvation I have helped you; and I will preserve you and give you for a covenant to the people, to raise up and establish the land [from its present state of ruin], and to apportion and cause them to inherit the desolate [moral wastes of heathenism, their] heritages; [II Cor. 6:2.]

9 Saying to those who are bound, Come forth; to those who are in spiritual darkness, Show yourselves—come into the light [of the Sun of righteousness]. They shall feed in 'all the ways [in which they go], and their pastures shall be [not in deserts, but] on all the bare [grass covered] hills.

10 They shall not hunger or thirst, neither shall mirage mislead or scorching wind or sun smite them; for He Who has mercy on them will lead them, and by the springs of water will He guide them. [Rev. 7:16, 17.]

11 And I will make all My mountains a way, and My highways shall be raised up.

12 Behold, these shall come from afar; and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim [China].

13 Sing for joy, O heavens, and be joyful, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains; for the Lord has comforted His people and will have compassion upon His afflicted.

14 But Zion [Jerusalem, her people seen in captivity] said, The Lord has

i) It is difficult to know positively to whom the Lord is speaking in these next verses, whether (1) to the Messiah, (2) to Israel, or (3) to Isaiah. The large majority of early authorities favored (1), the later ones incline toward (2).

j) The Septuagint (Greek Version that Jesus knew) here reads, "In all the highways they shall be fed, and there shall be pasture for them in all the paths."

forsaken me, and my Lord has forgotten me.

15 [And the Lord answered] Can a woman forget her nursing child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yes, they may forget, yet will I not forget you.

16 Behold, I have indelibly imprinted (tattooed) a picture of you on the palm of each of My hands. O Zion, your walls are continually before Me.

17 Your children and your builders make haste; your destroyers and those who made you waste go forth from you.

18 Lift up your eyes round about, and see [the returning exiles, ready to rebuild Jerusalem]; all these gather together and come to you. As I live, says the Lord, you Zion, shall surely clothe yourself with them all as with an ornament, and bind them on you as a bride does.

19 For your waste and desolate places and your land [once the scene] of destruction, surely now in coming years will be too narrow to accommodate the population, and those who once swallowed you up will be far away.

20 The children of your bereavement [born during your captivity] shall yet say in your ears, The place is too narrow for me; make room for me that I may live.

21 Then, Zion, you will say in your heart, Who has borne me all these children, seeing that I lost my offspring, and am alone and barren and unfruitful, an exile put away and wandering hither and thither? And who brought them up? Behold, I was left alone [put away by the Lord, my Husband], from where then did all these children come?

22 Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will lift up My hand to the Gentile nations, and set up My standard and raise high My signal banner to the peoples; and they shall bring your sons in the bosom of their garments, and your daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And kings shall be your foster fathers and guardians, and their queens your nursing mothers. They shall bow down to you with their faces to the earth, and lick up the dust of your feet; and you shall know — with an acquaintance and understanding based on and grounded in personal experience — that I am the Lord: for they shall not be put to shame who wait for, look for, hope for and expect Me.

24 Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captives of the just be delivered?

25 For thus says the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered; for I will contend with him who contends with you, and I will give safety to your children and ease them.

26 And I will make those who oppress you consume themselves [in mutually destructive wars], thus eating their own flesh; and they shall be drunk with their own blood as with sweet wine; and all flesh shall know — with a knowledge grounded on personal experience — that I the Lord am your Savior and your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

CHAPTER 50

THUS says the Lord, Where is the bill of your mother's divorce, with which I put her away, O Israel? Or which of My creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities you were sold, and for your transgressions was your mother put away.

2 Why, when I came, was there no man? When I called, why was there no one to answer? Is My hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? Or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at My rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a desert; their fish stink because there is no water, and die of thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with the blackness [of murky storm clouds], and I make sackcloth of mourning their covering.

4 [The servant of God says] The Lord God has given me the tongue of disciples and of those who are taught, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him who is weary; He wakens me morning by morning, He wakens my ear to hear as disciples — as those who are taught.

5 The Lord God has opened my ear, and I have not been rebellious or turned backward.

6 I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to those who plucked off the hair; I hid not my face from shame and spitting. [Matt. 26:67; 27:30.]

7 For the Lord God helps me; therefore have I not been ashamed or confounded; therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be put to shame.

8 He is near Who declares me in the right; who will contend with me? Let us stand forth together. Who is my adversary? Let him come near to me. [Rom. 8:33-35.]

9 Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he who will condemn me? Lo, they all shall wax old and be worn out as a garment; the moth shall eat them up. [Heb. 1:11, 12.]

10 Who is among you who [reverently] fears the Lord, who obeys the voice of His servant, yet who walks in darkness and deep trouble and has no shining splendor [in his heart]? Let him rely on, trust and be confident in the name of the Lord, and let him lean upon and be supported by His God.

11 Behold, all you [enemies of your own selves] who attempt to kindle your own fire [and work out your own plan of salvation], who surround and gird yourselves with momentary sparks, darts and firebrands that you set aflame! Walk by the light of your self-made fire, and in the sparks that you have kindled [for yourself, if you will]! But this shall you have from My hand: you shall lie down in grief and in torment. [Isa. 66:24.]

CHAPTER 51

HEARKEN to Me, you who follow after rightness and justice, you who seek and inquire of [and require] the Lord [claiming Him by necessity and by right]; look to the rock from which you were hewn, and to the hole in the quarry from which you were dug.

2 Look to Abraham your father and to Sarah who bore you; for I called him when he was but one, and blessed him and made him many.

3 For the Lord will comfort Zion; He will comfort all her waste places, and He will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the Lord; joy and gladness will be found in her, thanksgiving and the voice of song or instrument of praise.

4 Listen to Me [the Lord], O My people, and give ear to Me, O My nation; for a [divine] law will go forth from Me and I will establish My justice for a light to the peoples.

5 My rightness and justice are near, My salvation is gone forth, and My arms shall rule the peoples; the islands shall wait for and expect Me, and on My arm shall they trust and wait with hope.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath; for the heavens shall be dissolved and vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner — like gnats; but My salvation shall be forever, and My rightness and justice [and faithfully fulfilled promise] shall not be abolished. [Matt. 24:35; II Pet. 3:10; Heb. 1:11.]

7 Listen to Me, you who know rightness and justice and right standing with God, the people in whose heart is My law and My instruction: fear not the reproach of men, neither be afraid nor dismayed at their revilings.

8 For [in comparison with the Lord they are so weak that things as insignificant as] the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool; but My righteousness and justice [and faithfully fulfilled promise] shall be for ever, and My salvation to all generations.

9 [Zion now cries to the Lord God of Israel] Awake, awake, put on strength and might, O arm of the Lord; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of long ago. Was it not You Who cut Rahab [Egypt] in pieces, Who pierced the dragon [symbol of Egypt]?

10 Was it not You Who dried up the Red Sea, the waters of the great deep, Who made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over? [Why then are we left so long in captivity?]

11 [The Lord God says,] And the redeemed of the Lord shall return and come with singing to Zion; everlasting joy shall be upon their heads, they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. [Rev. 7:17; 21:1, 4.]

12 I, even I, am He Who comforts you. Who are you, that you should be afraid of man who shall die, and of a son of man who shall be made [as destructible] as grass, 13 And have forgotten the Lord, your Maker, Who stretched forth the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth, and fear continually every day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he makes ready to destroy or even though he did so? And where is the fury of the oppressor?

14 The captive exile and he who is bent down by chains shall speedily be released, and he shall not die and go down to the pit of destruction, nor shall his food fail.

15 For I am the Lord your God, Who stirs up the sea so that its waves roar, and by rebuke restrains it. The Lord of hosts is His name.

16 And I have put My words in your mouth and have covered you in the shadow of My hand, that I may fix the new heavens as a tabernacle, and lay the foundations of a new earth, and say to Zion, You are My people. [Isa. 65:17; 66:22; Rev. 21:1.]

17 Arouse yourself, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, who have drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of His wrath, who have drunk the cup of intoxication and staggering to the dregs.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sons she has borne, neither is there any one to take her by the hand of all the sons whom she has brought up.

19 Two kinds of calamities have befallen you, but who feels sorry and commiserates you? They are desolation and destruction [on the land and city], and famine and the sword [on the inhabitants]; how shall I comfort you or by whom?

20 Your sons have fainted, they lie [like corpses] at the head of all the streets like an antelope in a net; they are full [from drinking] of the wrath of the Lord, the rebuke of your God.

21 Therefore, now hear this, you who are afflicted, and drunk, but not with wine [but thrown down by the wrath of God]:

22 Thus says your Lord, the Lord, and your God Who pleads the cause of His people: Behold, I have taken from your hand the cup of intoxication and staggering; the cup of My wrath you shall drink no more.

23 And I will put it into the hand of your tormentors and oppressors, those who said to you, Bow down, that we may ride or tread over you; and you have made your back like the ground and like the street for them to pass over.

CHAPTER 52

AWAKE, awake, put on your strength, O Zion; put on your beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city; for henceforth there shall no more come into you the uncircumcised and the unclean. [Rev. 21:27.]

2 Shake yourself from the dust; arise, sit [erect in a dignified place], O Jerusalem; loose yourself from the bonds of your neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus says the Lord, You were sold for nothing, and you shall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus says the Lord God, My people went down at the first into Egypt to sojourn there; and [many years later Sennacherib] the Assyrian oppressed them for nothing. [Now I delivered you from both Egypt and Assyria; what then can prevent My delivering you from Babylon?]

5 But now, what have I here, says the Lord, seeing that My people are taken away for nothing? Those who rule over them howl [with joy], says the Lord, and My name continually all day is blasphemed. [Rom. 2:24.]

6 Therefore My people shall know what My name is and what it means; therefore they shall know in that day that I am He who speaks; behold, I AM! [Exod. 3:13, 14.]

7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good tidings, who publishes peace, who brings good tidings of good, who publishes salvation, who says to Zion, Your God reigns! [Acts 10:36; Rom. 10:15; Eph. 6:14-16.]

8 Hark, your watchmen lift up their voice, together they sing for joy; for they shall see eye to eye the return of the Lord to Zion.

9 Break forth joyously, sing together, you waste places of Jerusalem; for the Lord has comforted His people, He has redeemed Jerusalem!

10 The Lord has made bare His holy arm before the eyes of all the nations [revealing Himself as the One by Whose direction the redemption of Israel from captivity is accomplished], and all the ends of the earth shall witness the salvation of our God. [Luke 2:29-32; 3:6.]

11 Depart, depart, go out from there [the lands of exile], touch no unclean thing; go out of the midst of her [Babylon]; cleanse yourselves and be clean, you who bear the vessels of the Lord [on your journey from there]. [II Cor. 6:16, 17.]

12 For you shall not go out with haste, nor shall you go by flight [as was necessary when Israel left Egypt], for the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel will be your rear guard.

13 Behold, My Servant shall deal wisely and shall prosper, He shall be exalted and extolled, and shall stand very high.

14 [For many the Servant of God became an object of horror; many were astonished.] His face and His whole appearance were marred more than any man's, and His form beyond that of the sons of men; but just as many were astonished at Him,

15 So shall He startle and sprinkle many nations; kings shall shut their mouths because of Him; for that which has not been told them shall they see, and that which they have not heard shall they consider and understand. [Rom. 15:21.]

CHAPTER 53

WHO has believed — trusted in, relied upon and clung to — our message of that which was revealed to us? And to whom has the arm of the Lord been disclosed? [John 12:38-41; Rom. 10:16.]

2 For [the Servant of God] grew up before Him like a tender plant, and as a root out of dry ground; He has no

[royal, kingly pomp] form or comeliness that we should look at Him, and no beauty that we should desire Him.

3 He was despised and rejected and forsaken by men, a Man of sorrows and pains, and acquainted with grief and sickness; and as one from Whom men hide their faces He was despised, and we did not appreciate His worth or have any esteem for Him.

4 Surely He has borne our griefs — sickness, weakness and distress — and carried our sorrows and pain [of punishment]. Yet we ignorantly considered Him stricken, smitten and afflicted by God [as if with leprosy]. [Matt. 8:17.]

5 But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our guilt and iniquities; the chastisement needful to obtain peace and well-being for us was upon Him, and with the stripes that wounded Him we are healed and made whole.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray, we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord has made to light on Him the guilt and iniquity of us all. [I Pet. 2:24, 25.]

7 He was oppressed, yet when He was afflicted He was submissive and opened not His mouth; as a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and as a sheep that before her shearers is dumb, so He opened not His mouth.

8 By oppression and judgment He was taken away; and as for His generation, who among them considered that He was cut off out of the land of the living for the transgression of my [Isaiah's] people, to whom the stroke was due — stricken to His death?

9 And they assigned Him a grave with the wicked and with a rich man in His death, although He had done no violence, neither was any deceit in

His mouth. [Matt. 27:57-60; I Pet. 2:22, 23.]

10 Yet it was the will of the Lord to bruise Him; He has put Him to grief and made Him sick. When You and He make Him an offering for sin [and He has risen from the dead, in time to come], He shall see His spiritual offspring, He shall prolong His days, and the will and pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in His hand.

11 He shall see the fruit of the travail of His soul and be satisfied; by His knowledge of Himself [which He possesses and imparts to others] shall My [uncompromisingly] righteous One, My Servant, justify and make many righteous — upright and in right standing with God; for He shall bear their iniquities and their guilt [with the consequences, says the Lord].

12 Therefore will I divide Him a portion with the great [kings and rulers], and He shall divide the spoil with the mighty; because He poured out His life unto death, and He let Himself be regarded as a criminal and be numbered with the transgressors, yet He bore [and took away] the sin of many and makes intercession for the transgressors — the rebellious. [Luke 22:37.]

CHAPTER 54

SING, ⁴O barren, you who did not bear; break forth into singing and cry aloud, you who did not travail with child! For the [spiritual] children of the desolate one will be more than the children of the married wife, says the Lord. [Gal. 4:27.]

2 Enlarge the place of your tent, and let the curtains of your habitations be stretched out; spare not, lengthen your cords and strengthen your stakes,

3 For you shall spread abroad to the

k) Although this chapter is primarily intended to express Zion's joy over redemption, it has also a very personal, long neglected because overlooked, message for women — the lonely, the disappointed, the childless, the widow. It has all the glorious confidence and assurance, the incentive and understanding for which feminine hearts have longed during the ages! Every woman who will read it every week for a year, with receptive heart and mind, will find herself not only spiritually prepared for her own childlessness or widowhood, should it come, but supplied with rich treasure with which to meet such need of countless other aching hearts to whom the Holy Spirit is here speaking.

right hand and to the left, and your offspring will possess the nations, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

4 Fear not, for you shall not be ashamed; neither be confounded and depressed, for you shall not be put to shame; for you shall forget the shame of your youth, and you shall not [seriously] remember the reproach of your widowhood any more.

5 For your Maker is your husband, the Lord of hosts is His name; and the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer, the God of the whole earth He is called.

6 For the Lord has called you like a woman forsaken, grieved in spirit and heartsore, even a wife [wooned and won] in youth, when she is later refused and scorned, says your God.

7 For a brief moment I forsook you, but with great compassion and mercies I gather you to Me again.

8 In a little burst of wrath I hid My face from you for a moment, but with age-enduring love and kindness I will have compassion and mercy on you, says the Lord, your Redeemer.

9 For this is as the days of Noah to Me; as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth, so have I sworn that I will not be angry with you or rebuke you.

10 For though the mountains should depart and the hills be shaken or removed, yet My love and kindness shall not depart from you, nor shall My covenant of peace and completeness be removed, says the Lord, Who has compassion on you.

11 O you afflicted, storm-tossed and not comforted, behold, I will set your stones in fair colors — in antimony [to enhance their brilliance] — and lay your foundations with sapphires.

12 And I will make your windows and pinnacles of [sparkling] agates or rubies, and your gates of [shining] carbuncles, and all the walls of your enclosures of precious stones. [Rev. 21:19-21.]

13 And all your [spiritual] children shall be disciples — taught of the Lord [and obedient to His will]; and great shall be the peace and undisturbed composure of your children. [John 6:45.]

14 You shall establish yourself on righteousness — right, in conformity with God's will and order; you shall be far even from the thought of oppression or destruction, for you shall not fear; and from terror, for it shall not come near you.

15 Behold, they may gather together and stir up strife, but it is not from Me. Whoever stirs up strife against you shall fall away to you.

16 Behold, I have created the smith who blows on the fire of coals, and who produces a weapon for its purpose, and I have created the devastator to destroy.

17 But no weapon that is formed against you shall prosper, and every tongue that shall rise against you in judgment you shall show to be in the wrong. This [peace, righteousness, security, triumph over opposition] is the heritage of the servants of the Lord [those in whom the ideal Servant of the Lord is reproduced]. This is the righteousness or the vindication which they obtain from Me — this is that which I impart to them as their justification — says the Lord.

CHAPTER 55

WAIT and listen, every one who is thirsty! Come to the waters; and he who has no money, come, buy and eat! Yes, come, buy priceless [spiritual] wine and milk without money and without price [simply for the self-surrender that accepts the blessing]. [Rev. 21:6, 7; 22:17.]

2 Why do you spend your money for that which is not bread? And your earnings for what does not satisfy? Harken diligently to Me, and eat what is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness [the profuseness of spiritual joy]. [Jer. 31:12-14.]

3 Incline your ear [submit and consent to the Divine will], and come to Me; hear, and your soul shall revive; and I will make an everlasting covenant or league with you, even the sure mercies — kindness, good will and compassion — promised to David. [II Sam. 7:8-16; Acts 13:34; Heb. 13:20.]

4 Behold, I have appointed Him [the Messiah, or David as representing Him] for a witness — one who shall testify of salvation — to the nations, a prince and commander to the peoples.

5 Behold, you [Israel?] shall call nations that you know not, and nations that did not know you shall run to you because of the Lord your God, and of the Holy One of Israel, for He has glorified you.

6 Seek, inquire for and require the Lord while He may be found — claiming Him by necessity and by right; call upon Him while He is near.

7 Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return to the Lord, and He will have love, pity and mercy for him; and to our God, for He will multiply to him His abundant pardon.

8 For My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways My ways, says the Lord.

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts.

10 For as the rain and snow come down from the heavens, and return not there again, but water the earth and make it bring forth and sprout, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, [II Cor. 9:10.]

11 So shall My word be that goes forth out of My mouth; it shall not return to Me void — without producing any effect, useless — but it shall accomplish that which I please and purpose, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.

12 For you shall go out [from spiritual exile of sin and evil into the homeland] with joy, and be led forth [by your Leader, the Lord Himself and His word] with peace; the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 Instead of the thorn shall come up the cypress tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree; and it shall be to the Lord for a name of renown, for an everlasting sign of jubilant exaltation and memorial [to His praise] that shall not be cut off.

CHAPTER 56

THUS says the Lord, Keep justice, do and use righteousness [conformity to the will of God which brings salvation]; for My salvation is soon to come, and My righteousness — My rightness and justice — to be revealed. [Matt. 3:2; Luke 21:31; Rom. 13:11, 12; Isa. 62:1, 11.]

2 Blessed, happy, and fortunate is the man who does this, and the son of man who lays hold of it and binds himself fast to it, who keeps sacred the sabbath so as not to profane it, and keeps his hand from doing any evil.

3 Let not the foreigner who has joined himself to the Lord say, The Lord will surely separate me from His people; and let not the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus says the Lord: To the eunuchs who keep My sabbaths and choose the things which please Me and hold firmly My covenant,

5 To them I will give in My house and within My walls a memorial and a name better [and more enduring] than of sons and daughters; I will give them an everlasting name that shall not be cut off.

1) The identification of the one here addressed is uncertain. A proportionately large number of authorities believe it to be Israel, as here indicated, but others think it is the Messiah, or David as representing Him — "the second David."

6 Also the foreigners who join themselves to the Lord, to minister to Him, and to love the name of the Lord and to be His servants, every one who keeps the sabbath from profaning it and holds fast My covenant [by conscientious obedience],

7 All these I will bring to My holy mountain, and make them joyful in My house of prayer; their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted on My altar, for My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples.

8 Thus says the Lord God Who gathers the outcasts of Israel, I will gather yet others to Israel, besides those already gathered.

9 All you beasts of the field, come to devour, all you beasts [hostile nations] in the forest.

10 [Israel's] watchmen are blind, they are all without knowledge; they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber.

11 Yes, the dogs are greedy, they can never have enough; and such are the shepherds who cannot understand; they have all turned to their own way, each one to his gain, from every quarter — one and all.

12 Come, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and tomorrow shall be as this day, a day great beyond measure.

CHAPTER 57

THE righteous man perishes, and no one lays it to heart; and merciful and devout men are taken away, none considering that the uncompromisingly upright and godly person is taken away from the calamity and evil to come — even through wickedness.

2 He [in death] enters into peace; they rest in their beds, each one who walks straight before him and in his uprightness.

3 But come close, you sons of the sorceress [nursed in witchcraft and superstition], the offspring of the adulterer and the harlot.

4 Against whom do you make sport and take your delight? Against whom do you open wide your mouth and put out your tongue? Are you not yourselves the children of transgression, the offspring of deceit,

5 You who burn with lust — inflaming yourselves with idols — among the oaks, under every green tree; who slay the children [in sacrifice] in the valleys under clefts of the rocks?

6 Among the smooth stones of the valley is your portion; they, they are your lot; to them you have poured out a drink offering, you have offered a cereal offering. Should I be quiet in spite of all these things [and leave them unpunished] — bearing them with patience?

7 Upon a lofty and high mountain you have openly and shamelessly set your [idolatrous and adulterous] bed; even there you went up to offer sacrifice [in spiritual unfaithfulness to your divine Husband].

8 Behind the door and the doorpost you have set up your idol symbol [as a substitute for the scripture text God ordered]; for, deserting Me, you have uncovered and ascended and enlarged your bed, and you have made a fresh bargain for yourself with the adulterers; you loved their bed where you saw a beckoning hand or a passion-inflaming image. [Deut. 6:5, 6, 9; 11:18, 20.]

9 And you went to the king [of foreign lands] with gifts or to the god Molech with oil, and increased your perfumes and ointments; you sent your messengers far off, and debased yourself even to Sheol or Hades [symbol of an abysmal depth of degradation].

10 You were wearied with the length of your way [in trying to find rest and satisfaction in alliances apart from the true God]; yet you did not say, There is no result or profit. You found quickened strength, therefore you were not faint or heartsick [or penitent].

11 Of whom have you been afraid and in dread that you lied and were treacherous and did not [seriously] remember Me, did not even give Me a thought? Have I not been silent, even for a long time, and so you do not fear Me?

12 I will expose your [pretended] righteousness and your doings, but they will not help you.

13 When you cry out, let your (rabble) collection of idols deliver you! But the wind shall take them all, a breath shall carry them away. But he who takes refuge in Me shall possess the land [Judea] and shall inherit My holy mountain [Zion, also the heavenly inheritance and the spiritual Zion]. [Isa. 49:8; Pss. 37:9, 11; 69:35, 36; Matt 5:5; Heb. 12:22.]

14 And the word of One shall go forth, Cast up, cast up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way [of the spiritual return] of My people.

15 For thus says the high and lofty One Who inhabits eternity, Whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also who is of a thoroughly penitent and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the thoroughly penitent — bruised with sorrow for sin. [Matt. 5:3.]

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be angry always, for [were it not so] the spirit [of man] would faint and be consumed before Me, and [My purpose in] creating the souls of men would be frustrated.

17 Because of the iniquity of his covetousness and unjust gain I was angry, and smote [Judah]. I hid my face and was angry, and he went on turning away and backsliding in the way of his [own willful] heart.

18 I have seen his [willful] ways, but I will heal him; I will lead him also, and will recompense him and restore comfort to him and to those who mourn for him. [Isa. 61:1, 2; 66:10.]

19 Peace, peace to him who is far off [both Jew and Gentile], and to him that is near! says the Lord; I create the fruit of his lips and I will heal him — make his lips blossom anew with speech [in thankful praise]. [Acts 2:39; Eph. 2:13-17, 18; Heb. 13:15.]

20 But the wicked are like the troubled sea, for it cannot rest and its waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, says my God, for the wicked.

CHAPTER 58

CRY aloud, spare not, lift up your voice like a trumpet and declare to My people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins!

2 Yet they seek, inquire for and require Me daily, and delight [externally] to know My ways; as [if they were in reality] a nation that did righteousness and forsook not the ordinance of their God, they ask of Me righteous judgments; they delight to draw near to God [in visible ways].

3 Why have we fasted, they say, and You do not see it? Why have we afflicted ourselves, and You take no knowledge of it? Behold, O Israel, in the day of your fast [when you should be grieving for your sins] you find business profit, and [instead of stopping all work, as the Law implies you and your workmen should] you extort from your hired servants a full amount of labor. [Lev. 16:29.]

4 [The facts are] you fast only for strife and debate and to smite with the fist of wickedness. Fasting as you do today will not cause your voice to be heard on high.

5 Is such a fast as yours what I have chosen, a day for a man to humble himself with soul-sorrow? [Is true fasting merely mechanical?] Is it only to bow down his head like a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him [to indicate a condition of heart that he does not have]? Will you call this a fast and an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 [Rather,] is not this the fast that I have chosen: to loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the bands of the yoke, to let the oppressed go free, and that you break every [enslaving] yoke? [Acts 8:23.]

7 Is it not to divide your bread with the hungry, and bring the homeless poor into your house? When you see the naked that you cover him, and that you hide not yourself from [the needs of] your own flesh and blood?

8 Then shall your light break forth as the morning, and your healing [your restoration and the power of a new life] shall spring forth speedily; your righteousness [your rightness, your justice and your right relationship with God] shall go before you [conducting you to peace and prosperity], and the glory of the Lord shall be your rear guard. [Isa. 52:12; Exod. 14:19, 20.]

9 Then you shall call, and the Lord will answer; you shall cry, and He will say, Here I am. If you take away from your midst yokes of oppression [wherever you find them], the finger pointed in scorn [toward the oppressed or the godly], and every form of false, harsh, unjust and wicked speaking; [Exod. 3:14.]

10 And if you pour out that with which you sustain your own life for the hungry, and satisfy the need of the afflicted, then shall your light rise in darkness and your obscurity and gloom be as the noonday.

11 And the Lord shall guide you continually, and satisfy you in drought and in dry places, and make strong your bones. And you shall be like a watered garden and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12 And your ancient ruins shall be rebuilt; you shall raise up the foundations of [buildings that have laid waste for] many generations; and you shall be called the repairer of the breach, the restorer of streets to dwell in.

13 If you turn away your foot from [traveling unduly on] the sabbath, from doing your own pleasure on My holy day, and call the sabbath a [spiritual] delight, the holy day of the Lord, honorable; and shall honor Him and it, not going your own way or seeking or finding your own pleasure, or speaking with your own [idle] words;

14 Then shall you delight yourself in the Lord, and I will make you to ride on the high places of the earth, and I will feed you with the heritage [promised for you to] Jacob your father; for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it. [Gen. 27:28, 29; 28:13-15.]

CHAPTER 59

BEHOLD, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; nor His ear dull with deafness that it cannot hear;

2 But your iniquities have made a separation between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you, so that He will not hear.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken lies, your tongue mutters wickedness.

4 None sues or calls in righteousness [but for the sake of doing injury to others, to take some undue advantage], no one goes to law honestly and pleads in truth; they trust in emptiness, worthlessness and futility, and speaking lies! They conceive mischief and bring forth evil!

5 They hatch adders' eggs, and weave the spider's web; he who eats of their eggs dies, and from an egg which is crushed a viper breaks out [for their nature is ruinous, deadly, evil].

6 Their webs will not serve as clothing, nor will they cover themselves with what they make; their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

7 Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood; their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; desolation and destruction are in their paths and highways.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is no justice or right in their goings; they have made them crooked paths; whoever goes in them does not know peace. [Rom. 3:15-18.]

9 Therefore are justice and right far from us, and righteousness and salvation do not overtake us; we expectantly wait for light, but [only] see darkness; for brightness, but we walk in obscurity and gloom.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind; yes, we grope as they who have no eyes; we stumble at noonday as in the twilight; in dark places and among those who are full of life and vigor we are as dead men.

11 We all groan and growl like bears, and moan plaintively like doves. We look for justice, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far from us.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before You, O Lord, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know and recognize them as:

13 Rebelling and denying the Lord, and turning away from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and muttering and moaning from the heart words of falsehood.

14 Justice is turned away backward, and righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God — stands far off; for truth has fallen in [the city's forum], and uprightness cannot enter [the courts of justice].

15 Yes, truth is lacking, and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey. And the Lord saw it, and it displeased Him that there was no justice.

16 And He saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor [no one to intervene on behalf of truth and right]; therefore His own arm brought Him victory, and His righteousness [having the Spirit without measure] sustained Him. [I John 2:1, 2; Isa. 53:11; Col. 2:9.]

17 For the Lord put on righteousness as a breastplate or coat of mail, and salvation for a helmet upon His head; He put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal [and furious divine jealousy] as a cloak. [Eph. 6:14, 17; I Thess. 5:8.]

18 According as their deeds deserve, so will He repay, wrath to His adversaries, recompense to His enemies; on the foreign islands and coastlands He will make compensation.

19 So [as the result of the Messiah's intervention] they shall [reverently] fear the name of the Lord from the west, and His glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord will lift up a standard against him and put him to flight — for He will come like a rushing stream which the breath of the Lord drives. [Matt. 8:11; Luke 13:29.]

20 He shall come as a Redeemer to Zion, and to those in Jacob (Israel) who turn from transgression, says the Lord.

21 As for Me, this is My covenant or league with them, says the Lord: My Spirit Who is upon you [and Who writes the law of God inwardly in the heart], and My words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, or out of the mouth of your [true, spiritual] children, or out of the mouth of your children's children, says the Lord, from henceforth and for ever. [Rom. 11:26, 27; Gal. 3:29; Heb. 12:22-24.]

CHAPTER 60

ARISE [from the depression and prostration in which circumstances have kept you; rise to a new life! Shine — be radiant with the glory of the Lord; for your light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon you! [Zech. 8:23.]

2 For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and dense darkness all peoples; but the Lord shall arise upon you, [O Jerusalem], and His glory shall be seen on you. [Mal. 4:2; Isa. 60: 19-22; Rev. 21:2, 3.]

3 And nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising. [Isa. 2:2, 3; Jer. 3:17.]

4 Lift up your eyes round about you, and see! They all gather themselves together, they come to you. Your sons shall come from afar, and your daughters shall be carried and nursed in the arms.

5 Then you shall see and be radiant, and your heart shall thrill and tremble with joy [at the glorious deliverance], and be enlarged; because the abundant wealth of the [Dead] "Sea shall be turned to you; unto you shall the nations come with their treasures. [Ps. 119:32.]

6 A multitude of camels [from the eastern trading tribes] shall cover you [Jerusalem], the young camels of Midian and Ephah; all the men from Sheba [who once came to trade] shall come bringing gold and frankincense, and proclaiming the praises of the Lord. [Matt. 2:11.]

7 [The eastern pastoral tribes will join the trading tribes] all the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered to you, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister to you; they shall come up with acceptance on My altar, and My glorious house I will glorify.

8 Who are these who fly like a cloud, and like doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles and distant coastlands shall wait for and expect Me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring your sons from far, their silver and gold with them, for the name of the Lord your God and for the Holy One of Israel, because He has beautified and glorified you.

10 Foreigners shall build up your walls, and their kings shall minister to you; for in My wrath I smote you, but in My favor, pleasure and good will I have had mercy, love and pity for you.

11 And your gates shall be open continually, they shall not be shut day or night, that men may bring to you the wealth of the nations, and their kings led in procession [your voluntary captives]. [Rev. 21:24-27.]

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve you in that day [Jerusalem] shall perish; yes, those nations shall be utterly laid waste.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come to you, the cypress, the plane, and the pine trees together, to beautify the place of My sanctuary; and I will make the place of My feet glorious.

14 The sons of those who afflicted you shall come bending low to you, and all those who despised you shall bow down at your feet, and they shall call you the City of the Lord, the Zion of the Holy One of Israel. [Rev. 3:9.]

15 Whereas you have been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through you, I will make you [Jerusalem] an eternal glory, a joy from age to age.

16 You shall suck the milk of the [Gentile] nations and shall suck the breast of kings; and you shall recog-

m) Prior to well into the twentieth century, scholars could only speculate as to what Isaiah could have meant here by "the abundant wealth of the Sea" that was one day to be turned over to Jerusalem. Of course the Dead Sea, which for ages had been considered only a place of death and desolation was ruled out. Then suddenly it was discovered that the waters of the Dead Sea contain important chemicals. In 1935 A.D. G. T. B. Davis wrote in his Rebuilding Palestine, "One is almost staggered by the computed wealth of the chemical salts of the Dead Sea. It is estimated that the potential value of the potash, bromine, and other chemical salts of its waters is . . . four times the wealth of the United States!" Isaiah himself did not know this, but the God who made the Dead Sea for a part in His end-time program knew all about it, and caused this record to say so.

nize and know that I the Lord am your Savior and your Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.

17 Instead of bronze I will bring gold, and instead of iron I will bring silver; and for wood, bronze, and for stones, iron. [Instead of the tyranny of the present] I will appoint peace as your officers and righteousness as your taskmasters.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in your land, devastation or destruction within your borders, but you shall call your walls Salvation and your gates Praise.

19 The sun shall be no more your light by day, nor for brightness shall the moon give light to you; but the Lord shall be to you an everlasting light, and your God your glory and your beauty. [Jer. 9:23, 24; Rev. 21:23.]

20 Your sun shall no more go down, nor shall your moon withdraw itself; for the Lord shall be your everlasting light, and the days of your mourning shall be ended.

21 Your people also shall all be [uncompromisingly and consistently] righteous; they shall possess the land for ever, the branch of My planting, the work of My hands, that I may be glorified.

22 The least one shall become a thousand [a clan], and the small one a strong nation. I the Lord will hasten it in its [appointed] time.

CHAPTER 61

THE Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord has anointed and qualified me to preach the Gospel of good tidings to the meek, the poor and afflicted; He has sent me to bind up and heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the [physical and spiritual] captives, and the opening of the prison and of the eyes to those who are bound; [Rom. 10:15.]

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord — the year for His favor — ^aand the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; [Matt. 11:2-6; Luke 4:18, 19; 7:22.]

3 To grant [consolation and joy] to those who mourn in Zion, to give them an ornament — a garland or diadem — of beauty instead of ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment [expressive] of praise instead of a heavy, burdened and failing spirit; that they may be called oaks of righteousness [lofty, strong and magnificent, distinguished for uprightness, justice and right standing with God], the planting of the Lord, that He may be glorified.

4 And they shall rebuild the ancient ruins, they shall raise up the former desolations and renew the ruined cities, the devastations of many generations.

5 Aliens shall stand [ready] and feed your flocks, and foreigners shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers;

6 But you shall be called the priests of the Lord; people will speak of you as the ministers of our God. You shall eat the wealth of the nations, and the glory [once that of your captors] shall be yours. [Exod. 19:6; I Pet. 2:5; Rev. 1:6; 5:10; 20:6.]

7 For your [former] shame you shall have a twofold recompense; instead of dishonor and reproach your people shall rejoice in their portion; therefore in their land they shall possess double [what they had forfeited]; everlasting joy shall be theirs.

8 For I the Lord love justice, I hate robbery and wrong with violence or a burnt offering; and I will give them their recompense faithfully in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant or league with them.

9 And their offspring shall be known among the nations, and their descendants among the peoples. All who see them [in their prosperity] will recognize and acknowledge that they are the people whom the Lord has blessed.

10 I will greatly rejoice in the Lord,

n) See footnote on Ezekiel 34:28.

my soul shall exult in my God; for He has clothed me with the garments of salvation, He has covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decks himself with a garland, and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.

11 For as surely as the earth brings forth its shoots, and as a garden causes what is sown in it to spring forth, so surely the Lord God will cause rightness and justice and praise to spring forth before all the nations [through the self-fulfilling power of His word].

CHAPTER 62

FOR Zion's sake will I [Isaiah] not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest until her imputed righteousness and vindication go forth as brightness, and her salvation radiates as does a burning torch.

2 And the nations shall see your righteousness and vindication — your rightness and justice [not your own, but His ascribed to you] — and all kings shall behold your salvation and glory and you shall be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name. [Rev. 2:17.]

3 You shall also be [so beautiful and prosperous as to be thought of as] a crown of glory and honor in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem [exceedingly beautiful] in the hand of your God.

4 You [Judah] shall no more be termed Forsaken, nor shall your land be called Desolate any more, but you shall be called Hephzibah [My delight is in her], and your land be called Beulah [that is, Married]; for the Lord delights in you, and your land shall be married [owned and protected by the Lord].

5 For as a young man marries a virgin [O Jerusalem], so shall your sons marry you; and as the bridegroom rejoices over the bride, so shall your God rejoice over you.

6 I have set watchmen upon your walls, O Jerusalem, who will never hold their peace day or night; you who [are His servants and by your prayers] put the Lord in remembrance [of His promises], keep not silence,

7 And give Him no rest until He establishes Jerusalem and makes it a praise in the earth.

8 The Lord has sworn by His right hand and by His mighty arm: Surely I will not again give your grain to be food for your enemies, and [the invading sons of] aliens shall not drink your new wine for which you have toiled.

9 But they who have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the Lord; and they who have brought in the vintage shall drink it [at the feasts celebrated] in the courts of My sanctuary — the temple of My holiness.

10 Go through, go through the gates; prepare the way of the people, cast up, cast up the highway, gather out the stones; lift up a standard or ensign over and for the peoples.

11 Behold, the Lord has proclaimed to the end of the earth, Say to the daughter of Zion, Behold, your salvation comes [in the person of the Lord]; behold, His reward is with Him and His work and recompense before Him. [Isa. 40:10.]

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord; and you shall be called, Sought out, A city not forsaken.

CHAPTER 63

WHO is this Who comes from Edom, with crimson-stained garments from Bozrah [in Edom]? This One Who is glorious in His apparel, striding triumphantly in the greatness of His might? It is I, the One Who speaks in righteousness — proclaiming vindication — mighty to save!

2 Why is Your apparel splashed with red, and Your garments like his who treads in the winepress?

3 I have trodden the winepress alone, and of the peoples there was no one with Me; I trod them in My anger and trampled them in My wrath, and their life-blood is sprinkled upon My garments, and I have stained all My raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance was in My heart, and My year of redemption — the year of My redeemed — has come.

5 And I looked, but there was no one to help; I was amazed and appalled that there was no one to uphold [truth and right]. So My own arm brought Me victory, and My wrath upheld Me.

6 I trod down the peoples in My anger, and made them drink of the cup of My wrath until intoxicated, and I spilled their lifeblood upon the earth.

7 I will recount the loving-kindnesses of the Lord, and the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, according to all that the Lord has bestowed on us, and the great goodness to the house of Israel, which He has granted them according to His mercies, and according to the multitude of His loving-kindnesses.

8 For He said, Surely they are My people, sons who will not lie — who will not deal falsely with Me; and so He was to them a Savior [in all their distresses].

9 In all their affliction He was afflicted, and the Angel of His presence saved them; in His love and in His pity He redeemed them; and He lifted them up and carried them all the days of old.

10 But they rebelled and grieved His Holy Spirit; therefore He turned to be their enemy, and Himself fought against them.

11 Then His people [seriously] remembered the days of old, of Moses and his people, and they said, Where is He Who brought [our fathers] up out of the Red Sea with [Moses and the other] shepherds of His flock? Where is He Who put His Holy Spirit within their midst?

12 Who caused His glorious arm to go at the right hand of Moses, dividing the waters before them, to make Himself an everlasting name?

13 Who led them through the depths, as a horse in the wilderness, so that they did not stumble?

14 As the cattle that go down into the valley [to find better pasturage, refuge and rest], the Spirit of the Lord caused them to rest. So did You lead Your people, Lord, to make for Yourself a beautiful and glorious name [to prepare the way for its acknowledgment by all nations].

15 Look down from heaven and see from the dwelling place of Your holiness and Your glory. Where are Your zeal and Your jealousy, and Your mighty acts [which you formerly did for Your people]? Your yearning pity and the [multitude of] compassions of Your heart are restrained and withheld from me.

16 For surely You are our Father, even though [our ancestor] Abraham does not know us, and Israel [Jacob] does not acknowledge us; You, O Lord, are [still] our Father; our Redeemer from everlasting is Your name.

17 O Lord, why have You made us [able] to err from Your ways, and hardened our hearts to [reverential] fear of You? Return [to bless us] for

o) "The Angel of the Lord," "of God," or "of His Presence," is readily identified as the Lord God (Gen. 16:11, 13; 22:11, 12; 31:11, 13; Exod. 3:1-6, etc.). But it is obvious that the Angel of the Lord is a distinct person in Himself from God the Father (Gen. 24:7; Zech. 1:12, 13; Exod. 23:20; etc.), as this verse shows. Nor does the Angel of the Lord longer appear after Christ came in human form. He must of necessity then be One of the three-in-one Godhead.

The Angel of the Lord is the visible Lord God of the Old Testament, as Jesus Christ was of the New Testament. Thus His Deity is clearly portrayed in the Old Testament. "There is a fascinating forecast of the coming Messiah, breaking through the dimness with amazing consistency, at intervals from Genesis to Malachi. Abraham, Moses, the slave girl Hagar, the impoverished farmer Gideon, even the humble parents of Samson, had seen and talked with Him centuries before the herald angels proclaimed His birth in Bethlehem" (Cambridge Bible).

Your servants' sake, the tribes of Your heritage.

18 Your holy people possessed Your sanctuary but a little while; our adversaries have trodden it down.

19 We have become to You as they over whom You never bore rule, as they who were not called by Your name.

CHAPTER 64

OH, that You would rend the heavens, and that You would come down, that the mountains might quake and flow down at Your presence,

2 As when fire kindles the brushwood and the fire causes the waters to boil; to make Your name known to Your adversaries, that the nations may tremble at Your presence!

3 When You did terrible things which we did not expect, You came down, the mountains quaked at Your presence.

4 For from of old, men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, nor has the eye seen a God besides You, Who works and shows Himself active on behalf of him who [earnestly] waits for Him.

5 You meet and spare him who joyfully works righteousness — uprightness and justice — [earnestly] remembering You in Your ways. Behold, You were angry, for we sinned; we have long continued in our sins [prolonging Your anger], and shall we be saved?

6 For we have all become as one who is unclean [ceremonially, as a leper], and all our righteousness — our best deeds of rightness and justice — are as filthy rags or a polluted garment. We all fade as a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away [far from God's favor, hurrying us to destruction]. [Lev. 13:45, 46.]

7 And no one calls upon Your name and awakens and bestirs himself to take and keep hold of You. For You have hid Your face from us and have delivered us into the [consuming] power of our iniquities. [Rom. 1:21-24.]

8 Yet, O Lord, You are our Father; we are the clay, and You our potter, and we all are the work of Your hand.

9 Do not be exceedingly angry, O Lord, or [seriously] remember iniquity for ever. Behold, consider, we beseech You, we are all Your people.

10 Your holy cities have become a wilderness, Zion has become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, the temple where our fathers praised You, is burned with fire, and all our pleasant and desirable places are in ruins.

12 Considering these calamities, will You restrain Yourself, O Lord [and not come to our aid]? Will You keep silent and not command our deliverance, but humble and afflict us exceedingly?

CHAPTER 65

I WAS ready to be inquired of by those who asked not; I was to be found by those who sought Me not. I said, Here I am, here I AM to a nation [Israel] that has not called on My name. [Gen. 3:14.]

2 I have spread out My hands all the day to a rebellious people, who walk in a way that is not good, after their own thoughts;

3 A people who provoke Me to My face continually, sacrificing [to idols] in gardens and burning incense upon bricks [instead of at God's prescribed altar],

4 Who sit among the graves [trying to talk with the dead], and lodge among the secret places [or caves where familiar spirits were thought to dwell], who eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable and loathsome things is in their vessels;

5 Who say, Keep to yourself, do not come near me, for I am set apart from you and lest I sanctify you. These are a smoke in My nostrils, a fire that burns all the day.

6 Behold, it is written before Me: I will not keep silence, but will repay; yes, I will repay into their bosom

7 Both your own iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers, says the Lord; because they too burned incense upon the mountains and reviled and blasphemed Me upon the hills. Therefore will I measure and stretch out their former doings into their own bosom.

8 Thus says the Lord: As the grape juice is found in the cluster, and one says, Do not destroy it, for there is a blessing in it, so will I do for My servants' sake, that I may not destroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth an offspring from Jacob, and from Judah an inheritor of My mountains; My chosen and elect shall inherit it, and My servants shall dwell there.

10 And [the plain of] Sharon shall be a pasture and fold for flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, for My people who have sought Me, inquired of Me, and required Me [by right of their necessity and by right of My invitation].

11 But you who forsake the Lord, who forget and ignore My holy Mount [Zion], who prepare a table for [the Babylonian god of fortune] Gad, and who furnish mixed drinks for [the goddess of destiny] Meni;

12 I will destine you [says the Lord] to the sword, and you shall all bow down to the slaughter; because when I called, you did not answer; when I spoke, you did not listen or obey; but you did what was evil in My eyes, and you chose that in which I did not delight.

13 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, My servants shall eat, but you shall be hungry; behold, My servants shall drink, but you shall be thirsty; behold, My servants shall rejoice, but you shall be put to shame;

14 Behold, My servants shall sing for joy of heart, but you shall cry out for pain and sorrow of heart, and shall wail and howl for anguish, vexation and breaking of spirit.

15 And you shall leave your name to My chosen [for those who will use it] for a curse, and the Lord God will slay you; but He will call His servants by another name [as much greater than the former name as Israel was greater than Jacob]. [Jer. 29:22; Gen. 32:28.]

16 So that he who invokes a blessing on himself in the land shall do so saying, May the God of truth and fidelity — the Amen — bless me; and he who takes an oath in the land shall swear by the God of truth and faithfulness — the Amen — to His promises; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from My eyes. [II Cor. 1:20; Rev. 3:14.]

17 For, behold, I create ^pnew heavens and a new earth, and the former things shall not be remembered or come into mind. [Isa. 66:22; II Pet. 3:13; Rev. 21:1.]

18 But be glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create; for behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and be glad in My people; and the sound of weeping shall be no more heard in it, nor the cry of distress.

20 There shall no more be in it an infant that lives but a few days, or an old man who dies prematurely, for the child shall die a hundred years old, and the sinner who dies when only a hundred years old shall be [thought only a child, cut off because he is] accursed.

21 They shall build houses and in-

p) A new universe is here meant. The Hebrew has no single word to express the thought of cosmos, so heavens and earth are substituted.

habit them, and they shall plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build and another inhabit; they shall not plant and another eat the fruit; for like the days of a tree shall be the days of My people, and My chosen and elect shall long make use of and enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labor in vain or bring forth [children] for sudden terror or calamity; for they shall be the descendants of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring with them.

24 And it shall be that before they call I will answer, and while they are yet speaking I will hear.

25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox; and dust shall be the serpent's food. They shall not hurt or destroy in all My holy Mount [Zion], says the Lord.

CHAPTER 66

THUS says the Lord, Heaven is My throne and the earth is My footstool. What kind of house would you build for Me? And what kind can be My resting place? [Acts 17:24.]

2 For all these things My hand has made and so all these things have come into being [for Me], says the Lord. But this is the man to whom I will look and have regard, he who is humble and of a broken or wounded spirit, and who trembles at My word and reveres My commands. [John 4:24.]

3 [The acts of the hypocrite's worship are as abominable to God as if they were offered to idols.] He who kills an ox then will be guilty as if he slew and sacrificed a man; he who sacrifices a lamb or a kid, as if he broke a dog's neck and sacrificed him; he who offers a cereal offering, as if it were swine's blood; he who burns incense to God, as if he blesses an idol. Such people have chosen their own ways, and they delight in their abominations.

4 I also will choose their delusions and mockings, their calamities and afflictions, and I will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, no one answered; when I spoke, they did not listen or obey; but they did what was evil in My sight, and chose that in which I did not delight.

5 Hear the word of the Lord, you who tremble at His word: Your brethren who hate you, who cast you out for My name's sake, have said, Let the Lord be glorified that we may see your joy; but it is they who shall be put to shame.

6 [Hark!] An uproar from the city! A voice from the temple! The voice of the Lord, rendering recompense to His enemies!

7 Before Zion travailed she gave birth; before her pain came upon her she was delivered of a man-child.

8 Who has heard such a thing? Who has seen such things? Shall a land ^{be} born in one day? Or shall a nation be brought forth in a moment? For as soon as Zion was in labor she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I bring to the birth and not cause to bring forth? says the Lord: shall I Who cause to bring forth shut the womb? says your God.

10 Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all you who love her: rejoice for joy with her, all you who mourn over her;

11 That you may nurse and be satisfied from her consoling breasts; that you may drink deeply and be delighted with the abundance and brightness of her glory.

q) Never in the history of the world had such a thing happened before, but God keeps His word. As definitely foretold here and in Ezekiel 37:21, 22 and 38:10, 11, Israel became a recognized nation, actually "born in a day." After being away from their homeland for almost 2000 years, the Jews were given a national homeland in Palestine by the Balfour Declaration in November, 1917. In 1922 the League of Nations gave Great Britain the mandate over Palestine. On May 14, 1948 Great Britain withdrew her mandate, and immediately Israel was declared a sovereign state, and her growth and importance among nations became astonishing.

12 For thus says the Lord, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream; then you shall be nursed, you shall be carried on her hip, and be trotted on her [God's maternal] knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforts, so will I comfort you; you shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 When you see this your heart shall rejoice, your bones shall flourish like green and tender grass, and the (powerful) hand of the Lord shall be revealed and known to be with His servants, and His indignation to be against His enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come in fire, and His chariots shall be like the stormy wind, to render His anger with fierceness, and His rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For by fire will the Lord execute judgment, and by His sword, upon all flesh; and the slain of the Lord shall be many.

17 Those who [attempt to] sanctify themselves and cleanse themselves to enter and sacrifice in the idol-gardens, following after [the image of the Syrian god Adad? meaning] one in the midst, eating hog's flesh and the abomination [creeping things] and the mouse, their works and their thoughts shall come to an end together, says the Lord.

18 For I know their works and their thoughts. And the time is coming when I will gather all nations and tongues, and they shall come and shall see My glory.

19 And I will set up a (miraculous) sign among them. And from them I will send survivors to the nations, to Tarshish, Pul or Put, and Lud, who draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the isles and coastlands afar off, that have not heard My fame nor seen My glory; and they shall declare and proclaim My glory among the nations.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren from all the nations as an offering to the Lord, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon dromedaries, to My holy mountain Jerusalem, says the Lord, just as the children of Israel bring their cereal offering in a clean vessel to the house of the Lord.

21 And I will also take some of them for priests and for Levites, says the Lord.

22 For as the new heavens and the new earth which I will make shall remain before Me, says the Lord, so shall your offspring and your name remain.

23 And it shall be that from one new moon to another new moon, and from one sabbath to another sabbath, all flesh shall come to worship before Me, says the Lord.

24 And they shall go forth and gaze upon the dead bodies of the [rebellious] men who have stepped over against Me; for their worm shall not die, their fire shall not be quenched, and they shall be an abhorrence to all mankind.

THE BOOK OF JEREMIAH

CHAPTER 1

THE words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin [two or three miles north of Jerusalem],

2 To whom the word of the Lord came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

3 It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the carrying away of Jerusalem into captivity in the fifth month.

4 Then the word of the Lord came to me [Jeremiah] saying,

5 Before I formed you in the womb I knew and approved of you [as My chosen instrument], and before you were born I separated and set you apart, consecrating you, and I appointed you a prophet to the nations. [Exod. 33:12; Isa. 49:1, 5; Rom. 8:29.]

6 Then said I, Ah, Lord God! Behold, I cannot speak, for I am only a youth. [Exod. 4:10; 6:12, 30; I Kings 3:7.]

7 But the Lord said to me, Say not, I am only a youth; for you shall go to all to whom I shall send you, and whatever I command you you shall speak.

8 Be not afraid of them [their faces], for I am with you to deliver you, says the Lord.

9 Then the Lord put forth His hand and touched my mouth. And the Lord said to me, Behold, I have put My words in your mouth.

10 See, I have this day appointed you to the oversight of the nations and of the kingdoms, to root out and pull down, to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Jeremiah, what do you see? And I said, I see a branch or shoot of an almond tree [the emblem of alertness and activity, blossoming in late winter].

12 Then said the Lord to me, You have seen well, for I am alert and active, watching over My word to perform it.

13 And the word of the Lord came to me the second time, saying, What do you see? And I said, I see a boiling pot, and the face of it is [tipped away] from the north [its mouth about to pour forth on the south, Judea].

14 Then the Lord said to me, Out of the north the evil [which the prophets had foretold as the result of national sin] shall disclose itself and break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For, lo, I will call all the tribes of the kingdoms of the north, says the Lord; and they shall come and set every one his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, against all its walls round about, and against all the cities of Judah [as God's judicial act, a consequence of Judah's wickedness].

16 And I will utter My judgments against them for all the wickedness of those who have forsaken Me, burned incense to other gods, and worshiped idols, the works of their own hands.

17 But you [Jeremiah], gird up your loins; arise and tell them all that I command you. Do not be dismayed and break down at sight of their faces, lest I confound you before them and permit you to be overcome.

18 For I, behold, I have made you this day a fortified city, and an iron pillar, and brazen walls against the whole land: against the successive kings of Judah, against its princes, against its priests, and against the people of the land [giving you divine strength which no hostile power can overcome]. [Jer. 6:27; 15:20; Isa. 50:7; 54:17; Luke 21:15; Acts 6:10.]

19 And they shall fight against you, but they shall not finally prevail against you, for I am with you, says the Lord, to deliver you.

CHAPTER 2

AND the word of the Lord came to me [Jeremiah], saying,

2 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus says the Lord, I [earnestly] remember the kindness and devotion of your youth, your love after your betrothal [in Egypt] and marriage [at Sinai], when you followed Me in the wilderness, in a land not sown.

3 Israel was holiness [something set apart from ordinary purposes, dedicated] to the Lord, the first fruits of His harvest [of which no stranger was allowed to partake]; all who ate of it [injuring Israel] offended and became guilty; evil came upon them, says the Lord.

4 Hear the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel;

5 Thus says the Lord, What unrighteousness did your fathers find in Me that they went far from Me, and [habitually] went after emptiness, falseness and futility, and themselves became fruitless and worthless?

6 Nor did they say, Where is the Lord Who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, Who led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and pits, through a land of drought and of the shadow of death and deep darkness, through a land that no man passes through, and where no man dwells?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful land to enjoy its fruits and good things; but when you entered you defiled My land and made My heritage an abomination — detestable and loathsome.

8 Even the priests did not say, Where is the Lord? And those who handle the law [given by God to Moses] knew Me not. The rulers and [secular] shepherds also transgressed against Me, and the prophets prophesied by [the authority and in the name of] Baal, and followed after things that do not profit.

9 Therefore I will still contend with you [by inflicting further judgments on you], says the Lord, and with your children's children will I contend.

10 For cross over to the coasts of Cyprus to the west and see; send also to Kedar to the east and carefully consider, and see whether there has been such a thing as this:

11 Has a nation [ever] changed its gods, even though they are not gods? But My people have changed God, their glory, for that which does not profit.

12 Be astonished and appalled, O heavens, at this; be shocked and shrivel up with horror, says the Lord [at the behavior of the people].

13 For My people have committed two evils: they have forsaken Me, the fountain of living waters, and they have hewn for themselves cisterns, broken cisterns, which cannot hold water.

14 Is Israel a servant? Is he a home-born slave? Why has he become a captive and a prey?

15 The young lions have roared over him and made their voices heard, and they have made his land a waste; his cities are burned ruins without inhabitant.

16 Moreover the children of Memphis and Tahpanhes [Egypt, have in times past shown their power as a foe, they] have broken and fed on the crown of your head, Israel [do not rely on them as an ally now].

17 Have you not brought this upon yourself by forsaking the Lord your God, when He led you in the way?

18 And now what have you to gain by allying yourself with Egypt and going her way, to drink the [black and roiled] waters of the Nile? Or what have you to gain in going the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the Euphrates?

19 Your own wickedness shall chasten and correct you, and your backslidings and desertion of faith shall reprove you. Know therefore and recognize that this is an evil and bitter thing: first, you have forsaken the Lord your God; second, you are indifferent to Me, and the fear of Me is not in you, says the Lord of hosts.

20 For long ago [in Egypt] I broke your yoke and burst your bonds [not that you might be free, but that you might serve Me] — *but long since you shattered the yoke and snapped the bonds [of My law, which I put upon you]; you said, I will not serve and obey You! For upon every high hill and under every green tree you [eagerly] prostrated yourself in idolatrous worship, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had planted you, O house of Israel, a choice vine, wholly of pure seed. How then have you turned into degenerate shoots of wild vine, alien to Me?

22 For though you wash yourself with lye and use much soap, yet your iniquity and guilt are still upon you; you are spotted, dirty and stained before Me, says the Lord.

23 How can you say, I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Baals [other gods]? Look at your way in the valley; know what you have done. You are a restive young female camel [in the uncontrollable violence of her brute passion eagerly] running hither and thither.

24 Or [you have the untamed and reckless nature of] a wild donkey used to the desert, in her heat sniffing the wind [for the scent of a male]. In her mating season who can restrain her? No males seeking her need weary themselves; in her month they will find her seeking them.

25 [Cease from your mad running after idols, from which you get nothing but bitter injury.] Keep your feet from being unshod and your throat from thirst. But you said, It is hopeless, for I have loved strangers and foreigners, and after them I will go.

26 As the thief is brought to shame when he is caught, so shall the house of Israel be brought to shame: they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, 27 Inasmuch as they say to a tree, You are my father, and to a stone, You gave me birth. For they have turned their back to Me, and not their face. But in the time of their trouble they say, Arise, O Lord, and save us!

28 But where are your gods that you made for yourself? Let them arise, if they can save you in the time of your trouble! For as many as the number of your cities are your gods, O Judah. [Surely so many handmade idols should be able to help you!]

29 Why do you complain and remonstrate against My wrath? You all have rebelled and revolted against Me, says the Lord.

30 In vain have I stricken your children — your people; they received no discipline — no correction. Your own sword devoured your prophets like a destroying lion.

31 O generation that you are! Behold, consider and regard the word of the Lord. Have I been a wilderness to Israel, like a land without food? A land of deep darkness, like a way without light? Why do My people say, We are broken loose — we are free and will roam at large; we will come no more to You?

32 Can a maid forget and neglect [to wear] her ornaments, or a bride

a) Another reading of the previous statement.

her marriage girdle [with its significance as that of a wedding ring]? Yet My people have forgotten Me days without number.

33 How do you deck yourself and direct your way to procure adulterous love! Because of it even wicked women have learned indecent ways from you.

34 Also on your skirts is found the lifeblood of the persons of the innocent poor. You did not find them house-breaking, nor have I found it out by secret search, but it is because of [your lust for idolatry that you have done] all these things. [That is everywhere evident.]

35 Yet you keep saying, I am innocent; surely His anger has turned away from Me. Behold, I will bring you to judgment and will plead against you, because you say, I have not sinned.

36 Why do you gad about so much to change your way? You shall be put to shame by Egypt, as you were put to shame by Assyria.

37 From Egypt also you will come away with your hands upon your head, for the Lord has rejected those in whom you confide, and you shall not prosper with respect to them.

CHAPTER 3

THAT is to say, If a man puts away his wife, and she goes from him and becomes another man's, will he return to her again? [Of course not!] Will not that land be greatly polluted that so acts? But you have played the harlot against Me with many lovers; yet would you return to Me? says the Lord — or do you even think to return to Me?

2 Lift up your eyes to the bare heights and see; where have you not been adulterously lain with? By the waysides you have sat waiting for lovers [eager for idolatry], like an Arabian [desert tribesman who waits to plunder] in the wilderness; and you have polluted the land with your vile har-lotry and your wickedness [unfaithfulness and disobedience to God].

3 Therefore the showers have been withheld, and there has been no spring rain; yet you have the brow of a prostitute; you refuse to be ashamed.

4 Have you not just now cried to Me, My Father, You were the guide and companion of my youth?

5 Will He retain His anger for ever? Will He keep it to the end? Behold, you have so spoken, but you have done all the evil things you could, and have had your way and have carried them through.

6 Moreover the Lord said to me [Jeremiah] in the days of Josiah the king of Judah, Have you seen what that faithless and backsliding Israel has done, how she went up on every high hill and under every green tree, and there played the harlot?

7 And I said, After she has done all these things, she will return to Me. But she did not return. And her faithless and treacherous sister Judah saw it.

8 And I saw, even though Judah knew that for this very cause of committing adultery [idolatry] I, the Lord, had put faithless Israel away and given her a bill of divorcement; yet her faithless and treacherous sister Judah was not afraid, but she also went and played the harlot [following after idols].

9 And through the infamy and unseemly frivolity of Israel's whoredom she polluted and defiled the land, [by her idolatry] committing adultery with idols of stones and trees.

10 But in spite of all this her faithless and treacherous sister Judah did not return to Me in sincerity and with her whole heart, but in sheer hypocrisy [has she feigned obedience to King Josiah's reforms], says the Lord. [II Chron. 34:33 with Hosea 7:13, 14.]

11 And the Lord said to me, Backsliding and faithless Israel has shown herself less guilty than false and treacherous Judah.

12 Go and proclaim these words toward the north [where the ten tribes have been taken as captives], and say, Return, faithless Israel, says the Lord, and I will not cause My countenance to fall and look in anger upon you, for I am merciful, says the Lord; I will not keep anger for ever.

13 Only know, understand and acknowledge your iniquity and guilt, that you have rebelled and transgressed against the Lord your God, and have scattered your favors among strangers under every green tree, and you have not obeyed My voice, says the Lord.

14 Return, O faithless children [of the whole twelve tribes], says the Lord, for I am Lord and Master and Husband to you, and I will take you [not as a nation, but individually] one from a city and two from a tribal family, and I will bring you to Zion. [Luke 15:20-22.]

15 And I will give you [spiritual] shepherds after My own heart [in the final time], who will feed you with knowledge and understanding and judgment.

16 And it shall be that when you have multiplied and increased in the land in those days, says the Lord, they shall no more say, The ark of the covenant of the Lord. It shall not come to mind, nor shall they [seriously] remember it, nor shall they miss or visit it, nor shall it be repaired or made again [for instead of the ark which represented God's presence, He will show Himself present throughout the city]. [Isa. 65:17; Rev. 21:3, 22, 23.]

17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall be gathered to it, in the renown and name of the Lord to Jerusalem, nor shall they walk any more after the stubbornness of their own evil heart.

18 In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and together they shall come out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance to your fathers.

19 And I thought how gloriously and honorably I would set you among My children and give you a pleasant land, a goodly heritage, the most beautiful and best among all nations! And I thought you would call Me, My Father, and would not turn away from following Me.

20 Surely, as a wife treacherously and faithlessly departs from her husband, so have you dealt treacherously and faithlessly with Me, O house of Israel, says the Lord.

21 A voice is heard on the bare heights, the weeping and pleading of the sons of Israel; because they have perverted their way, they have [eagerly] forgotten the Lord their God.

22 Return, O faithless sons, says the Lord, and I will heal your faithlessness. [And they answer] Behold, we come to You, for You are the Lord our God.

23 Truly in vain is the hope of salvation from the hills, and from the tumult and noisy throng on the mountains; truly in and with the Lord our God rests the salvation of Israel.

24 [We have been ruined as a nation by our faithlessness and idolatry] for the shameful thing has consumed all for which our fathers toiled from our youth, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25 Let us lie prostrate in our shame, and let our dishonor and confusion cover us; for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even to this day; we have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

CHAPTER 4

IF you will return, O Israel, says the Lord, if you will return to Me, and if you will put away your abominable false gods out of My sight, and do not stray or waver;

2 And if you swear, As the Lord lives, in truth, in judgment and justice, and in righteousness (uprightness in every area and relation), then the nations shall bless themselves in Him, and in Him shall they glory.

3 For thus says the Lord to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, Break up your ground left uncultivated for a season, so that you may not sow among thorns.

4 Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, you men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest My wrath go forth like fire [consuming all that gets in its way], and burn so that no one can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare in Judah and publish in Jerusalem, and say, Blow the trumpet in the land; cry aloud and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the fortified cities.

6 Raise a standard toward Zion [primarily to mark out the safest route to those seeking safety within Jerusalem's walls]; flee for safety, stay not, for I bring evil from the north, and great destruction.

7 A lion is gone up from his thicket, and a destroyer of nations is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make your land a desolate waste, and your cities shall be left in ruins without an inhabitant.

8 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and wail, for the fierce anger of the Lord has not turned back from us.

9 And it shall be in that day, says the Lord, that the understanding and courage of the king shall fail [be paralyzed], and also that of the princes; the priests shall be appalled and the prophets astounded and dazed with horror.

10 Then I [Jeremiah] said, ^bAlas, Lord God! Surely you have greatly deceived and misled this people and Jerusalem, [for the prophets represented You as] saying to Your people, You shall have peace, whereas the sword has reached to their very life.

11 At that time it will be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness [comes at My command] against the daughter of My people; not a wind to fan or cleanse [from chaff, as when threshing], but 12 A wind too strong and full for winnowing comes at My word. Now I will also speak in judgment against My people.

13 Behold, the enemy comes up like clouds, his chariots like the whirlwind; his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe to us, for we are ruined — destroyed!

14 O Jerusalem, wash your heart from wickedness, that you may be saved! How long shall your iniquitous and grossly offensive thoughts lodge within you?

15 For a voice declares from Dan [in the north] and proclaims evil from Mount Ephraim [the range dividing Israel from Judah].

16 Warn the neighboring nations that our adversary is coming; announce to Jerusalem that besiegers are coming from a far country, and they shout against the cities of Judah.

17 Like keepers of a field they are against her round about, because she has been rebellious against Me, says the Lord.

18 Your ways and your doings have brought these things down upon you; this is your calamity and doom; surely

b) "Jeremiah could not reconcile the doom he was now commanded to pronounce, either with his own previous prophecy or with what he read in the writings of the previous prophets." We have the Apostle Peter's comment on the perplexity of the prophets in I Pet. 1:10-12. In The Amplified New Testament it reads, "The prophets who prophesied of the grace [divine blessing] which was intended for you, searched and inquired earnestly about this salvation. They sought [to find out] to whom or when this was to come, which the Spirit of Christ working within them indicated when He predicted the sufferings of Christ and the glories that should follow [them]. It was then disclosed to them that the services they were rendering were not meant for themselves and their period of time, but for you. . . . Into these things [the very] angels long to look!"

it is bitter, for surely it reaches your very heart.

19 [Not only the prophet, but in thought the people cry] My anguish, my anguish! I writhe in pain! Oh, the walls of my heart! My heart is disquieted and throbs aloud to me; I cannot be silent! For I hear the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 News of one violent disaster and calamity comes close after another, for the whole land is laid waste; suddenly are my tents spoiled and destroyed, and my tent curtains ruined in a moment.

21 O Lord, how long must I see the flag [marking the route for flight], and hear the sound of the trumpet [urging the people to flee for refuge]?

22 [Their chastisement will continue until it has accomplished its purpose] for My people are stupid, says the Lord [replying to Jeremiah], they do not know and understand Me; they are thick-headed children, and they have no understanding; they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 [In a vision Jeremiah sees Judah laid waste by conquest and captivity.] I beheld the land, and lo, it was [as at the time of creation] a waste and vacant — void; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly to and fro.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the air had fled.

26 I looked, and lo, the fruitful land was a desert, and all its cities were laid waste before the Lord's presence, by His fierce anger.

27 For thus says the Lord, The whole land shall be a desolation, yet I will not make a complete end of it.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black; because I have spoken, I have purposed, and I have not relented nor will I turn back from it.

29 Every city flees because of the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they go into the thickets, and climb among the rocks; every city is forsaken, and not a man dwells in them.

30 And you, [plundered one] when you are made desolate what will you do? Though you clothe yourself with scarlet, though you deck yourself with ornaments of gold, though you paint your eyelids and make them look farther apart, in vain shall you beautify yourself. Your lovers [allies] despise you; they seek your life.

31 For I have heard a cry as of a woman in travail, anguish as of her who brings forth her first child, the cry of the daughter of Zion, who gasps for breath, who spreads her hands, saying, Woe is me now! I am fainting before the murderers.

CHAPTER 5

RUN to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now and take notice! Seek in her broad squares to see if you can find a man [as Abraham sought in Sodom], one who does justice, who seeks truth, sincerity and faithfulness; and I will pardon Jerusalem — for one uncompromisingly righteous person. [Gen. 18:22-32.]

2 And though they say, As the Lord lives, surely they swear falsely.

3 O Lord, do not your eyes look on the truth? [They have meant to please You outwardly, but You look on their hearts.] You have stricken them, but they have not grieved; You have consumed them, but they have refused to take correction or instruction; they have made their faces harder than a rock, they have refused to repent and return to You.

4 Then I said, Surely these are only the poor; they are [sinfully] foolish and have no understanding, for they know not the way of the Lord, the judgment — the just and righteous law — of their God.

5 I will go to the great men and will speak to them, for they must know the way of the Lord, the judgment — the just and righteous law — of their God. But [I found the very reverse to be true] these had all alike broken the yoke of God's law and had burst the bonds of obedience to Him.

6 Therefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, a wolf of the deserts shall destroy them, a leopard or panther shall lie in wait against their cities. Every one who goes out of them shall be torn in pieces; because their transgressions are many, their backslidings and total desertion of faith are increased and become great and mighty.

7 Why should I and how can I pass over this and forgive you for it? Your children have forsaken Me, and sworn by those that are no gods. When I had fed them to the full and bound them to Me by oath, they committed [spiritual] adultery, assembling themselves in troops at the houses of [idol] harlots.

8 They were as fed stallions roaming at large; every one neighed after his neighbor's wife.

9 Shall I not punish them for these things? says the Lord; and shall I not be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 Go up within Jerusalem's walls and destroy her vine, but do not make a complete end. Trim away the tendrils of her vine, for they are not the Lord's.

11 For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very faithlessly and treacherously against Me, says the Lord.

12 They have belied and denied the Lord by saying, It is not He Who speaks through His prophets; evil shall not come upon us, nor shall we see war or famine;

13 And, say they, the prophets will become wind [what they prophesy will not come to pass], and the word of God is not in them. Thus shall it be done to them [as they threatened would be done to us].

14 Therefore thus says the Lord God of hosts, Because you, the people, speak this word, behold, I will make My words fire in your mouth, Jeremiah, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

15 Lo, I am bringing a nation upon you from afar, O house of Israel, says the Lord. It is a mighty and enduring nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language you do not know, nor can you understand what they say.

16 Their quiver is [filled with deadly missiles] as an open sepulcher filled with dead bodies; the foe are all mighty men — heroes.

17 They shall consume your harvest and your food; they shall consume your sons and your daughters; they shall consume your flocks and your herds; they shall consume your vines and your fig trees; they shall break down and impoverish your fortified cities in which you trust, with the sword they shall destroy them.

18 But even in those days, says the Lord, I will not make a full end of you.

19 And when your people say, Why has the Lord our God done all these things to us? then you shall answer them, As you have forsaken Me, says the Lord, and have served strange gods in your land, so shall you serve strange gods in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah:

21 Hear now this, O foolish people, without understanding or heart, who have eyes and see not, who have ears and hear not: [Isa. 6:9, 10; Matt. 13: 10-15; Mark 8:17, 18.]

22 Do you not fear and reverence Me? says the Lord. Do you not tremble before Me? I, Who placed the sand for the boundary of the sea, a perpetual barrier which it cannot pass and by an everlasting ordinance beyond which it cannot go? And though the waves of the sea toss and shake themselves, yet they cannot prevail [against the feeble grains of sand which God has ordained by nature sufficient for His purpose]; though the billows roar, yet they cannot pass over that barrier. [Is not such a God to be reverently feared and worshiped?]

23 But this people has a heart that draws back from God and a will that rebels against Him; they have revolted and quit His service and have gone [into idolatry].

24 Nor do they say in their heart, Let us now reverently fear and worship the Lord our God, Who gives rain, both the autumn and the spring rain in its season, Who reserves and keeps for us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 Your iniquities have turned these blessings away, and your sins have kept good harvests from you.

26 For among My people are found wicked men; they watch as fowlers do who lie in wait; they set a trap, they catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit and treachery; therefore they have become great and grown rich, 28 They have grown fat and sleek. Yes, they surpass in deeds of wickedness. They do not judge and plead with justice the cause of the fatherless that it may prosper, and they do not defend the rights of the needy.

29 Shall I not punish them for these things? says the Lord. Shall not I avenge Myself on such a nation as this?

30 An appalling and horrible thing — bringing desolation and destruction — has come to pass in the land:

31 The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule at the hands and by means of the prophets. And

My people love to have it so, but what will you do when the end comes?

CHAPTER 6

FLEE for safety, you children of Benjamin, out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa [a town far south in Judea], and raise a fire signal on Beth-hacherem [a mountain to the south]; for evil is looking forth with eagerness from the north, and great destruction.

2 The comely and delicate one, Jerusalem, the daughter of Zion, I will destroy — to a pasturage, yes, a luxurious pasturage have I likened her.

3 Shepherds with their flocks shall come against her; they shall pitch their tents round about against her; they shall pasture, each one in his place [eating up all her luxurious herbage on every side].

4 Prepare yourselves for war against her, they cry; up, let us attack her at noon! Alas! for the day declines, the evening shadows lengthen.

5 Arise! let us go by night and destroy her palaces!

6 For the Lord of hosts has said, Hew down her trees, and cast up a siege mound against Jerusalem. This is the city which must be punished: there is nothing but oppression within her.

7 As a fountain wells up and casts forth its waters and keeps them fresh, so she is continually casting out fresh wickedness: violence and destruction are heard within her; sickness and wounds are continually before Me.

8 Be corrected, reformed, instructed and warned, O Jerusalem, lest I be alienated and parted from you; lest I make you a desolation, an uninhabited land.

9 Thus says the Lord of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean as a vine what is left of Israel. Turn back your hand again and again [O minister of destruction] into the baskets, like a grape gatherer, and strip the tendrils of the vine.

10 To whom shall I, Jeremiah, speak and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumcised [never brought into covenant with God, or consecrated to His service], and they cannot hear or obey. Behold, the word of the Lord has become to them a reproach and the object of their scorn; they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord; I am weary of restraining it. I will pour it out on the children in the street, and upon the gathering of young men together; for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with the very old.

12 And their houses shall be turned over to others, their fields and wives together; for I will stretch out My hand against the inhabitants of the land, says the Lord.

13 For from the least of them even to the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness — to greed for unjust gain; and from the prophet even to the priest every one deals falsely.

14 They have healed also the wound of the daughter of My people lightly and neglectfully, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they brought to shame because they had committed abominations — extremely disgusting and vile? No, they were not at all ashamed, nor could they blush [at their idolatry]. Therefore they shall fall among those who fall; at the time that I punish them they shall be overthrown, says the Lord.

16 Thus says the Lord, Stand by the roads and look, and ask for the eternal paths, where is the good, old way; then walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk in it! [Matt. 11:29.]

17 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Hear and obey the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not listen or obey.

18 Therefore hear, O Gentile nations, and know, O congregation [of believing ones], what great things I will do to them.

19 Hear, O earth; behold, I am bringing evil upon this people, the fruit of their thoughts — their schemes and devices — because they have not listened and obeyed My words, and as for My law, they have rejected it.

20 To what purpose does frankincense come to Me from Sheba [in southwest Arabia], and the sweet cane from a far country? Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor are your sacrifices sweet or pleasing to Me.

21 Therefore thus says the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them; the neighbor and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus says the Lord, Behold, a people is coming from the north country, and a great nation is arousing itself from the ends of the earth.

23 They lay hold on bow and spear, they are cruel (ruthless and inhuman), and have no mercy, their voice sounds like the roaring sea; they ride on horses, every one set in array as a man for battle; against you, O daughter of Zion!

24 We have heard the report of it; our hands become feeble and helpless; anguish has taken hold of us, and pangs as of a woman in childbirth.

25 Go not out into the field, nor walk on the road, for the enemy is armed with the sword; terror is on every side.

26 O daughter of my people [says Jeremiah], gird yourself with sackcloth, and wallow yourself in ashes; make mourning as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the destroyer will suddenly come upon us [on prophet and people].

27 I, says the Lord, have set you, Jeremiah, as an assayer and a prover of ore among My people, that you may know and try their doings, and be as a watchtower.

28 They are all the worst kind of rebels and utter revolters against God, going about publishing slanders. They are [not gold and silver ore, but] bronze and iron; they are all corrupters.

29 The bellows blow fiercely, the lead is consumed by the fire; in vain do they continue refining, for the wicked [the dross] are not removed.

30 Reprobate silver men will call them [only dross, without good metal], because the Lord has rejected them.

CHAPTER 7

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of the Lord's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the Lord, all you of Judah, who enter in at these gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

4 Trust not in the lying words [of the false prophets, who maintain that God will protect Jerusalem because His temple is there], saying, The temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord is this.

5 For if you thoroughly amend your ways and your doings, if you thoroughly and truly execute justice between every man and his neighbor,

6 If you do not oppress the transient and the alien, the fatherless and the widow, or shed innocent blood [by oppression and by judicial murders] in Jerusalem, or go after other gods to your own hurt,

7 Then I will cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave of old to your fathers to dwell in for ever.

8 Behold, you trust in lying words that cannot benefit — so that you do not profit.

9 Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, burn incense to Baal, and go after other gods that you have not known,

10 And then dare to come and stand before Me in this house, which is called by My name, and say, [By the discharge of this religious formality] we are set free! — only to go on with this wickedness and these abominations?

11 Has this house, which is called by My name, become a den of robbers in your eyes [a place of retreat for you between acts of violence]? Behold, I Myself have seen it, says the Lord.

12 But go now to My place which was in Shiloh [in Ephraim], where I set My name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of My people Israel. [I Sam. 4:10-18.]

13 And now, because you have done all these things, says the Lord, and because when I spoke to you persistently — even rising up early and speaking — you did not listen, and when I called you, you did not answer, 14 Therefore will I do to this house [the temple], which is called by My name and in which you trust, and to the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh.

15 And I will cast you out of My sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole posterity of Ephraim.

16 Therefore do not pray for this people of Judah, or lift up cry or entreaty for them, or make intercession to Me, for I will not listen or hear you.

17 Do you not see what they are doing in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

18 The children gather wood, the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes for the queen of heaven [the moon]; and they pour out drink offerings to other gods, that they may provoke Me to anger!

19 Is it I Whom they provoke to anger? says the Lord. Is it not themselves, whom they provoke to their own confusion and vexation and to their own shame?

20 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, My anger and My wrath will be poured out on this place, on man and beast, on the trees of the field and the fruit of the ground; it shall burn and shall not be quenched.

21 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices, and eat the flesh [if you will. It will avail you nothing].

22 For in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, I did not speak to your fathers or command them concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices.

23 But this thing I did command them: Listen to and obey My voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be My people; and walk in the whole way that I command you, that it may be well with you.

24 But they would not listen and obey, or bend their ear to Me, but followed the counsels and the stubborn promptings of their own evil hearts and minds, and they turned their back and went in reverse instead of forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have persistently sent to you My servants all the prophets, sending them daily, early and late.

26 Yet the people would not listen and obey Me or bend their ear to Me, but stiffened their neck and behaved worse than their fathers.

27 Speak all these words to them, but they will not listen and obey you; also call to them, but they will not answer you.

28 Yet you shall say to them, This is the nation that did not obey the voice of the Lord their God, or receive instruction and correction and warning; truth and faithfulness have perished, and have completely gone from their mouths.

29 Cut off your hair — your crown — O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for the Lord has rejected and forsaken the generation of His wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evil in My sight, says the Lord; they have set their abominations — extremely disgusting and shamefully vile — in the house which is called by My name, to defile it.

31 And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire [in honor of Molech, the fire-god], which I did not command, nor did it come into My mind or heart.

32 Therefore, behold, the days will come, says the Lord, when it shall no more be called Topheth, or the Valley of the son of Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter; for [in bloody warfare] they will bury in Topheth till there is no more room and no place elsewhere to bury.

33 And the dead bodies of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the air, and for the beasts of the earth, and none will frighten them away.

34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land shall become a waste.

CHAPTER 8

AT that time, says the Lord, [the Babylonian army will break open the sepulchers, and] they shall bring out the "bones of the kings of Judah, the bones of its princes, the bones of

c) "Of the motive of the disinterment [on the part of the Babylonian conquerors] the prophet says nothing. He had certainly no idea of its being the search for booty. He has in mind only the justice of God [which is concerned with punishment or penalties]." (Lange's Commentary.)

the priests, the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their graves.

2 And they will [carelessly] scatter the corpses before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom the dead have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, inquired of and required, and whom they have worshiped. They shall not be gathered, or be buried; they shall be for ^dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of those who remain of this evil family [nation], who remain in all the places to which I have driven them, says the Lord of hosts.

4 Moreover, you, Jeremiah, shall say to them, Thus says the Lord: Shall men fall, and not rise up again? Shall one turn away from God and not repent and return to Him?

5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem turned away with a perpetual turning away from Me? They hold fast deceit [idolatry; false because men worship in it what is false, and it is false to the worshipers]; they refuse to repent and return to God.

6 I have listened and heard, but they have not spoken aright; no man repents of his wickedness, saying, What have I done! Every one turns to his [individual] course, as the horse rushes like a torrent into battle.

7 [Even the migratory birds are punctual to their seasons.] Yes, the stork [excelling in the great height of her flight] in the heavens knows her appointed times of migration. And the turtledove, the swallow and the crane observe the time of their return; but My people do not know the law of the Lord [which the lower animals instinctively recognize in so far as it applies to them].

8 How can you say, We are wise, and we have the written law of the Lord [and are learned in its language and teachings]? Lo, the truth is, the lying pen of the scribes has made of the law a falsehood [a mere code of ceremonial observances]. [Mark 7:13.]

9 The wise men shall be put to shame, they shall be dismayed and taken captive. Lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord, and what wisdom and broad, full intelligence is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives to others, and their fields to those who gain possession of them; for every one from the least even to the greatest is given to covetousness — is greedy for unjust gain; from the prophet even to the priest every one deals falsely.

11 For they have healed the wound of the daughter of My people only lightly and slightly, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 They are brought to shame because they have committed abominations — extremely disgusting and shamefully vile. And yet they were not at all ashamed, nor could they blush. Therefore they shall fall among those who fall; at the time of their punishment they shall be overthrown, says the Lord.

13 I will gather and sweep them away, utterly consuming them, says the Lord. [I find] no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree; even the leaf is withered; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them — for I have appointed to them those who shall pass over them. [Matt. 21:18, 19.]

14 [Then say the people to each other] Why do we sit still? Assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the fortified cities and be silent or perish there; for the Lord our God has decreed our ruin, and given us bitter and

d) "Observe the irony. The stars look powerlessly down on the bones of their worshipers — while these send up a stench!" (Lange's Commentary.)

poisonous water to drink, because we have sinned against the Lord.

15 We looked for peace and completeness, but no good came; and for a time of healing, but behold, dismay, trouble and terror!

16 The snorting of Nebuchadnezzar's horses is heard from Dan [on the northern border of Palestine]. At the sound of the neighing of his strong war horses the whole land quakes; for they come and devour the land and all that is in it, the city and those who dwell in it.

17 For behold, I am sending among you serpents, adders which cannot be charmed, and they shall bite you, says the Lord.

18 Oh, that I [Jeremiah] could comfort myself against sorrow, for my grief is beyond healing; my heart is sick and faint within me!

19 Behold [says the prophet], the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people for help because of those who dwell in a far country: Is not the Lord in Zion? Is not her King in her? [But the Lord answers] Why have they provoked Me to anger with their carved images, and with foreign idols?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended and the fruit-gathering over, yet we are not saved! [comes again the voice of the people.]

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I, Jeremiah, hurt; I go mourning; dismay has taken hold on me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people restored? [Because Zion no longer had the presence of the Great Physician!] [Exod. 15:26.]

CHAPTER 9

OH, that my head were waters, and my eyes a reservoir of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a lodging place (a mere shelter) for way-faring men, that I might leave my people and go away from them! For they are all adulterers [rendering worship to idols, instead of to the Lord Who has espoused the people to Himself]; they are a gang of treacherous men — faithless even to each other.

3 And they bend their tongue, which is their bow for lies. And not according to faithfulness do they rule and are become strong in the land, for they proceed from evil to evil, and they do not know and understand and acknowledge Me, says the Lord.

4 Let every one beware of his neighbor and put no trust in any brother; for every brother is an utter supplanter — one who takes by the heel and trips up, a Jacob; and every neighbor goes about as a slanderer. [Gen. 25:26.]

5 And they deceive and mock every one his neighbor, and do not speak the truth; they have taught their tongue to speak lies; they weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6 Your habitation is in the midst of deceit (oppression upon oppression, and deceit upon deceit); through deceit they refuse to know and understand Me, says the Lord.

7 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will melt them [by the process of affliction to remove the dross] and test them; for how else should I deal with the daughter of My people?

8 Their tongue is a murderous arrow; it speaks deceitfully; one speaks peaceably to his neighbor with his mouth, but in his heart he lays snares and waits in ambush for him.

9 Shall I not punish them for these things? says the Lord. Shall I not avenge Myself on a nation such as this?

10 For the mountains I will take up a weeping and wailing, and for the pastures of the wilderness a lament, because they are burned up and desolated, so that no one passes through them; neither can men hear any longer the lowing of cattle; both the fowls of the air and the beasts have fled, they are gone!

11 I will make Jerusalem heaps of ruins, a dwelling place of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

12 Who is the wise man who may understand this? To whom has the mouth of the Lord spoken, that he may declare it? Why is the land ruined and laid waste like a wilderness, so that no one passes through it?

13 And the Lord says, Because they have forsaken My law which I set before them, and have not listened and obeyed My voice or walked in accordance with it,

14 But have walked stubbornly after their own heart and after the Baals, as their fathers taught them, 15 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them bitter and poisonous water to drink.

16 I will scatter them also among the nations whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send the sword among them and after them, until I have consumed them.

17 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Consider, and call for the mourning women to come; send for the skillful women to come;

18 Let them make haste and raise a wailing over us and for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush with water.

19 For a sound of wailing is heard coming out of Zion, How we are plundered and ruined! We are greatly confounded and utterly put to shame, because we have forsaken the land, because they have cast down our dwellings — our dwellings that have cast us out.

20 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O you women, and let your ear receive the word of His mouth; teach your daughters a lament, and each one teach her neighbor a dirge.

21 For death is come up into our windows; it has entered into our palaces, cutting off the children from outdoors and the young men from the streets.

22 Speak, Thus says the Lord: The dead bodies of men shall fall like manure on the open field, and like sheaves of grain behind the reaper, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus says the Lord, Let not the wise and skillful person glory and boast in his wisdom and skill; let not the mighty and powerful person glory and boast in his strength and power; let not the person who is rich [in physical gratification and earthly wealth] glory and boast in his [temporal satisfactions and earthly] riches;

24 But let him who glories glory in this, that he understands and knows Me (personally and practically, directly discerning and recognizing My character), that I am the Lord Who practices loving-kindness, judgment and righteousness in the earth; for in these things I delight, says the Lord. [I Cor. 1:31; II Cor. 10:17.]

25 Behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, that I will punish all who though circumcised [outwardly]! are still uncircumcised [in corresponding inward purity]:

26 Egypt, Judah, Edom, the children of Ammon, Moab [all of whom are related, except Egypt], and all who live in the desert who cut the corners of their hair; for all these nations are uncircumcised [in heart], and all the house of Israel is uncircumcised in heart.

CHAPTER 10

HEAR the word which the Lord speaks to you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus says the Lord: Learn not the way of the heathen (nations), and be not dismayed at the signs of the heavens; they are dismayed at them,

3 For the customs and ordinances of the peoples are false, empty and futile. It is but a tree which one cuts out of the forest [to make for him a god], the work of the hands of the craftsman with the axe or other tool.

4 They deck the idol with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, so it will not fall apart or move.

5 Their idols are like pillars of turned work — upright [and stationary] as a palm tree — like scarecrows in a cucumber field; they cannot speak; they have to be carried, for they cannot walk. Do not be afraid of them, for they cannot do evil, neither is it possible for them to do good — it is not in them.

6 None at all is like You, O Lord; You are great, and Your name is great in might.

7 Who would not fear You, O King of the nations? For it is fitting and due to You, for among all the wise men or gods of the nations, and in all their kingdoms there is none like You.

8 But they are altogether irrational and stupid and foolish. The instruction of idols is but wood — a teaching of falsity, emptiness, futility!

9 Silver beaten into plates is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the craftsman and of the hands of the goldsmith; the idols' clothing is of violet and purple; they are all the work of skillful men.

10 But the Lord is the true God and the God of truth — the God Who is truth. He is the living God, and the everlasting King. At His wrath the earth quakes, and the nations are not able to bear His indignation.

11 Thus shall you say to them, The gods who did not make the heavens and the earth shall perish from the earth and from under the heavens.

12 God has made the earth by His power, He has established the world by His wisdom, and by His understanding and skill has stretched out the heavens.

13 When He utters His voice there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; He makes lightnings for the rain, and brings forth the wind out of His treasures and from His storehouses.

14 Every man has become like a brute, irrational and stupid, without knowledge of God; every goldsmith is brought to shame by his graven idols; for his molten images are frauds and falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are devoid of worth, use or truth, a work of delusion and mockery; in their time of trial and punishment they shall [helplessly] perish.

16 The portion of Jacob [the true God on Whom Israel has a claim] is not like these, for He is the fashioner of all things, and Israel is the tribe of His inheritance; the Lord of hosts is His name.

17 Gather up your bundle of baggage from the ground, O you who dwell under siege.

18 For thus says the Lord, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will bring distress on them, that they may feel it and find it [as I have said, and turn to Me].

19 Woe is me because of my hurt! [says Jeremiah, speaking for the nation.] My wound is grievous and incurable. But I said, Surely this sickness and suffering and grief are mine, and I must endure, tolerate and bear them.

20 My tent home is taken by force and plundered, and all my tent cords are broken; my children have gone forth as captives from me, and they are not; there is no one to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my tent curtains.

21 For the shepherds of the people have become like a brute, irrational and stupid; and have not sought the Lord or inquired of Him or required Him [by necessity, and by right of His word]. Therefore they have not dealt prudently and they have not prospered, and all their flocks are scattered.

22 Hark, the sound of a rumor! The invading army comes! A great commotion out of the north country to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a dwelling place for jackals.

23 O Lord, [pleads Jeremiah in the name of the people] I know that [the determination of] the way of a man is not in himself. It is not in man [even in a strong man and a man at his best] to direct his own steps. [Ps. 37:23; Prov. 20:24.]

24 O Lord, correct, instruct and chastise me, but with judgment and in just measure; not in Your anger, lest You diminish me and bring me to nothing.

25 Pour out Your wrath upon the nations that do not know or recognize You, and upon the peoples that do not call upon Your name; for they have devoured Jacob; yes, devoured him and consumed him, and made his habitation a desolate waste.

CHAPTER 11

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord:

2 Hear the words of this covenant or solemn pledge, and speak to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem;

3 Say to them, Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel: Cursed be the man who does not heed the words of this covenant or solemn pledge,

4 Which I commanded your fathers at the time that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Listen to My voice, and do according to all that I command you. So shall you be My people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may perform the oath which I swore to your fathers to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as at this day. Then I answered, Amen, O Lord — so be it.

6 And the Lord said to me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: Hear the words of this [solemn] covenant and do them.

7 For I earnestly protested and warned your fathers at the time that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even to this day protesting and warning them persistently, saying, Obey My voice.

8 Yet they did not obey or incline their ear to Me, but every one walked in the stubbornness of his own evil heart. Therefore I brought upon them all [the calamities threatened in] the words of this covenant or solemn pledge, which I had commanded, but they did not do.

9 And the Lord said to me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 They have turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear My words; they have gone after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken My covenant or solemn pledge which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus says the Lord, Behold, I am bringing evil and calamity upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; though they cry to Me, I will not listen to them.

12 Then the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem will go and cry out to the gods to which they offer incense, but they cannot save them at all in the time of their evil trouble.

13 For as many as the number of your cities are your gods, O Judah, and as the number of the streets of Jerusalem are the altars you have set up to the shameful thing, even altars to burn incense to Baal.

14 Therefore do not pray for this people, or lift up a cry or prayer for them; for I will not listen when they cry out to Me in the time of their evil trouble.

15 What right has My beloved in My house, when she has wrought lewdness and done treacherously many times? Can vows and the holy flesh [of your sacrifices] remove from you your wickedness and avert your calamity? Can you by these escape your doom and rejoice exultantly?

16 The Lord [acknowledged you once to be worthy to be] called a green olive tree, fair and of good fruit; but with the roar of a great tempest He will set fire to it, and its branches will be consumed. [Ps. 52:8; Jer. 21:14.]

17 For the Lord of hosts, Who planted you, has pronounced evil and calamity against you, because of the evil which the house of Israel and the house of Judah have done against themselves in provoking Me to anger by offering incense to Baal.

18 And the Lord gave me [Jeremiah] knowledge of it, and I knew it. Then You, O Lord, showed me their doings.

19 But I was like a tame lamb that is brought to the slaughter. I did not know that they had devised inventions and schemes against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O Lord of hosts, Who judges rightly and justly, Who tests the heart and the mind, let me see Your vengeance on them, for to You I have revealed and committed my cause—rolling it upon You.

21 Therefore thus says the Lord of the men of Anathoth [your home town], who seek your life [Jeremiah] and say, Prophecy not in the name of the Lord, that you die not by our hand;

22 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: their young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine;

23 And there shall be no remnant of the conspirators left. For I will bring evil and calamity upon the men of Anathoth, in the year of their punishment.

CHAPTER 12

UNCOMPROMISINGLY righteous and rigidly just are You, O Lord, when I complain and contend with You; yet let me plead and reason the case with You. Why does the way of the wicked prosper? Why are all they at ease and thriving who deal very treacherously and deceitfully?

2 You have planted them, yes, they have taken root; they grow, yes, they bring forth fruit. You are near in their mouth and far from their heart.

3 But You, O Lord, know and understand me and my devotion to You; You have seen me and tried my heart toward You. O Lord, pull these rebellious ones out like sheep for the slaughter, and devote and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long must the land mourn, and the grass and herbs of the whole country wither? Through the wickedness of those who dwell in it, the beasts and the birds are consumed and are swept away [by the drought], because men mocked me saying, He shall not live to see our final end.

5 [But the Lord rebukes Jeremiah's impatience, saying] If you have raced with men on foot and they have tired you out, then how can you compete with horses? And if you take to flight in a land of peace where you feel secure, then what will you do [when you tread the tangled maze of jungle, haunted by lions] in the swelling of the Jordan?

6 For even your brethren and the house of your father, even they have dealt treacherously with you; yes, even they are [like a pack of hounds] in full cry after you. Believe them not, though they speak fair words and promise good things to you.

7 I have forsaken My house, I have cast off My heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of My life into the hand of her enemies.

8 My heritage has become to Me like a lion in the forest; she has uttered her voice against Me; therefore I have [treated her as if I] hated her.

9 Is My heritage to Me like a speckled bird of prey? Are the birds of prey against her round about? Go, assemble all the wild beasts of the field, bring them to devour.

10 Many shepherds [of an invading host] have destroyed My vineyard, they have trampled My portion under foot, they have made My pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

11 They have made it a desolation; and desolate it mourns to Me; the whole land is made desolate, but no man lays it to heart.

12 Destroyers have come upon all the bare heights in the desert; for the sword of the Lord devours from one end of the land even to the other; no flesh has peace or can find means to escape.

13 They have sown wheat, but have reaped thorns; they have worn themselves out, but without profit; and they shall be ashamed of your [lack of] harvests and revenues because of the fierce and glowing anger of the Lord.

14 Thus says the Lord, against all My evil neighbor nations who touch the inheritance which I have caused My people Israel to inherit: Behold, I will pluck them up from off their land, and I will pluck up the house of Judah from among them.

15 And after I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them, and will bring them again, every man to his heritage and every man to his land.

16 And if these [neighbor nations] will diligently learn the ways of My people, to swear by My name, saying. As the Lord lives, even as they taught My people to swear by Baal, then shall they be built up in the midst of My people.

17 But if any nation will not hear and obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 13

THUS the Lord said to me, Go and buy you a linen girdle and put it on your loins, and do not put it in water.

2 So I bought a girdle or waistcloth according to the word of the Lord, and put it on my loins.

3 And the word of the Lord came to me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle which you have bought, which is on your loins, and arise, go to the river Euphrates, and hide it there in a cleft of the rock.

5 So I went, and hid it by the Euphrates River, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And after many days the Lord said to me, Arise, go to the Euphrates, and take from there the girdle which I commanded you to hide there.

7 Then I went to the Euphrates, and dug, and took the girdle or waistcloth from the place where I had hidden it. And behold, the girdle was decayed and spoiled, it was good for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

9 Thus says the Lord, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem.

10 This evil people, who refuse to hear My words, who walk in the stubbornness of their heart and have gone after other gods to serve them and to worship them, shall even be like this girdle or waistcloth, which is profitable for nothing.

11 For as the girdle clings to the loins of a man, so I caused the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to cling to Me, says the Lord, that they might be for Me a people, a name, a praise, and a glory, but they would not listen or obey.

12 Therefore you shall speak to them this word: Thus says the Lord God of Israel, Every bottle and jar shall be filled with wine. The people will say to you, Do we not certainly know that every bottle and jar will be filled with wine?

13 Then you shall say to them, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I will fill with drunkenness all the inhabitants of this land; even the kings who sit upon David's throne, the priests, the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

14 And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, says the Lord. I will not pity or spare or have compassion, that I should not destroy them.

15 Hear and give ear; do not be proud, for the Lord has spoken, says Jeremiah.

16 Give glory to the Lord your God before He brings darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark and twilight mountains, and before, while you look for light, He turns it into the shadow of death and makes it thick darkness.

17 But if you will not hear and obey, I will weep in secret for your pride; my eyes will weep bitterly and run down with tears, because the Lord's flock is taken captive.

18 Say to the king and the queen mother, Humble yourselves and take a lowly seat, for down from your head has come your beautiful crown — the crown of your glory.

19 The cities of the South [the Negeb] are shut up, and there is no one to open them; all Judah is carried away captive, it is wholly taken captive and into exile.

20 Lift up your eyes and behold them [the eruption of a hostile army] who come from the north. Where is the flock that was given to you to shepherd, your beautiful flock?

21 What will you say, O Jerusalem, when He, the Lord, shall set over you for head those [tyrannical foreign nations] whom you yourselves at intervals have taught to be allies with you — instructing them, even your friends, to be head over you? Will not pangs take hold of you as of a woman in travail?

22 And if you say in your heart, Why have these things come upon me? the answer is, For the greatness of your iniquity is your long robe pulled aside [showing you in the garb of a menial], and you — barefooted and treated as a slave — suffer violence.

23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin or the leopard his spots? Then also can you do good who are accustomed and taught, even trained, to do evil.

24 Therefore I will scatter you as chaff driven away by the wind from the desert.

25 This is your lot, the portion measured to you from Me, says the Lord, because you have forgotten Me and trusted in falsehood [false gods and alliances with idolatrous nations].

26 Therefore I Myself will retaliate, throwing your skirts up over your face, that your shame [of being clad as a slave] may be exposed.

27 I have seen your detestable acts, even your adulteries and your lustful neighings [after idols], and the lewdness of your harlotry on the hills in the field. Woe to you, O Jerusalem! For how long a time yet will you not [meet My conditions and] be made clean?

CHAPTER 14

THE word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought:

2 Judah mourns and her gates languish; her people sit in black [mourning garb] upon the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem goes up.

3 And their nobles send their little ones and their inferiors for water. They come to the cisterns and find no water; they return with empty vessels; they are put to shame and confounded and cover their heads.

4 Because the ground is cracked and [the tillers are] dismayed, since there has been no rain on the land, the plowmen are put to shame, they cover their heads.

5 Yes, also the hind gives birth to her calf in the field, and forsakes it, because there is no grass or herbage.

6 And the wild donkeys stand on the bare heights, they pant for air like jackals or the crocodile; their eyesight fails because there is no grass.

7 O Lord, though our iniquities testify against us [prays Jeremiah], deal and work with us for Your own name's sake [that the heathen may witness Your might and faithfulness]; for our backslidings are many, we have sinned against You.

8 O hope of Israel, her Savior in the time of trouble, why should You be as a sojourner in the land and as a wayfaring man who turns aside and spreads his tent to tarry only for a night?

9 Why should You be [hesitant and inactive] like a man stunned and confused, like a mighty man who cannot save? Yet You, O Lord, are in the midst of us, and we are called by Your name; do not leave us.

10 [And the Lord replied to Jeremiah] Thus says the Lord to this people [Judah], In the manner and to the degree already pointed out have they loved to wander, they have not restrained their feet; therefore the Lord does not accept them; He will now [seriously] remember their iniquity and punish their sins.

11 The Lord said to me: Do not pray for this people for their good.

12 Though they fast, I will not hear their cry; and though they offer burnt offering and cereal offering [without heartfelt surrender to Me, or too late], I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence.

13 Then said I, Alas, Lord God! Behold, the [false] prophets say to them, You shall not see the sword, nor shall you have famine; but I [the Lord] will give you assured peace in this place — peace of truth.

14 Then the Lord said to me, The [false] prophets prophesy lies in My name. I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, nor have I spoken to them. They prophesy to you a false or pretended vision, worthless divination — conjuring, and the responses supposed to be given by idols — the deceit of their own minds.

15 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the [false] prophets who prophesy in My name although I did not send them, and who say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land: By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, victims of famine and sword, and they shall have none to bury them: them, their wives, their sons and their daughters. For I will pour out their wickedness upon them [and not on their false teachers only, for the people could not have been deceived except by their own consent].

17 Therefore [Jeremiah], you shall say to them, Let my eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease; for the virgin daughter of my people is smitten with a great wound, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go out into the field, then behold, those slain with the sword! And if I enter the city, then behold, those tormented with the diseases of famine! For both prophet and priest go about not knowing what to do, or as beggars [exiled] in a land that they know not, and have no knowledge.

19 [O Lord], have You utterly rejected Judah? Do You loathe Zion? Why have You smitten us so there is no healing for us? We looked for peace and completeness, but no good came; and for a time of healing, but behold, dismay, disaster and terror!

20 We know and acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers; for we have sinned against You.

21 Do not abhor, condemn and spurn us, for Your name's sake; do not dishonor, debase and lightly esteem Your glorious throne; [earnestly] remember, break not Your covenant or sacred pledge with us.

22 Are there any among the false gods of the nations that can cause rain? Or can the heavens [of their own will] give showers? Are You [alone] not He, O Lord our God? Therefore we will wait for You — expectantly; for You have made [the heavens and the rain] all these things.

CHAPTER 15

THEN the Lord said to me, Though Moses and Samuel stood [interceding for them] before Me, yet My mind could not be turned with favor toward this people [Judah]. Send them out of My sight, and let them go!

2 And if they say to you, Where shall we go? then tell them, Thus says the Lord: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will appoint over them four kinds [of destroyers], says the Lord: the sword to slay, the dogs to tear and drag, the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth to devour and to destroy.

4 And I will cause them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, and be made a horror to all nations because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for [the horrible wickedness] which he did in Jerusalem. [II Kings 21:3-7.]

5 For who will have pity upon you, O Jerusalem, or who will bemoan you? Or who will turn aside to ask for your welfare?

6 You have rejected and forsaken Me, says the Lord, you keep going in reverse. Therefore I have stretched out My hand against you and destroyed you; I am weary of relenting [concerning your punishment].

7 I have winnowed them with a fan and a winnowing fork in the gates of the land; I have bereaved them [of children], I have destroyed My people; from their evil ways they did not return.

8 I have increased the number of their widows more than the sand of the seas. I have brought upon them, both against the mother of young men and the young men themselves, a destroyer at noonday. I have caused anguish and terrors to fall upon her [Jerusalem] suddenly.

9 She who has borne seven, languishes. She has expired; her sun has gone down while it was yet day. She has been put to shame, confounded and disgraced. And the rest of them I will deliver to the sword before their enemies, says the Lord.

10 Woe is me, my mother, that you bore me to be a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither loaned, nor have men loaned to me; yet every one of them curses me. [Jer. 1:18, 19.]

11 The Lord said, Truly your release, affliction and strengthening shall be for good; surely [Jeremiah] I will intercede for you with the enemy and I will cause the enemy to ask your aid in the time of evil and in the time of affliction. [Rom. 8:28; Jer. 21:1, 2; 37:3; 42:2.]

12 Can iron break the iron from the north, and the bronze?

13 Your [nation's] substance and your treasures will I give as spoil without price, and that for all your sins, even in all your territory.

14 And I will make [your possessions] to pass with your enemies into a land which you do not know, and you to serve [your conquerors] there; for a fire is kindled in My anger which shall burn upon you [Israel].

15 [Jeremiah said,] O Lord, You know; [earnestly] remember me and visit me, and avenge me of my persecutors; take me not away [from joy or from life itself] in Your longsuffering [to my enemies]; know that for Your sake I suffer and bear reproach.

16 Your words were found, and I ate them, and Your word was to me a joy and the rejoicing of my heart; for I am called by Your name, O Lord, God of hosts.

17 I sat not in the assembly of those who make merry, nor did I rejoice; I sat alone because Your [powerful] hand was upon me, for You have filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, refusing to be healed? Will you indeed be to me as a deceitful brook, like waters that fail and are uncertain?

19 Therefore thus says the Lord [to Jeremiah], If you return [give up this mistaken tone of distrust and despair], then I will give you again a settled place of quiet and safety, and you shall be My minister; and if you separate the precious from the vile [cleansing your own heart from unworthy suspicions concerning God's faithfulness], you shall be as My mouthpiece. [But do not yield to them.] Let them return to you — not you to the people.

20 And I will make you to this people a fortified, brazen wall. They will fight against you, but they shall not prevail over you; for I am with you to save and deliver you, says the Lord.

21 And I will deliver you out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem you out of the palm of the terrible and ruthless tyrants.

CHAPTER 16

THE word of the Lord came also to me, saying,

2 You shall not take a wife or have sons and daughters in this place [Jerusalem].

3 For thus says the Lord concerning the sons and daughters who are born in this place, and concerning the mothers who bore them and the fathers who begot them in this land:

4 They shall die of deadly diseases. They shall not be lamented, nor shall they be buried; but they shall be as dung upon the face of the ground. They shall perish and be consumed by the sword and by famine, and their dead bodies shall be food for the fowls of the air and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus says the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, or go to lament or bemoan [the dead], for I have taken away My peace from this people, says the Lord, even My steadfast love and loving-kindness and tender mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land; they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them or cut themselves or make themselves bald for them.

7 Neither shall men prepare food for the mourners, to comfort them for the dead; nor shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 And you [Jeremiah] shall not go into the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat and drink.

9 For thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will cause to cease from this place, before your very eyes and in your days, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.

10 And when you tell this people all these words, and they inquire of you, Why has the Lord decreed all this enormous evil against us? Or, What is our iniquity? Or, What is the sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then you shall say to them, Because your fathers have forsaken Me, says the Lord, and have walked after other gods and have served and worshiped them, and have forsaken Me and have not kept My law, 12 And because you have done worse than your fathers; for behold, every one of you walks after the stubbornness of his own evil heart, so that you do not listen and obey Me.

13 Therefore I will cast you out of this land [of Judah] into the land [of the Babylonians] that neither you nor your fathers have known, and there you will serve other gods day and night, for I will show you no favor there.

14 Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, when it shall no more be said, As the Lord lives Who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, 15 But, As the Lord lives Who brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north and from all the countries to which He had driven them. And I will bring them again to their land that I gave to their fathers.

16 Behold, I will send for many fishers, says the Lord, and they shall fish them out; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain and from every hill and out of the clefts of the rocks.

17 For My eyes are upon all their ways; they are not hid from My face, neither is their iniquity concealed from My eyes.

18 First [before I bring them back to their land], I will doubly recompense and punish them for their iniquity and their sin, because they have polluted My land with the carcasses of their detestable idols, and with the abominable things offered to false gods with which they have filled My inheritance.

19 [Then said Jeremiah] O Lord, my strength and my stronghold, and my refuge in the day of affliction, to You shall the nations come from the ends of the earth and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited nothing but lies, emptiness and futility, worthless things in which there is no profit!

20 Can a man make gods for himself? Such are not gods!

21 Therefore, [says the Lord,] Behold, I will make them know, yes, this once I will make them know My power and My might, and they shall know and recognize that My name is the Lord.

CHAPTER 17

THE sin of Judah is written with a pen or stylus of iron, and with the point of a diamond; it is engraved on the tablet of their heart, and on the horns of their altars,

2 While their children [earnestly] remember their [heathen] altars and their wooden symbols of the goddess Asherah beside the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O [Jerusalem] My mountain in the field, I will give your wealth and all your treasures to the spoil, and your high places for sin — as the price of your sin — throughout all your territory.

4 And you, through your own fault, shall loosen your hand and discontinue from your heritage which I gave you; and I will cause you to serve your enemies in a land which you do not know, for you have kindled a fire in My anger which shall burn age-lasting.

5 Thus says the Lord: Cursed [with great evil] is the strong man who trusts and relies on frail man, making weak [human] flesh his arm, and whose mind and heart turn aside from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like a shrub or a person naked and destitute in the desert, and shall not see any good come; but shall dwell in the parched places in the wilderness, in uninhabited salt land.

7 [Most] blessed is the man who believes in, trusts in and relies on the Lord, and whose hope and confidence the Lord is.

8 For he shall be like a tree planted by the waters, that spreads out its roots by the river, and shall not see and fear when heat comes, but his leaf shall be green; he shall not be anxious and careful in the year of drought, nor shall he cease from yielding fruit.

9 The heart is deceitful above all things, and it is exceedingly perverse and corrupt and severely, mortally sick! Who can know it [perceive, understand, be acquainted with his own heart and mind]? [Mark 7:21-23; Eph. 4:20-24; Matt. 13:15-17.]

10 I, the Lord, search the mind, I try the heart, even to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge which gathers a brood that she did not hatch and sits on eggs which she has not laid, so is he who gets riches and not by right. He will leave them, or they will leave him, in the midst of his days, and at his end he will be a fool.

12 A glorious throne set on high from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary [the temple].

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all who forsake You shall be put to shame. They who depart from You and me [Your prophet] shall disappear like writing upon the ground, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for You are my praise.

15 Behold, they say to me, Where is the word of the Lord [that you said would befall us]? Let it come now!

16 But as for me, I have not sought to escape from being a shepherd after You, nor have I desired the woeful day [of judgment]; You know that. Whatever I said was spoken in Your presence and was from You.

17 Be not a terror to me; You are my refuge and my hope in the day of evil.

18 Let those be put to shame who persecute me, but let me not be put to shame; let them be dismayed, but let me not be dismayed; bring on them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus said the Lord to me: Go and stand in the gate of the sons of the people, by which the kings of Judah enter and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem;

20 And say, Hear the word of the Lord, you kings of Judah and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem who enter by these gates.

21 Thus says the Lord: Take heed to yourselves, and for the sake of your lives bear no burden on the sabbath day or bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem.

22 And do not carry a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day or do any work, but keep the sabbath day holy [set apart to the worship of God] as I commanded your fathers.

23 Yet they would not listen and obey or incline their ear, but stiffened their necks, that they might not hear and might not receive instruction.

24 But if you diligently listen and obey Me, says the Lord, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but keep the sabbath day holy [set apart to the worship of God], to do no work on it,

25 Then there shall enter by the gates of this city kings and princes who will sit upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, the kings and their princes, the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall be inhabited and be age-lasting.

26 And people shall come from the cities of Judah and the places round about Jerusalem, from the land of Benjamin, from the lowland, from the hill country, and from the South, bringing burnt offerings and sacrifices, cereal offerings and frankincense, and bringing sacrifices of thanksgiving to the house of the Lord.

27 But if you will not listen to Me to keep the sabbath day holy [set apart to the worship of God], and not to bear a burden and enter in at the gates of Jerusalem with one on the sabbath day, then I will kindle a fire in her gates, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAPTER 18

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord:

2 Arise and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause you to hear My words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and behold, he was working at the wheel.

4 And the vessel that he was making of clay was spoiled in the hand of the potter; so he made it over, reworking it into another vessel, as it seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came to me:

6 O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? says the Lord. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are you in My hand, O house of Israel.

7 At one time I shall suddenly speak concerning a nation or kingdom, that I will pluck up and break down and destroy it;

8 But if [the people of] that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turn from their evil, I will relent and reverse My decision concerning the evil that I thought to do to them.

9 At another time I shall suddenly speak concerning a nation or a kingdom that I will build and plant it;

10 But if they do evil in My sight, obeying not My voice, then I will regret and reverse My decision concerning the good with which I said I would benefit them.

11 Now therefore, say to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus says the Lord, Behold, I am shaping evil against you and devising a plan against you. Return now every one from his evil way; reform and make your [accustomed] ways and your [individual] actions good and right.

12 But they say, That is in vain, for we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do as the stubbornness of his own evil heart dictates.

13 Therefore thus says the Lord: Ask now among the nations, who has heard such things? The virgin Israel has done a very vile and horrible thing.

14 Will the snow of Mount Lebanon fail from its rocks [which tower above the land of Israel]? Shall the cold, rushing waters of strange lands that dash down [from afar] be dried up?

15 Yet My people have forgotten Me, they burn incense to false gods; they have been caused to stumble in their ways, in the ancient roads, to walk in bypaths, in a way not graded up — not a highway;

16 Making their land a desolation and a horror, a thing to be hissed at perpetually. Every one who passes by shall be astounded and horrified and shake his head.

17 I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will show them My back and not My face, in the day of their calamity, [says the Lord].

18 Then my enemies said, Come, and let us devise schemes against Jeremiah, for the law [of Moses] shall not perish from the priest [as this false prophet predicts], or counsel from the wise, or the word from the prophet. Come, let us smite him with the tongue [making a charge against him to the king], and let us not pay any attention to his words.

19 Give heed to me, Lord, listen to what my adversaries [are plotting to do to me, and intercede].

20 Shall evil be recompensed for good? Yet they have dug a pit for my life. [Earnestly] remember that I stood before You to speak good for them, to turn away Your anger from them.

21 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine; give them over to the power of the sword, and let their wives become childless and widows. Let their men meet death by pestilence, their young men be slain by the sword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when You suddenly bring a troop upon them; for they have dug a pit to take me and have hidden snares for my feet.

23 Yet, Lord, You know all their plotting against me to slay me. Forgive not their iniquity, nor blot out their sin from Your sight, but let them be overthrown before You; deal with them in the time of Your anger.

CHAPTER 19

THUS says the Lord, Go and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take some of the old people and some of the elderly priests,

2 And go out to the Valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrance of the Potsherd Gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell you;

3 And say, Hear the word of the Lord, O kings of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I am bringing such evil upon this place that the ears of whoever hears of it will tingle.

4 Because the people have forsaken Me, and have estranged and profaned this place [Jerusalem], by burning incense in it to other gods that neither they nor their fathers nor the kings of Judah have known; and because they have filled this place with the blood of innocents,

5 And have built the high places of Baal to burn their sons in the fire for burnt offerings to Baal, which I commanded not, nor spoke of it, nor did it come into My mind and heart;

6 Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, when this place shall no more be called Topheth, or the Valley of Ben-hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter.

7 And I will pour out and make void the counsel and the plans of [the men of] Judah and Jerusalem in this place, and I will cause their people to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of those who seek their life; and their dead bodies I will give to be food for the birds of the air and for the beasts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city an astonishment and a horror and a hissing; every one who passes by it will be horrified and will hiss [in scorn] because of all its plagues and disasters.

9 And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his neighbor and friend in the siege and in the distress, with which their enemies and those who seek their life distress them.

10 Then you shall break the bottle in the sight of the men who accompany you, 11 And you shall say to them, Thus said the Lord of hosts: Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaks a potter's vessel, so that it cannot be mended. Men shall bury in Topheth because there will be no other place, and till there is no more room to bury.

12 Thus will I do to this place, says the Lord, and to its inhabitants, and even make this city like Topheth.

13 And the houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, shall be like the place of Topheth, even all the houses upon whose roofs incense has been burned to all the host of the heavens, and drink offerings have been poured out to other gods. [Acts 7:42, 43.]

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesy, and he stood in the court of the Lord's house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all its towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have stiffened their necks, refusing to hear My words.

CHAPTER 20

NOW Pashhur the son of Immer, the priest, who was also chief officer in the house of the Lord, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things.

2 Then Pashhur beat Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper Benjamin Gate of the house of the Lord. [Jer. 1:19.]

3 And the next day Pashhur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then Jeremiah said to him, The Lord does not call your name Pashhur, but Magor-missa-bib [that is, Terror on every side].

4 For thus says the Lord, Behold, I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends. They shall fall by the sword of their enemies while you look on. And I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon; he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliver all the riches of this city, all the results of its labors, all its precious things, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah into the hand of their enemies, who shall make them a prey and plunder them, and seize them, and carry them to Babylon.

6 And you, Pashhur, and all who dwell in your house shall go into captivity; you shall go to Babylon, and there you shall die and be buried, you and all your friends, to whom you have prophesied falsely.

7 [But Jeremiah said] O Lord, You have persuaded and deceived me, and I was persuaded and deceived; You are stronger than I and have prevailed; I am a laughing stock all the day; every one mocks me.

8 For whenever I speak, I must cry out and complain; I shout, Violence and destruction! For the word of the Lord has become to me a reproach and a derision all day long.

9 If I say, I will not make mention of [the Lord], or speak any more in His name, there is in my mind and heart as if it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with enduring and holding it in; I cannot contain it longer.

10 For I have heard many whispering and defaming. There is terror on every side. Denounce him! Let us denounce him! say all my familiar friends, they who watch for my fall. Perhaps he will be persuaded and deceived, then we can prevail against him, and we will get our revenge on him.

11 But the Lord is with me as a mighty and terrible one; therefore my persecutors will stumble, and they will not overcome me. They will be utterly put to shame, for they will not deal wisely or prosper [in their schemes]; their eternal dishonor will never be forgotten.

12 But, O Lord of hosts, Who tries the righteous, Who sees the heart and the mind, let me see Your vengeance on them, for to You have I revealed and committed my cause.

13 Sing to the Lord; praise the Lord! For He has delivered the life of the poor and needy from the hand of evildoers.

14 Cursed be the day on which I was born; let not the day on which my mother bore me be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A son is born to you, making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities which the Lord overthrew and did not relent. Let him hear the [war] cry in the morning and the shouting of alarm at noon, 17 Because he did not slay me in the womb, so that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb always great.

18 Why did I come out of the womb to see labor and sorrow, that my days should be consumed in shame?

CHAPTER 21

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur the son of Malchiah, and Zephaniah the priest, the son of Maaseiah, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray you, of the Lord for us, for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon is making war against us; perhaps the Lord will deal with us according to all His wonderful works, forcing him to withdraw from us.

3 Then said Jeremiah to them, Say this to Zedekiah:

4 Thus says the Lord God of Israel: Behold, I will turn back and dull the edge of the weapons of war that are in your hands, with which you fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldeans who are besieging you outside the walls, and I will bring them into the midst of this city [Jerusalem].

5 And I Myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, in anger, in fury, and in great indignation and wrath.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast; they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterward, says the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people in this city who survive the pestilence, the sword, and the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and into the hand of their enemies, into the hand of those who seek their lives. And he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, nor have pity or mercy and compassion upon them.

8 And to this people you [Jeremiah] shall say, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death.

9 He who remains in this city [Jerusalem] shall die by the sword, and by famine, and by pestilence. But he who goes out and passes over to the Chaldeans who besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be to him for a prey [as a prize of war].

10 For I have set My face upon this city for evil, and not for good, says the Lord. It shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

11 And concerning the royal house of the king of Judah, hear the word of the Lord:

12 O house of David, thus says the Lord: Execute justice in the morning, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed, lest My wrath go forth like fire, and burn so that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

13 Behold, I am against you, O inhabitant of the valley, O rock of the plain, says the Lord, you who say, Who shall come down against us? Or, Who shall enter into our dwelling places?

14 And I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, says the Lord; I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it shall devour all that is round about her.

CHAPTER 22

THUS says the Lord: Go down to the house of the king of Judah and speak there this word,

2 Hear the word of the Lord, O king of Judah, you who sit upon the throne of David, you, and your servants, and your people who enter by these gates.

3 Thus says the Lord: Execute justice and righteousness, and deliver out of the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed. And do no wrong; do no violence to the stranger or temporary resident, the fatherless or the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if you will obey this word indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this [the king's] house kings sitting [for David] upon David's throne, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their servants, and their people.

5 But if you will not hear these words, I swear by Myself, says the Lord, that this house shall become a desolation.

6 For thus says the Lord concerning the house of the king of Judah: [If you will not listen to Me, though] you are [as valuable] to Me as [the fat pastures of] Gilead [east of the Jordan], or as the [plentiful] summit of Lebanon [west of the Jordan], yet surely I will make you a wilderness and uninhabited cities.

7 And I will prepare, solemnly set apart and appoint to execute My judgments against you, destroyers, every one with his weapons; and they shall cut down your [palaces built of] choicest cedars, and cast them into the fire.

8 And many nations will pass by this city, and every man will say to his neighbor, Why has the Lord done this to this great city?

9 Then they will answer, Because [the people] forsook the covenant or pledge with the Lord their God, and worshiped other gods and served them.

10 Weep not for him who is dead, nor bemoan him; but weep bitterly for him who goes away [into captivity], for he shall return no more, nor see his native country again.

11 For thus says the Lord concerning Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father and who went forth out of this place: [Shallum] shall not return here any more;

12 But he shall die in the place where they have led him captive, and he shall see this land no more.

13 Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness, and his [upper] chambers by injustice; who uses his neighbor's service without wages, and does not give him his pay [for his work];

14 Who says, I will build me a wide house with large rooms, and cuts himself out windows, and it is ceiled with cedar and painted with vermilion.

15 Do you think that being a king [merely] means [self-indulgent] vying [with Solomon] and striving to excel in cedar palaces? Did not your father [Josiah] as he ate and drank, do justice and righteousness — being upright and in right standing with God? Then it was well with him.

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was not all this to know and recognize Me? says the Lord.

17 But your eyes and your heart are only for your covetousness and dishonest gain, for shedding innocent blood, for oppression and doing violence.

18 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: [Relatives] shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! Or, Ah sister, [how great our loss! Subjects] shall not lament for him saying, Ah lord! or Ah his majesty! or Ah [how great was] his glory!

19 [No] he shall be buried with the burial of a donkey, dragged out and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 Go up [north] to Lebanon and cry out, and raise your voice [in the hills] of Bashan [across the Jordan], and cry from Abarim [a range of mountains southeast of Palestine]; for all your lovers [the king's chosen allies] are destroyed.

21 I spoke to you in your [times of] prosperity, but you said, I will not listen. This has been your attitude from your youth, you have not obeyed My voice.

22 The wind [of adversity] shall pasture upon and consume all your shepherds [your princes and statesmen], and your lover [allies] shall go into captivity. Surely then shall you be ashamed and confounded and dismayed because of all your wickedness.

23 O inhabitant of Lebanon [Jerusalem, whose palaces are made of Lebanon's trees], who make your nest among the cedars, how you will groan and how pitiable you will be when pangs come upon you, pain as of a woman in childbirth!

24 As I live, says the Lord, though Coniah [also called Jeconiah, and Jehoiachin] the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, were the signet ring upon My right hand, yet would I tear you off;

25 And I will give you into the hand of those who seek your life and into the hand of those of whom you are afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will hurl you and the mother who bore you into another country, where you were not born, and there you shall die.

27 But to the land to which they will yearn to return, there they shall not return.

28 Is this man [King] Coniah a despised, broken pot? Is he a vessel in which no one takes pleasure? Why are they hurled out, he and his royal offspring, and cast into a land which they do not know, understand or recognize?

29 O land, land, land, hear the word of the Lord!

30 Thus says the Lord, Write this man [Coniah] down as childless, a man who shall not prosper in his days; for no man of his offspring shall succeed in sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

CHAPTER 23

WOE to the shepherds [the civil leaders] who destroy and scatter the sheep of My pasturing! says the Lord.

2 Therefore thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning the shepherds who care for and feed My people: You have scattered My flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them; behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, says the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all the countries to which I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds and pastures; and they shall be fruitful and multiply.

4 And I will set up shepherds over them who shall feed them. And they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be missing or lost, says the Lord.

5 Behold, the days come, says the Lord, that I will raise to David a righteous Branch [Sprout], and He shall reign as King and do wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land.

6 In His days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is His name by which He shall be called, The Lord Our Righteousness. [Matt. 1:21-23; Rom. 3:22.]

7 Therefore, behold, the days come, says the Lord, that they shall no more say, As the Lord lives Who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

8 But, As the Lord lives Who brought up and led the offspring of the house of Israel out of the north country and from all the countries to which I had driven them. And they shall dwell in their own land.

9 Concerning the prophets: My heart [says Jeremiah] is broken within me, all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, a man whom wine has overcome, because of the Lord and because of His holy words [which He has pronounced against unfaithful leaders].

10 For the land is full of adulterers [forsakers of God, Israel's true Husband]. Because of the curse [of God upon it] the land mourns, the pastures of the wilderness are dried up. They [both false prophets and people] rush into wickedness, and their course is evil, their might is not right.

11 For both [false] prophet and priest are ungodly and profane; even in My house have I found their wickedness, says the Lord.

12 Therefore their way shall be to them like slippery paths in the dark. They shall be driven on and fall into them, for I will bring evil upon them in the year of their punishment, says the Lord.

13 And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria: they prophesied by Baal and caused My people Israel to err and go astray.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem a horrible thing: they commit adultery and walk in lies; they encourage and strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that none returns from his wickedness. They have all of them become to Me as Sodom, and its inhabitants as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with [the bitterness of] wormwood, and make them drink the [poisonous] water of gall; for from the [false] prophets of Jerusalem profaneness and ungodliness have gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus says the Lord of hosts, Do not listen to the words of the [false] prophets who prophesy to you. They teach you vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility — and fill you with vain hopes; they speak a vision of their own minds, and not from the mouth of the Lord.

17 They are continually saying to those who despise Me and the word of the Lord, The Lord has said you shall have peace; and they say to every one who walks after the stubbornness of his own mind and heart, No evil shall come upon you.

18 For who among them has stood in the council of the Lord, that he should perceive and hear His word? Who has marked His word — noticing and observing and giving attention to it — and has actually heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord has gone out in wrath, a whirling tempest; it shall burst [whirling] upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not turn back until He has executed and accomplished the thoughts and intents of His mind and heart. In the latter days you shall consider and understand it perfectly.

21 I did not send these [false] prophets, yet they ran; I did not speak to them, yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in My council, then would they have caused My people to hear My words, then they would have turned [My people] from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 Am I a God at hand, says the Lord, and not a God afar off?

24 Can any hide himself in secret places so that I will not see him? says the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? says the Lord.

25 I have heard what the prophets have said who prophesy lies in My name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed [visions on my bed at night].

26 How long shall this state of things continue? How long still shall it be in the mind of the prophets who prophesy falsehood, even the prophets of the deceit of their own heart, 27 To think to cause My people to forget My name by their dreams which every man tells to his neighbor, as their fathers forgot My name because of Baal?

28 The prophet who has a dream, let him tell a dream; and he who has My word, let him speak My word faithfully. What has straw in common with wheat [for nourishment]? says the Lord.

29 Is not My word like fire [that consumes all that cannot endure the test]? says the Lord, and like a hammer that breaks in pieces the rock [of most stubborn resistance]?

30 Therefore, behold, I am against the false prophets, says the Lord; [I am even now descending upon them with punishment, these prophets] who steal My words from one another [imitating the phrases of the true prophets].

31 Behold, I am against the prophets, says the Lord, who use their [own deceitful] tongues and say, Thus says [the Lord].

32 Behold, I am against those who prophesy lying dreams, says the Lord, and tell them and cause My people to err and go astray by their lies and by their vain boasting and recklessness, when I did not send them or command them; nor do they profit this people at all, says the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophets, or a priest shall ask you, What is the burden of the Lord — the saying to be lifted up now? Then you shall say to them, What burden, indeed! — You are the burden! And I will disburden Myself of you and I will cast you off, says the Lord.

34 And as for the prophet, the priest, or these of the people, whoever shall [in mockery call the word of the Lord a burden and] say, The burden of the Lord, I will even visit in wrath and punish that man and his house.

35 [For the future in speaking of the utterances of the Lord] thus shall you say every one to his neighbor and every one to his brother, What has the Lord answered? or, What has the Lord spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord shall you mention no more: for every man's burden is his own response and word [for as they mockingly call all prophecies burdens, whether good or bad, so shall it prove to be to them; God will take them at their own word]; for you pervert the words [not of a lifeless idol, but] of the living God, the Lord of hosts, our God!

37 Thus shall you [reverently] say to the prophet, What has the Lord answered you? Or, What has the Lord spoken?

38 But if you say, The burden of the Lord, therefore thus says the Lord: Because you say these words, The burden of the Lord, when I sent to you, saying, You shall not say, The burden of the Lord, 39 Therefore, behold, I, even I, will assuredly take you up and cast you away from My presence, you and the city [Jerusalem] which I gave to you and to your fathers.

40 And I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

CHAPTER 24

AFTER Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had taken into exile Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, [all] from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon, the Lord showed me [in a vision] two baskets of figs set before the temple of the Lord.

2 One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first ripe, but the other basket had very bad figs, so bad that they could not be eaten.

3 Then the Lord said to me, What do you see, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs; the good figs very good, and the bad very bad, that cannot be eaten because they are so bad.

4 Again the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

5 Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel: Like these good figs, so will I regard the captives of Judah whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans for their good.

6 For I will set My eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land; and I will build them and not pull them down, and I will plant them and not pluck them up.

7 And I will give them a heart to recognize, understand and be acquainted with Me, that I am the Lord; and they shall be My people and I will be their God, for they shall return to Me with their whole heart.

8 And as for the bad figs, which cannot be eaten because they are so bad, surely thus says the Lord, So will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and those who dwell in the land of Egypt.

9 I will even give them up to be a dismay and a horror, and to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil, to be a reproach, a byword or proverb, a taunt and a curse in all places where I shall drive them.

10 And I will send the sword, famine, and pestilence among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave to them and to their fathers.

CHAPTER 25

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, which was the first year of the reign of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon;

2 Which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem:

3 For these twenty-three years, from the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even to this day, the word of the Lord has come to me, and I have spoken to you persistently early and late, but you have not listened and obeyed.

4 Although the Lord persistently sent you all the prophets, His servants, yet you have not listened and obeyed or [even] inclined your ear to hear.

5 [The prophets came for Me] saying, Turn again now every one from his evil way and wrong doings, [that you may not forfeit the right to] dwell in the land that the Lord gave to you and to your fathers from of old and for evermore.

6 Do not go after other gods to serve and worship them, and do not provoke Me to anger with the works of your hands. Then I will do you no harm.

7 Yet you have not listened and obeyed Me, says the Lord, that you might provoke Me to anger with [idols] made by your hands to your own hurt.

8 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts: Because you have not heard and obeyed My words, 9 Behold, I will send for all the tribes of the north, says the Lord, and I will send for Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, My servant [or agent to fulfill My designs], and I will bring them against this land and its inhabitants, and against all these nations round about; and I will devote them to destruction, and make them an amazement, a hissing, and perpetual and age-long desolations.

10 Moreover, I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones [grinding out the meal] and the light of the candle [which every home burned through the night].

11 And this whole land shall be a waste and an astonishment, and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. [Jer. 4:27; 12:11, 12; Dan. 9:2.]

12 Then after seventy years are completed, I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation, the land of the Chaldeans, says the Lord, for their iniquity, and will make the land [of the Chaldeans] a perpetual waste.

13 And I will bring upon that land all My words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah has prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings shall make bondsmen of them, even of [the Chaldeans who enslaved other nations]; and I will recompense [all of] them, according to their deeds, and according to the work of their own hands.

15 For thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, to me: Take this cup of the wine of wrath from My hand, and cause all the nations to whom I send you to drink it.

16 They shall drink and reel to and fro and be crazed, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then I [Jeremiah] took the cup at the Lord's hand, and made all the nations drink it to whom the Lord had sent me: that is,

18 Jerusalem and the cities of Judah [being most guilty because their privileges were greatest], its kings and princes, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, a hissing and a curse, as it is to this time; [I Pet. 4:17.]

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, his servants, his princes, all his people,

20 And all the mixed foreign population; all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines and [their cities of] Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod;

21 Edom, Moab, and the children of Ammon;

22 All the kings of Tyre, all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the islands and the coastland across the [Mediterranean] Sea;

23 Dedan, Tema, Buz [neighboring tribes north of Arabia], and all who cut off the corners of their hair and beards; [Lev. 19:27.]

24 All the kings of Arabia and all the kings of the mixed tribes who dwell in the desert;

25 All the kings of Elam [Persia], and all the kings of Media;

26 All the kings of the north, far and near, one after another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are on the face of the earth. And after them the king of Sheshach [Babel or Babylon] shall drink.

27 Then you shall say to them, Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink, be drunk, vomit, and fall to rise no more, because of the sword which I am sending among you.

28 And if they refuse to take the cup at your hand to drink, then you shall say to them, Thus says the Lord of hosts: You shall surely drink!

29 For, lo, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by My name, and shall you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, for I am calling for a sword against all the inhabitants of the earth, says the Lord of hosts.

30 Therefore prophesy against them all these words, and say to them: The Lord shall roar from on high, and utter His voice from His holy habitation; He shall roar mightily against His fold and pasture; He shall give a shout, like those do who tread grapes

e) As both sacred and secular history show, this prophecy was approximately literally fulfilled, whether it refers to the duration of the Babylonian empire, or to the length of the Jewish captivity in Babylon. For the marvelous literal fulfillment of specific details concerning the destruction and perpetual desolation of Babylon, see the footnotes on Isa. 13:22 and 14:23.

[in the winepress, but His shout will be] against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth; for the Lord has a controversy and an indictment against the nations; He will enter into judgment with all mankind; as for the wicked, He will give them to the sword, says the Lord.

32 Thus says the Lord of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest will rise whirling from the uttermost parts of the earth.

33 And the slain of the Lord shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth; they shall not be lamented, or gathered, or buried; their dead bodies shall be dung upon the ground.

34 Wail, you shepherds, and cry, and roll in ashes, you chief among the flock, for the days of your slaughter and of your dispersions are fully come, and you shall fall and be dashed to pieces like a choice vessel.

35 And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal ones of the flock any means of escape.

36 A voice! The cry of the shepherds and the wailing of the chief ones of the flock! For the Lord is laying waste and spoiling their pasture.

37 And the peaceable folds are devastated and brought to silence because of the fierce anger of the Lord.

38 He has left His shelter as the lion; for their land has become a waste and an astonishment because of the fierceness of the oppressor, and because of [the Lord's] fierce anger.

CHAPTER 26

IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the Lord,

2 Thus says the Lord: Stand in the court of the Lord's house [Jeremiah], and speak to all the cities of Judah which come to worship in the Lord's house all the words that I command you to speak to them; diminish not a word.

3 It may be they will listen, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may relent and reverse My decision concerning the evil which I purpose to do to them because of their evil doings.

4 And you shall say to them, Thus says the Lord: If you will not listen and obey Me, to walk in My law which I have set before you,

5 And to hear and obey the words of My servants the prophets whom I sent to you urgently and persistently, though you have not listened and obeyed;

6 Then will I make this house [the temple] like Shiloh [abandoned home of the tabernacle after the ark was captured by the Philistines], and will make this city subject to the curses of all nations of the earth [so vile in their sight will it be].

7 And the priests and the [false] prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had finished speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speak to all the people, the priests and the [false] prophets and all the people seized him, saying, You shall surely die!

9 Why have you prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh [after the ark of the Lord had been taken by our enemies], and this city [Jerusalem] shall be desolate without an inhabitant? And all the people were gathered around Jeremiah in the [outer area of the] house of the Lord.

10 When the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house to the house of the Lord and sat down in the entry of the New Gate of the house of the Lord.

11 Then the priests and the prophets said to the princes and to all the people, This man is worthy of death, for he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your own ears.

12 Then Jeremiah said to all the princes and to all the people: The Lord sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that you have heard.

13 Therefore now amend your ways and your doings and obey the voice of the Lord your God, and the Lord will relent of the evil and reverse the decision that He has pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands; do with me as seems good and suitable to you.

15 But know for certain that if you put me to death, you will bring innocent blood upon yourselves and upon this city and upon its inhabitants, for in truth the Lord sent me to you to speak all these words in your hearing.

16 Then said the princes and all the people to the priests and to the prophets: This man is not deserving of death, for he has spoken to us in the name of the Lord our God.

17 Then certain of the elders of the land arose and said to all the assembly of the people, 18 Micah of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah, king of Judah, and said to all the people of Judah, Thus says the Lord of hosts: Zion shall be 'plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps [of ruins], and the mountain of the house of the Lord [Mount Moriah on which stands the temple, shall become covered not with buildings, but] like a densely wooded height.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put [Micah] to death? Did he not (reverently) fear the Lord, and entreat the Lord, and did not the Lord relent of the evil and reverse the decision which He had pronounced against them? But [here] we are thinking of committing what will be a great evil against ourselves.

20 And there was also a man who prophesied in the name of the Lord, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim, who prophesied against this city and against this land in words similar to those of Jeremiah.

21 And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put [Uriah] to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid and fled and escaped to Egypt.

22 And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men who went with him into Egypt.

23 And they fetched Uriah from Egypt and brought him to Jehoiakim the king, who slew him [God's spokesman] with the sword and cast his dead body in among the graves of the common people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him also to death.

CHAPTER 27

IN the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the Lord.

2 Thus says the Lord to me: Make yourself thongs and yoke-bars and put them on your neck,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of the Ammonites, to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Sidon by the hand of the messengers who have come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah.

¶ This prophecy of Micah, made in the days of King Hezekiah, that Mount Zion would become a plowed field, was literally fulfilled. When Nebuchadrezzar and the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, they broke down the walls (II Kings 25:10). That was in B.C. 586. In 1542 A.D. the present walls of Jerusalem were built by the then Sultan of Turkey. By a strange error, the part of the city known as Mount Zion was omitted from the enclosure and remained outside the walls; and for centuries it was literally "plowed like a field." That Mount Zion is the only part of Jerusalem ever known to be plowed, is conclusive evidence of the infinite foreknowledge of the word of the Lord which came to His prophet Micah.

4 And command them to say to their masters, Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Thus shall you say to your masters:

5 I have made the earth, the men and the beasts that are upon the face of the earth, by My great power and by My outstretched arm, and I give it to whom it seems right and suitable to Me.

6 And now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant and instrument, and the beasts of the field also I have given him to serve him.

7 And all nations shall serve him and his son and his grandson, until the [God-appointed] time [of punishment] of his own land comes. And then many nations and great kings shall make him their slave.

8 But any nation or kingdom that will not serve this same Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and put its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, says the Lord, with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence, until I have consumed it by [Nebuchadnezzar's] hand.

9 So do not listen to your [false] prophets, your diviners, your dreams [whether your own or others'], your soothsayers, your sorcerers, who say to you, You shall not serve the king of Babylon.

10 For they prophesy a lie to you, which will cause you to be removed far from your land, and I will drive you out, and you will perish.

11 But any nation that brings its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serves him, I will let remain on its own land, says the Lord, to cultivate it and dwell in it.

12 I spoke also to Zedekiah king of Judah in the same way: Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live.

13 Why will you and your people die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord has spoken concerning any nation that will not serve the king of Babylon?

14 Do not listen to and believe the words of the [false] prophets who are saying to you, You shall not serve the king of Babylon, for it is a lie that they prophesy to you.

15 For I have not sent them, says the Lord, but they are prophesying falsely in My name; [it will only end in] My driving you out to perish together with the [false] prophets who prophesy to you.

16 Also I said to the priests and to all this people, Thus says the Lord: Do not listen to the words of your [false] prophets who are prophesying to you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the Lord's house shall now shortly be brought ^aback from Babylon; for they prophesy a lie to you.

17 Do not listen to them or heed them; serve the king of Babylon and live. Why should this city be laid waste?

18 But if they are true prophets and if the word of the Lord is really spoken by them, let them now make intercession to the Lord of hosts, that the vessels which are [still] left in the house of the Lord, in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem may not go to Babylon.

19 For thus says the Lord of hosts concerning the pillars [of bronze, each twenty-seven feet high], and the bronze sea [the laver at which the priests cleansed their hands and feet before ministering at the altar], and the bronze bases [of the ten lavers in Solomon's temple for washing animals to be offered as sacrifices], and the re-

^a Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem three times. The second time was during the reign of Jeconiah (Jehoiachin) whom he took captive with all the nobles of Jerusalem (verse 20), at which time he carried away some of the sacred vessels of the temple. The third siege was now imminent.

mainder of the vessels which are left in this city [Jerusalem], [I Kings 7: 23-37; II Chron. 4:6.]

20 Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take, when he carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem;

21 Yes, thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels which [still] remain in the house of the Lord, in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem:

22 They shall be ^bcarried to Babylon, and there shall they be until the day that I visit them [with My favor], says the Lord. Then I will bring them back and restore them to this place.

CHAPTER 28

IN that same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year and the fifth month, Hananiah the son of Azzur, the [false] prophet, who was of Gibeon [one of the priests' cities], said to me in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests and all the people [falsely],

2 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

3 Within two [full] years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the Lord's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place and carried to Babylon.

4 And I will also bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the exiles from Judah that went to Babylon, says the Lord, for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon. [Jer. 22:10.]

5 Then the prophet Jeremiah spoke to the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests and all the people who stood in the house of the Lord.

6 The prophet Jeremiah said, Amen!

May the Lord do so; may the Lord perform your words which you have prophesied to bring back to this place from Babylon the vessels of the Lord's house, and all who were carried away captive.

7 Nevertheless listen now and hear this word which I speak in your hearing and in the hearing of all the people:

8 The prophets that have been before me and before you of old prophesied against many countries and against great kingdoms, of war, of evil, and of pestilence.

9 But as for the prophet who [on the contrary] prophesies of peace, when that prophet's word comes to pass, then [only] will it be known that the Lord has truly sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke-bar from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and smashed it.

11 And Hananiah said in the presence of all the people, Thus says the Lord: Even so will I break the yoke-bars of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all the nations within the space of two [full] years. But the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 The word of the Lord came to Jeremiah the prophet [some time] after Hanniah the prophet had broken the yoke-bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah:

13 Go, tell Hananiah, Thus says the Lord: You have broken yoke-bars of wood, but you have made in their stead bars of iron.

14 For thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put upon the neck of all these nations an iron yoke of servitude to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they shall serve him, for I have given him even the beasts of the field.

15 Then said the prophet Jeremiah to Hananiah the prophet, Listen now, Hananiah, The Lord has not sent you,

^b) This prophecy was literally fulfilled. The remaining sacred vessels were carried to Babylon (II Kings 25:13; II Chron. 36:18), where they were kept for seventy years (II Chron. 36:21), the length of the captivity as Jeremiah had foretold (Jer. 29:10), and then brought back to Jerusalem (Ezra 1:7; 7:19).

but you have made this people trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I will cast you from the face of the earth. This year you shall die, because you have uttered and taught rebellion against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died [two months later], the same year in the seventh month.

CHAPTER 29

NOW these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the rest of the elders in exile, and to the priests, the prophets, and all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried captive from Jerusalem to Babylon.

2 This was after King Jeconiah and the queen mother, the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen and the smiths had departed from Jerusalem.

3 [The letter was sent] by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. It said:

4 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the captives whom I have caused to be carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon:

5 Build yourselves houses and dwell in them; plant gardens and eat the fruit of them;

6 Take wives and have sons and daughters; take wives for your sons and give your daughters in marriage, that they may bear sons and daughters; multiply there, and do not be diminished.

7 And seek — inquire for, require and request — the peace and welfare of the city to which I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray to the Lord for it; for in the welfare of the city in which you live you will have welfare.

8 For thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your [false] prophets and your diviners who are in your midst deceive you; pay no attention and attach no significance to your dreams which you dream, or to theirs, 9 For they prophesy falsely to you in My name; I have not sent them, says the Lord.

10 For thus says the Lord, When seventy years are completed for Babylon, I will visit you and keep My good promise to you, causing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts and plans that I have for you, says the Lord, thoughts and plans for welfare and peace, and not for evil, to give you hope in your final outcome.

12 Then you will call upon Me, and you will come and pray to Me, and I will hear and heed you.

13 Then you will seek Me, inquire for and require Me [as a vital necessity] and find Me; when you search for Me with all your heart, 14 I will be found by you, says the Lord, and I will release you from captivity and gather you from all the nations and all the places to which I have driven you, says the Lord, and I will bring you again to the place from which I caused you to be carried away captive.

15 [But as to those still in Jerusalem] because you have said, The Lord has raised up prophets for us in Babylon, —

16 Thus says the Lord concerning the king who sits upon the throne of David, and concerning all the people who dwell in this city, your brethren who are not gone forth with you into captivity, 17 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Behold, I am sending on them the sword, famine, and pestilence, and I will make them like vile figs which are so bad they cannot be eaten.

18 And I will pursue them with sword, famine, and pestilence, and will deliver them to be tossed to and fro and to be a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, an astonishment and terror, a hissing and a reproach among all the nations to which I have driven them;

19 Because they did not listen to and heed My words, says the Lord, which I sent to you persistently by My servants the prophets; but you would not listen, says the Lord.

20 Hear therefore the word of the Lord, all you exiles whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon;

21 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who are prophesying a lie to you in My name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he will slay them before your eyes — those [false] prophets [whom you say I have raised up for you in Babylon]! [Verse 15.]

22 And because of them this curse shall be taken up and used by all from Judah who are in captivity in Babylon, The Lord make you like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire;

23 Because they have committed folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives, and have spoken words in My name falsely, which I had not commanded them. I am the one Who knows, and I am witness, says the Lord.

24 Also you shall say this concerning and to Shemaiah of Nehelam [among the exiles in Babylonia],

25 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Because you have sent letters in your [own] name to all the people who are in Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 The Lord has made you [Zephaniah] priest instead of Jehoiaada the [deputy] priest, that you should have oversight in the house of the Lord over every madman who makes himself a prophet, that you should put him in the stocks and collar;

27 Now therefore, [continued the letter from Shemaiah in Babylon to Zephaniah in Jerusalem] why have you not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, who makes himself a prophet to you?

28 For he has sent to us in Babylon, saying, This captivity of yours is to be long; build houses and dwell in them; plant gardens and eat the fruit of them.

29 And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the hearing of Jeremiah the prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord to Jeremiah:

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus says the Lord concerning Shemaiah of Nehelam: Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you when I did not send him, and has caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I will punish Shemaiah of Nehelam and his offspring: he shall not have any one [born] to dwell among this people, nor shall he see the good that I will do to My people, says the Lord, because he has spoken and taught rebellion against the Lord.

CHAPTER 30

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord:

2 Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel: Write all the words that I have spoken to you in a book.

3 For note, the days are coming, says the Lord, that I will release from captivity My people Israel and Judah, says the Lord; and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 And these are the words that the Lord spoke concerning Israel and Judah:

5 Thus says the Lord: We have heard a voice of trembling and panic, of terror and no peace.

6 Ask now, and see whether a man can give birth to a child? Why then do I see every man with his hands on his loins like a woman in labor? Why are all faces turned pale?

7 Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it; it is the time of Jacob's [unequaled] trouble; but he shall be saved out of it. [Matt. 24:29, 30; Rev. 7:14.]

8 For it shall come to pass in that day, says the Lord of hosts, that I will break the oppressor's yoke from off your neck, and I will burst your bonds, and strangers shall no more make slaves of [the people of Israel].

9 But they shall serve the Lord their God and David's descendant their king, whom I will raise up for them.

10 Therefore fear not, O My servant Jacob, says the Lord, nor be dismayed or cast down, O Israel; for lo, I will save you out of the distant land [of exile], and your posterity from the land of their captivity. Jacob shall return and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid or cause him to be terrorized and to tremble.

11 For I am with you, says the Lord, to save you; for I will make a full end of all the nations to which I have scattered you, but I will not make a full end of you; but I will correct you in measure and with judgment, and will in no sense hold you guiltless or leave you unpunished.

12 For thus says the Lord, Your hurt is incurable and your wound is grievous.

13 There is none to plead your cause. For [the pressing together of] your wound you have no healing [device], no binding plaster.

14 All your lovers [allies] have forgotten you; they neither seek, inquire of or require you; for I have hurt you [as though] with the wound of an enemy, [as though] with the chastisement of a cruel and merciless foe, because of the greatness of your per-versity and guilt, because your sins are glaring and innumerable.

15 Why do you cry out because of your hurt [the natural result of your sins]? Your pain is deadly — incurable. Because of the greatness of your perversity and guilt, because your sins are glaring and innumerable, I have done these things to you.

16 Therefore all who devour you shall be devoured, and all your adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they who despoil you shall become a spoil, and all who prey upon you will I give for a prey.

17 For I will restore health to you, and I will heal your wounds, says the Lord; because they have called you an outcast, saying, This is Zion, whom no one seeks after and for whom no one cares!

18 Thus says the Lord: Behold, I will release from captivity the tents of Jacob, and have mercy on his dwelling places; the city shall be rebuilt on its own old mound-like site, and the palace shall be dwelt in after its former fashion.

19 Out of them [city and palace] shall come songs of thanksgiving and the voices of those who make merry. And I will multiply them, and they shall not be few; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.

20 Their children too shall be as in former times, and their congregation shall be established before Me, and I will punish all who oppress them.

21 And their prince shall be one of themselves, and their ruler shall come from the midst of them. I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach Me, for who is he who would have the boldness and would dare [on his own initiative] to approach Me? says the Lord.

22 Then you shall be My people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goes forth with wrath, a sweeping and gathering tempest. It shall whirl and burst upon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce anger and indignation of the Lord shall not turn back until He has executed and accomplished the intents of His mind and heart. In the latter days you shall understand this.

CHAPTER 31

AT that time, says the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be My people.

2 Thus says the Lord: The people who survived the sword found favor in the wilderness [place of exile], when Israel sought to find rest.

3 The Lord appeared of old to me [Israel], saying, Yes, I have loved you with an everlasting love; therefore with loving-kindness have I drawn you and have continued My faithfulness to you. [Deut. 7:8.]

4 Again I will build you, and you shall be built, O virgin of Israel! You shall again be adorned with your timbrels [small one-headed drums], and go forth in the dancing [chorus] of those who make merry.

5 Again you shall plant vineyards upon the mountains of Samaria; the planters shall plant, and shall make the fruit common and enjoy it [undisturbed].

6 For there shall be a day when the watchmen on the hills of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, and let us go up to Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus says the Lord: Sing aloud with gladness for Jacob, and shout at the head of the nations — on account of the chosen people. Proclaim, praise, and say, The Lord has saved His people, the remnant of Israel!

8 Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth, and among them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her who labors in childbirth together; a great company they shall return here to Jerusalem.

9 They shall come with weeping [in penitence and for joy], and pouring out prayers [for the future]; I will lead them back; I will cause them to walk by streams of water, and bring them in a straight way in which they shall not stumble; for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is My first-born.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, O you nations, and declare it in the isles and coastlands far away, and say, He Who scattered Israel will gather him, and will keep him as a shepherd does his flock.

11 For the Lord has ransomed Jacob, and has redeemed him from the hand of him who was too strong for him.

12 They shall come and sing aloud on the height of Zion, and shall flow together and be radiant with joy over the goodness of the Lord, for the corn, for the grape juice, for the oil, and for the young of the flock and the herd. And their life shall be like a watered garden, and they shall not sorrow or languish any more at all.

13 Then shall the maidens rejoice in the dance, and the young men and old together. For I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice after their sorrow.

14 I will satisfy fully the life of the priests with abundance [of offerings shared with them], and My people shall be satisfied with My goodness, says the Lord.

15 Thus says the Lord: A 'voice is heard in Ramah, lamentation and bitter weeping; Rachel is weeping for her children; she refuses to be comforted for her children, because they are not. [Matt. 2:18.]

16 Thus says the Lord: Refrain your

i) The mourning at Ramah is a forecast of that bitter wailing which would be raised by the mothers of the slaughtered babes of Bethlehem centuries later when Herod would attempt to kill the Christ child (Matt. 2:17, 18). Rachel's name, used in the prophecy, is naturally associated with Bethlehem by the fact that her tomb was in that neighborhood. (Cambridge Bible.)

voice from weeping, and your eyes from tears; for your work shall be rewarded, says the Lord; and [your children] shall return from the enemy's land.

17 And there is hope in your future, says the Lord; your children shall come again to their own country.

18 I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus: You have chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke; bring me back that I may be restored, for You are the Lord my God.

19 Surely after I [Ephraim, which is Israel] was turned [from You], I repented; and after I was instructed, I penitently smote my thigh; I was ashamed, yes, even confounded, because I bore the disgrace of my youth [as a nation].

20 Is Ephraim My dear son? Is he a darling child and beloved? For as often as I speak against him, I do [earnestly] remember him still. Therefore My affection is stirred and my heart yearns for him; I will surely have mercy, pity and loving-kindness for him, says the Lord.

21 Set you up highway markers [back to Canaan], make yourself guide posts; turn your thoughts and attention to the way by which you went [into exile]; retrace your steps, O virgin Israel, return to these your cities.

22 How long will you waver and hesitate [to return], O you backsliding daughter? For the Lord has created a 'new thing in the land [of Israel]: a female shall 'compass [woo, win and protect] a man.

23 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Once more they shall use these words in the land of Judah and in her cities, when I shall have released them from exile: The Lord bless you, O habitation of justice and right, O holy mountain!

24 And Judah and all its cities shall dwell there together, as [nomad] farmers and those who wander about with their flocks.

25 For I will [fully] satisfy the weary soul, and I will replenish every languishing and sorrowful person.

26 Thereupon I [Jeremiah] awoke and looked, and my [trance-like] sleep was sweet [in the assurance it gave] to me.

27 Behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, when I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed [offspring] of man and of beast.

28 And it shall be that as I have watched over them to pluck up and to break down, to overthrow, destroy, and afflict [with evil], so will I watch over them to build and to plant [with good], says the Lord.

29 In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge.

30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity [only], every man who eats sour grapes, his [own] teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah, [Luke 22:20; I Cor. 11:25.]

32 Not according to the covenant which I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, My covenant which they broke although I was their Husband, says the Lord;

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of

j) The early Fathers believed this passage had reference to the mystery of Christ's Incarnation, but that interpretation is now generally rejected for various reasons. It is sufficient to say that the word ["female"] here used for "woman" absolutely excludes the idea [that this refers to] the virgin birth [for this was to be a "new thing"]. To "compass" is to woo and win. That the early translators attached that meaning to it is clear from the fact that Shakespeare, their contemporary, so used it. (Based on Ellicott's Commentary.) Probably the implication is that Israel, the erring but deeply penitent wife, instead of going about after other lovers will devote herself to winning back and deserving the love of her divine Husband and Lord, Who had rejected her.

Israel: After those days, says the Lord, I will put My law within them, and on their hearts will I write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

34 And they shall no more teach each man his neighbor and each man his brother, saying, Know the Lord; for they shall all know Me — recognize, understand and be acquainted with Me — from the least of them to the greatest, says the Lord; for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will [seriously] remember their sin no more. [Heb. 8:8-12; 10:16, 17.]

35 Thus says the Lord, Who gives the sun for a light by day, and the fixed order of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, Who stirs up the sea's roaring billows or stills the waves when they roar; the Lord of hosts is His name.

36 If these ordinances [of fixed order] depart from before Me, says the Lord, then the posterity of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before Me throughout the ages.

37 Thus says the Lord: If the heavens above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, then I will cast off all the offspring of Israel for all that they have done, says the Lord.

38 Behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, when the city [of Jerusalem] shall be built [again] to the Lord from the ^htower of Hananel to the Corner Gate.

39 And the measuring line shall go out farther, straight onward to the hill Gareb, and shall then turn to Goah [not now certainly identified].

40 And the whole valley [Hinnom] of the dead bodies, and [the hill] of the ashes [long dumped there from the temple sacrifices], and all the fields as far as the brook Kidron, to the corner of the Horse Gate toward the east, shall be holy to the Lord. It shall not be plucked up or overthrown any more to the end of the age.

CHAPTER 32

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.

2 For then the king of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the house of the king of Judah.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah locked him up, saying, Why do you prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord, Behold I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it;

4 And Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him face to face and see him eye to eye;

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him [for evil], says the Lord; and though you fight against the Chaldeans, you shall not prosper?

6 And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came to me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanamel the son of Shalum your uncle shall come to you and say, Buy my field that is in Anathoth, for the right of redemption is yours to buy it.

8 So Hanamel my uncle's son came to me in the court of the guard in ack) Many times after the days of the Old Testament, Jerusalem was destroyed. Travelers in recent centuries reported it as an almost deserted city; its buildings were ruins filled with rubble; its inhabitants were barely enough to populate a village. Yet not only did God's word declare it would be rebuilt, but definitely and in detail drew a word map of the exact outline which the future city would follow — from a well-known tower to the gate at a certain corner, then on over a particular hill, coming now outside the walls of the original city and taking in a large area definitely shown by familiar landmarks. Eight details are unmistakably given here, and Zechariah adds another (Zech. 14:10). Moreover, the city's enlargement was to be in one general direction — to the northwest. Twenty-five hundred years later, in 1935 A.D., the prophecy had been fulfilled to the letter, as if indeed with God's "measuring line" (verse 39). What a God, and what a Book! So unlikely seemed this prophecy's fulfillment that some commentators had said it should be interpreted spiritually!

cordance with the word of the Lord, and he said to me, I pray you, buy my field that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is yours and the redemption is yours; buy it for yourself. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel my uncle's son, and weighed him the money, seventeen shekels of silver.

10 And I signed the deed and sealed it, and called witnesses, and weighed him the money on scales.

11 So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, containing the terms and conditions, and the copy which was unsealed, 12 And I gave the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the sight of Hanamel my uncle's son and the witnesses who signed the purchase deed, in the presence of all the Jews who sat in the court of the guard.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, both this purchase deed which is sealed, and this open deed, and put them in an earthenware vessel, that they may last a long time.

15 For thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall be purchased yet again in this land.

16 Now when I had delivered the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed to the Lord, saying:

17 Alas, Lord God! Behold, You made the heavens and the earth by Your great power and by Your stretched out arm! There is nothing too hard or too wonderful for You,

18 Who shows loving-kindness to thousands, and recompenses the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them. The great,

the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts is His name,

19 Great in counsel and mighty in deeds; Whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to reward or repay to each one according to his ways and according to the fruit of his doings;

20 Who wrought signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, and even to this day [continues to do so], both in Israel and among other men, and made Yourself a name, as at this day.

21 And You brought forth Your people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs and wonders, with a strong hand and outstretched arm, and with great terror;

22 And You gave them this land which You swore to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey;

23 And they entered and took possession of it; but they obeyed not Your voice, nor walked in Your law; they have done nothing of all that You commanded them to do. Therefore You have caused all this evil to come upon them.

24 See the mounds [of earth which the foe has heaped against the walls], they have come up to the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans who fight against it, because [the people are overcome] by the sword and the famine and the pestilence. What You have spoken has come to pass, and behold, You see it.

25 Yet, O Lord God, You said to me, Buy the field for money and get witnesses, though the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 Then came the word of the Lord to Jeremiah, saying:

27 Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh; is there anything too hard for Me?

28 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I am giving this city into the hand of the Chaldeans and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it;

29 And the Chaldeans who are fighting against this city shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses on whose roofs incense has been offered to Baal and drink offerings have been poured out to other gods, to provoke Me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done only evil before Me from their youth, for the children of Israel have only provoked Me to anger with [idols] the work of their hands, says the Lord.

31 For this city has been to Me a provocation of My anger and My wrath from the day that they finished building it [in the time of Solomon, who was the first Jewish king who turned to idolatry] even to this day; so that I will remove it from before My face [I Kings 11:1-13.]

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah which they have done to provoke Me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, their prophets, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned their back to Me and not their face; though I taught them persistently, yet they have not listened to receive instruction.

34 But they set their abominations [of idol-worship] in the house which is called by My name, to defile it.

35 And they built the high places [for worship] of Baal in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire [in worship also of] Molech; which I did not command them, nor did it come into My mind or heart that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.

36 And now therefore thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning this city of which you say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon by sword and by famine and by pestilence:

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countries to which I drove them in My anger and in My wrath and in great indignation; I will bring them again to this place, and I will make them dwell safely;

38 And they shall be My people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will give them one heart and one way, that they may [reverently] fear Me for ever, for the good of themselves and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from following them, to do them good; and I will put My [reverential] fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from Me. [Jer. 31: 31-34.]

41 Yes, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly and in truth with My whole heart and with My whole being.

42 For thus says the Lord: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

43 And fields shall be bought in this land of which you say, It is desolate, without man or beast: it is given into the hands of the Chaldeans.

44 Men shall buy fields for money and sign deeds, seal them and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, in the places about Jerusalem, in the cities of Judah, in the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South; for I will cause them to be released from their exile, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 33

MOREOVER the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah the second time, while he was still shut up in the court of the guard, saying,

2 Thus says the Lord Who made the earth, the Lord Who formed it to establish it; the Lord is His name:

3 Call to Me and I will answer you and show you great and mighty things, fenced in and hidden, which you do not know — do not distinguish and recognize, have knowledge of and understand.

4 For thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city and the houses of the kings of Judah which are torn down to make a defense against the [siege] mounds and before the sword:

5 They [the besieged Jews] are coming in to fight against the Chaldeans and to fill [the houses] with the dead bodies of men whom I shall slay in My anger and My wrath, for I have hidden My face [in indignation] from this city because of all their wickedness.

6 Behold, [in the future restored Jerusalem] I will lay upon it health and healing, and I will cure them and will reveal to them the abundance of peace — prosperity, security, stability — and truth.

7 And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to be reversed, and will rebuild them as they were at first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all the guilt and iniquity by which they have sinned against Me, and I will forgive all their guilt and iniquities by which they have sinned and rebelled against Me.

9 And [Jerusalem] shall be to Me a name of joy, a praise and a glory before all the nations of the earth who shall hear of all the good I do for them, and they shall fear and tremble because of all the good and all the peace, prosperity, security and stability I provide for it.

10 Thus says the Lord: Yet again there shall be heard in this place, of which you say, It is a desolate waste without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast,

11 [There shall be heard again] the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voices of those who sing as they bring sacrifices of thanksgiving into the house of the Lord, Give praise and thanks to the Lord of hosts, for the Lord is good, for His mercy and kindness and steadfast love endure for ever! For I will cause the captivity of the land to be reversed and return to be as it was at first, says the Lord.

12 Thus says the Lord of hosts: In this place, which is desolate, without man and without beast, and in all its cities, there shall again be dwellings and pastures of shepherds resting their flocks.

13 In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowlands, in the cities of the South, in the land of Benjamin, in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah shall flocks pass again under the hands of him who counts them, says the Lord.

14 Behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, that I will fulfill the good promise I have made to the house of Israel and the house of Judah.

15 In those days, and at that time, will I cause a righteous Branch [the Messiah] to grow up to David; and He shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. [Jer. 23:5; Isa. 4:2; Zech. 3:8; 6:12.]

16 In those days shall Judah be saved and Jerusalem shall dwell safely. And this is the name by which it will be called, The Lord is our righteousness — our rightness, our justice.

17 For thus says the Lord: David shall never lack a man [descendant] to sit on the throne of the house of Israel,

18 Nor shall the priests of the Levites lack a man [descendant] to offer burnt offerings before Me and to burn cereal offerings and to make sacrifices continually — all day long.

19 And the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

20 Thus says the Lord: If you can break My covenant of the day, and My covenant of the night, so that there should not be day and night in their season;

21 Then may also My covenant be broken with David My servant, so that he shall not have a son to reign upon his throne, and [My league be broken also] with the Levites the priests, My ministers.

22 As the host of [the stars of] the heavens cannot be numbered, nor the sand of the sea be measured, so will I multiply the offspring of David My servant, and the Levites who minister to Me.

23 Moreover the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

24 Have you not noticed what these people [the Jews] are saying, The Lord has cast off the two families [Israel and Judah] which He had chosen? Thus My people have despised themselves [in relation to God as His covenant people], so that they are no more a nation in their own sight.

25 Thus says the Lord: If My covenant of day and night does not stand, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of the heavens and the earth [the whole order of nature],

26 Then will I also cast away the descendants of Jacob and David My servant and will not choose one of his offspring to be ruler over the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. For I will cause their captivity to be reversed, and I will have mercy, kindness and steadfast love for them. [Gen. 49:10.]

CHAPTER 34

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army and all the kingdoms of the earth under his dominion and all the people were fighting against Jerusalem and all of its cities:

2 Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel: Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he will burn it with fire.

3 And you shall not escape out of his hand, but shall surely be taken and delivered into his hand; you shall see the king of Babylon eye to eye, and he will speak with you face to face, and you shall go to Babylon.

4 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Judah! Thus says the Lord of you: You shall not die by the sword;

5 But you shall die in peace, and with the burnings of [spices and perfumes on wood that were granted as suitable to] your fathers, the former kings who were before you, so shall a burning be made for you; and people shall lament for you, saying, Alas, lord! For I have spoken the word, says the Lord.

6 Then Jeremiah the prophet spoke all these words to Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem,

7 When the army of the king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and Azekah; for these were the only fortified cities remaining of the cities of Judah.

8 [This is] the word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem to proclaim liberty to them, 9 That every man should let his Hebrew slaves, male and female, go free, so that no one should make a slave of a Jew, his brother.

10 And all the princes and all the people obeyed, who had entered into the covenant that every one would let his man servant and his maid servant go free, so that none should make bondmen of them any more; they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterward they turned around and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return [to their former masters] and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying,

14 At the end of seven years you shall let go free every man his brother who is a Hebrew, who has sold himself or been sold to you and has served you six years; but your fathers did not listen to Me and obey, nor inclined their ear — submitting and consenting to Me.

15 And you recently turned about and repented, doing what was right in My sight by proclaiming liberty each man to his neighbor [who was his bondservant], and you made a covenant or pledge before Me in the house which is called by My name.

16 But then you turned about and defiled My name; each of you caused to return to him his servants, male and female, whom he had set free as they might desire, and brought them into subjection again to be your slaves.

17 Therefore thus says the Lord, You have not listened to Me and obeyed Me in proclaiming liberty each one to his brother and neighbor. Behold, I proclaim to you liberty to the sword, to pestilence and to famine, says the Lord, and I will make you to be tossed to and fro and be a horror among all the kingdoms of the earth!

18 And the men who transgressed My covenant, who did not keep the terms of the pledge or covenant which they had made before Me, I will make them [like] the [sacrificial] calf which they cut in two and then passed between its separated parts [solemnizing their pledge to Me] I will make those men the calf! [Cf. Gen. 15:9, 10, 17.]

19 The princes of Judah, the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, the priests, and all the people of the land, who passed between the parts of the calf;

20 I will give them into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their life. And their dead bodies shall be for food for the birds of the heavens and the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army which has withdrawn from you.

22 Behold, I will command, says the Lord, and cause [the Chaldeans] to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire. I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without inhabitant.

CHAPTER 35

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah:

2 Go to the house of the Rechabites, and speak to them and bring them into the house of the Lord, into one of the chambers; then give them [who are pledged to drink no wine] some wine to drink.

3 So I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brothers and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites;

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, the man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shalum the keeper of the door.

5 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pitchers full of wine, and cups; and I said to them, Drink wine.

6 But they said, We will drink no wine, for Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, commanded us, You shall not drink wine, neither you nor your sons for ever.

7 Neither shall you build a house or sow seed or plant a vineyard or have them; but you shall dwell all your days in tents, that you may live many days in the land where you are temporary residents.

8 And we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, and our daughters, 9 And not to build ourselves houses to live in; nor do we have vineyard or field or seed.

10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed and done according to all that Jonadab our ancestor commanded us.

11 But when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up against the land, we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans and the army of the Syrians. So we are living in Jerusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord to Jeremiah:

13 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Go and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will you not receive instruction and listen to My words and obey them? says the Lord.

14 The command which Jonadab the son of Rechab gave to his sons not to drink wine, has been carried out and established [as a custom for more than two hundred years]; to this day they drink no wine, but have obeyed their father's command. But I, even I, have persistently spoken to you, but you have not listened and obeyed Me.

15 I have sent also to you all My servants the prophets earnestly and persistently, saying, Return now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and then you shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers. But you did not submit and consent to Me or listen and obey Me.

16 Since the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have fulfilled and established the command of their father which he commanded them, but this people has not listened and obeyed Me,

17 Therefore thus says the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I am bringing upon Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them; because I have spoken to them but they have not listened, and I have called to them but they have not answered.

18 And Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Because you have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according to all that he commanded you;

19 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall never lack a man [descendant] to stand before Me.

CHAPTER 36

IN THE fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the Lord:

2 Take a scroll [of parchment] for a book and write on it all the words that I have spoken to you against Israel and Judah and all the nations, from the day I spoke to you in the days of [King] Josiah until this day.

3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do to them, so that every one may return from his evil way, that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote upon the scroll of the book all the words which Jeremiah dictated that the Lord had spoken to him.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am [in hiding, so virtually] restrained and shut up; I cannot go into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore you go, and on a fast day in the hearing of all the people in the Lord's house you shall read the words of the Lord which you have written on the scroll at my dictation. Also you shall read them in the hearing of all who come out of the cities of Judah.

7 It may be they will make their supplication [for mercy] before the Lord, and each one will turn back from his evil way, for great is the anger and the wrath that the Lord has pronounced against this people.

8 And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading from [Jeremiah's] book the words of the Lord in the Lord's house.

9 And in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, a fast was proclaimed before the Lord for all the people in Jerusalem and all the people who came to Jerusalem from the cities of Judah.

10 Then Baruch read in the hearing of all the people the words of Jeremiah from the scroll of the book, in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the New Gate of the Lord's house.

11 When Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the Lord,

12 He went down to the king's house into the scribe's chamber; and lo, all the princes were sitting there: Elishama the scribe, Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, Elnathan the son of Achbor, Gemariah the son of Shaphan, Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Micaiah declared to them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the hearing of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, son of Shelemiah, son of Cush, to Baruch, saying, Take in your hand the scroll from which you have read in the hearing of the people and come to us. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the scroll in his hand and came to them.

15 And they said to him, Sit down now and read it in our hearing. So Baruch read it in their hearing.

16 Now when they had heard all the words, they turned one to another in fear, and they said to Baruch, We must surely tell the king of all these words.

17 And they asked Baruch, Tell us now, how did you write all these words? At [Jeremiah's] dictation?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He dictated all these words to me, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then the princes said to Baruch, Go and hide, you and Jeremiah, and let no one know where you are.

20 Then they went into the court to the king, but they [first] put the scroll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; then they reported all the words to the king.

21 So the king sent Jehudi to bring the scroll, and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the hearing of the king and of all the princes who stood beside the king.

22 Now it was the ninth month, and the king was sitting in the winter house and a fire was burning there before him in the brazier.

23 And [each time] when Jehudi had read three or four columns, [King Jehoiakim] would cut them off with a penknife, and cast them into the fire that was in the brazier, until the entire scroll was consumed in the fire that was in the brazier.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor did they rend their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants who heard all these words.

25 Even when Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah tried to persuade the king not to burn the scroll, he would not listen to them.

26 And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son and Seraiah the son of Azriel and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel to seize Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet, but the Lord hid them.

27 Now the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, after the king had burned the scroll with the words which Baruch wrote at the dictation of Jeremiah, [and the Lord] said:

28 Take another scroll and write on it all the former words that were in the first scroll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah has burned.

29 And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah you shall say, Thus says the Lord: You have burned this scroll saying, Why have you written in it, The king of Babylon shall surely come and destroy this land, and shall cut off man and beast from it?

30 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have no [heir] to sit upon the throne of David, and his dead body shall be cast out to the heat by day and to the frost by night.

31 And I will punish him and his offspring and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them and the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they would not hear.

32 Then Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote on it at the dictation of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and besides them many similar words were added.

CHAPTER 37

AND Zedekiah the son of Josiah, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah, reigned instead of Coniah (Jehoniah) the son of Jehoiakim.

2 But neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land listened to and obeyed the words of the Lord which he spoke through the prophet Jeremiah.

3 Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now to the Lord our God for us.

4 Now Jeremiah was coming in and going out among the people, for they had not [yet] put him in prison.

5 And Pharaoh's army had come forth out of Egypt, and when the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem heard news of them, they withdrew from Jerusalem and departed.

6 Then came the word of the Lord to the prophet Jeremiah:

7 Thus says the Lord, God of Israel: Thus shall you say to the king of Judah who sent you to Me to inquire of Me: Behold, Pharaoh's army, which has come forth to help you, will return to Egypt into their own land.

8 And the Chaldeans shall come again and fight against this city, and they shall take it and burn it with fire.

9 Thus says the Lord: Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans will surely stay away from us, for they shall not stay away.

1) This prophecy against King Jehoiakim was literally fulfilled. Several years after these events the king rebelled against Babylon (II Kings 24:1), and was attacked by numerous bands from various nations subject to Babylon (II Kings 24:2). He thus came to a violent death and a disgraceful burial such as Jeremiah had foretold many chapters previous to this one (Jer. 22:13-19). There, after stern censure of the king, the Lord foretells through his prophet that Jehoiakim will "be buried with the burial of a donkey, dragged out and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem." How could Jeremiah possibly have foreseen these events except by divine inspiration?

10 For though you should defeat the whole army of the Chaldeans who fight against you, and there remained but the wounded and men stricken through among them, every man confined to his tent, yet they would rise up and burn this city with fire.

11 And when the army of the Chaldeans had departed from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's approaching army, 12 Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to slip away and receive [the title to] his portion [of land, which the Lord had promised would eventually be valuable] there among the people.

13 And when he was at the gate of Benjamin, a sentry was [on guard] there, whose name was Irijah the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah, and he seized Jeremiah the prophet, saying, You are deserting to the Chaldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, It is false; I am not deserting to the Chaldeans. But the sentry would not listen to him. So Irijah took Jeremiah and brought him to the princes.

15 Therefore the princes were enraged with Jeremiah, and beat him and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe, for they had made that the prison.

16 When Jeremiah had come into the house of the cistern and the dungeon cells and had remained there many days, 17 Zedekiah the king sent and brought him out; and the king asked him secretly in his house, Is there any word from the Lord? And Jeremiah said, There is. He said also, You shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.

18 Moreover Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, In what have I sinned against you or against your servants or against this people, that you have put me in prison?

19 Where now are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray you, O my lord the king. Let my supplication, I pray you, come before you and be acceptable, that you will not cause me to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded and they committed Jeremiah to the court of the guard, and a round loaf of bread from the bakers' street was given to him daily, until all the bread in the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained [imprisoned] in the court of the guard.

CHAPTER 38

NOW Shephatiah the son of Matatan, Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchiah heard the words that Jeremiah spoke to all the people, saying,

2 Thus says the Lord, He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; but he who goes out to the Chaldeans shall live; for he shall have his life for a prize of war, and shall live.

3 Thus says the Lord, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said to the king, We beseech you, let this man [Jeremiah] be put to death; for [talking] thus he weakens the hands of the soldiers who remain in this city and the hands of all the people by speaking such words to them. For this man does not seek the welfare of this people, but to do them harm.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand, for the king is in no position to do anything against you.

6 So they took Jeremiah and cast him into the dungeon or cistern pit [in charge] of Malchiah the king's son, which was in the court of the guard, and they let Jeremiah down [into the pit] with ropes. And in the dungeon or cistern pit there was no water, but mire, and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

7 Now when Ebedmelech the Ethiopian [a colored man], one of the eunuchs who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon or cistern pit, and the king was then sitting in the gate of Benjamin,

8 Ebedmelech went out of the king's house and spoke to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon or cistern pit; and he is liable to die of hunger and is [as good as] dead in the place where he is, for there is no more bread left in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from here thirty men with you and raise Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon or cistern pit before he dies.

11 So Ebedmelech took the men with him and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took along from there old rags and worn-out garments and let them down by ropes into the dungeon or cistern pit to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebedmelech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, Put now these old rags and worn-out garments under your armpits over the ropes. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with ropes and took him up out of the dungeon or cistern pit, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent and brought Jeremiah the prophet to him into the third entrance that is in the house of the Lord. And the king said to Jeremiah, I am going to ask you something; hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, If I tell you, will you not surely put me to death? And if I give you counsel, you will not listen to me.

16 So Zedekiah the king swore secretly to Jeremiah, As the Lord lives Who made our lives, I will not put you to death or give you into the hand of these men who seek your life.

17 Then said Jeremiah to Zedekiah, Thus says the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If you will go forth and surrender to the princes of the king of Babylon, then you shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire, and you shall live and your house.

18 But if you will not go forth and surrender to the princes of the king of Babylon, then this city shall be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and you shall not escape out of their hand.

19 And Zedekiah the king said to Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that have deserted to the Chaldeans, lest the enemy deliver me into [these former subjects'] hand, and they mock me and abuse me.

20 But Jeremiah said, They will not deliver you [to them]. Obey, I beg of you, the voice of the Lord Who speaks to you through me. Then it will be well with you, and you shall live.

21 But if you refuse to go forth and surrender to them, this is the word [the vision] that the Lord has shown me:

22 Behold, in it all the women that were left in the house of the king of Judah were being brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes and were saying [to you, King Zedekiah], Your friends have prevailed against your better judgment and have deceived you. Now when your feet are sunk in the mire [of trouble], they have turned their backs.

23 All your wives and your children will be brought out to the Chaldeans:

and you [yourself] cannot escape out of their hand, but you will be seized by the king of Babylon, and you will be causing this city [Jerusalem] to be burned with fire.

24 Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, Let no man know of this conversation and you shall not die.

25 But if the princes hear that I have talked with you, and they come to you and say, Tell us what you said to the king and what he said to you; hide it not from us and we will not put you to death, 26 Then you shall say to them, I presented to the king my humble plea that he would not send me back to Jonathan's house to die there.

27 Then came all the princes to Jeremiah, and asked him [just what King Zedekiah had anticipated], and he told them all that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him, for what the conversation had been was not discovered.

28 So Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken [by the Chaldeans].

CHAPTER 39

IN the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, they broke into the city.

3 [When Jerusalem was taken] all the princes of the king of Babylon came in and sat in the middle gate: Nergalsharezer, Samgarnebo, Sarschim chief of the eunuchs, and Nergalsharezer [II] chief of the magicians, with all the rest of the officers of the king of Babylon.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, they fled and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the king's garden through the gate between the two walls; and [the king] went out toward the Arabah — the valley of the Jordan.

5 But the Chaldean army pursued after them and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. And when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, at Riblah in the [Syrian] land of Hamath, where he pronounced sentence upon him.

6 Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes; also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with shackles to take him to Babylon. [Ezek. 12:13.]

8 And the Chaldeans burned the king's house and the houses of the people, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem.

9 Then Nebuzaradan, the [chief executioner and] captain of the guard, carried away captive to Babylon the rest of the people who remained in the city, and those who deserted to him, with the remainder of the [so-called better class of] people who were left.

10 But Nebuzaradan the [Babylonian] captain of the guard left in the land of Judah some of the poor of the people who had nothing, giving them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave command concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, 12 Take him and look after him well; do him no harm, but deal with him as he may ask of you.

13 So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, Nebushasban the chief of the eunuchs, Nergalsharezer [II] the chief of the magicians, and all the chief officials of the king of Babylon

14 Sent and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard and entrusted him to [a prominent man whose father had once saved the prophet's life] Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, that he should take him home [with him to Mizpah]. So Jeremiah was freed and dwelt among the people. [Jer. 26:24.]

15 Now the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah while he was [still] shut up in the court of the guard, saying,

16 Go and say to Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring to pass My words against this city for evil and not for good, and they shall be accomplished before you on that day.

17 But I will deliver you [Ebedmelech] on that day, says the Lord, and you shall not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid. [Jer. 38:7-13.]

18 For I will surely deliver you, and you shall not fall by the sword, but your life shall be for a reward of battle to you, because you have put your trust in Me, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 40

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, after Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, where he had taken him bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, who were taken as exiles to Babylon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said to him, The Lord your God pronounced evil upon this place.

3 Now the Lord has brought it about and has done as He said: [It is] because you [of Judah] have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed His voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 Now, see, I am freeing you today [Jeremiah] from the chains upon your hands. If it seems good to you to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will keep an eye on you and look well after you. But if it seems bad to you to come with me to Babylon, then do not do it. Behold, all the land is before you. Wherever it seems good, right, and convenient for you to go, go there.

5 While [Jeremiah] was hesitating, [the captain of the guard] said, Go back then to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wherever it seems right to you to go. So the captain of the guard gave him an allowance of food and a present, and let him go.

6 Then Jeremiah went to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, at Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the open country [of Judah] and their men heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land [of Judah], and had committed to him men, women, and children, those of the poorest of the land who had not been taken into exile to Babylon,

8 They went to Gedaliah at Mizpah: Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, swore to them and their men, saying, Do not be afraid to serve the Chaldeans; dwell in this land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand [for you] before the Chaldeans who will come to us [ministering to them and looking after the king's interests]. But you, gather the grape juice, summer fruits and oil, and store them in your utensils [for such purposes], and dwell in your cities that you have seized.

11 Likewise, when all the Jews who were in Moab and among the people of Ammon and in Edom and who were in all the other countries heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah and had set over them [as governor] Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, 12 Then all the Jews returned from all the places to which they had been driven and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, and gathered a great abundance of grape juice and summer fruits.

13 Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces that were in the open country came to Gedaliah at Mizpah

14 And said to him, Do you know that Baalis the king of the Ammonites has sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take your life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam did not believe them.

15 Then Johanan the son of Kareah spoke to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray you, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Why should he slay you, and cause all the Jews who are gathered to you to be scattered, and the remnant in Judah to perish?

16 But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah, You shall not do this thing for you speak falsely of Ishmael.

CHAPTER 41

NOW in the seventh month [of that year] Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal descendants, and one of the princes of the king [of the Ammonites], came with ten men to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, in Mizpah. As they were eating a meal together there in Mizpah,

2 Ishmael the son of Nethaniah and the ten men who were with him arose and struck down Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, with the sword, and killed him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.

3 Ishmael [the Ammonite] also slew all the Jews who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldean soldiers who were found there.

4 And the second day after the slaying of Gedaliah, before any one knew about it,

5 There came eighty men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, having their beards shaved and their clothes torn, and having cut themselves, bringing cereal offerings and incense, going up [to Jerusalem] to present them in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all the way as he went. As he met them, he said to them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.

7 And when they had come into the city, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the [city] cistern or pit, he and the men with him.

8 But ten men were among them who said to Ishmael, Do not kill us, for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat and barley and oil and honey. So he refrained and did not slay them with their brethren.

9 Now the cistern pit into which Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain in addition to Gedaliah, was the one which Asa the king [of Judah] had once made for fear of Baasha king of Israel [if he should lay siege to Mizpah]. Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with those who were slain.

10 Then Ishmael [the Ammonite] carried away captive all the rest of the people who were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters and all the people who remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to cross over [the Jordan] to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, 12 They took all their men and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great pool that is in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people who were [captives] with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people whom Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned around and came back, and went to Johanan the son of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces with him took all the remainder of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. [They were] the soldiers, the women, the children, and the eunuchs whom [Johanan] had brought back from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and stayed at the lodging place of Chimham, which is near Bethlehem, [intending] to go to Egypt

18 Because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land [and whose death the king might avenge without much discrimination].

CHAPTER 42

THEN all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah and Jezaniah [Azariah] the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, came near

2 And said to Jeremiah the prophet, We beseech you that you will let our supplication be presented before you and that you will pray to the Lord your God for us, even for all this remnant [of the people of Judah]; for of the many, there are but a few of us left, as you see with your [own] eyes.

3 [Pray] that the Lord your God may show us the way in which we should walk and the thing that we should do.

4 Then Jeremiah the prophet said to them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray to the Lord your God according to your words, and it shall be that whatever thing the Lord shall answer you, I will declare it to you; I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, The Lord be a true and faithful witness against us if we fail to do according to all the things that the Lord your God shall send you to tell us.

6 Whether it be good or evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord our God to Whom we send you [to inquire], that it may be well with us when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 And after ten days the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah.

8 Then he called Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces who were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

9 And said to them, Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, to Whom you sent me to present your supplication before Him:

10 If you will remain in this land, then I will build you up and not pull you down, and I will plant you and not pull you up; for I will relent and comfort and ease Myself concerning the evil that [in chastisement] I have done to you [and will substitute mercy and loving-kindness for judgment].

11 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom you are fearful — with the profound and reverent dread inspired by deity; be not afraid of him, says the Lord, for [he is a mere man, while the all-wise, all-powerful, and ever-present God] I, [the Lord] am with you to save you and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And I will grant mercy to you, that he may have mercy on you and permit you to remain in your own land.

13 But if you say, We will not dwell in this land, so that you disobey the voice of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, No, but we will go to the land of Egypt, where we shall not see war, or hear the sound of the trumpet, or be hungry for bread, and we will dwell there,

15 Then hear the word of the Lord, O remnant of Judah. Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: If you are fully determined to go to Egypt and go to dwell there temporarily, 16 Then the sword which you fear shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine of which you are afraid shall follow close after you to Egypt and in it, and there you shall die.

17 So shall it be with all the men who set their faces to go to Egypt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; none of them shall remain or survive the evil that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: As My anger and My wrath have been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall My wrath be poured forth upon you when you enter Egypt. You shall be a detested thing, an astonishment and horror, a curse, a thing lightly esteemed and a taunt and a reproach. You shall see this place no more.

19 The Lord has said to you, O remnant of Judah, Do not go to Egypt. Know for a certainty that I [Jeremiah] have warned and testified to you this day

20 That you have dealt deceitfully against your own lives. For you sent me [Jeremiah] to the Lord your God, saying, Pray for us to the Lord our God, and whatever the Lord our God says, declare it to us and we will do it.

21 And I have this day declared it to you, but you have not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God in anything that He sent me to tell you.

22 Now therefore know for a certainty that you shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence in [Egypt] the place where you desire to go to sojourn.

CHAPTER 43

AND when Jeremiah had finished speaking to all the people all these words of the Lord their God, for which the Lord their God had sent him to them,

2 Then Azariah the son of Hoshaiah and Johanan the son of Kareah and all the proud and insolent men said to Jeremiah, You are not telling the truth! The Lord our God has not sent you to say, Do not go into Egypt to live there temporarily.

3 But Baruch the son of Neriah has set you against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, so they may put us to death or carry us away captive to Babylon.

4 So Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces and all the people did not obey the voice of the Lord, to remain in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces took all the remnant of Judah who had returned to dwell in the land of Judah from all the nations to which they had been driven,

6 Even men, women and children, the king's daughters and every person whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; also he took Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch the son of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt, for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord. And they came to Tahpanhes.

8 Then came the word of the Lord to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take large stones in your hands and hide them in the mortar in the pavement of brick, which is at the entrance of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah,

10 And say to them, Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, My servant [because he works for Me], and I [through him] will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and his [glittering, royal] canopy shall be stretched over them. [Ezek. 29:19, 20.]

11 And he shall come and smite the land of Egypt, giving such as are for death to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the sword.

12 And I [through him] will kindle a fire in the temples of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn the houses and carry [the people] away captives; and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd puts on his garment [as he wills and when he chooses]; and he shall go away from there in peace.

13 [Nebuchadrezzar] shall break also the images and obelisks of Heliopolis [called On or Bethshemesh — house of the sun] in the land of Egypt, and the temples of the gods of Egypt shall be burn with fire.

CHAPTER 44

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews that dwell in the land of Egypt, at Migdol, at Tahpanhes, at Memphis, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: You have seen all the evil that I brought upon Jerusalem and upon all the cities of Judah; and see, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwells in them,

3 Because of the wickedness which they committed, provoking Me to anger, in that they went to burn incense to serve other gods that they did not know, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers.

4 Yet I sent to you all My servants the prophets earnestly and persistently, saying, Oh, do not do this loathsome and shamefully vile thing that I hate and abhor!

5 But they would not listen and obey, or submit and consent to turn from their wickedness and burn no incense to other gods.

6 Therefore My wrath and My anger were poured out and were kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they became wasted and desolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus says the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Why do you commit this great evil against yourselves, that will cut off from you man and woman, infant and weaned child, out of Judah, to leave you none remaining?

8 Why do you provoke Me to anger with [idols] the works of your own hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt where you [of your own accord] have come to dwell temporarily, that you may be cut off and become a curse and a reproach — a reviling and a taunt — among all the nations of the earth?

9 Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, the wickedness of the kings of Judah, the wickedness of their wives [who clung to their foreign gods], your own wickedness and the wickedness of your wives [who imitated their queens] which they committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

10 They are not humbled — contrite, penitent and bruised for their guilt and iniquities — even to this day, neither have they feared and revered Me, nor walked in My law or My statutes, which I set before you and before your fathers. [Jer. 6:15; 26:4-6; 44:23.]

11 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set My face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah [from the land].

12 And I will take the [one] remnant of Judah who have set their faces to come into the land of Egypt to sojourn here [fleeing to Egypt instead of surrendering to the Chaldeans as directed by the Lord through Jeremiah], and they shall all be consumed, and shall fall in the land of Egypt; they shall be consumed by the sword and by famine; from the least even to the greatest they shall die by the sword and by famine; and they shall be a detestable thing, an astonishment, a curse, and a reproach — a horror, a reviling and a taunt.

13 For I will punish all the inhabitants of the land of Egypt as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence, 14 So that none of the remnant of Judah who have come to the land of Egypt to sojourn shall escape or survive or return to the land of Judah, to which they desire and lift up their soul to return to dwell there; for none shall return except fugitives.

15 Then all the men who knew that their wives had burned incense to other gods, and all the women who stood by, a great assembly, even all the people who dwelt in Pathros in the land of Egypt, answered Jeremiah:

16 As for the word that you have spoken to us in the name of the Lord, we will not listen to or obey you.

17 But we will certainly perform every word of the vows we have made, to burn incense to the queen of heaven [the moon] and to pour out drink offerings to her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; for then we had plenty of food, and were well and prosperous, and saw no evil.

18 But when we stopped burning incense to the queen of heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have lacked everything and have been consumed by the sword and by famine.

19 [And the wives said] When we burned incense to the queen of heaven and poured out drink offerings to her, did we make cakes [with the image of the full moon] to represent and honor her and pour out drink offerings to her without [the knowledge and approval of] our husbands?

20 Then Jeremiah said to all the people, to the men and to the women and to all the people who had given him that answer, 21 The incense that you burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did the Lord not [earnestly] remember [your idolatrous wickedness] and did it not come into His mind?

22 The Lord could no longer endure the evil of your doings and the abominations which you have committed; because of them therefore has your land become a desolation and an [astounding] waste and a curse, without inhabitants, as at this day.

23 Because you have burned incense [to idols], and because you have sinned against the Lord and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord or walked in His law and in His statutes and in His testimonies, therefore this evil has fallen upon you, as it is this day.

24 Moreover Jeremiah said to all the people including all the women, Hear the word of the Lord, all you of Judah who are in the land of Egypt, 25 Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: You and your wives have both declared with your mouths and fulfilled it with your hands, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven and to pour out drink offerings to her. [If you will defy all My warnings to you, then go ahead by all means!] Surely then confirm your vows and surely perform your vows!

26 Therefore hear the word of the Lord, all [you people of] Judah who dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by My great name, says the Lord, that My name shall no more be invoked in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, As the Lord God lives.

27 Behold, I am watching over them for evil and not for good; and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by famine, until there is an end of them.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt to the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah, who came to the land of Egypt to sojourn, shall know whose words shall stand, Mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be the sign to you, says the Lord, that I will punish you in this place, so that you may know that My words shall surely stand against you for evil:

30 Thus says the Lord: Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies and into the hand of those who seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, who was his enemy and sought his life.

CHAPTER 45

THE word that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the dictation of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying,

2 Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, unto you, O Baruch:

3 You said, Woe is me now! For the Lord has added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning and sighing and I find no rest.

4 Say this to him, The Lord speaks thus: Behold, what I have built I am breaking down, and that which I have planted I am plucking up, and this means the whole land.

5 And do you seek great things for yourself? Seek them not: for behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, says the Lord; but your life I will give to you as a [snatched up] prize of war wherever you go.

CHAPTER 46

THE word of the Lord which came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning and against the [Gentile] nations.

2 Against Egypt: against the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote and defeated in the

n) The reader has probably noticed that the name Nebuchadrezzar is in Jeremiah also frequently spelled Nebuchadrezzar. This is also true in Ezekiel. "The two forms represent different Hebrew methods of reproducing the name." (Davis Bible Dictionary.)

o) Baruch plays a role familiar in normal human life today — that of having to take second place. He was of high birth; his grandfather Maaseiah was governor of Jerusalem in the days of King Josiah (II Chron. 34:8). Considering all that Baruch was doing to make Jeremiah's prophecies permanent, it is not surprising that he seems to have expected to share the prophet's rewards. "To play a prominent part in the impending crisis, to be the hero of a national revival, to gain the favor of the conqueror he announced," seems to have been his dream. When its realization was denied him, "he sank in despair at the seeming fruitlessness of his efforts" (Smith's Bible Dictionary). Yet Baruch is an excellent illustration of how little the gift of prophecy depended on men, and how completely it was for God to grant or deny prominence to His perhaps equally deserving servants. But each man's eternal rewards are proportioned according to his faithfulness, and not to his earthly recognition or the lack of it (Matt. 25:14-30).

fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: [Isa. 19; Ezek. 29-32; Zech. 14:18, 19.]

3 Put in order the buckler and shield, and advance for battle!

4 Harness the horses, and mount, you horsemen! Stand forth with your helmets, polish the spears, put on the coats of mail!

5 Why have I seen it? They are dismayed and have turned backward, and their mighty warriors are beaten down, and have fled in haste, and look not back; terror is on every side! says the Lord. [Jer. 6:25; 20:3, 10; 49:29; Ps. 31:13.]

6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; in the north by the river Euphrates they have stumbled and fallen.

7 Who is this that rises up like the Nile River, whose waters surge and toss themselves like the branches [of the Nile in the delta of Egypt]?

8 Egypt rises up like the Nile, and its waters swell and toss themselves like the rivers. He says, I will rise up, I will cover the earth; I will destroy cities and their inhabitants.

9 Go up, you horses, and drive furiously, you chariots! Let the warriors go forth: men of Ethiopia and Put who handle the shield, men of Lud who are skilled in handling and stringing the bow.

10 But that day is a day of the Lord God of hosts, a day of vengeance, that He may avenge Himself on His adversaries. And the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiated and shall drink its fill of their blood; for the Lord of hosts has a sacrifice [as of a great sin offering] in the north country by the river Euphrates.

11 Go up into Gilead, and take [healing] balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt! In vain do you use many medicines; for you there is no healing remedy.

12 The nations have heard of your disgrace and shame, and your cry has filled the earth. For warrior has stumbled against and thrown down warrior, and they are fallen both of them together.

13 The word that the Lord spoke to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the coming of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babilon and his smiting of the land of Egypt:

14 Declare in Egypt, and proclaim in Migdol, and publish in Memphis and in Tahpanhes; say, Stand forth and get yourself ready, for the sword shall devour round about you.

15 Why is your strong one [the sacred bull, Apis] swept and dragged away? He stood not, because the Lord drove him and thrust him down.

16 [The Lord] made many to stumble and fall, yes, they fell one upon another; and they said, Arise, and let us go back to our own people and to the land of our birth, away from the sword of the oppressor.

17 They cried there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is destroyed and but a noise; he has let the appointed time [in which God had him on probation] pass by!

18 As I live, says the King, Whose name is the Lord of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come [the king of Babilon, standing out above other rulers].

19 O you daughter who dwells in Egypt and you who dwell with her, furnish yourselves [with all you will need] to go into exile; for Memphis shall be waste, desolate and burned up, without inhabitant.

20 Egypt is a very fair heifer [like Apis the bull-god to which the country is, so to speak, espoused], but destruction [a gadfly] has come, out of the north it has come upon her.

21 Also her hired troops in the midst of her are like fatted calves of the stall, for they also are turned back and are fleeing away together; they do not stand, because the day of their calamity has come upon them, the time of their visitation — of their inspection and punishment.

22 The sound [of Egypt fleeing from the enemy] is like the rustling of an escaping serpent, for her foes advance with a mighty army, and come against her with axes, like those who fell trees and cut wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, says the Lord, though it is impenetrable, because they are more numerous than locusts and cannot be counted.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be disgraced; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north [the Chaldeans].

25 The Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, says, Behold, I will visit punishment upon Amon [the chief god of the sacred city] of No or Thebes, and upon Pharaoh and Egypt, with her gods and her kings, even Pharaoh and all those [Jews and others] who put their trust in Pharaoh [as a support against Babylon].

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those who seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants. Afterward [Egypt] shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, says the Lord.

27 But fear not, O My servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel; for lo, I will save you from afar and your offspring from the land of their exile; and Jacob shall return and be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear not, O Jacob My servant, says the Lord, for I am with you; for I will make a full end of all the nations to which I have driven you. Yet I will not make a full end of you, but I will chasten and correct you in just measure, and I will not hold you guiltless by any means, or leave you unpunished.

CHAPTER 47

THE word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before Pharaoh smote [the Philistine city] Gaza. [Isa. 14:29-31; Ezek. 25:15-17; Amos 1: 6-8; Zeph. 2:4-7; Zech. 9:5-7.]

2 Thus says the Lord: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall be an overflowing stream, and shall overflow the land and all that is in it, the city and those who dwell in it. Then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land [of Philistia] shall wail.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of [the Chaldean king's] war horses, at the rattling of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers do not look back to their children, so feeble are their hands [with terror],

4 Because of the day that is coming to destroy all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper who remains. For the Lord is destroying the Philistines, the remnant [still surviving] of the isle or coastland of Caphtor [where the Philistines originated]. [Amos 9:7.]

5 Baldness [in token of mourning] is come upon Gaza; Ashkelon is cut off and is dumb. O remnant of their valley and of the giants, how long will you gash yourselves [in token of mourning]?

6 O you sword of the Lord, how long will it be before you are quiet?

p) It is startling to realize that God through His prophets accurately foretold in detail the future of every one of the prominent nations of Old Testament times, often including particular rulers and chief cities. It will greatly increase the reader's interest if he will look up the literal fulfillment of these prophecies as he comes to them, as indicated in the references or the footnotes. Notice how definite the prophecies are: what was said of Babylon, for instance, would not have been applicable to Egypt or Ammon or Sidon. And secular history proves their fulfillment. If there were no other evidence that there is a God and that the Bible is inspired by Him, this to any person capable of thinking it through should be sufficient proof. Nor are the prophecies against some nations recorded by only one writer, but by a number of them widely separated by time and circumstances. Let us approach these recordings with awe and awakened vision; we are on holy ground.

Put yourself into your scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it [the sword of the Lord] be quiet when the Lord has given it an assignment to discharge? Against Ashkelon and against the [whole Philistine] seashore He has appointed it.

CHAPTER 48

CONCERNING Moab, thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Woe to [the city of] Nebo, for it is laid waste! Kiriathaim is put to shame and taken; [the high fortress] Misgab is put to shame, broken down and crushed. [Isa. 15-16; 25:10-12; Ezek. 25:8-11; Amos 2:1-3; Zeph. 2: 8-11.]

2 The glory of Moab is no more. In Heshbon [a border town between Reuben and Gad, east of the Jordan River] they planned evil against her, saying, Come, let us cut her off from being a nation. You also, O [town of] Madmen, shall be brought to silence; the sword shall pursue you.

3 The sound of a cry from Horonaim, desolation and great destruction!

4 Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard — as far as Zoar.

5 For the ascent of Luhith is being climbed [by successive bands of fugitives] with continual weeping, for on the descent of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction.

6 Flee, save your lives! But they shall be like a destitute and forsaken person in the wilderness.

7 For because you have trusted in your [bungling idol image] works and in your treasures [instead of God], you shall also be taken. And [your god] Chemosh shall go into captivity, his priests and his princes together.

8 And the spoiler shall come upon every city; no city shall escape; the [Jordan] valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be devastated, as the Lord has said.

9 Give wings to Moab, [for by that means only] may she flee and get away; her cities shall be desolate, without any to dwell in them.

10 Cursed be he who does the work of the Lord negligently — with slackness, deceitfully; and cursed be he who keeps back his sword from blood [in executing judgment pronounced by the Lord].

11 Moab has been at ease from his youth, and he has settled on his lees [like wine], and has not been drawn off from one vessel to another, neither has he gone into exile; therefore his taste remains in him and his scent has not changed.

12 Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, when I shall send to [Moab] tilters who shall tilt him up, and shall empty his vessels and break his [earthenware] bottles in pieces.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of [his god] Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel, their confidence. [I Kings 12:28, 29.]

14 How can you say, We are heroes and mighty men for the war?

15 Moab is made desolate and his cities gone up [in smoke and flame], and his chosen young men have gone down to the slaughter, says the King, whose name is the Lord of hosts.

16 The destruction of Moab is coming near, and his calamity hastens fast.

17 All you [nations] that are around him, bemoan him, and all you [nations more remote] that know his name, say, How is the mighty scepter [of national power] broken and the splendid rod [of glory]!

18 Come down from your glory, you inhabitant daughter of ⁹Dibon, and sit on the ground among the thirsty! For the destroyer of Moab is advancing against you, he destroys your strongholds.

⁹ Dibon, later Dhiban, stands on two hills. The "Moabite Stone" was found there. This Aroer (v. 19) stood on the north side of the river Arnon [note name in next verse]. Mesha records on the "Moabite Stone" that he "built (i.e. restored) the city and made the road over the Arnon." (Cambridge Bible.)

19 O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way and watch! Ask him who flees and her who escapes, What has happened?

20 Moab is put to shame, for she is broken down. Wail and cry! Tell it on [the banks of] the Arnon, that Moab is laid waste — destroyed.

21 Judgment has come upon the land of the plain: upon Holon, and Jahzah, and Mephaath, 22 And upon Dibon, and Nebo, and Bethdiblathaim,

23 And upon Kiriathaim, and Bethgamul, and Bethmeon,

24 And upon Kerioth, and Bozrah, and all the cities of the land of Moab, far and near.

25 The horn of Moab's [strength] is cut off, and his arm [of authority] is shattered, says the Lord.

26 Make him drunk, for he magnified himself against the Lord [by resisting Reuben's occupation of the land the Lord had assigned him]. Moab also shall splash in his vomit, and he too shall be held in derision. [Num. 22:1-7.]

27 For was not Israel [an object of] derision to you? Was he found among thieves, since whenever you spoke of him you wagged your head?

28 O you inhabitants of Moab, leave the cities and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove that makes her nest in the walls of the yawning ravine.

29 We have heard of the [gay] pride of Moab, the extremely proud: his loftiness, his arrogance, his conceit, and the haughtiness of his heart.

30 I know his insolent wrath, says the Lord, and the nothingness of his boastings and his deeds; they are false and have accomplished nothing.

31 Therefore I will wail over Moab, and I will cry out over the whole of Moab. Over the men of Kirheres there shall be sighing and mourning.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I weep for you more than the weeping of Jazer [over its ruins and wasted vineyards]; your tendrils [of influence] have gone over the sea, even to Jazer. The destroyer has fallen upon your summer fruit harvest and your [season's] crop of grapes.

33 Joy and gladness are taken from the fruitful orchards and fields and from the land of Moab; and I have made the grape juice to fail from what is pressed out in the vats; no one treads with shouting; their shouting is no shouting [of joy, but a battle cry].

34 From the cry of Heshbon even to Elealeh, even to Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even to Horonaim and Eglath-shelishiyah — like a three-year-old heifer; for even the waters of Nimrim have become desolations.

35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, says the Lord, him who ascends and offers in the high place, and him who burns incense to his gods.

36 Therefore My heart moans and sighs for Moab like flutes, and My heart moans and sighs like flutes over the men of Kirheres; therefore the remnant of the abundant riches they had gained has perished.

37 For every head is shaven bald, and every beard cut off: upon all the hands are cuttings, and upon the loins is sackcloth [all to express mourning].

38 On all the housetops of Moab and in its streets there is lamentation everywhere, for I have broken Moab like a vessel in which there is no pleasure, says the Lord.

39 How it is broken down! How they do wail! How Moab has turned his back in shame! So Moab has become a derision and a [horrifying] terror to all who are round about him.

40 For thus says the Lord: Behold, he [Babylon] shall fly swiftly like an eagle, and shall spread out his wings against Moab.

41 Kerioth shall be taken and the cities, the strongholds shall be seized; and the heart of the mighty warriors of Moab in that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs [in childbirth].

42 And Moab shall be ^rdestroyed from being a nation, because he has magnified himself against the Lord.

43 Terror, and the pit, and the snare are before you, O inhabitant of Moab, says the Lord.

44 He who flees from the terror shall fall into the pit, and he who gets up out of the pit shall be taken in the trap or snare; for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the year of their visitation — their inspection and infliction of punishment — says the Lord.

45 In the shadow of Heshbon the fugitives stand powerless — stopped without strength; for a fire has gone forth from Heshbon, a flame from the midst of Sihon; it has destroyed the corner of Moab and the crown of the head of the ones in tumult [the proud Moabites].

46 Woe to you, O Moab! The people of [the god] Chemosh are undone; for your sons are taken captives, and your daughters into captivity.

47 Yet will I reverse the captivity and ^rrestore the fortunes of Moab in the latter days, says the Lord. Thus far is the judgment on Moab.

CHAPTER 49

CONCERNING and against the Ammonites, thus says the Lord: Has Israel no sons [to return after their captivity and claim the territory of Gad on the east of Jordan which the Ammonites have taken over]? Has [Israel's Gad] no heir? Why then does Milcom — [the god the Ammonites call] their king — dispossess and inherit Gad, and his people dwell in Gad's cities?

2 Therefore, behold, the days come, says the Lord, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the Ammonites; and [the high ground on which it stands] shall become a desolate heap, and its daughter [villages] shall be burned with fire; then shall Israel dispossess those who had dispossessed him, says the Lord. [Ezek. 21:28-32; 25:1-7, 11; Amos 1:13-15; Zeph. 2:8-11.]

3 Wail, O Heshbon [in Moab just south of Ammon], for Ai or Ar [in Ammon] is laid waste! Cry out, you daughter villages of Rabbah! Gird yourselves with sackcloth, lament, and run to and fro inside the [sheepfold] enclosures; for Milcom [the god-king] shall go into exile, with his priests and his princes.

4 Why do you boast of your valleys? Your valley flows away, O [Ammon] rebellious and faithless daughter, who trusted in her treasures, who said, Who can come against me?

5 Behold, I will bring terror upon you, says the Lord God of hosts, from all who are round about you, and you shall be driven out, each man fleeing straight before him [without thought of his neighbor], and there will be no one to gather together the fugitives.

6 And ^rafterward I will reverse the captivity of the children of Ammon and restore their fortunes, says the Lord.

7 Concerning and against Edom, thus says the Lord of hosts: Is there no longer wisdom in Teman? Is counsel vanished from the intelligent and prudent? Is their wisdom all poured out

r) Nebuchadnezzar (B.C. 605-562) subjugated the Moabites, but they continued to be heard of as a race into the first century A.D., though the national existence of both Moab and Ammon seems to have ended long before the time of Christ. This in itself is a remarkable fulfillment of prophecy, but that Moab's fortunes are to be restored "in the latter days" (verse 47) and have proceeded toward that end before our very eyes is even more startling. Yet Moab is only one of the numerous nations whose fate was accurately pre-written by the ancient prophets of God.

s) Complete and continuous as the desolation of Moab and Ammon was for many long centuries, God is keeping His word for their restoration "in the latter days" in a remarkable manner. For instance, Amman, the capital of Trans-Jordan (the ancient Rabbath of Ammon), was a mere village in 1900, but by 1960 it was a city of 200,000 inhabitants. One can only stand in awe and reverent amazement at the precision with which the prophecies of the Word of God are being carried out in the present day and age.

and used up? [Isa. 34; 63:1-6; Ezek. 25:12-14; 35; Amos 1:11, 12; Obadiah; Mal. 1:2-5.]

8 Flee, turn back, dwell deep [in the deserts to escape the Chaldeans], O inhabitants of Dedan [neighbor of Edom]! For I will bring the calamity and destruction of Esau [Edom] upon Dedan, when I inspect and punish him.

9 If grape-gatherers came to you, would they not leave some un gleaned grapes? If thieves came by night, would they not destroy only what is enough [for them]?

10 But I have stripped Esau [Edom] bare, I have uncovered his hiding places, and he cannot hide himself. His offspring are destroyed, and his brethren, and his neighbors; and he is no more.

11 Leave your fatherless children, I will [do what is necessary to] preserve them alive; and let [those made] your widows trust and confide in Me.

12 For thus says the Lord: Behold, they [Israel] whose rule was not to drink of the cup [of wrath] shall assuredly drink, and are you to remain unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you shall surely drink.

13 For I have sworn by Myself, says the Lord, that Bozrah [in Edom between Petra and the Dead Sea] shall become a horror, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all its cities shall be 'perpetual wastes.

14 I have heard a report from the Lord, and a messenger is sent to the nations, saying, Gather together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.

15 For, lo, I will make you [Edom] 'small among the nations, and despised among men. [Ezek. 35:9.]

16 Your object of horror [your idol] deceived you, and the pride of your heart, O you who dwell in the clefts of the rock — Selah or "Petra — who hold the height of the hill. Though you should make your nest as high as the eagle's, I will bring you down from there, says the Lord.

17 And Edom shall be an 'astonishment and a horror; every one who goes by it shall be astonished and shall hiss with horror at all its plagues and disasters.

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and their neighboring cities, says the Lord, no man shall dwell there, neither shall a son of man live in it temporarily.

19 See, there comes up one [Nebuchadnezzar] like a lion from [lurking in] the jungles — the pride — of the Jordan against the strong habitation [of Edom] and into the permanent pastures; for in a twinkling I will drive him [Edom] from there. And I will appoint over him the one whom I choose. For who is like Me? And who will appoint Me the time and prosecute Me for this proceeding? And what [earthly national] shepherd can stand before Me and defy Me?

20 Therefore hear the plan of the Lord which He has made against Edom, and His purposes which He has formed against the inhabitants of Teman [a district in Edom]. Surely they shall be dragged away [by Nebuchadnezzar], even the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their habitation desolate over them and their fold shocked at their fate.

21 At the sound of their fall the earth shall tremble; at their crying the sound shall be heard at the Red Sea.

22 Behold, one shall come up and

t) How, except by Divine inspiration, could the prophets have foretold that Edom's desolation would be perpetual? After 2500 years the statement is so literally true, that here where millions once lived, there are only a few people, barely existing, and the land is in ruins. For there was no prophecy that Edom would recover "in the latter days," as would Moab and Ammon, but her desolation was to be lasting. The short book of Obadiah presents an interesting further clarification of God's reason for this exceptional treatment of Edom. It was all the outcome of "only a quarrel" between two brothers, Jacob and Esau, which continued from Genesis to the Gospels. (Gen. 27).

u) Petra, once an important Roman city in Edom, was lost for many centuries, but rediscovered in 1812. On the height above its ruins is the great high place, and other evidences of idolatry stand on neighboring heights.

fly swiftly like an eagle, and spread his wings against [the Edomite city of] Bozrah; and in that day the heart of the mighty warriors of Edom will be as the heart of a woman in her pangs [at childbirth].

23 Concerning and against Damascus [in Syria]. Hamath and Arpad are confounded and put to shame, for they have heard bad news; they are faint-hearted and waste away; there is trouble and anxiety as on a [storm-tossed] sea which cannot rest.

24 Damascus has become feeble. She turned to flee, and terror and panic seized her; anguish and sorrow have taken hold of her, like a woman in childbirth.

25 How [remarkable that] the renowned city is not deserted, the city of my joy! [exclaims one from Damascus].

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all her soldiers shall be destroyed in that day, says the Lord of hosts. [Isa. 17:1-3; Amos 1:3-5; Zech. 9:1.]

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of Benhadad [title of several kings of Syria].

28 Concerning Kedar [a tribe of nomad Arabs] and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor [that part of the Arab nation which used fixed dwellings in unwalled towns], which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon shall smite, thus says the Lord [to him]: Arise, go up against Kedar and destroy the sons of the east.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall [the Chaldeans] take, their tent hangings and all their utensils, and their camels. And men shall cry to them, Terror on every side! [Jer. 6:25; 20:3, 10; 46:5; Ps. 31:13.]

30 Flee, wander far off, dwell in the deep places, O you inhabitants of Hazor [in the Arabian Desert] says the Lord, for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon has planned a course against you, and has conceived a purpose against you.

31 Arise [Nebuchadrezzar], get you up into a nation that is at ease, that dwells without care, says the Lord, which has neither gates nor bars, that dwells apart.

32 And their camels shall become a booty, and their herds of cattle a spoil; and I will scatter to all the four winds those who [in evidence of their idolatry] have the corners of their hair cut off, and I will bring their calamity from every side of them, says the Lord. [Lev. 19:27.]

33 And *Hazor shall become a dwelling place for jackals, a desolation for ever; there shall no man remain there, neither shall a son of man dwell there temporarily.

34 The word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning and against Elam in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, 35 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief [weapon and part] of their strength.

36 And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four corners of heaven, and will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation to which the outcasts of Elam shall not come.

37 And I will cause *Elam to be dismayed and terrified before their enemies, and before them that seek and demand their life; and I will bring evil upon them, even My fierce anger, says the Lord; and I will send the sword after them until I have consumed them.

38 And I will set My throne [of judgment] in Elam [whose capital city was Shushan, from which God wrought wonders through Nehemiah,

v) This Hazor is not to be confused with three others mentioned elsewhere. It was a region in the Arabian Desert east of Palestine. Jeremiah's prophecy concerning it was literally fulfilled. Nebuchadnezzar conquered Arabia, according to Berosus, and Hazor's exact situation is long since unknown.

Esther and Daniel]; and I will destroy from their king and princes, says the Lord. [Neh. 1:1; Esth. 1:2; Dan. 8:1, 2.]

39 But it shall be ^win the latter days — the end of days — that I will turn back the captivity and restore the fortunes of Elam, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 50

THE word that the Lord spoke concerning and against Babylon and concerning and against the land of the Chaldeans by Jeremiah the prophet. [Isa. 13:1-14:23; 47; Hab. 1, 2.]

2 Declare it among the nations and publish it, and set up a signal [to spread the news], publish and conceal it not; say, Babylon is taken, Bel [the patron god] is put to shame, Merodach [Bel] is dismayed and broken down; [Babylon's] images are put to shame, her [senseless] idols are thrown down!

3 For out of the north there has come up a nation [Media] against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell there. They will have fled, they will be gone, from man even to beast.

4 In those days and at that time, says the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together; they shall come up weeping as they come and seek the Lord their God — inquiring for and of Him, and requiring Him [both by right of necessity and of the promises of God's Word].

5 They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces in that direction, saying, Come, let us join ourselves to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people have been lost sheep; their shepherds have led them astray [to favored places of idolatry] on [seducing] mountains. They have gone from [one sin to another,] mountain to hill; they have forgotten their [own] resting place. [Isa. 53:6; I Pet. 2:25.]

7 All who found them have devoured them, and their adversaries said, We are not guilty, because they have sinned against the Lord [and are no longer holy to Him], their true habitation of righteousness and justice, even the Lord, the hope of their fathers.

8 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks [as an example and leaders in the flight]. [Jer. 51:6, 9, 45; II Cor. 6:17; Rev. 18:4.]

9 For lo, I raise and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country; they equip and set themselves against her; from there she shall be taken. Their arrows shall be like [both] an expert, mighty warrior and his arrows, none of them shall return in vain.

10 And Chaldea shall become a prey; all that plunder her shall be satisfied, says the Lord.

11 Though you are glad, though you rejoice, O you who plunder My heritage, though you are wanton and skip like a heifer at grass and neigh like strong stallions, 12 Your mother [Babylon] shall be put to great shame, she who bore you shall blush and be disgraced. Behold, she shall be the rear of the nations, a wilderness, waste and desert.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord she shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate; every one who goes by Babylon shall be appalled, and hiss and mock at all her wounds and plagues.

14 Set yourselves in array against

w) Elam was a region beyond the Tigris River. After a long period of subjugation to foreign powers it joined with Media and ultimately captured Babylon. It became a province of the Persian Empire. Elamites were forcibly settled in Palestine when the Jewish Babylonian captives returned; Elamites attempted to prevent the rebuilding of Jerusalem and the temple (Ezra 4:9). Elamites were present on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2:9), but they became extinct in the eleventh century. Elam in modern times is a province of Persia, under the name Khuzistan. Thus (in 1960) this prophecy of that nation's destruction is long since fulfilled, with the restoration of Elam's fortunes an imminent probability for which to watch (verse 39).

Babylon round about, all you archers; shoot at her, spare not the arrows, for she has sinned against the Lord.

15 Raise the battle cry against her round about! She has given her hand [in agreement] and surrendered herself; her supports and battlements are fallen, her walls are thrown down. For this is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance on her; as she has done, do to her.

16 Exterminate the sower from Babylon, and the one who handles the sickle in the time of harvest; for fear of the sword of the oppressor they shall every one return to his people, and every one shall flee to his own land.

17 Israel is a hunted and scattered sheep — driven hither and thither [and preyed upon by savage beasts]. The lions have chased him: first the king of Assyria devoured him, and now at last Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon has broken and gnawed his bones.

18 Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will visit and punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have visited and punished the king of Assyria.

19 And I will bring Israel [home] again to his fold and pasturage, and he shall feed [on the most fertile districts both west and east] on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon the hills of Ephraim and in Gillead.

20 In those days and at that time, says the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and none shall be found; for I will pardon those whom I cause to remain as a remnant [the reserved ones, who come forth after the long tribulation]. [Isa. 1:9; 43:25; Jer. 31:34; Rom. 9:27.]

21 Go up against [Babylon] the land of Merathaim — meaning, of two rebellions and of double or intense defiance; even against it and against the inhabitants of Pekod [in Babylonia] — meaning, of visitation and punishment. Slay and utterly destroy after them, says the Lord, and do according to all I have commanded you.

22 The cry and noise of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How the hammer of the whole earth is crushed and broken! How Babylon has become a horror of desolation among the nations!

24 I have set a trap for you and you also are taken, O Babylon, and you did not know it; you are found and also caught, because you have struggled and contended against the Lord.

25 The Lord has opened His armory, and has brought forth [the nations who unknowingly are] the weapons of His indignation and wrath, for the Lord God of hosts has a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come against her from every quarter and from the utmost border; open her granaries and storehouses; pile up [their contents] as heaps of rubbish, burn and destroy her utterly; let nothing be left of her.

27 Slay all her bullocks [her choice youths, the strength of her army]; let them go down to the slaughter. Woe to [the Chaldeans]! For their day is come, the time of their visitation — their inspection and punishment.

28 Hark! The voice of those [Jews] who flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to proclaim in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, the vengeance [of the Lord upon the Chaldeans] for [the plundering and destruction of] His Temple.

29 Call together [many] archers against Babylon, all those who bend the bow; encamp against her round about; let none from there escape. Recompense her according to her deeds; just as she has done, do to her. For against the Lord, against the Holy One of Israel has she been proudly defiant and presumptuous.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets and squares, and all her soldiers shall be destroyed on that day, says the Lord.

31 Behold, I am against you, O Babylon — you who are pride and presumption personified — says the Lord God of hosts; for your day has come, the time when I will visit and punish you.

32 And Pride shall stumble — totter — and fall, and none shall raise him up. And I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him.

33 Thus says the Lord of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together; all who took them captive have held them fast; they refuse to let them go.

34 Their Redeemer is strong; the Lord of hosts is His name. He will surely and thoroughly plead their cause, that He may give rest to [the land of Palestine, and to the Babylonian-enslaved nations of] the earth, but unrest to the inhabitants of Babylon.

35 A sword upon the Chaldeans, says the Lord, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes [rulers in civic matters] and upon her wise men [the astrologers, and rulers in religious affairs]!

36 A sword upon the babbling liars — the diviners — that they may become fools! A sword upon her mighty warriors that they may be dismayed and destroyed!

37 A sword upon their horses and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled troops that are in the midst of her, that they may become [weak and defenseless] as women! A sword upon her treasures, that they may be plundered!

38 A sword and a drought upon her waters, that they may be dried up! For it is a land of images, and they are mad over idols — objects of terror in which they foolishly trust.

39 Therefore ^{*}wild beasts of the desert shall dwell [in Babylon] with the jackals, and ostriches shall dwell there, and it shall be inhabited with people no more for ever, even from generation to generation.

40 As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and their neighbor cities, says the Lord, so no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man live there temporarily.

41 Behold, a people is coming from the north, and a great nation and many kings are stirring from the uttermost parts of the earth.

42 They lay hold of bow, lance and spear; they are cruel and have no mercy or compassion; they sound like the roaring of the sea; they ride upon horses, every one equipped as a man for the battle, against you, O daughter of Babylon!

43 The king of Babylon has heard the news of them, and his hands fall feeble and helpless; anguish has seized him, and pangs as of a woman in childbirth.

44 Look, like a lion coming up from the jungles [the pride] of the Jordan against the strong habitation and into the perennial pasturage and sheepfold, in a twinkling I will drive [the enemy] away from her. And I will appoint over her him whom I choose. For who is like Me? And who will challenge Me and prosecute Me [for this proceeding]? And what [earthly national] shepherd can stand before Me and defy Me?

45 Therefore hear the plan of the Lord which He has made against Babylon, and His purposes which He has formed against the land of the Chaldeans: Surely they shall be dragged away, even the little ones of the flock; surely He shall make their habitation desolate and their fold amazed and appalled at their fate.

46 At the cry, Babylon is taken! the earth shall tremble, and the cry shall be heard among the nations.

CHAPTER 51

THUS says the Lord: Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them who dwell among those rebelling against Me, a destroying wind;

2 And I will send to Babylon strangers or winnowers, who shall winnow her and shall empty her land; for in the day of calamity they shall be against her on every side.

3 Against him who bends let the archer bend his bow, and against him who lifts himself up in his coat of mail. And spare not her young men; devote [to God] and utterly destroy her entire host.

4 Thus slain they shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans and wounded in her streets.

5 For Israel has not been widowed and forsaken, nor has Judah by his God, the Lord of hosts; though their land is full of guilt against the Holy One of Israel.

6 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, let every man save his life! Let not destruction come upon you through her [punishment for] sin and guilt; for it is the time of the Lord's vengeance. He will render to her a recompense. [Jer. 50:28; II Cor. 6:17; Rev. 18:4.]

7 Babylon was a golden cup in the Lord's hand, making all the earth drunken; the nations drank of her wine, therefore the nations went mad. [Rev. 17:4; 14:8.]

8 Babylon has suddenly fallen and is shattered — destroyed! Wail for her [if you care to!]; take balm for her [incurable] pain, if so be she may [possibly] be healed! [Jer. 25:15; Rev. 14:8-10; 16:19; 18:2, 3.]

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed. Forsake her, and let us go each to his own country; for her guilt and the judgment against her reach to heaven, and are lifted even to the skies. [Gen 18:20, 21.]

10 The Lord has brought forth and made known the righteousness [of our cause]. Come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God.

11 Make clean and sharp the arrows; take up the shields or coats of armor and cover your bodies with them; the Lord has stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes [who with the Persians will destroy the Babylonian Empire]; for His purpose concerning Babylon is to destroy it; for that is the vengeance of the Lord, the vengeance [upon Babylon for the plundering and the burning] of His temple.

12 Set up the standard or signal [to spread the news] upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch and blockade strong, set the guards, prepare the ambushes! For the Lord has both purposed and done that which He said against the inhabitants of Babylon.

13 O [Babylon] you who dwell by many waters, rich in treasures, your end has come, and the line measuring your life is cut. [Cf. Rev. 17:1-6.]

14 The Lord of hosts has sworn by Himself, saying, Surely I will fill you with men, as with stripping locusts, and they shall lift up a song and shout [of victory] over you.

15 He has made the earth by His power, He has established the world by His wisdom, and has stretched out the heavens by His understanding.

16 When He utters His voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; He makes lightnings for the rain, and brings forth the wind out of His treasures.

17 Every man has become stupid and brute-like, without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by the images he has made, for his molten idols are a lie, and there is no breath [of life] in them.

18 They are worthless — emptiness, falsity, futility — the work of delusion and worthy of derision. In the time of their inspection and punishment they shall perish.

19 Not like these [gods] is He Who is the portion of Jacob, for He is the One Who formed all things, and Israel is the tribe of His inheritance; the Lord of hosts is His name.

20 You [Cyrus, later Persian king of conquered Babylon] are My battle-ax or maul and weapon of war; for with you I break nations in pieces, and with you will I destroy kingdoms;

21 With you I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with you I break in pieces the chariot and the charioteer;

22 With you also I break in pieces man and woman; with you I break in pieces the old man and the youth; with you I break in pieces the young man and the maiden;

23 With you I break in pieces the shepherd and his flock; with you I break in pieces the farmer and his yoke of oxen; and with you I break in pieces governors and commanders.

24 And I will completely repay to Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all the evil that they have done in Zion, before your very eyes I will do it, says the Lord.

25 Behold, I am against you, says the Lord, O destroying and burning out mountain, [you who shall be as barren and desolate as an extinct volcano] which would destroy the whole earth; I will stretch out My hand over and against you, and roll you down from the [burnt] crags, and will make you a burnt out mountain [of combustion fires].

26 And [O Babylon] they shall not take of your cracked stones for a corner stone, or a stone for foundations, but you shall be a waste and 'desolate for ever, says the Lord.

27 Set up a standard or signal in the land [to spread the news], blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare and dedicate the nations against her, call against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz; appoint a marshal against her, cause the horses to come up like locusts [when their wings are not yet released from their horny cases].

28 Prepare and dedicate the nations: for war against her, the kings of Media, with their governors and deputies, and every land of their dominion. [I foresee this:]

29 The land trembles and writhes in pain and sorrow, for the purposes of the Lord against Babylon stand, to make the land of Babylon a desolation without inhabitant.

30 The mighty warriors of Babylon have ceased to fight, they have remained in their holds, their might has failed, they have become [weak and helpless] as women; her dwelling places are burned up, her bars [and defenses generally] are broken.

31 One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to show the king of Babylon that his city is taken on every side and to its farthest end;

32 And that the passages [or ferries across the Euphrates] are stopped, and the great [waterworks the Medes] have burned with fire, and the men of war are frightened.

33 For thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor at the time when it is being prepared; yet a little while and the time of harvest shall come to her.

34 [Say the inhabitants of Zion] Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon has devoured us, he has crushed us, he has made us an empty vessel, he like a monster has swallowed us up, he has filled his belly with our delicacies, he has rinsed us out and cast us away.

35 The violence done to me and to my flesh and blood be upon Babylon, the inhabitant of Zion will say: and,

y) See note on Isaiah 13:22 for this prophecy's fulfillment.

My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, will Jerusalem say.

36 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I will plead your cause and take vengeance for you. I will dry up her lake or great reservoir and make her fountain dry;

37 And Babylon shall become heaps of ruins, a dwelling place for jackals, an astonishing desolation, a horror and a hissing [of amazement], without inhabitant.

38 They [the Chaldean lords] shall be roaring together [before their sudden capture] like lions over their prey; they [the princes] shall be growling like lions' whelps.

39 When the revelers are "inflamed [with wine and lust at their drinking bouts], I will prepare them a feast [of My wrath] and make them drunk that they may rejoice and fall asleep to a perpetual sleep, and not waken, says the Lord.

40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats.

41 How Sheshach [Babylon] is taken! And the praise of the whole earth is surprised and seized! How is Babylon become an [astonishing] desolation and a horror among the nations!

42 The sea is come up upon Babylon; she is covered with the tumult and multitude of its waves.

43 Her cities have become a desolation and a horror, a land of drought and a wilderness, a land in which no one lives, nor does any son of man pass through it.

44 And I will punish and execute judgment upon Bel [the god] in Babylon, and take out of his mouth what he swallowed up [the sacred vessels, the people of Judah and elsewhere which were taken captive]. The nations shall not flow any more to him; yes, the wall of Babylon has fallen!

45 My people, go out of the midst of her, and save every man his life from the fierce anger of the Lord! [Jer. 50:8; II Cor. 6:17; Rev. 18:4.]

46 And beware lest your heart faint, and you be afraid of the report heard in the land; for in one year shall one rumor come, and in another year another report, and violence shall be in the land, ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore, behold, the days will come, when I will execute judgment and punishment upon the idols of Babylon; her whole land shall be confounded and put to shame, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then heaven and earth and all that is in them shall sing for joy over Babylon; for the Median destroyers shall come against her from the north, says the Lord. [Isa. 44:23; Rev. 12:12; 18:20; Jer. 51:11.]

49 As Babylon caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all her land.

50 You who have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still! [Seriously and earnestly] remember the Lord from afar off [Babylon], and let [desolate] Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded and ashamed, for we have heard reproach; confusion and shame have covered our faces; for strangers have come into the most sacred parts of the sanctuary of the Lord [even those forbidden to any but the high priest or the appointed priests].

52 Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, when I will execute judgment upon [Babylon's] idols and images, and through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should

2) Here is God's forecast through Jeremiah of what was to happen to great Babylon, of whom Herodotus said she had been "embellished with ornaments more than any city" of his acquaintance. That it happened in all its details is recorded by Daniel (5:1-30), and becomes more and more amazing and awe-inspiring as one considers it all after twenty-five verifying centuries. Truly only a "fool" could say in his heart, "There is no God" (Ps. 14:1).

fortify her strong height, yet destroyers would come upon her from Me, says the Lord.

54 The sound of a cry comes from Babylon, and great destruction and ruin from the land of the Chaldeans!

55 For the Lord is spoiling Babylon and laying her waste, and stilling her great voice [the hum of the city's life]. And the waves [of her conquerors] roar like great waters, the noise of their voice is raised [like the tramping of an army].

56 For the destroyer is come upon her, upon Babylon, and her mighty warriors are taken, their bows are broken in pieces; for the Lord is a God of recompenses, He will surely requite.

57 And I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, her governors and her deputies and her mighty warriors; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not waken, says the King; the Lord of hosts is His name.

58 Thus says the Lord of hosts: The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly overthrown and [the foundations] made bare, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; the peoples shall labor in vain, and the nations only for fire, and they shall be weary. [Hab. 2:13.]

59 The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now this Seraiah was chief chamberlain or quartermaster [and brother of Baruch].

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written against Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When you come to Babylon, see to it that you read all these words.

62 Then you shall say, O Lord, You have spoken concerning this place that it shall be cut off, so that nothing shall remain and dwell in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever.

63 And it shall be, when you have finished reading this book, that you shall bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of the Euphrates;

64 And say, Thus shall Babylon sink and shall not rise because of the evil that I will bring upon her; and [the Babylonians] shall be weary [hopelessly exhausted]. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah. [Cf. Rev. 18:21.]

CHAPTER 52

ZEDEKIAH was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3 For this it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, because of the anger of the Lord, that He cast them out from His presence. And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

4 And in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and pitched against it and built moveable towers and siege mounds against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah. [II Chron. 36:11-13.]

6 And in the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, the famine was so severe in the city, that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city [wall] was broken through so that all the men of war might flee, and they went forth out of the city by night [as Ezekiel had foretold] by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden. Now the Chaldeans were round about the city, and the [Jewish soldiers fled] by the way to the plain. [Ezek. 12:12.]

8 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, and all his army was scattered from him.

9 Then they seized the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the land of Hamath [on the northern border of Israel], and he passed sentence upon him.

10 And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes; he slew also all the princes of Judah at Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him with a double chain and carried him to Babylon, and put him in the prison [mill] till the day of his death. [Ezek. 12:13.]

12 Now in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, there came to Jerusalem Nebuzaradan, captain of the body-guard who stood and served before the king of Babylon.

13 And he burned the house of the Lord and the king's house and all the houses of Jerusalem; every great house he consumed with fire.

14 And all the army of the Chaldeans, who were with the captain of the guard, broke down all the walls round about Jerusalem.

15 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive some of the poorest of the people and those who were left in the city [at the time it was captured], and those who went out to the king of Babylon [during the siege], and the remnant of the multitude — the country's working people.

16 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left certain of the poorest of the land for vinedressers and for tillers of the soil.

17 Also the pillars of bronze that belonged to the house of the Lord, and the bronze bases or pedestals [which supported the ten basins] and the bronze sea or huge laver which were in the house of the Lord, the Chaldeans broke into pieces, and carried all the bronze of them to Babylon.

18 The pots [for carrying away ashes] also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons and all the vessels of bronze with which the temple service was ministered, they took away;

19 Also the small bowls, and the firepans, and the basins, and the pots, and the lampstands, and the incense cups, and the bowls for the drink offerings; whatever was of gold the captain of the guard took away as gold, and what was of silver, as silver.

20 The two pillars, one sea or huge laver, and ^btwelve bronze bulls under the sea, which King Solomon had made in the house of the Lord — the bronze of all these things was beyond weighing.

21 Concerning the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits or twenty-seven feet, and an ornamental molding of twelve cubits or eighteen feet went around its circumference; its thickness was four fingers, the pillar being hollow.

22 An upper part or capital of bronze was upon it. The height of one capital was five cubits or seven and one-half feet, and there were around it a network and pomegranates, all of bronze. The second pillar also and the pomegranates were similar to these.

23 And there were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides, and all the pomegranates upon the network were a hundred round about.

a) The Septuagint, the Greek version, renders this word "mill." Hence it has been inferred that the Chaldeans ascribed to Zedekiah in his old age the same fate as that to which the Philistines consigned Samson (Judges 16:21). (Cambridge Bible.)

b) King Ahaz had previously removed the twelve bronze bulls from under the big laver and had replaced them with a substructure of stone (II Kings 16:17), but obviously he had not put them beyond the reach of the Chaldeans when they undertook to find them.

24 And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door;

25 He took also out of the city a court officer who had been overseer of the soldiers, and seven men of them who were next the king and saw his face, who were found in the city; and the scribe of the prince or captain of the army, who mustered the people of the land; and sixty men of the people of the land, who were found in the midst of the city.

26 And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

27 And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death in Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 This is the number of people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand and twenty-three Jews;

29 In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred and thirty-two persons;

30 In the twenty-third year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the [Babylonian] guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred and forty-five persons; all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31 And in the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth day of the month, Evil-merodach king of Babylon in the first year of his reign lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah and brought him out of prison,

32 And spoke kindly to him, and gave him a seat above the seats of the kings who were [captives] with him in Babylon, 33 And changed his prison garments. And Jehoiachin ate regularly at the king's table all the days of his life.

34 As for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him by the king of Babylon, according to his requirements until the day of his death, "all the days of his life.

THE LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH

CHAPTER 1

HOW solitary and lonely sits the city [Jerusalem] that was full of people! How like a widow has she become! She who was "great among the nations and princess among the provinces has become a tributary — in bond service!

2 She weeps bitterly in the night, and her tears are [constantly] on her cheeks;

c) The latter of these clauses is probably an afterthought, in order to prevent ending the book with the word "death." The general object too of the paragraph [the last four verses] seems to have been to leave the reader with a parting ray of comfort and encouragement in the thought that even in exile the Lord remembered His people and softened the heart of the heathen tyrant toward David's seed. (Condensed from Cambridge Bible.)

a) One may read the writings of the prophets only as valuable contributions to Old Testament history. And he may become enriched by familiarity with their forecasts of events which have been startlingly fulfilled, thus proclaiming the divine inspiration of the books and the wisdom and power of the God Who prompted their writings. But to stop there is by no means to grasp their full and outstanding purpose for today. Through the prophets God is speaking definitely to every individual and nation on earth, right now demanding that we see ourselves as He sees us, a world of nations and individuals tobogganing toward disaster; and He declares there is no alternative unless we repent and come to terms with Him.

among all her lovers [allies] she has no one to comfort her; all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies. [Jer. 3:1; 4:30.]

3 Judah is gone into exile to escape from the affliction and laborious servitude of the home land. She dwells among the [heathen] nations, but finds no rest; all her persecutors overtook her amid the straits [of her distress].

4 The roads to Zion mourn, because no one comes to the solemn assembly or the appointed feasts; all her gates are desolate; her priests sigh and groan, her maidens are grieved and vexed, and she herself is in bitterness.

5 Her adversaries have become the head, her enemies prosper; for the Lord has afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions; her young children have gone into captivity before the enemy. [Jer. 30:14, 15; 52:28; Dan. 9:7-14.]

6 From the daughter of Zion all her beauty and majesty have departed; her princes are become like harts that find no pasture; they have fled without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jerusalem [earnestly] remembers in the days of her affliction, of her [compulsory] wanderings and her bitterness, all the pleasant and precious things that she had from the days of old. When her people fell into and by the hand of the adversary, and there was none to help her, the enemy [gloated as they] looked at her, and they mocked at her desolations and downfall.

8 Jerusalem has grievously sinned; therefore she has become as an unclean thing and is removed. All that honored her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness; yes, she herself groans and sighs and turns her face away.

9 Her filthiness was in and on her skirts; she did not [seriously and earnestly] consider her final end; therefore she has come down [from throne to slavery] singularly and astonishingly; she has no comforter. O Lord [cries Jerusalem], behold my affliction, for the enemy magnifies himself in triumph!

10 The adversary has spread out his hand upon all her precious and desirable things: for she has seen the nations enter into her sanctuary [of the temple], when You commanded that they should not even enter into Your congregation [in the outer courts]. [Jer. 51:51; Deut. 23:3.]

11 All her people groan and sigh, seeking for bread; they have given their desirable and precious things for food to revive their strength and bring back life. See, O Lord, and consider how wretched and lightly esteemed, how vile and abominable I have become!

12 Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by? Look and see if there is any sorrow like my sorrow, which is being dealt out to me, with which the Lord has afflicted me in the day of His fierce anger!

13 From above He has sent fire into my bones, and it prevails against them; He has spread a net for my feet, He has turned me back; He has made me hopelessly miserable and faint all the day long.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by His hand; they are twined together; they were set upon my neck. He has made my strength to fail and [me to] stumble; the Lord has delivered me into the hands of those I am unable to resist or withstand. [Deut. 28:48.]

15 The Lord has made of no account all my [Jerusalem's] mighty men in the midst of me; He has proclaimed a set time against me to crush my young men; the Lord has trodden as in a wine press the virgin daughter of Judah.

16 For these things I weep; my eyes flow with tears, because a comforter, one who could refresh and restore my soul, is far from me; my children are desolate

b) The Ammonites and Moabites, descendants of Lot and kinsmen of Israel, were forbidden to enter the congregation of the Lord, "even to the tenth generation," because they refused assistance to the Israelites when they were fleeing from Egypt, and because they hired Balaam to curse Israel [Deut. 23:3, 4]. The Israelites themselves never assembled any closer to the sanctuary of the temple than in the court outside its door. No Jew, not even David, or Jesus Himself or any of His apostles, ever ventured into the sanctuary or temple proper, except certain Levites to whom such service was assigned. Two Greek words have customarily been translated "temple" in the New Testament. One, hieron always means the temple enclosure (the porches, courts, chambers, etc.); the other word, naos, means the sanctuary proper — the Holy Place and the Holy of Holies, into which none but the authorized priests might go, and then only at stated times.

But now, Jeremiah says, the forbidden heathen nations enter the very Holy of Holies [for plunder]! Nothing more humiliating could happen for a Jew than this.

and perishing, for the enemy has prevailed. [Verse 21.]

17 Zion stretches forth her hands, but there is no comforter for her; the Lord has commanded concerning and against Jacob that his neighbors should be his adversaries; Jerusalem is as a filthy thing among them — an object of contempt.

18 The Lord is righteous — just and in the right; for I have rebelled against His commandment — His Word; hear, I pray you, all you peoples, and behold my sorrow and suffering; my maidens and my young men have gone into captivity.

19 I [Jerusalem] called to my lovers [allies], but they deceived me; my priests and my elders expired in the city, while they sought food to save their lives.

20 Behold, O Lord, how distressed I am! My vital parts are in tumult, my heart cannot rest and is violently agitated within me; for I have grievously rebelled; outside the house the sword bereaves, at home there is [famine, pestilence] death!

21 [My foes] have heard that I [Jerusalem] sigh and groan, that I have no comforter in You; all my enemies have heard of my trouble. They are glad [O Lord] that You have done it. You will bring the day [of Judah's punishment] that you have foretold and proclaimed; [it involves also my foes' punishment] and they shall be as I am. [Isa. 14:5, 6; Jer. 30:16.]

22 Let all their wickedness come before You; and deal with them as You have dealt with me because of all my transgressions; for my sighs and groans are many and my heart is faint.

CHAPTER 2

HOW the Lord covers the daughter of Zion with a cloud in His anger! He from Heaven has cast down to the earth the beauty and splendor of Israel, and has not [earnestly] remembered His footstool in the day of His anger!

2 The Lord swallowed up all the country places and habitations of Jacob, and spared not nor pitied; He has demolished in His wrath the strongholds of the daughter of Judah; He cast down to the ground the kingdom and its rulers, polluting them and depriving them of their sanctity.

3 He has broken off in His fierce anger every horn [means of defense] of Israel. He has drawn back His right hand from before the enemy, and He has burned amidst Jacob like a flaming fire, consuming all around.

4 He has bent His bow like an enemy; He has stood with His right hand set like a foe and has slain all the delights and pride of the eye; on and in the tent of the daughter of Zion He has poured out His wrath like fire.

5 The Lord has become like an enemy, He has destroyed Israel; He has destroyed all its palaces, laid in ruins its strongholds, and has multiplied in the daughter of Judah groaning and moaning lamentation.

6 And He has violently broken down His temple like a booth or hedge of a garden. He has destroyed the place of His appointed festivals; the Lord has caused the solemn assembly and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and has spurned and rejected in the indignation of His anger the king and the priest.

7 The Lord has scorned, rejected and cast off His altar, He has abhorred and disowned His sanctuary, He has given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces [and high buildings]; they have raised a clamor in the house of the Lord as on a day of a solemn feast.

8 The Lord purposed to lay in ruins the city wall of the daughter of Zion. He marked it off by line; He restrained not His hand from destroying; He made rampart and wall to lament, they languish together.

9 Her gates have sunk into the ground; He has destroyed and broken her bars; her king and her princes are among the nations; the law is no more;

her prophets also obtain no vision from the Lord.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion sit on the ground, keeping silence; they have cast up dust on their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth; the maidens of Jerusalem have bowed their heads to the ground [says Jeremiah].

11 My eyes fail from weeping, my emotions are deeply disturbed, my heart is poured upon the ground [in grief] because of the destruction of the daughter of my people, because infants and nurslings faint in the streets of the city.

12 They keep crying to their mothers, Where is corn and wine — food and drink? as they faint like wounded men in the streets of the city, while their life is ebbing away on their mothers' bosom.

13 What [example of suffering in the past] is sufficient for me to remind you for your comfort? To what shall I liken you, O daughter of Jerusalem? What shall I compare with you, that I may comfort you, O virgin daughter of Zion? For your ruin is measureless as the sea! Who can heal you? [Lam. 1:12; Dan. 9:12.]

14 Your prophets have predicted for you falsehood and delusion and foolish things. And they have not exposed your iniquity and guilt, to avert your captivity [by causing you to repent]; but they have divined and declared to you false and deceptive prophecies, worthless and misleading.

15 All who pass by clap their hands at you; they hiss and wag their heads at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city which was called the perfection of beauty, the joy of all the earth?

16 All your enemies have opened wide their mouths against you; they scornfully hiss and gnash their teeth; they cry, We have swallowed her up! Certainly this is the day we have looked for; we have it; we see it!

17 The Lord has done what He planned; He has carried out and finished His word that He threatened and decreed 'in the days of old; He has demolished without pity; He has made the enemy rejoice over you, and exalted the might of your foes. [Lev. 26:14-39; Deut. 28:15-68.]

18 The heart [of the inhabitants of Jerusalem] cried to the Lord. [Then to the congregation, I, Jeremiah, cried, addressing the wall as its symbol] O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night, give yourself no rest, let not your eyes stop [shedding tears].

19 Arise from your bed, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches. Pour out your heart like water before the face of the Lord; lift up your hands toward Him for the life of your young children, who faint with hunger at the corner of every street. [Ps. 62:8.]

20 Behold, O Lord, and consider [carefully] to whom You have done this. Should and shall the women eat the fruit of their own bodies, the children whom they have tended and swaddled with their hands? Shall priest and prophet be slain in the place set apart [for the worship] of the Lord?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets; my maidens and my young men have fallen by the sword; You have slain them in the day of Your anger, slaughtering them without pity.

22 You, [Lord,] called together, as on an appointed day of solemn assembly, my terrors [dangers] from every side; and there was not one in the day of God's wrath who escaped or survived. Those I have nursed and brought up my enemy has destroyed.

CHAPTER 3

I AM [Jeremiah], the man who has seen affliction under the rod of His wrath.

2 He has led me, and brought me into darkness, and not light.

c) "This reference to the ancient predictions against Israel for their sins, is of great importance; both as it shows that these prophecies were then extant and well-known among the Jews, and that they were understood by the pious remnant exactly as we now explain them." (Scott, quoted in Lange's Commentary.)

LAMENTATIONS 3

3 Surely He has turned away from me; His hand is against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin has He worn out and made old; He has shattered my bones.

5 He has built up [siege mounds] against me, and surrounded me with bitterness, tribulation and anguish.

6 He has caused me to dwell in dark places, as those long dead.

7 He walled me about, so that I cannot get out; He has weighted down my chain.

8 Also when I cry and shout for help, He shuts out my prayer.

9 He has enclosed my ways with hewn stone, He has made my paths crooked.

10 He is to me like a bear lying in wait, and like a lion hiding in secret places.

11 He has turned me off my ways, and pulled me in pieces; He has made me desolate.

12 He has bent His bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He has caused the arrows of His quiver to enter into my heart [the seat of my affections and desires].

14 I have become a derision to all my people; and [the subject of] their sing-song all the day.

15 He has filled me with bitterness, He has made me drink to excess and until drunken with wormwood — bitterness.

16 He has also broken my teeth with gravel stones, He has covered me with ashes.

17 And You have bereft my soul and cast it off far from peace; I have forgotten what good and happiness are.

18 And I say, Perished is my strength and my expectation from the Lord.

19 [O Lord] remember [earnestly] my affliction and my misery, my wandering and outcast state, the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul has them continually in remembrance and is bowed down within me.

21 But this I recall, therefore have I hope and expectation:

22 It is of the Lord's mercies and loving-kindnesses that we are not consumed, because His (tender) compassions fail not. [Mal. 3:6.]

23 They are new every morning; great and abundant is Your stability and faithfulness. [Isa. 33:2.]

24 The Lord is my portion or share, says my living being; therefore will I hope in Him and expectantly wait for Him. [Num. 18:20.]

25 The Lord is good to those who hopefully and expectantly wait for Him, to those who seek Him — inquire of and for Him, and require Him [by right of necessity and on the authority of God's Word].

26 It is good that one should hope and wait quietly for the salvation — the safety and ease — of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke [of divine disciplinary dealings] in his youth.

28 Let him sit alone uncomplaining and silent in hope, because God has laid the yoke upon him [for his benefit]. [Rom. 8:28.]

29 Let him put his mouth in the dust [in abject recognition of his unworthiness]; there may yet be hope. [Mic. 7:17.]

30 Let him give his cheek to the One Who smites him [even through His human agents]; let him be filled full with men's reproach [in meekness].

31 For the Lord will not cast off for ever! [Ps. 94:14.]

32 But, though He causes grief, yet will He be moved to compassion according to the multitude of His loving-kindnesses and tender mercies.

33 For He does not willingly and from His heart afflict or grieve the children of men. [Heb. 12:5-10.]

34 To trample and crush under foot all the prisoners of the earth,

35 To turn aside and deprive a man of his rights before the face of the Most High or a superior, 36 To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord does not approve.

37 Who is he who spoke and it came to pass, when the Lord had not authorized and commanded it?

38 Is it not out of the mouth of the Most High that evil and good both proceed — adversity and prosperity, physical evil or misfortune and physical good or happiness?

39 Why does a living man sigh [one who is still in this life's school of discipline]? And why does he complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?

40 Let us test and examine our ways, and return to the Lord!

41 Let us lift up our hearts to our hands [and then with them mount up in prayer] to God in Heaven:

42 We have transgressed and rebelled, and You have not pardoned.

43 You have covered Yourself with wrath and pursued and afflicted us; You have slain without pity.

44 You have covered Yourself with a cloud so that no prayer can pass through.

45 You have made us an offscouring and refuse among the nations.

46 All our enemies gape at us and rail against us.

47 Fear and pitfall have come upon us, devastation and destruction.

48 My eyes overflow with streams of tears because of the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 My eyes overflow continually and will not cease

50 Until the Lord looks down and beholds from Heaven.

51 My eyes cause me grief at the fate of all the maidens and the daughter-towns of my city [Jerusalem].

52 I have been hunted down like a bird by those who were my enemies without cause.

53 They [thought they had] destroyed my life in the dungeon (pit), and cast a stone [over it] above me. [Jer. 38.]

54 Water ran down on my head; I said, I am gone.

55 I called upon Your name, O Lord, out of the depths [of the mire] of the dungeon. [Jer. 38:6.]

56 You heard my voice then; O hide not Your ear now at my prayer for relief.

57 You drew near on the day I called to You; You said, Fear not. [James 4:8.]

58 O Lord, You have pleaded the causes of my soul [You have managed my affairs and You have protected my person and my rights]; You have rescued and redeemed my life!

59 O Lord, You have seen my wrong; judge and maintain my cause.

60 You have seen all their vengeance, all their devices against me.

61 You have heard their reproach and revilings, O Lord, and all their devices against me;

62 The lips and thoughts of my assailants are against me all day long.

63 Behold their sitting down and their rising up [their movements, doings, and secret counsels]; I am their sing-song [the subject of their derision and merriment].

64 Render to them a recompense, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.

65 You will give them hardness and blindness of heart, Your curse will be upon them.

66 You will pursue and afflict them in anger, and destroy them from under Your heavens, O Lord.

CHAPTER 4

HOW the gold has become dim! How the most pure gold is changed! The hallowed stones of the temple are poured out at the head of every street.

2 The noble and precious sons of Zion, worth their weight in fine gold, how they are esteemed [merely] as earthen pots or pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter! [Isa. 30:14; Jer. 19:11; II Cor. 4:7.]

3 Even the jackals draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones, but the daughter of my people has become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness [that desert their young].

4 The tongue of the nursing babe cleaves to the roof of its mouth for thirst; the young children beg for food, but no one gives it to them.

5 They who feasted on dainties are perishing in the streets; they who were brought up in purple lie cleaving to refuse and ash heaps.

6 For the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands had come against her or been laid on her. [Gen. 19:25.]

7 [In physical appearance] her princes were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies or corals, their shapely figures [suggested a carefully cut] sapphire.

8 [Prolonged famine has made] them look blacker than darkness; they are not recognized in the streets; their skin clings to their bones; it is withered, it has become dry like a stick.

9 They who are slain with the sword are more fortunate than they who are the victims of hunger — slain by the famine; for the latter pine and ebb away, stricken through for want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of [heretofore] compassionate women have boiled their own children; they were their food in the destruction of the daughter of my people [Judah].

11 The Lord has fulfilled His wrath; He has poured out His fierce anger, and has kindled a fire in Zion that has consumed her foundations.

12 The kings of the earth did not believe, nor did any of the inhabitants of the earth, that oppressor or enemy could enter the gates of Jerusalem.

13 But this was for the sins of her [false] prophets and the iniquities of her priests, who had shed the blood of the just and righteous in the midst of her.

14 [The false prophets and priests] wandered [staggering] as if blind in the streets; they had so polluted themselves with blood it was not [lawful] for men to touch their garments.

15 People cried to them, Go away! Unclean! Depart! Depart! Touch not! When they fled away, then they wandered [as fugitives]; men said among the nations, They shall not tarry longer here.

16 The anger of the Lord has scattered and divided them [among the nations]; He will no longer regard them; they did not respect the persons of the priests, they did not favor the elders.

17 As for us, our eyes as yet fail and waste away in looking for our worthless help. In our watching [on our watchtower] we have expectantly waited for a nation [Egypt or some other to come to our rescue] that could not save us.

18 [The missiles of] the enemy dog our steps, so that we cannot go into our streets; our end is near, our days are fulfilled, yes, our end is come.

19 Our pursuers were swifter than the eagles of the sky; they pursued us on the mountains, they lay in wait for us in the wilderness.

20 [Our king] the breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the Lord, was taken in their snares, he of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the nations.

21 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, who dwells in the land of Uz; but the cup [of the wine of God's wrath] also shall pass through to you; you shall become drunk and make yourself naked. [Jer. 25:17.]

22 The punishment of your iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion; [the Lord] will no more carry you away or keep you in exile. But He will inspect and punish your iniquity and guilt, O daughter of Edom; He will uncover your sins. [Ps. 137:7.]

CHAPTER 5

O LORD, [earnestly] remember what has come upon us! Look down and behold our reproach — our [national] disgrace!

2 Our inheritance is fallen to strangers, our houses to foreigners.

3 We have become orphans, fatherless; our mothers are as widows.

4 We have had to pay money to drink the water that belongs to us; our own wood is sold to us.

5 Our pursuers are upon our necks [like a yoke]; we are weary and are allowed no rest.

6 We have given the hand [as a pledge of fidelity] to the Egyptians and to the Assyrians, [merely] to get food to satisfy our hunger.

7 Our fathers have sinned and are no more, and ^dwe have borne their iniquities. [Jer. 31:29; Ezek. 18:2-4.]

8 Servants and slaves rule over us; there is none to deliver us out of their hand. [Neh. 5:15.]

9 We get our bread at the peril of our lives because of the sword of the wilderness [the wild Arabs, if we venture to the fields to reap our harvests].

10 Our skin glows and is parched as from an oven, because of the burning heat of [the fever of] famine.

11 They ravished the women in Zion, the virgins in the cities of Judah.

12 They hung princes by their hand; the persons of elders were not respected.

13 The young men have carried millstones, and boys have fallen [staggering] under burdens of wood.

14 The elders have ceased from [congregating at] the city's gate, the young men from their music.

15 Ceased is the joy of our heart; our dancing has been turned into mourning.

16 The crown is fallen from our head [our honor is brought to the dust]! Woe to us, for we have sinned!

17 For this our heart has become faint and sick; for these things our eyes have become dim and see darkly.

18 As to Mount Zion which lies desolate, the jackals prowl over it!

19 But You, O Lord, remain and reign forever; Your throne endures from generation to [all] generations.

20 Why do You forget us for ever? Why do You forsake us so long?

21 Turn us to Yourself, O Lord, and we shall be turned and restored! Renew our days as of old!

22 Or have You utterly rejected us? ^eOr are You exceedingly angry with us [still]?

THE BOOK OF EZEKIEL

CHAPTER 1

NOW when I was in my thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was in the midst of captivity beside the river Chebar [in Babylonia], the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 On the fifth day of the month, which was in the fifth year of King Jehoiachin's captivity,

3 The word of the Lord came expressly to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the hand of the

d) [But we deserved our punishment.] "Woe to us, that we have sinned! For this our heart has become faint and sick; for these things our eyes have become dim and see darkly." (Vss. 16, 17.)

e) "Although the Book of Lamentations, like so many even of the saddest of the Psalms, does in fact close with the language of hope, that is in the present case so little apparent on the first reading that in many Hebrew manuscripts verse twenty-one is repeated at the end, that so its words may rather be the last to fall upon the ear. A similar expedient is used in the case of Ecclesiastes, Isaiah and Malachi. See note on Jeremiah 52:34." (Cambridge Bible.)

Lord was there upon him. [I Kings 18:46; II Kings 3:15.]

4 As I looked, behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, and a great cloud with a fire enveloping it and flashing continually, and a brightness was about it, and out of the midst of it as it seemed glowed amber metal, out of the midst of the fire.

5 And out of the midst of it came the likeness of four living creatures [for cherubim]. And this was their appearance: they had the likeness of a man,

6 But each one had four faces, and each one had four wings.

7 And their legs were straight legs, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot, and they sparkled like burnished bronze.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides. And they four had their faces and their wings thus:

9 Their wings touched one another; they turned not when they went, but went every one straight forward.

10 As for the "likeness of their faces, they each had the face of a man in front, and they four had the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four also had the face of an eagle [at the back of their heads].

11 Such were their faces. And their wings were stretched out upward [each creature had four wings]; two wings of each one were touching the adjacent wing of the creatures on either side of it, and [the remaining] two wings of each creature covered its body.

12 And they went every one straight forward; wherever the spirit would go, they went, and they turned not when they went.

13 In the midst of the living creatures there was what looked like burning coals of fire, like torches moving to and fro among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures darted back and forth like a flash of lightning.

15 Now as I was still looking at the living creatures, I saw one wheel upon the ground beside each of the living creatures with its four faces.

16 As to the appearance of the wheels and their construction: in appearance they gleamed like chrysolite; and they four were formed alike; and their construction work was as it were a wheel within a wheel.

17 When they went, they went in one of their four directions, without turning [for they were faced that way].

18 As for their rims, they were so high that they were dreadful; and they four had their rims full of eyes round about.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Wherever the spirit went, the creatures went; and the wheels rose along with them; for the spirit or life of the [four living creatures acting as one] living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up high beside them; for the spirit or life of the [combined] living creature was in the wheels.

22 Over the head of the [combined] living creature there was the likeness of a firmament, to look upon like the terrible and awesome dazzling of shining crystal or ice, stretched across the expanse of sky over their heads.

23 And under the firmament their wings were stretched out straight, one

a) It is noteworthy that the four faces of the living creatures as here described are symbolic of "the four portraits of Jesus" as given in the four Gospels. Matthew represents our Lord as the King (the lion); Mark portrays Him as the Servant (the ox); Luke emphasizes His humanity (man), and John proclaims especially His Deity (the eagle).

toward another. Every living creature had two wings which covered its body on this side and two which covered it on that side.

24 And when they went, I heard the sound of their wings like the noise of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, the sound of tumult like the noise of a host. When they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads; when they stood, they let down their wings.

26 And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, in appearance like a sapphire stone; and seated above the likeness of a throne was a likeness with the appearance of a Man. [Phil. 2:5-8.]

27 From what had the appearance of His waist upward, I saw a lustre as it were glowing metal, with the appearance of fire enclosed round about within it; and from the appearance of His waist downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness [of a halo] round about Him.

28 Like the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud on the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of One speaking. [Rev. 4:3.]

CHAPTER 2

AND He said to me [Ezekiel], Son of man, stand upon your feet, and I will speak to you.

2 And the Spirit entered into me when He spoke to me and set me upon my feet, and I heard Him speaking to me.

3 And He said to me, I send you, son of man, to the children of Israel, two rebellious nations that have rebelled against Me. They and their fathers have transgressed against Me, even to this very day.

4 And the children are impudent and hard of heart. I send you to them, and you shall say to them, Thus says the Lord God.

5 And they, whether they will hear or refuse to hear, for they are a rebellious house, yet shall know and realize that there has been a prophet among them.

6 And you, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words; though briers and thorns are all around you and you dwell and sit among scorpions, be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.

7 And you shall speak My words to them, whether they will hear or refuse to hear; for they are most rebellious.

8 As for you, son of man, hear what I say to you; be not rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat what I give you.

9 And when I looked, behold, a hand was stretched out to me, and behold, a scroll of a book was in it.

10 And He spread it before me, and it was written within and on the back. And there were written in it words of lamentation and mourning and woe.

CHAPTER 3

HE said to me, Son of man, eat what you find [in this book]; eat this scroll, then go and speak to the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and He caused me to eat the scroll.

3 And He said to me, Son of man, eat this scroll that I give you and fill your stomach with it. Then I ate it, and it was as sweet as honey in my mouth.

4 And He said to me, Son of man, go, get you to the house of Israel, and speak to them with My words.

5 For you are not sent to a people of a foreign speech and of a difficult language, but to the house of Israel;

6 Not to many peoples of foreign speech and of a hard language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely, had I sent you to such people, they would have listened to you and heeded My words.

7 But the house of Israel will not listen to you and obey you, for they will not listen to Me and obey Me; for all the house of Israel are impudent and stubborn of heart.

8 Behold, I have made your face strong and hard against their faces, and your forehead strong and hard against their foreheads.

9 As an adamant harder than flint or a diamond point have I made your forehead; fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house. [Isa. 50:7; Jer. 1:18; 15:20; Mic. 3:8.]

10 Moreover He said to me, Son of man, all My words that I shall speak to you receive in your heart and hear with your ears.

11 And go, get you to the [Jewish] captives [in Babylon], to the children of your people, and speak to them, and tell them, Thus says the Lord God; whether they will hear or refuse to hear.

12 Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord, from His place [above the firmament].

13 I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched and joined each one the other [its sister wing]; and I heard the noise of the wheels beside them, and the noise of a great rushing.

14 So the Spirit lifted me up, and took me away [in the vision], and I went in bitterness of discouragement in the heat of my spirit; and the hand of the Lord was strong upon me.

15 Then I came to them of the captivity at Telabib, who sat and dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there among them seven days, overwhelmed with astonishment, and silent.

16 And at the end of seven days, the word of the Lord came to me:

17 Son of man, I have made you a watchman to the house of Israel; therefore hear the word at My mouth, and give them warning from Me. [Isa. 52:8; 56:10; 62:6; Jer. 6:17.]

18 If I say to the wicked, You shall surely die, and you do not give him warning or speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at your hand.

19 Yet if you warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness or from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you have delivered yourself.

20 Again, if a righteous man turns from his righteousness — right doing and right standing with God — and some gift or providence which I lay before him he perverts into an occasion to sin, and he commits iniquity, he shall die; because you have not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he has done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at your hand.

21 Nevertheless if you warn the righteous man not to sin, and he does not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; also you have delivered yourself from guilt.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there upon me; and He said to me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will talk with you there.

23 Then I arose and went forth into the plain, and behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, like the glory I had seen by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face.

24 Then the Spirit entered into me, and set me on my feet; He spoke and said to me, Go, shut yourself up in your house.

25 But you, O son of man, behold, ropes will be put upon you and you will be bound with them, and you cannot go out among people.

26 And I will make your tongue cleave to the roof of your mouth, so that you cannot talk and be a reprover of the people; for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth and you shall say to the people, Thus says the Lord God; he who hears, let him hear; and he who refuses to hear, let him refuse; for they are a rebellious house.

CHAPTER 4

AND you, son of man, take a tile and lay it before you, and make upon it a drawing of a city, even Jerusalem.

2 And put siege-works against it, and build a siege-wall against it, and cast up a mound against it; set camps also against it, and set battering rams against it round about.

3 Moreover take a plate of iron and place it for an iron wall between you and the city; and set your face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and you shall press the siege against it. This is a sign to the house of Israel.

4 Then [bound as you are] lie upon your left [and north] side, to bear symbolically the iniquity of the house of the ten tribes of Israel upon that side. According to the number of days that you shall lie upon it you shall bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon you the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days [for years]; so you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6 And when you have fulfilled the days for Israel, lie again, but on your right [and south] side, and you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days. I have appointed you one day for each year.

7 Therefore you shall set your face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and your arm shall be uncovered [ready for battle], and you shall prophesy against the city.

8 And, behold, I will lay bands upon you, and you shall not turn yourself from one side to another till you have ended the days of your siege.

9 Also take wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet and spelt, and put them into one vessel and make bread of them. According to the number of the days that you shall lie upon your side, three hundred and ninety days you shall eat of it.

10 And the food you eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels or a full half pound a day, to be eaten at a fixed time each day.

11 You shall drink water by measure also, about one quart or the sixth part of a hin; you shall drink at a fixed time each day.

12 And you shall eat your food as barley cakes, and you shall bake it with human dung as fuel in the sight of the people.

13 And the Lord said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the nations to whom I will drive them. [Hos. 9:3.]

14 Then said I, Ah Lord God! Behold, I have never defiled myself. From my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dies of itself or is torn in pieces; neither did there ever come abominable flesh into my mouth. [Acts 10:14.]

15 Then He said to me, Lo, I will let you use cow's dung instead of human dung, and you shall prepare your food with it.

16 Moreover He said to me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread [by which life is supported] in Jerusalem; and they shall eat bread rationed by weight and with carefulness, and they shall drink water rationed by measure, and with dismay [silent, speechless grief caused by the impending starvation]; [Lev. 26:26; Ps. 105:16; Isa. 3:1.]

17 In order that they may lack bread and water, and look at one another in dismay, and waste away [in their punishment] for their iniquity.

CHAPTER 5

AND you, son of man [Ezekiel], take a sharp sword and use it as a barber's razor and shave your head and your beard. Then take balances for weighing, and divide the hair into three parts.

2 You shall burn one third part with fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and you shall take a second third part and strike with the sword round about it; and a third part you shall scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 You shall also take from these a small number of hairs and bind them in the skirts of your robe.

4 And of these again take some hairs and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; from there a fire shall come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Thus says the Lord God: This is Jerusalem, in the center of the nations I have set her, and countries are round about her.

6 And she has changed and rebelled against My ordinances more wickedly than the [heathen] nations, and against My statutes more than the countries that are round about her; for [Israel] rejected My ordinances, and as for My statutes, they have not walked in them. [Rom. 2:14, 15.]

7 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you were more turbulent and raged [against Me] more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in My statutes, neither have kept My ordinances, nor have done according to the ordinances [concerning] the nations that are round about you; [Josh. 23:7; Judg. 2:2; Deut. 7:2-6.]

8 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I, even I, am against you, and I will execute judgments in the midst of you in the sight of the nations.

9 And because of all your abominations I will do in you that which I have not done, and the like of which I will never do again. [Lam. 4:6; Dan. 9:12; Amos 3:2.]

10 Therefore fathers shall eat their sons in your midst, and sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments on you, and all who are left of you I will scatter to all the winds. [Lev. 26:33; Deut. 28:64; Ezek. 12:14; Zech. 2:6.]

11 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord God, surely because you have defiled My sanctuary with all your detestable things, and with all your abominations, therefore will I also diminish you and withdraw My eye that it shall not spare you, and I also will have no pity.

12 And a third part of you shall die of pestilence and be consumed by famine in the midst of you: a third part shall fall by the sword round about you; and I will scatter a third part to all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall My anger be spent, and I will cause My wrath toward them to rest, and I will be eased and comforted. And they shall know, understand and realize that I, the Lord, have spoken in My zeal, when I have accomplished My wrath upon them. [Ezek. 36:6; 38:19.]

14 Moreover I will make you a desolation and a reproach among the nations that are round about you and in the sight of all who pass by. [Lev. 26:31, 32; Neh. 2:17.]

15 So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, a warning and a horror and an astonishment to the [heathen] nations around you, when I shall execute judgments upon you in anger and in wrath and in furious chastisements and rebukes — I, the Lord, have spoken it — [Deut. 28:37; Ps. 79:4; Jer. 24:9.]

16 When I shall loose against them the evil arrows of hunger, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you. And I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread.

17 And I will send upon you hunger and wild beasts, and they shall bereave you [of your loved ones]; and pestilence and blood shall pass through you, and I will bring the sword upon you. I, the Lord, have spoken it.

CHAPTER 6

AND the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, set your face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,

3 And say, You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God! Thus says the Lord God to the mountains and the hills, to the river ravines and the valleys: Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places [of idolatrous worship],

4 And your altars shall be made desolate, and your sun-pillars shall be broken in pieces, and I will cast down your slain before your idols. [Lev. 26:30.]

5 And I will lay the dead bodies of the children of Israel before their idols, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be made desolate, that your altars may bear their guilt and be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and destroyed, and your sun images may be hewn down and your handiworks may be wiped away and blotted out.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and you shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leave some of you alive. When you have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countries,

9 Then those of you who escape shall [earnestly] remember Me among the nations to which they shall be carried captive, how that I have been broken by their lewdness and have Myself broken their wanton heart which has departed from Me, and blinded their eyes which turn after their idols wantonly; and they shall be loathsome in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord. I have not said in vain that I would bring this evil calamity [in punishment] upon them.

11 Thus says the Lord God: Strike with your fist, stamp with your foot, and say, Alas! over all the vile abominations of the house of Israel, for which [Israel] shall fall by sword, by famine, and by pestilence.

12 He who is far off shall die of the pestilence, and he that is near shall fall by the sword, and he who remains and is preserved shall die by the famine. Thus will I accomplish My wrath upon them.

13 Then shall you know, understand and realize that I am the Lord, when their slain shall lie among their idols round about their altars upon every high hill, on all the tops of the mountains, under every green tree, and under every thickly leaved oak, the places where they were accustomed to offer sweet incense to all their idols.

14 And I will stretch out My hand upon them, and make the land desolate and waste, yes, more desolate than the wilderness toward Diblah [a Moabite city], throughout all their dwelling places; and they shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER 7

MOREOVER the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Also, son of man, thus says the Lord God to the land of Israel: An end! The end is come upon the four corners of the land. [Ezek. 11:13; Amos 8:2.]

3 Now is the end upon you, and I will send My anger upon you, and will judge you according to your ways, and will bring upon you retribution for all your abominations.

4 And My eye will not spare you, neither will I have pity; but I will bring recompense for your evil ways upon you, while your abominations are in the midst of you [calling down punishment from a righteous God]; and you shall know — recognize, understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

5 Thus says the Lord God: Behold, an evil is come, [an evil so destructive and injurious, so sudden and violent that it stands alone, not as a succession but as] only one evil.

6 An end is come! The end is come! The end [after sleeping so long] awakes against you. See, it comes!

7 Your turn — your doom — has come upon you, O inhabitant of the land, the time has come, the day is near, a day not of joyful shouting, but a day of tumult upon the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly pour out My wrath upon you, and finish spending My anger against you; and I will judge you according to your ways, and I will recompense you with punishment for all your abominations.

9 And My eye will not spare, nor will I have pity. I will punish you according to your ways while your abominations are right in the midst of you. And you shall know, understand and realize that it is I, the Lord, Who smites you.

10 Behold, the day! Behold, it comes! Your doom has gone forth, the rod has blossomed, pride has budded.

11 Violence has grown up into a rod of wickedness; none of [Israel] shall remain, nor of their abundance, nor of their wealth; neither shall there be pre-eminence among them or wailing for them.

12 The time has come, the day draws near. Let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn, for wrath is upon all their multitude.

13 For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, even were they yet alive. For the vision [of punishment] is touching [Israel's] whole multitude; he shall not come back, neither shall any strengthen himself whose life is in his iniquity.

14 They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but none goes to the battle, for My wrath is upon all their multitude.

15 The sword is without, and pestilence and famine are within. He who is in the field shall die by the sword, and him who is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour.

16 But those of them that escape shall escape, but shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, every one in his iniquity's punishment.

17 All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water. [Isa. 13:7; Jer. 6:24; Ezek. 21:7.]

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth; horror and dismay shall cover them, and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads [as evidence of grief].

19 They shall cast their silver into the streets, and their gold shall be discarded like an unclean thing or rubbish; their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord; they shall not satisfy their animal cravings nor fill their stomachs with them, for wealth has been the stumbling-block of their iniquity. [Prov. 11:4; Zeph. 1:18.]

20 As for the beauty of gold for ornament, they turned it to pride, and they made of it the images of their abominations [idols] and of their detestable things. Therefore I will make it to them as an unclean thing.

21 And I will give it for plunder into the hands of strangers, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil, and they shall profane it.

22 Also I will turn My face from them, and they shall profane My secret treasure, the temple; and robbers shall enter into it and profane it.

23 Prepare the chain [of imprisonment]; for the land is full of blood-guiltiness [murders committed with pretended formalities of justice], and the city is full of violence.

24 Therefore I will bring in the worst of the [heathen] nations, who will take possession of the houses [of the people of Judah]; I will also silence their strongholds and put an end to their proud might, and their holy places and those who sanctify them shall be profaned.

25 Distress, panic and destruction shall come, and they [of Judah] shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 Calamity shall come upon calamity, and rumor shall be upon rumor; and they shall seek a vision of the prophet; and the law and instruction shall cease from the [distracted] priest, and counsel from the [dismayed] elders. [Ps. 74:9; Lam. 2:9.]

27 The king [of Judah] shall wear mourning, and the prince shall clothe himself with garments of despair and desolation, while the hands of the people of the land shall tremble — palsied by terror; for I will do to them in accordance with their ways, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know, recognize and realize that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER 8

AND in the sixth year [of the captivity of King Jehoiachin], in the sixth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house [a captive of the Babylonians], with the elders of Judah sitting before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, a likeness of a Man with the appearance of fire; from His waist downward was like fire, and from His waist upward had the appearance of brightness like gleaming bronze.

3 And He put forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head; and the Spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heavens, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the entrance of the door of the inner [court] which faces toward the north, where is the seat of the idol-image of jealousy, which provokes to jealousy. [II Kings 16:10-16; 21:4, 5.]

4 And behold, there was the glory of the God of Israel [Who had loved and chosen them], like the vision I saw in the plain. [Ezek. 1:28; 3:22, 23.]

5 Then He [the Spirit] said to me, Son of man, now lift up your eyes toward the north. So I lifted up my eyes toward the north, and behold, on the north of the altar gate that idol-image of jealousy in the entrance.

6 Furthermore [the Spirit] said to me, Son of man, do you see what they are doing? The great abominations that the house of Israel is committing here to drive Me far from My sanctuary? But you shall again see greater abominations.

7 And He brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, there was a hole in the wall.

8 Then He said to me, Son of man, dig now in the wall; and when I had dug in the wall, behold, there was a door.

9 And He said to me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw there pictures of every form of creeping things, and loathsome beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, painted round about on the wall.

11 And there stood before these [pictures] seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan [the scribe], with every man his censor in his hand, and a thick cloud of incense was going up [in prayer to these their gods].

12 Then said He to me, Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his secret chambers of [idol] pictures? For they say, The Lord does not see us; the Lord has forsaken the land.

13 He said also to me, Yet again you shall see greater abominations which they are committing.

14 Then he brought me to the entrance of the north gate of the Lord's house; and behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz [a Babylonian god, who was supposed to die annually and subsequently be resurrected].

15 Then said [the Spirit] to me, Have you seen this, O son of man? Yet again you shall see greater abominations that they are committing.

16 And He brought me to the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the bronze altar, were about twenty-five men with their backs to the temple of the Lord and their faces toward the east, and they were bowing themselves toward the east and worshipping the sun.

17 Then [the Spirit] said to me, Have you seen this, O son of man? Is it too slight a thing to the house of Judah to commit the abominations which they commit here, that they must fill the land with violence, and turn back afresh to provoke Me to anger? And lo, they put the branch to their nose [actually, before their mouths, in superstitious worship]!

18 Therefore I will deal in wrath; My eye will not spare, nor will I have pity; and though they cry in My ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them. [Prov. 1:28; Isa. 1:15; Jer. 11:11; 14:12; Mic. 3:4; Zech. 7:13.]

CHAPTER 9

THE Spirit cried in my ears [in the vision] with a loud voice, saying, Cause those to draw near who have charge over the city [as executioners], every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And, behold, six men came from the direction of the upper gate, which faces north, every man with his battle-ax in his hand; and one man among them was clothed in linen, with a writer's ink bottle at his side. And they went in and stood beside the bronze altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel [the Shekinah, cloud] had gone up from the cherubim upon which it had rested to [stand above] the threshold of the [Lord's] house. And [the Lord] called to the man clothed with linen, who had the writer's ink [horn-] bottle at his side.

4 And the Lord said to him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men who sigh and groan over all the abominations that are committed in the midst of it.

5 And to the others He said in my hearing, Follow [the man with the ink bottle] through the city, and smite; let not your eye spare, neither have any pity.

6 Slay outright the elderly, the young man and the virgin, the infant and the women; but do not touch or go near any one on whom is the mark. Begin at My sanctuary. So they began with the old men who were in front of the temple [who did not have the Lord's mark on their foreheads]. [I Pet. 4:17.]

7 And He said to [the executioners], Defile the temple, and fill its courts with the slain. Go forth! And they went forth, and slew in the city.

8 And while they were slaying them, and I was left, I fell upon my face, and cried, Ah Lord God! Will you destroy all that is left of Israel in Your pouring out of Your wrath and indignation upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said He to me, The iniquity and guilt of the house of Israel and Judah are exceedingly great; the land is full of blood, and the city full of injustice and perverseness; for they say, The Lord has forsaken the land; the Lord does not see [what we are doing].

10 And as for Me, My eye will not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their wicked doings upon their own heads.

11 And, behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the ink bottle at his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as You have commanded me.

CHAPTER 10

THEN I looked, and behold, in the firmament that was over the heads of the cherubim there appeared above them something looking like a sapphire stone, in form resembling a throne.

2 And [the Lord] spoke to the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in among the whirling wheels under the cherubim; fill your hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and scatter them over the city. And he went in before my eyes. [Rev. 8:5.]

3 Now the cherubim stood on the south side of the house, when the man went in; and the [Shekinah] cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord mounted up from the cherubim to stand over the threshold of the [Lord's] house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the Lord's glory. [I Kings 8:10, 11; Ezek. 43:5.]

5 And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of God Almighty when He speaks. [Ps. 29:3, 4.]

6 And when He commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim, [the man] went in and stood beside a wheel.

7 And a cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim to the fire that was between the cherubim, and took some of it, and put it into the hands of the man clothed in linen, who took it and went out.

8 And the cherubim seemed to have the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And I looked, and behold, there were four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub; and the appearance of the wheels was like sparkling chrysolite.

10 And as for their appearance, they four looked alike, as if a wheel had been within a wheel.

11 When they went, they went in any one of the four directions [in which their four individual faces were turned]; they did not turn as they went, but to the place to which the front wheel faced the others followed; they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, their backs, their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As regarding the wheels [attached to them], they were called in my hearing the whirling wheels.

14 And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubim mounted upward. This is the same living creature [the four regarded as one] that I saw by the river Chebar [in Babylonia]. [Ezek. 1:5.]

16 And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels did not turn from beside them.

17 When those stood still, these stood still, and when those mounted up, these [the wheels] mounted up also; for the spirit of life was in these [wheels]. [Ezek. 1:21.]

18 Then the glory of the Lord [the Shekinah, cloud] went forth from above the threshold of the temple, and stood over the cherubim.

19 And the cherubim lifted up their wings and mounted up from the earth in my sight, and they went forth with the wheels beside them; and they stood at the entrance of the east gate of the house of the Lord, and [the Shekinah, cloud] the glory of the God of Israel was over them.

20 This is the living creature [of four combined creatures] that I saw beneath the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I knew that they were cherubim.

21 Each one had four faces and each one had four wings, and what looked like the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the same faces which I saw by the river Chebar, as regards their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

CHAPTER 11

MOREOVER the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me to the east gate of the Lord's house, which faces east. And behold, at the door of the gateway there were twenty-five men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2 Then [the Spirit] said to me, Son of man, these are the men who devise iniquity and give wicked counsel in this city;

3 Who say, The time is not near to build houses; this city is the boiling pot, and we are the flesh.

4 Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man!

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and He said to me, Speak. Say, Thus says the Lord: This is what you thought, O house of Israel; for I know the things that come into your mind.

6 You have multiplied your slain in this city, and you have filled its streets with the slain.

7 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Your slain whom you have laid in your midst, they are the flesh, and this city is the boiling pot; but you shall be brought forth out of the midst of it.

8 You have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, says the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you forth out of the midst of it, and deliver you into the hands of foreigners, and will execute judgments among you.

10 You shall fall by the sword; I will judge and punish you [before your neighbors] at the border or outside the land of Israel, and you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

11 This city shall not be your boiling pot, neither shall you be the flesh in the midst of it; I will judge you at the border or outside of Israel;

12 And you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord; for you have not walked in My statutes nor executed My ordinances, but have acted according to the ordinances of the nations around you.

13 And while I was prophesying, Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then I fell down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, Ah Lord God! will You make a complete end of the remnant of Israel?

14 And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

15 Son of man, your brethren, even your kindred, your fellow exiles and all the house of Israel, all of them, are they of whom the [present] inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, They have gone far from the Lord [and from this land], therefore this land is given to us for a possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus says the Lord God: Whereas I have removed [Israel] far off among the nations, and whereas I have scattered them among the countries, yet I have been to them a sanctuary for a little while in the countries to which they have come.

17 Therefore say, Thus says the Lord God: I will gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give back to you the land of Israel.

18 And when they return there they shall take away from it all traces of its detestable things and all its abominations — sex impurities and heathen religious practices.

19 And I will give them one heart — a new heart — and I will put a new spirit within them; and I will take the stony [unnaturally hardened] heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh [sensitive and responsive to the touch of their God]; [Ezek. 18: 31; 36:26; II Cor. 3:3.]

20 That they may walk in My statutes, and keep My ordinances, and do them. And they shall be My people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for those whose heart yearns for and goes after their detestable things and their loathsome abomi-nations [associated with idolatry], I will repay their deeds upon their own heads, says the Lord God.

22 Then the cherubim lifted up their wings, with the wheels which were beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel [the Shekinah, cloud] was over them.

23 Then the glory of the Lord rose up from over the midst of the city, and stood over the mountain which is on the east side of the city.

24 And the Spirit lifted me up and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to the exiles. Then the vision that I had seen went up from me.

25 And I told the exiles everything that the Lord had shown me.

CHAPTER 12

THE word of the Lord also came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, you dwell in the midst of the house of the rebellious, who have eyes to see and see not, who have ears to hear and hear not; for they are a rebellious house. [Mark 8:18.]

3 Therefore, son of man, prepare your belongings for removing and going into exile, and move out by day in their sight; and you shall remove from your place to another place in their sight. It may be they will consider and perceive that they are a rebellious house.

4 And you shall bring forth your baggage by day in their sight, as baggage for removing into exile; and you shall go forth yourself at evening in their sight, as those who go forth into exile.

5 Dig through the wall in their sight, and carry the stuff out through the hole.

6 In their sight you shall bear your baggage upon your shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark; you shall cover your face so that you cannot see the land; for I have set you as a sign for the house of Israel.

7 And I did as I was commanded. I brought forth my baggage by day, as baggage for exile, and in the evening I dug through the wall with my own hands. I brought out my baggage in the dark, carrying it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord to me, saying,

9 Son of man, has not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, asked you what you are doing?

10 Say to them, Thus says the Lord God: This oracle or revelation concerns the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel who are in it.

11 Say, I am your sign: as I have done, so shall it be done to them; into banishment, into captivity they shall go.

12 And the prince who is in their midst shall lift up his luggage to his shoulder in the dark, then shall he go forth. They shall dig through the wall to carry out through the hole in it. He shall cover his face because he will ^bnot see with his eyes the land.

13 My net also will I spread over him, and he shall be taken in My snare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he ^bnot see it, though he shall die there. [Jer. 52:7-11.]

14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know — recognize, understand and realize — that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations and disperse them in the countries.

16 But I will leave a few survivors who will escape the sword, the famine and the pestilence, that they may declare and confess all their [idolatrous] abominations among the nations to which they go, and [thus God's punishment of them will be justified before everyone and] they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

17 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, eat your bread with shaking, and drink water with trembling and with fearfulness;

19 And say to the people of the land, Thus says the Lord God concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem in the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with fearfulness, and drink water with dismay, for their land will be stripped and plundered of all its fullness, because of the violence of all those who dwell in it.

20 And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be deserted and become a desolation; and you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

21 And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

22 Son of man, what is this proverb that you have in the land of Israel, saying, The days drag on, and every vision comes to nothing and is not fulfilled?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus says the Lord God: I will put an end to this proverb and they shall use it no more as a proverb in Israel. But say to them, The days are at hand, and the fulfillment of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any false, empty and fruitless vision or flattering divination in the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord; I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed — come to pass; it shall be no more delayed or prolonged, for in your days, O rebellious house, I will speak the word and will perform it, says the Lord God.

^b) This prophecy was literally fulfilled as recorded in Jeremiah 52:7-11. King Zedekiah's eyes were put out in Riblah, Palestine, before he was carried to Babylon, where he died. Thus he did "not see it," though he died there.

26 Again the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

27 Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that [Ezekiel] sees is for many days to come, and he prophesies of the times that are far off.

28 Therefore say to them, Thus says the Lord God: There shall none of My words be deferred any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be performed, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 13

AND the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say to them that prophesy out of their own mind and heart, Hear the word of the Lord!

3 Thus says the Lord God: Woe to the foolish prophets, who follow their own spirit, and things they have not seen — and have seen nothing!

4 O Israel, your prophets have been like foxes among ruins and in waste places.

5 You have not gone up into the gaps or breeches, nor built up the wall for the house of Israel, that it might stand in the battle in the day of the Lord.

6 They have seen falsehood and lying divination, saying, The Lord says; but the Lord has not sent them. Yet they have hoped and made men to hope for the confirmation of their word.

7 Have you not seen a false vision, and have you not spoken a lying divination when you say, The Lord says, although I have not spoken?

8 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you have spoken empty, false and delusive words and have seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, says the Lord God.

9 And My hand shall be against the prophets who see empty, false and delusive visions, and who give lying prophesies. They shall not be in the secret council of My people, nor shall they be recorded in the register of the house of Israel, nor shall they enter into the land of Israel; and you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord God.

10 Because, even because they have seduced My people, saying, Peace, and there is no peace; and when one builds a [flimsy] wall, behold, [these prophets] daub it over with white-wash.

11 Say to them who daub it with whitewash that it shall fall! There shall be a downpour of rain, and you, O great hailstones, shall fall, and a violent wind shall tear apart [the white-washed, flimsy wall].

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, will you not be asked, Where is the coating with which you [prophets] daubed it?

13 Therefore thus says the Lord God: I will even rend it with a stormy wind in My wrath, and there shall be an overwhelming rain in My anger, and great hailstones in wrath to destroy [that wall].

14 So will I break down the wall that you have daubed with whitewash, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundations will be exposed; when it falls, you shall perish and be consumed in the midst of it. And you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish My wrath upon the wall, and upon those who have daubed it with whitewash, and I will say to you, The wall is no more, neither are they who daubed it, 16 The false prophets of Israel who prophesied deceitfully about Jerusalem, seeing visions of peace for her when there is no peace, says the Lord God.

17 And you, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people, who prophesy out of [the wishful thinking of] their own minds and hearts; prophesy against them,

18 And say, Thus says the Lord God: Woe to the women who sew pillows to all armholes and fasten magic, protective charms to all wrists, and deceptive veils upon the heads of those of every stature to hunt and capture human lives! Will you snare the lives of My people to keep your own selves alive?

19 You have profaned Me among My people [in payment] for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, slaying persons who should not die, and giving [a guaranty of] life to those who should not live, by your lying to My people, who give heed to lies.

20 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against your pillows and charms and veils, with which you snare human lives like birds, and I will tear them from your arms, and I will let the lives you hunt go free, the lives you are snaring like birds.

21 Your [deceptive] veils also will I tear, and deliver My people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted and snared. Then you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

22 Because with lies you have made the righteous sad and disheartened, whom I have not made sad or disheartened, and because you have encouraged and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way and be saved — in that you falsely promised him life;

23 Therefore you shall no more see false visions or practice divinations, and I will deliver My people out of your hand. Then you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER 14

THEN came certain of the elders of Israel to me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came to me:

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their hearts, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity and guilt before their faces; should I permit Myself to be inquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak to them, and say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Every man of the house of Israel who takes his idols [of self-will and unsubmissiveness] into his heart, and puts the stumblingblock of his iniquity [idols of silver and gold] before his face, and yet comes to the prophet to inquire of him, I the Lord will answer him, answer him according to the multitude of his idols;

5 That I may lay hold of the house of Israel in the thoughts of their own mind and heart, because they are all estranged from Me through their idols.

6 Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord God: Repent and turn away from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For any one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who sojourn in Israel, who separates himself from Me, taking his idols into his heart and putting the stumblingblock of his iniquity and guilt before his face, and yet comes to the prophet to inquire for himself of Me, I the Lord will answer him Myself!

8 And I will set My face against that [false worshiper], and will make him a sign and a byword, and I will cut him off from the midst of My people; and you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord.

9 [The prophet has not been granted permission to give an answer to the hypocritical inquirer] but if the prophet does give the man the answer he desires [thus allowing himself to be a party to the inquirer's sin], I the Lord will see to it that the prophet is deceived in his answer, and I will stretch out My hand against him, and will destroy him from the midst of My people Israel.

10 And they both shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the iniquity of the [presumptuous] prophet shall be the same as the iniquity of the [hypocritical] inquirer;

11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from Me, neither defile themselves any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be My people, and I may be their God, says the Lord God.

12 The word of the Lord came again to me, saying,

13 Son of man, when a land sins against Me by committing a trespass, and I stretch out My hand against it, and break its staff of bread and send famine upon it, and cut off from it man and beast;

14 Even if these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, they would save but their own lives by their righteousness — their uprightness and right standing with Me — says the Lord God.

15 If I cause ferocious and evil wild animals to pass through the land, and they ravage and bereave it, and it becomes desolate, so that no man may pass through because of the beasts;

16 Though these three men were in it, as I live, says the Lord God, they would deliver neither sons nor daughters; they themselves alone would be delivered, but the land would be desolate — laid waste and deserted.

17 Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land, so that I cut off man and beast from it;

18 Though these three men were in it, as I live, says the Lord God, they would deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they themselves alone would be delivered.

19 Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out My wrath upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast;

20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, says the Lord God, they would deliver neither son nor daughter; they would but deliver their own lives by their righteousness — their religious and moral rectitude in every area and relation.

21 For thus says the Lord God: How much more when I send My four sore acts of judgment upon Jerusalem, the sword and the famine and the evil wild beasts and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast! [Lev. 26: 21-33.]

22 And yet, behold, in it shall be left a remnant — an escaped portion, both sons and daughters. They shall be carried forth to you [in Babylon], and when you see their [ungodly] walk and their [wicked] doings, you will be consoled for the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall console you, when you see their evil ways and their rebellious actions. Then you shall know — understand and realize — that I have not done without cause all that I have done in Jerusalem, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 15

AND the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, What is the wood of the grapevine [Israel] more than that of any tree, the vine branch which was among the trees of the forest? [Ps. 80:8-13; Jer. 2:21.]

3 Shall wood be taken from it to do any work? Or will men take a peg of it on which to hang any vessel?

4 Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire consumes both ends of it, and the middle of it is charred. Is it suitable or profitable for any work?

5 Notice, even when it was whole it was good for no work; how much less shall it be useful and profitable when the fire has devoured it and it is charred?

6 Therefore thus says the Lord God:

Like the wood of the grapevine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give up the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And I will set My face against them; they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them; and you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord, when I set My face against them.

8 And I will make the land desolate — laid waste and deserted — because they have acted faithlessly [through their idolatry], says the Lord.

CHAPTER 16

AGAIN the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know, understand and realize, her [idolatrous] abominations [that they are] disgusting, detestable and shamefully vile.

3 And say, Thus says the Lord God to Jerusalem [representing Israel]: Your [spiritual] origin and your birth are thoroughly Canaanitish; your [spiritual] father was an Amorite, and your [spiritual] mother a Hittite. [Ezek. 16:45; John 8:44.]

4 And as for your birth, on the day you were born your navel cord was not cut, nor were you washed with water to cleanse you, nor rubbed with salt, nor swaddled with bands at all.

5 No eye pitied you, to do any of these things for you, to have compassion on you, but you were cast out in the open field, for your person was abhorrent and loathsome on the day that you were born.

6 And when I passed by you, and saw you rolling about in your blood, I said to you in your blood, Live! Yes, I said to you still in your natal blood, Live!

7 I caused you [Israel] to multiply as the bud which grows in the field, and you increased and became tall and you came to full maidenhood and beauty; your breasts were formed and your hair had grown, yet you were naked and bare.

8 Now I passed by you again, and looked upon you, behold, you were maturing and at the time for love; and I spread My skirt over you and covered your nakedness. Yes, I plighted My troth to you and entered into a covenant with you, says the Lord, and you became Mine.

9 Then I washed you with water; yes, I thoroughly washed away your [clinging] blood from you, and I anointed you with oil.

10 I clothed you also with embroidered cloth, and shod you with [fine seal] leather, and I girded you about with fine linen, and I covered you with silk.

11 I decked you also with ornaments, and I put bracelets on your wrists and a chain on your neck.

12 And I put a ring on your nostril and earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown upon your head!

13 Thus you were decked with gold and silver, and your raiment was of fine linen and silk and embroidered cloth; you ate fine flour and honey and oil. And you were exceedingly beautiful, and you prospered into royal estate.

14 And your renown went forth among the nations for your beauty; for it was perfect through My majesty and splendor which I had put upon you, says the Lord God.

15 But you trusted and relied on your own beauty, and were unfaithful to God and played the harlot [in idolatry] because of your renown, and poured out your fornications upon every one who passed by — worshipping the idols of every nation which prevailed over you; his it was.

16 And you took some of your garments and made for yourself gaily decorated high places or shrines, and played the harlot on them; things which should not come and that which should not take place.

17 You did also take your fair jewels and beautiful vessels of My gold and My silver which I had given you, and made for yourself images of men, and you played the harlot with them;

18 And you took your embroidered garments and covered them, and set My oil and My incense before them.

19 My bread also which I gave you, fine flour and oil and honey with which I fed you, you have even set it before the idols for a sweet odor. Thus it was, says the Lord God.

20 Moreover, you have taken your sons and your daughters whom you have borne to Me, and you have sacrificed them [to your idols] to be destroyed. Were your harlotries too little,

21 That you have slain My children, and delivered them up, in setting them apart and causing them to pass through the fire for [your idols]?

22 And in all your abominations and idolatrous whoredoms you have not [earnestly] remembered the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, rolling about in your natal blood.

23 And after all your wickedness (Woe, woe to you! says the Lord God), 24 You have built also for yourself a [brothel] vaulted chamber, and have made a high place [of idol worship] in every street.

25 At every crossway you built your high place [for idol worship], and have made your beauty an abomination — abhorrent, loathsome, extremely disgusting, and detestable; and you have made your body available to every passerby, and multiplied your [idolatry and spiritual] harlotry.

26 You have also played the harlot with the Egyptians, your neighbors, [by adopting their idolatries] whose worship is thoroughly sensuous; and you have multiplied your harlotry to provoke Me to anger.

27 Behold, therefore I have stretched out My hand against you, diminished your ordinary allowance of food, and delivered you over to the will of those who hate and despise you, the daughters of the Philistines, who turned away in shame from your despicable policy and lewd behavior [for they are faithful to their gods]!

28 You played the harlot also with the Assyrians, because you were unsatiable; yes, you played the harlot with them, and yet you were not satisfied.

29 Moreover you multiplied your harlotry with the land of trade, with Chaldea; and yet even with this you were not satisfied.

30 How weak and spent with longing and lust is your heart and mind, says the Lord God, seeing you do all these things, the work of a bold, domineering harlot;

31 In that you build your [brothel] vaulted place at the head of every street, and make your high place at every crossing. But you were not like a harlot, because you scorned pay.

32 Rather, you were as an adulterous wife, who receives strangers instead of her husband!

33 Men give gifts to all harlots; but you give your gifts to all your lovers, and hire them, bribing [the nations] [to ally themselves with you] that they may come to you on every side for your harlotries [your idolatrous unfaithfulnesses to God].

34 And you are different [the reverse] from other women in your harlotries, in that nobody follows you to lure you into harlotry, and in your giving hire when no hire is given you; and so you are different.

35 Therefore, O harlot [Israel], hear the word of the Lord.

36 Thus says the Lord God: Because your brass [coins and gifts] and your filthiness were emptied out and your nakedness uncovered through your harlotries with your lovers, and because of all the [filthy] idols of your abominations, and for the blood of your children that you gave to them,

37 Therefore, behold, I will gather all your lovers, with whom you have taken pleasure, and all those whom you have loved, with all those whom you have hated; I will even gather them [the allies you have courted] against you on every side, and will uncover your nakedness to them, that they may see all your nakedness [making you, Israel, an object of loathing and of mockery, a spectacle among the nations].

38 And I, the Lord, will judge you as women who break wedlock and shed blood are judged, and I will bring upon you the blood of [your divine Husband's] wrath and jealousy. [Num. 5:18.]

39 And I will also give you into the hand of those [your enemies] and they shall throw down your [brothel] vaulted place, and shall demolish your high places [of idolatry]; they shall strip you of your clothes and shall take your splendid jewels, and leave you naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring up a company against you, and they shall stone you with stones and hew down and thrust you through with their swords.

41 And they shall burn your houses with fire and execute judgments upon you before the eyes of many women spectators [the nations]. And I will cause you to cease playing the harlot, and you also shall give hire no more.

42 So will I make My wrath toward you to rest, and My jealousy shall depart from you [My adulterous wife], and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because you have not [earnestly] remembered the days of your youth, but have enraged Me with all these things, therefore, behold, I also will bring your deeds down on your own head, says the Lord God. Did you not commit this lewdness above and in addition to all your other abominations?

44 Behold, every one who uses proverbs will use this proverb against you, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 You are your [spiritual] mother's daughter, who loathes her husband and her children; and you are the sister of your sisters, who loathed their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amomite.

46 And your elder sister is Samaria, she and her daughters who dwelt in the north and at your left hand; and your younger sister, who dwelt in the south and at your right hand, is Sodom and her daughters.

47 Yet you were not satisfied to walk after their ways or to do after their abominations, but very soon you were more corrupt in all your ways than they were [for your sin, as those taught of God, is far blacker than theirs]. [Matt. 11:20-24.]

48 As I live, says the Lord God, Sodom your sister has not done, she nor her daughters, as you have done, you and your daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of your sister Sodom: pride, over-abundance of food, prosperous ease and idleness were hers and her daughters': neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abominable offenses before Me; therefore I removed them when I saw it and I saw fit. [Gen. 13:13; 18:20; 19:5.]

51 Neither has Samaria committed half of your sins, but you have multiplied your [idolatrous] abominations more than they, and have seemed to justify your sisters [Samaria and Sodom] in all their wickedness by all the abominable things which you have done — you even make them appear righteous in comparison with you.

52 Take upon you and bear your own shame and disgrace [in your punishment], you also, who called in question and judged your sisters, for you have virtually absolved them by your sins in which you behaved more abominably than they; they are more right than you. Yes, be ashamed and confounded and bear your shame and disgrace, you also, for you have seemed to justify your sisters and make them appear righteous.

53 I will restore them again from their captivity, restore the fortunes of Sodom and her daughters, and the fortunes of Samaria and her daughters, and I will restore your own fortunes in the midst of them [in the day of the Lord], [Isa. 1:9.]

54 That you, [Judah,] amid your shame and disgrace may be compelled to recognize your wickedness and be thoroughly ashamed and confounded at all you have done, becoming [converted and bringing] consolation and comfort to your sisters.

55 And your sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then you and your daughters shall return to your former estate.

56 For was your sister Sodom not mentioned by you except as a byword in the day of your pride, 57 Before your own wickedness was uncovered? Now you have become like her an object of reproach and a byword for the daughters of Syria and of Edom and for all who are round about them, and for the daughters of the Philistines, those round about who despise you.

58 You bear the penalty of your lewdness and your [idolatrous] abominations, says the Lord.

59 Yes, thus says the Lord God: I will even deal with you as you have done, who have despised the oath in breaking the covenant;

60 Nevertheless I will [earnestly] remember My covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish with you an everlasting covenant. [Ps. 106:45.]

61 Then you will [earnestly] remember your ways, and be ashamed and confounded, when you shall receive your sisters, both your elder and your younger; I will give them to you for daughters, but not on account of your covenant [with Me]. [John 10:16.]

62 And I will establish My covenant with you, and you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord; [Hos. 2:19,20.]

63 That you may [earnestly] remember and be ashamed and confounded, and never open your mouth again because of your shame, when I have forgiven you all that you have done, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 17

AND the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle and speak a parable or allegory to the house of Israel;

3 Say, Thus says the Lord God: A great eagle [Nebuchadnezzar] with great wings and long pinions, rich in feathers of various colors, came to Lebanon [symbolic of Jerusalem] and took the top of the cedar [tree].

4 He broke off [the youthful King Jehoiachin] the topmost of its young twigs and carried it into a land of trade [Babylon]; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seedlings of the land [Zedekiah, one of the native royal family], and planted it in fertile soil and a fruitful field; he placed it beside abundant waters, and set it as a willow tree [to succeed Zedekiah's nephew Jehoiachin in Judah, as vassal king].

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low [not Davidic] stature, whose branches turned [in submission] toward him, and its roots remained under and subject to him [the king of Babylon]; so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth leafy twigs.

7 There was also another great eagle [the Egyptian king] with great wings and many feathers; and behold, this vine [Zedekiah] bent its roots [languishingly] toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, away from the beds of its planting, for him to water.

8 Though it was planted in good soil where water was plentiful for it to produce leaves and to bear fruit, that it might become a splendid vine, it was transplanted.

9 Thus says the Lord God: Ask, Will it thrive? Will he [the insulted Nebuchadnezzar] not pluck up its roots and strip off its fruit so that all its fresh sprouting leaves will wither? It will not take a strong arm or many people to pluck it up by its roots [totally ending Israel's national existence]. [II Kings 25:1-7.]

10 Yes, behold, though transplanted, will it prosper? Will it not utterly wither, when the east wind touches it? It will wither in the furrows and beds where it sprouted and grew. [Hos. 13:9-12, 15.]

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Do you not know and realize what these things mean? Tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took its king [Jehoiachin] and its princes and brought them with him to Babylon. [II Kings 24:11-16.]

13 And he took one of the royal family [the king's uncle, Zedekiah] and made a covenant with him, putting him under oath. He also took the mighty and chief men of the land, [II Kings 24:17.]

14 That the kingdom might become low and base, and be unable to lift itself up, but that by keeping his [Nebuchadnezzar's] covenant it might stand.

15 But he [Zedekiah] rebelled against him [Nebuchadnezzar] in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Will he prosper? Will he escape who does such things? Can he break the covenant with [Babylon] and yet escape?

16 As I live, says the Lord God, surely in the place where the king [Nebuchadnezzar] dwells who made [Zedekiah vassal] king, whose oath [Zedekiah] despised, and whose covenant he broke, even with him in the midst of Babylon shall [Zedekiah] die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company help him in the war, when the [Babylonians] cast up mounds and build forts to destroy many lives.

18 For Zedekiah despised the oath and broke the covenant, and behold, he had given his hand, and yet has done all these things; he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus says the Lord God: As I live, surely My oath [made for Me by Nebuchadnezzar] that [Zedekiah] has despised and My covenant with him that he has broken, I will even bring down on his own head.

20 And I will spread My net over him, and he shall be taken in My snare, and I will bring him to Babylon and will enter into judgment and punishment with him there for his trespass and treason that he has committed against Me.

21 And all his fugitives [from Judah] in all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind. And you shall know — understand and realize — that I the Lord have spoken it.

22 Thus says the Lord God: I Myself will take a twig from the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it out; I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one and will plant it upon a mountain high and exalted. [Isa. 11:1, 10; Jer. 23:5; Zech. 3:8; Isa. 53:2.]

23 On the mountain height of Israel will I plant it; that it may bring forth boughs and bear fruit, and be a noble cedar; and under it shall dwell all birds of every feather; in the shade of its branches they shall nestle and find rest.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know — understand and realize — that I, the Lord, have brought low the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree flourish. I, the Lord, have spoken, and I will do it.

CHAPTER 18

THE word of the Lord came to me again, saying,

2 What do you mean by using this proverb concerning the land of Israel, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, says the Lord God, you shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is Mine; the soul that sins, it shall die. [Rom. 6:23.]

5 But if a man is [uncompromisingly] righteous — upright and in right standing with God — and does what is lawful and right,

6 And has not eaten [at the idol shrines] upon the mountains nor lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, has not defiled his neighbor's wife nor come near to a woman in her time of impurity,

7 And has not wronged any one, but has restored to the debtor his pledge, has taken nothing by robbery, but has given his bread to the hungry and has covered the naked with a garment,

8 Who does not charge interest or percentage of increase on what he lends [in compassion], who withholds his hand from iniquity, who executes true justice between man and man,

9 Who has walked in My statutes, and kept My ordinances, to deal justly; then he is [truly] righteous; he shall surely live, says the Lord God. [Ezek. 20:11; Amos 5:4.]

10 If he begets a son who is a robber, a shedder of blood, who does to a brother either of these sins of violence, 11 And leaves undone all of the duties [of a righteous man], but has even eaten [the food set before idols] on the mountains, and defiled his neighbor's wife,

12 Has wronged the poor and needy, has taken by robbery, has not restored [to the debtor] his pledge, has lifted up his eyes to the idols, has committed abomination (hateful and exceedingly vile in the eyes of God),

13 And has charged interest or percentage of increase on what he has loaned [in supposed compassion]; shall he then live? He shall not live! He has done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him.

14 But if this wicked man begets a son who sees all the sins which his father has committed, and considers and fears [God], and does not do like his father;

15 Who has not eaten [food set before idols] upon the mountains, nor has lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, has not defiled his neighbor's wife,

16 Nor wronged any one, nor has taken anything in pledge, nor has taken by robbery, but has given his bread to the hungry, and has covered the naked with a garment,

17 Who has withdrawn his hand from [oppressing] the poor, who has not received interest or increase [from the needy], but has executed My ordinances, and has walked in My statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father; he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, robbed his brother, and did that which is not good among his people, behold, he shall die for his iniquity and guilt.

19 Yet do you say, Why does not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son has done that which is lawful and right, and has kept all My statutes, and has done them, he shall surely live.

20 The soul that sins, it [is the one that] shall die. The son shall not bear and be punished for the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear and be punished for the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him only, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon the wicked only.

21 But if the wicked man turns from all his sins that he has committed and keeps all my statutes, and does that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die.

22 None of his transgressions which he has committed shall be remembered against him; for his righteousness which he has executed [for his religious and moral rectitude in every area and relation] he shall live.

23 Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked? says the Lord, and not rather that he should turn from his evil way and return [to his God] and live?

24 But if the righteous turns away from his righteousness, and commits iniquity and does according to all the abominations that the wicked man does, shall he live? None of his righteous deeds which he has done shall be remembered. In his trespass that he has trespassed, and in his sin that he has sinned, in them shall he die.

25 Yet you say, The way of the Lord is not fair and just. Hear now, O house of Israel: Is not My way fair and just? Are not your ways unfair and unjust?

26 When a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and committeth iniquity and dies in his sins, for his iniquity that he has done he shall die.

27 Again, when the wicked man turns away from his wickedness which he has committed and does that which is lawful and right, he shall save his life.

28 Because he considers and turns away from all his transgressions which he has committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die.

29 Yet says the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not fair and just! O house of Israel, are not My ways fair and just? Are not your ways unfair and unjust?

30 Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, says the Lord God. Repent, and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin; and so shall they not be a stumbling-block to you. [Matt. 3:2; Rev. 2:5.]

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, by which you have transgressed against Me, and make you a new mind and heart and a new spirit. For why will you die, O house of Israel? [Eph. 4:22, 23.]

32 For I have no pleasure in the death of him who dies, says the Lord God. Therefore turn — be converted — and live!

CHAPTER 19

MOREOVER take up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And say, What a lioness was your mother [Jerusalem-Judah]! She couched among lions; in the midst of young lions she nourished her cubs.

3 And she [the royal mother-city] brought up one of her cubs [Jehoahaz]: he became a young lion, and he learned to catch the prey; he devoured men. [II Kings 23:30, 32.]

4 The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with hooks to the land of Egypt. [II Chron. 36:1, 4.]

5 Now when she had waited, she saw her hope was lost. Then she took another of her cubs [Jehoiachin] and made him a young lion. [II Kings 23:34; 24:1, 6.]

6 And he [Jehoiachin] went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch prey, and he devoured men.

7 And he knew and ravaged their strongholds, and he laid waste their cities; and the land was appalled and all who were in it by the noise of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against [the king] on every side from the provinces, and they spread their net over him [Jehoiachin]; he was taken in their pit. [II Kings 24:8-15.]

9 With hooks they put him in a cage, and brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him into custody and put him in strongholds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

10 Your mother [the mother-city Jerusalem] was like a vine — like you [Zedekiah], and in your blood — planted by the waters; it was fruitful and full of branches by reason of abundant water. [II Kings 24:17; cf. Ezek. 17:7.]

11 And it had strong rods for the scepters of those who bore rule, and its height was exalted among the thick branches and into the clouds, and it was seen in its height among the multitude of its branches and was conspicuous.

12 But the vine was plucked up in God's wrath [by His agent the Babylonian king], and it was cast down to the ground; the east wind dried up its fruit, its strong rods were broken off and withered; the fire [of God's judgment] consumed them.

13 And now it is transplanted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land [Babylon].

14 And fire went out of a rod [Zedekiah] of its branches, which has consumed the vine's fruit, so that it has in it no longer a strong rod to be a scepter for ruling. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation and a dirge.

CHAPTER 20

IN the seventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month [after the beginning of the Babylonian captivity which was to last seventy years], certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the Lord, and sat down before me [Ezekiel, in Babylonia]. [Jer. 25:11; 29:10.]

2 Then came the word of the Lord to me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Have you come to inquire of Me? As I live, says the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you!

4 Will you judge them, [Ezekiel] son of man, will you judge them? Then cause them to know, understand and realize the abominations of their fathers. [Matt. 23:29-33; Acts 7:51, 52.]

5 And say to them, Thus says the Lord God: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up My hand and swore to the offspring of the house of Jacob, and made Myself known to them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up My hand and swore to them, saying, I am the Lord your God,

6 On that day I lifted up My hand and swore to them to bring them out of the land of Egypt to a land that I had searched out for them, flowing with milk and honey, a land which is an ornament and a glory to all lands.

7 Then said I to them, Let every man cast away the abominable things on which he feasts his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against Me and would not listen to Me; they did not every man cast away the abominable things on which they feasted their eyes, nor did they forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I [thought], I will pour out My wrath upon them and finish My anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I acted for My name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the [heathen] nations among whom they dwelt, in whose sight I made Myself known to them, in bringing them out of the land of Egypt.

10 So I caused them to go out from the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them My statutes, and showed and made known to them My judgments, which if a man keep, he must live in and by them.

12 Moreover also I gave them My sabbaths, to be a sign between Me and them, that they might understand and realize that I am the Lord Who sanctifies them — separates and sets them apart.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against Me in the wilderness: they walked not in My statutes, and they despised and cast away My judgments, which if a man keep, he must even live in and by them; and they grievously profaned My sabbaths. Then I thought I would pour out My wrath on them in the wilderness and uproot and consume them.

14 But I acted for My name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the [heathen] nations in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also I lifted up My hand to swear to them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the ornament and glory of all lands;

16 Because they despised and rejected My ordinances, and walked not in My statutes, and profaned My sabbaths, for their heart went after their idols.

17 Yet My eye pitied instead of destroying them, and I did not make a full end of them in the wilderness.

18 But I said to their sons in the wilderness, You shall not walk in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their ordinances, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

19 I the Lord am your God; walk in My statutes, and keep My ordinances,

20 And hallow — separate and keep holy — My sabbaths, and they shall be a sign between Me and you, that you may know, understand and realize that I am the Lord your God.

21 Yet the sons rebelled against Me; they walked not in My statutes, neither kept My ordinances, which if a man does, he must live in and by them; they profaned My sabbaths. Then I thought I would pour out My wrath on them and finish My anger against them in the wilderness.

22 Yet I withheld My hand and acted for My name's sake, that it should not be debased and profaned in the sight of the [heathen] nations, in whose sight I had brought them forth [from bondage].

23 Moreover I lifted up My hand and swore to them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the [heathen] nations and disperse them in the countries;

24 Because they had not executed My ordinances, but had despised and rejected My statutes, and had profaned My sabbaths, and their eyes were set on their fathers' idols.

25 Wherefore also I gave them [over to] statutes that were not good, and ordinances whereby they should not live and could not have life; [Ps. 81: 12; Isa. 66:4; Rom. 1:21-25, 28.]

26 And I [let them] pollute and make themselves unclean in their own offerings [to their idols], in that they caused to pass through the fire all the first-born, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know, understand and realize that I am the Lord. [Lev. 20:2-5.]

27 Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel, and say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Again in this your fathers blasphemed Me, in that they dealt faithlessly and treacherously with Me and committed a treasonous trespass against Me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, which I lifted up My hand and swore to give to them, then they saw every high hill and every dark and leafy tree [as a place for idol worship], and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering that provoked My anger and sadness; there also they made their sweet-smelling savor, and poured out there their drink offerings.

29 Then I said to them, What is the high place to which you go? And the name of it is called Bamah or High Place to this day.

30 Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord God: Do you exiles debase and defile yourselves after the manner of your fathers? And do you play the harlot after their loathsome and detestable things?

31 And when you offer your gifts, when you make your sons pass through the fire, do you not debase and defile yourselves with all your idols to this day? And shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, says the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you!

32 And that which has come up in your mind shall never happen, in that you think, We will be as the nations, as the tribes of the countries, to serve idols of wood and stone.

33 As I live, says the Lord God, surely with a mighty hand and a stretched out arm, and with wrath poured out, will I be King over you.

34 And I will bring you out from the peoples and will gather you out of the countries in which you are scattered, with a mighty hand and a stretched out arm, and with wrath poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there will I enter into judgment with you and contend with you face to face.

36 As I entered into judgment and contended with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I enter into judgment and contend with you, says the Lord God. [Num. 11; Ps. 106:15; I Cor. 10:5-10.]

37 And I will cause you to pass under the rod [as the shepherd does his sheep when he counts them, and I will count you as Mine, and I will constrain you] and bring you into the covenant to which you are permanently bound. [Lev. 27:32.]

38 And I will purge out and separate from among you the rebels and those who transgress against Me; I will bring them out of the country where they temporarily dwell, but they shall not enter the land of Israel. Then you shall know, understand, and realize that I am the Lord. [Heb. 4:2, 3.]

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus says the Lord God: Go, serve every one of you his idols, now and hereafter, if you will not listen to Me! But you shall not profane My holy name any more with your sacrificial gifts and your idols!

40 For on My holy mountain, on the mountain height of Israel, says the Lord God, there all the house of Israel, all of them in the land, shall serve Me. There will I [graciously] accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first fruits and the choicest of your contributions, with all your sacred things.

41 I will accept you [graciously] as a pleasant odor, when I lead you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries in which you have been scattered; and I will manifest My holiness among you in the sight of the nations [who will seek Me because of My power displayed in you]. [Eph. 5:2; Phil. 4:18.]

42 And you shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord, when I bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I lifted up My hand and swore to give to your fathers.

43 And there you shall [earnestly] remember your ways, and all your doings, with which you have defiled yourselves, and you shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evil deeds which you have done.

44 And you shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord, when I deal with you for My name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel, says the Lord God.

45 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

46 Son of man, set your face toward the south, preach against the south, and prophesy against the forest land of the south — the Negeb.

47 And say to the forest of the Negeb, Hear the word of the Lord: Thus says the Lord God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in you, and it shall devour every green tree in you and every dry tree. The blazing flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be scorched by it.

48 All flesh shall see that I the Lord have kindled it; it shall not be quenched.

49 Then said I, Ah Lord God! They are saying of me, Does he not speak in parables and make allegories?

CHAPTER 21

AND the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, set your face toward Jerusalem and direct your [prophetic] word against the holy places; prophesy against the land of Israel

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am against you, and will draw forth My sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked.

4 Because I will cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go out of its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north;

5 And all living shall know, understand and realize that I the Lord have drawn My sword out of its sheath; it shall not be sheathed any more.

6 Sigh therefore, son of man, with breaking heart and with bitterness shall you sigh before their eyes.

7 And it shall be, when they say to you, Why do you sigh? that you shall answer, Because of the tidings. When it comes, every heart will melt and all hands will be feeble and every spirit will faint and all knees will be weak as water. Behold, it comes, and it shall be fulfilled, says the Lord God.

8 Again the word of the Lord came to me:

9 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord: Say, A sword, a sword is sharpened and also polished:

10 It [the sword of Babylon] is sharpened that it may make a slaughter; polished that it may flash and glitter like lightning! Shall we then rejoice and make mirth [when such a calamity is impending]? But the rod or scepter of My son [Judah] rejects and views with contempt every tree [that is, since God's promise long ago to Judah is certain, he believes Judah's scepter must remain no matter what power arises against it]! [Gen. 49:9, 10; II Sam. 7:23.]

11 And the sword [of Babylon] is given to be polished, that it may be put to use; the sword is sharpened and polished to be given into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry and wail, son of man, for it is against My people; it is against all the princes of Israel; they are thrown to the sword along with My people, and terrors by reason of the sword are upon My people. Therefore smite your thigh in dismay.

13 For this sword has been tested and proved [on others], and what if the rejecting and despising rod or scepter of Judah shall be no more, but completely swept away? says the Lord God.

14 Therefore, son of man, prophesy and smite your hands together, and let the sword be doubled, yes, trebled in intensity; the sword for those to be overthrown and pierced through; it is the sword of great slaughter which encompasses them [so that none can escape] — even entering into their inner chambers.

15 I have set the threatening and glittering sword against all their gates, that their hearts may melt and their stumblings be multiplied. Ah! it is made to flash like lightning, it is pointed and sharpened for slaughter.

16 Turn, [O sword,] and cut right or cut left, whichever way your lust for blood and your edge direct you.

17 I will also clap My hands, and I will cause My wrath to rest. I the Lord have said it.

18 The word of the Lord came to me again, saying,

19 Also, son of man, mark out two ways by which the sword of the king of Babylon may come; both shall come forth from the same land. And make a signpost — a hand; make it at the head of the way to a city.

20 You shall point out a way for the [Babylonian] sword to come to Rab-bah [capital] of the sons of Ammon, and to Judah with Jerusalem, the fortified and inaccessible.

21 For the king of Babylon stands at the parting of the way, at the fork of the two ways, to use divination. He shakes the arrows to and fro, he consults the teraphim, he looks at the liver.

22 In his right hand is the lot marked for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth calling for slaughter, to lift up the voice with a war cry, to set battering rams against the gates, to cast up siege mounds and to build siege towers.

23 And it shall seem like a lying divination to them who have sworn oaths [of allegiance to Nebuchadnezzar]. [Will he now fight against their homeland?] But he will remind them of their guilt and iniquity [in violating those oaths] that they may be caught. [II Chron. 36:10, 13; Ezek. 17:15, 18, etc.]

24 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you have made your guilt and iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are uncovered, so that in all your doings your sins appear; because, I say, that you are come to remembrance, you shall be taken with the enemy's hand.

25 And you, O dishonored and wicked one [Zedekiah], the prince of Israel, whose day will come at the time of your final reckoning and punishment, 26 Thus says the Lord God: Remove the [high priest's] miter or headband, and take off the [king's] crown; things shall not remain as they have been; the low is to be exalted and the high is to be brought low.

27 I will overthrow, overthrow, overthrow it; this also shall be no more until He comes Whose right it is [to reign in judgment and in righteousness], and I will give it to Him. [Gen. 49:10; Isa. 9:6, 7; 11:1-4; Dan. 7:14; Luke 1:31-33.]

28 And you, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord God concerning the sons of Ammon, and concerning their reproach: say, A sword, a sword is drawn for the slaughter; it is polished, to cause it to devour to the uttermost and to flash like lightning;

29 While they see for you false visions, while they divine lies for you, to lay you [of Ammon] upon the headless trunks of those who are slain, of the wicked whose day is coming at the time of the final reckoning and punishment.

30 Return the sword to its sheath. In the place where you were created, in the land of your origin and of your birth, I will judge you.

31 And I will pour out My indignation upon you [O sons of Ammon], I will blow upon you with the fire of My wrath, and will deliver you into the hand of brutish men, skillful to destroy.

32 You shall be for fuel to the fire; your blood shall be in the midst of the land; you shall be no more remembered; for I the Lord have spoken it. [Ezek. 25:1-7; Jer. 49:1-6; Amos 1:13-15; Zeph. 2:8-11.]

CHAPTER 22

MOREOVER the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 And you [Ezekiel], son of man, will you judge, will you judge the blood-shedding city? Then cause her to know all her abominations.

3 And say, Thus says the Lord God: A city that sheds blood in the midst of her, so that her time [of doom] will come, and makes idols [over those who worship them] to defile her!

4 In your blood which you have shed you have become guilty, and you are defiled by the idols which you have made; and you have caused your time [of judgment and punishment] to draw near, and have arrived at the full measure of your years. Therefore have I made you a reproach to the [heathen] nations, and for a mocking to all countries.

5 Those who are near and those who are far from you will mock you, you infamous one, full of tumult.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel in you, every one according to his power, have been intending to shed blood.

7 In you have they treated father and mother lightly; in the midst of you they have dealt unjustly and by oppression in relation to the stranger; in you they have wronged the fatherless and the widow.

8 You have despised and scorned My sacred things and have profaned My sabbaths.

9 In you are slanderous men who arouse suspicions to shed blood, and in you are they who have eaten [food offered to idols] upon the mountains; in the midst of you they have committed lewdness.

10 In you men have uncovered the nakedness of mother or step-mother — their fathers' nakedness; in you they have humbled women who are cere- monially unclean [during their periods or because of childbirth].

11 And one has committed abomi- nation with his neighbor's wife, and another has lowly defiled his daugh- ter-in-law, and another in you has humbled his sister, his father's daugh- ter.

12 In you they have accepted bribes to shed blood; you have taken [for- bidden] interest and [percentage of] increase, and you have greedily gained from your neighbors by oppression and extortion, and have forgotten Me, says the Lord God.

13 Behold, therefore, I have struck My hands together at your dishonest gain which you have made, and at the blood which has been in the midst of you.

14 Can your heart and courage en- dure, or can your hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with you? I the Lord have spoken it, and I will do it.

15 And I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you through the countries, and I will consume your filthiness out of you.

16 And you shall be dishonored and profaned yourself in the sight of the nations, and you shall know — under- stand and realize — that I am the Lord.

17 And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, the house of Israel has become to Me scum and waste matter. All of them are bronze and tin and iron and lead in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you have all become scum and waste matter, behold, there- fore I will gather you [O Israel] into the midst of Jerusalem.

20 As they gather silver and bronze and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it in order to melt it; so will I gather you in My anger and in My wrath, and I will put you in and melt you.

21 Yes, I will gather you, and blow upon you with the fire of My wrath, and you shall be melted in the midst of it.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall you be melted in the midst of it, and you shall know, understand and realize that I the Lord have poured out My wrath upon you [O Israel].

23 And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

24 Son of man, say to her, You are a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 There is a conspiracy of [Israel's false] prophets in the midst of her, like a roaring lion tearing the prey; they have devoured human lives; they have taken [in their greed] treasure and precious things; they have made many widows in the midst of her.

26 Her priests have done violence to My law and have profaned My holy things. They have made no distinction between the sacred and the secular, neither have they taught people the difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from My sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her princes in the midst of her are like wolves rending and devouring the prey, shedding blood and destroying lives to get dishonest gain.

28 And her prophets have daubed for them with whitewash, seeing false visions and divining lies to them, saying, Thus says the Lord God, when the Lord has not spoken.

29 The people of the land have used oppression and extortion and have committed robbery, yes, they have wronged and vexed the poor and needy; yes, they have oppressed the stranger and temporary resident wrongfully.

30 And I sought for a man among them who should build up the wall, and stand in the gap before Me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out My indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of My wrath; their own way have I repaid by bringing it upon their own heads, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 23

THE word of the Lord came again to me:

2 Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother;

3 And they played the harlot in Egypt; there they played the harlot in their youth; there their bosoms were pressed, and there their virgin breasts were handled.

4 And the names of them were Aholah the elder and Aholibah her sister; and they became Mine, and they bore sons and daughters. As for the identity of their names, Aholah is Samaria, and Aholibah is Jerusalem.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was Mine, and she was foolishly fond of her lovers, and doted on the Assyrians her neighbors,

6 Who were clothed with blue, governors and deputies, all of them attractive young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 And she bestowed her harlotries upon them, the choicest men of Assyria all of them; and on whomever she doted, with all their idols she defiled herself.

8 Neither has she left her harlotries since the days of Egypt — from which she brought them; for in her youth men there lay with her and handled her girlish bosom, and they poured out their sinful desire upon her.

9 Wherefore I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians upon whom she doted.

10 These uncovered her nakedness and shame; they took her sons and her daughters, and they slew her with the sword; and her name became notorious and a byword among women, when judgments were executed upon her.

11 And her sister Aholibah saw this, yet she was more corrupt in her foolish fondness than she, and in her harlotries she was more wanton than her sister in her harlotries.

12 She doted upon the Assyrians, governors and deputies, her neighbors, clothed most gorgeously; horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 And I saw that she was defiled, that both [of the sisters] took one way.

14 But [Aholibah] carried her harlotries further, for she saw men pictured upon the wall, the pictures of the Chaldeans sketched in bright red pigment,

15 Girded with girdles on their loins, with flowing turbans on their heads, all of them looking like officers, a picture of Babylonian men whose native land was Chaldea, 16 Then as soon as she saw [the sketches of] them, she doted on them, and sent messengers to them in Chaldea.

17 And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their evil desire, and when she was polluted by them, she [Jerusalem] broke the relationship and pushed them away from her in disgust.

18 So she flaunted her harlotries and exposed her nakedness, and I was disgusted and turned from her, as I had turned in disgust from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her harlotries, remembering the days of her youth in which she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon her paramours there, whose lust was as sensuous and vulgar as that of asses or stallions.

21 Thus you yearned for the lewdness of your youth, when those of Egypt handled your bosom on account of your girlish breasts.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will rouse up your lovers against you, from whom you turned in disgust, and I will bring them against you on every side:

23 The Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa; and all the Assyrians with them, desirable young men, governors and officers all of them, princes, men of renown and counselors, all of them riding on horses.

24 And they shall come against you with weapons, chariots, wagons and wheels, and with a host of infantry, which shall array themselves against you with buckler and shield and helmet round about; and I will commit the judgment and punishment to them, and they shall judge and punish you according to their [heathen] customs in such matters.

25 And I will set My jealous indignation against you, and they shall deal with you in fury: they shall take away your nose and your ears, and those who are left of you shall fall by the sword; they shall take your sons and your daughters, and the remainder shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip you of your clothes, and take away your fine jewels, [Judah].

27 Thus I will put an end to your lewdness and your harlotry brought from the land of Egypt; so that you will not lift up your eyes to them, nor [earnestly] remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will deliver you into the hand of those whom you hate, into the hand of those from whom you turned away in disgust.

29 They shall deal with you in hatred, and shall take away all [the evenings of] your labor, and shall leave you naked and bare, and the nakedness of your harlotry shall be uncovered, both your lewdness and your wanton ways.

30 These things shall be done to you because you have played the harlot after the nations, and because you have defiled yourself with their idols.

31 You have walked in the way of your sister [Samaria, Israel's capital], therefore I will give her cup into your hand.

32 Thus says the Lord God: You shall drink of your sister's cup which is deep and wide and brimful; you shall be laughed to scorn and held in derision, for it contains much — too much to endure.

33 You shall be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of wasting astonishment and horror and desolation, with the cup of your sister Samaria.

34 You shall drink it and drain it out, and then gnaw the pieces of it [which in your drunkenness you have broken], and shall tear your own breasts; for I have spoken it, says the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you have forgotten Me [your divine Husband] and cast Me behind your back, therefore bear also [the consequences of] your lewdness and your harlotry.

36 The Lord said moreover to me: Son of man, will you judge Aholah and Aholibah? Then declare and show to them their abominations — the detestable, loathsome and shamefully vile things they do;

37 That they have committed adultery, and blood is on their hands, even with their idols have they committed adultery [against Me]. And they have also caused their sons, whom they bore to Me, to pass through the fire to their images [as an offering of food] to be devoured [by them].

38 Moreover this they have done to Me, they have defiled My sanctuary on the same day [of their idolatries] and have profaned My sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children [as offerings] to their idols, then they came the same day into My sanctuary to profane it [by daring to offer sacrifice there also]! And lo, thus have they done in the midst of My house!

40 And furthermore, you have sent for men to come from far, to whom a messenger was sent; and lo, they came. For whom you washed yourself, painted your eyelids and decked yourself with ornaments;

41 And you sat upon a stately couch, with a table spread before it, upon which you set My incense and My oil.

42 And the sound of a careless crowd was with her; and with men of the common sort were brought drunkards from the wilderness, who put bracelets upon the hands of both sisters, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then I said of [Aholah] worn out with adulteries, Will they now play the harlot with her that is old, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in to her, as they go in to a woman who plays the harlot; so they went in to Aholah and to Aholibah [Israel and Judah], the lewd women.

45 And the righteous men, they shall judge and condemn them to the punishment due to adulteresses, to women who shed blood, for they are adulteresses, and blood is upon their hands.

46 For thus says the Lord God: I will bring up a host upon them, and will give them over to be tossed to and fro and robbed.

47 And the host shall stone them with stones and cut them down with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.

49 Thus your lewdness shall be recompensed upon you, and you shall suffer the penalty for your sinful idolatry; and you shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord God.

CHAPTER 24

AGAIN in the ninth year [of King Jehoiachin's captivity by Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon], in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, record the name of the day, even of this same day; the king of Babylon set himself against and assailed Jerusalem this same day.

3 And utter a parable against the rebellious house [of Judah] and say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it.

4 Put into it the pieces [of meat], all the good pieces, the thigh and the shoulder; fill it with the choice of the bones.

5 Take the choicest of the flock, and burn also the unused bones under it, and make it boil well, and seethe its bones in [the pot].

6 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose rust and scum are in it, and whose rust and scum have not gone out of it! Take out of it piece by piece, without making any choice.

7 For the blood she has shed remains in the midst of her; she put it upon the bare rock; she did not pour it on the ground to cover it with dust.

8 That it may cause wrath to come up to take vengeance, I have put her blood [guilt for her children sacrificed to Molech] upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Woe to the blood-guilty city! Also I will make the pile [of fuel] great.

10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire and make it hot, boil well the meat and mix the spices, pour out the broth when thick, and let the bones be burned up.

11 Then set [the pot Jerusalem] back empty upon the coals, that the bronze of it may be hot and may glow, and the filthiness of it may be melted in it, and the rust and scum of it may be consumed.

12 She has wearied herself and Me with toil, yet her great rust and scum go not forth out of her; for however hotly the fire burns, her thick rust and filth will not go out of her by fire.

13 In your filthiness is abomination, and therefore because I would have cleansed you and you were not cleansed, you shall not be cleansed from your filthiness any more until I have satisfied My wrath against and upon you.

14 I the Lord have spoken it; it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I relent; according to your ways and according to your doings shall they judge and punish you, says the Lord God.

15 Also the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

16 Son of man [Ezekiel], behold, I take away from you the desire of your eyes [your wife] at a single stroke. Yet you shall neither mourn nor weep, neither shall your tears flow.

17 Sigh and groan, but not aloud — be silent; make no mourning for the dead, bind your turban upon your head and put your shoes on your feet, and do not cover your beard or eat the bread of mourners [furnished by others].

18 So I spoke to the people in the morning, and in the evening my wife died; and I did the next morning as I was commanded.

19 And the people said to me, Will you not tell us what these things are supposed to mean to us, that you are acting as you do?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came to me, saying,

21 Speak to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will profane My sanctuary, [in which you take] pride as your strength, the desire of your eyes, and the pity and sympathy of your soul — that you would spare with your life; and your sons and your daughters whom you have left behind shall fall by the sword.

22 And you shall do as I [Ezekiel] have done; you shall not cover your beard nor eat the bread of mourning [brought you by others];

23 And your turbans shall be upon your heads and your shoes upon your feet; you shall not mourn or weep, but you shall pine away for your iniquities — your guilt — and sigh and groan to one another. [Lev. 26:39.]

24 Thus Ezekiel is to you a sign; according to all that he has done you shall do. And when this [destruction of the temple] comes, you shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord God [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

25 And you, son of man [Ezekiel], on the day when I take from them [My temple] their strength and their stronghold, their joy and their glory, the delight of their eyes and their hearts' chief desire, and also take their sons and their daughters, 26 On that day an escaped fugitive shall come to you to cause you to hear of it [the destruction of Jerusalem] with your own ears.

27 In that day your mouth shall be open to him who has escaped, and you shall speak and be no more speechless; and you shall be a sign to them, and they shall know, understand and realize, that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER 25

THE word of the Lord came again to me, saying,

2 Son of man, set your face toward the Ammonites and prophesy against them.

3 And say to the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord God, for thus says the Lord God: Because you said, Aha! over My sanctuary when it was profaned, and over the land of Israel when it was made desolate, and over the house of Judah when it went into captivity and exile;

4 Therefore behold, I am delivering you to the people of the East for a possession, and they shall set their encampments among you and make their dwellings in your midst; they shall eat your fruit, and they shall drink your milk.

5 And I will make Rabbah [your chief city] a stable for camels, and the cities of the Ammonites a fold for flocks. And you shall know, understand and realize, that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

6 For thus says the Lord God: Because you have clapped your hands and stamped with the feet and rejoiced in heart with all the contempt, malice and spite that is in you against the land of Israel,

7 Therefore, behold, I have stretched out My hand against you and will hand you over for a prey and a spoil to the nations, and I will cut you off from the peoples and will cause you to perish and be lost out of the countries; I will destroy you. Then will you know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service]. [Ezek. 21:28-

c) On the basis of the fact that God uses it oftener than any other important word in the Bible, the word "Lord" becomes the most essential term in any language to the welfare of any person. It is not enough that one knows God is God, for only a fool would deny that (Ps. 53:1), but God demands of every person who is to be recognized by Him that he accept Him as Lord of his life, his Sovereign Ruler, to Whom he yields implicit obedience. When Thomas was able to say of Jesus, "My Lord and my God!" (John 20:28) his doubts ceased to exist. Nothing short of that meets God's demands. Watch for the word "Lord" in the Bible; it occurs around 5,000 times by actual count.

32; Jer. 49:1-6; Amos 1:13-15; Zeph. 2:8-11.]

8 Thus says the Lord God: Because Moab says, as does Seir [Edom], Behold, the house of Judah is like all the [heathen] nations, 9 Therefore, behold, I will lay open the flank of Moab from the cities, from its cities on its frontiers and in every quarter, the glory of the country, Bethjeshimoth, Baalmeon, and Kiria-thaim.

10 I will give it along with the children of Ammon to the people of the East for a possession, that it and the children of Ammon may not be [any more seriously] remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments and punishments upon Moab; and they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service]. [Isa. 15 and 16; Jer. 48; Amos 2:1-3; Zeph. 2:8-11.]

12 Thus says the Lord God: Because Edom has dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance and has greatly offended and has become doubly guilty by himself taking revenge upon them,

13 Therefore thus says the Lord God: I will also stretch out My hand against Edom, and will cut off and root out man and beast from it; and I will make it desolate; from Teman even to Dedan they shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will lay My vengeance upon Edom by the hand of My people Israel; and they shall do upon Edom according to My anger and according to My wrath; and they shall know My vengeance, says the Lord God. [Ezek. 35; Isa. 34; Amos 1:11, 12; Obad.]

15 Thus says the Lord God: Because the Philistines have dealt revengefully and have taken vengeance contemptuously, with malice and spite in their hearts, to destroy in perpetual enmity;

16 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will stretch out My hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites [an immigration in Philistia] and destroy the remainder of the seacoast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance upon them with wrathful rebukes and chastisements; and they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord, when I lay My vengeance upon them. [Isa. 14:29-31; Jer. 47; Amos 1:6-8; Zeph. 2:4-7; Zech. 9:5-7.]

CHAPTER 26

AND in the eleventh year, on the first day of the month [after the carrying away of King Jehoiachin], the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, because Tyre has said against Jerusalem, Aha! She is broken that has been the gate of the people: she is open to me [Tyre]; I shall become full, now that she is desolate and a waste land,

3 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against you, O Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against you, as the sea mounts up by its waves.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers: I will also 'scrape her dust from her, and make her bare like the top of a rock.

5 Her island in the midst of the sea shall become a place for the spreading of nets, for I have spoken it, says the Lord God; and she shall become a spoil and a prey to the nations.

6 And Tyre's daughters [her towns and villages on the mainland] in the level place shall be slain by the sword, and they shall know — understand

d) To prevent Nebuchadnezzar from getting her valuables, Tyre transported herself to an island a half mile out in the sea. The conqueror destroyed the city and left. But more than two centuries later, Alexander the Great took the ruins of the old city, even scraping up the dust, and made a causeway to the island, thus fulfilling the prophecy exactly.

and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

7 For thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will bring from the north upon Tyre Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, a king of kings, with horses and chariots, and with horsemen and a host of many people.

8 He shall slay with the sword your daughters [the towns and villages] in the level area [on the mainland]; and he shall make a fortified wall against you, and cast up a siege mound against you, and raise up a roof of bucklers and shields as a defense against you.

9 And he shall set his battering engines in shock against your walls, and with his axes he will break down your towers.

10 Because of the great number of '[Nebuchadrezzar's] horses their dust will cover you; your walls, [O Tyre,] will shake at the noise of the horsemen and of the wagon wheels and of the chariots, when he enters into your gates as men enter into the city in whose walls there has been made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses [Nebuchadrezzar] will trample all your streets; he will slay your people with the sword, and your strong pillars or obelisks will fall to the ground.

12 And [your adversaries] shall make a spoil of your riches, and make booty of your merchandise. And they shall break down your walls, and destroy your pleasant houses; and they shall lay the stones and the timber and the very dust from your demolished city out in the midst of the water [between the island and the mainland city site to make a causeway].

13 And I will cause the noise of your songs to cease; and the sound of your lyres shall be no more heard.

14 And I will make you, [Tyre,] a 'bare rock; you shall be a place upon which to spread nets; you shall never be rebuilt; for I the Lord have spoken it, says the Lord God.

15 Thus says the Lord God to Tyre: Shall not the isles and coastlands shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of you?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their embroidered garments; they shall clothe themselves with tremblings; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble every moment and be astonished at you and appalled.

17 They shall take up a lamentation over you and say to you, How you are destroyed and vanished, you that were won from the seas and inhabited by seafaring men, the renowned city, that was mighty on the sea, she and her inhabitants, which caused their terror to fall upon all who dwell there!

18 Now the isles and coastlands tremble in the day of your fall; yes, the isles that are in the sea are troubled and dismayed at your departure.

19 For thus says the Lord God: When I make you a desolate city like the cities that are not inhabited, when I bring up the deep over you, and great waters cover you,

20 Then I will thrust you down with those who descend into the pit, to the people of olden times, and will

e) See footnote on Jeremiah 44:30.

f) According to Herodotus, Tyre's history began in B.C. 2750. It was a fortified city in Joshua's time (Josh. 19:29), and later became a great maritime commercial center. Yet Jeremiah (27:2-7; 47:4) and Ezekiel (26:3-21; 28:6-10) foretold utter destruction for Tyre, naming not less than twenty-five separate details, each of which in the following centuries came true literally. Mathematicians have estimated, according to the Law of Compound Probabilities, that if a prophecy concerning a person, place, or event has twenty-five details beyond the possibility of human calculation, collusion, collaboration, comprehension, and coincidence, there is only one chance in more than thirty-three and one-half millions of its accidental fulfillment. Yet Tyre's history at the hands of Nebuchadnezzar, then centuries later at the hands of Alexander the Great, and centuries after that at the hands of the Crusaders, was the striking fulfillment of each detail of the prophets' forecasts. Nor could any other city in the world's history have fulfilled them. The authenticity of God's Word leaves no chance for sane denial.

make you, [Tyre,] to dwell in the lower world, like the places that were desolate of old, with those who go down to the pit [the place of the dead], that you be not inhabited or shed forth your glory and renown in the land of the living.

21 I will make you a terror — bring you to a dreadful end — and you shall be no more. Though you be sought for, yet you shall never be found again, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 27

THE word of the Lord came again to me:

2 Now you, son of man, take up a lamentation over Tyre,

3 And say to Tyre, O you who dwell at the entrance to the sea, who are merchant of the peoples of many islands and coastlands, thus says the Lord God: O Tyre, you have thought and said, I am perfect in beauty.

4 Your borders are in the heart of the seas; your builders have perfected your beauty.

5 They have made all your planks and boards of fir trees from Senir [a peak of Mount Hermon]; they have taken a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for you.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan they have made your oars; they made your deck and benches of boxwood from the coasts of Cyprus, inlaid with ivory.

7 Of fine linen with embroidered work from Egypt was your sail, that it might be an ensign for you; blue and purple from the coasts of Elishah [of Asia Minor] was the [ship's] awning which covered you.

8 The inhabitants of Sidon and [the island] of Arvad were your oarsmen; your skilled and wise men, O Tyre, were in you, they were your pilots.

9 The old men of Gebal [a city north of Sidon] and its skilled and wise men in you were your calkers; all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in you to deal in your merchandise and trading.

10 Persia and Lud and Put were in your army as your men of war; they hung the shield and helmet in you; they gave you beauty and splendor.

11 The men of Arvad with your army were upon your walls round about, and valorous men [of Gamad] were in your towers; they hung their shields upon your walls round about: they have perfected your beauty and splendor.

12 Tarshish [in Spain] carried on traffic with you because of the abundance of your riches of all kinds; with silver, iron, tin, and lead they traded for your wares.

13 Javan [Greece], Tubal, and Meshach [in the mountainous region between the Black and Caspian Seas] traded with you. They exchanged the persons of men [taken as slaves], and vessels of bronze for your merchandise.

14 They of the house of Togarmah [Armenia] traded for your wares with [chariot] horses, cavalry horses and mules.

15 The men of Dedan [in Arabia] traded with you; many islands and coastlands were your own markets; they brought you in payment or as presents ivory tusks and ebony.

16 Aram [Syria or Mesopotamia] and Edom traded with you because of the multitude of the wares of your making. They exchanged for your merchandise emeralds, purple, embroidered work, fine linen, coral, and agate or rubies.

17 Judah and the land of Israel, they were your traders; they exchanged in your market wheat of Minnith [in Ammon], olives or early figs, honey, oil, and balm.

18 Damascus traded with you because of your abundance of supplies of your handiworks and the immense wealth of every kind, with wine of Helbon [Aleppo], and white wool of Sachar [in Syria].

19 Vedan also and [Arabic] Javan traded with yarn from Uzal [in Arabia] for your wares; wrought iron, cassia, and calamus were exchanged for your merchandise.

20 Dedan supplied you with precious [saddle] cloths for riding.

21 Arabia and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants in lambs, rams, and goats favored by you; in these they traded with you.

22 The merchants of Sheba and Raamah [in Arabia] traded with you; they exchanged for your wares the choicest of all kinds of spices and all precious stones, and gold.

23 Haran and Canneh and Eden [in Mesopotamia], the merchants of Sheba [on the Euphrates], Asshur, and Chilmad [near Bagdad] were your traders.

24 These traded with you in choice fabrics, in bales of garments of blue and embroidered work, and in treasures of many colored rich damask and carpets bound with cords and made firm; in these they traded with you.

25 The ships of Tarshish were your caravans for your merchandise, and you were replenished, [Tyre,] and were heavily loaded and made an imposing fleet [in your location] in the heart of the seas.

26 Your rowers have brought you out into great and deep waters; the east wind has broken and wrecked you in the heart of the seas.

27 Your riches, your wares, your merchandise, your oarsmen and your pilots, your caulkers, your dealers in merchandise, and all your men of war who are in you, with all your company which is in your midst, sink in the heart of the seas on the day of your ruin!

28 The waves and the countryside shake at the [piercing] sound of the [hopeless, wailing] cry of your pilots.

29 And down from their ships come all who handle the oar. The mariners and all the pilots of the sea stand upon the shore,

30 And are heard wailing loudly over you, and they cry bitterly. They cast up dust on their heads, they wallow in ashes;

31 And they make themselves [utterly] bald for you and gird themselves with sackcloth, and they weep over you in bitterness of heart and with bitter mourning and wailing.

32 And in their wailing they take up a lamentation for you, and lament over you, saying, Who was ever like Tyre, the destroyed — the annihilated, become so still — in the heart of the sea?

33 When your wares came forth from the seas, you met the desire, the demand and the necessity of many people; you enriched the kings of the earth with your abundant wealth and merchandise.

34 Now you are shattered by the seas, in the depths of the waters; your merchandise and all your crew have gone down with you.

35 All the inhabitants of the isles and coastlands are astonished and appalled at you; and their kings are horribly frightened and shudder greatly, their faces quiver.

36 The merchants among the people hiss over you [with malicious joy]; you have become a horror and a source of terrors. You shall be "no more forever."

CHAPTER 28

THE word of the Lord came again to me:

2 Son of man, say to the prince of

g) Down to the thirteenth century A.D., the grandeur of the ancient city of Tyre was still visible. But God's Word does not fail. Soon Tyre had become an almost uninhabited pile of ruins. A large part of the western section of "the island" became covered by the sea, and early travelers told of seeing "houses, towers and streets far down in the deep." In modern times the population of Tyre, made up largely of fishermen who spread their nets on its beaches, has increased to around 6,000, but the city as such has never been revived, and the original site has long since become obliterated.

Tyre, Thus says the Lord God: Because your heart is lifted up and you have said and thought, I am a god, I sit in the seat of the gods, in the heart of the seas, yet you are only man [weak, feeble, made of earth], and not God, though you imagine yourself to be almost more than mortal with your mind as the mind of God;

3 Indeed, you are [imagining yourself] wiser than Daniel; there is no secret [you think] that is hidden from you;

4 With your own wisdom and with your own understanding you have gotten you riches and power and have brought gold and silver into your treasuries;

5 By your great wisdom and by your traffic you have increased your riches and power, and your heart is proud and lifted up because of your wealth;

6 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you have imagined your mind as the mind of God — having thoughts and purposes suitable only to God Himself, [Obad. 3.]

7 Behold, therefore I am bringing strangers upon you, the most terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom, [O Tyre,] and they shall defile your splendor.

8 They shall bring you down to the pit [of destruction], and you shall die the many deaths of all the Tyrians that are slain in the heart of the seas.

9 Will you still say, I am a god, before him who slays you? But you are only a man — made of earth — and no god in the hand of him who wounds and profanes you.

10 You shall die the death of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers; for I have spoken it, says the Lord God.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me:

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation over the king of Tyre and say to him, Thus says the Lord God: You are the full measure and pattern of exactness — giving the finishing touch to all that constitutes completeness — full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.

13 You were in ^hEden, the garden of God; every precious stone was your covering, the carnelian, topaz, jasper, chrysolite, beryl, onyx, sapphire, carbuncle, and emerald; and your settings and your sockets and engravings were wrought in gold. On the day that you were created they were prepared. [Cf. Gen. 3:14, 15; Matt. 16:23; Isa. 14: 12-15.]

14 You were the anointed cherub that covers with over-shadowing [wings], and I set you so. You were upon the holy mountain of God; you walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire [like the paved work of gleaming sapphire stone upon which the God of Israel walked on Mount Sinai]. [Exod. 24:10.]

15 You were blameless in your ways from the day you were created, until iniquity and guilt were found in you.

16 Through the abundance of your commerce you were filled with lawlessness and violence, and you sinned; therefore I cast you out as a profane thing from the mountain of God, and the guardian cherub drove you out from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 Your heart was proud and lifted up because of your beauty; you corrupted your wisdom for the sake of your splendor. I cast you to the ground; I lay you before kings that they might gaze at you.

18 You have profaned your sanctuaries by the multitude of your iniquities and the enormity of your guilt, by the unrighteousness of your trade. Therefore I have brought forth a fire from your midst; it has consumed you,

b) This speech, though not addressed to Satan in his own person, seems to be ironically spoken of his evil genius fulfilling itself in and through the human ruler who appropriates to himself the honors due only to God, as in the case of the king of Babylon (Isa. 14:12-15). Here is to be seen a foreshadowing of "the beast" who is to attribute to himself divine rights in the time of the end (Dan. 7:8-28; II Thess. 2:1-12; Rev. 13: 19:20).

and I have reduced you to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all who looked at you.

19 All who know you among the people are astonished and appalled at you; you have come to a horrible end and shall never return to being. [Isa. 23; Joel 3:4-8; Amos 1:9, 10; Zech. 9:3, 4.]

20 Again the word of the Lord came to me:

21 Son of man, set your face toward Sidon and prophesy against her

22 And say, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against you, O Sidon, and I will show forth My glory and be glorified in the midst of you. And they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord, when I execute judgments and punishments in her, and am set apart, separated, and My holiness is manifested in her.

23 For I will send pestilence into her, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall be judged and fall by the sword in the midst of her on every side; and they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

24 And there shall be no more a briar to prick the house of Israel or a hurting thorn of all those around them, who have treated them with contempt; and they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord God [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

25 Thus says the Lord God: When I gather the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and I shall be set apart, separated, and My holiness made apparent in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their own land which I gave to My servant Jacob.

26 And they shall dwell safely in it, and shall build houses and plant vineyards; yes, they shall dwell securely and with confidence, when I have executed judgments and punishments upon all those round about them who have despised and trodden upon them and pushed them away; and they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord their God [their Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

CHAPTER 29

IN the tenth year [of the captivity of King Jehoiachin by the king of Babylon], in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, set your face toward Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt.

3 Say, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great monster [of sluggish and unwieldy strength] that lies in the midst of his [delta] streams, [boastfully] declaring, My river Nile is my own, and I have made it for myself.

4 But I will put hooks in your jaws, [O Egyptian dragon,] and I will cause the fish of your rivers to stick to your scales; and I will draw you up out of the midst of your streams, with all the fish of your streams which stick to your scales.

5 And I will cast you forth into the wilderness, you and all the fish of your rivers; you shall fall upon the open field, and not be gathered up or buried. I have given you for food to the [wild] beasts of the earth and the birds of the heavens.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service], because they have been a [deceitful] staff [made of fragile] woods to the house of Israel.

7 When they grasped you with the hand and leaned upon you, you broke, and tore their whole shoulder, and [by injuring their muscles made them so stiff and rigid that] they could do no more than stand.

8 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will bring a sword upon you, and cut off man and beast from you;

9 And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste. And they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service]. Because you have said, The river is mine, and I have made it,

10 Behold, therefore I am against you and against your streams, and I will make the land of Egypt an utter [plundered] waste and desolation [of subjection] from [northern] Migdol to [southern] Syene, even as far as the border of Ethiopia.

11 No foot of man shall pass through it [in travel], no foot of beast shall pass through it [in trade with other countries], neither shall [Egypt] be [truly] inhabited again for forty years.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt a desolation [that is, plundered and reduced to subjection] in the midst of desolated [plundered and reduced to subjection] countries, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be a desolation forty years. I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and will disperse them through the countries.

13 Yet thus says the Lord God: At the end of their forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples among whom they were scattered; [Jer. 46:25, 26.]

14 And I will reverse the captivity of Egypt [as I will that of Israel], and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros [under Egypt], the land of their origin; and they shall be there a lowly kingdom.

15 It shall be the most lowly of the kingdoms; neither shall it 'exalt itself any more above the nations; I will diminish [the Egyptians], so they shall never again rule over the nations.

16 And never again shall Egypt have the confidence and be the reliance of the house of Israel; their iniquity will be brought to remembrance whenever Israel looks toward them for help. They shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord God [Who demands loyalty and obedient service].

17 In the twenty-seventh year [after King Jehoiachin was taken to Babylon], in the first month, on the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me:

18 Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to render heavy service [at My bidding] against Tyre: every [soldier's] head became bald, and every shoulder was worn and peeled [with carrying loads of earth and stones for siege works]. Yet he had no remuneration from Tyre [in proportion to the time and labor expended in the thirteen years' siege], either for himself or his army, for the work that he had done against it [for Me].

19 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her great mass of people and of things — her riches — and take her spoil and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt for his labor with which he served [against Tyre], because they did it for Me, says the Lord God.

21 In that day will I cause a horn to spring forth to the house of Israel, and I will open your lips among them; and they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sov-

i) For a little while Egypt struggled against its oppressors, but its power was already broken, and from the time of its conquest by Cambyses, it has never been for any length of time independent. There are few stronger contrasts in any inhabited country than between the ancient glory, dignity, power, and wealth of Egypt, and its later [lack of] significance. (Ellicott's Commentary.)

reign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

CHAPTER 30

THE word of the Lord came again to me:

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord God: Wail, Alas for the day!

3 For the day is near, even the day of the Lord is near, a cloudy day; it shall be the time [of doom] for the nations.

4 And a sword shall come upon Egypt, and anguish and great sorrow shall be in Ethiopia [Cush], when the slain fall in Egypt, and they [of Babylon] carry away her great mass of people and of things, and her foundations are broken down.

5 Ethiopia [Cush], and Put, and Lud, and all the mingled people [foreigners living in Egypt], and Cub [Lub, Libya], and the children of the land of the covenant [the Jews who had taken refuge in Egypt] shall fall with [the Egyptians] by the sword.

6 Thus says the Lord: They also who uphold or lean upon and are supported by Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from Migdol [in the north] to Syene [in the south] they shall fall within her by the sword, says the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolated in the midst of countries that are desolated, and her cities shall be in the midst of cities that are wasted [by plunder and subjection].

8 And they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service], when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers are broken and destroyed.

9 In that day shall [swift] messengers go forth from Me in ships to terrify the careless and unsuspecting Ethiopians, and there shall be anguish and great sorrow upon them as in the day of Egypt's [doom]; for lo, [their day] comes!

10 Thus says the Lord God: I will also make the tumult and the wealth and the large population of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the [most] terrible of the nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the [artificial] streams [of the Nile delta] dry, and will sell the land into the hand of evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and all that is in it, by the hand of strangers. I, the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service], have spoken it.

13 Thus says the Lord God: I will also destroy the idols, and I will put an end to the images in Noph or Memphis, and there shall be no longer a prince of the land of Egypt. And I will put fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire to Zoan, and will execute judgments and punishments upon No or Thebes.

15 And I will pour My wrath upon Pelusium, the stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the tumult, the prosperity and the population of No or Thebes.

16 And I will set fire to Egypt; Pelusium shall have great anguish, and No or Thebes shall be torn open, and Noph or Memphis shall have adversaries in the daytime and all the day long.

17 The young men of Aven or On and of Pibeseth shall fall by the sword; and the women and children shall go into captivity.

18 At Tehaphnehes also the day shall withdraw itself and be dark, when I break there the yokes and dominion of Egypt; and the pride of her power shall come to an end. As for her, a cloud of calamities shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments and punishments upon Egypt. Then shall they know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

20 And in the eleventh year [after King Jehoiachin was taken to Babylon], in the first month, on the seventh day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me:

21 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, it has not been bound up, to heal it by binding it with a bandage, to make it strong to hold and wield the sword.

22 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, both the strong one and the one which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall from his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them throughout the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put My sword in his hand; but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he will groan before Nebuchadrezzar with the groanings of a mortally wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen and hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they [of Egypt] shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service], when I put My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

CHAPTER 31

AND in the eleventh year [after King Jehoiachin was taken captive to Babylon], in the third month, on the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his multitude: Whom are you like in your greatness?

3 Behold, [I will liken you to] Assyria, a cedar in Lebanon, with fair branches and with forest-like shade, and of high stature, and its top among the thick boughs — even the clouds.

4 The waters nourished it, the deep made it grow tall; its rivers ran round about its planting, sending out its streams to all the trees of the forest [the other nations].

5 Therefore it towered higher than all the trees of the forest; its boughs were multiplied, and its branches became long, because there was much water when they were shot forth.

6 All the birds of the heavens made their nests in its boughs, and under its branches all the wild beasts of the field brought forth their young, and under its shadow dwelt all of the great nations.

7 Thus was it beautiful in its greatness, in the length of its branches: for its root was by many and great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide or rival it; the cypress trees did not have boughs like it, and the plane trees did not have branches like it, nor was any tree in the garden of God like it in its beauty.

9 I made it beautiful with the multitude of its branches, so that all the trees of ¹Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied it [Assyria].

10 Therefore thus said the Lord God: Because it is exalted in stature, and it has set its top among the thick

j) The traditional site of Eden was within the bounds of the Assyrian Empire. However, this in no sense implies that Assyria was in the garden of God, of Genesis 2:8.

boughs and the clouds, and its heart is proud of its height; [II Kings 18: 31-35.]

11 I will even ^hdeliver it into the hand of a mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with it. I have driven it out for its wickedness and lawlessness.

12 And strangers, the most terrible of the nations, will cut it off and leave it; upon the mountains and in all the valleys its branches will fall, and its boughs will lie broken by all the water-courses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth will go down out of its shade and leave it.

13 Upon its ruins all the birds of the heavens will dwell, and all the wild beasts of the field will be upon Assyria's fallen branches.

14 This is all so that none of the trees by the waters may exalt themselves because of their height, or shoot up their top among the thick boughs and the clouds, and that none of their mighty ones should stand upon [their own estimate of] themselves for their height, all that drink water. For they are all delivered over to death, to the lower world, in the midst of the children of men, with those who go down to the pit — the grave.

15 Thus says the Lord God: When Assyria goes down to Sheol (the place of the dead) I will cause a mourning; I will cover the deep for it, and I will restrain its floods, and the many waters [that contributed to its prosperity] will be stayed; and I will cause Lebanon to be in black gloom and to mourn for it, and all the trees of the field, dismayed, will faint because of it.

16 I will make the nations quake at the sound of its fall, when I cast it down to Sheol with those who descend into the pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all the trees that drink water, will be comforted in the nether world [at Assyria's downfall].

17 They also shall go down into Sheol with it, to those who were slain by the sword; yes, they who were its arm, that dwelt under its shadow in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom, O Egypt, among the trees of Eden are you thus like in glory and in greatness? Yet you also shall be brought down with the trees of Eden to the nether world. You shall lie among the 'uncircumcised heathen with those who are slain by the sword. This is ^hhow it shall be with Pharaoh and all the multitude of his strength, his tumult and his store [of wealth and glory], says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 32

IN the twelfth year [after King Jehoiachin of Judah was taken into exile by the king of Babylon], in the twelfth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation over Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say to him, You have likened yourself to a young lion, leader of the nations, but you are like a [monster] dragon in the seas; you break forth in your rivers, and trouble the waters with your feet, and you make foul their rivers [the sources of their prosperity].

3 Thus says the Lord God: I will therefore throw out My net over you with a host of many peoples, and they shall bring you up in My dragnet.

4 Then I will leave you [Egypt] upon the shore, I will cast you on the

k) The effectiveness of this comparison [of Egypt] with Assyria becomes plain when it is remembered that Assyria had conquered and held Egypt in vassalage, and had then herself been conquered and annihilated only thirty-seven years before the date of this prophecy, and that by the same Chaldean power [then controlled by the father of Nebuchadnezzar, which is] now foretold as about to execute judgment upon Egypt. Egypt could not hope to resist the conqueror of her conqueror. (Ellicott's Commentary.)

l) Though there were other circumcised nations besides the Hebrews, especially the Egyptians, and they as early as 3000 B.C., yet the Philistines, . . . the Moabites, the Ammonites, the Syrians, the Assyrians, the Babylonians, and various other nationalities with whom the Jews were in contact, were uncircumcised; so that the word "uncircumcised" as a term of reproach, meant almost practically (though not etymologically) the same as heathen. (Davis' Bible Dictionary.)

m) The Septuagint (Greek version) so reads at this point.

open field, and will cause all the birds of the heavens to settle upon you, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with you.

5 And I will scatter your flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with your high heap of corpses and their worms.

6 I will also water with your flowing blood the land, even to the mountains, and the hollows and water channels shall be full of you.

7 And when I have extinguished you, I will cover the heavens [of Egypt] and make their stars dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the bright lights of the heavens I will make dark over you, and set darkness upon your land, says the Lord God.

9 I will also trouble and vex the hearts of many peoples, when I bring your breaking and trembling and destruction, and carry you captive among the nations, into the countries which you have not known.

10 I will make many peoples amazed and appalled at you [Egypt], and their kings shall shudder and be horribly afraid because of you, when I brandish My sword before them; they shall tremble every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of your downfall.

11 For thus says the Lord God: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon you.

12 I will cause your multitude, your tumult and your store [of wealth, strength and glory] to fall by the swords of the mighty; the most terrible among the nations are they all. And they shall bring to nothing the pomp and pride of Egypt, and all its multitude — with its activity, and its wealth in every sphere — shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all its beasts from beside many and great waters, and no foot of man shall trouble them any more, nor shall the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters sink down — subside, be quiet and clear; their rivers I will cause to run [slowly and smoothly] like oil, says the Lord God.

15 When I make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country is stripped and destitute of all that of which it was full, when I smite all those who dwell in it, then will they know, understand and realize that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, requiring and calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

16 This is the lamentation with which they shall intone or chant the lament for her: the daughters of the nations shall chant their lament with it; over Egypt and over all her multitude, her tumult, and her wealth in every sphere shall they chant it, says the Lord God.

17 In the twelfth year [after King Jehoiachin of Judah was taken into exile], on the fifteenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me:

18 Son of man, wail over the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her and the daughters of the famous and majestic nations, to the nether world, with those who go down to the pit:

19 Whom [among them] do you surpass in beauty? Go down and be laid with the uncircumcised — the heathen.

20 They shall fall in the midst of those who are slain by the sword; she [Egypt] is delivered to the sword; they draw her down [to her judgment], and all her multitudes with their noise and stores.

21 The strong among the mighty shall speak of [Pharaoh] out of the midst of Sheol — the nether world — with those who helped him: they are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised — the heathen — slain by the sword.

22 Assyria is there and all her company; their graves are round about her, all of them slain, fallen by the sword;

23 Whose graves are set in the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is round about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who caused terror to spread in the land of the living.

24 Elam [an auxiliary of Assyria] is there and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who have gone down uncircumcised into the nether world, who caused their terror to spread in the land of the living, and have borne their shame with those who go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a bed [a sepulcher] among the slain with all her multitude; their graves round about her, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for terror of them was spread in the land of the living, and they henceforth bear their shame with those who go down to the pit; they are laid in the midst of the slain.

26 Meshech, Tubal, and all their multitude are there; their graves are round about [Pharaoh], all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for they caused their terror to be spread in the land of the living.

27 And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, who are gone down to Sheol — the nether world — with their weapons of war, whose swords were laid [with honors] under their heads, and whose iniquities are upon their bones, for they caused their terror to spread in the land of the living.

28 But you, [Meshech and Tubal,] shall be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised and shall lie [without honors] with those who are slain with the sword.

29 Edom is there, her kings and all her princes, who for all their might are laid with those who were slain by the sword; they shall lie with the "uncircumcised — the heathen — and with those who go down to the pit.

30 The princes of the north are there, all of them, and all the Sidonians, who have gone down with the slain; for all the terror which they caused by their might they are put to shame; and they lie uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, and henceforth bear their shame with those who go down to the pit.

31 When Pharaoh sees them, he will comfort himself for all his multitude; even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, says the Lord God.

32 For I have put his and My terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised — the heathen — with those slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, says the Lord God. [Isa. 19; Jer. 46; Zech. 14:18, 19.]

CHAPTER 33

AND the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, speak to your people [the Israelite captives in Babylon] and say to them, When I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them and make him their watchman;

3 If when he sees the sword coming upon the land, he blows the trumpet and warns the people;

4 Then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet, and does not take warning, and the sword comes and takes him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and did not take warning; his blood shall be upon himself. But he who takes warning shall save his life.

6 But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the

n) The Edomites observed the rite of circumcision, but were not spared because of that.

trumpet, and the people are not warned, and the sword comes and takes any one of them; he is taken away in and for his perversity and iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 So you, son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; therefore hear the word at My mouth and give them warning from Me.

8 When I say to the wicked, O wicked man, you shall surely die, and you do not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his perversity and iniquity, but his blood will I require at your hand.

9 But if you warn the wicked to turn from his evil way, and he does not turn from his evil way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you will have saved your life.

10 And you, son of man, say to the house of Israel, Thus you have said: Truly our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we waste away because of them; how then can we live?

11 Say to them, As I live, says the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but rather that the wicked turn from his way and live. Turn back, turn back from your evil ways; for why will you die, O house of Israel?

12 And you, son of man, say to your people, The uprightness and justice of the [uncompromisingly] righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wicked lawlessness of the wicked lawless, he shall not fall because of it in the day that he turns from his wickedness; neither shall the rigidly upright and just be able to live because of his past righteousness in the day that he sins and misses the mark [in keeping in harmony and right standing with God].

13 When I shall say to the [uncompromisingly] righteous, that he shall surely live, and he trusts to his own righteousness [to save him] and commits iniquity — heinous sin — all his righteous deeds shall not be [seriously] remembered; but for his perversity and iniquity that he has committed he shall die.

14 Again, when I have said to the wicked, You shall surely die, if he turns from his sin, and does that which is lawful and right, 15 If the wicked restores [what he took in] pledge, gives back what he had taken in robbery, walks in the statutes of life [right relationship with God], without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sins that he has committed shall be [seriously] remembered against him; he has done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

17 Yet your people say, The way of the Lord is not perfect or even just; but as for them, it is their own way that is not perfect or even just.

18 When the righteous turns back from his [uncompromising] righteousness and commits perverseness and iniquity, he shall even die in and because of it.

19 But if the wicked turns back from his wickedness and does what is lawful and right, he shall live because of it.

20 Yet you say, The way of the Lord is not perfect or even just. O you house of Israel, I will judge you every one according to his own ways!

21 In the twelfth year of our captivity [in Babylon], in the tenth month, on the fifth day of the month, a man who had escaped out of Jerusalem came to me [Ezekiel], saying, The city [Jerusalem] is taken.

22 Now the hand of the Lord had been upon me in the evening, before this one who had escaped came, and He had opened my mouth [in readiness for the fugitives] coming to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no longer dumb.

23 Then the word of the Lord came to me:

24 Son of man, those [back in Palestine] who inhabit those wastes of the ground of Israel are saying, Abraham was only one man, and he inherited the land; but we are many; the land is surely given to us to possess as our inheritance.

25 Therefore say to them, Thus says the Lord God: You eat meat with the blood [as an idolatrous rite], and lift up your eyes to your [filthy] idols, and shed blood; shall you then possess the land? [Gen. 9:4; Lev. 3:17; 7:27; Acts 15:28, 29.]

26 You stand upon your sword [as your dependence], you commit abominations, and you each one defile your neighbor's wife; shall you then possess the land?

27 Say this to them, Thus says the Lord God: As I live, surely those who are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and those who are in strongholds and in caves shall die by pestilence.

28 And I will make the land [of Israel] a desolation and a waste, and her proud might shall cease, and the mountains of Israel shall be so desolate that no one will pass through them.

29 Then shall they know, understand and realize that I am the Lord, when I have made the land a desolation and a waste, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 As for you, son of man, your people who talk of you by the walls and in the doors of the houses, say one to another, every one to his brother, Come, and hear what the word is that comes forth from the Lord.

31 And they come to you as people come, and they sit before you as My people, and they hear the words you say, but they will not do them; for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goes after and is set on their [idolatrous greed for] gain.

32 Lo, you are to them as a very lovely [love] song of one who has a pleasant voice and can play well on an instrument, for they hear your words, but do not do them.

33 When this comes to pass — for lo, it will come! — then shall they know, understand and realize that a prophet has been among them.

CHAPTER 34

AND the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy and say to them, even to the [spiritual] shepherds, Thus says the Lord God: Woe to the [spiritual] shepherds of Israel who feed themselves! Should not the shepherds feed the sheep?

3 You eat the fat, you clothe yourselves with the wool, you kill the fatlings; but you do not feed the sheep.

4 The diseased and weak you have not strengthened, the sick you have not healed, the hurt and crippled you have not bandaged, those gone astray you have not brought back, the lost you have not sought to find; but with force and hardhearted harshness you have ruled them.

5 And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd; and when they were scattered they became food for all the wild beasts of the field.

6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains and upon every high hill; yes, My sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth, and no one searched or sought for them. [Matt. 9:36.]

7 Therefore, you [spiritual] shepherds, hear the word of the Lord:

8 As I live, says the Lord God, surely because My sheep became a prey, and My sheep became food for every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd; neither did My shepherds search for My sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not My sheep;

9 Therefore, O you [spiritual] shepherds, hear the word of the Lord:

10 Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require My sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease feeding the sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more. I will rescue My sheep from their mouths, that they may not be food for them.

11 For thus says the Lord God: Behold, I, I Myself will search for My sheep, and will seek them out.

12 As a shepherd seeks out his sheep in the day that he is among his flock that are scattered, so will I seek out My sheep, and I will rescue them out of all places where they have been scattered in the day of clouds and thick darkness.

13 And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the water-courses, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be; there shall they lie down in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed My sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, says the Lord God.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring back that which has strayed, and I will bandage the hurt and the crippled, and will strengthen the weak and the sick; but I will destroy the fat and the strong [become hardhearted and perverse]; I will feed them with judgment and punishment. [Luke 19: 10.]

17 And as for you, O My flock, thus says the Lord God: Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, between the rams and the great he-goats [the malicious, and the tyrants of the pasture].

18 Is it too little for you that you feed on the best pasture, but you must tread down with your feet the rest of your pasture? And to have drunk of the waters clarified by subsiding, but you must foul the rest of the water with your feet?

19 And My flock, must they feed on what your feet have trodden, and drink what your feet have fouled?

20 Therefore thus says the Lord God to them: Behold, I, I Myself will judge between fat sheep and impoverished sheep, or fat goats and lean goats.

21 Because you push with side and with shoulder, and thrust with your horns all those that have become weak and diseased, till you have scattered them abroad;

22 Therefore will I rescue My flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between sheep and sheep.

23 And I will raise up over them one Shepherd, and He shall feed them, even My servant "David; He shall feed them, and He shall be their Shepherd. [Ezek. 37:24; cf. John 10:14-18.]

24 And I the Lord will be their God, and My Servant David a prince among them; I the Lord have spoken it.

25 And I will confirm with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land, and My people shall dwell safely in the wilderness, desert, or pasture land, and sleep [confidently] in the woods. [Isa. 11:6-9; Ps. 127:2b; John 16:33; 14:27.]

26 And I will make them and the places round about My hill a blessing; and I will cause the showers to come down in their season; there shall be

o) The name of David is here put simply, as in verse 24; chapter 37:24, 25; Jer. 30:9; Hos. 3:5, instead of the more usual designations of the Messiah as the Son, the Branch, the Offspring of David; but there can be no possible doubt of the meaning . . . David, as the head of the theocracy and the ancestor of our Lord after the flesh, constantly appears in the Scriptures as the type of the Messiah, and there can be no reasonable doubt that the prophecy must have been so understood, even at the time it was uttered. (Ellicott's Commentary.)

showers of blessing [of good insured by God's favor].

27 And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield its increase, and [My people] shall be secure in their land; and they shall be confident and know — understand and realize — that I am the Lord, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those who made slaves of them.

28 And they shall no more be a prey to the nations, nor shall the beasts of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid [in the ^oday of the Messiah's reign]. [Isa. 60:21; 61:3.]

29 And I will raise up for them a planting of crops for renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, nor bear the reproach of the nations any longer.

30 Then shall they know [positively] that I, the Lord their God, am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are My people, says the Lord God;

31 And that you, My sheep, the sheep of My pasture, are only men, and I am your God, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 35

MOREOVER the word of the Lord came to me, saying, .

2 Son of man, set your face against the mountain range of Seir [in Edom], and prophesy against it,

3 And say to it, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, O Mount Seir, I am against you, and I will stretch out My hand against you, and I will make you a desolation and an astonishment.

4 I will lay your cities waste, and you shall be desolate, and you shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

5 Because you [of Esau] have had a perpetual enmity [for Jacob], and you gave over the sons of Israel to the power of the sword at the time of their calamity, when they were suffering their final [Babylonian conquest] punishment; [Cf. Ezek. 25:12-14; 36:5.]

6 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord God, I will expose you to slaughter, and slaughter shall pursue you; since you could not bear to live without bloodshed, therefore bloodshed shall pursue you.

7 Thus will I make Mount Seir an astonishment and a desolation, and I will cut off from it him who passes through it and him who returns [that way].

8 And I will fill [Edom's] mountains with his slain men; on your hills and in your valleys and in all your ravines shall those fall who are slain with the sword.

9 I will make you a perpetual desolation, and your ^ocities shall not be inhabited. Then you will know, understand and realize that I am the Lord

p) Once when Jesus visited the synagogue in Nazareth (Luke 4:16-21), He was handed the roll of the book of Isaiah to read aloud. He deliberately turned to Isaiah 61, which tells what His coming to the world would mean, all eleven verses of it. But He read only a few lines of the chapter, stopping in the midst of a sentence, and said, "Today has this scripture been fulfilled in your ears." He had just read of His coming to preach the Gospel, to proclaim release to the captives [of Satan], to give sight to the blind, to set at liberty the bruised, and to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord. But He had to stop there, for the rest of the chapter could not be fulfilled until His second coming, of which it tells. The chapter before us, Ezekiel 34, verses 24-31 is telling of the same Messianic reign, of which so many Scriptures speak, and for which Jesus definitely promised to return to earth. [Matt. 25:31-34; 24:30; Rev. 1:7, 8. Cf. Luke 1:32, 33; Acts 1:10, 11.]

q) The Edomites gave what help they could to Nebuchadnezzar when he captured Judah. Later these cousins of the Israelites were pushed out of their own country into Southern Judea; Hebron was their chief city. When in 70 A.D. the Romans under Titus besieged Jerusalem, Josephus says the Edomites joined the Jews in rebellion against them, and 20,000 were admitted as defenders of the Holy City. But once in, they pillaged the city, raping and killing, and not even sparing the priests, though the traitors themselves had been previously forced to become circumcised and recognized as Jews. The Roman conqueror slew them, and Edom ceased to be. The forecasts of the prophets regarding Edom are in striking contrast to those of their neighbors, Moab and Ammon. The latter two countries were to suffer great and severe judgments, as was Edom; but restoration and renewed prosperity were promised to them "in the latter days," while Edom was never to be rebuilt. This is all obviously nearing fulfillment in the twentieth century. Truly Edom is the scene of "perpetual desolations," with no hint of restoration.

[the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

10 Because you, [Edom,] said, These two nations [Israel and Judah] and these two countries shall be mine, and we will take possession of them — although the Lord was there;

11 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord God, I will deal with you according to the anger and envy you showed because of your enmity for them; and I will make Myself known among them — as He Who will judge and punish — when I judge and punish you.

12 And you shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service], and that I have heard all your revilings and scornful speeches that you have uttered against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid waste and desolate; they are given us to devour.

13 Thus you have boasted and magnified yourselves against Me with your mouth, multiplying your words against Me; I have heard it.

14 Thus says the Lord God: While the whole earth rejoices, I will make you a waste and desolation.

15 As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I deal with you; you shall be a waste and desolation, O Mount Seir, and all Edom, all of it. Then they shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

CHAPTER 36

ALSO you, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel, and say, You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord.

2 Thus says the Lord God: Because the enemy has said over you, Aha! and, The ancient heights have become our possession,

3 Therefore prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord God: Because, yes, because they made you a desolation, and they snap after and crush you from every side, so that you may become the possession of the rest of the nations, and you become the talk and evil gossip of the people;

4 Therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: Thus says the Lord God to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys, to the desolate wastes and the cities that are forsaken, which have become a prey and derision to the rest of the nations that are round about;

5 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Surely in the fire of My hot jealousy have I spoken against the rest of the nations, and against all Edom, who have given to themselves My land with wholehearted joy and with uttermost contempt, that they might empty it out and possess it for a prey and a spoil.

6 Prophecy therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I have spoken in My jealousy and in My wrath, because you have suffered the shame and reproach of the nations:

7 Therefore thus says the Lord God: I have lifted up My hand and sworn, Surely the nations that are round about you shall themselves suffer shame and reproach.

8 But you, O mountains of Israel, shall shoot forth your branches and yield your fruit to My people Israel; for they are soon to come home.

9 For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn to you, and you shall be tilled and sown;

10 And I will multiply men upon you, the whole house of Israel, even all of it; the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be rebuilt;

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and be fruitful. And I will cause you to be inhabited according to your former estate, and I will do better for you than at your beginnings; and you shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

12 Yes, [O Mountains of Israel,] I will cause men to walk upon you, even My people Israel; and they shall possess you, and you shall be their inheritance, and you shall no more after this bereave them of children [for idol sacrifices].

13 Thus says the Lord God: Because they say to you, You, [O Land,] are a devourer of men, and have bereaved your nation of children [offered to idols];

14 Therefore you shall devour men no more, neither bereave your nation or cause it to stumble any more, says the Lord God.

15 Neither will I let you hear any more the reproach of the nations, nor shall you suffer the dishonor of the peoples any more, nor shall you cause your nation to stumble and fall any more [through idolatry], says the Lord God.

16 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by doing their own way and by their [idolatrous] doings. Their conduct before Me was as the uncleanness of a woman during her [physical] impurity.

18 So I poured out My wrath upon them for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols with which they had defiled it.

19 And I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries; according to their conduct and their [idolatrous] deeds I judged and punished them.

20 And when they came to the nations to which they went, they profaned My holy name, in that men said of them, These are the people of the Lord, and yet they had to go forth out of His land.

21 But I had regard, concern and compassion for My holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations to which they went.

22 Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord God: I do not do this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for My holy name's sake, which you have profaned among the nations to which you went.

23 And I will vindicate the holiness of My great name and separate it for its holy purpose from all that defiles; My name, which has been profaned among the nations, which you have profaned among them; and the nations will know, understand and realize that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service], when I shall be set apart by you and My holiness vindicated in you before their eyes and yours.

24 For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all countries, and bring you into your own land.

25 Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleanness, and from all your idols will I cleanse you.

26 A new heart will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh and give you a heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my Spirit within you and cause you to walk in My statutes, and you shall heed My ordinances, and do them.

28 And you shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and you shall be My people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also save you from all your uncleannesses, and I will call forth the grain and make it abundant and lay no famine on you.

r) See footnote on Ezekiel 37:21.

30 And I will multiply the fruit of the tree and the increase of the field, that you may no more suffer the reproach and disgrace of famine among the nations.

31 Then you shall [earnestly] remember your own evil ways and your doings that were not good, and shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominable deeds.

32 Not for your sake do I do this, says the Lord God; let that be known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your own wicked ways, O house of Israel!

33 Thus says the Lord God: In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities I will also cause [Israel's] cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be rebuilt.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, that which had lain desolate in the sight of all who passed by.

35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden, and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fortified and inhabited.

36 Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I, the Lord, have rebuilt the ruined places, and replanted that which was desolate. I, the Lord, have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus says the Lord God: For this also I will let the house of Israel inquire of Me to do it for them; I will increase their men like a flock.

38 Like the flock of holy things for sacrifice, like the flock of Jerusalem in her solemn appointed feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men, and they shall know, understand and realize, that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

CHAPTER 37

THE hand of the Lord was upon me, and He brought me out in the Spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the valley, and it was full of bones.

2 And He caused me to pass round about among them; and behold, there were very many [human bones] in the open valley or plain, and lo, they were very dry.

3 And He said to me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord God, You know! [I Cor. 15:35.]

4 Again He said to me, Prophecy to these bones, and say to them, O you dry bones, hear the word of the Lord. [John 5:28.]

5 Thus says the Lord God to these bones: Behold, I will cause breath and spirit to enter you, and you shall live:

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath and spirit in you, and you [dry bones] shall live; and you shall know, understand and realize, that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a [thundering] noise, and behold, a shaking and trembling and a rattling, and the bones came together, bone to its bone.

8 And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon [the bones], and flesh came upon them, and skin covered them over; but there was no breath or spirit in them.

9 Then said He to me, Prophecy to the breath and spirit, son of man, and say to the breath and spirit, Thus says the Lord God: Come from the four winds, O breath and spirit, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

10 So I prophesied as He commanded me, and the breath and spirit came into [the bones], and they lived and stood up upon their feet, an exceedingly great host. [Rev. 11:11.]

11 Then He said to me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are completely cut off.

12 Therefore prophesy and say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O My people; and I will bring you [back home] to the land of Israel. [Hos. 13:14.]

13 And you shall know that I am the Lord [your Sovereign Ruler] when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O My people.

14 And I shall put My Spirit in you, and you shall live, and I shall place you in your own land. Then you shall know, understand and realize that I the Lord have spoken it, and performed it, says the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came again to me:

16 Son of man, take a stick and write on it, For Judah and the children of Israel his companions; then take another stick and write upon it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and all the house of Israel his companions;

17 And join them together into one stick, that they may become one in your hand.

18 And when your people say to you, Will you not show us what you mean by these?

19 Say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his associates, and will join with it the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in My hand.

20 When the sticks on which you write shall be in your hand before their eyes,

21 Then say to them, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations to which they have gone, and will gather them from every side and bring them into their own land.

22 And I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and one King shall be King over them all; and they shall be no longer two nations, neither be divided into two kingdoms any more. [Jer. 50:4.]

23 They shall not defile themselves any more with their idols and their detestable things, or with any of their transgressions; but I will save them out of all their dwelling places, and from all their backslidings in which they have sinned, and I will cleanse them. So shall they be My people, and I will be their God.

24 And David My Servant shall be King over them, and they all shall have one Shepherd. They shall also walk in My ordinances and heed My statutes and do them.

25 They shall dwell in the land in which your fathers dwelt, that I gave to My servant Jacob; and they shall dwell there, they and their children and their children's children, for ever; and My Servant David shall be their Prince for ever. [Isa. 60:21; Joel 3:20; Amos 9:15.]

26 I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; and I will give blessings to them and multiply them, and will set My sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.

27 My tabernacle or dwelling place also shall be with them; and I will be

s) No person needs to be reminded of the startling way in which this prophecy has been in process of fulfillment since World War II. The Jews have for centuries been dispersed among all the nations with only a few left in the homeland which lay waste and desolate. It was said that travelers in Palestine had no difficulty in recognizing the appropriateness of Ezekiel's labeling the country as he saw it, the "valley of dry bones" (verse 11). But by 1960 A.D. one-sixth of the Jewish population of the world was in Palestine. Already they had been made "one nation" (verse 22a) and that between sunrise of one day and sunset of the next, "a nation in a day" (Isa. 66:8)! But the greatest event of all is yet to come (Ezek. 37:22b-25). This prophecy will be fulfilled in its entirety.

t) See footnote on Ezekiel 34:23.

their God, and they shall be My people.

28 Then the nations shall know, understand and realize that I the Lord do set apart and consecrate Israel for holy use, when My sanctuary shall be in their midst for evermore.

CHAPTER 38

AND the word of the Lord came to me:

2 Son of man, set your face against Gog, of the land of "Magog, the prince of Rosh, of Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3 And say, Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince (or ruler) of Rosh, of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I will turn you back, and put hooks into your jaws, and I will bring you forth and all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armor, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords;

5 Persia, Cush, and Put or Libya with them; all of them with shield and helmet;

6 Gomer and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah in the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes; many people are with you.

7 You, [Gog,] be prepared; yes, prepare yourself, you and all your companies that are assembled about you, and you be a guard and a commander for them.

8 After many days you shall be visited and mustered [for service]; in the latter years you shall go against the land that is restored from the ravages of the sword, where people are gathered out of many nations upon the mountains of Israel, which had been a continual waste; but its [people] are brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell securely, all of them. [Isa. 24:22.]

9 You shall ascend and come like a storm, you shall be like a cloud to cover the land, you and all your hosts, and many people with you.

10 Thus says the Lord God: At the same time thoughts shall come into your mind, and you will devise an evil plan.

11 And you will say, I will go up against an open country — the land of unwalled villages; I will fall upon those who are at rest, who dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls and having neither bars nor gates, 12 To take spoil and prey; to turn your hand upon the desolate places now inhabited, and assail the people gathered out of the nations, who have obtained livestock and goods, who dwell at the center of the earth [Palestine].

13 Sheba and Dedan and the merchants of Tarshish, with all their lion-like cubs [or satellite areas], shall say to you, Have you come to take spoil? Have you gathered your hosts to take the prey? To carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to take a great spoil?

14 Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog, Thus says the Lord God: In that day when My people Israel dwell securely, will you not know it and be aroused?

15 And you will come from your place out of the uttermost parts of the north, you and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great host, a mighty army.

16 And you shall come up against My people Israel like a cloud to cover the land. In the latter days I will bring you against My land, that the nations may know, understand and realize Me, when My holiness shall be vindicated

u) Gog is a symbolic name, standing for the leader of the world powers antagonistic to God.

Meshech and Tubal are understood to have been the same as the Moschi and Tibareni of the Greeks — tribes that inhabited regions in the Caucasus. Rosh, which some would identify with Russia, must have designated a land and people somewhere in the same quarter. And therefore the Gog of Ezekiel must be viewed as in some sense the head of the high regions in the northwest of Asia. (Fairbairn's Imperial Standard Bible Encyclopedia.)

through you — vindicated and honored [in your overwhelming destruction] — O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus says the Lord God: Are you he of whom I have spoken in olden times by My servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days for years that I would bring you, [Gog], against them?

18 But in that day when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, says the Lord God, My wrath shall come up into My nostrils.

19 For in My jealousy and in the fire of My wrath have I said, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking [or cosmic catastrophe] in the land of Israel;

20 So that the fishes of the sea, and the birds of the heavens, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall tremble and shake at My presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall [natural or artificial] shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will call for a sword against [Gog] throughout all My mountains, says the Lord God, every man's sword shall be against his brother [over the dividing of booty].

22 And with pestilence and with bloodshed will I enter into judgment with [Gog], and I will rain upon him and upon his hordes and upon the many peoples that are with him, torrents of rain and great hailstones, fire and brimstone. [Ps. 11:6.]

23 Thus will I demonstrate My greatness and My holiness, and I will be recognized, understood and known in the eyes of many nations; yes, they shall know that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

CHAPTER 39

AND you, son of man, prophesy against Gog, Thus says the Lord

God: Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince (or ruler) of Rosh, of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I will turn you about, and will lead you on, and will cause you to come up from the uttermost parts of the north, and will lead you against the mountains of Israel;

3 And I will smite your bow from your left hand, and will cause your arrows to fall out of your right hand.

4 You shall fall [dead] upon the mountains of Israel, you and all your hosts and the peoples who are with you. I will give you to the ravenous birds of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be devoured.

5 You shall fall in the open field; for I have spoken it, says the Lord God.

6 I will send fire on Magog and upon those who dwell securely in the coastlands; and they shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord [the Sovereign Ruler, calling forth loyalty and obedient service].

7 And I will make My holy name known in the midst of My people Israel; and I will not let them profane My holy name any more; and the nations shall know, understand and realize that I am the Lord, the Holy One of Israel.

8 Behold, it is coming and it will be done, says the Lord God; that is the day of which I have spoken.

9 And [when you, Gog, are no longer] they who dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall set on fire and burn the battle gear, the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, the handspikes or riding whips and the spears, and they shall burn them as fuel for seven years.

10 So that My people shall take no firewood out of the field or cut down any out of the forests, for they shall make their fires of the weapons. And they shall despoil those who despoiled them, and plunder those who plundered them, says the Lord God.

11 And in that day, I will give to Gog a place for burial there in Israel, the valley of those who pass through on the east side in front of the Dead Sea [the highway between Syria, Petra and Egypt], and it will delay and stop those who pass through. And there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude, and they shall call it the Valley of Hamongog [that is, the multitude of Gog].

12 For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yes, all the people of the land will bury them; and it shall bring them renown in the day that I shall be glorified, says the Lord God.

14 And they shall set apart men to work continually, who shall pass through the land commissioned to bury, with the help of those who are passing by, those bodies that lie unburied on the face of the ground, in order to cleanse the land. After the end of seven months they shall make their search.

15 And when these pass through the land and any one sees a human bone, he shall set up a marker by it as a sign to the buriers, until they have buried it in the Valley of Hamon-gog or of Gog's Multitude.

16 And Hamonah or Multitude shall also be the name of the city [of the dead]. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And you, son of man, thus says the Lord God: Say to the birds of prey of every sort and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves and come, gather from every side to the sacrificial feast that I am preparing for you, even a great sacrificial feast on the mountains of Israel, at which you may eat flesh and drink blood.

18 You shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan [east of Jordan].

19 And you shall eat fat till you are filled, and drink blood till you are drunk, at the sacrificial feast which I am preparing for you.

20 And you shall be filled at My table with horses and riders, with mighty men and with soldiers of every kind, says the Lord God.

21 And I will manifest My honor and glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see My judgment and justice [in the punishment] which I have executed and My hand which I have laid on them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know, understand and realize beyond all question that I am the Lord their God from that day forward.

23 And the nations shall know, understand and realize positively that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they trespassed against Me; and I hid My face from them. So I gave them into the hand of their enemies, and they all fell [into captivity or were slain] by the power of the sword. [Deut. 31:17.]

24 According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions I dealt with them, and hid My face from them.

25 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Now will I reverse the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for My holy name.

26 They shall forget their shame and self-reproach, and all their treachery and unfaithfulness in which they have transgressed against Me, when they dwell securely in their land and there is none who makes them afraid.

27 When I have brought them again

v) The number of dead bodies left, after the great catastrophe which God will send upon Gog and his hosts, as here described, would necessarily amount to several millions. Their graves would naturally interfere with traffic on the interstate highway. The dead will not be slain in battle. God will slay them by a great cosmic catastrophe (38:18-23). And not some, but "all" of Gog's multitude will die then (39:4, 11): before they have had a chance to use their weapons they will be struck from their hands (39:3). That one-sixth of the horde from the north will be left alive, as the King James Version says (39:2), is without noted exception conceded to be a mistaken translation by all authorities of modern times.

from the peoples and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and My justice and holiness are set apart and vindicated through them in the sight of many nations;

28 Then shall they know, understand and realize positively that I am the Lord their God, because I sent them into captivity and exile among the nations, and then gathered them to their own land. I will leave none of them remaining among the nations any more [in the latter days].

29 Neither will I hide My face any more then from them, when I have poured out My Spirit upon the house of Israel, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 40

IN the twenty-fifth year of our captivity [by Babylon], in the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city [of Jerusalem] was taken, on the very same day the hand of the Lord was upon me, and He brought me to that place.

2 In the visions of God He brought me into the land of Israel and set me down upon a very high mountain, on the south side of which there was what seemed to be the structure of a city.

3 He brought me there, and behold, there was a man [an angel] whose appearance was like bronze, with a line of flax and a measuring reed in his hand, and he stood in the gateway.

4 And the man said to me, Son of man, look with your eyes and hear with your ears and set your heart and mind on all that I will show you, for you are brought here that I may show them to you. Declare all that you see to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, there was a wall all around the outside area of the house [of the Lord], and in the man's hand a measuring reed six cubits long in length, each cubit being longer [than the usual one] by a hand's breadth; so he measured the thickness of the wall, one reed, and the height, one reed.

6 Then he came to the gate which faced the east and went up its [seven] steps, and measured the threshold of the gateway which was one reed broad, and the other threshold of the gateway [inside the thick wall], which was one reed broad.

7 And every room for the guards was one reed long and one reed broad, and the space between the guard rooms or lodges was five cubits, and the threshold of the gate by the porch or vestibule of the gateway within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch or vestibule of the gate toward the house [of the Lord], one reed.

9 Then he measured the porch or vestibule of the gateway, eight cubits, and its posts or jambs, two cubits, and the porch or vestibule of the gate was inside — toward the house [of the Lord].

10 And the guard rooms or lodges of the east gateway were three on this side and three on that side; they three were the same size, and the posts or jambs were the same size on either side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gateway, ten cubits, and the length of the gateway, thirteen cubits.

12 And a border or barrier before the guard rooms was one cubit on this side and a border or barrier, one cubit on that side. And the guard rooms or lodges were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 And ^wthe man [an angel] measured the gate from the outer wall of one chamber or guard room to the outer wall of another; a breadth of twenty-five cubits, from door to door.

14 And ^wthe open part of the porch or vestibule of the gateway on the outside was twenty cubits, the chambers or guard rooms of the gate being round about.

15 And including this porch or vestibule of the gate on the outside and the porch or vestibule on the inside the extent was fifty cubits.

16 And there were closed windows to the guard rooms or chambers, and to their posts or pillars within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches or colonnade; and windows were round about facing into the court, and upon each post or column were palm tree [decorations].

17 Then he brought me into the outward court, and, lo, there were chambers and a pavement round about the court; thirty chambers fronted on the pavement.

18 And the pavement was along by the side of the gates, answerable to the length of the gateways; this was the lower pavement.

19 Then [the man] measured the distance from the inner front before the lower gate to the outer front of the inner court, a hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north.

20 And the gate of the outward court which faced the north, of it he measured both the length and the breadth.

21 And its guard rooms or lodges, three on this side and three on that side, and its pillars or posts and arches or vestibule were the same size as those of the first gate: their length was fifty cubits and the breadth twenty-five cubits.

22 And its windows and its arches or vestibule and its palm trees were of the same size as those of the gate that faces toward the east. It was reached by going up seven steps, and the arches of its vestibule were on the inner side.

23 Opposite the gate on the north and on the east, was a gate to the inner court; and [the man with the measuring rod of reed] measured from gate to gate, a hundred cubits.

24 After that the man brought me toward the south, and behold, there was a gate on the south, and he measured its pillars or posts and its arches or vestibule; they measured as the others did.

25 And there were windows round about in it and in its arches or vestibule, like those windows in the other gateways; its length was fifty cubits and the breadth twenty-five cubits.

26 And there were seven steps going up to the gate, and its arches or vestibule were on the inside. And it had palm trees, one on this side and another on that side, carved on its pillars or posts.

27 And there was a gate to the inner court on the south; and he measured from gate to gate toward the south, a hundred cubits.

28 And [the man, an angel] brought me into the inner court by the south gate, and he measured the south gate; its measurements were the same as those of the other gateways.

29 And its guard rooms or chambers and its pillars or posts and its arches or vestibule measured as did the others. And there were windows in the gateway and in its arches or vestibule round about; its length was fifty cubits and its breadth twenty-five cubits.

30 And there were arches or a vestibule round about, twenty-five cubits long [the long way of the vestibule] and five cubits wide.

31 And its [arched] vestibule faced the outer court, and palm trees were carved upon its posts or pillars, and the steps going up to it were eight.

32 And he brought me into the inner court toward the east, and he measured the gate; it measured the same as the others.

33 And its guard rooms or chambers and its posts or pillars and its arches or vestibule measured as did the others. And there were windows in it and in its [arched] vestibule round about; the gateway was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

34 And its [arched] vestibule faced the outer court, and palm trees were carved upon its posts or pillars on either side, and the steps leading to it were eight.

35 And [the man, an angel] brought me to the north gate and measured it; the measurements were the same as those of the other gates.

36 Its guard rooms or chambers, its posts or pillars and its [arched] vestibule, and the windows to it round about [were of the same size as the others]. The length of the gateway was fifty cubits and the width was twenty-five cubits.

37 And its posts or pillars were toward the outer court, and palm trees were carved upon them on either side. And the approach to it had eight steps.

38 There was an attached chamber with its door beside the posts of the gates, where the burnt offering was to be washed.

39 And in the porch or vestibule of the gate were two tables on this side and two tables on that side, on which to slay the burnt offering and the sin offering and the trespass or guilt offering.

40 And on the one side without, as one goes up to the entrance of the gate to the north, were two tables; and on the other side at the vestibule of the gate were two tables.

41 Four tables were on the inside and four tables on the outside of the side of the gate, eight tables upon which the sacrifices were to be slain.

42 Moreover, there were four tables of hewn stone for the burnt offering, a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high. Upon them were to be laid the instruments with which were slain the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And slabs or hooks a hand-breadth long were fastened within [the room] round about. Upon the tables was to be placed the flesh of the offering.

44 *Then [the man, an angel] led me [from without] into the inner court, and behold, there were two chambers in the inner court: one beside the north gate, but facing the south, and one beside the south gate, but looking toward the north.

45 And [the man, an angel who was guiding me] said, This chamber with its view to the south is for the priests who have charge of the house [of the Lord].

46 And the chamber with its view to the north is for the priests who have charge of the altar. These are the sons of Zadok, who alone among the sons of Levi may come near to the Lord to minister to Him.

47 And he measured the court, a hundred cubits long and a hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar was in front of the house [of the Lord].

48 Then he brought me to the vestibule or porch of the temple proper, and he measured each post or pillar of the porch, five cubits on either side. And the width of the gate was three cubits for this leaf and three cubits for that one.

49 And the length of the vestibule or porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me by the steps by which it was reached; and there were two pillars standing on the posts [as bases], or beside them, one on either side of the entrance.

CHAPTER 41

AND [the man, an angel] brought me to [the holy place of] the temple, and measured the wall pillars, six cubits broad on one side [of the ten-cubit door], and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle or tent [later called the temple].

* Taken from the Septuagint (Greek) Version for clearer description.

2 And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits, and the leaves of the door were five cubits on the one side and five cubits on the other side; and he measured its length, forty cubits and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 Then [the man, being an angel and unrestricted] went inside [the inner room, but went alone], and measured each post of the door, two cubits, and the doorway, six cubits, and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. [Heb. 9:6, 7; 10:19-25.]

4 And he measured the length [of the interior of the second room] in the temple proper, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits; and he said to me, This is the most holy place — the holy of holies.

5 Then he measured the wall of the temple, six cubits thick [to accommodate side chambers]; and the breadth of every side chamber, four cubits, round about the temple proper on every side.

6 These side chambers were three stories high, one over another, and thirty in each story; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side chambers round about, that they might have hold of that wall, but they did not have hold of the wall of the temple.

7 And the side rooms became broader as they encompassed the temple higher and higher, for the encircling of the house went higher and higher round about the temple; therefore the breadth of the house continued upward, and so one went up from the lowest story to the highest one by way of the middle story [on a winding stairway].

8 I saw also that the temple had an elevation or foundation platform round about it. The foundations of the side chambers measured a full reed measure of six long cubits.

9 The thickness of the outer wall of the side chamber was five cubits, and so was the width of that part of the foundation that was left free of the side chambers that belonged to the house.

10 And between [the free space of the foundation platform and] the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the temple on every side.

11 And the doors of the attached side chambers opened on the free space that was left, one door toward the north and another door toward the south; and the breadth of the space on the foundation platform that was left free was five cubits round about.

12 And the building that faced the temple yard on the west side was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and its length ninety cubits.

13 And [the man, an angel in my vision] measured the temple, a hundred cubits long, and the yard and the building with its walls, a hundred cubits long;

14 Also the breadth of the east front of the temple and the yard, a hundred cubits.

15 Then [the man, an angel] measured the length of the building on the west side of the yard with its walls on either side, a hundred cubits. The holy place of the temple, the inner holy of holies, and the outer vestibule

16 Were roofed over, and all three had latticed windows all around. The inside walls of the temple were paneled with wood round about from the floor up to the windows and from the windows to the roof,

17 Including the space above the door leading to the inner room inside and out. And on the walls round about in the inner room and the holy place were carvings,

18 With figures of cherubim and palm trees, so that a palm tree was between a cherub and a cherub; and every cherub had two faces,

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side. It was made this way through all the house round about.

20 From the floor to above the entrance were cherubim and palm trees made, and so on the wall of the temple [the holy place].

21 The door frames of the temple were squared, and in front [outside of the sanctuary or holy of holies] was what appeared to be

22 An altar of wood, three cubits high and two cubits long [and wide], and its corners, its base and its sides were of wood. And the man said to me, This is the table that is before the Lord.

23 And the temple or holy place and the sanctuary or holy of holies, had two doors [one for each of them].

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two folding leaves; two leaves for the one door and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were carved on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like those carved upon the walls; and there was also a canopy of wood in front of the porch outside.

26 And there were recessed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side of the porch. Thus were the side chambers of the house, and the canopies.

CHAPTER 42

THEN [the man, an angel] brought me forth into the outer court northward, and he brought me to the attached chambers that were opposite the temple yard and were opposite the building on the north.

2 Before the long side of one hundred cubits was the door toward the north, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Adjoining the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and opposite the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was balcony facing balcony in three stories.

4 And before the attached chambers was a walk inward of ten cubits breadth and a hundred cubits long, and their doors were on the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter, for the balconies took off from these more than from the lower and middle chambers of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but did not have pillars as the pillars of the [outer] court; therefore the upper chambers were set back more than the lower and the middle ones from the ground.

7 And the wall or fence that was outside, opposite and parallel to the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, was fifty cubits long.

8 For the length of the [combined] chambers that were on the outer court was fifty cubits, while the length of those opposite the temple was a hundred cubits.

9 And under these chambers was the entrance on the east side, as one approached them from the outer court.

10 In the breadth of the wall of the court going toward the east, before the yard and before the building, were the chambers

11 With a passage before them that gave the appearance of the attached chambers on the north, of the same length and breadth, with similar exits and arrangements and doors.

12 And like the doors of the chambers that were toward the south there was an entrance at the head of the way, the way before the dividing wall toward the east, as one enters them.

13 Then said [the man, an angel] to me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are opposite the yard, are the holy chambers where the priests who approach the Lord shall eat the most holy offerings; there shall they lay the most holy things, the meal offering, the sin offering, and the trespass or guilt offering, for the place is holy.

14 When the priests enter the holy place they shall not go out of it into the outer court unless they lay aside there the garments in which they minister, for these are holy, separate and set apart. They shall put on other garments before they approach that which is for the people.

15 Now when he had finished measuring the inner temple area, he brought me forth toward the gate which faces east and measured it [the outer area] round about.

16 He measured the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

18 He measured the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

19 He turned about to the west side and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it on the four sides: it had a wall round about, the length five hundred reeds and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy [the temple proper] and that which was common [the outer area].

CHAPTER 43

AFTERWARD [the man, an angel] brought me to the gate, the gate that faces east.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the east, and His voice was like the sound of many waters, and the earth shone with His glory. [Rev. 1:15; 14:2.]

3 And the vision which I saw was like the vision I had seen when I came to foretell the destruction of the city, and like the vision I had seen beside the river Chebar [near Babylon]; and I fell on my face. [Ezek. 1:4; 3:23; 10:15, 22.]

4 And the glory of the Lord entered the temple by the gate facing east.

5 Then the Spirit caught me up and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the temple.

6 And I heard One speaking to me out of the temple, and a Man stood by me.

7 And He, [the Lord,] said to me, Son of man, this is the place of My throne, and the place of the soles of My feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever, and My holy name the house of Israel shall no more profane, neither they nor their kings, by their [idolatrous] harlotry, nor by the dead bodies and monuments of their kings;

8 By setting their threshold by My thresholds and their doorposts by My doorposts, with a mere wall between Me and them. They have profaned My holy name by their abominations which they have committed; therefore I have consumed them in My anger.

9 Now let them put away their [idolatrous] harlotry and the dead bodies and monuments of their kings far from Me, and I will dwell in their midst for ever.

10 You, son of man, show the temple by your description of it to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities, and let them measure accurately its appearance and plan.

11 And if they are ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the form of the temple and the arrangement of it, its exits and its entrances and the whole form of it, and all its ordinances and all their forms, and all its laws. And write it down in their sight so that they may keep the whole form of it and all the ordinances of it, and do them.

12 This is the law of the house of the Lord: The whole area round about on the top of the mountain [Mount Moriah] shall be most holy, separated and set apart. Behold, this is the law of the house of the Lord.

13 And these are the measurements of the altar [of burnt offering] in cubits. The cubit is a royal cubit — the length of a forearm — and a palm of the hand; the bottom or gutter shall be a cubit deep and a cubit wide, with a rim or lip round about it of a span's breadth. And this shall be the height of the altar:

14 From the bottom or gutter on the ground to the lower ledge or brim shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser ledge to the greater ledge shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 And the altar hearth shall be four cubits high, and from the altar hearth reaching upward there shall be four horns one cubit high.

16 And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square, and on its four sides squares.

17 And the ledge shall be fourteen cubits long and fourteen cubits broad on its four sides, and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and its bottom or gutter shall be a cubit deep and wide; and its ascent [not steps] shall face the east. [Cf. Exod. 20:26.]

18 And [the Lord] said to me, Son of man, thus says the Lord God: These are the regulations for the use of the altar in the day that it is erected, upon which to offer burnt offerings and to sprinkle blood against it:

19 You shall give to the priests, the Levites who are of the offspring of Zadok, who are near to Me to minister to Me, says the Lord God, a young bull for a sin offering.

20 And you shall take of its blood and put it on the four horns of [the altar of burnt offering], and on the four corners of the ledge, and upon the rim or border round about. Thus shall you cleanse and make atonement for [the altar].

21 You shall also take the bullock of the sin offering, and it shall be burned in the appointed place of the temple, outside the sacred enclosure. [Heb. 13:11.]

22 And on the second day you shall offer a male goat without blemish for a sin offering. Thus the altar shall be cleansed, as it was cleansed with the bullock.

23 When you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer a young bull without blemish and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24 And you shall bring them near before the Lord, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering to the Lord.

25 Seven days you shall prepare every day a goat for a sin offering; also a young bull and a ram out of the flock, without blemish, shall be prepared.

26 Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so the priests shall consecrate, separate and set it apart to receive offerings. [Exod. 29:37.]

27 And when these days have been accomplished, on the eighth day and from then on, the priests shall offer your burnt offerings upon the altar and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, says the Lord God. [Rom. 12:1; I Pet. 2:5.]

CHAPTER 44

THEN [the man] brought me back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary which faces the east, and it was shut.

2 Then the Lord said to me, This gate shall be ^sshut; it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it; for the Lord, the God of Israel,

y) In Christ's time the Golden Gate was the principal eastside thoroughfare. Through it the Prince of Peace would naturally make His triumphal entry. But by 1542-3 A.D. when Sultan Suleiman the Magnificent rebuilt the wall of Jerusalem, tradition says the road that once led to this gate had fallen into disuse, and what is now St. Stephen's Gate was the accepted entrance. So the Sultan walked up the Golden Gate with its double entrance and it has remained so ever since.

has entered in by it; therefore it shall remain shut.

3 As for the prince, being the prince, he shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord; he shall enter by way of the porch or vestibule of the gate and shall go out the same way.

4 Then He brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple; I looked, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell upon my face. [Rev. 15:8.]

5 And the Lord said to me, Son of man, mark well, and set your heart to see with your eyes and hear with your ears all that I say to you concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord and all its laws, and mark well and set your heart to know who are allowed to enter the temple and all those who are excluded from the sanctuary.

6 And you shall say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord God: O you house of Israel, let all your previous abominations be enough for you — do not repeat them.

7 You have brought into My sanctuary aliens, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in My sanctuary, to pollute and profane it, even My house, when you offer My bread, the fat and the blood, and in it all and in addition to all your abominations, they and you have broken My covenant.

8 And you have not kept charge of My holy things, but you have chosen foreign keepers to please yourselves and have set them in charge of My sanctuary.

9 Therefore thus says the Lord God: No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and flesh, shall enter into My sanctuary [where no one but the priests might enter], of any foreigners that are among the children of Israel.

10 But the Levites who went far away from Me, when Israel went astray, who went astray from Me after their idols, they shall bear [the punishment for] their iniquity and guilt.

11 They shall minister in My sanctuary having oversight as guards at the gates of the temple and ministering in the temple. They shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall attend the people to serve them.

12 Because [the priests] ministered to [the people] before their idols, and became a stumblingblock of iniquity and guilt to the house of Israel, therefore I have lifted up My hand and have sworn against them, says the Lord God, that they shall bear the punishment for their iniquity and guilt.

13 And they shall not come near to Me to do the office of a priest to Me, nor come near to any of My holy things that are most sacred; but they shall bear their shame and their punishment for the abominations which they have committed.

14 Yet I will appoint them as caretakers to have charge of the temple, for all the service of the temple and for all that will be done in it.

15 But the priests of the Levites, the sons of Zadok, who kept the charge of My sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from Me, shall come near to Me to minister to Me, and they shall attend Me to offer to Me the fat and the blood, says the Lord God.

16 They shall enter into My sanctuary, and they shall come near to My table to minister to Me, and they shall keep My charge.

17 When they enter the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed in linen garments; no wool shall be on them while they minister at the gates of the inner court and within the temple.

18 They shall have linen turbans on their heads and linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with anything that causes sweat.

19 And when they go out into the outer court to the people, they shall put off the garments in which they ministered and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, lest by contact of their garments with the people they should consecrate — separate and set apart for holy use — such persons [unintentionally and unfittingly].

20 Neither shall they shave their heads or allow their locks to grow long; they shall only cut short or trim the hair of their heads.

21 Neither shall any priest drink wine, when he enters the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, or a woman separated or divorced from her husband; but they shall marry maidens [who are virgins] of the offspring of the house of Israel, or a widow previously married to a priest.

23 The priests shall teach My people the difference between the holy and the common or profane, and cause them to distinguish between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in a controversy they shall act as judges, and they shall judge according to My judgments; and they shall keep My laws and My statutes in all My appointed feasts, and they shall keep My sabbaths holy.

25 And they shall go near to no dead person to defile themselves, except for father or for mother, for son or for daughter, for brother or for sister who has had no husband; for them they may defile themselves. [Lev. 21:1, 2.]

26 And after he is cleansed [from the defilement of a dead body] they shall reckon to him seven days more before returning to the temple.

27 And on the day that he goes into the sanctuary, into the inner court to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, says the Lord God.

28 This [their ministry to Me] shall be to them as an inheritance, for I am their inheritance; and you shall give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession. [Josh. 13:14, 33.]

29 They shall eat the meal offering and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; and every offering in Israel dedicated by a solemn vow to God shall be theirs.

30 And the first of all the first fruits of all kinds, and every offering of all kinds from all your offerings, shall belong to the priests. You shall also give to the priest the first of your coarse meal and bread dough, that a blessing may rest on your house.

31 The priests shall not eat of anything that has died of itself or is torn, whether it be bird or beast.

CHAPTER 45

MOREOVER, when you shall divide the land by apportioned and assigned lots for inheritance, you shall set apart as an offering to the Lord a portion of the land to be used for holy purposes. The length shall be twenty-five thousand ²*cubits*, and the breadth twenty thousand. It shall be holy — set apart and consecrated to sacred use — in its every area. [Cf. Ezek. 48:9, 12, 13.]

2 Of this there shall belong to the sanctuary a square plot five hundred by five hundred, and fifty cubits for the open space around it.

3 And in this sacred section you shall measure off a portion twenty-five thousand ²*cubits* in length and ten thousand cubits in breadth. And in it shall be the sanctuary which is most holy.

4 It is a holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, who come near to minister to the Lord; and it shall be a place for their houses and a holy place — set apart as sacred — for the sanctuary.

2) The Septuagint (Greek) Version so reads. The term "cubits," rather than "reeds," is supplied throughout this chapter only as the more probable. Neither is definitely designated.

5 And another portion of land, twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand cubits wide, shall also be for the Levites, the ministers of the temple, and they shall possess it as a place in which to live.

6 And you shall appoint for the possession of the city an area of five thousand cubits wide and twenty-five thousand cubits long, along beside the portion set aside as a holy section. It shall belong to the whole house of Israel.

7 And to the prince shall belong the land on the one side and on the other side of the portion set aside as a holy section and the property of the city, in front of the holy section and the property of the city, from the west side westward and from the east side eastward, and the length shall be answerable to that of one of the tribal portions and parallel to it from the western boundary to the eastern boundary of the land.

8 It shall be for the prince, his possession in Israel. And My princes shall no more oppress My people; but they shall give the rest of the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 Thus says the Lord God: That is enough for you, O princes of Israel! Stop the violence and plundering and oppression [that you did when you were given no property], and do justice and righteousness, and take away your exactions and cease your evictions of My people, says the Lord God.

10 You shall have just weights on your scales, and just measures — both a just ephah measure and a just bath measure.

11 The ephah and the bath measures shall both be the same size, the bath containing one tenth of a homer and the ephah one tenth of a homer; the standard measure shall be the homer.

12 And the shekel shall be twenty grahs; twenty shekels, twenty-five shekels, fifteen shekels [according to the metal used?] shall be your maneh.

13 This is the offering which you shall make: one sixth of an ephah from each homer of wheat and one sixth of an ephah from each homer of barley.

14 And as to the set portion of oil, you shall offer the tenth part of a bath of oil out of each cor, which is a homer of ten baths, for ten baths make [both a cor and] a homer.

15 And one lamb out of every flock of two hundred, out of the well-watered pastures of Israel and from all the families of Israel, to provide for a meal offering and for a burnt offering and for peace offerings, to make atonement for those who brought them, says the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this offering for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the prince's part to furnish [from the contributions of the people] the burnt offerings and meal offerings and drink offerings, at the feasts and on the new moons and on the sabbaths, at all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel. He shall prepare and make the sin offering and the meal offering and the burnt offering and the peace offerings, to make atonement, bringing forgiveness and reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 Thus says the Lord God: In the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall take a young bull without blemish, and you shall cleanse the sanctuary.

19 And the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering and put it upon the doorposts of the temple and upon the four corners of the ledge of the altar and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 You shall do this on the seventh day of the month for every one who has sinned through error or ignorance and for him who is simple-minded. So shall you make atonement for the temple.

21 In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 Upon that day the prince shall prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin offering.

23 And for the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the Lord, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily for the seven days, and a he-goat daily for a sin offering.

24 And he shall prepare as a meal offering to be offered with each bullock an ephah of meal, an ephah for each ram, and a hin of oil for each ephah of meal.

25 In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, he shall make the same provision and preparation for the seven days of the feast, for sin offerings, burnt offerings, bloodless or meal offerings, and for the oil.

CHAPTER 46

THUS says the Lord God: The gate of the inner court that faces east shall be shut during the six working days, but on the sabbath it shall be opened, and also on the day of the new moon it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the porch or vestibule of the gate from without and shall stand by the sidepost of the gate. The priests shall prepare and offer his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate. Then he shall go out, but the gate shall not be shut until evening.

3 The people of the land shall worship at the entrance of that gate before the Lord on the sabbaths and on the new moons.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer to the Lord on the sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish.

5 And the bloodless or meal offering with the ram shall be an ephah, and the meal offering with the lambs shall be as much as he is able [willing] to give, and a hin of oil with each ephah.

6 And on the day of the new moon the offering shall be a young bull without blemish, and six lambs and a ram without blemish.

7 And the prince shall provide and make a meal or bloodless offering, an ephah for the bullock and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs as he is able and willing according to what has been made available to his hand, and a hin of oil to each ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the porch or vestibule of that gate, and he shall go out by way of it.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord at the appointed solemn feasts, he who enters the north gate to worship shall go out by the south gate; and he who enters by the south gate shall go out by the north gate; he shall not return by the gate by which he came in, but shall go out by the opposite gate — straight ahead. [Phil. 3:13.]

10 And the prince, when they go in, shall go in with them, and when they go out, he shall go out.

11 And in the appointed and solemn feasts the meal or bloodless offering shall be with a bullock an ephah, and with a ram an ephah, and with the lambs as much as the prince is willing and able to give [from what has been made available to him], and a hin of oil with each ephah.

12 When the prince shall prepare and make a freewill burnt offering or peace offerings voluntarily to the Lord, the gate that faces east shall be opened for him, and he shall offer his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he does on the sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and after he has gone out the gate shall be shut.

13 And a lamb a year old without blemish shall you [the priests, for the congregation] offer daily to the Lord;

you shall prepare and offer it every morning.

14 And you [the priests] shall prepare a meal offering to go with it every morning, one-sixth of an ephah, and one-third of a hin of oil to moisten the fine flour. This is a perpetual ordinance for a continual meal offering to the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare and offer the lamb and the meal offering and the oil every morning for a continual burnt offering.

16 Thus says the Lord God: If the prince gives a gift to any of his sons out of his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their property by inheritance.

17 But if he gives a gift out of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his until the year of liberty — the year of jubilee; after that it shall be returned to the prince; only his sons may keep a gift from his inheritance [permanently].

18 Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance by oppression, thrusting them out of their property; what he gives to his sons he shall take out of his own possession, so that none of My people shall be separated from his [inherited] possession.

19 Then [my guide] led me through the entrance which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which faced the north; and behold, there was a place at the extreme western end of them.

20 And he said to me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the [bloodless] meal offering; to prevent their having to bring them into the outer court, lest they should thereby wrongfully sanctify — separate and consecrate for holy service — the people who are there.

21 And he brought me out into the outer court and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts joined on and enclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad; these four in the corners were the same size.

23 And there was a row of masonry inside them, round about each of the four courts, and it was made with hearths for boiling at the bottom of the rows round about.

24 Then said he to me, These are the kitchens of those who do the boiling, where the ministers [the mere Levites] of the temple shall boil the sacrifices of the people.

CHAPTER 47

THEN [my guide] brought me again to the door of the house [of the Lord] — the temple; and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the temple toward the east, for the front of the temple was toward the east; and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the temple, on the south side of the altar.

2 Then he brought me out by way of the north gate and led me around outside to the outer gate by the way that faces east; and behold, waters were running out [in a trickle] on the right side. [Zech. 14:8; cf. Rev. 22:1, 2.]

3 And when the man went on eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were ankle deep.

4 Again he measured a thousand cubits and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that reached to the knees. Again he measured a thousand cubits and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that reached to the loins.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through, for the waters had risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over or through.

6 And he said to me, Son of man, have you seen this? Then he led me and caused me to return to the bank of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, on the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then he said to me, These waters pour out toward the eastern region and go down into the Arabah [the valley of the Jordan] and on into the Dead Sea. And when they shall enter into the sea [the sea of putrid waters] the waters shall be healed and made fresh.

9 And wherever the double river shall go, every living creature which swarms shall live, and there shall be a very great number of fish; because these waters go there that [the waters of the sea] may be healed and made fresh, and every thing shall live wherever the river goes.

10 The fishermen shall stand on [the banks of the Dead Sea]; from Engedi even to Eneglaim shall be a place to spread nets; their fish shall be of very many kinds, as the fish of the Great or Mediterranean Sea.

11 But its swamps and marshes will not become wholesome for animal life; they shall [as the river subsides] be left encrusted with salt and given over to it.

12 And on the banks of the river on both its sides, there shall grow all kinds of trees for food; their leaf shall not fade, nor shall their fruit fail [to meet the demand]. Each tree shall bring forth new first fruits every month, [these supernatural qualities being] because their waters came from out the sanctuary. And their fruit shall be for food, and their leaf for healing.

13 Thus says the Lord God: These shall be the boundaries by which you shall divide the land among the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions.

14 And you shall divide it equally.

I lifted up My hand and swore to give it to your fathers, and this land shall fall to you as your inheritance.

15 And this shall be the boundary of the land on the north side: from the Great or Mediterranean Sea by way of Hethlon to the entrance of Zedad, 16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is on the border between Damascus and Hamath; as far as Hazerhatticon on the border of Hauran.

17 So the boundary shall extend from the [Mediterranean] Sea to Hazarenon, at the boundary of Damascus on the north, together with the boundary of Hamath to the north. This is the north side.

18 And on the east side you shall measure the boundary from between Hauran and Damascus, and Gilead on one side, and the land of Israel on the other, with the Jordan forming the border down to the East or Dead Sea. And this [from Damascus to the Dead Sea and including it] is the east side.

19 And the south side [border] southward, from Tamar [near the Dead Sea] shall run as far as the waters of Meriboth-kadesh, then along the Brook of Egypt to the Great or Mediterranean Sea. And this is the south side.

20 On the west side [the boundary] shall be the Great or Mediterranean Sea to a point opposite the entrance of Hamath [north of Mount Hermon]. This is the west side.

21 So you shall divide this land among you according to the tribes of Israel.

22 You shall divide it by allotment as an inheritance for yourselves and for the foreigners who reside among you and shall have children born among you. They shall be to you as those born in the country among the children of Israel; they shall inherit with you among the tribes of Israel.

23 In whatever tribe the foreigner resides, there shall you give him his inheritance, says the Lord God.

CHAPTER 48

NOW these are the names of the tribes: From the north end, beside the way of Hethlon to the entrance of Hamath, as far as Hazarenon, which is on the northern border of Damascus opposite Hamath, and reaching from the east border to the west, Dan, one portion.

2 And beside the border of Dan, from the east side to the west side, Asher, one portion.

3 And beside the border of Asher, from the east side even to the west side, Naphtali, one portion.

4 And beside the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west side, Manasseh, one portion.

5 And beside the border of Manasseh, from the east side to the west side, Ephraim, one portion.

6 And beside the border of Ephraim, from the east side even to the west side, Reuben, one portion.

7 And beside the border of Reuben, from the east side to the west side, Judah, one portion.

8 And beside the border of Judah, from the east side to the west side, shall be the offering of land which you shall offer of twenty-five thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the tribal portions, from the east side to the west side, and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The portion of land that you shall set apart and offer to the Lord shall be twenty-five thousand measures in length, and ten thousand in breadth [for each of the two districts].

10 And for these, even for the priests, shall be this holy offering of land; toward the north twenty-five thousand measures in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south twenty-five thousand in length; and the sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst of it.

11 The set apart and sacred portion shall be for the consecrated priests of the sons of Zadok, who have kept My charge and who did not go astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the other Levites did.

12 And this land offering shall be for the priests as a thing most holy beside the boundary of the other Levites.

13 And opposite the boundary of the priests the other Levites shall have twenty-five thousand measures in length and ten thousand in breadth. The whole length shall be twenty-five thousand and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell any of it or exchange it; they shall not convey or transfer this the first fruits of the land, for it has been offered to the Lord and is holy to Him.

15 And the remaining strip of five thousand measures in breadth and twenty-five thousand in length, shall be for the city's secular use, for a place in which to dwell and for open country or suburbs. The city shall be in the midst of the plot.

16 And these shall be the dimensions of it: the north side four thousand five hundred measures, and the south side four thousand five hundred, and on the east side four thousand five hundred, and the west side four thousand five hundred. [Cf. Rev. 21:16.]

17 And the city shall have suburbs or open country: toward the north two hundred and fifty measures, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

18 The remainder of the length along beside the holy portion shall be ten thousand measures to the east, and ten thousand to the west, and it shall be along beside the holy portion. The produce from it shall be for food for those who work in the city.

19 And the workers of the city from all the tribes of Israel shall till the open land.

20 The whole portion that you shall set apart as an offering to God shall be twenty-five thousand measures by twenty-five thousand; you shall set apart the holy portion foursquare, together with the property of the city.

21 And what is left unallotted, on both sides of the holy portion and of that possessed by the city, shall belong to the prince. Reaching from the twenty-five thousand measures of the holy portion to the east boundary, and west from the twenty-five thousand measures to the west boundary, parallel to the tribal allotments, it belongs to the prince. The holy portion with the sanctuary of the temple in its midst, 22 And the possession of the Levites and the property of the city [of Jerusalem], shall be in the midst of that which belongs to the prince. What lies between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin shall be for the prince.

23 As for the rest of the tribes, from the east side to the west side, Benjamin, one portion.

24 And beside the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west side, Simeon, one portion.

25 And beside the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west side, Issachar, one portion.

26 And beside the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west side Zebulun, one portion.

27 And beside the border of Zebu-lun, from the east side to the west side, Gad, one portion.

28 And beside the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall extend from Tamar to the waters of Meribath-kadesh and on along the Brook of Egypt to the Great or Mediterranean Sea.

29 This is the land which you shall divide by allotment among the tribes of Israel as their inheritance, and these are their several portions, says the Lord God.

30 And these shall be the exits of the city: On the north side, which is to extend four thousand five hundred measures, 31 Three gates: one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi, the gates of the city being called after the names of the tribes of Israel.

32 And on the east side's four thousand and five hundred measures, three gates: one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

33 And on the south side's four thousand and five hundred measures, three gates: one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, one gate of Zebulun.

34 On the west side's four thousand and five hundred measures, three gates: one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, one gate of Naphtali.

35 The distance around the city shall be [four times four and one-half thousands or] eighteen thousand measures; and the name of the city from that day and ever after shall be, THE LORD IS THERE. [Cf. Rev. 21:12, 13, 16.]

THE BOOK OF DANIEL

CHAPTER 1

IN the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with a part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar [Babylonia] to the house of his god, and placed the vessels in the treasury of his god. [II Chron. 36:5-7; Jer. 27:19, 20; Dan. 5:1-3.]

3 And the [Babylonian] king told Ashpenaz, the master of his eunuchs, to bring in some of the children of Israel, both of the royal family and of the nobility, [II Kings 20:17, 18.]

4 Youths without blemish, well-favored in appearance and skillful in all wisdom, discernment and understanding, apt in learning knowledge, competent to stand and serve in the king's palace, and to teach them the literature and language of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king assigned for them a daily portion of his own rich and dainty food and of the wine which he drank. They were to be so educated and so nourished for three years, that at the end of that time they might stand before the king.

6 Among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

7 The chief of the eunuchs gave them names: Daniel he called Belteshazzar [the king's attendant], Hananiah he called Shadrach, Mishael he called Meshach, and Azariah he called Abednego.

8 But Daniel determined in his heart that he would not defile himself by [eating his portion of] the king's rich and dainty food or with the wine which he drank; therefore he requested of the chief of the eunuchs that he might be allowed not to defile himself. [See Num. 6:1-4; I Cor. 10:21.]

9 Now God made Daniel to find favor, compassion and loving-kindness with the chief of the eunuchs.

10 And the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel, I fear lest my lord the king, who has appointed your food and your drink, should see your faces worse looking or more sad than the other youths of your age. Then you would endanger my head with the king.

11 Then said Daniel to the steward whom the chief of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah, 12 Prove your servants, I beseech you, for ten days, and let us be given a vegetable diet and water to drink.

13 Then let our appearance and the appearance of the youths who eat of the king's rich dainties be observed and compared by you, and deal with us your servants according to what you see.

14 So [the man] consented to them in this matter and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days it was seen that they were looking better and had taken on more flesh than all the youths who ate of the king's rich dainties.

16 So the steward took away their rich dainties, and the wine they were to drink, and gave them vegetables.

17 As for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. [Luke 21:15; James 1:5-7.]

18 Now at the end of the time which the king had set for bringing [all the young men in], the chief of the eunuchs brought them before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king conversed with them, and among them all none was found like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah; therefore they were assigned to stand before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom and understanding concerning which the king asked them, he found them ten times better than all the [learned] magicians and enchanters that were in his whole realm.

21 And Daniel continued there even to the first year of King Cyrus [at the close of the seventy years' exile of Judah in Babylonia, which Jeremiah had foretold]. [Jer. 25:11, 12; 29:10; Ezra 1:1-3.]

CHAPTER 2

IN the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams, by which his spirit was troubled and agitated and his sleep went from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians and the enchanters or soothsayers, and the sorcerers and Chaldean [diviners] to tell the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said to them, I had a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream.

4 Then said the Chaldean [diviners] to the king in Aramaic [the Syrian language], O king, live for ever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation.

5 The king answered the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me! And the decree goes forth from me and I say it with all emphasis, that if you do not make known to me the dream with its interpretation, you shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dung-hill!

6 But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor. So show me the dream and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered again, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation of it.

8 The king answered, I know with certainty that you are trying to gain time, because you see the thing is gone from me and because you see that my word [against you] is sure

9 That if you will not make known to me the dream, there is but one sentence for you; for you have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, [hoping to delay your execution] until the time be changed. Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can tell me the interpretation of it.

10 The Chaldean [diviners] answered before the king, and said, There is not a man on earth who can show the king this matter; for no king, lord, or ruler has ever asked such a thing of any magician or enchanter or Chaldean.

11 A rare and weighty thing indeed the king requires! None except the gods can reveal it to the king, and their dwelling is not with [human] flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed.

13 So the decree went forth that the wise men were to be killed, and [the officers] sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

14 Then Daniel returned an answer which was full of prudence and wisdom to Arioch the captain or executioner of the king's guard, who had gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon.

15 He said to Arioch, the king's captain, Why is the decree so urgent and hasty from the king? Then Arioch explained the matter to Daniel.

16 And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would set a date and give him time, and he would show the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions, 18 So that they would desire and request mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret, that Daniel and his companions with the rest of the wise men of Babylon should not perish.

19 Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. And Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel answered, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever! For wisdom and might are His!

21 He changes the times and the seasons, He removes kings and sets up kings, He gives wisdom to the wise and knowledge to those who have understanding! [Dan. 4:35.]

22 He reveals the deep and secret things; He knows what is in the darkness, and the light dwells with Him! [Job 15:8; Ps. 25:14; Matt. 6:6.]

23 I thank You and praise You, O God of my fathers, Who has given me wisdom and might, and has made known to me now what we desired of You; for You have made known to us the solution to the king's problem.

24 Therefore Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and said thus to him, Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon! Bring me in before the king, and I will show to the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus to him, I have found a man of the captives of Judah who will make known to the king the interpretation of his dream.

26 The king said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Are you able to make known to me the dream which I have seen and the interpretation of it?

27 Daniel answered the king, The [mysterious] secret which the king has demanded neither the wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor astrologers can show the king;

28 But there is a God in Heaven Who reveals secrets, and He has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what it is that shall be in the latter days — at the end of days. Your dream and the visions of your head upon your bed are these:

29 As for you, O king, as you lay upon your bed thoughts came into your mind about what should come to pass hereafter; and He Who reveals secrets was making known to you what shall come to pass.

30 But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any one living, but in order that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart and mind.

31 You, O king, saw, and behold, a great image. This image which was mighty and of exceedingly great brightness, stood before you, and the appearance of it was frightening and terrible.

32 As for this image, its head was of fine gold, its breast and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of bronze, 33 Its legs of iron, its feet part of iron and part of [burned potter's] clay.

34 As you looked a Stone was cut out without human hands, which smote the image on its feet that were of iron and clay — the burned clay of the potter — and broke them to pieces. [I Pet. 2:3-8.]

35 Then was the iron, the [burned potter's] clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold, broken and crushed together and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors, and the wind carried them away, so that not a trace of them could be found. And the Stone that smote the image became a great mountain or rock and filled the whole earth.

36 This was the dream, and we will tell the interpretation of it to the king.

37 You, O king, are king of the [earthly] kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, and the might, and the glory. [Jer. 25:9; 27:6; 28:14.]

a) Daniel's interpretation of Nebuchadnezzar's dream outlines the further history of Gentile world power. The four metals of which the image was made represented four successive empires, each of which would have the power to possess the whole inhabited earth, though each stopped short of that. They were: (1) Babylon, (2) Media-Persia, (3) Greece under Alexander, and (4) Rome. The latter power was divided first into the two legs, corresponding to the Eastern and Western Roman empires, and then (after a very long time apparently) into the ten toes, a confederacy largely of European nations, in the latter days (Dan. 7:24-27).

38 And wherever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the birds of the heavens He has given into your hand and has made you to rule over them all. You [king of Babylon] are the head of gold.

39 And after you shall arise another kingdom [the Medo-Persian], inferior to and earthward from you, and still a third kingdom of bronze [Greece under Alexander the Great], which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdom [Rome] shall be strong as iron, since iron breaks to pieces and subdues all things; and like iron which crushes, it shall break and crush all these. [Dan. 7:7, 23.]

41 And as you saw the feet and toes, part of potters' [burned] clay and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it some of the firmness and strength of iron, just as you saw the iron mixed with miry [earthenware] clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron and part of [burned, potter's] clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly brittle and broken.

43 And as you saw the iron mixed with miry and earthenware clay, so they shall mingle themselves in the seed of men [in marriage bonds]; but they will not hold together [for two such elements or ideologies can never harmonize], even as iron does not mingle itself with clay.

44 And in the days of these [final ten] kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed, nor shall its sovereignty be left to another people, but it shall break and crush and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. [Luke 1: 31-33; Dan. 7:14-17; Rev. 11:15.]

45 Just as you saw that the Stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold, the great God has made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter. The dream is certain, and the interpretation of it is sure.

46 Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell on his face, and paid homage to Daniel [as a great prophet of the highest God], and ordered that an offering and incense should be offered up to him [in honor of his God].

47 The king answered Daniel, Of a truth your God is God of gods and Lord of kings, and a revealer of secret mysteries, seeing that you could reveal this secret mystery! [Rev. 19:16; Prov. 3:32.]

48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon.

49 And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego over the affairs of the province of Babylon. But Daniel remained in the gate of the king — at the king's court.

CHAPTER 3

NEBUCHADNEZZAR the king [caused to be] made an image of gold, whose height was sixty cubits or ninety feet and its breadth six cubits or nine feet. He set it up on the plain of Dura in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the deputies, the governors, the judges and chief star-gazers, the treasurers, the counselors, the sheriffs and lawyers, and all the chief officials of the provinces to come to the dedication of the image which King Nebuchadnezzar had [caused to be] set up.

3 Then the satraps, the deputies, the governors, the judges and chief star-gazers, the treasurers, the counselors, the sheriffs and lawyers, and all the chief officials of the provinces were gathered together for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then the herald cried aloud, You are commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages,

5 That when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, dulcimer or bagpipe, and every kind of music, you are to fall down and worship the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up.

6 And whoever does not fall down and worship shall that very hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore, when all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, dulcimer or bagpipe, and every kind of music, all the peoples, nations, and languages fell down and worshiped the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

8 Therefore at that time certain men of Chaldean descent came near, and brought [malicious] accusations against the Jews.

9 They said to King Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever!

10 You, O king, have made a decree that every man who hears the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, dulcimer or bagpipe, and every kind of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image;

11 And whoever does not fall down and worship shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom you have appointed and set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego; these men, O king, pay no attention to you; they do not serve your gods or worship the golden image which you have set up.

13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. And these men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nebuchadnezzar said to them, Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you do not serve my gods, or worship the golden image which I have [caused to be] set up?

15 Now if you are ready when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, dulcimer or bagpipe, and every kind of music, to fall down and worship the image which I have made, good. But if you do not worship, you shall be cast at once into the midst of a burning fiery furnace, and who is that god who can deliver you out of my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego answered the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, it is not necessary for us to answer you on this point.

17 If our God Whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, He will deliver us out of your hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods, or worship the golden image which you have set up! [Job 13:15; Acts 4:19, 20.]

19 Then Nebuchadnezzar was full of fury, and his facial expression was changed [to antagonism] against Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego. Therefore he commanded that the furnace should be heated seven times hotter than it was usually heated.

20 And he commanded the strongest men in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these three men were bound in their cloaks, their tunics or undergarments, their turbans, and their other clothing, and they were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceedingly hot, the flame and sparks from the fire killed those men who handled Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, fell down bound into the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king [saw and was] astounded, and he jumped up and said to his counselors, Did we not cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered, True, O king.

25 He answered, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they are not hurt! And the form of the fourth is like a son of the gods! [Phil. 2:5-8.]

26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and said, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, you servants of the Most High God, come out and come here. Then Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego came out from the midst of the fire.

27 And the satraps, the deputies, the governors, and the king's counselors being gathered together saw these men, that the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their garments scorched or changed in color or condition, nor had even the smell of smoke clung to them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, Who has sent His angel and delivered His servants who believed, trusted in and relied on Him! And they set aside the king's command and yielded their bodies, rather than serve or worship any god except their own God.

29 Therefore I make a decree that any people, nation, and language that speaks anything amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill; for there is no other God that can deliver in this way!

30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

CHAPTER 4

NEBUCHADNEZZAR the king, to all people, nations, and languages that dwell on all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you!

2 It seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has performed toward me.

3 How great are His signs! And how mighty His wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and His dominion is from generation to generation. [Dan. 7:13, 14; Luke 1:31-33.]

4 I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house and prospering in my palace.

5 I had a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts and imaginations and the visions of my head as I lay upon my bed troubled and agitated me.

6 Therefore I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream.

7 Then the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers came in; and I told them the dream, but they could not make known to me the interpretation of it.

8 But at last Daniel came in before me, he who was named Belteshazzar after the name of my god, and in whom is the Spirit of the Holy God, and I told the dream before him, saying,

9 O Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, because I know that the Spirit of the Holy God is in you, and no secret mystery is a burden or troubles you, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation of it.

10 The visions of my head [as I lay] on my bed were these: I saw, and behold, a tree in the midst of the earth, and its height was great.

11 The tree grew and was strong, and its height reached to the heavens, and the sight of it reached to the end of the whole earth.

12 Its leaves were fair and its fruit abundant, and in it was food for all. The living creatures of the field found shade under it, and the birds of the sky dwelt in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head [as I lay] on my bed, and behold, a watcher, a holy one, came down from Heaven.

14 He cried aloud [with might] and said, Hew down the tree and cut off its branches, shake off its leaves and scatter its fruit; let the living creatures flee from under it and the fowls from its branches.

15 Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, bound with a band of iron and bronze, in the midst of the tender grass of the field. Let him be wet with the dew of the heavens, and let him share the lot of the living creatures in the grass of the earth;

16 Let his nature and understanding be changed from a man's, and let a beast's nature and understanding be given him, and let seven times [or years] pass over him.

17 This sentence is by the decree of the [heavenly] watchers, and the decision is by the word of the holy ones, to the intent that the living may know that the Most High [God] rules the kingdom of mankind, and gives it to whomever He will, and sets over it the humblest and lowliest of men. [Dan. 2:21; 5:21.]

18 This dream I, King Nebuchadnezzar, have seen. And you, O Belteshazzar [Daniel], declare now its interpretation, since all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation, but you are able, for the Spirit of the Holy God is in you.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonished and dismayed and stricken dumb for a while [concerned about the king's destiny], and his thoughts troubled, agitated and alarmed him. The king said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream or its interpretation trouble or alarm you. Belteshazzar answered, My lord, may the dream be for those who hate you and its message for your enemies.

20 The tree that you saw, which grew [great] and was strong, whose height reached to the heavens and which was visible to all the earth,

21 Whose foliage was beautiful and its fruit abundant, and on it was food for all; under which the living creatures of the field dwelt, and on whose branches the birds of the sky had their nests —

22 It is you, O king, who have grown and become strong: your greatness has increased and reaches to the heavens, and your dominion to the ends of the earth.

23 And whereas the king saw a watcher, a holy one, coming down from Heaven, and saying, Cut the tree down and destroy it, but leave the stump of its roots in the earth with a band of iron and bronze around it, in the tender grass of the field; and let him be wet with the dew of the heavens and let his portion be with the living creatures of the field, until seven times [or years] pass over him;

24 This is the interpretation, O king: It is the decree of the Most High [God], which has come upon my lord the king, 25 That you shall be driven from among men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; you shall be made to eat grass as do the oxen, and you shall be wet with the dew of the heavens, and seven times [or years] shall pass over you; until you know that the Most High [God] rules the kingdom of mankind, and gives it to whomever He will.

26 And as it was commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree, your kingdom shall be sure to you after you have learned and know that [the God of] heaven rules.

27 Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you; break off your sins and show the reality of your repentance by righteousness [right standing with God and rightness in every area and relation], and liberate yourself from your iniquities by showing mercy and loving-kindness to the poor and oppressed, that [if the king will repent] there may be possibly a continuance and lengthening of your peace and tranquility and a healing of your error.

28 All this was fulfilled and came upon King Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve months he was walking in the royal palace of Babylon.

30 The king said, Is not this great Babylon, that I have built as the royal residence and seat of government by the might of my power and for the honor and glory of my majesty?

31 While the words were still in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken: The kingdom has departed from you, 32 And you shall be driven from among men, and your dwelling will be with the living creatures of the field. You will be made to eat grass like the oxen, and seven times [or years] shall pass over you, until you have learned and know that the Most High [God] rules in the kingdom of men and gives it to whom-ever He will.

33 That very hour the thing was [in process of] being fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar. He was driven from among men, and did eat grass as oxen [as Daniel had said], and his body was wet with the dew of the heavens, until his hair grew like eagles' feathers and his nails were like birds' claws.

34 And at the end of the days [seven years], I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my understanding and the right use of my mind returned to me, and I blessed the Most High [God], and I praised and honored and glorified Him Who lives for ever, Whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and His kingdom endures from generation to generation.

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are accounted as nothing, and He does according to His will in the host of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay His hand or say to Him, What are You doing?

36 Now at the same time my reason and understanding returned to me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and splendor returned to me; and my counselors and my lords sought me, I was re-established in my kingdom, and still more greatness was added to me [than before].

37 Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven, all of Whose works are faithful and right, and His ways are just; and those who walk in pride He is able to abase and humble.

CHAPTER 5

BELSHAZZAR the king [descendant of Nebuchadnezzar] made a great feast for a thousand of his lords, and he drank his wine in the presence of the thousand.

2 Belshazzar, while he was tasting the wine, commanded that the golden and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem be brought, that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines might drink from them.

3 Then they brought in the gold and silver vessels which had been taken out [of the sacred area, the holy place and the holy of holies] of the temple, the house of God which was in Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines drank from them.

4 They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold and silver, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone.

5 Immediately and suddenly there appeared the fingers of a man's hand and wrote on the plaster of the wall opposite the candlestick [so exposed especially to the light] in the king's palace.

6 Then the color and the [drunken] hilarious brightness of the king's face was changed, and his [terrifying] thoughts troubled and alarmed him; the joints and muscles of his hips and back gave way and his knees smote together.

7 The king cried aloud [mightily] to bring in the enchanters or soothsayers, the Chaldean [diviners], and the astrologers. The king said to the wise men of Babylon, Whoever will read this writing and show me the interpretation of it, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold put about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 And all the king's wise men came in, but they could not read the writing or make known to the king the interpretation of it.

9 Then King Belshazzar was greatly perplexed and alarmed, and the color faded from his face, and his lords were puzzled and astounded.

10 Now the queen [mother] because of overhearing the exciting words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house. The queen [mother] said, O king, live for ever! Do not be alarmed at your thoughts or let your cheerful expression and the color of your face be changed.

11 There is a man in your kingdom, in whom is the Spirit of the holy God [or gods], and in the days of your father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him; and King Nebuchadnezzar, your father — the king, I say, your father — appointed him master of the magicians, enchanters or soothsayers, Chaldeans, and astrologers;

12 Because an excellent spirit, knowledge, and understanding to interpret dreams, clarify riddles, and solve knotty problems were found in this same Daniel, whom the king named Belshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation.

13 Then Daniel was brought in before the king. And the king said to Daniel, Are you that Daniel of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah?

14 I have heard of you, that the Spirit of the holy God [or gods] is in you, and that light and understanding and superior wisdom are found in you.

15 Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me that they might read this writing and make known to me the interpretation of it; but they could not show the interpretation of the matter.

16 But I have heard of you, that you can make interpretations and solve knotty problems. Now if you can read the writing and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold put around your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered before the king, Let your gifts be for yourself, and give your rewards to another. However, I will read the writing to the king and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father a kingdom and greatness and glory and majesty;

19 And because of the greatness that He gave him, all peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. Whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he set up, and whom he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind and spirit were hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and his glory was taken from him;

21 He was driven from among men, and his heart or mind was made like the beasts', and his dwelling was with the wild asses. He was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the heavens, until he learned and knew that the Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and that He appoints and sets over it whomever He will.

22 And you his son, O Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart and mind, though you knew all this [knew it and were defiant].

23 And you have lifted yourself up against the Lord of heaven, and the vessels of His house have been brought before you, and you and your lords, your wives and your concubines have drunk wine from them; and you have praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood and stone, which do not see or hear or know; and the God in Whose hand your breath is, and Whose are all your ways, you have not honored and glorified [but have dishonored and disgraced].

24 Then was the part of the hand sent from the presence of [the Most High God], and this writing was inscribed.

25 And this is the inscription that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN — numbered, numbered, weighed, divisions.

26 This is the interpretation of the matter: MENE, God has numbered the days of your kingship and brought them to an end;

27 TEKEL, You are weighed in the balances and are found wanting.

28 ^bPERES [singular form, same root as upharsin], Your kingdom and your kingship are divided and given to the Medes and Persians. [Foretold, Isa. 21:2, 5, 9.]

29 Then Belshazzar commanded, and Daniel was clothed with purple, and a chain of gold put about his neck, and a proclamation was made concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 During that night Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans was slain, 31 And Darius the Mede took the kingdom; he was about sixty-two years old.

CHAPTER 6

IT pleased [King] Darius [successor to Belshazzar] to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty satraps, who should be throughout all the kingdom,

2 And over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these satraps might give account to them, so that the king should have no loss or damage.

3 Then this Daniel was distinguished above the presidents and the satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him, and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 Then the presidents and satraps sought to find occasion [to bring accusation] against Daniel concerning the kingdom; but they could find no occasion or fault, for he was faithful, nor was there any error or fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion [to bring accusation] against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. [Acts 24:13-21; I Pet. 4:12-16.]

6 Then these presidents and satraps came tumultuously together to the king, and said to him, King Darius, live for ever!

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counselors and the governors, have consulted and agreed that the king should establish a royal statute and make a firm decree, that whoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except of you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the decree and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be altered.

9 So King Darius signed the writing and the decree.

10 Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house, and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he got down upon his knees three times a day and prayed and gave thanks before his God, as he had done previously. [Ps. 5:7.]

11 Then these men came thronging [by agreement] and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 Then they came near and said before the king concerning his prohibitory decree, Have you not signed an

b) For many people it may be difficult to understand why all the wise men, the soothsayers, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers were unable to translate a few simple words, especially when Daniel's prescribed education in languages was the same as their own, and he had no difficulty. The answer is that any wise man present probably could recognize the four inscribed words, but only the uncompromising man of God — who knew God by daily fellowship and communion with Him, who was so dedicated to Him that God could speak to him and through him — only such a man could tell what the words really meant. Blessed — happy, fortunate, prosperous and enviable — are those who dare to be a Daniel!

edict that any man who shall make a petition to any god or man within thirty days save of you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be changed or repealed.

13 Then they said before the king, That Daniel, who is one of the exiles from Judah, does not regard or pay any attention to you, O king, or to the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, was much distressed [over what he had done] and set his mind on Daniel to deliver him; and he labored until the sun went down to rescue him.

15 Then these same men came thronging [by agreement] to the king and said, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians that no decree or statute which the king establishes may be changed or repealed.

16 Then the king commanded, and Daniel was brought and cast into the den of lions. The king said to Daniel, May your God, Whom you are serving continually, deliver you! [Pss. 34:7, 19; 37:39, 40; 50:15.]

17 And a stone was brought and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet and with the signet of his lords, that there might be no change of purpose concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went to his palace and passed the night fasting; neither were instruments of music or dancing girls brought before him, and his sleep fled from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning and went in haste to the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den and to Daniel, he cried out in a voice of anguish. The king said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is your God Whom you serve continually able to deliver you from the lions?

21 Then Daniel said to the king, O king, live for ever!

22 My God has sent His angel and has shut the lions' mouths so that they have not hurt me, because I was found innocent and blameless before Him; and also before you, O king, [as you very well know] I have done no harm or wrong. [II Tim. 4:17.]

23 Then the king was exceedingly glad, and commanded that Daniel should be taken up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no hurt of any kind was found on him, because he believed — relied on, adhered to and trusted — in his God.

24 And the king commanded, and those men who had accused Daniel were brought and cast into the den of lions, they, their children, and their wives; and before ever they reached the bottom of the den the lions had overpowered them and had broken their bones in pieces.

25 Then King Darius wrote to all peoples, nations, and languages [in his realm] that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you!

26 I make a decree, That in all my royal dominion men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel, for He is the living God, enduring and steadfast for ever, and His kingdom shall not be destroyed, and His dominion shall be even to the end [of the world].

27 He is a savior and deliverer, and He works signs and wonders in the heavens and on the earth, Who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this man Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

CHAPTER 7

IN the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head as he lay upon his bed. Then he wrote down the dream, and told the gist of the matter.

c) See footnote "c" on page 1005.

2 Daniel said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heavens [political and social agitations] were stirring up the great sea [the nations of the world].

3 And four great beasts came up out of the sea in succession and different from one another.

4 The first [the Babylonian empire under Nebuchadnezzar] was like a lion, and had eagle's wings. I beheld till the wings of it were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. [Dan. 2:37, 38.]

5 And behold another beast, a second one [the Media-Persia empire], was like a bear, and it raised up itself on one side [or one dominion], and three ribs were in its mouth between its teeth, and it was told, Arise, devour much flesh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another [the Grecian Empire of Alexander the Great], like a leopard, which had four wings of a bird on its back. The beast had also four heads [Alexander's generals, his successors], and dominion was given to it. [Cf. Dan. 2:39; 8:20-22.]

7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, terrible, powerful and dreadful, and exceedingly strong; and it had great iron teeth; it devoured and crushed, and trampled what was left with its feet. And it was different from all the beasts that came before it, and it had ten horns [symbolizing ten kings]. [Dan. 2:40-43; 7:23.]

8 I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots; and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9 I kept looking until thrones were placed [for the assessors with the Judge], and the Ancient of days [God, the eternal Father] took His seat, Whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of His head like pure wool; His throne was like the fiery flame, its wheels were burning fire. [Rev. 20:4; cf. Matt. 19:28; I Kings 22:19; Dan. 7:13, 22; cf. Ps. 90:2; Ezek. 1:26-28.]

10 A stream of fire came forth from before Him; a thousand thousands ministered to Him, and ten thousand times ten thousand rose up and stood before Him; the Judge was seated — the court was in session — and the books were opened.

11 I looked then because of the sound of the great words which the horn was speaking. I watched until the beast was slain and its body destroyed and given over to be burned with fire.

12 And as for the rest of the beasts, their power of dominion was taken away, yet their lives were prolonged [for the duration of their lives was fixed] for a season and a time.

13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, ^don the clouds of the heavens came One like a Son of man, and He came to the Ancient of days and was presented before Him.

14 And there was given Him, [the Messiah,] dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples, nations and languages should serve Him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion, which

c) This chapter, in its matter as well as its position in the central part of the book, is to the book of Daniel what the eighth chapter of Romans is to that epistle. Next to the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah and perhaps the ninth chapter also, we have here the most precious and prominent portion of the sure word of prophecy concerning the coming of the Messiah. The chapter is worthy of the most careful prayer and study. It is referred to directly or indirectly by Christ and His apostles perhaps more than other portions of the Old Testament of similar extent. It appears to have been regarded by the Old Testament saints, in the centuries preceding the Messiah's first advent, as pre-eminently the "word of prophecy." (Homiletic Commentary, adapted.)

d) Notice that the four beasts of this seventh chapter of Daniel symbolize the same world kingdoms that were pictured by the image in chapter two, and the ten horns of the last beast answer to the ten toes of the image. Most of both prophecies have been fulfilled, and at this writing "the blessed hope" of the ages is also showing every evidence of nearing realization. Both visions show the end of Gentile world power. View today's events in the light of these disclosures and they fall into focus and make sense. The individual child of God is challenged as never before in the world's history to let go of the trivial and the transient, and yield himself unreservedly to Him Who is coming to fulfill the longings of every true believer — for ever and ever!

shall not pass away, and His kingdom one which shall not be destroyed. [Rev. 5:1-10.]

15 As for me, Daniel, my spirit was grieved and anxious within me, and the visions of my head alarmed and agitated me.

16 I came near to one of those who stood there and asked him the truth of all this. So he told me, and made known to me the interpretation of the things.

17 These four great beasts are four kings who shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the saints of the Most High [God] shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. [Rom. 8:17; I Pet. 2:9; Rev. 3:21.]

19 Then I wished to know the truth about the fourth beast, which was different from all the others, exceedingly terrible and shocking, whose teeth were of iron and its nails of bronze; which devoured, broke and crushed, and trampled what was left with its feet;

20 And concerning the ten horns [representing kings] that were on its head, and the other horn which came up later and before which three of the horns fell, the horn which had eyes and a mouth that spoke great things, and which looked greater than the others.

21 As I looked, this horn made war with the saints and prevailed over them, [Rev. 13:7-9.]

22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High [God], and the time came when the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus [the angel] said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom on earth, which shall be different from all other kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, tread it down and break it in pieces and crush it.

24 And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom ten kings shall arise; and another shall arise after them, and he shall be different from the former ones, and he shall subdue and put down three kings.

25 And he shall speak words against the Most High [God], and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and think to change the times [of sacred feasts and holy days] and the law; and the saints shall be given into his hand for a time, two times and half a time [three and one-half years]. [Rev. 13:1-6.]

26 But the judgment shall be set [by the court of the Most High], and they shall take away his dominion, to consume it [gradually] and to destroy it [suddenly] in the end.

27 And the kingdom and the dominion and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heavens shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High; His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all the dominions shall serve and obey Him.

28 Here is the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my waking thoughts troubled and alarmed me much, and my cheerfulness of countenance was changed in me; but I kept the matter [of the interpreting angel's information] in my heart and mind.

CHAPTER 8

IN the third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a vision appeared to me, to me Daniel, after the one that appeared to me at the first.

2 And I saw in the vision, and it seemed that I was at Shushan the palace or fortress [in Susa, the capital of Persia], which is in the province of Elam, and I saw in the vision and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 And I lifted up my eyes and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a single ram which had two horns [representing two kings of Media-Persia, Darius the Mede, then Cyrus]; and the two horns were high, but one [Persia] was higher than the other, and the higher one came up last.

4 I looked and saw the ram [Medo-Persia] pushing and charging westward and northward and southward; no beast could stand before him, neither could any one rescue from his power, but he did according to his own will and pleasure, and magnified himself. [Verse 20.]

5 As I was considering, behold, a he-goat [the king of Greece] came from the west across the face of the whole earth, without touching the ground, and the goat had a conspicuous and remarkable horn between his eyes [symbolizing Alexander the Great]. [Verse 21.]

6 And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I had seen standing on the bank of the river, and ran at him in the heat of his power.

7 [In my vision] I saw him come close to the ram [the Medo-Persian Empire], and he was moved with anger against him, and he [Alexander] struck the ram and broke his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but the goat threw him to the ground and trampled on him. And there was no one who could rescue the ram [Medo-Persia] from his power.

8 And the he-goat [Alexander the Great] magnified himself exceedingly, and when he was [young and] strong he, the ^ogreat horn, was [suddenly] broken, and instead of him there came up four notable horns [to whom the kingdom was divided, one] toward each of the four winds of the heavens.

9 Out from littleness and small beginnings one of them came forth [Antiochus Epiphanes], a ^hhorn whose [impious presumption and pride] grew exceedingly great toward the south and toward the east and toward the ornament — the precious, blessed land of Israel. [Verse 23.]

10 And [in my vision] this horn grew great, even against the host of heaven [God's true people, the saints], and some of the host and of the stars [priests] it cast down to the ground and trampled on them,

11 Yes, [this horn] magnified itself, even [matching itself] against the Prince of the host [of heaven]; and from Him the continual burnt offering was taken away, and the place of God's sanctuary was cast down and profaned.

12 And the host [the chosen people] and strength were given to [the wicked horn] together with the continual burnt offering, because of the transgression [of God's people] — their abounding irreverence, ungodliness and lack of piety. And righteousness and truth were cast down to the ground, and [the wicked horn] accomplished this [by divine permission] and prospered.

13 Then I heard a holy one speaking, and another holy one said to the one that spoke, For how long is the vision concerning the continual offering, the transgression that makes desolate, and the giving over of both the sanctuary and the host [of the people] to be trampled under foot? [Luke 21:24.]

14 And he said to him and to me, For two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then the sanctuary shall be cleansed and restored.

15 When I, even I, Daniel, had seen the vision, I sought to understand it; then behold, there stood before me one [Gabriel] with the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of the river Ulai, which called and said, Gabriel, make this man [Daniel] understand the vision. [Dan. 9:21; Luke 1:19, 26.]

17 So he came near where I stood, and when he came, I was frightened and fell on my face. But he said to me, Understand, O son of man; for the [fulfillment of the] vision belongs to [events that shall occur in] the time of the end.

18 Now as he [Gabriel] was speaking

e) Alexander the Great suddenly died, and his empire was divided into four parts, east, west, north and south, ruled over by his four generals.

f) This horn (verses 9 to 12) is not to be confused with the "little horn" of Dan. 7. This one is a prophetic forecast of Antiochus Epiphanes, who came out of Syria, one of the four dynasties into which Alexander's empire was divided, and became a great conqueror. Hating God, he profaned the temple and terribly persecuted the Jews. However, he foreshadows the "little horn" of Dan. 7, "the beast" of Daniel's final time of the end (Rev. 13:4-9).

with me, I fell stunned and in deep unconsciousness with my face to the ground; but he touched me and set me upright — where I had stood.

19 And he said, Behold, I will make you know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation [of God upon the ungodly]; for it has to do with the time of the end.

20 The ram you saw having two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia.

21 And the shaggy and rough he-goat is the king of Grecia; and the great horn between his eyes is the first king [who consolidated the whole realm, Alexander the Great].

22 And as for the horn which was shattered, in whose place four others arose, four kingdoms shall arise out of his nation, but not having his [Alexander's] power.

23 And at the latter end of their kingdom, when the transgressors [the apostate Jews] have reached the fullness [of their wickedness, exceeding the limits of God's mercy], a king of fierce countenance and understanding dark trickery and craftiness, shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall corrupt and destroy astonishingly, and shall prosper, and do his own pleasure, and he shall corrupt and destroy the mighty men and the holy people — the people of the saints. [Rev. 13:4-10; Dan. 8:9-12; II Thess. 2:3-10.]

25 And through his policy he shall cause trickery to prosper in his hand; he shall magnify himself in his heart and mind, and in their security he will corrupt and destroy many. He shall also stand up against the Prince of princes, but he shall be broken and that by no [human] hand. [Rev. 19:19, 20.]

26 The vision of the evenings and the mornings which has been told you is true. But seal up the vision, for it has to do with and belongs to the now distant future.

27 And I, Daniel, fainted and was sick certain days; afterward I rose up and did the king's business; and I wondered at the vision, but there was no one who understood it or could make it understood.

CHAPTER 9

IN the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the offspring of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans,

2 In the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, understood from the books the number of years, which according to the word of the Lord to Jeremiah the prophet must pass by before the desolations which had been pronounced on Jerusalem should end, and it was seventy years. [Jer. 25:11, 12; 29:10.]

3 And I, Daniel, set my face to the Lord God to seek Him by prayer and supplications, with fasting and sackcloth and ashes;

4 And I prayed to the Lord my God and made confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, Who keeps covenant, mercy and loving-kindness with those who love Him and keep His commandments,

5 We have sinned and dealt perversely and done wickedly and have rebelled, turning aside from Your commandments and ordinances.

6 Neither have we listened to and heeded Your servants the prophets, who spoke in Your name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousness belongs to You, but to us confusion and shame of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, those who are near and those who are far off, through all the countries to which You have driven them because of the (treacherous) trespass which they have committed against You.

8 O Lord, to us belong confusion and shame of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against You.

9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and loving-kindnesses and forgiveness; for we have rebelled against Him,

10 And we have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God by walking in His laws, which He set before us by His servants the prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed Your law, even turning aside that they might not obey Your voice. Therefore the curse has been poured out on us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against Him. [Lev. 26: 14-45; Deut. 28:15-68.]

12 And He has carried out intact His threatening words, which He threatened against us and against our judges — the kings, princes and rulers generally — who ruled us, and He has brought upon us a great evil; for under the whole heavens there has not been done before [anything so dreadful] as He has caused to be done against Jerusalem.

13 Just as it is written in the law of Moses as to all this evil [that would surely come upon transgressors], so it has come upon us. Yet we have not earnestly begged for forgiveness and entreated the favor of the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and have understanding and become wise in Your truth.

14 Therefore the Lord has kept ready the (evil) calamity and has brought it upon us, for the Lord our God is [uncompromisingly] righteous and rigidly just in all His works which He does [keeping His word], and we have not obeyed His voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, Who brought Your people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and have secured Yourself renown and a name as at this day, we have sinned, we have done wickedly!

16 O Lord, according to all Your rightness and justice, I beseech You, let Your anger and Your wrath be turned away from Your city Jerusalem, Your holy mountain. Because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Your people have become a reproach and a byword to all who are around about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, listen to and heed the prayer of Your servant Daniel and his supplications, and for Your own sake cause Your face to shine upon Your sanctuary, which is desolate. [But see Ezek. 14:12-20.]

18 O my God, incline Your ear and hear; open Your eyes and look at our desolations, and the city which is called by Your name; for we do not present our supplications before You for our own righteousness and justice, but for Your great mercies and loving-kindnesses.

19 O Lord, hear! O Lord, forgive! O Lord, give heed and act! Do not delay, for Your own sake, O my God, because Your city and Your people are called by Your name.

20 While I was speaking and praying, confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the Lord my God for the holy hill of my God;

21 Yes, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the former vision, being caused to fly swiftly, came near to me and touched me about the time of the evening sacrifice. [Dan. 8:16.]

22 He instructed me and made me understand; he talked with me and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give you skill and wisdom and understanding.

23 At the beginning of your prayers the word went forth, and I have come to tell you, for you are greatly beloved. Therefore consider the matter and understand the vision.

24 Seventy weeks [of years, or four hundred and ninety years] are decreed upon your people and upon your holy city Jerusalem, to finish and put an end to transgression, to seal up and make full the measure of sin, to purge away and make expiation and reconciliation for sin, and to bring in everlasting righteousness [permanent spiritual and moral rectitude in every area and relation] and to seal up vision and prophecy and prophet, and to anoint a holy of holies.

25 Know therefore and understand that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem until [the coming of] the anointed one, a prince, shall be seven weeks [of years], and sixty-two weeks [of years]; it shall be built again with city square and moat, but in troublous times.

26 And after the sixty-two weeks [of years] shall the anointed one be cut off or killed, and shall have nothing [and no one belonging] to [and defending] him. And the people of the other prince who shall come will destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end shall come with a flood, and even to the end there shall be war, and desolations are decreed. [Isa. 53:7-9; Nah. 1:8; Matt. 24:6-14.]

27 And he shall enter into a strong and firm covenant with the many for one week [seven years]; and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and offering to cease [for the remaining three and one-half years]; and upon the wing or pinnacle of abominations (shall come) one who makes desolate; until the full determined end is poured out on the desolator.

CHAPTER 10

IN the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a word was revealed to Daniel, who was called Belteshazzar. And the word was true and it referred to great tribulation, conflict [and wretchedness]. And he understood the word and had understanding of the vision. [Dan. 8:26; Rev. 19:9.]

2 In those days I, Daniel, was mourning for three whole weeks.

3 I ate no pleasant or desirable food, nor did any meat or wine come into my mouth, and I did not anoint myself at all, for the full three weeks.

4 On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was on the bank of the great river Hiddekel, which is the Tigris,

5 I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, a man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with pure gold of Uphaz.

6 His body also was [a golden lustre] like beryl, his face had the appearance of lightning, his eyes were like flaming torches, his arms and his feet like glowing burnished bronze, and the sound of his words was like the roaring of the sea or the noise of a multitude of people.

7 And I, Daniel, alone saw the vision [of this heavenly being], for the men that were with me did not see the vision, but a great trembling fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 So I was left alone and saw this great vision, and no strength was left in me; for my fresh appearance was turned to pallor; I grew weak and faint with fright.

9 Then I heard the sound of his words; and when I heard the sound of his words I fell on my face in a deep sleep, with my face sunk to the ground.

10 And behold, a hand touched me, which set me (unsteadily) upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And the angel said to me, O Daniel, you greatly beloved man, understand the words that I speak to you, and stand upright, for to you I am now sent. And while he was saying this word to me, I stood up trembling.

12 Then he said to me, Fear not, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your mind and heart to understand and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard, and I have come in consequence of your words.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me for twenty-one days. But Michael, one of the chief of the celestial princes, came to help me; and I remained [was not needed] there with the kings of Persia.

14 Now I have come to make you understand what is to befall your people in the latter days. For the vision is for many days yet to come.

15 When he had spoken to me ac-ording to these words, I turned my face toward the ground and was dumb.

16 And, behold, one in the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips. Then I opened my mouth and spoke. I said to him who stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision sorrows and pains have come upon me, and I retain no strength.

17 For how can my lord's servant [who am so feeble] talk with this my lord? For now no strength remains in me, nor is there any breath left in me.

18 Then there touched me again one whose appearance was like that of a man, and he strengthened me.

19 And he said, O man greatly beloved, fear not; peace be to you, be strong, yes, be strong. And when he had spoken to me, I was strengthened and said, Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me.

20 Then he said, Do you know why I have come to you? And now I will return to fight with the [hostile] prince of Persia, and when I have gone, notice, the [hostile] prince of Greece will come.

21 But I will tell you what is inscribed in the writing or book of truth. There is no one who holds with me and strengthens himself against these [hostile spirit forces], except Michael, your [national guardian angel] prince.

CHAPTER 11

ALSO I [the angel], in the first year of Darius the Mede, even I, stood up to confirm and to strengthen him [Michael, the angel].

2 And now I will show you the truth. Behold, there shall arise three more kings in Persia, and a fourth shall be far richer than they all. And when he has become strong through his riches he shall stir up and stake all against the realm of Greece.

3 Then a *mighty [warlike, threatening] king shall arise, who shall rule with great dominion and do according to his own will.

4 And as soon as he has fully arisen, his [*Alexander's] kingdom shall be broken by his death and divided toward [the east, west, north, and south] the four winds of the heavens, but not to his posterity, nor according to the [Grecian] dominion which he ruled, for his kingdom shall be torn out and uprooted and go to others [that is, to his four generals] to the exclusion of these.

5 Then the king of the south [Egypt] shall be strong, but one of his princes shall be stronger than he is and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 At the end of some years they [the king of the north, Syria, and the king of the south, Egypt] shall make an alliance; the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make [a just and peaceful marriage] agreement; but she shall not retain the power of her might, neither shall he and his might endure. She shall be surrendered with her attendants, her child, and him who strengthened her in those times.

7 But out of a branch of the [same ancestral] roots as hers, shall one [her brother] stand up in his place or office, who shall come against the [Syrian] army and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them and shall prevail.

8 And also he shall carry off to Egypt [Syria's] gods with their molten images and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold; and he shall refrain for some years from [waging war against] the king of the north.

9 And he [the king of Syria] shall come into the kingdom of the king of

g) There are numerous reasons for identifying this mighty king as Alexander the Great, and the other characters according to their relationship to the events of those times. "But the mere similarity which exists between certain things predicted here and what actually occurred in the times of the Ptolemies of Egypt is not sufficient to limit the fulfilment of the prophecy to those times — certainly [we find here what] was characteristic of Alexander, but there was nothing in the context which makes it necessary to limit the passage to him. Some autocrat may arise 'in the latter days' to whom it will apply with greater force than it did to Alexander." — Ellicott's Commentary on the Whole Bible.

the south, but shall return to his own land.

10 But his sons shall be stirred up and shall prepare for war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, which shall come on and overflow and pass through, and again shall make war even to the fortress [of the southern king].

11 And the king of the south [Egypt] shall be moved with anger, and shall come forth and fight with the king of the north [Syria]; and he, [the Syrian,] shall set forth a great multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his, [the Egyptian's,] hand.

12 When the multitude is taken and carried away, the heart and mind [of the Egyptian] shall be exalted, and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail.

13 For the king of the north shall raise a multitude greater than [he had] before, and after some years shall certainly return, coming with a great army and much substance and equipment.

14 In those times many shall rise up against the king of the south [Egypt]; also the men of violence among your own people shall lift themselves up in order to fulfill the visions [of chapters eight and nine] but they shall fail and fall.

15 Then the king of the north shall come, and cast up siegeworks and take a well-fortified city, and the forces of the south shall not stand, or even his chosen troops, for there shall be no strength to stand [against the Syrian].

16 But he [Antiochus the Great] who comes against him [from Syria] shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him; he shall stand in the glorious land [of Israel], and in his hand shall be destruction and all the land shall be in his power.

17 He [Antiochus the Great] shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and with him upright conditions and terms of peace, and he shall perform them [by making an agreement with the southern king]. He shall give him his daughter to corrupt and destroy it [his league with Egypt] and the kingdom; but it shall not succeed or be to his advantage.

18 After this he shall turn his attention to the islands and coastlands and shall take over many of them. But a prince or commander shall teach him [Antiochus] to put an end to the insults offered by him; in fact he shall turn his insolence and reproaches back upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face back toward the fortresses of his own land [of Syria]; but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

20 Then shall ^bstand up in his place or office one who shall send an exactor of tribute to pass through the glory of the kingdom; but within a few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger nor in battle.

21 And in his place or office [in Syria] shall arise a ^ccontemptuous and contemptible person, to whom royal majesty and the honor of the kingdom have not been given. But he shall come in without warning in time of security and shall obtain the kingdom by flatteries, intrigues and cunning hypocritical conduct.

22 Before him the overwhelming forces of invading armies shall be broken and utterly swept away; yes, and a prince of the covenant [with those who were at peace with him] also [shall be broken and] swept away.

23 And from the time that an alliance is made with him he shall work deceitfully, and he shall come up unexpectedly

h) The reference here is undoubtedly to Seleucus Philopator [a king of Syria], the eldest son of Antiochus the Great, and his immediate successor. (Barnes' Notes on the Old Testament.)

i) This contemptible conqueror is generally identified as Antiochus Epiphanes, the younger son of Antiochus the Great, king of Syria, and is symbolic of the final Antichrist referred to in I John 4:3; II John 7; II Thess. 2:3-12, and Matt. 24:23-27. "He stirred up the Jews by robbing the temple and setting up a statue of Jupiter in the holy of holies. He also pulled down the walls of Jerusalem, commanded the sacrifice of [forbidden] swine, forbade circumcision, and destroyed all the sacred books that could be found." (Davis Dictionary of the Bible.) See also Daniel 8:8-12, 23, 24.

and shall become strong with a small people.

24 Without warning and stealthily he shall come into the most productive places of a province or among the richest men of a province [of Egypt], and he shall do that which his fathers have not done nor his fathers' fathers; he shall distribute among them plunder, spoil, and goods. He shall devise plans against strongholds, but only for a time [the period decreed by God].

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south [Egypt] with a great army; and the king of the south shall wage war with an exceedingly great and mighty army; but he shall not stand, for schemes shall be devised against [the king of the south].

26 Yes, those who eat of his rich and dainty food shall break and destroy him, and his army shall drift or turn away to flee, and many shall fall down slain.

27 And as for both of these kings, their hearts and minds shall be set on doing mischief; they shall speak lies over the same table, but it will not succeed; for the end is yet to be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall [the vile northern conqueror] return into his land with much booty, and his heart and purpose shall be set against [God's] holy covenant [with His people], and he shall accomplish [his malicious intention] and return to his own land [Syria].

29 At the time appointed [God's own time] he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be successful as were the former invasions of Egypt.

30 For the ships of Kittim [or Cyprus, in Roman hands] shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved and discouraged and turn back [to Palestine] and carry out his rage and indignation against the holy covenant and God's people; and he shall do his own pleasure; he shall even turn back and make common cause with those Jews who abandon the holy covenant [with God].

31 And armed forces of his shall appear [in the holy land], and they shall pollute the sanctuary, the [spiritual] stronghold, and shall take away the continual [daily] burnt offering, and they shall set up [in the sanctuary] the abomination that astonishes and makes desolate [probably an idol-altar].

32 And such as violate the covenant he shall pervert and seduce with flatteries; but the people who know their God shall prove themselves strong and shall stand firm, and do exploits [for God].

33 And they who are wise and understand among the people shall instruct many and make them understand, though some [of them and their followers] shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and plunder, for many days.

34 Now when they fall, they shall receive a little help. Many shall join themselves to them with flatteries and hypocrisies.

35 And some of those who are wise, prudent and understanding shall be weakened and fall; [thus then the insincere among the people will lose courage and become deserters. It will be a test] to refine, to purify and make those among [God's people] white, even to the time of the end; because it is yet for the time [God] appointed.

36 And the king shall do according to his will; he shall exalt himself and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak astonishing things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished; for that which is determined [by God] shall be done.

37 He shall not regard the gods of his fathers, or Him [to Whom] women desire [to give birth], or any other god, for he shall magnify himself above all.

38 But in their place he shall honor the god of fortresses; a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honor with gold and silver, and with precious stones and pleasant and expensive things.

39 And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a foreign

god. Those who acknowledge him he shall magnify with glory and honor, and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for a price.

40 And at the time of the end the king of the south shall push at and attack him, and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots and horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries and shall overflow and pass through.

41 He shall enter into the glorious land [Palestine], and many shall be overthrown; but these shall be delivered out of his hand: Edom, and Moab, and the main [kernel] of the people of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch out his hand also against the other countries, but the land of Egypt shall not be among the escaped ones.

43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver and over all the precious things of Egypt, and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall accompany him [compelled to follow his steps].

44 But rumors from the east and from the north shall alarm and hasten him. And he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and utterly to sweep away many.

45 And he shall pitch his palatial tents between the seas and the glorious holy mount [Zion]; yet he shall come to his end with none to help him.

CHAPTER 12

AND at that time [of the end] Michael shall arise, the great [angelic] prince who defends and has charge of your [Daniel's] people. And there shall be a time of trouble, straitness and distress, such as never was since there was a nation till that time. But at that time your people shall be delivered, every one whose name shall be found written in the book [of God's plan for His own].

2 And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life and some to shame and everlasting contempt and abhorrence.

3 And the teachers and those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the firmament; and those who turn many to righteousness — to uprightness and right standing with God [shall give forth light] like the stars for ever and ever. [Matt. 13:43.]

4 But you, O Daniel, shut up the words and seal the book until the time of the end. [Then] many shall run to and fro and search anxiously [through the Book], and knowledge [of God's purposes as revealed by His prophets] shall be increased and become great. [Cf. Amos 8:12.]

5 Then I, Daniel, looked, and behold, there stood two others, the one on the brink of the river on this side, and the other on the brink of the river on that side.

6 And one said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right and his left hand toward the heavens and swore by Him Who lives for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and a half [or three and one-half years]; and when they have made an end of shattering and crushing the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I did not understand. Then I said, O my lord, what shall be the issue and final end of these things?

9 And he, [the angel,] said, Go your way, Daniel; for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end.

10 Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be tried, smelted and refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly. And none of the wicked shall understand, but the teachers and those who are wise shall understand. [Dan. 11:33-35.]

11 And from the time that the continual burnt offering is taken away, and the abomination that makes desolate is set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. [Dan. 11:31.]

12 Blessed, happy, fortunate, spiritually prosperous and to be envied is he who waits expectantly and earnestly — who endures without wavering beyond the period of tribulation — and comes to the thousand three hundred and thirty-five days!

13 But you, [Daniel who was now over ninety years of age], go your way until the end, for you shall rest, and shall stand [fast] in your allotted place at the end of the days. [Heb. 11:32-40.]

THE BOOK OF HOSEA

CHAPTER 1

THE word of the Lord that came to Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2 When the Lord first spoke with and through Hosea, the Lord said to him, Go, take to yourself a wife of harlotry and have children of [her] harlotry, for the land commits great whoredom by departing from the Lord.

3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, and she became pregnant and bore him a son.

4 And the Lord said to him, Call his name Jezreel or God-sows-it, for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel and visit the punishment for it upon the house of Jehu, and will put to an end the kingdom of the house of Israel. [II Kings 10:11.]

5 And on that day I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 And [Gomer] conceived again and bore a daughter. And the Lord said to Hosea, Call her name Loruhamah or Not-pitied, for I will no more have loving-kindness, pity and mercy for the house of Israel, that I should in any way pardon them.

7 But I will have love, pity and mercy on the house of Judah, and will deliver them by the Lord their God, and will "not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by equipment of war, nor by horses, nor by horsemen. [Isa. 31:8; 37:33-35.]

8 Now when [Gomer] had weaned Loruhamah [Not-pitied], she became pregnant [again] and bore a son.

9 And the Lord said, Call his name Loammi or [Not-my-people], for you are not My people, and I am not yours.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured or numbered; and instead of its being said to them, You are not My people, it shall be said to them, Sons of the Living God! [Rom. 9:26.]

11 Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be gathered together and appoint themselves one head; and they shall go up out of the land, for great shall be the day of Jezreel [for the spiritually reborn Israel, a divine offspring, the people whom the Lord has blessed.] [Heb. 12:22; Eph. 2:6, 7.]

CHAPTER 2

HOSEA, say to your brethren, Ammi [or You-are-my-people], and to your sisters, Ruhamah [or Who-has-been-pitied-and-obtained-mercy].

a) Isaiah also made this prophecy, and both he and Hosea lived to see its remarkable literal fulfillment [Isa. 37:36].

2 Plead with your mother [your nation]; plead, for she is not My wife, and I am not her husband; plead that she put away her [marks of] harlotry from her face and her adulteries from between her breasts; [Isa. 50:1.]

3 Lest I strip her naked and make her as in the day she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a parched land, and slay her with thirst.

4 Yes, for her children I will have no love nor mercy nor pity, for they are the children of harlotry.

5 For their mother has played the harlot; she who conceived them has done shamefully, for she said, I will go after my lovers that give me my food and my water, my wool and my flax, my oil and my refreshing drinks.

6 Therefore, behold, I, [the Lord God,] will hedge up her way, even yours, [O Israel,] with thorns; and I will build a wall against her, that she shall not find her paths.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, inquiring for and requiring them, but shall not find them. Then shall she say, Let me go and return to my first husband, for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she has not taken notice, understood or realized it was I [the Lord God], Who gave her the grain and the new wine and the fresh oil, and Who lavished upon her silver and gold, which they used for Baal and made into his image.

9 Therefore will I return and take back My grain in the time for it and My new wine in the season for it, and will pluck away and recover My wool and My flax which were to cover her [Israel's] nakedness.

10 And now will I uncover her lewdness and her shame in the sight of her lovers, and no one shall rescue her out of My hand.

11 I will also cause to cease all her mirth, her feasting, her new moons, her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts and appointed festive assemblies.

12 And I will lay waste and destroy her vines and her fig trees, of which she has said, These are my reward or loose woman's hire that my lovers have given me; and I will make [her plantations an inaccessible] forest, and the wild beasts of the open country shall eat them.

13 And I will visit [punishment] upon her for the feast days of the Baals, when she burned incense to them and decked herself with her ear and nose-rings and her jewelry, and went after her lovers, and forgot Me, says the Lord.

14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her [Israel] and bring her into the wilderness, and I will speak tenderly and to her heart.

15 There I will give her her vineyards, and make the Valley of Achor or Troubling to be for her a door of hope and expectation. And she shall sing there and respond as in the days of her youth, and as at the time when she came up out of the land of Egypt. [Josh. 7:24-26; Exod. 15:2.]

16 And it shall be in that day, says the Lord, that you will call Me Ishi or My Husband, and you shall call Me no more Baali or My Baal.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim [the Baals] out of her mouth, and they shall no more be mentioned or seriously remembered by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a covenant for [Israel] with the living creatures of the open country, and with the birds of the heavens, and with the creeping things of the ground. And I will break the bow and the sword and [abolish battle equipment and] conflict out of the land, and will make you lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth you to Me for ever; yes, I will betroth you to Me in righteousness and justice, and in steadfast love, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth you to Me in stability and in faithfulness, and you shall know — recognize, be acquainted with, appreciate, give heed to and cherish — the Lord.

21 And in that day, I will respond, says the Lord; I will respond to the heavens [which ask for rain to pour on the earth], and they shall respond to the earth [which begs for the rain it needs];

22 And the earth shall respond to the grain and the wine and the oil [which beseech it to bring them forth], and these shall respond to Jezreel [restored Israel, who prays for a supply of them].

23 And I will sow her for Myself anew in the land, and I will have pity, mercy and love for her who had not obtained pity, mercy and love, and I will say to those who were not My people, You are My people, and they shall say, You are my God! [I Pet. 2:9, 10.]

CHAPTER 3

THEN said the Lord to me, Go again, love [the same] woman [Gomer] who is beloved of a paramour and is an adulteress, even as the Lord loves the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods and love cakes of raisins [used in the sacrificial feasts in idol worship].

2 So I bought her for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer and a half of barley [the price of a slave].

3 And I said to her, You shall be [betrothed] to me for many days; you shall not play the harlot and you shall not belong to another man. So will I also be to you [until you have proved your loyalty to me and our marital relations may be resumed].

4 For the children of Israel shall dwell and sit deprived many days, without king or prince, without sacrifice or [idolrous] pillar, and without ephod [a garment worn by priests when seeking divine counsel] or teraphim [household gods].

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the Lord their God, inquiring of and requiring Him, and [from the line of] David, their King [of Kings]; and they shall come in [anxious] fear to the Lord and to His goodness and His good things in the latter days.

CHAPTER 4

HEAR the word of the Lord, you children of Israel; for the Lord has a controversy — a pleading contention — with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no faithfulness, loving-kindness, pity and mercy, or knowledge of God [from personal experience with Him] in the land.

2 There is nothing but [false] swearing and breaking faith, and killing, and stealing and committing adultery; they break out [into violence], one [deed of] bloodshed following close on another.

3 Therefore shall the land [continually] mourn, and all who dwell in it shall languish, together with the wild beasts of the open country and the birds of the heavens; yes, the fishes of the sea also shall [perish because of the drought] be collected and taken away.

4 Yet let no man strive, neither let any man reprove [another] — do not waste your time in mutual recriminations — for with you is My contention, O priest.

5 And you shall stumble in the daytime, and the [false] prophet also shall stumble with you in the night; and I will destroy your mother [the priestly nation]. [Exod. 19:6.]

6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; because you, [the priestly nation,] have rejected knowledge, I will also reject you, that you shall be no priest to Me; seeing you have forgotten the law of your God, I will also forget your children.

7 The more they increased and multiplied [in prosperity and power], the more they sinned against Me; I will change their glory into shame.

8 They feed on the sin of My people and set their heart on their iniquity.

9 And it shall be, like people, like priest; I will punish them for their ways and repay them for their doings.

10 For they shall eat and not have enough; they shall play the harlot and beget no increase; because they have forsaken the Lord for harlotry;

11 [Harlotry] and wine and new wine take away the heart and the mind [and spiritual] understanding.

12 My people [habitually] ask counsel of their [senseless] wood [idols], and their staff [of wood] gives them oracles and instructs them. For the spirit of harlotry has led them astray, and they have played the harlot, withdrawing themselves from subjection to their God.

13 They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains, and they burn incense upon the hills, and under oaks, poplars, and terebinths, because there the shade is good. Therefore your daughters play the harlot, and your sons' wives commit adultery.

14 I will not punish your daughters when they play the harlot, nor your daughters-in-law when they commit adultery, for [the fathers and husbands] themselves go aside in order to be alone with women who prostitute themselves for gain, and they sacrifice at the altar with dedicated harlots [who surrender their chastity in honor of the goddess]. Therefore the people without understanding shall stumble and fall and come to ruin.

15 Though you, Israel, play the harlot and worship idols, let not Judah offend and become guilty; come not to Gilgal, neither go up to Bethaven [contemptuous reference to Bethel, then noted for idolatry], nor swear [in idolatrous service], saying, As the Lord lives.

16 For Israel has behaved stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer. How then should he expect to be fed and treated by the Lord like a lamb in a large pasture?

17 Ephraim is joined fast to idols, so let him alone [to take the consequences].

18 Their drinking carousal over, they go habitually to play the harlot; [Ephraim's] rulers [continue to] love shame more than her glory [which is the Lord, Israel's God].

19 The resistless wind [of God's wrath] has bound up [Israel] in its wings or skirts, and [in captivity] they and their altars shall be put to shame because of their sacrifices [to calves, to sun, moon and stars, and to heathen gods].

CHAPTER 5

HEAR this, O you priests! And listen, O house of Israel! And give ear, O house of the king! For the judgment pronounced pertains to you and is meant for you, because you have been a snare at Mizpah and a net spread upon Tabor [military strongholds on either side of the Jordan River].

2 The revoltors are deeply sunk in corruption and slaughter, but I, [the Lord God,] am a rebuke and a chastisement for them all.

3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from Me; for now, O Ephraim, you have played the harlot and idolator; Israel is defiled.

4 Their doings will not permit them to return to their God, for the spirit of harlotry is within them, and they know not the Lord — they do not recognize, appreciate, give heed to, or cherish the Lord.

5 But the pride and self-reliance of Israel testifies before his own face. Therefore shall all Israel, and especially Ephraim [the northern ten tribes], totter and fall in their iniquity and guilt, and Judah shall stumble and fall with them.

6 They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the Lord — inquiring for and requiring Him; but they will not find Him; He has withdrawn Himself from them.

7 They have dealt faithlessly and treacherously with the Lord [their espoused Husband], for they have borne alien children. Now shall a [single] new moon — one month — devour them with their fields.

8 Blow the horn in Gibeah and the trumpet in Ramah [both lofty hills on Benjamin's northern border]. Sound the alarm at Bethaven, [The enemy is] behind you and after you, O Benjamin [be on your guard]!

9 Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of rebuke and punishment. Among the tribes of Israel I declare what shall surely be.

10 The princes of Judah are like those who remove the landmark [the barrier between right and wrong]; I will pour out My wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed, he is broken and crushed by [divine] judgment, because he was content to walk after idol-images and man's [evil] command ^b[vanities and filth].

12 Therefore I am like a moth to Ephraim, and like dry rot to the house of Judah [in My judgment against them].

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then Ephraim went to Assyria, and sent to her great King Jareb, a contender. Yet he cannot heal you nor will he cure you of your wound [received in divine judgment].

14 For I will be to Ephraim like a lion, and like a young lion to the house of Judah. I, even I, will rend and go on [rending]; I will carry off, and there will be no one to deliver.

15 I will return to My place [on high], until they acknowledge their offense and feel their guilt and seek My face; in their affliction and distress they will seek, inquire for and require Me earnestly, saying,

CHAPTER 6

COME, and let us return to the Lord; for He has torn so that He may heal us; He has stricken so that He may bind us up.

2 After two days He will revive us — quicken us, give us life; on the third day He will raise us up, that we may live before Him. [Isa. 26:19; Ezek. 37:1-10.]

3 Yes, let us know — recognize, be acquainted with and understand Him; let us be zealous to know the Lord — to appreciate, give heed to and cherish Him. His going forth is prepared and certain as the dawn, and He will come to us as the [heavy] rain, as the latter rain that waters the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do with you? [says the Lord] O Judah, what shall I do with you? For your [wavering] love and kindness are as the night mist or as the dew that goes early away.

5 Therefore have I hewn down and smitten them by means of the prophets; I have slain them by the words of My mouth; My judgments [pronounced upon them by you prophets] are like the light that goes forth.

6 For I desire and delight in dutiful, steadfast love and goodness, not sacrifice, and the knowledge of and acquaintance with God more than burnt offerings. [Matt. 9:13; 12:7.]

7 But they, like [less privileged] men and like Adam, have transgressed the covenant; there have they dealt faithlessly and treacherously with Me.

8 Gilead is a city of evildoers; it is tracked with bloody [footprints].

9 And as troops of robbers lie in wait for a man, so the company of

b) "Vanities" is the rendering of the Septuagint (Greek) Version; "filth," of The Dead Sea Scrolls.

priests murder on the road toward Shechem; yes, they commit villainy and outrages.

10 I have seen a horrible thing in the house of Israel! There harlotry and idolatry are found in Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Also, O Judah, there is a harvest [of divine judgment] appointed for you, when I would return My people from their captivity [in which they are slaves to the misery brought on by their own sins],

CHAPTER 7

WHEN I would heal Israel, then Ephraim's guilt is uncovered, and the wickedness of Samaria; how they practice falsehood, and the thief enters, and the troop of bandits ravage and raid without.

2 But they do not consider and say to their minds and hearts that I [earnestly] remember all their wickedness. Now their own doings surround and entangle them; they are before My face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all [idolatrous] adulterers; their passion smolders like heat of an oven, when the baker ceases to stir the fire from the kneading of the dough until it is leavened.

5 On the [special] day of our king the princes made themselves and him sick with the heat of wine; [the king] stretched out his hand with scoffers and lawless men.

6 For they have made ready their heart, and their mind burns [with intrigue] like an oven, while they lie in wait. Their anger smolders all night; in the morning it blazes forth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all their kings are fallen; there is none among them who calls to Me.

8 Ephraim mixes himself among the peoples [courting the favor of first one country, then another]; Ephraim is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knows it not; yes, gray hairs are sprinkled here and there upon him, and he does not know it.

10 And the pride of Israel testifies against him and to his face. But they do not return to the Lord their God, nor seek nor inquire of nor require Him, in spite of all this.

11 Ephraim also is like a silly dove without heart or understanding; they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12 As they go, I will spread My net over them; I will bring them down like birds of the heavens. I will chastise them, according to the announcement [or prediction made] to their congregation [in the Scriptures]. [Lev. 26:14-39.]

13 Woe to them, for they have wandered from Me! Destruction to them, because they have rebelled and trespassed against Me! Though I would redeem them, yet they have spoken lies against Me.

14 They do not cry to Me from their heart, but they wail upon their beds: they gash and distress and assemble themselves [in mourning] for grain and new wine; they rebel against Me.

15 Although I have chastened them and trained and strengthened their arms, yet they think and devise evil against Me.

16 They turn back, shift or change, but not upwards — to the Most High. They are like a deceitful bow, their princes shall fall by the sword for the insolence and rage of their tongue. This shall be [cause for] their derision and scorning in the land of Egypt.

CHAPTER 8

SET the trumpet to your lips! [The enemy] comes as a [great] vulture against the house of the Lord, because they have broken My covenant, and transgressed against My law.

2 Then they will cry to Me, My God, we know You, we, Israel!

3 Israel has rejected the good with [loathing]; the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They set up kings, but not from Me [therefore without My blessing]; they have made princes or removed them [without consulting Me, therefore], I knew and recognized them not. With their silver and their gold they made idols for themselves, that they [the silver and the gold], may be destroyed.

5 Your calf [idol], O Samaria, is loathsome, and I have spurned it. My wrath burns against them. How long will it be before they attain purity?

6 For this [calf] too is from Israel; a craftsman made it, therefore it is no God. The calf of Samaria shall be broken to shivers and go up in flames.

7 For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind. The standing grain has no heads, it shall yield no meal; if it were to yield, strangers and aliens would eat it up.

8 Israel is [the same as] swallowed up. Already they have become among the nations as a vessel [of cheap, coarse pottery] that is useless.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria, a wild ass taking her own way by herself; Ephraim has hired lovers.

10 Yes, though with presents they hire [allies] among the nations, now will I gather them up, and in a little while they will sorrow and begin to diminish [their gifts] because of the [tribute] burden imposed by [the king of Assyria] the king of princes.

11 For Ephraim has multiplied altars for sinning; yes, to him altars are intended for sinning.

12 I wrote for him the ten thousand things of My law, but they are counted as a strange thing [as something which does not concern him].

13 My sacrificial gifts they sacrifice [as a mere form]; yes, they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the Lord does not accept them. Now He will [earnestly] remember their guilt and iniquity and will punish their sins. They shall return to [another] Egypt [Assyria]. [Deut. 28:68.]

14 For Israel has forgotten his Maker and built palaces and idol temples, and Judah has multiplied fortified cities; but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour his palaces and fortified buildings. [Amos 1:4, 7, 10, 12, 14; 2:2, 5.]

CHAPTER 9

REJOICE not, O Israel, with exultation as do the peoples; for you have played the harlot, forsaking your God. You have loved [a harlot's] hire upon every threshing floor [ascribing the harvest to the Baals instead of to God].

2 The threshing floor and the winevat shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail them.

3 They shall not remain in the Lord's land, but Ephraim shall return to [another] Egypt, and they shall eat unclean food in Assyria. [Cf. Ezek. 4:13.]

4 They shall not pour out wine offerings to the Lord, neither shall they be pleasing to Him. Their sacrifices shall be to them as the bread of mourners; all who eat of them shall be defiled; for their bread shall be only for their appetite; it shall not come into the house of the Lord [to be offered first to Him].

5 What will you do on the day of appointed solemn assembly or festival, and on the day of the feast of the Lord [when you are in exile]?

6 For lo, they are gone away from devastation and destruction; Egypt shall gather them in, Memphis shall bury them. Their precious things of silver shall be in the possession of nettles; thorns shall be [growing] in their tents.

7 The days of visitation and punishment have come, the days of recompense have come; Israel shall know it.

The prophet is [considered] a crazed fool, and the man who is inspired is [treated as if] mad or a fanatic, because of the abundance of your iniquity and because the enmity, hostility and persecution are great. [Luke 21:22.]

8 Ephraim was [intended to be] a watchman with my God [and a prophet of the surrounding nations]; but he, that prophet, has become a fowler's snare in all his ways. There is enmity, hostility and persecution in the house of his God.

9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeah. The Lord will [earnestly] remember their iniquity, He will punish their sins. [Judg. 20:46-48.]

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the first ripe fruit on the fig tree in its first season; but they went to Baalpeor, and consecrated themselves to [Baal] that shameful thing, and they became detestable and loathsome like that which they loved.

11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird; there shall be no birth, no being with child, and [because of their impurity] no becoming pregnant.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, so that not a man shall be left; yes, woe also to them when I look away and depart from them!

13 Ephraim, like as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place; but Ephraim shall bring out his children to the slayer.

14 Give them [their due], O Lord! But what will You give? Give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness, [says the Lord,] is focused in Gilgal for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their [idolatrous] doings I will drive them out of My house [the Holy Land]; I will love them no more; all their princes are rebels. [Hos. 4:15; 12:11.]

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit. Yes, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even their beloved children.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not listen to and obey Him, and they shall be wanderers and fugitives among the nations.

CHAPTER 10

ISRAEL is a luxuriant vine that puts forth its [material] fruit. According to the abundance of his fruit he has multiplied his altars [to idols]; according to the goodness and prosperity of their land they have made goodly pillars or obelisks [to false gods].

2 Their heart is divided and deceitful; now shall they be found guilty and suffer punishment. The Lord will smite and break down [the horns of] their altars. He will destroy their [idolatrous] pillars.

3 Surely now they shall say, We have no [actual] king, because we fear not the Lord; and as for the king, what can he do for us?

4 They have spoken mere words of the lips, swearing falsely in making covenants; therefore judgment springs up like hemlock [or other] poisonous plant in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall be in terror for the calf-idols of Bethaven [the house of idolatry, contemptuously meaning Bethel]; for its people shall mourn over it, and its [idolatrous] priests who rejoiced over it [shall tremble] for the glory of [their calf-god], because it is departed from it.

6 [The golden calf] shall also be carried into Assyria as a tribute-gift to the fighting King Jareb; Ephraim shall be put to shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel [to set up calf-worship and detach Israel from Judah].

7 As for Samaria, her king and her whole monarchy are cut off like twigs or foam upon the water.

8 The high places also of Aven [once Beth(el), house of God, now (Beth)aven, house of idols], the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed; the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their [idol] altars, and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us! And to the hills, Fall on us! [Luke 23:30; Rev. 6:16; 9:6.]

9 O Israel, you have [willfully] sinned from the days of Gibeah [when you all but wiped out the tribe of Benjamin]! There [Israel] stood then, only that the battle against the sons of unrighteousness might not overtake and turn against them at Gibeah [but now the kingdom of the ten tribes and the name of Ephraim shall be utterly blotted out]. [Judg. 20:46-48.]

10 When I please I will chastize them, and hostile peoples shall be gathered against them, when I shall bind and yoke them for their two transgressions [revolt from the Lord their God and the worship of idols]. [Jer. 2:13; Lam. 3:31-33.]

11 Ephraim indeed is a heifer broken in and loving to tread out the grain, but I have [heretofore] spared the beauty of her fair neck. I will now set a rider upon Ephraim and make him to draw; Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.

12 Sow for yourselves according to righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God; reap according to mercy and loving-kindness. Break up your uncultivated ground, for it is time to seek the Lord, to inquire for and of Him and to require [His favor], till He comes and teaches you righteousness and rains His righteous gift of salvation upon you. [II Cor. 9:10.]

13 You have plowed and plotted wickedness, you have reaped the [willful] injustice [of oppressors]; you have eaten the fruit of lies. Because you have trusted in your own way and your chariots, in the multitude of your mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise against your people, and all your fortresses shall be wasted and destroyed, as Shalmanezar wasted and destroyed Betharbel on the day of battle; the mother was dashed in pieces with her children. [II Kings 17:3.]

15 So shall it be done to you at [idolatrous] Bethel because of your great wickedness; at daybreak shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.

CHAPTER 11

WHEN Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called My son out of Egypt. [Matt. 2:15.]

2 The more [the prophets] called to them, the more they went from them;
they kept sacrificing to the Baals, and burning incense to the graven images.

3 Yet I taught Ephraim to walk, taking them by their arms or taking them up in My arms, but they did not know that I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love, and I was to them as one who lifts up and eases the yoke over their cheeks, and I bent down to them and gently laid food before them.

5 They shall not [literally] return into [another bondage in] the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be their king, because they refused to return to Me.

6 And the sword shall rage against and fall upon their cities, and shall consume the bars of their gates, and shall make an end [of their defenses], because of their own counsels and devices.

7 My people are bent on backsliding from Me; though [the prophets] call them to Him Who is on high, none at all will exalt Him or lift himself up [to come].

8 How can I give you up, O Ephraim! How can I surrender you and cast you off, O Israel! How can I make you as Admah, or how can I treat you as Zebaiim [both destroyed with Sodom]! My heart recoils within Me, My compassions are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of My anger, I will not bring back Ephraim to nothing or again destroy him; for I am God and not man, the Holy One in the midst of you, and I will not come in wrath or enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the Lord, Who will roar like a lion; He Himself will roar, and [His] sons shall come trembling and eagerly from the west.

11 They shall come trembling but hurriedly as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria; and I will cause them to dwell in their houses, says the Lord.

12 Ephraim surrounds Me with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit, and Judah is not yet steadfast with God, with the faithful Holy One.

CHAPTER 12

EPHRAIM herds and feeds on the wind and pursues the [parching] east wind; every day he increases lies and violence; and a covenant is made with Assyria, and oil is carried to Egypt. [Isa. 30:6, 7.]

2 The Lord has also a controversy — a pleading contention — with Judah, and will punish Jacob by visiting upon him according to his ways; according to his doings will He recompense him.

3 He took his brother by the heel in [their mother's] womb, and in the strength of his manhood he contended and had power with God. [Gen. 25:26.]

4 Yes, he had power over the Angel [of the Lord] and prevailed; he wept and sought His favor. He met Him in Bethel, and there [God] spoke with him [and through him] with us, [Gen. 32:28.]

5 Even the Lord the God of hosts, the name of Him [Who spoke with Jacob] is the Lord.

6 Therefore return to your God! Hold fast to love and mercy, and righteousness and justice, and wait [expectantly] for your God continually!

7 Like Canaan, [Israel whose ideals have sunk to those of Canaan] is a trader, the balances of deceit are in his hand; he loves to oppress and defraud.

8 Ephraim has said, Ah, but I have become rich, I have gained for myself wealth; all my profits shall bring on me no iniquity that would be sin. But all his profits will never offset nor suffice to expiate the guilt which he has incurred. [Rev. 3:17.]

9 But I Who am the Lord your God from [when you became a nation in] the land of Egypt, will yet make you to dwell in tents, as in the days of the appointed and solemn feast [of tabernacles]. [Lev. 23:39-43.]

10 I have also spoken to you by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions [for you], and [have appealed to you] through parables acted out by the prophets.

11 If Gilead is given over to idolatry, they shall come to nought and be mere waste; if they [insult God by] sacrificing bullocks in Gilgal [on heathen altars], their altars shall be as heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 Jacob fled into the open country of Aram or Paddan-aram, and there Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he herded sheep. [Gen. 29:18-20; 30:31; 31:38-41.]

13 And by a prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was [Israel] preserved.

14 Ephraim has provoked most bitter anger; therefore shall his blood [guilt] be left upon him, and his disgrace and reproach shall his Lord return upon him.

CHAPTER 13

WHEN Ephraim spoke with trembling, he exalted himself in Israel; but when he offended and became guilty in Baal worship, he died [spiritually, and then outward ruin came also, sealing Israel's doom as a nation).

2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, [as they pleased], all of them the work of the craftsmen. To these [very works of their hands] they speak or pray who sacrifice to them, they kiss the calves [as if they were alive]!

3 Therefore they shall be like the morning mist or like the dew that passes early away, like the chaff that swirls with the whirlwind from the threshing floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney or through the window.

4 Yet I am the Lord your God from [the time you became a nation in] the land of Egypt, and you shall know or recognize no God but Me, for there is no Savior besides Me.

5 I knew — recognized, understood and had regard for — you in the wilderness, in the land of great drought.

6 According to their pasture, so were they filled [when they fed, they grew full], and their heart was lifted up; therefore have they forgotten Me.

7 Therefore I have become to them like a lion; like a leopard I will lurk by the way [to Assyria] and watch them.

8 I will meet them as a bear that is robbed of her cubs, and I will rend the covering of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lioness, as a wild beast would tear them.

9 It is your destruction, O Israel, that you have been against Me, for in Me is your help.

10 Where now is your king, that he may save you in all your cities? And your judges of whom you said, Give me a king and princes?

11 I have given you a king in My anger, and I have taken him away in My wrath.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim [not fully punished yet] is bound up — as in a bag; his sin is laid up in store [for judgment and destruction].

13 The pains of a woman in childbirth are coming on for him [to be born]; but he is an unwise son, for now, when it is time [to be born], he comes not to the place where unborn children break forth — he needs new birth, but makes no effort to acquire it.

14 Should I ransom them from the power of Sheol [the place of the dead]? Should I redeem them from death? °O Death, where are your plagues? O Sheol, where is your destruction? Relenting and compassion are hid from My eyes. [I Cor. 15:55.]

15 For though among his brethren [his fellow tribes] he may be fruitful, an east wind [Assyria] will come, the breath of the Lord rising from the desert, and Ephraim's spring shall become dry, and his fountain be dried up. [Assyria] shall plunder his treasury of every precious vessel.

16 Samaria shall bear her guilt and become desolate, for she rebelled against her God; they shall fall by the sword, their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their pregnant women shall be ripped up.

CHAPTER 14

O ISRAEL, return to the Lord your God, for you have stumbled and fallen, [visited by calamity] due to your iniquity.

2 Take with you words, and return to the Lord. Say to Him, Take away all our iniquity, accept what is good and receive us graciously: so will we render [our thanks] as bullocks [to be sacrificed] and pay the confession of our lips. [Heb. 13:15.]

3 Assyria shall not save us; we will not ride upon horses, neither will we say any more to [idols] the work of our

c) The Apostle Paul in I Cor. 15:55 brings to mind this passage, but with a triumphant reversed meaning, made possible by our Lord's resurrection.

hands, You are our gods. For in You, [O Lord,] the fatherless find love, pity and mercy.

4 I will heal their faithlessness, I will love them freely, for My anger is turned away from [Israel].

5 I will be as the dew and the night mist to Israel; he shall grow and blossom as the lily, and cast forth his roots as [the sturdy evergreens of] Lebanon.

6 His suckers and shoots shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his fragrance like [the cedars and aromatic shrubs of] Lebanon.

7 They that dwell under his shade shall return; they shall revive as the grain and blossom as the vine; the scent of it shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

8 Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have answered [him], and will regard and watch over him; I am like a green fir or cypress tree. With Me is the fruit found [which is to nourish you].

9 Who is wise, that he may understand these things? Prudent, that he may know them? For the ways of the Lord are right, and the [uncompromisingly] just shall walk in them; but transgressors shall stumble and fall in them. [Dan. 12:10; Ps. 107:43; Jer. 9:12; Isa. 26:7.]

THE BOOK OF JOEL

CHAPTER 1

THE word of the Lord that came to ^aJoel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, you aged men, and give ear, all you inhabitants of the land! Has such a thing as this occurred in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?

3 Tell your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 What the crawling locust left, the swarming locust has eaten; and what the swarming locust left, the hopping locust has eaten; and what the hopping locust left, the stripping locust has eaten.

5 Awake, you drunkards, and weep; wail, all you drinkers of wine, because of the [fresh] sweet fruit juice, for it is cut off and removed from your mouth.

6 For a [heathen and hostile] nation [of locusts, illustrative of a human foe] has invaded My land, mighty and without number; whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and it has the jaw teeth of a lioness. [Rev. 9:7, 8.]

7 It has laid waste My vine [symbol of God's people], and barked and broken My fig tree; it has made them completely bare and thrown them down; their branches are made white. [Isa. 5:5, 6.]

8 Lament like a virgin [bride] girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth [who has died].

9 The meal or cereal offering and the drink offering are cut off from the house of the Lord; the priests, the Lord's ministers, mourn.

10 The field is laid waste; the ground mourns, for the grain is destroyed, the new grape juice is dried up, the oil fails.

11 Be ashamed, O you tillers of the soil; wail, O you vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley, because the harvest of the field has perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig tree fails; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple or quince tree, even all the trees of the field are withered; so that joy has withered and fled away from the sons of men.

13 Gird yourselves and lament, you a) Joel was a prophet of Judah and possibly a contemporary of Elisha.

priests; wail, you ministers of the altar; come, lie all night in sackcloth, you ministers of my [Joel's] God, for the cereal or meal offering and the drink offering are withheld from the house of your God.

14 Sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land in the house of the Lord your God, and cry to the Lord [in penitent pleadings].

15 Alas for the day! For the day of [the judgment of] the Lord is at hand, and as a destructive tempest from the Almighty will it come. [Zeph. 1:14-18.]

16 Is not the food cut off before our eyes, joy and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The seed grain rots and shrivels under the clods, the garners are desolate and empty, the barns are in ruins because the grain has failed.

18 How the beasts groan! The herds of cattle are perplexed and huddle together because they have no pasture; even the flocks of sheep suffer punishment — are forsaken and made wretched.

19 O Lord, to You will I cry, for the fire has devoured the pastures and folds of the plain and the wilderness, and flame has burned all the trees of the field.

20 Even the wild beasts of the field pant and cry to You, for the water brooks are dried up, and fire has consumed the pastures and folds of the wilderness and the plain.

CHAPTER 2

BLOW the trumpet in Zion, sound an alarm on My holy Mount [Zion]. Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble, for the day of [the judgment of] the Lord is coming, it is close at hand. [Amos 5:16-20; Ezek. 7:2-4.]

2 A day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and of thick mists and darkness, like the morning dawn spread upon the mountains; so there comes a [heathen, hostile] people numerous and mighty, the like of which has never been before and shall not be again even to the years of many generations.

3 A fire devours before them, and behind them a flame burns; the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yes, and none has escaped [the ravages of the devouring hordes].

4 Their appearance is like the appearance of horses, and as war horses and horsemen, so do they run.

5 Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire devouring the stubble, like a mighty people set in battle array. [Rev. 9:7, 9.]

6 Before them the peoples are in anguish, all faces become pale.

7 They run like mighty men, they climb the wall like men of war, they march every one [straight ahead] on his ways, and they do not break their ranks.

8 Neither does one thrust another, they walk every one in his path; and they burst through and upon the weapons, yet they are not wounded and do not change their course.

9 They leap upon the city, they run upon the wall, they climb up on and into the houses, they enter in at the windows like a thief.

10 The earth quakes before them, the heavens tremble. The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. [Rev. 16:14; 9:2-4.]

11 And the Lord utters His voice before His army, for His host is very great, for [they are] strong and powerful who execute God's word. For the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can endure it? [Rev. 6:16, 17; Isa. 26:20, 21; 34:1-4, 8.]

12 Therefore also now, says the Lord, turn and keep on coming to Me with all your heart, with fasting, with weeping, and with mourning [until every hindrance is removed and the broken fellowship is restored].

13 Rend your hearts and not your garments, and return to the Lord your God, for He is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in loving-kindness, and He revokes His sentence of evil [when His conditions are met].

14 Who knows but what He will turn, revoke your sentence [of evil], and leave a blessing behind Him [giving you the means with which to serve Him], even a cereal or meal offering and a drink offering for the Lord, your God?

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion; set apart a fast — a day of restraint and humility; call a solemn assembly.

16 Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elderly people, gather the children and the nursing infants; let the bridegroom [who is legally exempt from attending] go forth from his chamber, and the bride out of her closet. [None is exempt from the humiliation.]

17 Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Have pity and spare Your people, O Lord, and give not Your heritage to reproach, that the [heathen] nations should rule over them or use a byword against them. Why should they say among the peoples, Where is their God?

18 Then was the Lord jealous for His land, and had pity on His people.

19 Yes, the Lord answered and said to His people, Behold, I am sending you grain, and grape juice, and oil, and you shall be satisfied with them; and I will no more make you a reproach among the [heathen] nations.

20 But I will remove far off from you the northern [destroyer's] army, and will drive it into a land barren and desolate, with its front toward the eastern [Dead] Sea and with its rear toward the western [Mediterranean] Sea. And its stench shall come up [as had that of the decaying mass of locusts, symbolic and a forecast of the fate of the Northern army in the final day of the Lord], and its foul odor shall come up, because [the Lord will have destroyed the invaders] ^bHe has done great things! [Isa. 34:1-4, 8; Jer. 25:31-35; Joel 2:11.]

21 Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice, for the Lord has done great things! [Zech. 12:8-10.]

22 Be not afraid, you wild beasts of the field, for the pastures of the wilderness have sprung up and are green, for the tree bears its fruit, the fig tree and the vine yield their [full] strength.

23 Be glad then, you children of Zion, and rejoice in the Lord, your God; for He gives you the former or early rain in just measure and in righteousness, and He causes to come down for you the rain, the former rain and the latter rain, as before.

24 And the [threshing] floors shall be full of grain, and the vats shall overflow with grape juice and oil.

25 And I will restore or replace for you the years that the locust has eaten, the hopping locust, the stripping locust, and the crawling locust, My great army which I sent among you.

26 And you shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and praise the name of the Lord, your God, Who has dealt wondrously with you. And My people shall never be put to shame.

27 And you shall know that I am in the midst of Israel and that I, the Lord, am your God, and there is none else. My people shall never be put to shame.

28 And afterward I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions.

29 Even upon the menservants and upon the maidservants in those days will I pour out My Spirit.

30 And I will show signs and wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood and fire and columns of smoke.

31 The sun shall be turned to darkness, and the moon to blood, before the

b) The capitalization here is suppositional. Interpreters are divided as to whether it is the northern destroyer who has "done great things", or the Lord; either, in different senses, is true. However, the latter view is strongly supported by the statement to the same effect in verse twenty-one which immediately follows.

great and terrible day of the Lord comes. [Isa. 13:6, 9-11; 24:21-23; Ezek. 32:7-10; Matt. 24:29, 30; Rev. 6:12-17.]

32 And whoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered and saved, for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those who escape, as the Lord has said, and among the remnant [of survivors] shall be those whom the Lord calls. [Acts 2:17-21; Rom. 10:13.]

CHAPTER 3

FOR, behold, in those days and at that time, when I shall reverse the captivity and restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem,

2 I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and there will I deal with and execute judgment upon them for [their treatment of] My people and of My heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and [because] they have divided My land.

3 And they have cast lots for My people, and have given a boy for a harlot, and have sold a girl for wine, and have drunk it.

4 Yes, and what are you to me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the [five small] divisions of Philistia? Will you pay Me back for something? Even if you pay Me back, swiftly and speedily I will return your deed [of retaliation] upon your own head; [Isa. 23; Zech. 9:2-7; Ezek. 26:1-18; Amos 1:6-10; Zeph. 2:4-7.]

5 Because you have taken My silver and My gold and have carried into your temples and palaces My precious treasures,

6 And have sold the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem to the sons of the Grecians, that you may remove them far from their border.

7 Behold, I will stir them up out of the place to which you have sold them, and will return your deed [of retaliation] upon your own head.

8 I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they will sell them to the Sabeans, to a nation far off; for the Lord has spoken it. [Isa. 14:2; 60:14.]

9 Proclaim this among the nations: Prepare war, stir up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near, let them come up.

10 Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruning hooks into spears; let the weak say, I am strong — a warrior! [Isa. 2:4; Mic. 4:3.]

11 Hasten and come, all you nations round about, and assemble yourselves; there You, O Lord, will bring down Your mighty ones — Your warriors.

12 Let the nations bestir themselves and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat, for there will I sit to judge all the nations round about.

13 Put in the sickle, for the [vintage] harvest is ripe; come, get down and tread the grapes, for the wine press is full, the vats overflow; for the wickedness [of the peoples] is great. [Mark 4:29; Rev. 14:15, 18-20.]

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! For the day of the Lord is near in the valley of decision. [Zech. 14:1-9.]

15 The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining.

16 The Lord will thunder and roar from Zion and utter His voice from Jerusalem, and the heavens and the earth shall shake; but the Lord will be a refuge for His people and a stronghold to the children of Israel. [Amos 9:11-15; Mic. 4:1-3; 5:2; Zeph. 3:13-20; Zech. 6:12, 13; 12:8, 9.]

17 So shall you know that I am the Lord your God, dwelling in Zion, My holy mountain. Then shall Jerusalem be holy, and strangers and foreigners [not born into the family of God] shall no more pass through it.

18 And in that day, the mountains shall drip with fresh fruit juice, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the brooks and river beds of Judah shall flow with water; and a fountain shall come forth from the house of the Lord and shall water the valley of Shittim. [Ezek. 47:1-12; Amos 9:13; Zech. 14:8.]

19 Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for their violence against the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall remain and be inhabited for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21 And I will cleanse and hold as innocent their blood and avenge it, which I have not cleansed, held innocent and avenged, for the Lord dwells in Zion.

THE BOOK OF AMOS

CHAPTER 1

THE words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen and sheep masters of Tekoa, which he saw [in divine revelation] concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake. [Zech. 14:5.]

2 And he said, The Lord roars out of Zion and utters His voice from Jerusalem, then the pastures of the shepherds mourn, and the top of Mount Carmel dries up. [Isa. 42:13; Jer. 25:30; Joel 3:16.]

3 Thus says the Lord: For three transgressions of Damascus [the capital of Syria], and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies — I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because they have threshed Gilead [east of the Jordan River] with iron sledges. [II Kings 10:32, 33.]

4 So I will send a fire [of war, conquest and destruction] upon the house of Hazeal [who killed and succeeded King Benhadad], which shall devour the palaces and strongholds of Benhadad.

5 I will break also the bar of the gate of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the plain of Aven or On, and him who holds the scepter from Beth-eden; and the people of Syria [conquered by the Assyrians] shall go into exile to Kir, says the Lord.

6 Thus says the Lord: For three transgressions of Philistine Gaza, and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies — I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because [as slave traders] they carried away captive the whole Jewish population [of defenseless Judean border villages] — of which none was spared, none left behind — and delivered them up to Edom's [slave trade]. [Joel 3:6.]

7 So I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, which shall devour its strongholds.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitants from Ashdod, and him who holds the scepter from Ashkelon, and I will turn My hand against Ekron; and the rest of the Philistines [Gath, and the towns dependent on these four cities] shall perish, says the Lord God.

9 Thus says the Lord: For three transgressions of Tyre, and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies — I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because they [as middlemen] delivered up a whole [Jewish] population to Edom, and did not [seriously] remember their brotherly covenant. [I Kings 5:1, 12; 9:12, 13.]

10 So I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, which shall devour its strongholds.

11 Thus says the Lord: For three transgressions of Edom [descendants of Esau], and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies — I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because he pursued his brother Jacob (Israel) with the sword, corrupting his compassions and casting off all pity, and his anger tore perpetually, and his wrath he kept and heeded for ever.

12 So I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the strongholds of Bozrah [in Edom].

13 Thus says the Lord: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon [descendants of Lot], and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies — I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because the Ammonites have ripped up women with child in Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 So I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah [in Ammon], and it shall devour the strongholds of it, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind;

15 And their king shall go into exile, he and his princes together, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 2

THUS says the Lord: For three transgressions of Moab [descendants of Lot], and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies — I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom [Esau's descendant] into lime.

2 So I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the strongholds of Kerioth; and Moab shall die amid uproar, shouting and the sound of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the ruler from its midst, and will slay all its princes with him, says the Lord.

4 Thus says the Lord: For three transgressions of Judah, and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies

— I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because they have despised and rejected the law of the Lord, and have not kept His commandments, but their lies, after which their fathers have walked, caused them to err and go astray.

5 So I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the strongholds of Jerusalem.

6 Thus says the Lord: For three transgressions of Israel, and for four — that is, for multiplied delinquencies — I will not reverse the punishment of it or revoke My word concerning it; because they have sold the strictly just and uncompromisingly righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of sandals;

7 They pant after the sight of the poor [reduced to such misery that they will be] throwing dust of the earth on their heads [in token of their grief]; they defraud and turn aside the humble [who are too meek to defend themselves]; and a man and his father will have sexual relations with the same maiden, so that My holy name is profaned.

8 And they lay themselves down beside every [pagan] altar upon clothes they have taken in pledge [for indebtedness]; and in the house of their God [in daring contempt of Him] they frivolously drink the wine which has been *exact*ed from those unjustly fined.

9 Yet I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt and led you forty years through the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised up some of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for dedicated ones — Nazirites. Is not this true, O you children of Israel? says the Lord. [Num. 6:1-8.]

12 But you gave the dedicated ones — the Nazirites — wine to drink and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophesy not.

13 Behold, I am pressed under you, and I will press you down in your place, as a cart presses that is full of sheaves.

14 And flight shall be lost to the swift and refuge shall fail him; the strong shall not retain and confirm his strength, neither shall the mighty deliver himself.

15 Neither shall he stand who handles the bow, and he who is swift of foot shall not deliver himself; neither shall he who rides the horse deliver his life.

16 And he who is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked on that day, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 3

HEAR this word that the Lord has spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt:

2 You only have I known [chosen, sympathized with and loved] of all the families of the earth; therefore I will visit upon you all your wickedness and punish you for all your iniquities.

3 Do two walk together, except they make an appointment and have agreed?

4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he has no prey? Will a young lion cry out of his den, if he has taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where there is no trap for him? Does a trap spring up from the ground, when nothing at all has sprung it?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people not be alarmed and afraid? Shall misfortune occur or evil [that is for punishment], and the Lord has not caused it?

7 Surely the Lord God will do nothing ^{without revealing His secret to His servants the prophets.} [Rev. 10:7.]

8 The lion has roared; who will not fear? The Lord God has spoken; who can but prophesy? [Acts 4:20; 5:20, 29; I Cor. 9:16.]

9 Publish to the strongholds in Ashdod [Philistia], and to the strongholds in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold what great tumults — confusion and disorder — are in her, and what oppressions are in the midst of her.

10 For they know not how to do right, says the Lord, they who store up violence and robbery in their strongholds.

11 Therefore thus says the Lord God: An adversary shall surround the land, and he shall bring down your defenses from you, and your strongholds shall be plundered.

12 Thus says the Lord: As the shepherd rescues out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear, so shall the children of Israel who dwell in Samaria be rescued, with the corner of a couch and part of the damask covering of a bed.

13 Hear, and bear witness in the house of Jacob, says the Lord God, the God of hosts, 14 That in the day when I visit Israel's transgressions upon him I will also visit [with punishment] the altars of Bethel [with its golden calf], and the horns of the altar shall be cut off and fall to the ground.

a) God has always warned the world of coming judgments, in order that it may not bring them upon itself. He warned Noah of the coming flood, Abraham and Lot of the future destruction of Sodom, told Joseph of the seven years' famine, Moses of the ten plagues on Egypt, Jonah of the destruction of Nineveh, Amos of the downfall of Syria, Philistia, Tyre, Edom, Ammon, Moab, Judah and Israel. Various prophets were told in detail of the final events in connection with the captivities of the chosen people, and in every case the warnings were startlingly executed. At first in the case of Nineveh the judgment was postponed after Jonah's preaching, but when later generations of Ninevites backslid, the warning of Nahum was carried out completely against them. Christ's coming was foretold from Genesis to Malachi. Equally plain and inevitable of fulfillment are the warnings of Jesus and the prophets concerning the future that daily comes nearer to every nation on earth.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the summer house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the many and great houses shall come to an end, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 4

HEAR this word, you cows [women] of Bashan, who are in the mountain of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who say to their husbands, Bring, and let us drink! [Ps. 22:12; Ezek. 39:18.]

2 The Lord God has sworn by His holiness, that behold, the days shall come upon you, when they shall take you away with hooks, and the last of you with fishhooks. [Ps. 89:35.]

3 And you shall go out through the breaches [made in the city's wall], every woman straight before her, and you shall be cast forth into Harmon [an unknown place of exile], says the Lord.

4 Come to Bethel [where the golden calf is] and transgress; at Gilgal [another idol worship center] multiply transgression; and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days;

5 And offer [by burning] a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim and publish free-will offerings; for this you like to do, O children of Israel! says the Lord God.

6 I also gave you cleanness of teeth in all your cities and want of bread in all your places, yet you did not return to Me, says the Lord.

7 And also I withheld the rain from you when there were yet three months to the harvest. I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city; one piece of ground was rained upon, and the piece upon which it did not rain withered.

8 So [the people of] two or three cities wandered and staggered into one city to drink water, but they were not satisfied; yet you did not return to Me, says the Lord.

9 I smote you with blight [from the poisonous east wind] and with mildew; I laid waste the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards; your fig trees and your olive trees the palmerworm [a form of locust] devoured. Yet you did not return to Me, says the Lord.

10 I have sent among you the pestilence [which I made] epidemic in Egypt; your young men I slew with the sword, and I took into exile your horses; and I made the stench of your camp come up into your nostrils; yet you did not return to Me, says the Lord. [II Kings 8:12; 13:3, 7.]

11 I have overthrown some among you, as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and you were as a brand plucked out of the burning. Yet you did not return to Me, says the Lord. [Gen. 19:24, 25; Isa. 13:19; Jer. 49:18.]

12 Therefore thus will I do to you, O Israel; and because I will do this to you, prepare to meet your God, O Israel!

13 For, lo, He Who forms the mountains, and creates the wind, and declares to man what is his thought; Who makes the morning darkness, and treads on the heights of the earth — the Lord, the God of hosts, is His name! [Ps. 139:2; Dan. 2:28.]

CHAPTER 5

HEAR this word which I take up concerning you in lamentation, O house of Israel:

2 The virgin of Israel has fallen; she shall no more rise; she lies cast down and forsaken on her land; there is no one to raise her up.

3 For thus says the Lord God: The city that went forth a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went forth a hundred shall have ten left to the house of Israel.

4 For thus says the Lord to the house of Israel, Seek Me — inquire for and of Me, and require Me [as you require food] — and you shall live! [II Chron. 15:2; Jer. 29:13.]

5 But seek not [the golden calf at] Bethel, nor enter into [idolatrous] Gilgal, and pass not over to [the idols of] Beersheba; for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity and exile, and Bethel [house of God] shall become Bethaven [house of vanity, emptiness, falsity and futility] and come to nothing.

6 Seek the Lord — inquire for and of Him and require Him — and you shall live; lest He rush down like fire upon the house of Joseph [representing the ten tribes] and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel [the center of their idol hopes].

7 You who turn justice into [the bitterness of] wormwood, and cast righteousness — uprightness and right standing with God — down to the ground,

8 Seek Him Who made the [cluster of stars called] Pleiades and [the constellation] Orion, and turns the shadow of death or deep darkness into the morning, and darkens the day into night, Who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out upon the face of the earth, the Lord is His name, 9 Who causes sudden destruction to flash forth upon the strong, so that destruction comes upon the fortress.

10 They hate him who reproves in the [city] gate — holding him as an abomination and rejecting his rebuke — and they abhor him who speaks uprightly.

11 Therefore because you tread upon the poor and take from him exactions of wheat, you have built houses of hewn stone, but you shall not dwell in them; you have planted pleasant vineyards, but you shall not drink their grape juice.

12 For I know how manifold are your transgressions, and how mighty are your sins; you who afflict the [uncompromisingly] righteous, who take a bribe, and who turn aside the needy in the [court of the city] gate from their right.

13 Therefore he who is prudent will keep silence in such a time, for it is an evil time.

14 Seek — inquire for and require — good and not evil, that you may live; and so the Lord, the God of hosts, will be with you, as you have said.

15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish justice in the [court of the city's] gate. It may be that the Lord, the God of hosts, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph [the northern kingdom].

16 Therefore thus says the Lord, the God of hosts, the Lord: There shall be wailing in all the broad ways, and in all the streets they shall say, Alas! Alas! And they shall call the farmers to mourning and such as are skilled in lamentation to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards there shall be wailing, for I will pass through the midst of you, says the Lord.

18 Woe to you who desire the day of the Lord! Why would you want the day of the Lord? It is darkness, and not light;

19 As if a man should flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house and leaned with his hand against the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light? Even very dark with no brightness in it?

21 I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will not smell a savor or take delight in your solemn assemblies.

22 Though you offer Me burnt offerings and your cereal offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I look upon the peace or thank offerings of your fatted beasts.

23 Take away from Me the noise of your songs; for I will not listen to the melody of your harps.

24 But let justice run down like waters, and righteousness as a mighty and everflowing stream.

25 Did you bring to Me sacrifices and cereal offerings during those forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel?

26 [No.] but [instead of bringing Me the appointed sacrifices] you carried about the tent of your king Sakuth and Kaiwan [names for the planet Saturn], your images of your star-god, which you made for yourselves [and you will do so again].

27 Therefore I will cause you to go into exile beyond Damascus, says the Lord, whose name is the God of hosts. [Acts 7:42, 43.]

CHAPTER 6

WOE to those who are at ease in Zion, and to those on the mountain of Samaria who are careless and feel secure, the notable men of the chief [because chosen by God] of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! [Luke 6:24, 25.]

2 Pass over to Calneh and see, and from there go to Hamath the great city [north of Damascus]; then go down to Gath of the Philistines. Are they better than these [your] kingdoms? Or are their boundaries greater than your boundaries,

3 O you who put far away the evil day [of punishment], yet cause the sitting of violence [upon you] to come near?

4 Woe to those who lie upon beds of ivory and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;

5 Who sing idle songs to the sound of the harp, and invent for themselves instruments of music, like David's; [I Chron. 23:5.]

6 Who drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the finest oils, but are not grieved and sick at heart over the affliction and ruin of Joseph [Israel]! [Gen. 49:22, 23.]

7 Therefore now shall they go captive with the first who go into exile, and the revelry and banqueting of those who stretch themselves shall be ended.

8 The Lord God has sworn by Himself, says the Lord, the God of hosts: I abhor, reject and despise the pride and false, futile glory of Jacob [Israel], and I hate his palaces and strongholds; and I will deliver up the city [idol-worshipping Samaria] with all that is in it.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die [by the pestilence that comes with war].

10 And when a man's uncle or kinsman, he who is to make a burning to cremate and dispose [of his pestilence-infected body] comes in to bring the bones out of the house, and shall say to another still alive in the farthest parts of the house, Is there anyone else with you? and he shall say, No; then shall the newcomer say, Hush! Hold your [cursing] tongue! We dare not so mention the name of the Lord [lest we invoke more punishment]. [I Sam. 31:12.]

11 For behold, the Lord commands, and He will smite the great house into ruins and the little house into fragments.

12 Do horses run upon rocks? Do men plow the ocean with oxen? But you have turned justice into the poison of gall and the fruit of righteousness into [the bitterness of] wormwood —

13 You who rejoice in Lodebar or a thing of nought, who say, Have we not by our own strength taken Kar-naim or horns [of resistance] for ourselves?

14 For behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, says the Lord, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict and oppress you [to the entire limits of Israel] from the entrance of Hamath to the brook of the Arabah.

CHAPTER 7

THUS the Lord God showed me [Amos]: behold, He formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the second crop; and lo, it was the second crop after the king's mowings.

2 And when [the locusts] had finished eating the plants of the land, then I said, O Lord God, forgive, I pray You. How can Jacob stand? For he is so small!

3 The Lord relented and revoked this sentence: It shall not take place, said the Lord, and He was eased and comforted concerning it.

4 Thus the Lord God showed me: behold, the Lord God called for punishment with fire, and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the land.

5 Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I pray You! How can Jacob stand? He is so little!

6 The Lord relented and revoked this sentence: This also shall not be, said the Lord, and He was eased and comforted concerning it.

7 Thus He showed me: behold, the Lord stood upon a wall with a plumb line, with a plumb line in His hand. [II Kings 21:13; Isa. 34:11.]

8 And the Lord said to me, Amos, what do you see? And I said, A plumb line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I am setting a plumb line as a standard in the midst of My people Israel. I will not pass by and spare them any more [the door of mercy is shut].

9 And the [idolatrous] high places of Isaac [Israel] shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise with the sword against the house of King Jeroboam [who set up the golden calf shrines].

10 Then Amaziah the priest of [the golden calf shrine at] Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel; the land is not able to bear all his words. [I Kings 12:31, 32.]

11 For thus Amos has said, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

12 Also Amaziah said to Amos, O you seer, go, flee back to [your own country] the land of Judah, and you may eat your bread and live from your profession as a prophet there [as I do here].

13 But do not prophesy any more at Bethel, for it is the king's sanctuary and a seat of his kingdom. [Cf. Luke 10:10-12.]

14 Then Amos said to Amaziah, I was no prophet [by profession]! Neither was I a prophet's son [and so a scholar; but I had my occupation]; I was a herdsman and a dresser of sycamore trees and a gatherer of sycamore figs.

15 And the Lord took me as I followed the flock, and the Lord said to me, Go, prophesy to My people Israel.

16 Now therefore listen to the word of the Lord: You say, Do not prophesy against Israel, and drop no statements not complimentary to the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus says the Lord: Your wife shall be a harlot in the city, and your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword, and your land shall be divided up by line; you yourself shall die in an unclean and defiled land; and Israel shall surely go forth out of his land into exile.

CHAPTER 8

THUS the Lord God showed to me: behold, a basket of [ripe and therefore soon-to-perish] summer fruit.

2 And He said, Amos, what do you see? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the Lord to me, The end has come upon My people Israel; I will not pass by and spare them any more.

3 And the songs of the temple shall become wailings in that day, says the Lord God; the dead bodies shall be many; in every place they shall be cast forth in silence.

4 Hear this, O you who would swallow up and trample down the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail and come to an end,

5 Saying, When will the new moon festival be past, that we may sell grain? And the sabbath, that we may offer wheat for sale, making the ephah measure small, and the shekel measure great, and falsifying the scales by deceit,

6 That we may buy [into slavery] the poor for silver and the needy for a pair of sandals; yes, and sell the refuse of the wheat [as if it were good grade]?

7 The Lord has sworn by [Himself Who is] the glory and pride of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their [rebellious] deeds.

8 Shall not the land tremble on this account, and every one mourn who dwells in it? Yes, it shall all of it rise like the river [Nile], and it shall be tossed about and sink back again to normal level, as does the Nile of Egypt.

9 And in that day, says the Lord God, I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the broad daylight time. [Ezek. 32: 7-10.]

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will cause sackcloth to be put upon all loins, and baldness [for mourning] shall come on every head; and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end of it as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the days come, says the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but a famine for hearing the words of the Lord.

12 And the people shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east, they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the Lord — inquiring for and requiring it [as one requires food] — but shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 Those who swear by Ashimah or the sin of Samaria, and say, By the life of your god [the golden calf], O Dan! and swear, By the life of the way of [idolatrous] Beersheba, they shall fall and rise no more.

CHAPTER 9

I SAW the Lord standing at the altar, and He said, Smite the tops of the pillars until the thresholds tremble, and shatter them on the heads of all of the people, and the remainder of them I will slay with the sword. He who flees of them shall not get away, and he who escapes of them shall not be delivered.

2 Though they dig into Sheol [Hades, the dark abode of the gathered dead], from there shall My hand take them; though they climb up to Heaven [the abode of light] from there will I bring them down;

3 And though they hide themselves on the top of Mount Carmel, from there I will search out and take them; and though they [try to] hide from My sight at the bottom of the sea, there I will command the serpent, and it shall bite them.

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, there will I command the sword, and it shall slay them, and I will set My eyes upon them for evil and not for good.

5 The Lord God of hosts, it is He Who touches the earth and it melts, and all who dwell in it mourn; it shall rise like the river Nile, all of it, and it shall sink again like the Nile of Egypt.

6 It is He Who builds His upper chambers in the heavens, and Who founds His vault over the earth; Who calls to the waters of the sea and pours them out on the face of the earth. The Lord is His name.

7 You, [O degenerate children of Israel,] are no more to Me than these [despised] Cushites, says the Lord. I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, but have I not also brought the Philistines out of Caphtor and the Syrians from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom [of Israel's ten tribes], and I will destroy it from the surface of the ground, except that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, says the Lord.

9 For, lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations and cause it to move to and fro, like as grain is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least kernel fall upon the earth and be lost [from My sight]. [Lev. 26:33; Deut. 28:64; Hos. 9:17.]

10 All the sinners of My people shall die by the sword, who say, The evil shall not overtake or meet [and assail] us.

11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David, the fallen hut or booth and close up its breaches, and I will raise up its ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old;

12 That they may possess the remnant of Edom and of all the nations that are called by My name, says the Lord Who does this. [Acts 15:15-17.]

13 Behold, the days are coming, says the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him who sows the seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt [that is, everything heretofore barren and unfruitful shall overflow with spiritual blessing]. [Lev. 26:5; Joel 3:18.]

14 And I will bring back the exiles of My people, Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the grape juice from them; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be torn up out of their land which I gave them, says the Lord your God.

THE BOOK OF OBADIAH

THE vision of Obadiah. Thus says the Lord God concerning *Edom: We have heard tidings from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent forth among the nations, saying, Arise, and let us rise up against Edom to battle! [Ps. 137:7; Isa. 34:1-15; 63:1-6; Jer. 49:7-22.]

2 Behold, I will make you small among the nations, Edom; you shall be despised exceedingly. [Ezek. 35.]

3 The pride of your heart has deceived you, you dweller in the refuges of the rock [Petra, Edom's capital], whose habitation is high, who says in his heart, Who can bring me down to the ground?

4 Though you mount on high as the eagle, and though you set your nest among the stars, I will bring you down from there, says the Lord.

5 If thieves came to you, if robbers by night — how you are brought to nothing! — would they not steal only enough for themselves? If grape gatherers came to you, would they not leave some grapes for gleaning? [But this was done by God, not men.]

6 How are the things of Esau [Edom] searched out! How are his hidden treasures sought out!

7 All the men of your confederacy —

a) Edom or Seir was the country southeast of Judah extending from the Dead Sea to the eastern arm of the Red Sea. It included the city of Petra. It was bounded on the north by Moab, and was populated by the descendants of Esau. Edom and Moab have a remarkably prominent place in prophecy as "the scene of the final destruction of Gentile world-power in the day of the Lord," as revealed in the accompanying Scripture references which are important to the full vivid picture of what lies ahead for the nations of the world.

your allies — have brought you on your way, even to the border; the men who were at peace with you have deceived you and prevailed against you; they who eat your bread have laid a snare under you. There is no understanding [in Edom, or] of it.

8 Will not I in that day, says the Lord, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of Mount Esau [Idumea, a mountainous region]?

9 And your mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one from Mount Esau will be cut off by slaughter.

10 For the violence you did against your brother Jacob, shame shall cover you, and you shall be cut off for ever.

11 On the day that you stood aloof [from your brother Jacob], on the day that strangers took captive his forces and carried off his wealth, and foreigners entered into his gates and cast lots for Jerusalem, you were even as one of them. [Amos 1:11, 12; Num. 20:18-20.]

12 But you should not have gloated over your brother's day, the day when his misfortune came and he was made a stranger; you should not have rejoiced over the sons of Judah in the day of their ruin; you should not have spoken arrogantly in the day of their distress.

13 You should not have entered the gate of My people in the day of their calamity and ruin; yes, you should not have looked with delight on their misery in the day of their calamity and ruin; and not have reached after their army and their possessions in the day of their calamity and ruin.

14 And you should not have stood at the crossway to cut off those of Judah who escaped, neither have delivered up those [of Judah] who remained in the day of distress.

15 For the day of the Lord is near upon all the nations. As you have done, it shall be done to you, your dealing will return upon your own head. [Isa. 2:10-22; Zeph. 3:8-20; Zech. 12:1-14; Rev. 19:11-21.]

16 For as you, [Edom,] have drunk upon the mountain of My holiness [desecrating it in the wild revelry of the destroyers], so shall all the nations drink continually [in turn, of My wrath]; yes, they shall drink, talk foolishly and swallow down [the full measure of punishment], and they shall be [destroyed] as though they had not been. [Rev. 16:14-16.]

17 But on Mount Zion [in Jerusalem] there shall be deliverance, for those who escape, and it shall be holy; and the house of Jacob shall possess their own [former] possessions. [Joel 2:32; Ezek. 36.]

18 The house of Jacob shall be a fire and the house of Joseph a flame, but the house of Esau shall be stubble; they shall kindle and burn them and consume them, and there shall be no survivor of the house of Esau, for the Lord has spoken it. [Ezek. 25:12-14.]

19 They of the South — the Negeb — shall possess Mount Esau, and they of the lowland the land of the Philistines; they shall possess the land of Ephraim and the fields of Samaria, and Benjamin shall possess Gilead [across the Jordan River]. [Amos 9:12; Zeph. 2:7.]

20 And the exiles of this host of the children of Israel who are among the Canaanites shall possess [Phoenicia] as far as Zarephath, and the exiles of Jerusalem who are in Sepharad shall possess the cities of the South — the Negev.

21 And deliverers shall go up on Mount Zion to rule and judge Mount Esau, and the kingdom and the kingship shall be the Lord's. [Mal. 1:2-5; Zech. 12:8, 9; Matt. 24:27-30; Luke 1:31-33; Acts 15:14-17.]

THE BOOK OF JONAH

CHAPTER 1

NOW the word of the Lord came to ^aJonah the son of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, go to ^bNineveh, that great city, and proclaim against it; for their wickedness has come up before Me. [Gen. 10:11, 12.]

3 But Jonah rose up to flee to Tarshish from being in the presence of the Lord [as His prophet], and went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish [the most remote of the Phoenician trading places then known]. So he paid the appointed fare and went down into the ship, to go with them to Tarshish from being in the presence of the Lord [as His servant and minister]. [Gen. 4:16; Job 1:12; 2:7.]

4 But the Lord sent out a great wind upon the sea, and there was a violent tempest on the sea, so that the ship was about to be broken. [Ps. 104:4.]

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and each man cried to his god; and they cast the goods that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it for them. But Jonah had gone down into the inner part of the ship and had lain down and was fast asleep.

6 So the captain came and said to him, What do you mean, you sleeper? Arise, call upon your God! Perhaps the God will give a thought to us, so that we shall not perish.

7 And they each said to one another, Come, let us cast lots, that we may know on whose account this evil has come upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah.

8 Then they said to him, Tell us, we pray you, on whose account this evil has come upon us. What is your occupation? Where did you come from? And what is your country and nationality?

9 And he said to them, I am a Hebrew, and I reverently fear and worship the Lord, the God of heaven, Who made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then the men were exceedingly afraid and said to him, What is this that you have done? For the men knew that he fled from being in the presence of the Lord [as His prophet and servant], because he had told them.

11 Then they said to him, What shall we do to you, that the sea may subside and be calm for us? For the sea became more and more [violently] tempestuous.

12 And [Jonah] said to them, Take me up and cast me into the sea; so shall the sea become calm for you, for I know that it is because of me that this great tempest has come upon you.

13 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring the ship to the land, but they could not, for the sea became more and more violent against them.

14 Therefore they cried to the Lord, We beseech You, O Lord, we beseech You, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood; for You, O Lord, have done as it pleased You.

15 So they took up Jonah and cast him into the sea, and the sea ceased from its raging.

16 Then the men reverently and worshipfully feared the Lord exceeding-

a) That Jonah was a historical character and not fictional, is evidenced beyond question by the reference to him in II Kings 14:25: "[Jeroboam] restored the border of Israel . . . according to the word of the Lord . . . which He spoke by His servant Jonah the son of Amittai, the prophet, who was from Gath-hepher."

b) In spite of the fact that three times in the Old Testament (Gen. 10:11, 12; Jonah 1:2; 3:3) and once in the Apocrypha (Judith 1:1) Nineveh is called a "great city," skeptical Bible critics long believed the statement to be greatly exaggerated. When the walled city was excavated it was found to be less than nine miles in circumference. There were claims that the author, Jonah, did not know what he was talking about; but the real author, the Holy Spirit, was being overlooked. Later excavations have proved that Nineveh had many suburbs, three of which are mentioned in connection with it in Genesis 10:11, 12. One first century writer (Diodorus Siculus) justifiably says Nineveh was a quadrangle measuring about sixty miles in circuit. A "great city" indeed.

ly, and they offered a sacrifice to the Lord and made vows.

17 Now the Lord had prepared and appointed a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights. [Matt. 12:40.]

CHAPTER 2

THEN Jonah prayed to the Lord his God from the fish's belly,

2 And said, I cried out of my distress to the Lord, and He heard me; out of the belly of Sheol cried I, and You heard my voice. [Pss. 120:1; 130:1; 142:1; Lam. 3:55-58.]

3 For You cast me into the deep, into the heart of the seas, and the floods surrounded me; all Your waves and Your billows passed over me. [Ps. 42:7.]

4 Then I said, I am cast out of Your presence and Your sight; yet I will look again toward Your holy temple. [Ps. 31:22.]

5 The waters compassed me about, even to [the extinction of] life; the abyss surrounded me, the sea-weeds were wrapped about my head. [Ps. 69:1; Lam. 3:54.]

6 I went down to the bottoms and the very roots of the mountains; the earth with its bars closed behind me for ever. Yet You have brought up my life from the pit and corruption, O Lord my God.

7 When my soul fainted upon me [crushing me] I earnestly and seriously remembered the Lord; and my prayer came to You, into Your holy temple.

8 Those who pay regard to false, useless and worthless idols forsake their own [Source of] mercy and loving-kindness.

9 But as for me, I will sacrifice to You with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that which I have vowed. Salvation and deliverance belong to the Lord!

10 And the Lord spoke to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

CHAPTER 3

AND the word of the Lord came to Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach and cry out to it the preaching that I tell you.

3 So Jonah arose and went to Nineveh, according to the word of the Lord. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city of three days' journey [sixty miles in circumference].

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown!

5 So the people of Nineveh believed in God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth [in penitent mourning], from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For word came to the king of Nineveh [of all that had happened to Jonah, and his terrifying message from God], and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe aside, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

7 And he made proclamation and published through Nineveh, By the decree of the king and his nobles: Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste anything; let them not feed nor drink water.

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and let them cry mightily to God. Yes, let every one turn from his evil way and from the violence that is in his hands.

9 Who can tell, God may turn and revoke His sentence against us [when we have met His terms], and turn away from His fierce anger, so that we perish not? [Joel 2:13, 14.]

10 And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God revoked His sentence of evil that He had said that He would do to them, and He did not do it — for He was comforted and eased concerning them.

CHAPTER 4

BUT it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed to the Lord, and said, I pray You, O Lord, is not this just what I said when I was still in my country? That is why I fled to Tarshish; for I knew that You are a gracious God and merciful, slow to anger and of great kindness, and [when sinners turn to You and meet Your conditions] You revoke the [sentence of] evil against them. [Exod. 34:6.]

3 Therefore now, O Lord, I beseech You, take my life from me, for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 Then said the Lord, Do you do well to be angry?

5 So Jonah went out of the city and sat to the east of the city, and he made a booth there for himself. He sat there under it in the shade till he might see what would become of the city.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his evil situation. So Jonah was exceedingly glad [to have the protection] of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a cutworm when the morning dawned the next day, and it smote the gourd so that it withered.

8 And when the sun arose, God prepared a sultry east wind, and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah so that he fainted, and wished in himself to die and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God said to Jonah, Do you do well to be angry for the loss of the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, angry enough to die!

10 Then said the Lord, You have had pity on the gourd, for which you have not labored nor made it grow, which came up in a night and perished in a night.

11 And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, in which there are more than one hundred and twenty thousand persons not [yet old enough to] know their right hand from their left, and also many cattle [not accountable for sin]?

THE BOOK OF MICAH

CHAPTER 1

THE word of the Lord that came to Micah of Moresheth in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw [through divine revelation] concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, all you people; listen closely, O earth, and all that is in it, and let the Lord God be witness among you and against you, the Lord from His holy temple. [I Kings 22:28.]

3 For, behold, the Lord comes forth out of His place, and will come down and tread upon the high places of the earth. [Zech. 14:3, 4; Mal. 4:2, 3; Matt. 24:27-30; Rev. 1:7; 19:11-16.]

4 And the mountains shall melt under Him and the valleys shall be cleft like wax before the fire, like waters poured down a steep place.

5 All this is because of the transgression of Jacob and the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not the idol worship of Samaria? And what are the high places of idolatry in Judah? Are they not Jerusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria a "heap in the open country, a place for planting vineyards; and I will pour down into the ravine her stones and lay bare her foundations. [Ezek. 13:14; II Kings 19:25.]

7 And all her carved images shall be broken in pieces, and all her hires [all that man would gain from desertion of God] shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will be laid waste; for from the hire of one harlot she gathered them, and to the hire of another harlot they shall return.

8 Therefore I [Micah] will lament and wail; I will go stripped and [virtually] naked; I will make a wailing like the jackals, and a lamentation like the ostriches.

9 For Samaria's wounds are incurable, and they come even to Judah; [He, the Lord,] has reached to the gate of my people, to Jerusalem.

10 In Philistine Gath announce it not; in Acco weep not at all, [betraying your grief to foreigners; but among your own people] in Beth-le-aphrah [dusthouse] roll yourself in the dust.

11 Pass on your way into exile, dwellers of Shaphir, in shameful nakedness. The dwellers of Zaanan dare not come forth; the wailing of Bethazel takes away from you the place on which it stands.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth [bitterness] writhes in pain at its losses and waits anxiously for good, because evil comes down from the Lord to the gate of Jerusalem.

13 Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O lady inhabitant of Lachish; you were the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion, for the transgressions of Israel were found in you.

14 Therefore you must give parting gifts to Moresheth-gath [Micah's home town]; the houses of Achzib [place of deceit] shall be a deception to the kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring a conqueror upon you, O lady inhabitant of Mareshah, who shall possess you; the glory and nobility of Israel shall come to Adullam [to hide in the caves, as did David]. [I Sam. 22:1.]

16 Make yourself bald in mourning, and cut off your hair for the children of your delight; enlarge your baldness as the eagle, for your children shall be carried from you into exile.

CHAPTER 2

WOE to those who devise iniquity and work out evil upon their beds! When the morning is light, they perform and practice it, because it is in their power.

2 They covet fields and seize them, and houses, and take them away; they oppress and crush a man and his house, a man and his inheritance. [Isa. 5:8.]

3 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, against this family I am planning a disaster from which you cannot remove your necks; nor will you be able to walk erect, for it will be an evil time.

4 In that day shall they take up a (taunting) parable against you, and wail with a doleful and bitter lamentation, and say, We are utterly ruined and laid waste! God changes the portion of my people. How He removes it from me! He divides our fields [to the rebellious — our captors].

5 Therefore you shall have no one to cast a line by lot upon a plot [of ground] in the assembly of the Lord. [Rev. 21:27.]

6 Do not preach, say the prophesying

a) In his book Syria and Palestine, written in the Nineteenth Century, Van de Velde after visiting Sebaste or Samaria wrote: "Samaria, a heap of stones! Her foundations discovered, her streets plowed up and covered with corn fields and olive gardens. Samaria has been destroyed; her rubbish has been thrown down into the valley; her foundation stones lie scattered about on the slope of the hill." Yet through the inspiration of the omniscient and omnipotent God, Micah was able to foretell all this more than 2,000 years before as if he had seen it occur.

false prophets; one should not babble and harp on such things; disgrace will not overtake us [the reviling has no end].

7 O house of Jacob, shall it be said, Is the Spirit of the Lord straitened, impatient and shortened? Or are these [prophesied plagues] His doings? Do not My words do good to him who walks uprightly?

8 But lately — yesterday — My people have stood up as an enemy [and have made Me their antagonist]. Off from the garment you strip the cloak of those who pass by in secure confidence of safety, and averse to war.

9 The women of My people you cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children you take away My glory for ever.

10 Arise and depart, for this is not the rest [which was promised to the righteous in Canaan]; because of uncleanness that works destruction, and that a sharp and grievous destruction.

11 If a man walking in a spirit [of vanity] and falsehood should lie and say, I will prophesy to you of wine and strong drink, O Israel, he would even be the acceptable prophet of this people! [Jer. 5:31.]

12 I will surely gather all of you, O Jacob; I will surely collect the remnant of Israel; I will bring them [Israel] together as sheep in a fold, as a flock in the midst of their pasture. They [the fold and the pasture] shall swarm with men and hum with their much noise.

13 The Breaker [the Messiah] will go up before them. They will break through, pass in through the gate and go out through it. And their King will pass on before them, the Lord at their head. [Amos 9:11; Hos. 3:5; Exod. 23:20, 21; 33:14; Isa. 63:8, 9.]

CHAPTER 3

AND I [Micah] said, Hear, I pray you, you heads of Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel! Is it not for you to know justice?

2 You who hate the good and love the evil, who pluck and steal the skin from off my people, and their flesh from off their bones;

3 Yes, those who eat the flesh of my people, and strip their skin from off them, and break their bones, and chop them in pieces as for the pot, like meat in a big kettle.

4 Then will they cry to the Lord, but He will not answer them; He will even hide His face from them at that time, because they have made their deeds evil. [Isa. 1:15.]

5 Thus says the Lord: Concerning the false prophets who make My people err, who when they have anything good to bite with their teeth cry, Peace; and whoever gives them nothing to chew, against him they declare a sanctified war.

6 Therefore it shall be night to you, that you shall have no vision; yes, it shall be dark to you without divination; and the sun shall go down over the false prophets, and the day shall be black over them.

7 And the seers shall be put to shame, and the diviners shall blush and be confounded; yes, they shall all cover their lips, for there is no answer from God.

8 But truly I [Micah] am full of power, of the Spirit of the Lord, and with justice and might, to declare to Jacob his transgression and to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, you heads of the house of Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel, who abhor and reject justice and pervert all equity,

10 Who build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 Its heads judge for reward and a bribe, and its priests teach for hire, and its prophets divine for money; yet they lean on the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among us? No evil can come upon us. [Isa. 1:10-15.]

12 Therefore shall Zion on your account be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps of ruins, and the mountain of the house [of the Lord] as the high places of a forest. [Jer. 26:17-19.]

CHAPTER 4

BUT in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established as the highest of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills, and peoples shall flow to it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; that He may teach us His ways and we may walk in His paths. For the law shall go forth out of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

3 And He shall judge between many peoples, and shall decide for strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. [Isa. 2:2-4; Joel 3:10.]

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree, and none shall make them afraid; for the mouth of the Lord of hosts has spoken it. [Zech. 3:10.]

5 For all the peoples [now] walk every one in the name of his god, but we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, says the Lord, I will assemble the lame, and I will gather those who have been driven away, and those whom I have afflicted.

7 And I will make the lame a remnant, and those who were cast off, a strong nation; and the Lord shall reign over them in Mount Zion from this time forth and for ever.

8 And you, O tower of the flock, the hill and stronghold of the daughter of Zion, unto you the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 Now why do you cry aloud? Is there no king among you? Has your counselor perished, that pains have taken you like a woman in labor?

10 Write in pain, and labor to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in childbirth; for now you shall go forth out of the city, and you shall live in the open country; you shall go to Babylon. There you shall be rescued; there the Lord shall redeem you from the hand of your enemies.

11 Now many nations are assembled against you, saying, Let her be profaned, and let our eye gaze upon Zion.

12 But they know not the thoughts of the Lord, neither do they understand His plan; for He shall gather them as the sheaves to the threshing floor.

13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion! For I will make your horn iron, and I will make your hoofs bronze; you shall beat in pieces many peoples, and I will devote their gain to the Lord, and their treasure to the Lord of all the earth. [Zech. 12:1-8; 14:14.]

CHAPTER 5

NOW gather yourself in troops, O daughter of troops; a state of siege has been placed against us; they shall smite the ruler of Israel with a rod — a scepter — on the cheek.

2 But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, you are little to be among the clans of Judah, yet out of you shall One come forth for Me Who is to be Ruler in Israel; Whose goings forth have been from of old, from ancient days — eternity. [Gen. 49:10; Matt. 2:5-12; John 7:42.]

3 Therefore shall He give them up, until the time that she who travails has brought forth; then what is left of His

b) In his book The Land and the Book, Dr. William Thomson wrote, "Mount Zion is now [Eighteenth Century] for the most part a rough field. From the tomb of David I passed on through the fields of ripe grain. It is the only part of Jerusalem that is now or ever has been plowed." When Sultan Suleiman the Magnificent rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem in 1542, the architect omitted Mount Zion, the city of David, from the area he enclosed, and strangely enough it was only partly built up again. How, except by divine inspiration, could Micah have foretold that this particular part of Jerusalem would be "plowed as a field"?

brethren shall return to the children of Israel.

4 And He shall stand and feed His flock in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord His God, and they shall dwell secure, for then shall He be great even to the ends of the earth. [Ps. 72:8; Isa. 52:13; Zech. 9:10; Luke 1:32, 33.]

5 And this shall be peace. When the Assyrian comes into our land and treads upon our soil and in our palaces, then will we raise against him seven shepherds and eight princes among men.

6 And they shall rule and waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod within her [Assyria's own] gates. Thus shall He, the Messiah, deliver us from Asshur [representing the opposing powers] when he [in His day] comes into our land and when he treads on our borders.

7 Then the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples like dew from the Lord, [suddenly] like showers upon the grass, which tarry not for man nor wait for the sons of men. [Ps. 72:6; 110:3.]

8 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations in the midst of many peoples like a lion among the beasts of the forest, like a young lion [suddenly] among the flocks of sheep, which, when it goes through, treads down and tears in pieces, and there is no deliverer.

9 Your hand shall be lifted up above your adversaries, and all your enemies shall be cut off.

10 And in that day, says the Lord, I will cut off your horses [on which you depend] from among you and will destroy your chariots; [Ps. 20:7, 8; Zech. 9:10.]

11 And I will cut off the cities of your land and throw down all your strongholds;

12 And I will cut off witchcrafts and sorceries from your hand, and you shall have no more soothsayers;

13 Your carved images also I will cut off and your statues or pillars out of your midst, and you shall no more worship the work of your hands;

14 And I will root out your Asherim [symbols of a goddess Asherah], and I will destroy your cities [the seats of false worship]. [Deut. 16:21.]

15 And in anger and wrath I will execute vengeance upon the nations which would not obey — vengeance such as they have not heard of before.

CHAPTER 6

HEAR now what the Lord says: Arise, contend and plead your case before the mountains, and let the hills hear your voice.

2 Hear, O mountains, the Lord's controversy, and you strong and enduring foundations of the earth; for the Lord has a controversy — a pleading contention — with His people, and He will [pleadingly] contend with Israel.

3 O My people, what have I done to you? And in what have I wearied you? Testify against Me — answer Me!

4 For I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house where you were bondservants; and I sent before you Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O My people, [earnestly] remember now what Balak king of Moab devised, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; remember all they did from Shittim to Gilgal, that you may know the righteous and saving acts of the Lord. [Num. 23:7-24; 24:3-24.]

6 With what shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before God on high? Shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old?

7 Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

8 He has showed you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you, but to do justly, and to love kindness and mercy, and to humble yourself and walk humbly with your God? [Deut. 10:12, 13.]

9 The voice of the Lord calls to [Jerusalem] the city, and it is sound wisdom to hear and fear Your name. Hear the rod and Him Who has appointed it.

10 Are there not still treasures gained by wickedness in the house of the wicked, and [a false measure for grain] a scant measure that is abominable and acursed?

11 Can I be pure Myself [and acquit the man] with wicked scales and with a bag of deceitful weights? [I Thess. 4:6.]

12 For the city's rich men are full of violence, and her inhabitants have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore I have also smitten you with a deadly wound and made you sick, laying you desolate, waste and deserted because of your sins.

14 You shall eat, but not be satisfied, and your emptiness and hunger shall remain in you; you shall carry away [goods and those you love], but fail to save them, and those you do deliver I will give to the sword.

15 You shall sow, but not reap; you shall tread olives, but not anoint yourselves with oil; and you shall [extract the] grape juice, but not drink the wine.

16 For the statutes of [idolatrous] Omri you have kept, and all the works of the house of [wicked] Ahab; and you walk in their counsels; that I may make you a desolation and an astonishment, and your city's inhabitants a hissing, and you shall bear the reproach and scorn of My people.

CHAPTER 7

WOE is me! For I am as when the summer fruits have been gathered, as when the vintage grapes have been gleaned, and there is no cluster to eat, no first-ripe fig for which my appetite craves.

2 The godly man has perished from the earth, and there is none upright among men; they all lie in wait for blood; each hunts his brother with a net.

3 Both their hands are put forth and are upon what is evil to do it diligently; the prince and the judge ask for a bribe, and the great man utters his evil desire. Thus they twist between them [the course of justice].

4 The best of them is like a brier; the most upright or the straightest is as a thorn hedge. The day of your watchmen, even of God's judgment and your punishment is come; now shall be their perplexity and confusion.

5 Trust not in a neighbor, put not confidence in a friend; keep the doors of your mouth from her who lies in your bosom. [Cf. Luke 12:51-53.]

6 For the son dishonors the father, the daughter rises up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house. [Matt. 10:21, 35, 36; Mark 13:12, 13.]

7 But as for me, I will look to the Lord and [confide] in Him I will keep watch; I will wait with hope and expectancy for the God of my salvation; my God will hear me.

8 Rejoice not against me, O my enemy; when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light to me.

9 I will bear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against Him, until He pleads my cause and executes judgment for me. He will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold His righteous deliverance. [Rom. 10:1-4; 11:23-27.]

10 Then my enemy will see it, and shame will cover her who said to me, Where is the Lord your God? My eyes will see my desire upon her; now she will be trodden down as the mire of the streets.

11 In the day that your walls are to be built — a day for building — in that day shall the boundary of Israel be far extended and the decree [against her] be far removed. [Amos 9:11; Isa. 33:17.]

12 In that day they will come to you from Assyria, and from the cities of Matzor [Egypt], and from Egypt even to the river [Euphrates], and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13 Yet shall the earth be desolate because of those who dwell in it, for the fruit of their doings.

14 Rule and feed Your people with Your rod and scepter, the flock of Your inheritance, who dwell alone in a forest in the midst of Carmel — a garden land; they shall feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.

15 As in the days of your coming forth from the land of Egypt I will show them marvelous things.

16 The nations shall see [God's deliverance] and be ashamed of all their might [which cannot be compared to His]. They shall lay their hands upon their mouths in consternation; their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall lick the dust like a serpent, like crawling things of the earth they shall come trembling out of their strongholds and close places; they shall turn and come with fear and dread to the Lord our God, and shall be afraid and stand in awe because of You, O Lord. [Jer. 33:9.]

18 Who is a God like You, Who forgives iniquity and passes over the transgression of the remnant of His heritage? He retains not His anger for ever, because He delights in mercy and loving-kindness.

19 He will again have compassion on us, He will subdue and tread under foot our iniquities. You will cast all our sins into the depths of the sea. [Ps. 103:12.]

20 You will show Your faithfulness and perform the sure promise to Jacob, and loving-kindness and mercy to Abraham, as You have sworn to our fathers from the days of old. [Luke 1:54, 55.]

THE BOOK OF NAHUM

CHAPTER 1

THE burden or oracle — the thing to be lifted up — concerning *Nineveh [the capital of Assyria]. The book of the vision of Nahum of Elkosh.

2 The Lord is a jealous God and avenging, the Lord avenges and He is full of wrath; the Lord takes vengeance on His adversaries and reserves wrath for His enemies. [Exod. 20:5.]

3 The Lord is slow to anger and great in power, and will by no means clear the guilty. The Lord has His way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of His feet. [Exod. 34:6, 7.]

4 He rebukes and threatens the sea and makes it dry, and dries up all the rivers. Bashan [on the east] and Mount Carmel [on the west] wither, and [in the north] the blossom of Lebanon fades.

5 The mountains tremble and quake before Him and the hills melt away, and the earth is upheaved at His presence, and the world and all that dwell in it.

6 Who can stand before His indignation? And who can stand up and endure the fierceness of His anger? His wrath is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken asunder by Him.

7 The Lord is good, a strength and

a) Under the preaching of Jonah, the king of Nineveh and all its people repented. They not only heard his startling report of the terrible experience which running away from obedience to God had cost him, but they were terrified at the evidence of the truth of his having been in the belly of the great fish. So the whole city turned to God. But when Nahum came to Nineveh some 150 years later, all that was forgotten, and the later generations had become hopelessly godless. God's wrath was not to be turned away this time. Jonah had been sent to preach "Repent!" But Nahum's one "burden — the thing to be lifted up" is that Nineveh is to be destroyed — utterly.

stronghold in the day of trouble; He knows — recognizes, has knowledge of and understands — those who take refuge and trust in Him. [Ps. 1:6; John 10:14, 27; Hos. 13:5.]

8 But with an boverrunning flood He will make a full end of [Nineveh's very] site and pursue His enemies into darkness.

9 What do you devise and [how mad is your attempt to] plot against the Lord? He will make a full end of Nineveh; affliction [which My people shall suffer from Assyria] shall not rise up the second time.

10 For [the Ninevites] are as bundles of thorn branches [for fuel], and even while drowned in their drunken [carousing] they shall be consumed like stubble fully dry [in the day of the Lord's wrath]. [Mal. 4:1.]

11 There is one gone forth out of you [O Nineveh] who plots evil against the Lord, a villainous counselor [Sennacherib?] — who counsels for wickedness and worthlessness. [II Kings 19:20-23; Isa. 10:5-7; 36:15-20.]

12 Thus says the Lord: Though they be in full strength and likewise many, even so shall [the Assyrians] be cut down when [their evil counselor] shall pass away. Though I have afflicted you [Jerusalem], I will not cause you to be afflicted [for your past sins] any more. [John 5:14; II Kings 19:35-37.]

13 For now will I break his yoke from off you, and will burst your bonds asunder. [Isa. 14:25.]

14 And the Lord has given a commandment concerning you, [evil Assyrian counselor,] that no more of your name shall be born or your name be perpetuated. Out of the house of your gods I will cut off the graven and molten images; I will make [their temple] your tomb, for you are vile and despised. [See Isa. 37:38.]

15 Behold upon the mountains the feet of him [who comes telling of the Assyrian's death] who brings good tidings, who publishes peace! Celebrate your feasts, O Judah, perform your vows, for the wicked counselor, [the king of Assyria,] shall no more come against you or pass through your land; he is utterly cut off. [Then the prophet Nahum sarcastically addresses his message to Nineveh:]

CHAPTER 2

HE who dashes in pieces [that is, the king of Medo-Babylon] is come up before your face [Nineveh]. Keep the fortress and ramparts manned; watch the road; gird your loins; collect and fortify all your strength and power mightily.

2 For the Lord restores the excellency of Jacob as the excellency of [ancient] Israel; for plunderers have plundered them and emptied them out, and [outrageously] destroyed their vine branches. [Isa. 10:12.]

3 The shield of the mighty men [of Media and Babylon] is died red; the valiant men are [clothed] in dyed scarlet; the chariots blaze with fire of steel on the day of his preparation [for battle], and the officers' horses prance like a cypress forest [reeling in the wind].

4 The chariots rage in confusion in the streets, they run to and fro [in wild terror] in the broad ways; they flash with steel — making them appear like torches; they rush [in various directions] like forked lightnings.

5 [The Assyrian leader] remembers and summons his bravest men; they stumble in their march; they hasten to the city's wall, and their movable defence shelter is prepared and set up.

6 The gates or dams of the rivers [surrounding and guarding Nineveh] are opened, and the imperial palace [of sun-

b) Countless authorities confirm the literal accuracy of this reference. Diodorus Siculus refers to a legend that Nineveh could never be taken until the river became its enemy. Arbaces the Scythian had besieged the city in vain for two years, but in the third year the river Khosr during a flood season carried away a considerable section of the very great wall, and through this opening the besiegers gained entrance. Nah. 2:6 refers to the devastating flood, and 3:13, 15 probably to the destruction of Nineveh by fire. The vivid descriptions of chapter 3 "are true to their records and their sculptures."

dried brick] is dissolved [by the torrents] and is in dismay.

7 It is decreed. [Its mistress] is stripped and removed, and her maids are lamenting and moaning like doves [softly for fear], beating upon their breasts — and hearts.

8 And Nineveh, like a standing pool are her waters, and [her inhabitants] are fleeing away! Stand! Stand firm! a few cry; but no one looks back or causes them to return.

9 Take the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold! For there is no end of the treasure, the glory and wealth of all the precious furnishings.

10 Emptiness! Desolation! Utter waste! Hearts faint and knees smite together, and anguish is in all loins, and the faces of all grow pale! [Isa. 13:7, 8.]

11 Where is the den of the lions, which was the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked, and the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid?

12 The lion tore in pieces enough for his whelps and strangled [prey] for his lionesses; he filled his caves with prey and his dens with what he had seized and carried off.

13 Behold, I am against you, [Nineveh,] says the Lord of hosts, and I will burn your chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour your young lions; and I will cut off your prey from the earth, and the voice of your messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAPTER 3

WOE to the bloody city! It is full of lies and booty, and there is no end to the plunder! [Ezek. 24:6, 9, 10; Hab. 2:12.]

2 The cracking of the whip, and the noise of the rattling of wheels, and prancing horses and chariots rumbling and bounding,

3 Horsemen mounting and charging, the flashing sword, the gleaming spear, a multitude of slain and a great number of corpses, no end of corpses! [The horsemen] stumble over the corpses!

4 All because of the multitude of the harlotries of [Nineveh,] the well-favored harlot, the mistress of deadly charms, who betrays and sells nations through her whoredoms [idolatry] and peoples through her enchantments.

5 Behold I am against you, says the Lord of hosts, and I will lift up your skirts over your face; and I will let the nations look on your nakedness, [O Nineveh,] and the kingdoms on your shame.

6 I will cast abominable things at you and make you filthy, treat you with contempt, and make you a gazing-stock.

7 And all who look on you will shrink and flee from you, and say, Nineveh is laid waste; who will pity and bemoan her? Where then shall I seek comforters for you?

8 Are you better than No-amon [Thebes, capital of Upper Egypt], that dwelt by the rivers or canals, that had the waters round about her, whose rampart was a sea — that is, the Nile — and water her wall?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and that without limit. Put and the Libyans were her helpers.

10 Yet she was carried away, she went into captivity. Her young children also were dashed in pieces at all the street corners, lots were cast [by the Assyrian officers] for her nobles, and all her great men were bound with chains.

11 You will be drunk [Nineveh, with the cup of God's wrath], you will be dazed, you will seek and require a refuge because of the enemy.

12 All your fortresses are fig trees with early figs; if they are shaken they will fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, your troops in the midst of you are [weak and helpless as] women; the gates of your land [without effort] are set wide open to your enemies; fire consumes your bars.

14 Draw for yourself the water

[necessary] for a [long continued] siege; make strong your fortresses; go down into the clay pits and trample the mortar; make ready the brickkiln [to burn bricks for the bulwarks]!

15 But there [in the very midst of these preparations] will the fire devour you; the sword will cut you off, it will destroy you as the locusts destroy. Multiply yourselves like the licking locusts, make yourselves many like the swarming locusts!

16 You increased your merchants more than the [visible] stars of the heavens. The swarming locust spreads itself and destroys, then flies away.

17 Your princes are like the grasshoppers, and your marshals like the swarms of locusts, which encamp in the hedges on a cold day, but when the sun rises they fly away, and no one knows where they are.

18 Your shepherds are asleep, O king of Assyria; your nobles are lying still [in death]; your people are scattered on the mountains, and there is no one to gather them.

19 There is no healing of your hurt, your wound is grievous. All who hear the news about you clap their hands over [what has happened to] you. For upon whom has not your [unceasing] evil come continually?

THE BOOK OF HABAKKUK

CHAPTER 1

THE burden or oracle, or that which is to be lifted up, which Habakkuk the prophet saw.

2 O Lord, how long shall I cry for help and You will not hear? Or cry out to You of violence, and You will not save?

3 Why do You show me iniquity and wrong, and Yourself look upon or cause me to see perverseness and trouble? For destruction and violence are before me, and there is strife, and contention arises.

4 Therefore the law is slackened, and justice and a righteous sentence never go forth; for the [hostility of the] wicked surrounds the [uncompromisingly] righteous, therefore justice goes forth perverted.

5 Look around [you, Habakkuk, replied the Lord] among the nations and see! And be astonished! Astounded! For I am putting into effect a work in your days that you would not believe it if it were told you. [Acts 13:40, 41.]

6 For behold! I am rousing up the Chaldeans, that bitter and impetuous nation, who march through the breadth of the earth, to take possession of dwelling places that do not belong to them. [II Kings 24:2.]

7 [The Chaldeans] are terrible and dreadful; their justice and dignity proceed only from themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter than leopards and are more fierce than the evening wolves, and their horsemen spread themselves and press on proudly; yes, their horsemen come from afar; they fly like an eagle that hastens to devour.

9 They all come for violence; their faces turn eagerly forward, and they gather prisoners together like sand.

10 They scoff at kings, and rulers are a derision to them; they ridicule every stronghold, for they heap up dust [for earth mounds] and take it.

11 Then they sweep by like a wind and pass on, and they load themselves with guilt, [as do all men] whose own power is their god.

12 Are not You from everlasting, O Lord my God, my Holy One? We shall not die. O Lord, You have appointed

[the Chaldean] to execute [Your] judgment, and You, O Rock, have established him for chastisement and correction. [Deut. 32:4.]

13 You are of purer eyes than to behold evil, and can not look [inactively] upon injustice. Why then do You look upon the plunderer? Why are you silent when the wicked one destroys him who is more righteous than he [the Chaldean oppressor] is?

14 Why do You make men like the fishes of the sea, like reptiles and creeping things that have no ruler [and are defenseless against their foes]?

15 He [the Chaldean] brings all of them up with his hook, he catches and drags them out with his net, he gathers them in his dragnet: so he rejoices and is in high spirits.

16 Therefore he sacrifices [offerings] to his net and burns incense to his dragnet, because from them he lives luxuriously and his food is plentiful and rich.

17 Shall he therefore continue to empty his net, and mercilessly go on slaying the nations for ever?

CHAPTER 2

[OH, I know, I have been rash to talk out plainly this way to God!] I will [in my thinking] stand upon my post of observation, and station myself on the tower or fortress, and will watch to see what He will say within me, and what answer I will make [as His mouth-piece] to the perplexities of my complaint against Him.

2 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and engrave it so plainly upon tablets that every one who passes may be able to read [it easily and quickly] as he hastens by.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, and it hastens to the end

a) There is a curious passage in the Talmud [the body of Jewish civil and religious law], which says that in the Law Moses gave six hundred injunctions to the Israelites. As these might prove too numerous to commit to memory, David brought them down to eleven in Psalm 15. Isaiah reduced these eleven to six in [his] chapter 33:15. Micah (6:8) further reduced them to three; and Isaiah (56:1) once more brought them down, to two. These two Amos (5:4) reduced to one. But lest it might be supposed from this that God could be found in the fulfillment of the law only, Habakkuk (2:4) said, "The just shall live by his faith." — William H. Saulez in The Romance of the Hebrew Language (1913).

b) The Dead Sea Scrolls read "wealth."

[fulfillment]; it will not deceive or disappoint. Though it tarry, wait [earnestly] for it; because it will surely come, it will not be behindhand on its appointed day. [Heb. 10:37, 38.]

4 Behold the proud; his soul is not straight or right within him; but the rigidly just and the uncompromisingly righteous man shall live by his faith and in his faithfulness. [Rom. 1:17; Gal. 3:11.]

5 Moreover, wine and wealth are treacherous; the proud man [the Chaldean invader] is restless and cannot stay at home. His appetite is large like that of Sheol and [his greed] is like death and cannot be satisfied; he gathers to himself all nations, and collects all people as if he owned them.

6 Shall not all these [victims of his greed] take up a taunt against him, and in scoffing derision of him say, Woe to him who piles up that which is not his! — how long [will he possess it?] And [woe to him] who loads himself with promissory notes for usury!

7 Shall [your debtors] not rise up suddenly who shall bite you, exacting usury of you, and those awake who will vex you — toss you to and fro and make you tremble violently? Then you will be booty for them.

8 Because you [king of Babylon] have plundered many nations, all who are left of the people shall plunder you, because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the earth, to the city and all the people who live in each city.

9 Woe to him who obtains wicked gain for his house, [who thinks by so doing] to set his nest on high, that he may be preserved from calamity and delivered from the power of evil!

10 You have devised shame to your house by cutting off and putting an end to many peoples, and you have sinned against and forfeited your own life.

11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall [built in sin, to accuse you], and the beam out of the woodwork will answer it [agreeing with its charge against you].

12 Woe to him who builds a town with blood, and establishes a city by iniquity!

13 Behold, is it not by appointment of the Lord of hosts that the nations toil only to satisfy the fire [that will consume their work], and the peoples weary themselves only for emptiness, falseness and futility?

14 But [the time is coming when] the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. [Isa. 11:9.]

15 Woe to him [who delays that day!] who gives his neighbors drink, who pours out your bottle to them and adds to it your poisonous and blighting wrath, and also makes them drunk, that you may look on their stripped condition and pour out foul shame [on their glory]!

16 You [yourself] will be filled with shame and contempt instead of glory. Drink also, and be as an uncircumcised [heathen]! The cup [of wrath] in the Lord's right hand will come around to you, O destroyer, and foul shame shall be upon your own glory! [Rev. 16:19.]

17 For the violence done to Lebanon will cover and overwhelm you; the destruction of the animals [which the violence frightened away] will terrify you, on account of men's blood and the violence done to the land, to the city and all its inhabitants.

18 What profit is the graven image when its maker has formed it? It is only a molten image and a teacher of lies. For the maker trusts in his own creations [as his gods] when he makes dumb idols.

19 Woe to him who says to the wooden image, Awake! and to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all inside it!

20 But the Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth hush and keep silence before Him. [Zeph. 1:7; Zech. 2:13.]

CHAPTER 3

A PRAYER of Habakkuk the prophet, set to wild, enthusiastic and triumphal music.

2 O Lord, I have heard the report of You, and was afraid. O Lord, revive Your work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make Yourself known! In wrath [earnestly] remember love, pity and mercy.

3 God [approaching from Sinai] came from Teman, [which represents Edom,] and the Holy One from Mount Paran [in the Sinai region]. Selah [stop and think calmly of that]! His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of His praise.

4 And His brightness was like the sunlight; rays streamed from His hand; and there [in the sun-like splendor] was the hiding place of His power.

5 Before Him went the pestilence [as in Egypt], and burning plague followed His feet [as in Sennacherib's army]. [Exod. 7:2-4; II Kings 19:32-35.]

6 He stood and measured the earth; He looked and shook the nations; and the eternal mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills bowed low; His ways are everlasting and His goings are of old.

7 I [Habakkuk, in vision] saw the tents of Cushan [probably Ethiopia] in affliction; the [tent] curtains of the land of Midian trembled.

8 Were You displeased with the rivers, O Lord? Or was Your anger against the rivers [You divided]? Was Your wrath against the Red Sea, that You rode before upon Your horses and Your chariots of victory and deliverance?

9 Your bow was made quite bare; sworn to the tribes [of Israel] by Your sure word were the rods of chastisement, scourges and calamities. Selah [stop and think calmly of that]! With rivers You cleaved the earth [bringing forth waters in dry places). [Cf. Exod. 17:6; Num. 20:11.]

10 The mountains saw You, they trembled and writhed as in pain; the overflowing of the water passed by [as at the deluge]; the deep uttered its voice and lifted its hands on high.

11 The sun and moon stood back [as before Joshua] in their habitation at the light of Your arrows as they sped, at the flash of Your glittering spear. [Josh. 10:12, 13.]

12 You marched through the land in indignation, You trampled and threshed the nations in anger.

13 You went forth and have come for the salvation of Your people, for the deliverance and victory of Your anointed [people Israel]; You smote the head of the house of the wicked, laying bare the foundation even to the neck. Selah [stop and calmly think of that]!

14 You pierced with his own arrows the head of [the enemy's] hordes; they came out as a whirlwind to scatter me [the people], rejoicing as if to devour the poor [Israel] secretly.

For the Chief Musician, with my stringed instruments.

15 You have trodden the sea with Your horses, [beside] the heap of great and surging waters. [Exod. 15:8.]

16 I heard, and my [whole inner self] trembled, my lips quivered at the sound. Rottenness enters into my bones and under me — down to my feet — I tremble. I will wait quietly for the day of trouble and distress, when there shall come up against [my] people him who is about to invade and oppress them.

17 Though the fig tree does not blossom, and there be no fruit on the vines; [though] the product of the olive fail, and the fields yield no food; though the flock be cut off from the fold, and there be no cattle in the stalls;

18 Yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will exult in the [victorious] God of my salvation! [Rom. 8:37.]

19 The Lord God is my strength, my personal bravery and my invincible army; He makes my feet like hinds' feet, and will make me to walk [not to stand still in terror, but to walk] and make [spiritual] progress upon my high places [of trouble, suffering or responsibility]!

THE BOOK OF ZEPHANIAH

CHAPTER 1

THE word of the Lord which came to Zephaniah the son of Cushi, son of Gedaliah, son of Amariah, son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah, king of Judah and son of Amon.

2 By taking away I will make an end and I will utterly consume and sweep away all things from the face of the earth, says the Lord.

3 I will consume and sweep away man and beast; I will consume and sweep away the birds of the air and the fish of the sea. I will overthrow the stumbling blocks — the idols — with the wicked [worshippers], and I will cut off mankind from the face of the earth, says the Lord.

4 I will also stretch out My hand over Judah, and over all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place and the name of the idol-priests with the [false] priests,

5 And those who worship the starry host of the heavens upon their house-tops, and those who [pretend to] worship the Lord and swear by and to Him and yet swear by and to [the heathen god Molech or] Malcam [their idol king],

6 And those who have drawn back from following the Lord, and those who have not sought the Lord nor inquired for, inquired of and required the Lord [as their first necessity].

7 [Hush!] Be silent before the Lord God, for the day [of the vengeance] of the Lord is near; for the Lord has prepared a sacrifice and He has set apart [for His use] those who have accepted His invitation. [Hab. 2:20.]

8 And on the day of the Lord's sacrifice, I will punish the officials and the king's sons and all who are clothed with [lavish] foreign apparel [instead of the Jewish dress with its reminders to obey God's commandments]. [Num. 15:38, 39.]

9 In the same day also will I punish all those who leap swiftly on or over the threshold [on entering houses to steal], who fill their master's house with violence and deceit and fraud.

10 And in that day, says the Lord, there shall be heard the voice of crying from the Fish Gate [in the wall of Jerusalem], and a wailing from the Second Quarter or Lower City, and a great crashing and sound of destruction from the hills.

11 Wail, you inhabitants of the Mortar [those located in the hollow part of the city]! For all the merchant people, like the people of Canaan, will be silent [entirely destroyed]; all those who weighed out silver and were loaded with it will be cut off.

12 And at that time I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and punish the men who [like old wine] are thickening and settling on their lees, who say in their heart, The Lord will not do good, nor will He do evil.

13 And their wealth shall become plunder, and their houses a desolation. Though they build houses, they shall not inhabit them; though they plant vineyards, they shall not drink the wine from them. [Deut. 28:30, 39; Amos 5:11, 12.]

14 The great day of the Lord is near, near and hastening fast. Hark! the voice of the day of the Lord! The mighty man [unable to fight or to flee] will cry then bitterly.

15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of distress and anguish, a day of ruin and devastation, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and thick darkness, [Jer. 30:7; Joel 2:11; Amos 5:18.]

16 A day of the blast of trumpet and battle cry against the fortified cities and against the high towers and battlements.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, so that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord; their blood shall be poured out like dust, and their flesh like dung.

18 Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's indignation and wrath. But the whole earth shall be consumed in the fire of His jealous wrath; for a full, yes, a sudden end will He make of all the inhabitants of the earth. [Cf. Luke 21:35, 36; I Thess. 4:15-17; John 14:3; Matt. 24:31.]

CHAPTER 2

COLLECT your thoughts, yes, unbend yourselves [in submission, and see if there is no sense of shame and no consciousness of sin left in you], O shameless nation — not desirous or desired!

2 [The time for repentance is speeding by like chaff whirled before the wind!] Therefore consider, before God's decree brings forth [the curse upon you], before the time [to repent] is gone like the drifting chaff, before the fierce anger of the Lord comes upon you, yes, before the day of the wrath of the Lord comes upon you!

3 Seek the Lord — inquire for Him, inquire of Him, and require Him [as the foremost necessity of your life] — all you humble of the land, who have acted in compliance with His revealed will and have kept His commandments; seek righteousness, seek humility — inquire for them, require them [as vital]. It may be you will be hidden in the day of the Lord's anger.

4 For [hear the fate of the Philistines:] Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon shall become a desolation; the people of Ashdod shall be driven out at noonday, and Ekron shall be uprooted.

5 Woe to the inhabitants of the seacoast, the nation of the Cherethites [in Philistia]! The word of the Lord is against you, O Canaan, land of the Philistines; I will destroy you until no inhabitant is left.

6 And the seacoast shall be pastures, with [deserted] dwelling places and caves for shepherds and folds for flocks.

7 The "seacoast shall belong to the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall pasture their flocks upon it; in the houses of [deserted Philistine] Ashkelon shall they of Judah lie down in the evening. For the Lord their [Judah's] God shall visit them [for their relief], and restore them from their captivity. [Isa. 14:29-31; Amos 1:6-8.]

8 I have heard the taunts of Moab and the revilings of the Ammonites by which they have reproached My people, and magnified themselves and made boasts against their territory.

9 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Moab shall become like Sodom, and the Ammonites like Gomorrah, a land possessed by nettles and wild vetches and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation. The remnant of My people shall make a prey of them, and what is left of My nation shall possess them.

10 This shall they have for their pride, because they have taunted and boasted against the people of the Lord of hosts.

11 The Lord will be terrible to them, for He will make lean and famish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship Him, every one from his place, even all the isles and coastlands of the nations. [Joel 2:11; Zeph. 1:4; 3:9.]

12 You Ethiopians also, you shall be slain by My sword. [Isa. 18.]

13 And [the Lord] will stretch out His hand against the north and destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh "a desolation, dry as the desert.

14 Herds shall lie down in the midst of [Nineveh], all the [wild] beasts of the nations and of every kind; both the pelican and the hedgehog shall lodge on the upper part of her [fallen] pillars; the voice [of the nesting bird] shall sing in the windows, desolation and drought shall be on the thresholds; for her cedar paneling will He lay bare.

15 This is the joyous and exultant city that dwelt carelessly — feeling so secure; that said in her heart, I am and there is none beside me. What a desolation she has become, a lair for wild beasts! Every one who passes by her shall hiss and wave his hand [indicating his gratification]. [Isa. 10:5-34; 47:8.]

CHAPTER 3

WOE to her that is rebellious and polluted, the oppressing city — Jerusalem!

2 She did not listen and heed the voice of God; she accepted no correction or instruction; she trusted not in the Lord — nor leaned on or was confident in Him [but in her own wealth]; she drew not near to her God [but to the god of Baal or Molech].

^{a)} This is one of the more than twenty-five details of Bible prophecy concerning the land of Palestine that have been literally fulfilled. Probability computers estimate that if a prophecy concerning a person, place or event has twenty-five details, there is one chance in more than thirty-three millions of its accidental fulfillment. And such prophecy must be (1) above possibility of human collusion; (2) beyond the ability of human calculation; (3) proof against human coincidence, and (4) above all possibility of human comprehension. What inconceivable omniscience was behind the writing of the Bible! Twenty-five details also concerning the betrayal, trial, death and burial of our Lord were fulfilled, fulfilled within twenty-four hours! And the fulfillment of the most remarkable prophecies of all time is scheduled in the Bible for the rapidly approaching future!

3 Her officials in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they gnaw not the bones on the morrow, for nothing is left by morning.

4 Her prophets are light — lacking truth, gravity and steadiness — and men of treachery; her priests have profaned the sanctuary; [defrauding God and man by pretending their own word is God's word] they have done violence to the law. [Jer. 23:11; Hos. 9:7; Ezek. 22:26.]

5 The Lord in the midst of her is [uncompromisingly] righteous; He will not do iniquity; every morning He brings His justice to light, He fails not; but the unjust person knows no shame.

6 I, [the Lord,] have cut off nations; their battlements and corner towers are desolate and in ruins; I laid their streets waste so that none passes over them; their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, there is no inhabitant.

7 I said, Only let her [reverently and worshipfully] fear Me, receive correction and instruction, and Jerusalem's dwelling shall not be cut off. However I have punished her — according to all that I have appointed concerning her in the way of punishment — but all the more they are eager to make all their doings corrupt and infamous.

8 Therefore [earnestly] wait for Me, says the Lord, waiting for the day when I rise up to the attack — as a witness [accuser, judge] and a testimony. For My decision and determination and right it is to gather the nations together, to assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them My indignation, even all [the heat of] My fierce anger; for [in that day] all the earth shall be consumed with the fire of My zeal and jealousy.

9 For then [changing their impure language] I will give to the people a clear and pure speech from pure lips, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve Him with one unanimous consent and one united shoulder [bearing the yoke of the Lord].

10 From beyond the rivers of Cush or Ethiopia those who pray to Me, the daughter of My dispersed people, will bring and present My offering.

11 In that day you [the congregation of Israel] shall not be put to shame for all your deeds by which you have rebelled and transgressed against Me; for then I will take away out of your midst those who exult in your majesty and pride, and you shall no more be haughty [and carry yourselves arrogantly on or] because of My holy mountain.

12 For I will leave in the midst of you a people afflicted and poor, and they shall [trust,] seek refuge [and be confident] in the name of the Lord.

13 What is left of Israel shall not do iniquity or speak lies, neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth; for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

14 Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel! Rejoice, be in high spirits and glory with all your heart, O daughter of Jerusalem [in that day].

15 [For then it will be that] the Lord has taken away the judgments against you, He has cast out your enemy; the King of Israel, even the Lord [Himself], is in the midst of you; [and after He has come to you] you shall not experience or fear evil any more.

16 In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear not, O Zion. Let not your hands sink down or be slow and listless.

17 The Lord your God is in the midst of you, a mighty One, a Savior — Who saves! He will rejoice over you with joy; He will rest [in silent satisfaction] and in His love He will be silent and make no mention [of past sins, or even recall them]; He will exult over you with singing.

18 I will gather those belonging to you [those Israelites in captivity] who yearn and grieve for the solemn assembly [and the festivals], on whom [their exile and inability to attend services at Jerusalem have brought derision and] the reproach of it is a burden.

19 Behold, at that time I will deal with all those who afflict you; I will save the limping and gather the outcasts, and will make them a praise and a name in every land of their shame. [Mic. 4:6, 7.]

20 At that time I will bring you in; yes, at that time I will gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all the nations of the earth, when I reverse your captivity before your eyes, says the Lord.

THE BOOK OF HAGGAI

CHAPTER 1

IN the second year of Darius the king [of Persia, successor to King Cyrus], in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came by means of Haggai the prophet [in Jerusalem after the Babylonian captivity] to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus says the Lord of hosts: This people say, The time is not yet come that the Lord's house should be rebuilt [although Cyrus had ordered it done sixteen years before; rebuilding of Jerusalem's walls had later been forbidden, but not so of the temple].

3 Then came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 Is it time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house [of the Lord] lies in ruins?

5 Now therefore thus says the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways [and set your mind on what has come to you].

6 You have sown much, but you have reaped little; you eat, but you do not have enough; you drink, but you do not have your fill; you clothe yourselves, but no one is warm; and he who earns wage has earned them to put them in a bag with holes in it.

7 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways [your previous and present conduct] and how you have fared.

8 Go up to the hill country and bring lumber and rebuild My house, and I will take pleasure in it and I will be glorified, says the Lord [by accepting it as done for My glory, and by displaying My glory in it].

9 You looked for much [harvest], and lo, it came to little: and even when you brought that home, I blew it away. Why? says the Lord of hosts. Because of My house which lies waste, while you yourselves run each man to his own house [eager to build and adorn it].

10 Therefore the heavens above you [for your sake] withhold the dew, and the earth withholds its produce.

11 And I have called for a drought upon the land and the hill country, upon the grain, the fresh fruit juice, the oil, upon what the ground brings forth, upon men and cattle, and upon all the [wearisome] toil of men's hands.

12 Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people [returned from captivity], listened to [and obeyed] the voice of the Lord their God [not vaguely or partly, but completely] according to the words of Haggai the prophet, since the Lord their God had sent him, and the people reverently feared and worshipfully turned to the Lord.

13 Then Haggai, the Lord's messenger, spoke the Lord's message to the people, saying, I am with you, says the Lord.

14 And the Lord aroused the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, so that they came and labored on the house of the Lord of hosts, their God, 15 On the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month.

CHAPTER 2

IN the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month, in the second year of Darius the king [of Persia, including the Chaldeans], came the word of the Lord by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remainder of the people, saying,

3 Who is left among you who saw this house in its former glory? And how do you see it now? Is not this in your sight as nothing in comparison to that?

4 Yet now be strong, alert and courageous, O Zerubbabel, says the Lord; be strong, alert and courageous, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, alert and courageous, all you people of the land, says the Lord, and work! For I am with you, says the Lord of hosts.

5 According to the promise that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, so My Spirit stands and abides in the midst of you; fear not.

6 For thus says the Lord of hosts: Yet once more, in a little while, I will shake and make tremble the [starry] heavens, the earth, the sea, and the dry land; [Heb. 12:26.]

7 And I will shake all nations, and the ^adesire and the precious things of all nations shall come in, and I will fill this house with splendor, says the Lord of hosts.

8 The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine, says the Lord of hosts.

9 The latter glory of this house [with its successor, to which Jesus came] shall be greater than the former, says the Lord of hosts; and in this place will I give peace and prosperity, says the Lord of hosts.

10 On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet,

11 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Ask now the priests to decide this question of law:

12 If one carries in the skirt of his garment flesh that is holy [because it has been offered in sacrifice to God], and with his skirt or the flaps of his garment he touches bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any kind of food, does what he touches become holy — dedicated to God's service exclusively? And the priests answered, No! [Holiness is not infectious.]

13 Then said Haggai, If one who is [ceremonially] unclean, because he has come in contact with a dead body, should touch any of these articles of

a) It is with great reluctance that we refrain from capitalizing the word "desire" here and making the phrase point directly to the Messiah, as has been the accepted interpretation through many centuries until modern times. But the verb "shall come" is plural, and, as many commentators agree, refers to the most desired treasures that all nations will bring as gifts to adorn the temple to which the Messiah will one day have come. Thus the Messianic reference of the prophecy is neither questioned nor obscured, but the picture presented is like that of the coming of the Magi to find the Babe of Bethlehem, the Desire of all of them; and when they found Him they fell down and worshiped Him, bringing Him their most desirable treasures, gold, frankincense and myrrh.

food, shall it be [ceremonially] unclean? And the priests answered, It shall be unclean. [Unholiness is infectious.]

14 Then answered Haggai, So is this people, and so is this nation before Me, says the Lord; and so is every work of their hands; and what they offer there [on the altar] is unclean [because they who offer it are themselves unclean].

15 And now I pray you, consider what will happen from this day onward. Since the time before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the Lord, how have you fared?

16 Through all that time [these things being so, the harvests have not fulfilled expectations, for] when one has gone expecting to find a heap [of sheaves] of twenty measures, there were but ten; when he has gone to the wine vat to draw out fifty bucketfuls from the press, there were only twenty.

17 I smote you with blight and with mildew and with hail in all [the products of] the labors of your hands; yet you returned not nor were converted to Me, says the Lord.

18 Consider, I pray you, from this day onward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's temple was *re*laid, consider this:

19 Is the harvested grain any longer in the barn? As to the grapevine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree, they have not yet borne. From this day on I will bless you.

20 And again the word of the Lord came to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Zerubbabel [the representative of the Davidic monarchy and covenant, and in direct line of the ancestry of Jesus Christ], governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth; [Hag. 1:1; Ezra 5:1-5; Zech. 4:6-10; Matt. 1:12, 13.]

22 And I will [in the distant future] overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the [ungodly] nations, and I will overthrow the chariots and those who ride in them, and the horses and their riders shall go down, every one by the sword of his brother. [Dan. 2:34, 35, 44, 45; Rev. 19:11-21.]

23 In that day, says the Lord of hosts, will I take you, O Zerubbabel, My servant, the son of Shealtiel, says the Lord, and will make you [through the Messiah, your descendant] My signet ring; for I have chosen you [with whom to renew My covenant to David's line], says the Lord of hosts. [II Sam. 7:12, 16.]

THE BOOK OF ZECHARIAH

CHAPTER 1

IN the eighth month, in the second year of the reign of Darius, came the word of the Lord to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying,

2 The Lord was very angry with your fathers.

3 Therefore say to them [the Jews of this day], Thus says the Lord of hosts: Return to Me, says the Lord of hosts, and I will return to you; it is the utterance of the Lord of hosts.

4 Be not as your fathers, to whom the former prophets cried, Thus says the Lord of hosts: Return now from your evil ways and your evil doings; but they would not hear or listen to Me, says the Lord.

5 Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But My words and My statutes, which I commanded My servants the prophets, did they not overtake and take hold of your fathers? So they repented and said, As the Lord of hosts planned and purposed to do to us, according to our ways and according to our doings, so has He dealt with us.

7 Upon the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month of Shebat, in the second year of the reign of Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet. Zechariah said,

8 I saw in the night [vision], and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in a low valley or bottom, and behind him there were horses, red, bay or flame-colored, and white.

9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel who talked with me said, I will show you what these are.

10 And the man who stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, These are they whom the Lord has sent to walk to and fro through the earth and patrol it.

11 And the men on the horses answered 'the Angel of the Lord Who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth (patrolling it), and behold, all the earth sits at rest — in peaceful security.

12 Then the Angel of the Lord said, O Lord of hosts, how long will You not have mercy and loving-kindness for Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, against which You have had indignation these seventy years [of the Babylonian captivity]?

13 And the Lord answered the angel who talked with me with gracious and comforting words.

14 So the angel who talked with me said to me, Cry out, Thus says the Lord of hosts: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very angry with the nations that are at ease; for while I was but a little displeased they helped forward the affliction and disaster.

16 Therefore, thus says the Lord: I have returned to Jerusalem with compassion (loving-kindness and mercies). My house shall be built in it, says the Lord of hosts, and a measuring line shall be stretched out over Jerusalem [with a view to rebuilding its walls].

17 Cry yet again saying, Thus says the Lord of hosts: My cities shall yet again overflow with prosperity, and the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 Then I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold four horns [symbols of strength].

19 And I said to the angel who talked with me, What are these? And he answered me, These are the horns [powers] which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 Then the Lord showed me four smiths or workmen [one for each enemy horn, to beat it down].

21 Then said I, What are these horns and smiths coming to do? And he said, These are the horns or powers that a) That the Angel of the Lord is an uncreated angel, distinguished from other angels, and in many places identified with the Lord God is undeniable (Gen. 16:7-10; 31:11-13; 32:25-31 compared with Hos. 12:3-5; Exod. 3:2-4; Judg. 6:11-22; Zech. 3:1, 2). On the other hand there are passages in which He seems to be distinguished from God the Father (Exod. 23:20-22; 32:34). The simplest way of reconciling these two classes is to adopt the old view that this Angel is Christ, the second person of the Godhead, even at that early period appearing as the revealer of the Father. — Lange's Commentary, adapted.

scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head. But these smiths or workmen have come to terrorize them and cause them to be panic-stricken, to cast out the horns or powers of the nations who lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

CHAPTER 2

AND I lifted up my eyes and saw, and behold, a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Where are you going? And he said to me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its breadth and what is its length.

3 And behold, the angel who talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,

4 And he said to the second angel, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited and dwell as villages without walls, because of the multitude of people and livestock in it.

5 For I, says the Lord, will be to her a wall of fire round about, and I will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 Ho! ho! Hear and flee from the land of the north, says the Lord, and from the four winds of the heavens, for to them have I scattered you, says the Lord.

7 Ho! Escape to Zion, you who dwell with the daughter of Babylon!

8 For thus said the Lord of hosts, after His glory had sent me [His messenger] to the nations who plundered you, for he who touches you touches the apple or pupil of His eye:

9 Behold, I will swing my hand over them and they shall become plunder for those who served them. Then you shall recognize and know that the Lord of hosts has sent me [His messenger].

10 Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion; for lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of you, says the Lord.

11 And many nations shall join themselves to the Lord in that day, and shall be My people. And I will dwell in the midst of you, and you shall know — recognize and understand — that the Lord of hosts has sent me [His messenger] to you. [Isa. 2:3; Mic. 4:2.]

12 And the Lord shall inherit Judah as His portion in the holy land, and shall again choose Jerusalem.

13 Be still, all flesh, before the Lord; for He is aroused and risen from His holy habitation. [Hab. 2:20; Zeph. 1:7.]

CHAPTER 3

THEN the guiding angel showed me Joshua the high priest standing before ^hthe Angel of the Lord, and Satan standing at Joshua's right hand to be his adversary and to accuse him.

2 And the Lord said to Satan, The Lord rebuke you, O Satan! Even the Lord Who now and habitually chooses Jerusalem, rebuke you! Is not this [returned captive Joshua] a brand plucked out of the fire? [Jude 9.]

3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and was standing before the Angel of the Lord.

4 And He spoke to those who stood before Him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And He said to Joshua, Behold, I have caused your iniquity to pass from you, and I will clothe you with rich apparel.

5 And I [Zechariah] said, Let them put a clean turban on his head. So they put a clean turban on his head, and clothed him with rich garments. And the Angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lord solemnly and earnestly protested and affirmed to Joshua, saying,

7 Thus says the Lord of hosts: If you will walk in My ways and keep My charge, then also you shall rule My house and have charge of My courts, and I will give you access [to My presence] and places to walk among these who stand here.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high

b) See footnote on chapter 1:11.

priest, you and your colleagues who [usually] sit before you; for they are men who are a sign or omen [types of what is to come]; for behold, I will bring forth My servant the Branch. [Isa. 4:2; Jer. 23:5; 33:15; Zech. 6:12.]

9 For behold, upon the stone which I have set before Joshua, upon that one stone are seven eyes or facets [the all-embracing providence of God and the sevenfold radiations of the Spirit of God]. Behold, I will carve upon it its inscription, says the Lord of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity and guilt of this land in a single day. [Zech. 4:10; II Chron. 16:9; Jer. 50:20.]

10 In that day, says the Lord of hosts, you shall invite each man his neighbor under his own vine and his own fig tree. [Mic. 4:1-4.]

CHAPTER 4

AND the angel who talked with me came again, and awakened me, like a man who is wakened out of his sleep.

2 And said to me, What do you see? I said, I see, and behold, a lampstand all of gold, with its bowl [for oil] on the top of it, and its seven lamps on it, and there are seven pipes to each of the seven lamps which are upon the top of it. [Rev. 1:20; Matt. 5:14, 16; Luke 12:35; Phil. 2:15.]

3 And there are two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side of it [feeding it continuously with oil]. [Rev. 11:4-13.]

4 So I asked the angel who talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 Then the angel who talked with me answered me, Do you not know what these are? And I said, No, my lord.

6 Then he said to me, This [addition of the bowl to the candlestick, causing it to yield a ceaseless supply of oil from the olive trees] is the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit [of Whom the oil is a symbol], says the Lord of hosts.

7 For who are you, O great mountain [of human obstacles]? Before Zerubbabel [who with Joshua had led the return of the exiles from Babylon and was undertaking the rebuilding of the temple, before him] you shall become a plain [a mere mole hill]! And he shall bring forth the finishing gable stone [of the new temple] with loud shoutings of the people, crying, Grace, grace to it!

8 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundations of this house; his hands shall also finish it. Then you shall know that the Lord of hosts has sent me [His messenger] to you.

10 Who [with reason] despises the day of small things? For these seven shall rejoice when they see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel. [These seven] are the eyes of the Lord which run to and fro throughout the whole earth. [Rev. 5:6.]

11 Then I said to him, What are these two olive trees on the right side of the lampstand and on the left side of it?

12 And a second time I said to him, What are these two olive branches which are beside the two golden tubes or spouts by which the golden oil is emptied out?

13 And he answered me, Do you not know what these are? And I said, No, my lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two sons of oil [Joshua the high priest and Zerubbabel the prince of Judah] — the two anointed ones — who stand before the Lord of the whole earth [as His anointed instruments]. [Rev. 11:4.]

CHAPTER 5

AGAIN I lifted up my eyes and behold, I saw a scroll flying or floating in the air!

2 And the angel said to me, What do you see? And I answered, I see a flying scroll; its length is twenty cubits or thirty feet, and its breadth is ten cubits or fifteen feet.

3 Then he said to me, This is the curse that goes out over the face of the whole land; for every one who steals shall be cut off from henceforth according to it [the curse written on this subject on the scroll]; and every one who swears falsely shall be cut off from henceforth according to it. [Isa. 24:6; Zech. 5:4; Mal. 3:8, 9.]

4 I will bring [the curse] forth, says the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him who swears falsely by My name; and it shall abide in the midst of his house and shall consume it, both its timber and its stones.

5 Then the angel who talked with me came forward and said to me, Lift up now your eyes and see what this is that goes forth.

6 And I said, What is it? — What does it symbolize? — And he said, This that goes forth is an ephah[-like vessel for separate grains all collected together]. This, he continued, is the symbol of the sinners mentioned above and is the resemblance of their iniquity throughout the whole land. [Amos 8:5.]

7 And behold, a round, flat weight of lead was lifted and there sat a woman in the midst of the ephah-like vessel.

8 And he said, This is lawlessness — wickedness! And he thrust her back into the ephah, and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth of it!

9 Then lifted I up my eyes, and looked, and behold, there were two women coming forward! The wind was in their wings, for they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the ephah[-like vessel] between the earth and the heavens.

10 Then said I to the angel who talked with me, Where are they taking the ephah?

11 And he said to me, To the land of Shinar [Babylonia] to build it a house, and when it is finished, to set up the ephah [the symbol of such sinners and their guilt] there upon its own base.

CHAPTER 6

AND again I lifted up my eyes and saw, and behold, four chariots came out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of firm, immovable bronze.

2 The first chariot had red or bay horses, the second chariot had black horses,

3 The third chariot had white horses, and the fourth chariot had dappled, active and strong horses.

4 Then I said to the angel who talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 And the angel answered me, These are the four winds or spirits of the heavens, which go forth from presenting themselves before the Lord of all the earth. [Ps. 104:4; Matt. 24:31.]

6 The chariot with the black horses is going forth into the north country, and the white ones are going forth after them [because there are two northern powers to be overcome], and the dappled ones are going forth toward the south country.

7 And [the chariot with] the strong, [red or bay horses] went forth and sought to go that they might patrol the earth. And [the Lord] said to them, Go, walk to and fro through the earth and patrol it. So they walked about through the earth, watching and protecting it.

8 Then He summoned me, and said to me, Behold, these that go toward the north country have quieted My Spirit [of wrath] and have caused it to rest in the north country.

9 And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

10 Accept donations and offerings from these [as representatives of the] exiles, from Heldai, from Tobijah, and from Jedaiah; and you come the same day and go to the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, where they have come from Babylon.

11 Yes, take from them silver and gold, and make crowns and set one upon the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest;

12 And say to him, Thus says the Lord of hosts: [You, Joshua] behold — look at, keep in sight, watch — the Man [the Messiah] whose name is the Branch; for He shall grow up in His place, and He shall build the [true] temple of the Lord. [Isa. 4:2; Jer. 23:5; 33:15; Zech. 3:8.]

13 Yes, [you are building a temple of the Lord, but] it is He Who shall build the [true] temple of the Lord, and He shall bear the honor and glory [as of the only begotten of the Father], and shall sit and rule upon His throne. And He shall be a priest upon His throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between the two [offices] [Priest and King]. [John 1:14; 17:5; Heb. 2:9.]

14 And the other crown shall be [credited] to Helem (Heldai), and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to the kindness and favor of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, and shall be in the temple of the Lord for a reminder and memorial. [Cf. verse 10; Matt. 10:41.]

15 And those who are far off shall come and help build the temple of the Lord, and you shall know that the Lord sent me [Zechariah] to you. And [your part in this] shall come to pass, if you will diligently obey the voice of the Lord your God.

CHAPTER 7

AND in the fourth year of the reign of King Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month, Chisleu.

2 Now the people of Bethel had sent Sharezer and Regemmelech and their men, to pray and entreat the favor of the Lord,

3 And to speak to the priests of the house of the Lord of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, [Now that I am returned from exile] should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years [in Babylonia]?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hosts to me [Zechariah], saying,

5 Speak to all the people of the land and to the priests, saying, When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh months, even those seventy years you were in exile, was it for Me that you fasted, for Me?

6 And when you eat and when you drink, do you not eat for yourselves and drink for yourselves?

7 Should you not hear the words which the Lord cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, with her cities round about her, and the South and the lowlands were inhabited?

8 And the word of the Lord came to Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus has the Lord of hosts spoken: Execute true judgment, and show mercy and kindness and tender compassion every man to his brother;

10 And oppress not the widow, or the fatherless, the temporary resident, or the poor; and let none of you devise or imagine or think evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to listen, and turned a rebellious and stubborn shoulder, and made heavy and dull their ears that they might not hear.

12 Yes, they made their hearts as an adamant stone or diamond point, lest they should hear the law and the words which the Lord of hosts had sent by His Spirit through the former prophets. Therefore there came great wrath from the Lord of hosts.

13 So it came to pass that as He cried and they would not hear, He said,

So they shall cry and I will not answer, says the Lord of hosts, 14 But I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they know not and who know not them. Thus the land was desolate after they had gone, so that no man passed through or returned; for they [the Jews by their sins] had caused to be laid waste and forsaken the pleasant land — the land of desire.

CHAPTER 8

AND the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus says the Lord of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath [against her enemies].

3 Thus says the Lord: I shall return to Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called the (faithful) city of truth, and the mountain of the Lord of hosts, the holy mountain.

4 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Old men and old women shall again dwell in Jerusalem and sit out in the streets, every man with his staff in his hand for very advanced age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in its streets.

6 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Because it will be marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days [in which it comes to pass], should it also be marvelous in My eyes? says the Lord of hosts. [Luke 18:27.]

7 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Behold, I will save My people from the east country, and from the west — the country of the going down of the sun. [Cf. Isa. 43:5, 6.]

8 And I will bring them [home], and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God, in truth and faithfulness and in righteousness.

9 Thus says the Lord of hosts: Let your hands be strong and hardened, you who in these days hear these words from the mouth of the prophets, who on the day that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hosts was laid, foretold that the temple should be rebuilt.

10 For before those days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace or success to him who went out or came in, because of the adversary and oppressor; for I set — let loose — all men every one against his neighbor.

11 But now [in this period since you began to build] I am not to the remnant of this people as in the former days, says the Lord of hosts.

12 For there shall be the seed sowing of peace and prosperity; the vine shall yield her fruit, and the ground shall give its increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit and possess all these things.

13 And as you have been a curse and a byword among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you and you shall be a blessing. Fear not, but let your hands be strong and hardened. [Jer. 22:8, 9.]

14 For thus says the Lord of hosts: As I thought to bring calamity upon you, when your fathers provoked Me to wrath, says the Lord of hosts, and I did not relent or revoke your sentence, 15 So again have I purposed in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Fear not!

16 These are the things that you shall do: speak every man the truth with his neighbor; render the truth, and pronounce the judgment or verdict that makes for peace in [the courts at] your gates. [Eph. 4:25.]

17 And let none of you think or imagine or devise evil or injury in your hearts against his neighbor, and love no false oath, for all these things I hate, says the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me [Zechariah], saying,

19 Thus says the Lord of hosts: The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah times of joy and gladness, and cheerful appointed seasons; therefore [in order that this may happen to you, as the condition of fulfilling the promise] love truth and peace.

20 Thus says the Lord of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come [to Jerusalem] peoples and the inhabitants of many and great cities;

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to them of another, saying, Let us go speedily to pray and entreat the favor of the Lord, and to seek, inquire of and require [to meet our own most essential need] the Lord of hosts. I will go also.

22 Yes, many people and strong nations shall come to Jerusalem to seek, inquire of and require [to fill their own urgent need] the Lord of hosts, and to pray to the Lord for His favor.

23 Thus says the Lord of hosts: In those days ten men, out of all languages of the nations, shall take hold of the robe of him who is a Jew, saying, Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.

CHAPTER 9

THE burden or oracle — the thing to be lifted up — of the word of the Lord is against the land of Hadrach [in Syria], and Damascus shall be its resting place, for the Lord has an eye upon mankind as upon all the tribes of Israel;

2 And Hamath also which borders on [Damascus], Tyre with Sidon, though they are very wise.

3 And Tyre has built herself a stronghold [on an island, a half mile from the shore, which seems impregnable], and heaped up silver like dust, and fine gold like the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord will cast her out and dispossess her; He will smite her power in the sea and into it, and [Tyre] shall be devoured by fire.

5 [The strong cities of Philistia] shall see it, and fear; Ashkelon, Gaza also, and be sorely pained; and Ekron, for her confidence and expectation shall be put to shame; and a king [monarchical government] shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a mongrel people shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will put an end to the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take out of [the Philistine's] mouth and from between his teeth the abominable idolatrous sacrifices eaten with the blood. And he too shall remain and be a remnant for our God, and he shall be as a chieftain — the head over a thousand — in Judah, and Ekron shall be like one of the Jebusites [who at last were merged and had lost their identity in Israel].

8 Then I will encamp about My house as a guard or a garrison, so that none shall march back and forth; and no oppressor or demanding collector shall again over-run them, for now My eyes are upon them.

9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Lo, your King comes to you; He is [uncompromisingly] just, and

c) Tyre was utterly destroyed by Alexander the Great and has never been rebuilt. History records that after he had slain everyone except those who had fled to the temples, Alexander ordered the houses to be set afire. Yet Sidon, Tyre's sister city (verse 2), though meeting with many adversities, has survived and kept her identity (modern Saida) for an estimated 4000 years (cf. Gen. 10:15, 19). How did Zechariah know that it was Tyre, not Sidon, that was to be permanently destroyed? Ezekiel wrote of Tyre, after telling the details of her destruction, "You shall be built no more; for I the Lord have spoken it, says the Lord God" (Ezek. 26:3-14).

d) Ashkelon was one of the five strong, leading Philistine cities, Gath and Ashdod being the ones not named here. It was the birthplace of Herod the Great, and his sister Salome lived there, centuries after this period. It was not until 1270 A.D. that Zechariah's prophecy of its total destruction was fulfilled, when the Sultan Bibars reduced it to ruins and filled the harbor with stones. Nearly 700 years later the city is still uninhabited, and the seacoast has been and continues to be the site of "dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks" (Zeph. 2:6).

having salvation — triumphant and victorious; patient, meek, lowly and riding on a donkey, upon a colt, the foal of a donkey. [John 12:14, 15.]

10 And I will cut off and exterminate the war chariot from Ephraim, and the war horse from Jerusalem, and the battle-bow shall be cut off; and He shall speak the word and peace shall come to the nations, and His dominion shall be from the Mediterranean Sea to any other sea, and from the River Euphrates to the ends of the earth! [Ps. 72:8.]

11 As for you also, because of and for the sake of the [covenant of the Lord with His people which was sealed with sprinkled] covenant blood, I have released and sent forth your imprisoned people out of the waterless pit. [Exod. 24:4-8; Gen. 37:24; Heb. 9:16.]

12 Turn you to the stronghold [of security and prosperity], you prisoners of hope; even today do I declare that I will restore double your former prosperity to you. [Ps. 40:2; Isa. 40:2.]

13 For I have bent Judah for me as My bow, filled the bow with Ephraim as My arrow, and will stir up your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O Greece, and will make you [Israel] as the sword of a mighty man.

14 And the Lord shall be seen over them, and His arrow shall go forth as the lightning; and the Lord God will blow the trumpet, and will go forth in the windstorms of the south.

15 The Lord of hosts shall defend and protect them; and they shall devour and they shall tread on their fallen enemies as on sling stones [that have missed their aim], and they shall drink [of victory] and be noisy and turbulent as from wine, and become full like bowls [used to catch the sacrificial blood], like the corners of the [sacrificial] altar.

16 And the Lord their God will save them on that day as the flock of His people, for they shall be as the [precious] jewels of a crown, lifted high over and shining glitteringly upon His land.

17 For how great is God's goodness and how great is His beauty! And how great [He will make] Israel's goodness and Israel's beauty! Grain shall make the young men thrive, and fresh wine the maidens.

CHAPTER 10

ASK of the Lord rain in the time of the latter or spring rain. It is the Lord Who makes lightnings, which usher in the rain and give men showers of it, to every one grass in the field.

2 For the teraphim [household idols] have spoken vanity — emptiness, falsity and futility — and the diviners have seen a lie and the dreamers have told false dreams; they comfort in vain. Therefore the people go their way like sheep, they are afflicted and hurt because there is no shepherd.

3 My anger is kindled against the shepherds [who are not true shepherds], and I will punish the goat-leaders; for the Lord of hosts has visited His flock, the house of Judah, and will make them as His beautiful and majestic horse in the battle.

4 Out of him [Judah] shall come forth the cornerstone, out of him the tent peg, out of him the battle bow; every ruler shall proceed from him. [Jer. 30:21.]

5 And they shall be as mighty men, treading down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them, and the [oppressor's] riders on horses shall be confounded and put to shame.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph [Ephraim]. I will bring them back and cause them to dwell securely; for I have mercy, loving-kindness and compassion for them. They shall be as though I had not cast them off, for I am the Lord their God, and I will hear them.

7 Then Ephraim [the ten tribes] shall become like a mighty warrior, and their hearts shall rejoice as through wine; yes, their children shall see it and rejoice; their hearts shall feel great delight and glory triumphantly in the Lord!

8 I will hiss for them [as the keeper does for his bees] and gather them in, for I have redeemed them, and they shall increase again as they have increased before [in Egypt]. [Ezek. 36: 10, 11.]

9 And though I sow them among the nations, yet they shall [earnestly] remember Me in far countries, and with their children they shall live and shall return [to God and the land He gave them].

10 I will bring them [all Israel] home again from the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land [on the east and on the west of Jordan, into] Gilead and Lebanon; and room enough shall not be found for them.

11 And the Lord will pass through the sea of distress and affliction [at the head of His people, as He did at the Red Sea] and He will smite down the waves of the sea, and all the depths of the river Nile shall be dried up and put to shame; and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the scepter or rod [of the taskmasters of Egypt] shall pass away.

12 And I will strengthen Israel in the Lord, and they shall walk up and down and glory in His name, says the Lord.

CHAPTER 11

OPEN your doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour your cedars!

2 Wail, O fir tree and cypress, for the cedar has fallen; because the glorious and lofty trees are laid waste! Wail, O you oaks of Bashan, for the thick and inaccessible forest [on the steep mountain side] has in flames been felled.

3 A voice of the wailing of the shepherds! For their glory, the broad pasturage, is laid waste! A voice of the roaring of young lions! For the pride of the Jordan [the jungle or thickets] is ruined!

4 Thus says the Lord my God: Shepherd the flock destined for slaughter, 5 Whose buyers or possessors slay them and hold themselves not guilty; and they who sell them say, Blessed be the Lord, for I have become rich! And their own shepherds neither pity nor spare them [from the wolves].

6 For I will no more pity or spare the inhabitants of the land, says the Lord; but lo, I will deliver every man into his neighbor's hand, and into the hand of his foreign king. And the enemy shall lay waste the land, and I will not deliver the people out of the hand [of the foreign oppressor].

7 So I [Zechariah] shepherded the flock of slaughter, truly [as the name implies] the most miserable of sheep. And I took two shepherd's staffs, the one I called Beauty or Grace, and the other I called Bands or Union; and I fed and shepherded the flock.

8 And I cut off the three shepherds [the civil authorities, the priests and the prophets] in one month, for I was weary and impatient with them, and they also loathed me. [Jer. 2:8, 26; 18:18.]

9 So I [Zechariah] said, I will not be your shepherd. What is to die, let it die, and what is to be destroyed, let it be destroyed; and let the survivors devour one another's flesh.

10 And I took my staff Beauty or Grace, and broke it in pieces, to show that I was annulling the covenant or agreement which I had made with all the peoples [not to molest them].

11 So the covenant was annulled on that day, and thus the most wretched of the flock and the traffickers in the sheep, who were watching me, knew — recognized and understood — that it was truly the word of the Lord.

12 And I said to them, If it seems just and right to you, give me my wages; but if not, withhold them. So they weighed out for my price thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the Lord said to me, Cast it to the potter [as if He said, To the dogs!], the munificently miserable sum at which I [and My shepherd] am priced by them! And I [Zechariah] took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord. [Matt. 26:14, 15; 27: 3-10.]

14 Then I broke into pieces my other staff, Bands or Union, indicating that I was annulling the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the Lord said to me, Take up once more the implements [the staff and rod of a shepherd, but this time] of a worthless and wicked shepherd. [Ezek. 34:2-6.]

16 For lo, I raise up a false shepherd in the land; the lost and perishing he will not miss or visit, the young and scattered he will not go to seek, the wounded and broken he will not heal, nor will he feed those that are sound and strong; but he will eat the flesh of the fat ones and break off their hoofs [to consume all the flesh].

17 Woe to the worthless and foolish shepherd who deserts the flock! The sword shall smite his arm and his right eye; his arm shall be utterly withered and his right eye utterly blinded. [Jer. 23:1; John 10:12, 13.]

CHAPTER 12

THE burden or oracle — the thing to be lifted up — of the word of the Lord concerning Israel. Thus says the Lord, Who stretches out the heavens and lays the foundation of the earth and forms the spirit of man within him:

2 Behold, I am about to make Jerusalem a cup or bowl of reeling to all the peoples round about, and against and upon Judah also it will be in the siege against Jerusalem.

3 And in that day I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all peoples; all who lift it or burden themselves with it shall be sorely wounded. And all the nations of the earth shall come and gather together against it.

4 In that day, says the Lord, I will smite every horse [of the armies that contend against Jerusalem] with terror and panic, and his rider with madness; and I will open My eyes and regard with favor the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the opposing nations with blindness.

5 And the chiefs of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the Lord of hosts their God.

6 In that day will I make the chiefs of Judah like a big, blazing pot among sticks of wood and like a flaming torch among sheaves of grain; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left; and they of Jerusalem shall yet again dwell and sit securely in their own place, in Jerusalem.

7 And the Lord shall save and give victory to the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem may not be magnified and exalted above Judah.

8 In that day will the Lord guard and defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he who is [spiritually] feeble and stumbles among them in that day [of persecution] shall become [strong and noble] like David; and the house of David [shall maintain its supremacy] like God, like the "Angel of the Lord Who is before them.

9 And it shall be in that day, that I will make it My aim to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour out upon the house of David and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Spirit of grace or unmerited favor, and supplication. And they shall look [earnestly] upon Me Whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for Him as one mourns for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for Him as one who is in bitterness for his first-born. [John 19:37; Rev. 1:7.]

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of the city of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddo [over beloved King Josiah, who was mortally wounded at thirty-nine, and for whom the people's grief was extraordinarily deep. Like that will be the mourning of Israel, when they recognize as their once crucified Messiah Him Who has come to reign]. [II Chron. 35:22-25.]

12 And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the [kingly] family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan [David's son] apart, and their wives apart;

13 The [priestly] family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of Shimei [grandson of Levi] apart, and their wives apart;

14 All the families that are left, each by itself, and their wives by themselves [each with an overwhelming individual sorrow over having blindly rejected their unrecognized Messiah].

CHAPTER 13

IN that day there shall be a fountain opened for the house of David and for the inhabitants of Jerusalem to cleanse them from sin and uncleanness.

2 And in that day, says the Lord of hosts, I will cut off the names of the idols from the land, and they shall no more be remembered; and also I will remove from the land the false prophets and the unclean spirit.

3 And if any one again appears falsely as a prophet, then his father and his mother who bore him shall say to him, Yehou shall not live, for you speak lies in the name of the Lord; and his father and his mother who bore him shall thrust him through when he prophesies.

4 And in that day the false prophets shall every one be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies. Nor will he wear a hairy or rough garment to deceive,

5 But he will [deny his identity and] say, I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground, for I have been made a bond servant from my youth.

6 And one shall say to him, What are these wounds on your breast — between your hands? Then he will answer, Those with which I was wounded [when disciplined] in the house of my (loving) friends.

7 Awake, O sword, against My shepherd, and against the man who is My associate, says the Lord of hosts; smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered; and I will turn back My hand and stretch it out again upon the little ones of the flock. [Matt. 26:31, 32.]

8 And in all the land, says the Lord, two thirds shall be cut off and perish, but one third shall be left alive. [Hos. 2:23; Rom. 11:5]

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, and I will hear and answer them. I will say, It is My people; and they will say, The Lord is my God.

CHAPTER 14

BEHOLD, a day of the Lord is coming, when the spoil [taken from you] shall be divided [among the victors] in the midst of you.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle, and the city shall be taken and the houses rifled and the women ravished, and half of the city shall go into exile, but the rest of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the Lord go forth and fight against those nations, as when He fought in the day of battle.

4 And His feet shall stand in that day upon the Mount of Olives, which lies before Jerusalem on the east, and the Mount of Olives shall be split in two from the east to the west by a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south. [Isa. 64:1, 2.]

5 And you shall flee by the valley of My mountains, for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azal, and you shall flee as you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the Lord my [Zechariah's] 'God shall come, and all the holy ones [saints and angels] with Him. [Amos 1:1; Jude 14, 15; Col. 3:4; I Thess. 4:14; Matt. 25:31.]

6 And it shall come to pass in that day that there shall not be light; the glorious and bright ones [the heavenly bodies] shall be darkened.

7 But it shall be one continuous day, known to the Lord, not day and not night, but at evening time there shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem, half of them to the eastern [Dead] Sea, and half of them to the western [Mediterranean] Sea; in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the Lord shall be King over all the earth; in that day the Lord shall be one [in the recognition and worship of men] and His name one.

10 All the land shall be turned into a plain from Geba to Rimmon, [the Rimmon that is] south of Jerusalem. But Jerusalem shall remain lifted up on its site and dwell in its place, from Benjamin's gate to the place of the former gate, to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananeel to the king's wine presses.

11 And it shall be inhabited, for there shall be no more curse or ban of utter destruction; but Jerusalem shall dwell securely. [Rev. 22:3.]

12 And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the peoples that have warred against Jerusalem: their flesh shall rot away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall corrode away in their sockets, and their tongue shall decay away in their mouth.

13 And in that day there shall be a great confusion, discomfiture and panic among them from the Lord, and they shall seize each his neighbor's hand, and the hand of the one shall be raised against the hand of the other.

14 And Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

15 And as that plague on men, so shall be the plague on the horse, on the mule, on the camel, on the donkey, and on all the livestock and beasts that may be in those camps.

16 And every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles or booths.

17 And it shall be, that whoso of the families of the earth shall not go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, upon them there shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt do not go up to Jerusalem and present themselves, upon them there shall be no rain, but there shall be the plague with which the Lord will smite the na-

f) The second advent of Christ is the coming of GOD to earth, hence the emphasis placed upon it in the Scriptures. It is heralded not just once, but many times, plainly, without opportunity for misinterpretation; such as in Deut. 30:3; Zech. 14:3, 4; Matt. 16:27; 24:3-14, 27, 36-39; 25:31, 32; 26:64; Luke 21:25-28; Acts 1:9-11; I Cor. 1:7, 8; 4:5; I Tim. 6:14; II Tim. 4:1; Titus 2:13; Heb. 9:28; I John 2:28; Rev. 3:11; 16:15; 22:7, 20.

tions that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the consequent punishment of the sin of Egypt, and the consequent punishment of the sin of all the nations that do not go up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 In that day there shall be [written] upon the [little] bells on the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be holy to the Lord like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yes, every pot in all the houses of Jerusalem and in Judah shall be dedicated and holy to the Lord of hosts; and all who sacrifice may come and take of them and boil their sacrifices in them [and traders in such wares will no longer be seen at the temple]. And in that day, there shall be no more a Canaanite [that is, any godless or unclean person, whether Jew or Gentile] in the house of the Lord of hosts. [Eph. 2:19-22.]

THE BOOK OF MALACHI

CHAPTER 1

THE burden or oracle or the thing to be lifted up of the word of the Lord to Israel by Malachi — My messenger.

2 I have loved you, says the Lord. Yet you say, In what and how have You loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? says the Lord; yet I loved Jacob (Israel),

3 But [in comparison with the degree of love I have for Jacob] I have hated Esau [Edom], and have laid waste his mountains, and his heritage I have given to the jackals of the wilderness. [Rom. 9:13, 16.]

4 Though [impoverished] Edom should say, We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places, says the Lord of hosts, They may build, but I will tear and throw down, and men will call them the wicked country, the people against whom the Lord has indignation for ever.

5 Your own eyes shall see this, and you shall say, The Lord is great and will be magnified over and beyond the border of Israel! [Isa. 34; 63:1-6; Jer. 49:7-22; Ezek. 25:12-14; Obad. 1.]

6 A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If then I am a father, where is My honor? And if I am a master, where is the [reverent] fear due Me? says the Lord of hosts to you, O priests, who despise My name. You say, How and in what have we despised Your name?

7 By offering polluted food upon My altar. And you ask, How have we polluted it and profaned You? By thinking that the table of the Lord is contemptible and may be despised.

8 When you priests offer blind [animals] for sacrifice, is it no evil? And when you offer the lame and the sick, is it no evil? Present such a thing — a blind or lame or sick animal — now to your governor [in payment of your taxes, and see what will happen]. Will he be pleased with you? Or will he receive you graciously? says the Lord of hosts.

9 Now then, I [Malachi] beg of you priests, entreat God earnestly that He will be gracious to us. With such a gift from your hand [as a defective animal for sacrifice], will He accept it or show favor to any of you? says the Lord of hosts.

10 Oh, that there were one among even you [whose duty it is to minister to Me] who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire on My altar to no purpose [an empty, futile, fruitless pretense]! I have no pleasure in you, says the Lord of hosts, nor will I accept an offering from your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sun to its setting My name shall be great among the nations, and in every place incense shall be offered to My name, and indeed a pure offering; for My name shall be great among the nations, says the Lord of hosts.

12 But you priests profane it, when [by your actions] you say, The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruit of it, its food, is contemptible and may be despised.

13 You say also, Behold, what a drudgery and weariness this is! And you have sniffed at it, says the Lord of hosts. And you have brought that which was "taken by violence, or the lame, or the sick. This you bring as an offering! Shall I accept this from your hand? says the Lord.

14 But cursed be the [cheating] deceiver who has a male in his flock, and vows to offer it, yet sacrifices to the [sovereign] Lord a blemished or diseased thing! For I am a great King, says the Lord of hosts, and My name is terrible and to be [reverently] feared among the nations.

CHAPTER 2

AND now, O you priests, this commandment is for you.

2 If you will not hear, and if you will not lay it to heart to give glory to My name, says the Lord of hosts, then I will send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; yes, I have already turned them to curses, because you do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will rebuke your seed [grain to prevent due harvest, and instead of "shoulder, cheeks and stomach from the festival offerings], I will give you the dung, spread upon your faces, and you shall be taken away with it.

4 And you shall recognize and understand that I have sent this [new] decree to you priests, to be My [new] covenant with Levi [the priestly tribe], says the Lord of hosts.

5 My covenant [on My part] with Levi was to give him life and peace; because [on his part] of the reverent and worshipful fear with which the priests would revere Me and stand in awe of My name.

6 The law of truth was in Levi's mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips; he walked with Me in peace and uprightness, and turned many away from iniquity.

7 For the priest's lips should guard and keep pure the knowledge [of My law], and the people should seek — inquire for and require — instruction at his mouth; for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts.

8 But you have turned aside out of the way; you have caused many to stumble by your instruction [in the law]; you have corrupted the covenant of Levi [with Me], says the Lord of hosts.

9 Therefore have I also made you despised and abased before all the people, inasmuch as you have not kept My ways, but have shown favoritism to persons in your administration of the law [of God].

10 Have we not all one Father? Has not one God created us? Why then do we deal faithlessly and treacherously each against his brother, profaning the covenant of God with our fathers?

11 Judah has been faithless and dealt treacherously, and an abomination has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah [that is, Jewish men] has profaned the holy sanctuary of the Lord, which He loves, and has married the daughter of a foreign god

■ Exod. 22:31, "You shall not eat any flesh that is torn by beasts in the field; you shall cast it to the dogs."
 ■ The edible portions of the sacrificed animals were the pay for the work of the priests (Deut. 18:3).

[having divorced his Jewish wife]. [Ezra 9:2; Jer. 2:3.]

12 The Lord will cast out of the tents of Jacob to the last man those who do this [evil thing, the master] and [the pupil or] servant alike, and him who brings an offering to the Lord of hosts.

13 And this you do with double guilt; you cover the altar of the Lord with tears [shed by your unoffending wives, divorced by you that you might take heathen wives], and with your own weeping and crying out because the Lord does not regard your offering any more or accept it with favor at your hand.

14 Yet you ask, Why does He reject it? Because the Lord was witness [to the covenant made at your marriage] between you and the wife of your youth, against whom you have dealt treacherously and to whom you were faithless. Yet she is your companion and the wife of your covenant [made by your marriage vows].

15 And did not God make [you and your wife] one [flesh]? Did not One make you and preserve your spirit alive? And why did God make you two one? Because He sought a godly offspring [from your union]. Therefore take heed to yourselves, and let no one deal treacherously and be faithless to the wife of his youth.

16 For the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I hate divorce and marital separation, and him who covers his garment [his wife] with violence. Therefore keep a watch upon your spirit [that it may be controlled by My Spirit], that you deal not treacherously and faithlessly [with your marriage mate].

17 You have wearied the Lord with your words. Yet you say, In what way have we wearied Him? [You do it when by your actions] you say, Every one who does evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and He delights in them.

Or [by asking], Where is the God of justice?

CHAPTER 3

BEHOLD, I send My messenger, and he shall prepare the way before Me. And the Lord, the Messiah, Whom you seek will suddenly come to His temple; the Messenger or Angel of the covenant Whom you desire, behold, He shall come, says the Lord of hosts. [Matt. 11:10; Luke 1:13-17, 76.]

2 But who can endure the day of His coming? And who can stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap; [Rev. 6:12-17.]

3 He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; and He will purify the priests, the sons of Levi, and refine them like gold and silver, that they may offer to the Lord offerings in righteousness.

4 Then will the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasing to the Lord as in the days of old and as in ancient years.

5 Then I will draw near to you for judgment; I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against the false swearers, and against those who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, and who turn aside the temporary resident from his right, and fear not Me, says the Lord of hosts.

6 For I am the Lord, I do not change; that is why you, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

7 Even from the days of your fathers you have turned aside from My ordinances and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you, says the Lord of hosts. But you say, How shall we return?

8 Will a man rob or defraud God? Yet you rob and defraud Me. But you say, In what way do we rob or defraud You? You have withheld your tithes and offerings.

9 You are cursed with the curse; for you are robbing Me, even this whole nation. [Lev. 26:14-17.]

10 Bring all the tithes — the whole tenth of your income — into the storehouse, that there may be food in My house, and prove Me now by it, says the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of Heaven for you and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. [Mal. 2:2.]

11 And I will rebuke the devourer [insects and plagues] for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine drop its fruit before the time in the field, says the Lord of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you happy and blessed; for you shall be a land of delight, says the Lord of hosts.

13 Your words have been strong and hard against Me, says the Lord. Yet you say, What have we spoken against You?

14 You have said, It is useless to serve God; and what profit is it if we keep His ordinances and walk gloomily and as if in mourning apparel before the Lord of hosts?

15 And now we consider the proud and arrogant happy and favored; evildoers are exalted and prosper; yes, and when they test God they escape unpunished.

16 Then those who feared the Lord talked often one to another; and the Lord listened and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before Him of those who revered and worshipfully feared the Lord, and who thought on His name.

17 And they shall be Mine, says the Lord of hosts, in that day when I publicly recognize and openly declare them to be My jewels — My special possession, My peculiar treasure. And I will spare them, as a man spares his own son who serves him.

18 Then shall you return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him who serves God and him who does not serve Him.

CHAPTER 4

FOR behold, the day comes that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud and arrogant, yes, and all that do wickedly and are lawless shall be stubble; the day that comes shall burn them up, says the Lord of hosts, so that it will leave them neither root nor branch. [Isa. 5:21-25; Matt. 3:12.]

2 But unto you who revere and worshipfully fear My name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in His wings and His beams, and you shall go forth and gambol like calves released from the stall and leap for joy.

3 And you shall tread down the lawless and wicked, for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, says the Lord of hosts.

4 [Earnestly] remember the law of Moses My servant, which I commanded him on Mount Horeb to give to all Israel, the statutes and the ordinances.

5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of the Lord comes. [Matt. 11:14; 17:10-13.]

6 And he shall turn [and reconcile] the hearts of the [estranged] fathers to the [ungodly] children, and the hearts of the [rebellious] children to [the piety of] their fathers [a reconciliation produced by repentance of the ungodly]; lest I come and smite the land with a curse [and a ban of utter destruction]. THE NEW TESTAMENT

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

CHAPTER 1

THE book of the ancestry (genealogy) of Jesus Christ, the Messiah, the Anointed, the son (descendant) of David, the son (descendant) of Abraham. [Ps. 132:11; Isa. 11:1.]

2 Abraham was the father of Isaac, Isaac the father of Jacob, Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers,

3 Judah the father of Perez and Zerah, whose mother was Tamar; Perez the father of Hezron, Hezron the father of Aram,

4 Aram the father of Aminadab, Aminadab the father of Nashon, Nashon the father of Salmon,

5 Salmon the father of Boaz, whose mother was Rahab; Boaz the father of Obed, whose mother was Ruth; Obed the father of Jesse,

6 Jesse the father of King David, King David the father of Solomon, whose mother had been the wife of Uriah; [Ruth 4:18-22; I Chron. 2:13-15.]

7 Solomon the father of Rehoboam, Rehoboam the father of Abijah, Abijah the father of Asa,

8 Asa the father of Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat the father of Joram, Joram the father of Uzziah, 9 Uzziah the father of Jotham, Jotham the father of Ahaz, Ahaz the father of Hezekiah,

10 Hezekiah the father of Manasseh, Manasseh the father of Amon, Amon the father of Josiah,

11 And Josiah became the father of Jechoniah and his brothers, about the time of the removal (deportation) to Babylon. [II Kings 24:14; I Chron. 3:15,16.]

12 After the exile to Babylon, Jechoniah became the father of Shealtiel (Salathiel), Shealtiel the father of Zerubbabel,

13 Zerubbabel the father of Abiud,

Abiud the father of Eliakim, Eliakim the father of Azor,

14 Azor the father of Sadoc, Sadoc the father of Achim, Achim the father of Elihud, 15 Elihud the father of Eliazar, Eliazar the father of Matthan, Matthan the father of Jacob, 16 Jacob the father of Joseph, the husband of Mary of whom was born Jesus Who is called the Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen, from David to the Babylonian Exile (deportation) fourteen, from the Babylonian Exile to the Christ fourteen generations.

18 Now the birth of Jesus Christ took place under these circumstances: When His mother Mary had been promised in marriage to Joseph, before they came together she was found to be pregnant [through the power] of the Holy Spirit.

19 And her [promised] husband Joseph, being a just and upright man and not willing to expose her publicly and shame and disgrace her, decided to repudiate and dismiss (divorce) her quietly and secretly.

20 But as he was thinking this over, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, Joseph, descendant of David, do not be afraid to take Mary [as] your wife, for that which is conceived in her is of (from, out of) the Holy Spirit.

21 She will bear a Son, and you shall call His name Jesus [in Hebrew means Savior], for He will save His people from their sins [that is, prevent their *failing and missing the true end and scope of life, which is God].

22 All this took place that it might be fulfilled which the Lord had spoken through the prophet,

23 Behold, the virgin shall become

a) Vincent's "Word Studies in the New Testament."

pregnant and give birth to a Son, and they shall call His name Emmanuel, which when translated means, God with us. [Isa. 7:14.]

24 Then Joseph being aroused from his sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had commanded him; he took [her to his side as] his wife, 25 But he had no union with her as her husband until she had borne her first-born Son, and he called His name Jesus.

CHAPTER 2

NOW when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, wise men [astrologers] from the East came to Jerusalem, asking,

2 Where is He Who has been born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East ^bat its rising, and have come to worship Him. [Jer. 23:5; Zech. 9:9; Num. 24:17.]

3 When Herod the king heard this, he was disturbed and troubled, and the whole of Jerusalem with him;

4 So he called together all the chief priests and learned men (scribes) of the people, and ^canxiously asked them where the Christ was to be born.

5 They replied to him, In Bethlehem of Judea; for so it is written by the prophet:

6 And you Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, you are not in any way least or insignificant among the ^dchief cities of Judah; for from you shall come a Ruler (^eLeader) Who will govern and ^fshepherd My people Israel. [Mic. 5:2.]

7 Then Herod sent for the wise men [astrologers] secretly, and ^gaccurately to the last point ascertained from them the time of the appearing of the star — that is, ^hhow long the star had made itself visible since its rising in the East.

8 Then he sent them to Bethlehem, saying, Go and search out the Child carefully and diligently, and when you have found ⁱHim bring me word, that I too may come and worship Him.

9 When they had listened to the king they went their way, and lo, the star which had been seen in the East ^jin its rising went before them, until it came and stood over the place where the young Child was.

10 When they saw the star, they were thrilled with ecstatic joy.

11 And going into the house they saw the Child with Mary His mother, and they fell down and worshipped Him. Then opening their treasure bags, they presented to Him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh.

12 And ^kreceiving an answer to their asking, they were divinely instructed and warned in a dream not to go back to Herod; so they departed to their own country by a different way.

13 Now after they had gone, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, Get up! [^lTenderly] take unto you the young Child and His mother and flee to Egypt, and remain there till I tell you [otherwise]; for Herod intends to search for the Child in order to destroy Him.

14 And having risen, he took the Child and His mother by night and withdrew to Egypt,

15 And remained there until Herod's death. This was to fulfill what the Lord had spoken by the prophet, Out of Egypt have I called My Son. [Hos. 11:1.]

16 Then Herod, when he realized that he had been misled by the wise men, was furiously enraged, and he sent and put to death all the male children in Bethlehem and in all that territory who were two years old or under, reckoning according to the date which he had investigated diligently and learned exactly from the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled what was spoken by the prophet Jeremiah:

18 A voice was heard in Ramah, wailing and loud lamentation, Rachel weeping for her children; she refused to be comforted, because they were no more. [Jer. 31:15.]

19 But when Herod died, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, and said, 20 Rise, [tenderly] take unto you the Child and His mother, and go to the land of Israel, for those who sought the Child's life are dead.

21 Then he awoke and arose and [tenderly] took the Child and His mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But because he heard that Archelaus was ruling over Judea in the place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there; and being divinely warned in a dream he withdrew to the region of Galilee.

23 He went and dwelt in a town called Nazareth, so that what was spoken through the prophets might be fulfilled, He shall be called a Nazarene (meaning Branch, Separated One). [Isa. 11:1.]

CHAPTER 3

IN those days there appeared John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness (desert) of Judea, and saying,

2 Repent — that is, ^kthink differently; change your mind, regretting your sins and changing your conduct — for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 This is he who was mentioned by the prophet Isaiah when he said, The voice of one crying in the wilderness — shouting in the desert: Prepare the road for the Lord; make His highways straight (level, direct). [Isa. 40:3.]

4 This John's garments were made of camel's hair, and he wore a leather girdle about his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey. [II Kings 1:8; Zech. 13:4; Lev. 11:22.]

5 Then Jerusalem and all Judea and all the country round about the Jordan went out to him,

6 And they were baptized in the Jordan by him, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for baptism, he said to them, You brood of vipers, who warned you to flee and escape from the wrath and indignation [of God against disobedience,] that is coming?

8 Bring forth fruit that is consistent with repentance — let your lives prove your change of heart;

9 And do not presume to say to yourselves, We have Abraham for our forefather; for I tell you God is able to raise up descendants for Abraham from these stones!

10 And already the ax is lying at the root of the trees; every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.

11 I indeed baptize you ^min (with) water ^abecause of repentance — that is, because of your ^cchanging your minds for the better, heartily amending your ways with abhorrence of your past sins; but He Who is coming after me is mightier than I, Whose sandals I am not worthy or fit to take off or carry; He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire.

12 His winnowing fan (shovel, fork) is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clear out and clean His threshing floor, and gather and store His wheat in His barn; but the chaff He will burn up with fire that cannot be put out.

13 Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to John to be baptized by him.

14 But John ^protested strenuously, having in mind to prevent Him, saying, It is I who have need to be baptized by You, and do You come to me?

15 But Jesus replied to him, "Permit it just now, for this is the fitting way for [both of] us to fulfill all righteousness — that is, to "perform completely whatever is right.

16 And when Jesus was baptized, He went up at once out of the water, and behold, the heavens were opened, and he [John] saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and alighting on Him;

17 And lo, a voice out from heaven said, This is My Son, My Beloved, in Whom I delight! [Ps. 2:7; Isa. 42:1.]

CHAPTER 4

THEN Jesus was led (guided) by the (Holy) Spirit into the wilderness (desert) to be tempted — that is, tested and tried — by the devil.

2 And He went without food for forty days and forty nights, and later He was hungry. [Exod. 34:28; I Kings 19:8.]

3 And the tempter came and said to Him, If You are God's Son, command these stones to be made [roaves of] bread.

4 But He replied, It has been written, Man shall not live and be upheld and sustained by bread alone, but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God. [Deut. 8:3.]

5 Then the devil took Him into the holy city, and placed Him on "a turret (pinnacle, "gable) of the temple "sanctuary, [Neh. 11:1; Dan. 9:24.]

6 And he said to Him, If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down; for it is written, He will give His angels charge over you, and they will bear you up on their hands, lest you strike your foot against a stone. [Ps. 91:11, 12.]

7 Jesus said to him, "On the other hand it is written also, You shall not tempt, "test thoroughly or "try exceedingly the Lord your God. [Deut. 6:16.]

8 Again the devil took Him up on a very high mountain, and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory — the splendor, magnificence, pre-eminence and excellence — of them;

9 And he said to Him, These things all taken together I will give You, if You will prostrate Yourself before me and do homage and worship me.

10 Then Jesus said to him, Begone, Satan! for it has been written, You shall worship the Lord your God and Him alone shall you serve. [Deut. 6:13.]

11 Then the devil departed from Him, and behold, angels came and ministered to Him.

12 Now when Jesus heard that John had been arrested and put in prison, He withdrew into Galilee.

13 And leaving Nazareth He went and dwelt in Capernaum by the sea, in the country of Zebulun and Naphtali, 14 That what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be brought to pass:

15 The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali in the "way to the sea beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles [that is, of the "peoples who are not of Israel]; [Isa. 9:1-2.]

16 The people who sat *(dwelt enveloped) in darkness have seen a great Light, and for those who sat in the land and shadow of death Light has dawned.

17 From that time Jesus began to preach, "crying out, Repent — that is, "change your mind for the better, heartily amend your ways, with abhorrence of your past sins — for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 As He was walking by the sea of Galilee, He noticed two brothers, Simon who is called Peter and Andrew his brother, throwing a dragnet into the sea, for they were fishermen.

19 And He said to them, Come "after Me [as disciples] — letting Me be your Guide, follow Me — and I will make you fishers of men!

20 At once they left their nets and became His disciples — sided with His party and followed Him.

21 And going on further from there He noticed two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee and John his brother, in the boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets and putting them to rights, and He called them.

22 At once they left the boat and their father and joined Jesus as disciples — sided with His party and followed Him.

23 And He went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the good news (Gospel) of the kingdom and healing every disease and every weakness and infirmity among the people.

24 So the report of Him spread throughout all Syria, and they brought Him all that were sick, those afflicted with various diseases and torments, those under the power of demons, and epileptics, and paralyzed people; and He healed them.

25 And great crowds joined and accompanied Him about, coming from Galilee and Decapolis [the district of the ten cities east of the Sea of Galilee] and Jerusalem and Judea and from the other [the east] side of the Jordan.

CHAPTER 5

SEEING the crowds, He went up on the mountain, and when He was seated His disciples came to Him.

2 Then He opened His mouth and taught them saying:

3 Blessed — happy, ^dto be envied, and ^espiritually prosperous [that is, ^fwith life-joy and satisfaction in God's favor and salvation, regardless of their outward conditions] — are the poor in spirit (the humble, rating themselves insignificant), for theirs is the kingdom of heaven!

4 Blessed and enviably happy, [with a happiness produced by experience of God's favor and especially conditioned by the revelation of His matchless grace] are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted! [Isa. 61:2.]

5 Blessed — happy, blithesome, joyous, ^espiritually prosperous [that is, ^fwith life-joy and satisfaction in God's favor and salvation, regardless of their outward conditions] — are the meek (the mild, patient, long-suffering), for they shall inherit the earth! [Ps. 37:11.]

6 Blessed and fortunate and happy and ^espiritually prosperous [that is, in that state in which the born-again child of God ^henjoys His favor and salvation] are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness (uprightness and right standing with God), for they shall be ^ecompletely satisfied! [Isa. 55:1, 2.]

7 Blessed — happy, ⁱto be envied, and ^espiritually prosperous [that is, ^fwith life-joy and satisfaction in God's favor and salvation, regardless of their outward conditions] — are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy!

8 Blessed — happy, ⁱenviably fortunate, and ^espiritually prosperous [that is, possessing the ^hhappiness produced by experience of God's favor and especially conditioned by the revelation of His grace, regardless of their outward conditions] — are the pure in heart, for they shall see God! [Ps. 24:3, 4.]

9 Blessed — enjoying ⁱenviable happiness, ^espiritually prosperous [that is, ^fwith life-joy and satisfaction in God's favor and salvation, regardless of their outward conditions] — are the makers and ⁱmaintainers of peace, for they shall be called the sons of God!

for righteousness' sake (for being and doing right), for theirs is the kingdom of heaven!

11 Blessed — happy, ^kto be envied, and ^lspiritually prosperous [that is, ^mwith life-joy and satisfaction in God's favor and salvation, regardless of your outward conditions] — are you when people revile you and persecute you and say all kinds of evil things against you falsely on My account.

12 Be glad and supremely joyful, for your reward in heaven is great (strong and intense), for in this same way people persecuted the prophets who were before you. [II Chron. 36:16.]

13 You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste — its strength, its quality — how can its saltiness be restored? It is not good for anything any longer but to be thrown out and trodden under foot by men.

14 You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid.

15 Nor do men light a lamp and put it under a peck-measure but on a lamp stand, and it gives light to all in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men that they may see your ⁿmoral excellence and your praiseworthy, noble and good deeds, and ^orecognize and honor and praise and glorify your Father Who is in heaven.

17 Do not think that I have come to do away with or ^pundo the Law and the prophets; I have come not to do away with or undo, but to complete and fulfill them.

18 For truly, I tell you, until the sky and earth pass away and perish not one smallest letter nor one little hook [identifying certain Hebrew letters] will pass from the Law until all things [it fore-shadows] have been accomplished.

19 Whoever then breaks or does away with or relaxes one of the least important of these commandments and teaches men so, shall be called least important in the kingdom of heaven; but he who practices them and teaches others to do so shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I tell you, unless your righteousness (your uprightness and your right standing with God) is more than that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.

21 You have heard that it was said to the men of old, You shall not kill; and whoever kills shall be ^qliable so that he cannot escape the punishment imposed by the court. [Exod. 20:13; Deut. 5:17; 16:18.]

22 But I say to you that every one who continues to be ^rangry with his brother or harbors malice [enmity of heart] against him shall be ^qliable and unable to escape the punishment imposed by the court; and whoever speaks contemptuously and insultingly to his brother shall be ^qliable and unable to escape the punishment imposed by the Sanhedrin, and whoever says, You ^scursed fool! — You empty-headed idiot! shall be ^qliable and unable to escape the hell (Gehenna) of fire.

23 So if, when you are offering your gift at the altar you there remember that your brother has any [grievance] against you,

24 Leave your gift at the altar and go; first make peace with your brother, and then come back and present your gift.

25 Come to terms quickly with your accuser while you are on the way traveling with him, lest your accuser hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you be put in prison;

26 Truly, I say to you, you will never be released until you have paid the last fraction of a penny.

27 You have heard that it was said, You shall not commit adultery, [Exod. 20:14; Deut. 5:18.]

28 But I say to you that every one who so much as looks at a woman with evil desire for her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

29 If your right eye serves as a trap to ensnare you or is an occasion for you to stumble and sin, pluck it out and throw it away. It is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be cast into hell (Gehenna).

30 And if your right hand serves as a trap to ensnare you or is an occasion for you to stumble and sin, cut it off and cast it from you. It is better that you lose one of your members than that your entire body should be cast into hell (Gehenna).

31 It was also said, Whoever divorces his wife must give her a certificate of divorcement.

32 But I tell you, Whoever dismisses and repudiates and divorces his wife, except on the grounds of unfaithfulness (sexual immorality), causes her to commit adultery; and whoever marries a woman who has been divorced commits adultery. [Deut. 24:1-4.]

33 Again, you have heard that it was said to the men of old, You shall not swear falsely, but you shall perform your oaths to the Lord — as a religious duty.

34 But I tell you, Do not bind yourselves by an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God,

35 Or by the earth, for it is the footstool of His feet, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. [Isa. 66:1; Ps. 48:2.]

36 And do not swear by your head, for you are not able to make a single hair white or black.

37 Let your Yes be simply Yes, and your No be simply No; anything more than that comes from the evil one. [Lev. 19:12; Num. 30:2; Deut. 23:21.]

38 You have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, [Exod. 21:24; Lev. 24:20; Deut. 19:21.]

39 But I say to you, Do not resist the evil man [who injures you]; but if any one strikes you on the right jaw or cheek, turn to him the other one too;

40 And if any one wants to sue you and take your undershirt (tunic), let him have your coat also;

41 And if any one forces you to go one mile, go with him two [miles].

42 Give to him who keeps on begging from you, and do not turn away from him who would borrow (*at interest) from you, [Deut. 15:8; Prov. 24:29.]

43 You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy;

44 But I tell you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, [Prov. 25:21, 22.]

45 *To show that you are the children of your Father Who is in heaven; for He makes His sun rise on the wicked and on the good, and makes the rain fall upon the upright and the wrongdoers [alike].

46 For if you love those who love you, what reward can you have? Do not even the tax collectors do that?

47 And if you greet only your brethren, what more than others are you doing? Do not even the Gentiles (the heathen) do that?

48 You, therefore, must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect [that is, grow into complete *maturity of godliness in mind and character, *having reached the proper height of virtue and integrity]. [Lev. 19:2, 18.]

CHAPTER 6

TAKE care not to do your good deeds publicly or before men in order to be seen by them; otherwise you will have no reward [reserved for and awaiting you] with and from your Father Who is in heaven.

2 Thus, whenever you give to the poor, do not blow a trumpet before you, as the hypocrites in the synagogues and in the streets like to do, that they may be *recognized and honored and praised by men. Truly, I tell you, they have their reward — *in full already.

s) Vincent. t) Wuest. u) Thayer. v) Cremer. w) Vincent.

3 But when you give to charity, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing,

4 So that your deeds of charity may be in secret; and your Father Who sees in secret will reward you openly.

5 Also when you pray you must not be like the hypocrites, for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by people. Truly, I tell you, they have their reward — ^win full already.

6 But when you pray, go into your most private room, and closing the door, pray to your Father Who is in secret; and your Father Who sees in secret will reward you in the open.

7 And when you pray do not (multi-ly words, repeating the same ones over and over, and) heap up phrases as the Gentiles do, for they think they will be heard for their much speaking. [I Kings 18:25-29.]

8 Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask Him.

9 Pray therefore like this: Our Father Who is in heaven, hallowed (kept holy) be Your name.

10 Your kingdom come, Your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our daily bread,

12 And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven (^xleft, remitted and let go the debts, and ^ygiven up resentment against) our debtors.

13 And lead (bring) us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.

14 For if you forgive people their trespasses — that is, their reckless and wilful sins, ^zleaving them, letting them go and ^agiving up resentment — your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15 But if you do not forgive others their trespasses — their ^breckless and wilful sins, ^cleaving them, letting them go and ^dgiving up resentment — neither will your Father forgive you your trespasses.

16 And whenever you are fasting, do not look gloomy and ^esour and ^fdreary like the hypocrites, for they put on a dismal countenance that their fasting may be apparent and seen by men. Truly, I say to you, they have their reward — ^gin full already. [Isa. 58:5.]

17 But when you fast, perfume your head and wash your face,

18 So that your fasting may not be noticed by men but by your Father Who sees in secret; and your Father Who sees in secret will reward you in the open.

19 Do not ^hgather and heap up and store for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust and ⁱworm consume and destroy, and where thieves break through and steal;

20 But ^jgather and heap up and store for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust nor ^kworm consume and destroy, and where thieves do not break through and steal;

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is sound, your entire body will be full of light;

23 But if your eye is unsound, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the very light in you [your ^lconscience] is darkened, how dense is that darkness!

24 No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will stand by and be devoted to the one and despise and be ^magainst the other. You cannot serve God and mammon [that is, ⁿdeceitful riches, money, possessions or ^owhat is trusted in].

25 Therefore I tell you, stop being ^pperpetually uneasy (anxious and worried) about your life, what you shall eat or what you shall drink, and about your body, what you shall put on. Is not life greater [in quality] than food, and the body [far above and more excellent] than clothing?

26 Look at the birds of the air; they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father keeps feeding them. Are you not worth more than they?

27 And which of you by worrying and being anxious can add one unit of measure [cubit] to his stature or to the ^kspan of his life? [Ps. 39:5-7.]

28 And why should you be anxious about clothes? Consider the lilies of the field and learn thoroughly how they grow; they neither toil nor spin;

29 Yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his ⁱmagnificence (excellence, dignity and grace) was not arrayed like one of these. [I Kings 10:4-7.]

30 But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and green and tomorrow is tossed into the furnace, will He not much more surely clothe you, O you men with little faith?

31 Therefore do not worry and be anxious, saying, What are we going to have to eat? or, What are we going to have to drink? or, What are we going to have to wear?

32 For the Gentiles (heathen) wish for and crave and diligently seek after all these things; and your heavenly Father well knows that you need them all.

33 But seek for (ⁱaim at and strive after) first of all His kingdom, and His righteousness [^mHis way of doing and being right], and then all these things ^ltaken together will be given you besides.

34 So do not worry or be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will have worries and anxieties of its own. Sufficient for each day is its own trouble.

CHAPTER 7

DO not judge and criticize and condemn others, so that you may not be judged and criticized and condemned yourselves.

2 For just as you judge and criticize and condemn others you will be judged and criticized and condemned, and in accordance with the measure you deal out to others it will be dealt out again to you.

3 Why do you ^astare from without at the ^avery small particle that is in your brother's eye, but do not become aware of and consider the beam ^aof timber that is in your own eye?

4 Or how can you say to your brother, Let me get the tiny particle out of your eye, when there is the beam ^aof timber in your own eye?

5 You hypocrite, first get the beam of timber out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the tiny particle out of your brother's eye.

6 Do not give that which is holy — the sacred thing — to the dogs; and do not throw your pearls before hogs, lest they trample upon them with their feet and turn and tear you in pieces.

7 ^aKeep on asking and it will be given you; ^akeep on seeking and you will find; ^akeep on knocking [reverently] and the door will be opened to you.

8 For every one who keeps on asking receives, and he who keeps on seeking finds, and to him who keeps on knocking it will be opened.

9 Or what man is there of you, if his son asks him for a loaf of bread, will hand him a stone?

10 Or if he asks for a fish, will hand him a serpent?

11 If you then, evil as you are, know how to give good and ^aadvantageous gifts to your children, how much more will your Father Who is in heaven [perfect as He is] give good and ^aadvantageous things to those who ^akeep on asking Him!

12 So then whatever you desire that others would do to and for you, even so do you also to and for them, for this is [sums up,] the Law and the prophets.

13 Enter through the narrow gate, for wide is the gate and spacious and broad is the way that leads away to destruction, and many are those who are entering it.

14 But the gate is narrow — contracted ^sby pressure — and the way is straitened ^tand compressed that leads away to life, and few are they who find it. [Jer. 21:8; Deut. 30:19.]

15 Beware of false prophets, who come to you dressed as sheep, but inside they are devouring wolves. [Ezek. 22:27.]

16 You will ^tfully recognize them by their fruits. Do people pick grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles?

17 Even so every healthy (sound) tree bears good fruit — ^wworthy of admiration; but the sickly (decaying, worthless) tree bears bad and worthless fruit.

18 A good (healthy) tree cannot bear bad (worthless) fruit; nor can a bad (diseased) tree bear ^wexcellent fruit — worthy of admiration.

19 Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and cast into the fire.

20 Therefore you will ^tfully know them by their fruits.

21 Not every one who says to Me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father Who is in heaven.

22 Many will say to Me on that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, and driven out demons in Your name, and done many mighty works in Your name?

23 And then I will say to them openly (publicly), I never knew you; depart from Me, you who act wickedly — disregarding My commands. [Ps. 6:8.]

24 So every one who hears these words of Mine and acts upon them — obeying them — will be like a ^wsensible (prudent, practical, wise) man who built his house upon the rock;

25 And the rain fell and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock.

26 And every one who hears these words of Mine and does not do them will be like a stupid (foolish) man who built his house upon the sand;

27 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell; and great and complete was the fall of it.

28 When Jesus had finished these sayings [the Sermon on the Mount], the crowds were astonished and overwhelmed with bewildered wonder at His teaching, 29 For He was teaching as [One] Who had [and was] authority, and not as did the scribes.

CHAPTER 8

WHEN Jesus came down from the mountain, great throngs followed Him.

2 And behold, a leper came up to Him and prostrating himself, worshipped Him, saying, Lord, if You will, You are able to ^wcleanse me by curing me.

3 And He reached out His hand and touched him, saying, I will; be cleansed. ^wby being cured. And instantly his leprosy was cured and cleansed.

4 And Jesus said to him, See that you tell nothing about this to any one; but go, show yourself to the priest, and present the offering that Moses commanded, for a testimony [to your healing] and as an evidence to the people. [Lev. 14:2.]

5 As Jesus went into Capernaum, a centurion came up to Him, begging Him

6 And saying, Lord, my servant boy is lying at the house paralyzed and ^wdressed with intense pains.

7 And Jesus said to him, I will come and restore him.

8 But the centurion replied to Him, Lord, I am not worthy or fit to have You come under my roof; but only speak the word, and my servant boy will be cured.

9 For I also am a man subject to authority, with soldiers subject to me; and I say to one, Go, and he goes; and to another, Come, and he comes; and to my slave, Do this, and he does it.

10 When Jesus heard him, He marveled, and said to those who followed Him [that is, ^wwho adhered steadfastly to Him, conforming to His example in living and if need be in dying also], I tell you, truly I have not found so much faith as this ^xwith any one, even in Israel.

11 I tell you, many will come from east and west and sit at table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven,

12 While the sons and heirs of the kingdom will be driven out into the darkness outside, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth. [Isa. 49:12; 59:19; Mal. 1:11; Ps. 107:2, 3.]

13 Then to the centurion Jesus said, Go; it shall be done for you as you have believed. And the servant boy was restored to health at that very ^ymoment.

14 And when Jesus went into Peter's house, He saw his mother-in-law lying ill with a fever;

15 He touched her hand and the fever left her, and she got up and began waiting on Him.

16 When evening came they brought to Him many who were ^zunder the power of demons, and He drove out the spirits with a word, and restored to health all who were sick;

17 And thus He fulfilled what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah, He Himself took (^ain order to carry away) our weaknesses and infirmities and bore ^aaway our diseases. [Isa. 53:4.]

18 Now Jesus, when He saw great throngs around Him, gave orders to cross to the other side [of the lake].

19 And a scribe came up and said to Him, Master, I will accompany You wherever You go.

20 And Jesus replied to him, Foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have lodging places; but the Son of man has nowhere to lay His head.

21 Another of the disciples said to Him, Lord, let me first go and bury [^bcare for till death] my father.

22 But Jesus said to him, Follow Me, and leave the dead [^cin sin] to bury their own dead.

23 And after He got into the boat, His disciples followed Him.

24 And ^dsuddenly, behold, there arose a violent storm on the sea, so that the boat was being covered up by the waves; but He was sleeping.

25 And they went and awakened Him, saying, Lord, rescue and preserve us! We are perishing!

26 And He said to them, Why are you timid and afraid, O you of little faith? Then He got up and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great and wonderful calm (^ea perfect peaceableness).

27 And the men were stunned with bewildered wonder and marveled, saying, What kind of Man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey Him!

28 And when He arrived at the other side, at the country of the Gadarenes, two men under the control of demons went to meet Him, coming out of the tombs, so fierce and savage that no one was able to pass that way.

29 And behold, they shrieked and screamed, What have You to do with us, Jesus, Son of God? Have You come to torment us before the appointed time? [Judg. 11:12; II Sam. 16:10.]

30 Now at some distance from there a drove of many hogs was grazing.

31 And the demons begged Him, If You drive us out, send us into the drove of hogs.

32 And He said to them, Begone! So they came out and went into the hogs; and behold, the whole drove rushed down the steep bank into the sea, and died in the water.

33 The herdsmen fled, and went into the town and reported everything, including what had happened to the men under the power of demons.

CHAPTER 9

AND Jesus getting into a boat crossed to the other side and came to His own town [Capernaum].

2 And behold, they brought to Him a man paralyzed and prostrated by illness, lying on a sleeping pad, and when Jesus saw their faith He said to the paralyzed man, Take courage, son; your sins are forgiven and the 'penalty remitted.

3 And behold, some of the scribes said to themselves, This man blasphemes — He claims the rights and prerogatives of God!

4 But Jesus, knowing (*seeing) their thoughts, said, Why do you think evil and harbor 'malice in your hearts?

5 For which is easier, to say, Your sins are forgiven and the 'penalty remitted, or say, Get up and walk?

6 And in order that you may know that the Son of man has authority on earth to forgive sins and 'remit the penalty, He then said to the paralyzed man, Get up! Pick up your sleeping pad and go to your own house.

7 And he got up and went away to his own house.

8 When the crowds saw it, they were struck with fear and awe, and they 'recognized God and praised and thanked Him, Who had given such power and authority to men.

9 As Jesus passed on from there, He saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax collector's office; and He said to him, 'Be My disciple — side with My party and follow Me. And he rose and followed Him.

10 And as Jesus reclined at table in the house, behold, many tax collectors and especially wicked sinners came and sat (reclined) with Him and His disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw this, they said to His disciples, Why does your Master eat with tax collectors and those pre-eminently sinful?

12 But when Jesus heard it, He replied, Those who are strong and well have no need of a physician, but those who are weak and sick.

13 Go and learn what this means, I desire mercy [that is, 'readiness to help those in trouble] and not sacrifice and sacrificial victims. For I came not to call and invite [to repentance] the righteous — those who are upright and in right standing with God; but sinners — the erring ones and all those not free from sin. [Hos. 6:6.]

14 Then the disciples of John came to Jesus, inquiring, Why is it that we and the Pharisees fast 'often, [that is, abstain from food and drink, as a religious exercise], but Your disciples do not fast?

15 And Jesus replied to them, Can the wedding guests mourn while the bridegroom is still with them? The days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast.

16 And no one puts a piece of cloth that has not been shrunk on an old garment, for such a patch tears away from the garment and a worse rent is made.

17 Neither is new wine put in old wineskins, for if it is, the skins burst and are 'torn in pieces, and the wine is spilled and the skins ruined; but new wine is put into fresh wineskins, and so both are preserved.

18 While He was talking this way to them, behold, a ruler entered and kneeling down, worshipped Him, saying, My daughter has just 'now died; but come and lay Your hand on her and she will come to life.

19 And Jesus got up and accompanied him, with His disciples.

20 And behold, a woman who had suffered from a flow of blood for twelve years came up behind Him and touched the fringe of His garment; [Num. 15:38; Deut. 22:12.]

21 For she kept saying to herself, If I only touch His garment, I shall be restored to health.

22 Jesus turned around and seeing her He said, Take courage, daughter! Your faith has made you well. And at once the woman was restored to health.

23 And when Jesus came to the ruler's house and saw the flute players, and the crowd making an uproar and din, 24 He said, Go away; for the girl is not dead but sleeping. And they laughed and jeered at Him.

25 But when the crowd had been ordered to go outside, He went in and took her by the hand, and the girl arose.

26 And the news about this spread through all that district.

27 As Jesus was passing on from there, two blind men followed Him, shouting loudly, Have pity and mercy on us, Son of David!

28 When He reached the house and went in, the blind men came to Him. And Jesus said to them, Do you believe that I am able to do this? They said to Him, Yes, Lord.

29 Then He touched their eyes, saying, According to your faith and trust and reliance [on the power invested in Me] be it done to you.

30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus earnestly and sternly charged them, See that you let no one know about this.

31 But they went off and blazed and spread His fame abroad throughout that whole district.

32 And while they were going away, behold, a dumb man under the power of a demon was brought to Jesus.

33 And when the demon had been driven out, the dumb man spoke; and the crowds were stunned with bewildered wonder, saying, Never before has anything like this been seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said, He drives out demons through and with the help of the prince of demons.

35 And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the good news (the Gospel) of the kingdom, and curing all kinds of disease and every weakness and infirmity.

36 When He saw the throngs, He was moved with pity and sympathy for them, because they were bewildered — harassed and distressed and dejected and helpless — like sheep without a shepherd. [Zech. 10:2.]

37 Then He said to His disciples, The harvest is indeed plentiful, but the laborers are few.

38 So pray the Lord of the harvest to ^{re}force out and thrust laborers into His harvest.

CHAPTER 10

AND Jesus summoned to Him His twelve disciples and gave them power and authority over unclean spirits, to drive them out, and to cure all kinds of disease and all kinds of weakness and infirmity.

2 Now these are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

3 Philip and Bartholomew [Nathaniel]; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus [Judas, not Iscariot];

4 Simon the Cananaean, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

5 Jesus sent out these twelve, charging them, Do nowhere among the Gentiles, and do not go into any town of the Samaritans, 6 But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 And as you go, preach saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand!

8 Cure the sick; raise the dead; cleanse the lepers; drive out demons. Freely (without pay) you have received; freely (without charge) give.

9 Take no gold, nor silver, nor [even] copper money in your purses (belts),

10 And do not take a provision-bag or a wallet for a collection-bag for your journey, nor two undergarments, nor sandals, nor a staff, for the workman deserves his support — his living, his food.

11 And into whatever town or village you go, inquire who in it is deserving, and stay there [at his house] until you leave [that vicinity].

12 As you go into the house, give your greetings and wish it well.

13 Then if indeed that house is deserving, let come upon it your peace [that is, freedom from all the distresses that are experienced as the result of sin]. But if it is not deserving, let your peace return to you.

14 And whoever will not receive and accept and welcome you nor listen to your message, as you leave that house or town shake the dust of it from your feet.

15 Truly, I tell you, it shall be more tolerable on the day of judgment for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah than for that town.

16 Lo, I am sending you out as sheep in the midst of wolves; be wary and wise as serpents, and be innocent — harmless, guileless and without falsity — as doves. [Gen. 3:1.]

17 Be on guard against the men [whose way or nature is to act in opposition to God]; for they will deliver you up to councils and flog you in their synagogues,

18 And you will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a witness to bear testimony before them and to the Gentiles (the nations).

19 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious about how or what you are to speak; for what you are to say will be given you in that very hour and moment.

20 For it is not you who are speaking, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.

21 Brother will deliver up brother to death, and the father his child, and children will take a stand against their parents, and will have them put to death;

22 And you will be hated by all for My name's sake. But he who perseveres and endures to the end will be saved [from spiritual disease and death in the world to come].

23 When they persecute you in one town [that is, pursue you in a manner to injure you and cause you to suffer because of your belief], flee to another town; for truly, I tell you, you will not have gone through all the towns of Israel before the Son of man comes.

24 A disciple is not above his teacher, nor is a servant or slave above his master.

25 It is sufficient for the disciple to be like his teacher, and the servant or slave like his master. If they have called the Master of the house Beelzebub [meaning master of the dwelling], how much more will they speak evil of those of His household. [II Kings 1:2.]

26 So have no fear of them; for nothing is concealed that will not be revealed, or kept secret that will not become known.

27 What I say to you in the dark, tell in the light; and what you hear whispered in the ear, proclaim upon the housetops.

28 And do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul, but rather be afraid of him who can destroy both soul and body in hell (Gehenna).

29 Are not two little sparrows sold for a penny? And yet not one of them will fall to the ground without your Father's leave and notice.

30 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

31 Fear not, then; you are of more value than many sparrows.

with Me), I will also acknowledge before My Father Who is in heaven, and ^wconfess [abiding] in him.

33 But whoever denies and disowns Me before men, I also will deny and disown before My Father Who is in heaven.

34 Do not think that I have come to bring peace upon the earth; I have not come to bring peace but a sword.

35 For I have come to part asunder a man from his father, and a daughter from her mother, and a ^{*}newly married wife from her mother-in-law;

36 And a man's foes will be they of his own household. [Mic. 7:6.]

37 He who loves and ^vtakes more pleasure in father or mother than in Me is not worthy of Me; and he who loves and takes more pleasure in son or daughter than in Me is not worthy of Me;

38 And he who does not take up his cross and follow Me [that is, ^cleave steadfastly to Me, conforming wholly to My example in living and if need be in dying also] is not worthy of Me.

39 Whoever finds his [^vlower] life will lose [the higher life], and whoever loses his [lower] life on My account will find [the higher life].

40 He who receives and welcomes and accepts you, receives and welcomes and accepts Me; and he who receives and welcomes and accepts Me, receives and welcomes and accepts Him Who sent Me.

41 He who receives and welcomes and accepts a prophet because he is a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward, and he who receives and welcomes and accepts a righteous man because he is a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward.

42 And whoever gives to one of these little ones [in rank or influence] even a cup of cold water because he is My disciple, surely, I declare to you, he shall not lose his reward.

CHAPTER 11

WHEN Jesus had finished His charge to His twelve disciples, He left there to teach and to preach in their [Galilean] cities.

2 Now when John in prison heard about the activities of Christ, he sent a message by his disciples,

3 And asked Him, Are You He Who was to come, or should we keep on expecting a different one? [Gen. 49:10; Num. 24:17.]

4 And Jesus replied to them, Go and report to John what you hear and see:

5 The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed (by healing), and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news (the Gospel) preached to them. [Isa. 35:5, 6; 61:1.]

6 And blessed — happy, fortunate and ^{*}to be envied — is he who takes no offense at Me, and finds no cause for stumbling in or through Me, and is not hindered from seeing the Truth.

7 Then as these men went their way, Jesus began to speak to the crowds about John: What did you go out in the wilderness (desert) to see? A reed swayed by the wind?

8 What did you go out to see then? A man clothed in soft garments? Behold, those who wear soft clothing are in the houses of kings.

9 But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and one (^bout of the common, more eminent, more remarkable and) ^bsuperior to a prophet.

10 This is the one of whom it is written, Behold I send My messenger on ahead of You, who shall make ready Your way before You. [Mal. 3:1.]

11 Truly, I tell you, among those born of women there has not risen one greater than John the Baptist; yet he who is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

12 And from the days of John the Baptist until the present time the kingdom of heaven has endured violent assault, and violent men seize it by force [as a precious prize] — a ^cshare in the heavenly kingdom is sought for with most ardent zeal and intense exertion.

13 For all the Law and the prophets prophesied up until John,

14 And if you are willing to receive and accept it, John himself is Elijah who was to come [before the kingdom]. [Mal. 4:5.]

15 He who has ears to hear, let him be listening, and consider and ^dperceive and comprehend by hearing.

16 But to what shall I liken this generation? It is like little children sitting in the market places who call to their playmates, 17 We piped to you [playing wedding], and you did not dance; we wailed dirges [playing funeral], and you did not mourn and beat your breasts and weep aloud.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking with others, and they say, He has a demon!

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking with others and they say, Behold, a glutton and a wine drinker, a friend of tax collectors and ^despecially wicked sinners! Yet wisdom is justified and vindicated by what she does (her deeds) and by ^eher children.

20 Then He began to censure and reproach the cities in which most of His mighty works had been performed, because they did not repent — their hearts were not changed.

21 Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would long ago have repented in sackcloth and ashes — and their hearts have been changed.

22 I tell you [further], it shall be more endurable for Tyre and Sidon on the day of judgment than for you.

23 And you, Capernaum, are you to be lifted up to heaven? You shall be brought down to Hades [the region of the dead]! For if the mighty works done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have continued until today.

24 But I tell you, it shall be more endurable for the land of Sodom on the day of judgment than for you.

25 At that time Jesus began to say, I thank You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, and ^aacknowledge openly and joyfully to Your honor that you have hidden these things from the wise and clever and learned, and revealed them to babies — to the ^cchildish, untaught and unskilled.

26 Yes, Father, [I praise You that] such was Your gracious will and good pleasure.

27 All things were entrusted and delivered to Me by My Father; and no one ^bfully knows and ^aaccurately understands the Son except the Father; and no one ^bfully knows and ^aaccurately understands the Father except the Son and any one to whom the Son ^ddeliberately wills to make Him known.

28 Come to Me, all you who labor and are heavy-laden and over burdened, and I will cause you to rest — I will ^eease and relieve and ⁱrefresh ^eyour souls.

29 Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me; for I am gentle (meek) and humble (lowly) in heart, and you will find rest — ^hrelief, ease and refreshment and ^arecreation and blessed quiet — for your souls. [Jer. 6:16.]

30 For My yoke is wholesome (useful, ^ggood) — not harsh, hard, sharp or pressing, but comfortable, gracious and pleasant; and My burden is light and easy to be borne.

CHAPTER 12

AT that ^bparticular time Jesus went through the fields of standing grain on the Sabbath, and His disciples were hungry, and they began to pick off the spikes of grain and to eat. [Deut. 23:25.]

2 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said to Him, See there! Your disciples are doing what is unlawful and not permitted on the Sabbath.

3 He said to them, Have you not even read what David did when he was hungry, and those who accompanied him? [1 Sam. 21 :1-6; Lev. 24:9.]

4 How he went into the house of God and ate the loaves of the showbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for the men who accompanied him, but for the priests only?

5 Or have you never read in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the temple violate the sanctity of the Sabbath, breaking it, and yet are guiltless? [Num. 28:9, 10.]

6 But I tell you, Something greater and ^mmore exalted and more majestic than the temple is here!

7 And if you had only known what this saying means, I want mercy [readiness to help, to spare, to forgive] rather than sacrifice and sacrificial victims, you would not have condemned the guiltless. [Hos. 6:6.]

8 For the Son of man is Lord [even] of the Sabbath.

9 And going on from there, He went into their synagogue.

10 And behold, a man was there with one withered hand. And they said to Him, Is it lawful or allowable to cure people on the Sabbath days?

11 But He said to them, What man is there among you, if he has only one sheep, and it falls into a pit or ditch on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it and lift it out?

12 How much better and of more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful and allowable to do good on the Sabbath days.

13 Then He said to the man, Reach out your hand. And the man reached it out, and it was restored, sound as the other one.

14 But the Pharisees went out and held a consultation against Him, how they might do away with Him.

15 But being aware of this, Jesus went away from there. And many people ⁿjoined and accompanied Him, and He cured all of them,

16 And strictly charged them and sharply warned [them] not to make Him ^opublicly known.

17 This was in fulfillment of what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah,

18 Behold, My Servant Whom I have chosen, My Beloved in and with Whom My soul is well pleased and ^phas found its delight. I will put My Spirit upon Him, and He shall proclaim and ^qshow forth judgment to the nations.

19 He will not strive or wrangle or cry out loudly, nor will any one hear His voice in the streets;

20 A bruised reed He will not break, and a smoldering (dimly burning) wick He will not quench till He brings ^rjustice and a just cause to victory.

21 And in and on His name will the Gentiles — the ^speoples outside of Israel — set their hopes. [Isa. 42:1-4.]

22 Then a blind and dumb man, under the power of a demon, was brought to Jesus, and He cured him, so that the blind and dumb man both spoke and saw.

23 And all the [crowds of] people were stunned with bewildered wonder, and said, This cannot be the Son of David, can it?

24 But the Pharisees hearing it said, This ^tMan drives out demons only by and with the help of Beelzebub, the prince of demons.

25 And knowing their thoughts, He said to them, Any kingdom that is divided against itself is being brought to desolation and laid waste, and no city or house divided against itself will last or continue to stand.

26 And if Satan drives out Satan, he has become divided against himself and disunited; how then will his kingdom last or continue to stand?

27 And if I drive out the demons by [help of] Beelzebub, by whose [help] do your sons drive them out? 'For this reason they shall be your judges.

28 But if it is by the Spirit of God that I drive out the demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you [before you expected it].

29 Or how can a person go into a strong man's house and carry off his goods — the entire equipment of his house — without first binding the strong man? Then indeed he may plunder his house.

30 He who is not with Me (definitely 'on My side), is against Me, and he who does not (definitely) gather with Me and for 'My side, scatters.

31 Therefore I tell you, every sin and blasphemy — that is, every evil, abusive, 'injurious speaking or indignity against sacred things — can be forgiven men, but blasphemy against the (Holy) Spirit shall not and 'cannot be forgiven.

32 And whoever speaks a word against the Son of man will be forgiven, but whoever speaks against the Spirit, the Holy One, will not be forgiven, either in this world and age or in the world and age to come.

33 Either make the tree sound (healthy and good), and its fruit sound (healthy and good), or make the tree rotten (diseased and bad) and its fruit rotten (diseased and bad); for the tree is known and recognized and judged by its fruit.

34 You offspring of vipers! How can you speak good things when you are evil — wicked? For out of the fullness — the overflow, the 'superabundance — of the heart the mouth speaks.

35 The good man from his inner good treasure 'flings forth good things, and the evil man out of his inner evil storehouse 'flings forth evil things.

36 But I tell you, on the day of judgment men will have to give account for every 'idle (inoperative, non-working) word they speak.

37 For by your words you will be justified and acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned and sentenced.

38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees said to Him, Teacher, we desire to see a sign or miracle from You [proving that You are what You claim to be].

39 But He replied to them, An evil and adulterous generation [that is, a generation 'morally unfaithful to God] seeks and demands a sign; but no sign shall be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah.

40 For even as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the sea monster, so will the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. [Jonah 1:17.]

41 The men of Nineveh will stand up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, Someone more and greater than Jonah is here! [Jonah 3:5.]

42 The queen of the South will stand up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for she came from the ends of the earth to listen to the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, Someone more and greater than Solomon is here. [I Kings 10:1; II Chron. 9:1.]

43 But when the unclean spirit has gone out of a man, he roams through dry places in search of rest, but he does not find any.

44 Then he says, I will go back to my house from which I came out. And when he arrives he finds the place unoccupied, swept, put in order and decorated.

45 Then he goes and brings with him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they go in and make their home there. And the last condition of that man becomes worse than the first. So also shall it be with this wicked generation.

people when behold, His mother and brothers stood outside, seeking to speak to Him.

47 Some one said to Him, Listen! Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, seeking to speak to You.

48 But He replied to the man who told Him, Who is My mother, and who are My brothers?

49 And stretching out His hand toward [not only the twelve disciples but all] ^aHis adherents, He said, Here are My mother and My brothers.

50 For whoever does the will of My Father in heaven is My brother and sister and mother!

CHAPTER 13

THAT same day Jesus went out of the house and was sitting beside the sea.

2 But such great crowds gathered about Him that He got into a boat and remained sitting there, while all the throng stood on the shore.

3 And He told them many things in parables — that is, stories by way of illustration; saying, A sower went out to sow,

4 And as he sowed, some seeds fell by the roadside, and the birds came and ate them up.

5 Other seeds fell on rocky ground, where they had not much soil, and at once they sprang up, because they had no depth of soil;

6 But when the sun rose they were scorched, and because they had no root they dried up and withered away.

7 Other seeds fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them out.

8 Other seeds fell on good soil and yielded grain, some a hundred times as much as was sown, some sixty times as much, and some thirty.

9 He who has ears [to hear], let him be listening and ^yconsider and ^aperceive and comprehend by hearing.

10 Then the disciples came to Him and said, Why do You speak to them in parables?

11 And He replied to them, To you it has been given to know the secrets and mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given.

12 For whoever has [spiritual knowledge], to him will more be given and he will ^abe furnished richly, so that he will have abundance; but from him who has not, even what he has will be taken away.

13 This is the reason that I speak to them in parables, because ^ahaving the power of seeing they do not see, and ^ahaving the power of hearing they do not hear, nor do they grasp and understand.

14 In them indeed is ^bthe process of fulfillment of the prophecy of Isaiah which says: You shall indeed hear and hear, but never grasp and understand; and you shall indeed look and look, but never see and perceive.

15 For this nation's heart has grown gross — fat and dull; and their ears heavy and difficult of hearing, and their eyes they have tightly closed, lest they see and perceive with their eyes, and hear and comprehend the sense with their ears, and grasp and understand with their heart, and turn and I should heal them. [Isa. 6:9, 10.]

16 But blessed — happy, fortunate and ^eto be envied — are your eyes, because they do see, and your ears, because they do hear.

17 Truly, I tell you, many prophets and righteous men — men who were upright and in right standing with God — yearned to see what you see, and did not see it, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear it.

18 Listen then to the parable of the sower.

19 ^dWhile any one is hearing the Word of the kingdom and does not grasp and comprehend it, the evil one comes and snatches away what is sown in his heart. This is what was sown along the roadside.

20 As for what was sown on thin (rocky) soil, this is he who hears the

x) Cremer. y) Thayer. z) Abbott-Smith. a) Thayer. b) Vincent. c) Souter. d) Vincent.

Word and at once welcomes and accepts it with joy;

21 Yet it has no real root in himself, but is temporary — inconstant, ^elasts but a little while and when affliction or trouble or persecution comes on account of the Word, at once he is caused to stumble — he is repelled and ^begins to distrust and desert Him Whom he ought to trust and obey, and he falls away.

22 As for what was sown among thorns, this is he who hears the Word, but the cares of the world and the pleasure and delight and glamour and deceitfulness of riches choke and suffocate the Word, and it yields no fruit.

23 As for what was sown on good soil, this is he who hears the Word and grasps and comprehends it; he indeed bears fruit, and yields in one case a hundred times as much as was sown, in another sixty times as much, and in another thirty.

24 Another parable He set forth before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field;

25 But while he was sleeping, his enemy came and sowed also darnel [black, wild wheat] among the wheat, and went his way.

26 So when the plants sprouted and formed grain, the darnel [weeds resembling wheat] appeared also.

27 And the servants of the owner came to him and said, Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? Then how does it have darnel shoots in it?

28 He replied to them, An enemy has done this. The servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and weed them out?

29 But he said, No, lest in gathering the wild wheat you root up the [true] wheat along with it.

30 Let them grow together until the harvest; and at harvest time I will say to the reapers, Gather the darnel first and bind it in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my granary.

31 Another story by way of comparison He set forth before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field.

32 Of all the seeds it is the smallest, but when it has grown it is the largest of the garden herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and find shelter in its branches.

33 He told them another parable: The kingdom of heaven is like leaven (^esour dough) which a woman took and covered over in three measures of meal or flour, till all of it was leavened. [Gen. 18:6.]

34 These things ^ball taken together Jesus said to the crowds in parables; indeed without a parable He said nothing to them.

35 This was in fulfillment of what was spoken by the prophet: I will open My mouth in parables; I will utter things that have been hidden since the foundation of the world. [Ps. 78:2.]

36 Then He left the throngs and went into the house. And His disciples came to Him saying, Explain to us the parable of the darnel in the field.

37 He answered, He Who sows the good seed is the Son of man;

38 The field is the world, and the good seed means the children of the kingdom; the darnel is the children of the evil one,

39 And the enemy who sowed it is the devil; the harvest is the close and consummation of the age, and the reapers are angels.

40 Just as the darnel (wild wheat) is gathered and burned with fire, so it will be at the close of the age.

41 The Son of man will send forth His angels, and they will gather out of His kingdom all causes of offense — ⁱpersons by whom others are drawn into error or sin — and all who do iniquity and act wickedly, 42 And cast them into the furnace of fire; there will be weeping and wailing and grinding of teeth.

43 Then will the righteous — those who are upright and in right standing with God — shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Let him who has ears be listening, and consider and perceive and understand by listening.

44 The kingdom of heaven is like something precious buried in a field, which a man found and hid again; then in his joy he goes and sells all he has and buys that field.

45 Again the kingdom of heaven is like a man who is a dealer in search of fine and precious pearls, 46 Who, on finding a single pearl of great price, went and sold all he had and bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet which was cast into the sea and gathered in fish of every sort;

48 When it was full, men dragged it up on the beach and sat down and sorted out the good fish into vessels, but the worthless ones they threw away.

49 So it will be at the close and consummation of the age. The angels will go forth and separate the wicked from the righteous — those who are upright and in right standing with God —

50 And cast [the wicked] into the furnace of fire; there will be weeping and wailing and grinding of teeth.

51 Have you understood all these [parables] taken together? They said to Him, Yes, Lord.

52 He said to them, Therefore every teacher and interpreter of the Sacred Writings who has been instructed and trained for the kingdom of heaven and become a disciple, is like a householder who brings forth out of his storehouse treasure that is new and [treasure that is] old — the fresh [as well as] the familiar.

53 When Jesus had finished these parables — these comparisons — He left there.

54 And coming to His own country [Capernaum] He taught in their synagogue so that they were amazed with bewildered wonder, and said, Where did this Man get this wisdom and these miraculous powers?

55 Is not this the carpenter's Son? Is not His mother called Mary? And are not His brothers James and Joseph and Simon and Judas?

56 And do not all His sisters live here among us? Where then did this Man get all this?

57 And they took offense at Him — [that is], they were repelled and hindered from acknowledging His authority and caused to stumble. But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honor except in his own country and in his own house.

58 And He did not do many works of power there, because of their unbelief — their lack of faith [in the divine mission of Jesus].

CHAPTER 14

AT that time Herod the governor heard the reports about Jesus.

2 And he said to his attendants, This is John the Baptist; He has been raised from the dead, and that is why the powers of performing miracles are at work in Him.

3 For Herod had arrested John and bound him and (to cast him out of the way) put him in prison, on account and for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife; for John had said to him,

4 It is not lawful or right for you to have her. [Lev. 18:16; 20:21.]

5 Although he wished to have him put to death, he was afraid of the people, for they regarded John as a prophet.

6 But when Herod's birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst [before the company], and pleased and fascinated Herod,

7 And so he promised with an oath to give her whatever she might ask.

8 And she, being put forward and prompted by her mother, said, Give me the head of John the Baptist right here on a *platter.

9 And the king was distressed and sorry; but because of his oaths and his guests he ordered it to be given her;

10 He sent and had John beheaded in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in on a *platter and given to the little maid, and she brought it to her mother.

12 And John's disciples came and took up the body and buried it. Then they went and told Jesus.

13 When Jesus heard it, He withdrew from there privately in a boat to a solitary place. But when the crowds heard of it, they followed Him by land on foot from the towns.

14 When He went ashore and saw a great throng of people, He had compassion (pity and deep sympathy) for them and cured their sick.

15 When evening came, the disciples came to Him and said, This is a remote and barren place, and the day is now over; send the throngs away into the villages to buy food for themselves.

16 Jesus said, They do not need to go away; you give them something to eat.

17 They said to Him, We have nothing here but five loaves and two fish.

18 He said, Bring them here to Me.

19 Then He ordered the crowds to recline on the grass; and He took the five loaves and two fish, and looking up to heaven He gave thanks, and blessed and broke the loaves and handed the pieces to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the people.

20 And they all ate and were satisfied. And they picked up twelve [psmall hand] baskets full of the broken pieces left over.

21 And those who ate were about five thousand men, not including women and children.

22 Then He directed the disciples to get into the boat and go before Him to the other side, while He sent away the crowds.

23 And after He had dismissed the multitude, He went up into the hills by Himself to pray. When it was evening He was still there alone.

24 But the boat was by this time out on the sea, many furlongs [one-eighth miles] distant from the land, beaten and tossed by the waves, for the wind was against them.

25 And in the fourth watch [between three and six o'clock] of the night, Jesus came to them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea, they were terrified, and said, It is a ghost! And they screamed out with fright.

27 But instantly He spoke to them, saying, Take courage! I AM; stop being afraid! [Exod. 3:14.]

28 And Peter answered Him, Lord, if it is You, command me to come to You on the water.

29 He said, Come! So Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water, and he came to Jesus;

30 But when he perceived and felt the strong wind, he was frightened, and as he began to sink, he cried out, Lord, save me [from death]!

31 Instantly Jesus reached out His hand and caught and held him, saying to him, O you of little faith, why did you doubt?

32 And when they got into the boat, the wind ceased.

33 And those in the boat knelt and worshipped Him, saying, Truly, You are the Son of God!

34 And when they had crossed over to the other side, they went ashore at Gennesaret.

35 And when the men of that place recognized Him, they sent around into all the surrounding country and brought to Him all that were sick, 36 And begged Him to let them merely touch the fringe of His garment; and as many as touched it were perfectly restored. [Num. 15:38.]

CHAPTER 15

THEN from Jerusalem there came scribes and Pharisees and said,

2 Why do You disciples transgress and violate the rules handed down by the elders of the past? For they do not practice [ceremonially] washing their hands before they eat.

3 He replied to them, And why also do you transgress and violate the commandment of God for the sake of the rules handed down to you by your forefathers — the elders?

4 For God commanded, Honor your father and your mother, and, He who curses or reviles or speaks evil of or abuses or treats improperly his father or mother, let him surely come to his end by death. [Exod. 20:12; Deut. 5:16; Exod. 21:17; Lev. 20:9.]

5 But you say, If any one tells his father or mother, What you would have gained from me [that is, the money and whatever I have that might be used for helping you] is already dedicated as a gift to God, then he is exempt and no longer under obligation to honor and help his father and his mother.

6 So for the sake of your tradition (the rules handed down by your forefathers), you have set aside the Word of God — depriving it of force and authority and making it of no effect.

7 You pretenders — hypocrites! Admirably and truly did Isaiah prophesy of you when he said:

8 This people draw near Me with their mouth and honor Me with their lips, but their heart holds off and is far away from Me;

9 Uselessly do they worship Me, for they teach as doctrines the commands of men. [Isa. 29:13.]

10 And Jesus called the people to Him and said to them, Listen, and grasp and comprehend this:

11 It is not what goes into the mouth of a man that makes him unclean and defiled, but what comes out of the mouth; this makes a man unclean and defiles [him].

12 Then the disciples came and said to Him, Do You know that the Pharisees were displeased and offended and indignant when they heard this saying?

13 He answered, Every plant which My heavenly Father has not planted will be torn up by the roots. [Isa. 60:21.]

14 Let them alone and disregard them; they are blind guides and teachers. And if a blind man leads a blind man, both will fall into a ditch.

15 But Peter said to Him, Explain this ^qproverb — this ^rmaxim — to us.

16 And He said, Are you also even yet dull and ignorant — without understanding and ^sunable to put things together?

17 Do you not see and understand that whatever goes into the mouth passes into the ^tabdomen, and so passes on into the place where discharges are deposited?

18 But what comes out of the mouth comes from the heart, and this is what makes a man unclean and defiles [him].

19 For out of the heart come evil thoughts (reasonings and disputings and designs) such as murder, adultery, sexual vice, theft, false witnessing, slander and irreverent speech.

20 These are what make a man unclean and defile [him]; but eating with hands unwashed does not make him unclean or defile [him].

21 And going away from there, Jesus withdrew to the district of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman who was a Canaanite of that district came out and with a [loud, troublesomely urgent] cry begged, Have mercy on me, O Lord, Son of David! My daughter is miserably and distressingly and cruelly possessed by a demon!

23 But He did not answer her a word. And His disciples came and implored Him, saying, Send her away, for she is crying after us.

24 He answered, I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25 But she came and kneeling, worshipped Him, and kept praying, Lord, help me!

26 And he answered, It is not right — proper, becoming or fair — to take the children's bread and throw it to the "little dogs.

27 She said, Yes, Lord, yet even the "little pups eat the crumbs that fall from their (young) masters' table.

28 Then Jesus answered her, O woman, great is your faith! Be it done for you as you wish. And her daughter was cured from that "moment.

29 And Jesus went on from there and passed along the shore of the sea of Galilee. Then He went up into the hills and kept sitting there.

30 And a great multitude came to Him, bringing with them the lame, the maimed, the blind, the dumb, and many others, and they put them down at His feet and He cured them.

31 So that the crowd was amazed when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, the lame walking, and the blind seeing, and they *recognized and praised and thanked and glorified the God of Israel.

32 Then Jesus called His disciples to Him and said, I have pity and sympathy and am deeply moved for the crowd, because they have been with Me now three days, and they have nothing [at all left] to eat, and I am not willing to send them away hungry lest they faint or become exhausted on the way.

33 And the disciples said to Him, Where are we to get bread sufficient to feed so great a crowd in this isolated and desert place?

34 And Jesus asked them, How many loaves of bread do you have? They replied, Seven and a few small fish.

35 And ordering the crowd to recline on the ground,

36 He took the seven loaves and the fish, and when He had given thanks He broke them and gave them to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the people.

37 And they all ate and were satisfied; and they gathered up seven [large provision] baskets full of the broken pieces that were left.

38 Those who ate were four thousand men, not including the women and the children.

39 Then He dismissed the crowds, got into the boat, and went to the district of Magadan.

CHAPTER 16

NOW the Pharisees and Sadducees came up to Jesus and they asked Him to show them a sign (spectacular miracle) from heaven — attesting His divine authority.

2 He replied to them, When it is evening you say, It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be stormy today, for the sky is red and has a gloomy and threatening look. You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times.

4 A wicked and morally unfaithful generation craves for a sign, but no sign shall be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. Then He left them and went away. [Jonah 3:4, 5.]

5 When the disciples reached the other side of the sea, they found they had forgotten to bring any bread.

6 Jesus said to them, Be careful and on your guard against the leaven (ferment) of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

7 And they reasoned among themselves about it, saying, [It is] because we did not bring any bread.

8 But Jesus, aware of this asked, Why are you discussing among yourselves the fact that you have no bread? O [men, how] little trust [you have in Me, how] — little faith!

9 Do you not yet discern — perceive and understand? Do you not remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many [^asmall hand] baskets you gathered?

10 Nor the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many [^alarge] provision baskets you took up?

11 How is it that you fail to understand that I was not talking to you about bread? But beware of the leaven (ferment) of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

12 Then they discerned that He did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 Now when Jesus went into the region of Caesarea Philippi, He asked His disciples, Who do people say that the Son of man is?

14 And they answered, Some say John the Baptist, others say Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets.

15 He said to them, But who do you [yourselves] say that I am?

16 Simon Peter replied, You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17 Then Jesus answered him, Blessed — happy, fortunate and ^bto be envied — are you, Simon Bar-Jonah. For flesh and blood [men] have not revealed this to you, but My Father Who is in heaven.

18 And I tell you, you are Peter [Petros, masculine, a large piece of rock], and on this rock [petra, feminine, a ^chuge rock like Gibraltar] I will build My church, and the gates of Hades (the powers of the ^cinfernal region) shall ^dnot overpower it — or be strong to its detriment, or hold out against it.

19 I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind — that is, declare to be improper and unlawful — on earth ^emust be already bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth — declare lawful — ^emust be what is already loosed in heaven. [Isa. 22:22.]

20 Then He sternly and strictly charged and warned the disciples to tell no one that He was Jesus the Christ.

21 From that time forth Jesus began [clearly] to show His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things at the hands of the elders and the high priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised ^ffrom death.

22 Then Peter took Him aside ^gto speak to Him privately, and began to reprove and ^hcharge Him sharply, saying, God forbid, Lord! This must never happen to You!

23 But Jesus turned ^gaway from Peter and said to him, Get behind Me, Satan! You are in My way — an offense and a hindrance and a snare to Me; for you are ^gminding what partakes not of the nature and quality of God, but of men.

24 Then Jesus said to His disciples, If any one desires to be My disciple, let him deny himself — that is, disregard, lose sight of and forget himself and his own interests — and take up his cross and follow Me [^hcleave steadily to Me, conform wholly to My example in living and if need be in dying, also].

25 For whoever is bent on saving his [temporal] life [his comfort and security here], shall lose [eternal life]; and whoever loses his life [his comfort and security here] for My sake, shall find [life everlasting].

26 For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world and forfeits his life — his [blessed] ⁱlife in the kingdom of God? Or what would a man give as an exchange for his [blessed] ⁱlife — in the kingdom of God?

27 For the Son of man is going to come in the glory (majesty, splendor) of

His Father, with His angels, and then He will render account and reward every man in accordance with what he has done.

CHAPTER 17

AND six days after this Jesus took with Him Peter and James and John his brother, and led them up on a high mountain by themselves.

2 And His appearance underwent a change in their presence, and His face shone clear and bright like the sun, and His clothing became white as light.

3 And behold, there appeared to them Moses and Elijah, who kept talking with Him.

4 Then Peter began to speak and said to Jesus, Lord, it is good and delightful that we are here; if You approve, I will put up three booths here, one for You and one for Moses and one for Elijah.

5 While he was still speaking, lo, a shining cloud (⁴composed of light) overshadowed them, and a voice from the cloud said, This is My Son, My Beloved, with Whom I am [and 'have always been] delighted. Listen to Him! [Isa. 42:1; Ps. 2:7.]

6 When the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces and were ⁸seized with alarm and struck with fear.

7 But Jesus came and touched them, and said, Get up, and do not be afraid.

8 And when they raised their eyes they saw no one but Jesus only.

9 And as they were going down the mountain, Jesus cautioned and commanded them, Do not mention to any one what you have seen, until the Son of man is raised from the dead.

10 The disciples asked Him, Then why do the scribes say that first Elijah must come?

11 He replied, Elijah does come and will get everything restored and ready;

12 But I tell you that Elijah has come already, and they did not know or recognize him, but did to him as they liked. So also the Son of man is going to be treated and suffer at their hands.

13 Then the disciples understood that He spoke to them about John the Baptist. [Mal. 4:5.]

14 And when they approached the multitude, a man came up to Him, kneeling before Him and saying,

15 Lord, do pity and have mercy on my son, for he has epilepsy (is ¹⁰moon-struck) and he suffers terribly, for frequently he falls into the fire, and many times into the water.

16 And I brought him to Your disciples, and they were not able to cure him.

17 And Jesus answered, O you unbelieving (¹⁰warped, wayward, rebellious) and ¹⁰thoroughly perverse generation! How long am I to remain with you? How long am I to bear with you? Bring him here to Me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the demon, and it came out of him; and the boy was cured instantly.

19 Then the disciples came to Jesus and asked privately, Why could we not drive it out?

20 He said to them, Because of the littleness of your faith — that is, your lack of ¹⁰firmly relying trust. For truly, I say to you, if you have faith [⁹that is living] like a grain of mustard seed, you can say to this mountain, Move from here to yonder place, and it will move, and nothing will be impossible to you.

21 But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting.

22 When they were going about here and there in Galilee, Jesus said to them, The Son of man is going to be turned over to the hands of men.

23 And they will kill Him, and He will rise [to life] again on the third day.

And they were deeply and exceedingly grieved and distressed.

24 When they arrived in Capernaum, the collectors of the half-shekel [the temple tax] went up to Peter and said, Does not your Teacher pay the half-shekel? [Exod. 30:13; 38:26.]

25 He answered, Yes. And when he came home, Jesus spoke to him [about it] first, saying, What do you think, Simon? From whom do earthly rulers collect duties or tribute? from their own sons or from others 'not of their own family?

26 And when Peter said, From other people — 'not of their own family — Jesus said to him, Then the sons are exempt.

27 However, in order not to give offense and cause them to stumble — that is, 'to judge unfavorably and unjustly — go down to the sea and throw in a hook; take the first fish that comes up, and when you open its mouth you will find there a shekel. Take it and give it to them to pay the temple tax for Me and for yourself.

CHAPTER 18

AT that time the disciples came up and asked Jesus, Who then is [really] the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2 And He called a little child to Him and put him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Truly, I say to you, unless you repent (change, turn about) and become like little children [trusting, lowly, loving, forgiving] you can never enter the kingdom of heaven at all.

4 Whoever will humble himself therefore, and becomes [trusting, lowly, loving, forgiving] as this little child, is greatest in the kingdom of heaven;

5 And whoever receives and accepts and welcomes one little child like this for My sake and in My name receives and accepts and welcomes Me.

6 But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in and 'acknowledge and cleave to Me to stumble and sin — that is, who entices him, or hinders him in right conduct or thought — it would be better ('more expedient and profitable or advantageous) for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be sunk in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe to the world for such temptations to sin and influences to do wrong! It is necessary that temptations come, but woe to the person on whose account or by whom the temptation comes!

8 And if your hand or your foot causes you to stumble and sin, cut it off and throw it away from you; it is better (more profitable and wholesome) for you to enter life maimed or lame than with two hands or two feet to be thrown into everlasting fire.

9 And if your eye causes you to stumble and sin, pluck it out and throw it away from you; it is better, (more profitable and wholesome) for you to enter life with only one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into the hell (Gehenna) of fire.

10 Beware that you do not despise or feel scornful toward or think little of one of these little ones, for I tell you that in heaven their angels always are in the presence of and look upon the face of My Father Who is in heaven.

11 For the Son of man came to save ('from the penalty of eternal death) that which was lost.

12 What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep, and one of them has gone astray and gets lost, will he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountain and go in search of the one that is lost?

13 And if it should be that he finds it, truly I say to you, he rejoices more over it than over the ninety-nine that did not get lost.

14 Just so it is not the will of My Father Who is in heaven that one of these little ones should be lost and perish.

15 If your brother wrongs you, go and show him his fault, between you and him privately. If he listens to you, you have won back your brother.

16 But if he does not listen, take along with you one or two others, so that every word may be confirmed and upheld by the testimony of two or three witnesses.

17 If he pays no attention to them — refusing to listen and obey — tell it to the church; and if he refuses to listen even to the church, let him be to you as a pagan and a tax collector. [Lev. 19:17; Deut. 19:15.]

18 Truly, I tell you, whatever you forbid and declare to be improper and unlawful on earth must be ^wwhat is already forbidden in heaven, and whatever you permit and declare proper and lawful on earth must be ^walready permitted in heaven.

19 Again I tell you, if two of you on earth agree (harmonize together, together make a symphony) about — anything and ^weverything — whatever they shall ask, it will come to pass and be done for them by My Father in heaven.

20 For wherever two or three are gathered (drawn together as My followers) in (into) My name, there I AM in the midst of them. [Exod. 3:14.]

21 Then Peter came up to Him and said, Lord, how many times may my brother sin against me, and I forgive him and ^wlet it go? As many as up to seven times?

22 Jesus answered him, I tell you, not up to seven times, but seventy times seven! [Gen. 4:24.]

23 Therefore the kingdom of heaven is like a human king who wished to settle accounts with his attendants.

24 When he began the accounting, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents [probably about $10,000,000],

25 And because he could not pay, his master ordered him to be sold, with his wife and his children and everything that he possessed, and payment to be made.

26 So the attendant fell on his knees, begging him, Have patience with me and I will pay you everything.

27 And his master's heart was moved with compassion, and he released him and forgave him (cancelling) the debt.

28 But that same attendant, as he went out, found one of his fellow attendants who owed him a hundred denarii [about twenty dollars]; and he caught him by the throat and said, Pay what you owe!

29 So his fellow attendant fell down and begged him earnestly, Give me time, and I will pay you all!

30 But he was unwilling and went out and had him put in prison till he should pay the debt.

31 When his fellow attendants saw what had happened, they were greatly distressed, and they went and told everything that had taken place to their master.

32 Then his master called him and said to him, You contemptible and wicked attendant! I forgave and cancelled all that [great] debt of yours because you begged me;

33 And should you not have had pity and mercy on your fellow attendant, as I had pity and mercy on you?

34 And in wrath his master turned him over to the torturers (the jailers), till he should pay all that he owed.

35 So also My heavenly Father will deal with every one of you, if you do not freely forgive your brother from your heart his offenses.

CHAPTER 19

NOW when Jesus had finished saying these things. He left Galilee and went into the part of Judea that is beyond the Jordan;

2 And great throngs accompanied Him, and He cured them there.

3 And Pharisees came to Him and put Him to the test by asking, Is it lawful and right to dismiss and repudiate and divorce one's wife for any and ^vevery cause?

4 He replied, Have you never read that He Who made them from the beginning made them male and female,

5 And said, For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and shall be united firmly (joined inseparably) to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh? [Gen. 1:27; 2:24.]

6 So they are no longer two but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let not man put asunder (separate).

7 They said to Him, Why then did Moses command [us] to give a certificate of divorce, and thus to dismiss and repudiate a wife? [Deut. 24:1-4.]

8 He said to them, Because of the hardness (stubbornness and perversity) of your hearts Moses permitted you to dismiss and repudiate and divorce your wives; but from the beginning it has not been so [ordained].

9 I say to you: whoever dismisses (repudiates, divorces) his wife, except for unchastity, and marries another, commits adultery, and he who marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

10 The disciples said to Him, If the case of a man with his wife is like that, it is neither profitable nor advisable to marry.

11 But He said to them, Not all men can accept this saying, but it is for those to whom [the capacity to receive] it has been given.

12 For there are eunuchs who have been born incapable of marriage, and there are eunuchs who have been made so by men, and there are eunuchs who have made themselves incapable of marriage for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Let him who is able to accept this, accept it.

13 Then little children were brought to Jesus that He might put His hands on them and pray, but the disciples rebuked those who brought them.

14 But He said, Leave the children alone! Allow the little ones to come to Me, and do not forbid or restrain or hinder them, for of such [as these] the kingdom of heaven is composed.

15 And He put His hands upon them, and then went His way.

16 And behold, there came a man up to Him, saying, Teacher, what excellent, and perfectly and essentially good deed must I do to possess eternal life? [Lev. 18:5.]

17 And He said to him, Why do you ask Me about the perfectly and essentially good? One only there is who is good — perfectly and essentially; God. If you would enter into the Life, you must continually keep the commandments.

18 He said to Him, What sort of commandments? — Or, which ones? And Jesus answered, You shall not kill, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not steal, You shall not bear false witness, [Exod. 20:12-16; Deut. 5:16-20.]

19 Honor your father and your mother, and, You shall love your neighbor as yourself. [Lev. 19:18.]

20 The young man said, I have observed all these from my youth; what still do I lack?

21 Jesus answered him, If you would be perfect [that is, have that spiritual maturity which accompanies self-sacrificing character], go and sell what you have and give to the poor, and you will have riches in heaven; and come, be My disciple — side with My party and follow Me.

22 But when the young man heard this, he went away sad (grieved and in much distress), for he had great possessions.

23 And Jesus said to His disciples, Truly, I say to you, it will be difficult for a rich man to get into the kingdom of heaven.

24 Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to go into the kingdom of heaven.

25 When the disciples heard this, they were utterly puzzled (astonished, bewildered), saying, Who then can be saved [^dfrom eternal death]?

26 But Jesus looked at them and said, With men this is impossible, but all things are possible with God. [Gen. 18:14; Job 42:2.]

27 Then Peter answered Him saying, Lo, we have left [our] all and have become ^eYour disciples — sided with Your party and followed You. What then shall we receive?

28 Jesus said to them, Truly, I say to you, in the new age — the ^eMessianic rebirth of the world — when the Son of man shall sit down on the throne of His glory, you who have [become My disciples, sided with My party and] followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones and judge the twelve tribes of Israel.

29 And any one and every one who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or children or lands for My name's sake, will receive ^fmany — even a hundred — times more, and inherit eternal life.

30 But many that [now] are first will be last [then], and many who [now] are last will be first [then].

CHAPTER 20

FOR the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of an estate who went out in the morning ^aalong with the dawn to hire workmen for his vineyard.

2 After agreeing with the laborers for a denarius a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And going out about the third hour (nine o'clock) he saw others standing idle in the market place;

4 And he said to them, You go also into the vineyard, and whatever is right I will pay you. And they went.

5 He went out again about the sixth hour (noon), and the ninth hour (three o'clock) he did the same.

6 And about the eleventh hour (five o'clock) he went out and found still others standing around, and said to them, Why do you stand here idle all day?

7 They answered him, Because nobody has hired us. He told them, You go out into the vineyard also and you will get whatever is just and fair.

8 When evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his manager, Call the workmen and pay them their wages, beginning with the last and ending with the first. [Lev. 19:13; Deut. 24:15.]

9 And they who had been hired at the eleventh hour (five o'clock) came, and received a denarius each.

10 Now when the first came, they supposed they would get more, but each of them also received a denarius.

11 And when they received it they grumbled at the owner of the estate, 12 Saying, These who came last worked no more than an hour, and yet you have made them rank with us who have borne the burden and the ^bscorching heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them. Friend, I am doing you no injustice. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?

14 Take what belongs to you and go. I choose to give to this man hired last the same as I give to you.

15 Am I not permitted to do what I choose with what is mine? Or do you begrudge my being generous? Is your eye evil because I am good?

16 So those who [now] are last will be first [then], and those who [now] are first will be last [then]. For many are called, but few chosen.

17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, He took the twelve disciples aside along the way, and said to them,

18 Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man will be handed over to the chief priests and scribes and they will sentence Him to death, 19 And deliver Him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and whipped and crucified, and He will be raised [to life] on the third day.

20 Then the mother of Zebedee's children came up to Him with her sons, and kneeling, worshipped Him and asked a favor of Him.

21 And He asked her, What do you wish? She answered Him, Give orders that these two sons of mine may sit, one at Your right hand and one at Your left in Your kingdom.

22 But Jesus replied, You do not realize what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink and to be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized? They answered, We are able.

23 He said to them, You will drink My cup, but seats at My right hand and at My left are not Mine to give, but they are for those for whom they have been ordained and prepared by My Father.

24 But when the ten [other disciples] heard this, they were indignant at the two brothers.

25 And Jesus called them to Him and said, You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great men hold them in subjection, tyrannizing over them.

26 Not so shall it be among you; but whoever wishes to be great among you must be your servant,

27 And whoever desires to be first among you must be your slave;

28 Just as the Son of man came not to be waited on but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many — the price paid to set them free.

29 And as they were going out of Jericho, a great throng accompanied Him.

30 And behold, two blind men were sitting by the roadside, and when they heard that Jesus was passing by, they cried out, Lord, have pity and mercy on us, [You] Son of David!

31 The crowds reproved them and told them to keep still; but they cried out the more, Lord, have pity and mercy on us, [You] Son of David!

32 And Jesus stopped and called them, and asked, What do you want Me to do for you?

33 They answered Him, Lord, we want our eyes to be opened!

34 And Jesus in pity touched their eyes, and instantly they received their sight and followed Him.

CHAPTER 21

AND when they came near Jerusalem and had reached Bethphage, at the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two disciples on ahead,

2 Saying to them, Go into the village that is opposite you, and at once you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her; untie her and bring them to Me.

3 If any one says anything to you, you shall reply, The Lord needs them, and he will let them go without delay.

4 This happened that what was spoken by the prophet might be fulfilled, saying,

5 Say to the daughter of Zion [inhabitants of Jerusalem], Behold your King is coming to you, lowly and riding on a donkey, and on a colt, the foal of a donkey [a beast of burden]. [Isa. 62:11; Zech. 9:9.]

6 Then the disciples went and did as Jesus had directed them.

7 They brought the donkey and the colt and laid their coats upon them, and He seated Himself on [the clothing].

8 And most of the crowd kept spreading their garments on the road, and others kept cutting branches from the trees and scattering them on the road.

9 And the crowds that went ahead of Him and those that followed Him kept shouting, Hosanna (ⁱO be propitious, graciously inclined) to the Son of David, ^jthe Messiah! Blessed (praised, glorified) be He Who comes in the name of the Lord! Hosanna (O be favorably disposed) in the highest (heaven)! [Ps. 118:26.]

10 And when He entered Jerusalem, all the city became agitated, and ^ktrem-bling with excitement said, Who is 'This?

11 And the crowds replied, This is the prophet Jesus from Nazareth of Galilee.

12 And Jesus went into the temple (whole temple enclosure) and drove out all who bought and sold in the sacred place, and He turned over the four-footed tables of the money-changers and the chairs of those who sold pigeons.

13 He said to them, The Scripture says, My house shall be called a house of prayer, but you have made it a den of robbers. [Isa. 56:7; Jer. 7:11.]

14 And the blind and the lame came to Him in the porches and courts of the temple, and He cured them.

15 But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that He did, and the boys and the girls and the youths and the maidens crying out in the porches and courts of the temple, Hosanna (O be propitious, graciously inclined) to the Son of David! they were indignant.

16 And they said to Him, Do You hear what these are saying? And Jesus replied to them, Yes; have you never read, Out of the mouths of children and infants You have made (provided) perfect praise? [Ps. 8:2.]

17 And leaving them, He departed from the city and went out to Bethany and lodged there.

18 In the early dawn next morning, as He was coming back to the city He was hungry.

19 And as He saw one single leafy fig tree above the roadside He went to it [seeing that in the fig tree the fruit appears at the same time as the leaves], but He found nothing but leaves on it. And He said to it, Never again shall fruit grow on you! And the fig tree withered up at once.

20 When the disciples saw it they marveled greatly and asked, How is it that the fig tree has withered away all at once?

21 And Jesus answered them, Truly, I say to you, if you have faith — a firm relying trust — and do not doubt, you will not only do what has been done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, Be taken up and cast into the sea, it will be done.

22 And whatever you ask for in prayer, having faith and [really] believing, you will receive.

23 And when He entered the sacred enclosure of the temple, the chief priests and elders of the people came up to Him as He was teaching and said, By what power of authority are You doing these things, and who gave You this power of authority?

24 Jesus answered them, I also will ask you a question, and if you give Me the answer, then I also will tell you by what power of authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, from whence was it? From heaven or from men? And they reasoned and argued with one another, If we say, From heaven, He will ask us, Why then did you not believe him?

26 But if we say, From men, we are afraid of and must reckon with the multitude; for they all regard John as a prophet.

27 So they answered Jesus, We do not know. And He said to them, Nor will I tell you by what power of authority I do these things.

28 What do you think? There was a man who had two sons. He came to the first and said, Son, go and work today in the vineyard.

29 And he answered, I will not; but afterward he changed his mind and went.

30 Then the man came to the second and said the same [thing], and he replied, I will [go], sir; but he did not go.

31 Which of the two did the will of the father? They replied, The first one. Jesus said to them, Truly, I tell you, the tax collectors and the harlots will get into the kingdom of heaven before you.

32 For John came to you walking in the way of an upright man in right standing with God, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the harlots did believe him; and you, even when you saw that, did not afterward change your minds and believe him — adhere to, trust in and rely on what he told you.

33 Listen to another parable. There was a master of a house who planted a vineyard, and put a hedge around it, and dug a wine vat in it, and built a watchtower. Then he let it out to tenants, and went into another country.

34 When the fruit season drew near, he sent his servants to the tenants, to get his [share of the] fruit;

35 But the tenants took his servants and beat one, killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again he sent other servants, more than the first time, and they treated them the same way.

37 Finally he sent his own son to them, saying, They will respect and give heed to my son.

38 But when the tenants saw the son, they said to themselves, This is the heir; come on, let us kill him, and have his inheritance.

39 And they took him, and threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him.

40 Now when the owner of the vineyard comes back, what will he do to those tenants?

41 They said to Him, He will put those wretches to a miserable death, and rent the vineyard to other tenants *of such a character that they will give him the fruits promptly in their season. [Isa. 5:1-7.]

42 Jesus asked them, Have you never read in the Scriptures, The very Stone which the builders rejected and threw away has become the Cornerstone; this was the Lord's doings, and it is marvelous in our eyes? [Ps. 118:22, 23.]

43 I tell you, for this reason the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people who will produce the fruits of it.

44 And whoever falls on this Stone will be broken to pieces, but he on whom it falls will be crushed to powder, and it will winnow him, scattering him as dust. [Isa. 8:14; Dan. 2:34, 35.]

45 And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard His parables (comparisons, stories used to illustrate and explain), they perceived that He was talking about them;

46 And although they were trying to arrest Him, they feared the throngs, because they regarded Him as a prophet.

CHAPTER 22

AND again Jesus spoke to them in parables (comparisons, stories used to illustrate and explain), saying,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like a king who gave a wedding banquet for his son,

3 And sent his servants to summon those who had been invited to the wedding banquet, but they refused to come.

4 Again he sent other servants, saying, Tell those who are invited, Behold, I have prepared my banquet; my bullocks and my fat calves are killed, and everything is prepared; come to the wedding feast.

5 But they were not concerned and paid no attention — they ignored and made light of the summons, treating it with contempt — and they went away, one to his farm, another to his business,

6 While the others seized his servants, treated them shamefully and put them to death.

7 [Hearing this] the king was infuriated, and he sent his soldiers and put those murderers to death and burned their city.

8 Then he said to his servants, the wedding [feast] is prepared, but those invited were not worthy.

9 So go to the thoroughfares where they leave the city — where the main roads and those from the country end — and invite to the wedding feast as many as you find.

10 And those servants went out on the crossroads and got together as many as they found, both bad and good, so [the room in which] the wedding feast [was held] was filled with guests.

11 But when the king came in to view the guests, he looked intently at a man there who had on no wedding garment;

12 And he said, Friend, how did you come in here without putting on the [appropriate] wedding garment? And he was speechless (*muzzled, gagged).

13 Then the king said to the attendants, Tie him hand and foot, and throw him into the darkness outside; there will be weeping and the grinding of teeth.

14 For many are called (invited and summoned), but few chosen.

15 Then the Pharisees went and consulted and plotted together how they might entangle Jesus in His talk.

16 And they sent their disciples to Him, along with the Herodians, saying, Teacher, we know that You are ^asincere and what You profess to be, and that You teach the way of God truthfully, regardless of consequences and being afraid of no man: for You are impartial and do not regard either the person or the position of any one.

17 Tell us, then, what You think about this: Is it lawful to pay tribute [levied on individuals and to be paid yearly] to Caesar, or not?

18 But Jesus, aware of their malicious plot, asked, Why do you put Me to the test and try to entrap Me, you pretenders — hypocrites?

19 Show me the money for the tribute. And they brought Him a denarius.

20 And Jesus said to them, Whose likeness and title are these?

21 They said, Caesar's. Then He said to them, Pay therefore to Caesar the things that are due to Caesar, and pay to God the things that are due to God.

22 When they heard it they were amazed and marveled, and they left Him and departed.

23 The same day some Sadducees came to Him, who say that there is no resurrection [of the dead], and they asked Him a question,

24 Saying, Teacher, Moses said, If a man dies, leaving no children, his brother shall marry the widow and raise up a family for his brother. [Deut. 25:5.]

25 Now there were seven brothers among us; the first married and died, and having no children left his wife to his brother.

26 The second also died childless, and the third, down to the seventh.

27 Last of all, the woman died also.

28 Now in the resurrection to which of the seven will she be wife? For they all had her.

29 But Jesus replied to them, You are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor God's power.

30 For in the resurrected state neither do [men] marry nor are [women] given in marriage, but they are as the angels in heaven.

31 But as to the resurrection of the dead, have you never read what was said to you by God,

32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead, but of the living! [Exod. 3:6.]

33 And when the throng heard it, they were astonished and filled with [glad] amazement at His teaching.

34 Now when the Pharisees heard that He had silenced (*muzzled) the Sadducees, they gathered together;

35 And one of their number, a lawyer, asked Him a question to test Him.

mandment is great and important — the principal kind — in the Law? [Some are light; which are heavy?]

37 And He replied to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind (intellect). [Deut. 6:5.]

38 This is the great (most important, principal) and first commandment.

39 And a second is like it, You shall love your neighbor as [you do] yourself. [Lev. 19:18.]

40 These two commandments *sum up and upon them depends all the Law and the prophets.

41 Now while the Pharisees were still assembled there, Jesus asked them a question, 42 Saying, What do you think of the Christ? Whose Son is He? They said to Him, The Son of David.

43 He said to them, How is it then that David, under the influence of the (Holy) Spirit, calls Him Lord, saying,

44 The Lord said to My Lord, Sit at My right hand until I put Your enemies under Your feet? [Ps. 110:1.]

45 If then David thus calls Him Lord, how is He his Son?

46 And no one was able to answer Him a word, nor from that day did any one venture or dare to question Him.

CHAPTER 23

THEN Jesus said to the multitudes and to His disciples,

2 The scribes and Pharisees sit on Moses' seat [of authority],

3 So observe and practice all they tell you; but do not do what they do, for they preach, but do not practice.

4 They tie up heavy loads, hard to bear, and place them on men's shoulders, but they themselves will not lift a finger to help bear them.

5 They do all their works to be seen of men; for they make wide their phylacteries [^ssmall cases enclosing certain Scripture passages, worn during prayer on left arm and forehead], and make long their fringes [worn by all male Israelites, according to the command]. [Num. 15:38; Exod. 13:9; Deut. 6:8.]

6 And they *take pleasure in and [thus] love the place of honor at feasts and the best seats in the synagogues,

7 And to be greeted with honor in the market places, and to have people call them rabbi.

8 But you are not to be called rabbi (teacher), for One is your Teacher, and you are all brothers.

9 And do not call any one [in the church] on earth father, for you have one Father, Who is in heaven.

10 And you must not be called masters (leaders), for you have one Master (Leader), the Christ.

11 He who is greatest among you shall be your servant.

12 Whoever exalts himself [^bwith haughtiness and empty pride] shall be humbled (brought low); and whoever humbles himself — who has a modest opinion of himself and behaves accordingly — shall be ^braised to honor.

13 But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, pretenders — hypocrites! because you shut the kingdom of heaven in men's faces; for you neither enter yourselves, nor do you allow those who are about to go in to do so.

14 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, pretenders — hypocrites! for you swallow up widows' houses, and for a pretense to cover it up make long prayers; therefore you will receive the greater condemnation and the heavier sentence.

15 Woe to you scribes and Pharisees, pretenders — hypocrites! for you travel over sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when he becomes [a proselyte], you make him doubly as much a child of hell (Gehenna) as you are.

16 Woe to you, blind guides, who say, If any one swears by the ^ssanctuary of the temple, it is nothing; but if any one swears by the gold of the ^ssanctuary, he is a debtor — bound by his oath.

17 You blind fools! For which is

e) Thayer. f) Condensed from "Davis Dictionary of the Bible." g) Wuest. h) Thayer. i) Trench.

greater, the gold or the 'sanctuary of the temple that has made the gold sacred? [Exod. 30:29.]

18 You say too, Whoever swears by the altar is not duty bound, but whoever swears by the offering on the altar, his oath is binding.

19 You blind men! Which is greater, the gift or the altar which makes the gift sacred?

20 So whoever swears by the altar, swears by it and by everything on it;

21 And he who swears by the 'sanctuary of the temple, swears by it and by Him Who dwells in it; [I Kings 8:13; Ps. 26:8.]

22 And whoever swears by heaven, swears by the throne of God and by Him Who sits upon it.

23 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, pretenders — hypocrites! for you give a tenth of your mint and dill and cummin, and have neglected and omitted the weightier (more important) matters of the Law, right and justice and mercy and fidelity. These you ought [particularly] to have done, without neglecting the others.

24 You blind guides, filtering out a gnat and gulping down a ^kcamel! [Lev. 27:30; Mic. 6:8.]

25 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, pretenders — hypocrites! for you clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion — prey, spoil, plunder — and grasping self-indulgence.

26 You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and of the plate, so that the outside may be clean also.

27 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, pretenders — hypocrites! for you are like tombs that have been white-washed, which look beautiful on the outside, but inside are full of dead men's bones and everything impure.

28 Just so, you also outwardly seem to people to be just and upright, but inside you are full of pretense and lawlessness and iniquity. [Ps. 5:9.]

29 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, pretenders — hypocrites! for you build tombs for the prophets and decorate the monuments of the righteous, 30 Saying, If we had lived in the days of our forefathers, we would not have aided them in shedding the blood of the prophets.

31 Thus you are testifying [against] yourselves that you are the descendants of those who murdered the prophets.

32 Fill up then the measure of your fathers' sins to the brim [so ^lthat nothing may be wanting to a full measure].

33 You serpents! You spawn of vipers! How can you escape the 'penalty to be suffered in hell (Gehenna)?

34 Because of this, take notice, I am sending you prophets and wise men (interpreters and teachers) and scribes (men learned in the Mosaic Law and the prophets); some of them you will kill, even crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues, and pursue and persecute from town to town,

35 So that upon your heads may come all the blood of the righteous [=those who correspond to the divine standard of right] shed on earth from the blood of the righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar [of burnt offering]. [Gen. 4:8; II Chron. 24:21.]

36 Truly, I declare to you, all these [=evil, calamitous times] will come upon this generation. [II Chron. 36:15, 16.]

37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, murdering the prophets and stoning those who are sent to you! How often would I have gathered your children together as a mother fowl gathers her brood under her wings, and you refused!

38 Behold, your house is forsaken and desolate — abandoned and left destitute [of God's help]. [I Kings 9:7; Jer. 22:5.]

39 For I declare to you, you will not see Me again until you say, Blessed — magnified in worship, adored and exalted — be He Who comes in the name of the Lord! [Ps. 118:26.]

CHAPTER 24

JESUS departed from the temple ^oarea and was going on His way, when His disciples came up to Him to call His attention to the buildings of the temple and point them out to Him.

2 But He answered them, Do you see all these? Truly, I tell you, there will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be thrown down.

3 While He was seated on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately and said, Tell us, when will this take place, and what will be the sign of Your coming and of the end — that is, the completion, the consummation — of the age?

4 Jesus answered them, Be careful that no one misleads you — deceiving you and leading you into error.

5 For many will come in (on the strength of) My name — ^pappropriating the name which belongs to Me — saying, I am the Messiah, the Christ; and they will lead many astray.

6 And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars; see that you are not frightened or troubled, for this must take place, but the end is not yet.

7 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in place after place;

8 All this is but the beginning — the early pains of the ^obirth pangs — of the ^pintolerable anguish.

9 Then they will hand you over to suffer affliction and tribulation, and put you to death; and you will be hated by all nations for My name's sake.

10 And then many will be offended and repelled and ^pbegin to distrust and desert [Him Whom they ought to trust and obey] and will stumble and fall away, and betray one another and pursue one another with hatred.

11 And many false prophets will rise up and deceive and lead many into error.

12 And the love of ^tthe great body of people will grow cold, because of the multiplied lawlessness and iniquity.

13 But he who endures to the end will be saved.

14 And this good news of the kingdom (the Gospel) will be preached throughout the whole world as a testimony to all the nations, and then will come the end.

15 So when you see the appalling sacrilege spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the Holy Place, [and] let the reader take notice and ^oponder and consider and heed [this], [Dan. 9:27; 11:31; 12:11.]

16 Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains;

17 Let him who is on the housetop not come down and go into the house to take anything;

18 And let him who is in the field not turn back to get his overcoat.

19 And alas for the women who are pregnant and for those who have nursing babies in those days!

20 Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a Sabbath,

21 For then there will be great tribulation — affliction, distress and oppression — such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now; no, and never will be [again]. [Dan. 12:1; Joel 2:2.]

22 And if those days had not been shortened, no human being would endure and survive; but for the sake of the elect (God's chosen ones) those days will be shortened.

23 If any one says to you then, Lo, here is Christ, the Messiah! or, There He is! do not believe it.

24 For false Christs and false prophets will arise, and they will show great signs and wonders, so as to deceive and lead astray, if possible, even the elect (God's chosen ones).

25 See, I have warned you beforehand.

26 So if they say to you, Lo, He is in the wilderness (desert), do not go out there; if they tell you, Lo, He is in the secret places or inner rooms, do not believe it.

27 For just as the lightning flashes from the east and shines and ^{is} seen as far as the west, so will the coming of the Son of man be.

28 Wherever there is a fallen body (a corpse), there the vultures (or eagles) will flock together. [Job 39:30.]

29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not shed her light, and the stars will fall from the sky, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. [Isa. 13:10; 34:4; Joel 2:10, 11; Zeph. 1:15.]

30 Then the sign of the Son of man will appear in the sky, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn and ^{beat} their breasts and lament in anguish, and they will see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory — in brilliancy and splendor. [Dan. 7:13.]

31 And He will send out His angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather His elect [His chosen ones] from the four winds, [even] from one end of the ^{universe} to the other. [Isa. 27:13; Zech. 9:14.]

32 From the fig tree learn its lesson: as soon as its ^{young} shoots become soft and tender and it puts out its leaves, you know ^{of} a surety that summer is near.

33 So also when you see these signs ^{all} taken together coming to pass, you may know ^{of} a surety that He is near, at the very doors.

34 Truly, I tell you, this generation — that is, ^{the} whole multitude of people living at the same time, ⁱⁿ a definite, ^{given} period — will not pass away till all these things ^{are} taken together take place.

35 ^{the} Sky and earth will pass away, but My words will not pass away.

36 But of that [exact] day and hour no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father.

37 As were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of man.

38 For just as in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, [men] marrying and [women] being given in marriage, until the [very] day when Noah went into the ark,

39 And they did not know or understand until the flood came and swept them all away, so will be the coming of the Son of man. [Gen. 6:5-8; 7:6-24.]

40 At that time two men will be in the field; one will be taken and one will be left.

41 Two women will be grinding at the hand mill; one will be taken and one will be left.

42 Watch, therefore — ^{give} strict attention, be cautious and active — for you do not know in what kind of a day [^{whether} a near or remote one] your Lord is coming.

43 But understand this: that had the householder known in what [part of the night, whether in a ^{night} or a morning] watch the thief was coming, he would have watched and would not have allowed his house to be ^{undermined} and broken through.

44 You also must be ready therefore; for the Son of man is coming at an hour when you do not expect Him.

45 Who then is the faithful, thoughtful and wise servant, whom his master has put in charge of his household, to give to the others the food and supplies at the proper time?

46 Blessed — happy, fortunate and ^{to} be envied — is that servant whom when his master comes he will find so doing.

47 I solemnly declare to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

48 But if that servant is wicked and says to himself, My master is delayed and is going to be gone a long time,

49 And begins to beat his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken,

50 The master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour of which he is not aware,

51 And will punish him — cut him up [by scourging] — and put him with the pretenders (hypocrites); there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

CHAPTER 25

THEN the kingdom of heaven shall be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom.

2 Five of them were foolish — thoughtless, without forethought; and five were wise — sensible, intelligent and prudent.

3 For when the foolish took their lamps, they did not take any [extra] oil with them;

4 But the wise took flasks of oil along with them [also] with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom lingered and was slow in coming, they all began nodding their heads and fell asleep.

6 But at midnight there was a shout, Behold, the bridegroom! Go out to meet him!

7 Then all those virgins got up and put their own lamps in order.

8 And the foolish said to the wise, Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.

9 But the wise replied, There will not be enough for us and for you; go instead to the dealers and buy for yourselves.

10 But while they were gone away to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were prepared went in with him to the marriage feast; and the door was shut.

11 Later the other virgins also came, and said, Lord, Lord, open [the door] to us!

12 But He replied, I solemnly declare to you, I do not know you — I am not acquainted with you.

13 Watch therefore — give strict attention and be cautious and active — for you know neither the day nor the hour when the Son of man will come.

14 For it is as a man who was about to take a long journey, and he called his servants together and entrusted them with his property.

15 To one he gave five talents [probably about $5,000], to another two, to another one; to each in proportion to his own personal ability. Then he departed and left the country.

16 He who had received the five talents went at once and traded with them, and he gained five talents more.

17 And likewise he who had received the two talents; he also gained two talents more.

18 But he who had received the one talent went and dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money.

19 Now after a long time the master of those servants returned and settled accounts with them.

20 And he who had received the five talents came and brought him five more, saying, Master, you entrusted to me five talents; see, here I have gained five talents more.

21 His master said to him, Well done, you upright (honorable, 'admirable) and faithful servant! You have been faithful and trustworthy over a little; I will put you in charge of much. Enter into and share the joy — the delight, the blessedness — which your master [enjoys].

22 And he also who had the two talents came forward, saying, Master, you entrusted two talents to me; here I have gained two talents more.

23 His master said to him, Well done, you upright (honorable, 'admirable) and faithful servant! You have been faithful and trustworthy over a little; I will put you in charge of much. Enter into and share the joy — the delight, the *blessedness — which your master [enjoys].

24 He who had received one talent also came forward, saying, Master, I knew you to be a harsh and hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you had not winnowed [the grain];

25 So I was afraid, and I went and hid your talent in the ground. Here you have what is your own.

26 But his master answered him, You wicked and lazy and idle servant! Did you indeed know that I reap where I have not sowed, and gather grain where I have not winnowed?

27 Then you should have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I could have received what was my own with interest.

28 So take the talent away from him, and give it to the one who has the ten talents.

29 For to every one who has will more be given, and he will be ^hfurnished richly so that he will have abundance.

30 And throw the good-for-nothing servant into the outer darkness; there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

31 When the Son of man comes in His glory (His majesty and splendor) and all the holy angels with Him, then He will sit on the throne of His glory.

32 All nations shall be gathered before Him, and He will separate them [the people] from one another as a shepherd separates his sheep from the goats, [Ezek. 34:17.]

33 And He will cause the sheep to stand at His right hand, but the goats at His left.

34 Then the King will say to those at His right hand, Come, you blessed of My Father [that is, you ⁱ favored of God and appointed to eternal salvation], inherit — receive as your own — the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35 For I was hungry and you gave Me food; I was thirsty and you gave Me something to drink; I was a stranger and you ^h brought Me together with yourselves and welcomed and entertained and ^h lodged Me;

36 I was naked and you clothed Me; I was sick and you visited Me ^h with help and ministering care; I was in prison and you came to see Me. [Isa. 58:7.]

37 Then the just and upright will answer Him, Lord, when did we see You hungry and gave You food, or thirsty and gave You something to drink?

38 And when did we see You a stranger and welcomed and entertained You, or naked and clothed You?

39 And when did we see You sick or in prison and came to visit You?

40 And the King will reply to them, Truly, I tell you, in as far as you did it to one of the least [^m in the estimation of men] of these My brethren, you did it to Me. [Prov. 19:17.]

41 Then He will say to those at His left hand, Be gone from Me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels!

42 For I was hungry and you gave Me no food; I was thirsty and you gave Me nothing to drink;

43 I was a stranger and you did not welcome Me and entertain Me; I was naked and you did not clothe Me; I was sick and in prison and you did not visit Me ^h with help and ministering care.

44 Then they also [in their turn] will answer, Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to You?

45 And He will reply to them, Solemnly I declare to you, in so far as you failed to do it for the least of these [^m in the estimation of men] you failed to do it for Me.

46 Then they will go away into eternal punishment, but those who are just and upright and in right standing with God into eternal life. [Dan. 12:2.]

CHAPTER 26

WHEN Jesus had ended this discourse, He said to His disciples,

2 You know that the Passover is in two days, and the Son of man will be delivered up ^mtreacherously to be crucified.

3 Then the chief priests and the elders of the people gathered in the [°open] court of the palace of the high priest, whose name was Caiaphas,

4 And consulted together in order to arrest Jesus by stratagem secretly, and put Him to death.

5 But they said, It must not be during the feast, for fear there will be a riot among the people.

6 Now when Jesus came back to Bethany and was in the house of Simon the leper,

7 A woman came up to Him with an alabaster flask of very precious perfume, and she poured it on His head as He reclined at table.

8 And when the disciples saw it, they were indignant, saying, For what purpose is all this waste?

9 For this perfume might have been sold for a large sum, and the money given to the poor.

10 But Jesus, fully aware of this, said to them, Why do you bother the woman? She has done a noble (praiseworthy and beautiful) thing to Me.

11 For you always have the poor among you, but you will not always have Me. [Deut. 15:11.]

12 In pouring this perfume on My body she has done something to prepare Me for My burial.

13 Truly, I tell you, wherever this good news (the Gospel) is preached in the whole world, what this woman has done will be told also in memory of her.

14 Then one of the twelve [apostles], who was called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests

15 And said, What are you willing to give me if I hand Him over to you? And they weighed out and paid him thirty pieces of silver [about twenty-one dollars and sixty cents]. [Exod. 21:32; Zech. 11:12.]

16 And from that moment he sought for a fitting opportunity to betray Him.

17 Now on the first day of Unleavened Bread [Passover week], the disciples came to Jesus and said to Him, Where do You wish us to prepare for You to eat the passover supper?

18 He said, Go into the city to a certain man, and say to him, The Master says, My time is near; I will keep the passover at your house with My disciples.

19 And accordingly the disciples did as Jesus had directed them, and they made ready the passover supper. [Deut. 16:5-8.]

20 When it was evening, He was reclining at table with the twelve disciples;

21 And as they were eating He said, Solemnly I say to you, one of you will betray Me!

22 They were exceedingly pained and distressed and deeply hurt and sorrowful, and began to say to Him one after another, °Surely, it cannot be I, Lord, can it?

23 He replied, He who has [just] dipped his hand in the same dish with Me will betray Me!

24 The Son of man is going as it is written of Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It would have been better (more profitable and wholesome) for that man if he had never been born! [Ps. 41:9.]

25 Judas, the betrayer, said, °Surely, it is not I, is it, Master? He said to him, You have stated [the fact].

26 Now as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and ^ppraising God gave thanks and asked Him to bless it to their use, and when He had broken it He gave it to the disciples and said, Take, eat; this is My body.

27 And He took a cup, and when He had given thanks He gave it to them, saying, Drink of it, all of you;

28 For this is My blood of the new covenant, which [Pratifies the agreement and] is ^obeing poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. [Exod. 24: 6-8.]

29 I say to you, I shall not drink again of this fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it with you new and ^oof superior quality in My Father's kingdom.

30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

31 Then Jesus said to them, You will all be offended and stumble and fall away because of Me this night — distrustful and deserting Me; for it is written, I will strike the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered. [Zech. 13:7.]

32 But after I am raised up [to life again], I will go ahead of you to Galilee.

33 Peter declared to Him, Though they all are offended and stumble and fall away because of You and distrust and desert You, I will never do so.

34 Jesus said to him, Solemnly I declare to you, this very night before a ^osingle rooster crows you will deny and disown Me three times.

35 Peter said to Him, Even if I must die with You, I will not deny or disown You! And all the disciples said the same thing.

36 Then Jesus went with them to a place called Gethsemane, and He told His disciples, Sit down here, while I go over yonder and pray.

37 And taking with Him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, He began to ^oshow grief and distress of mind and was ^odeeply depressed.

38 Then He said to them, My soul is very sad and deeply grieved, so that ^oI am almost dying of sorrow. Stay here and keep awake and watch with Me.

39 And going a little farther, He threw Himself upon the ground on His face and prayed saying, My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass away from Me; nevertheless, not what I will — not what I desire — but as You will and desire.

40 And He came to the disciples and found them sleeping, and He said to Peter, What! Are you so utterly unable to stay awake and watch with Me for one hour?

41 All of you must keep awake (give strict attention, be cautious) and watch and pray that you may not come into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 Again, a second time, He went away and prayed, My Father, if this cannot pass by unless I drink it, Your will be done.

43 And again He came and found them sleeping, for their eyes were weighed down with sleep.

44 So, leaving them again, He went away and prayed for the third time, using the same words.

45 Then He returned to the disciples and said to them, Are you still sleeping and taking your rest? Behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of ^oespecially wicked sinners — ^o“whose way or nature it is to act in opposition to God.

46 Get up, let us be going! See, My betrayer is at hand!

47 As He was still speaking, Judas, one of the twelve [apostles], came up and with him a great crowd with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now the betrayer had given them a sign, saying, The One I shall kiss is the Man. Seize Him.

49 And he came up to Jesus at once and said, Hail (greeting, good health to You, long life to You), Master! And he ^oembraced Him and kissed Him ^owith [pretended] warmth and devotion.

50 Jesus said to him, Friend, for what are you here? Then they came up and laid hands on Jesus and arrested Him.

51 And behold, one of those who were with Jesus reached out his hand and drew his sword, and striking the body servant of the high priest, cut off his ear.

52 Then Jesus said to him, Put your sword back into its place, for all who draw the sword will die by the sword. [Gen. 9:6.]

53 Do you suppose that I cannot appeal to My Father, and He will immediately provide Me with more than twelve legions [more than 80,000] of angels?

54 But how then should the Scripture be fulfilled that it must come about this way?

55 At that moment Jesus said to the crowds, Have you come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to capture Me? Day after day I was ^vaccustomed to sit in the ^pporches and courts of the temple teaching, and you did not arrest Me.

56 But all this has taken place in order that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples deserted Him and fleeing escaped.

57 But those who had seized Jesus took Him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders had assembled.

58 But Peter followed Him at a distance as far as the courtyard of the high priest's home; he even went inside and sat with the guards to see the end.

59 Now the chief priests and the whole council [the Sanhedrin] sought to get false witnesses to testify against Jesus, so that they might put Him to death;

60 But they found none, though many witnesses came forward [to testify]. At last two men came forward

61 And testified, This ^aFellow said, I am able to tear down the ^bsanctuary of the temple of God and to build it up again in three days.

62 And the high priest stood up and said, Have You no answer to make?

What about this that these men testify against You?

63 But Jesus kept silent. And the high priest said to Him, ^aI call upon you to swear by the living God, and tell us whether you are the Christ, the Son of God.

64 Jesus said to him, ^aYou have stated [the fact]. More than that, I tell you, You will in the future see the Son of man seated at the right hand of ^athe Almighty, and coming on the clouds of the sky. [Dan. 7:13; Ps. 110:1.]

65 Then the high priest tore his clothes and exclaimed, He has uttered blasphemy! What need have we of further evidence? You have now heard His blasphemy. [Num. 14:6; Lev. 24:16.]

66 What do you think now? They answered, He deserves to be put to death.

67 Then they spat in His face, and struck Him with their fists; and some ^aslapped Him in the face, [Isa. 50:6.]

68 Saying, Prophecy to us, You Christ, the Messiah! Who was it that struck You?

69 Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard and ^oone maid came up to him and said, You were also with Jesus the Galilean!

70 But he denied it ^afalsely before them all, saying, I do not know what you mean.

71 And when he had gone out to the porch, another maid saw him, and she said to the bystanders, This [fellow] was with Jesus the Nazarene!

72 And again he denied it and ^adis-owned Him with an oath, saying, I do not know the Man!

73 After a little while the bystanders came up and said to Peter, You certainly are one of them too, for even your accent betrays you.

74 Then Peter began to invoke a curse on himself and to swear, I do not even know the Man! And at that moment a rooster crowed.

CHAPTER 27

WHEN it was morning, all the chief priests and the elders of the people held a consultation against Jesus to put Him to death;

2 And they bound Him, and led Him away and handed Him over to Pilate the governor.

3 When Judas, His betrayer, saw that [Jesus] was condemned, (he was ^bafflicted in mind and troubled for his former folly; and) with remorse [that is, ^aan after care and little more than a selfish dread of the consequences] he brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders, [Exod. 21:32.]

4 Saying, I have sinned in betraying innocent blood. They replied, What is that to us? See to that yourself.

5 And casting the pieces of silver [forward] into the Holy Place of the ⁱsanctuary of the temple, he departed, and he went off and hanged himself.

6 But the chief priests, picking up the pieces of silver, said, It is not legal to put these in the [consecrated] treasury, for it is the price of blood. [Deut. 23:18.]

7 So after consultation they bought with them the potter's field in which to bury strangers.

8 Therefore that piece of ground has been called the Field of Blood to the present day.

9 Then were fulfilled the words spoken by Jeremiah the prophet when he said, And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of Him on Whom a price had been set by some of the sons of Israel, [Zech. 11:12, 13.]

10 And they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord directed me.

11 Now Jesus stood before the governor [Pilate]; and the governor asked Him, Are you the King of the Jews? Jesus said to him, You have stated [the fact].

12 But when the charges were made against Him by the chief priests and elders, He made no answer. [Isa. 53:7.]

13 Then Pilate said to Him, Do You not hear how many and how serious are the things they are testifying against You?

14 But He made no reply to him, not even to a single accusation, so that the governor marveled greatly.

15 Now at the feast (of the Passover) the governor was in the habit of setting free for the people any one prisoner whom they chose.

16 And at that time they had a notorious prisoner whose name was Barabbas.

17 So when they had assembled for this purpose, Pilate said to them, Whom do you want me to set free for you, Barabbas, or Jesus Who is called Christ?

18 For he knew that it was because of envy that they had handed Him over to him.

19 Also, while he was seated on the judgment bench, his wife sent him a message, saying, Have nothing to do with that just and upright Man, for I have had a painful experience because of Him today in a dream.

20 But the chief priests and the elders prevailed on the people to ask for Barabbas and put Jesus to death.

21 Again the governor said to them, Which of the two do you wish me to release for you? And they said, Barabbas!

22 Pilate said to them, Then what shall I do with Jesus Who is called Christ?

23 They all replied, Let Him be crucified! And he said, Why, what has He done that is evil? But they shouted all the louder, Let Him be crucified!

24 So when Pilate saw that he was getting nowhere, but rather that a riot was about to break out, he took water and washed his hands in the presence of the crowd, saying, I am not guilty of nor responsible for this ^h*righteous* Man's blood; see to it yourselves. [Deut. 21:6-9; Ps. 26:6.]

25 And all the people answered, His blood be on us and on our children! [Josh. 2:19.]

26 So he set free for them Barabbas, and [had] Jesus whipped, and delivered Him up to be crucified.

27 Then the governor's soldiers took Jesus into the palace, and they gathered the whole battalion about Him.

28 And they stripped off His clothes and put a scarlet robe [garment of dignity and office, worn by Roman officers of rank] upon Him, 29 And weaving a crown of thorns they put it on His head, and put a reed-staff in His right hand. And kneeling before Him they made sport of Him, saying, Hail (greeting, good health to you, long life to you), King of the Jews!

30 And they spat on Him, and took the reed-staff and struck Him on the head.

31 And when they finished making sport of Him, they stripped Him of the robe and put His own garments on Him, and led Him away to be crucified.

32 As they were marching forth, they came upon a man of Cyrene named Simon; this man they forced to carry the cross of Jesus.

33 And when they came to a place called Golgotha [Calvary, in Latin], which means the place of a skull, 34 They offered Him wine mingled with gall to drink, but when He tasted it, He refused to drink it.

35 And when they had crucified Him, they divided and distributed His garments [among them] by casting lots so that the prophet's saying was fulfilled, They parted My garments among them and over My apparel they cast lots. [Ps. 22:18.]

36 Then they sat down there and kept watch over Him.

37 And over His head they put the accusation against Him (^uthe cause of His death), which read, This is Jesus the King of the Jews.

38 At the same time two robbers were crucified with Him, one on the right hand and one on the left.

39 And those who passed by spoke reproachfully and abusively and jeered at Him, wagging their heads, [Ps. 22:7, 8; 109:25.]

40 And they said, You Who would tear down the ^asanctuary of the temple and rebuild it in three days, rescue Yourself ^ofrom death. If You are the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 In the same way the chief priests with the scribes and elders made sport of Him, saying, 42 He rescued others ^ofrom death; Himself He cannot rescue ^ofrom death. He is the King of Israel? Let Him come down from the cross now, and we will believe and ^oacknowledge and cleave to Him.

43 He trusts in God; let God deliver Him now, if He cares for Him and will [have] Him, for He said, I am the Son of God.

44 And the robbers who were crucified with Him also abused and reproached and made sport of Him in the same way.

45 Now from the sixth hour [noon] there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour [three o'clock].

46 And about the ninth hour [three o'clock] Jesus cried with a loud voice, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, My God, why have You abandoned Me — leaving Me ^phelpless, forsaking and failing Me in My need? [Ps. 22:1.]

47 And some of the bystanders when they heard it said, This Man is calling for Elijah!

48 And one of them immediately ran and took a sponge, soaked it with vinegar [a sour wine], and put it on a reed-staff and was about to give it to Him to drink. [Ps. 69:21.]

49 But the others said, Wait! Let us see whether Elijah will come to save Him from death.

50 And Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and gave up His spirit.

51 And at once the curtain of the sanctuary of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom; the earth shook, and the rocks were split; [Exod. 26:31-35.]

52 The tombs were opened, and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep in death were raised,

53 And coming out of the tombs after His resurrection, they went into the holy city and appeared to many people.

54 When the centurion and those that were with him keeping watch over Jesus, observed the earthquake and all that was happening, they were terribly frightened and filled with awe, and said, Truly this was God's Son!

55 There were also numerous women there looking on from a distance, who were of those who had accompanied Jesus from Galilee, ministering to Him;

56 Among them were Mary of Magdala, and Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

57 When it was evening, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who also was a disciple of Jesus.

58 He went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus, and Pilate ordered that it be given him.

59 And Joseph took the body and rolled it up in a clean linen cloth used for swathing dead bodies, 60 And laid it in his own fresh [un-defiled] tomb, which he had hewn in the rock; and he rolled a big boulder over the door of the tomb and went away.

61 And Mary of Magdala and the other Mary kept sitting there opposite the tomb.

62 The next day, that is, the day after the day of preparation [for the Sabbath], the chief priests and the Pharisees assembled before Pilate

63 And said, Sir, we have just remembered how that vagabond Imposter said, while He was still alive, After three days I will rise again.

64 Therefore give an order to have the tomb made secure and safeguarded until the third day, for fear His disciples go and steal Him away, and tell the people that He has risen from the dead, and the last deception and fraud will be worse than the first.

65 Pilate said to them, You have a guard of soldiers; [take them and] go, make it as secure as you can.

66 So they went off and made the tomb secure by sealing the boulder, a guard of soldiers being with them and remaining to watch.

CHAPTER 28

NOW after the Sabbath, near dawn of the first day of the week, Mary of Magdala and the other Mary went to take a look at the tomb.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake, for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and came and rolled the boulder back and sat upon it.

3 His appearance was like lightning, and his garments as white as snow.

4 And those keeping guard were so frightened at sight of him that they were agitated and trembled, and became like dead men.

5 But the angel said to the women, Do not be alarmed and frightened, for I know that you are looking for Jesus Who was crucified.

6 He is not here; He has risen, as He said [He would do]. Come, see the place where He lay.

7 Then go quickly and tell His disciples, He has risen from the dead, and behold, He is going before you to Galilee; there you will see Him. Lo, I have told you.

8 So they left the tomb hastily with fear and great joy, and ran to tell the disciples.

9 And as they went, behold, Jesus met them and said, Hail (greeting)! And they went up to Him and clasped His feet and worshipped Him.

10 Then Jesus said to them, Do not be alarmed and afraid; go and tell My brethren to go into Galilee, and there they will see Me.

11 While they were on their way, behold, some of the guard went into the city and reported to the chief priests everything that had occurred.

12 And when they had gathered with the elders and had consulted together, they gave a sufficient sum of money to the soldiers, 13 And said, Tell people, His disciples came at night and stole Him away while we were sleeping.

14 And if the governor hears of it, we will appease him and make you safe and free from trouble and care.

15 So they took the money and did as they were instructed, and this story has been current among the Jews to the present day.

16 Now the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain to which Jesus had directed and made appointment with them.

17 And when they saw Him they fell down and worshipped Him, but some doubted.

18 Jesus approached and ^{*}breaking the silence said to them, All authority — all power of rule — in heaven and on earth has been given to Me.

19 Go then and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them ^yinto the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit;

20 Teaching them to observe everything that I have commanded you, and lo, I am with you ^{}all the days, — ^{}perpetually, uniformly and on every occasion — to the [very] close and consummation of the age. Amen — so let it be.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK

CHAPTER 1

THE beginning [of the facts] of the good news (the Gospel) of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

2 ^aJust as it is written in the prophet Isaiah: Behold, I send My messenger before Your face, who will make ready Your way; [Mal. 3:1.]

3 A voice of one crying in the wilderness — shouting in the desert — Prepare the way of the Lord, make His ^bbeaten-tracks straight (level and passable)! [Isa. 40:3.]

4 John the Baptist appeared in the wilderness (desert), preaching a baptism [^{*}obligating] repentance — [that is] ^aa change of one's mind for the better and heartily to amend one's ways with abhorrence of his past sins — in order ^dto obtain forgiveness of and release from sins.

5 And there kept going out to him (continuously) all the country of Judea, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and they were baptized by him in the river Jordan, 'as they were confessing their sins.

6 And John wore clothing woven of camel's hair, and had a leather girdle around his loins, and ate locusts and wild honey.

7 And he preached, saying, After me comes He Who is stronger — more powerful and more valiant — than I, the strap of Whose sandals I am not worthy or fit to stoop down and unloose.

8 I have baptized you with water, but He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit.

9 In those days Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan.

10 And when He came up out of the water, at once 'he saw the heavens torn open and the [Holy] Spirit like a dove, coming down [to enter] 'into Him;

11 And there came a voice 'out from within heaven, You are My Beloved Son; in You I am well pleased. [Ps. 2:7; Isa. 42:1.]

12 Immediately the [Holy] Spirit [from within] drove Him out into the wilderness (desert).

13 And He stayed in the wilderness (desert) forty days, being tempted [the while] by Satan; and He was with the wild beasts, and the angels ministered to Him (continually).

14 Now after John was arrested and put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the good news (the Gospel) of the kingdom of God, 15 And saying, The [appointed period of] time is (completed) fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent (^bhave a change of mind which issues in regret for past sins and in change of conduct for the better) and believe — trust in, rely on and adhere to the good news — the Gospel.

16 And passing along the shore of the sea of Galilee, He saw Simon [Peter] and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net (to and fro) in the sea, for they were fishermen.

17 And Jesus said to them, Come after Me and 'be My disciples, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And at once they left their nets and 'yielding up all claim to them followed [with] Him — 'joining Him as disciples and siding with His party.

19 He went on a little farther and saw James the [son] of Zebedee and John his brother, who were in [their] boat putting their nets in order.

20 And immediately He called out to them, and ['abandoning all mutual claims] they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired men, and went off after Him — 'to be His disciples, side with His party and follow Him.

21 And they entered into Capernaum, and immediately on the Sabbath He went into the synagogue and began to teach.

22 And they were completely astonished at His teaching, for He was teaching as one who possessed authority, and not as the scribes.

23 Just at that time there was in their synagogue a man [who was in the power] of an unclean spirit; and now immediately he raised a deep and terrible cry from the depths of his throat, saying,

24 What have You to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have You come to destroy us? I know who You are, the Holy [One] of God!

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hush up (be muzzled, gagged), and come out of him!

26 And the unclean spirit, throwing the man into convulsions and 'screaming with a loud voice, came out of him.

27 And they were all so amazed and ^balmost terrified that they kept questioning and demanding one of another, saying, What is this? What new (fresh) teaching! With authority He gives orders even to the unclean spirits and they obey Him!

28 And immediately rumors concerning Him spread [everywhere] throughout all the region surrounding Galilee.

29 And at once He left the synagogue and went into the house of Simon [Peter] and Andrew, accompanied by James and John.

30 Now Simon's mother-in-law had for some time been lying sick with a fever, and at once they told Him about her.

31 And He went up to her, and took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she began to wait on them.

32 Now when it was evening, after the sun had set, they brought to Him all who were sick and those under the power of demons, 33 Until the whole town was gathered together about the door.

34 And He cured many who were afflicted with various diseases, and He drove out many demons; and would not allow the demons to talk, because they knew Him [intuitively].

35 And in the morning, long before daylight, He got up and went out to a deserted place, and there He prayed.

36 And Simon [Peter] and those who were with him followed Him — pursuing Him eagerly and hunting Him out;

37 And they found Him, and said to Him, Everybody is looking for You.

38 And He said to them, Let us be going on into the neighboring country towns, that I may preach there also, for that is why I came out.

39 [So] He went throughout the whole of Galilee, preaching in their synagogues and driving out demons.

40 And a leper came to Him, begging Him on his knees and saying to Him, If You will, You are able to make me clean.

41 And being moved with pity and sympathy, Jesus reached out His hand and touched him, and said to him, I will; be made clean!

42 And at once the leprosy [completely] left him, and he was made clean (by being healed).

43 And Jesus charged him sternly (sharply and threateningly, and with earnest admonition), and (acting with deep feeling thrust him forth and) sent him away at once;

44 And said to him, See that you tell nothing [of this] to any one; but begone, show yourself to the priest, and offer for your purification what Moses commanded, as a proof (an evidence and witness) to the people [that you are really healed]. [Lev. 13:49; 14:2-32.]

45 But he went out and began to talk so freely about it and blaze abroad the news (spreading it everywhere), that [Jesus] could no longer openly go into a town, but was outside in (lonely) desert places. But the people kept on coming to Him from all sides and every quarter.

CHAPTER 2

AND Jesus having returned to Capernaum, after some days it was rumored about that He was in the house [Peter's, probably].

2 And so many people gathered together there that there was no longer room [for them], not even around the door; and He was discussing the Word.

3 Then they came bringing a paralytic to Him, who had been picked up and was being carried by four men.

4 And when they could not get him to a place in front of Jesus because of the throng, they dug through the roof above Him; and when they had scooped out an opening, they let down the (thickly padded) quilt or mat upon which the paralyzed man lay.

5 And when Jesus saw their faith [that is, their confidence in God through Him], He said to the paralyzed man, Son, your sins are forgiven [you] and put away — [that is,] the penalty is remitted, the sense of guilt removed, and you are made upright and in right standing with God.

6 Now some of the scribes were sitting there, holding a dialogue with themselves as they questioned in their hearts,

7 Why does this ^eMan talk like this? He is blaspheming! Who can forgive sins — [that is] ^tremove guilt, remit the penalty and bestow righteousness instead — except God alone?

8 And at once Jesus, becoming fully aware in His spirit that they thus debated within themselves, said to them, Why do you argue (debate, reason) about all this in your hearts?

9 Which is easier, to say to the paralyzed man, Your sins are forgiven and ^uput away, or to say, Rise, take up your sleeping pad and start walking about — and ^vkeep on walking?

10 But that you may know positively and beyond a doubt that the Son of man has right and authority and power on earth to forgive sins, He said to the paralyzed man, 11 I say to you, arise, pick up and carry your sleeping pad and be going on home.

12 And he arose at once and picked up the pallet and went out before them all; so that they were all amazed and ^wrecognized and praised and thanked God, saying, We have never seen anything like this before!

13 [Jesus] went out again along the seashore, and all the multitude kept gathering about Him, and He kept teaching them.

14 And as He was passing by, He saw Levi [Matthew] the son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax office, and He said to him, (Be ^xjoined to Me as a disciple, side with My party and) follow Me! And he arose and joined Him as His disciple and sided with His party and accompanied Him.

15 And as Jesus together with His disciples sat at table in his [Levi's] house, many tax collectors and persons (^ydefinitely stained) with sin were dining with Him, for there were many who walked the same road (followed) with Him.

16 And the scribes (belonging to the party) of the Pharisees, when they saw that He was eating with (those ^zdefinitely known to be especially wicked) sinners and tax collectors, said to His disciples, Why does He eat and drink with tax collectors and (notorious) sinners?

17 And when Jesus heard it, He said to them, Those who are strong and well have no need of a physician, but those who are weak and sick; I came not to call the righteous ones to repentance, but sinners — the ^{aa}erring ones and ^{ab}all those not free from sin.

18 Now John's disciples and the Pharisees were observing a fast, and [some people] came and asked Jesus, Why are John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fasting, but Your disciples are not doing so?

19 Jesus answered them, Can the wedding guests fast (abstain from food and drink) while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and they will fast in that day.

21 No one sews a patch of (new) unshrunk goods on an old garment; if he does, the patch tears away from it, the new from the old, and the rent becomes bigger and worse [than it was before].

22 And no one puts new wine into old wineskins; if he does, the wine will burst the skins, and the wine is lost and the bottles destroyed; but new wine is to be put in new (fresh) wineskins.

23 One Sabbath He was going along beside the fields of standing grain; and as they made their way, His disciples began to ^{ac}pick off the grains. [Deut. 23:25.]

24 And the Pharisees said to Him, Look! Why are they doing what is not permitted or lawful on the Sabbath?

he was in need and was hungry, he and those who were accompanying him?

26 How he went into the house of God, when Abiathar was the high priest, and ate the sacred loaves set forth [before God], which it is not permitted or lawful for any but the priests to eat, and [how he] also gave [them] to those who were with him? [I Sam. 21:1-6; II Sam. 8:17.]

27 And Jesus said to them, The Sabbath was made on account and for the sake of man, not man for the Sabbath; [Exod. 23:12; Deut. 5:14.]

28 So the Son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath.

CHAPTER 3

AGAIN Jesus went into a synagogue, and a man was there who had one withered hand (as the result of accident or disease).

2 And [the Pharisees] kept watching Jesus (closely), to see whether He would cure on the Sabbath, so that they might get a charge to bring against Him (formally).

3 And He said to the man that had the withered hand, Get up [and stand here] in the midst.

4 And He said to them, Is it lawful and right on the Sabbath to do good or to do evil, to save life or to take it? But they kept silence.

5 And He glanced around at them with vexation and anger, grieved at the hardening of their hearts, and said to the man, Hold out your hand. He held it out, and his hand was (completely) restored.

6 Then the Pharisees went out and immediately held a consultation with the Herodians against Him, how they might (devise some means to) put Him to death.

7 And Jesus retired with His disciples to the lake, and a great throng from Galilee followed Him. Also from Judea

8 And from Jerusalem and Idumea and from beyond the Jordan and from about Tyre and Sidon a vast multitude, hearing all the many things that He was doing, came to Him.

9 And He told His disciples to have a little boat in [constant] readiness for Him because of the crowd, lest they press hard upon Him and crush Him;

10 For He had healed so many that all who had distressing bodily diseases kept falling upon Him and pressing upon Him in order that they might touch Him.

11 And the spirits, the unclean ones, as often as they might see Him, fell down before Him and kept screaming out, You are the Son of God!

12 And He charged them strictly and severely under penalty again and again that they should not make Him known.

13 And He went up on the hillside, and called to Him (for Himself those) whom He wanted and chose, and they came to Him.

14 And He appointed twelve to continue to be with Him, and that He might send them out to preach (as apostles), 15 And to have authority and power to heal the sick and to drive out demons.

16 [They were] Simon, and He surnamed [him] Peter;

17 James the son of Zebedee and John the brother of James, and He surnamed them Boanerges, that is, Sons of Thunder; and 18 Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew [Nathaniel], and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus [Judas, not Iscariot], and Simon the Cananaean [also called Zelotes], 19 And Judas Iscariot, he who betrayed Him. Then He went to a house [probably Peter's].

20 But a throng came together again, so that Jesus and His disciples could not even take food.

21 And when those who belonged to Him (His kinsmen) heard it, they went out to take Him by force, for they kept saying, He is out of His mind — beside Himself, deranged!

22 And the scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, He is possessed by Beelzebub, and by [the help of] the prince of demons He is casting out demons.

23 And He summoned them to Him, and said to them in parables, How can Satan drive out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom is divided and rebelling against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house is divided — split into factions and rebelling — against itself that house will not be able to last.

26 And if Satan has raised an insurrection against himself and is divided, he cannot stand, but is [surely] coming to an end.

27 But no one can go into a strong man's house and ransack his household goods right and left and seize them as plunder, unless he first binds the strong man; then indeed he may [thoroughly] plunder his house. [Isa. 49:24, 25.]

28 Truly and solemnly I say to you, all sins will be forgiven the sons of men, and whatever abusive and blasphemous things they utter;

29 But whoever speaks abusively against or maliciously misrepresents the Holy Spirit can never get forgiveness, but is guilty of and is in the grasp of "an everlasting trespass.

30 For they ^bpersisted in saying, ⁱHe has an unclean spirit.

31 Then His mother and His brothers came, and standing outside they sent word to Him, calling [for] Him.

32 And a crowd was sitting around Him, and they said to Him, Your mother and Your brothers and Your sisters are outside, asking for You.

33 And He replied, Who are My mother and My brothers?

34 And looking around on those who sat in a circle about Him, He said, See!

Here are My mother and My brothers, 35 For whoever does the things God wills is My brother, and sister, and mother!

CHAPTER 4

A GAIN Jesus began to teach beside the lake. And a very great crowd gathered about Him, so that He got into a ship in order to sit in it on the sea; and the whole crowd was at the lakeside on the shore.

2 And He taught them many things in parables [concrete illustrations put beside truths to explain them], and in His teaching He said to them:

3 Give attention to this. Behold, a sower went out to sow.

4 And as he was sowing, some seed fell along the path, and the birds came and ate it up.

5 Other seed [of the same kind] fell on ground full of rocks, where it had not much soil, and at once it sprang up, because it had no depth of soil;

6 And when the sun came up, it was scorched, and because it had not taken root withered away.

7 Other seed [of the same kind] fell among thorn-plants, and the thistles grew and pressed together and utterly choked and suffocated it, and it yielded no grain.

8 And other seed [of the same kind] fell into good (well adapted) soil, and brought forth grain, growing up and increasing, and yielded up to thirty times as much, and sixty times as much, and even a hundred times as much as had been sown.

9 And He said, He who has ears to hear, let him be hearing — and ⁱconsider, and comprehend.

10 And as soon as He was alone, those who were around Him with the twelve [apostles] began to ask Him about the parables.

11 And He said to them, To you has been entrusted the mystery of the kingdom of God, [that is, ^kthe secret counsels of God which are hidden from the ungodly;] but for those outside [of our circle] everything becomes a parable,

12 In order that they may [indeed] look and look but not perceive, and may hear and hear but not grasp and comprehend; ^mlest haply they should turn again, and it [^ktheir wilful rejection of the truth] should be forgiven them. [Isa. 6:9, 10.]

13 And He said to them, Do you not discern and understand this parable? How then [is it possible for] you to discern and understand all the parables?

14 The sower sows the Word.

15 The ones along the path are those who have the Word sown [in their hearts], but when they hear, Satan comes at once and (by force) takes away the message which is sown in them.

16 And in the same way the ones sown upon stony ground are those who, when they hear the Word, at once receive and accept and welcome it with joy;

17 And they have no real root in themselves, and so they endure for a little while, then when trouble or persecution arises on account of the Word, they immediately are offended — become displeased, indignant, resentful; and they stumble and fall away.

18 And the ones sown among the thorns are others who hear the Word, 19 Then the cares and anxieties of the world, and distractions of the age, and the pleasure and delight and false glamour and deceitfulness of riches, and the craving and passionate desire for other things creep in and choke and suffocate the Word, and it becomes fruitless.

20 And those that were sown on the good (well-adapted) soil are the ones who hear the Word, and receive and accept and welcome it and bear fruit, some thirty times as much as was sown, some sixty times as much, and some [even] a hundred times as much.

21 And He said to them, Is the lamp brought in to be put under a ⁿpeck-measure, or under a bed, and not on the [lamp] stand?

22— ⁿThings are hidden [temporarily] only as a means to revelation. For there is nothing hidden except to be revealed, nor is anything [temporarily] kept secret except in order that it may be made known.

23 If any man has ears to hear, let him be listening, and perceive and comprehend.

24 And He said to them, Be careful what you are hearing. The measure ^o[of thought and study] you give [to ^othe truth you hear] will be the measure ^o[of virtue and knowledge] that comes back to you, and more [besides] will be given to you who hear.

25 For to him who has will more be given, and from him who has nothing, even what he has will be taken away (^oby force),

26 And He said, The kingdom of God is like a man who scatters seed upon the ground, 27 Then continues sleeping and rising night and day while the seed sprouts and grows and ^oincreases, he knows not how.

28 The earth produces [acting] by itself, first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear.

29 But when the grain is ripe and permits, immediately he ^osends forth [the reapers] and puts in the sickle, because the harvest stands ready.

30 And He said, With what can we compare the kingdom of God, or what parable shall we use to illustrate and explain it?

31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which when sown upon the ground is the smallest of all seeds upon the earth;

32 Yet after it is sown it grows up and becomes the greatest of all garden herbs, and puts out large branches, so that the birds of the air are able to make nests and dwell in its shade.

33 With many such parables [Jesus] spoke the Word to them, as they were able to hear and ^{to} comprehend and understand.

34 He did not tell them anything without a parable, but privately to His disciples [^vthose who were peculiarly His own] He explained everything [fully].

35 On that same day [when] evening had come, He said to them, Let us go over to the other side [of the lake].

36 And leaving the throng, they took Him with them, [just] as He was, in the boat [in which He was sitting]. And other boats were with Him.

37 And a furious storm of wind (^vof hurricane proportions) arose, and the waves kept beating into the boat, so that it was already becoming filled.

38 But He [Himself] was in the stern [of the boat] asleep on the [leather] cushion; and they awoke Him and said to Him, Master, do You not care that we are perishing?

39 And He arose and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, Hush now! Be still (muzzled)! And the wind ceased, [that is, ^vsank to rest as if exhausted by its beating] and there was (immediately) a great calm — ^aa perfect peacefulness.

40 He said to them, Why are you so timid and fearful? How is it that you have no faith — no ^vfirmly relying trust?

41 And they were filled with great awe and ^vfeared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even wind and sea obey Him?

CHAPTER 5

THEY came to the other side of the sea, to the region of the Gerasenes.

2 And as soon as He got out of the boat, there met Him a man out of the tombs [under the power of] an unclean spirit.

3 This man ^vcontinually lived among the tombs, and no one could subdue him any more, even with a chain;

4 For he had been bound often with shackles for the feet, and ^ahandcuffs, but the handcuffs [of light] chains he wrenched apart, and the shackles he rubbed and ground together and broke in pieces; and no one had strength enough to restrain or tame him.

5 Night and day among the tombs and on the mountains he was always ^ashrieking and screaming, and ^bbeating and bruising and ^ccutting himself with stones.

6 And when from a distance he saw Jesus, he ran and fell on his knees before Him in homage,

7 And crying out with a loud voice, he said, What have You to do with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? What is there in common between us? I ^vsolemnly implore you by God, do not begin to torment me!

8 For Jesus was commanding, Come out of the man, you unclean spirit!

9 And He asked him, What is your name? He replied, My name is Legion, for we are many.

10 And he kept begging Him urgently not to send them [himself and the other demons] away out of that region.

11 Now a great herd of hogs was grazing there on the hillside;

12 And the demons begged Him, saying, Send us to the hogs that we may go into them!

13 So He gave them permission. And the unclean spirits came out [of the man] and entered into the hogs, and the herd, numbering about two thousand, rushed headlong down the steep slope into the lake, and were drowned in the sea.

14 The hog-feeders ran away, and told [it] in the town and in the country. And [the people] came to see what it was that had taken place.

15 And they came to Jesus, and looked intently and searchingly at the man who had been a demoniac, sitting there clothed and in his right mind, [the same man] who had had the legion [of demons]; and they were ^dseized with alarm and struck with fear.

16 And those who had seen it related in full what had happened to the man possessed by demons and to the hogs.

17 And they began to beg [Jesus] to leave their neighborhood.

18 And when He had stepped into the boat, the man who had been controlled by the unclean spirits kept begging Him that he might be with Him.

19 But Jesus refused to permit him, but said to him, Go home to your own [family and relatives and friends], and bring back word to them of how much the Lord has done for you, and [how He has] had sympathy for you and mercy on you.

20 And he departed and began to publicly proclaim in Decapolis [the region of the ten cities] how much Jesus had done for him, and all the people were astonished and marveled.

21 And when Jesus had recrossed in the boat to the other side, a great throng gathered about Him, and He was at the lakeshore.

22 Then one of the rulers of the synagogue came up, Jairus by name; and seeing Him, he prostrated himself at His feet, 23 And begged Him earnestly, saying, My little daughter is at the point of death. Come and lay Your hands on her, so that she may be healed and live.

24 And Jesus went with him, and a great crowd kept following Him, and pressed Him ^efrom all sides — so as almost to suffocate Him.

25 And there was a woman who had had a flow of blood for twelve years, 26 And who had endured much ^fsuffering under [the hands of] many physicians, and had spent all that she had; and was no better but instead grew worse.

27 She had heard the reports concerning Jesus, and she came up behind Him in the throng and touched His garment, 28 For she kept saying, If I only touch His garments, I shall be restored to health.

29 And immediately her (flow of) blood was dried up at the source, and (^gsuddenly) she felt in her body that she was healed of her (^hdistressing) ailment.

30 And Jesus, recognizing in Himself that the power proceeding from Him had gone forth, turned around immediately in the crowd, and said, Who touched My clothes?

31 And the disciples kept saying to Him, You see the crowd pressing hard around You (from all sides), and You ask, Who touched Me?

32 Still He kept looking around to see her who had done it.

33 But the woman, knowing what had been done for her, though alarmed and frightened and trembling, fell down before Him, and told Him the whole truth.

34 And He said to her, Daughter, your faith [that is, your ⁱtrust and confidence in Me, springing from faith in God] has restored you to health. Go ^jin (to) peace, and be continually healed and free from your (^kdistressing bodily) disease.

35 While He was still speaking, there came some from the ruler's house who said [to Jairus], Your daughter has died. Why bother and distress the Teacher any further?

36 (^lOverhearing) but ignoring what they said, Jesus said to the ruler of the synagogue, Do not be seized with alarm and have no fear, only keep on believing.

37 And He permitted no one to accompany Him except Peter and James and John the brother of James.

38 When they arrived at the house of the ruler of the synagogue, He ^mlooked (carefully and with understanding) at [the] tumult and [the people] weeping and wailing loudly.

39 And when He had gone in, He said to them, Why do you make an uproar and weep? The little girl is not dead, but is sleeping.

40 And they laughed and ^kjeered at Him. But He put them all out, and taking the child's father and mother and those who were with Him, He went in where the little girl was lying.

41 Gripping her (firmly) by the hand, He said to her, Talitha cumi, which translated is, Little girl, I say to you, arise (^lfrom the sleep of death)!

42 And instantly the girl got up and started walking around, for she was twelve years [old]. And they were utterly astonished and overcome with amazement.

43 And He strictly commanded and warned them that no one should know this, and He (^lexpressly) told them to give her [something] to eat.

CHAPTER 6

JESUS went away from there and came to His [own] country and home town [Nazareth], and His disciples followed (with) Him.

2 And on the Sabbath He began to teach in the synagogue; and many who listened to Him were utterly astonished, saying, Where did this [Man] acquire all this? What is the wisdom — the broad and full intelligence — [which has been] given to ^mHim? What mighty works and exhibitions of power are wrought by His hands!

3 Is not this the Carpenter, the son of Mary and the brother of James and Joses and Judas and Simon, and are not His sisters here among us? And they took offense at Him and ⁿwere hurt [that is, they ^odisapproved of Him and it hindered them from acknowledging His authority]; and they were caused to stumble and fall.

4 But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honor (deference, reverence), except in his [own] country and among [his] relatives and in his [own] house.

5 And He was not able to do ^peven one work of power there, except that He laid His hands on a few sickly people [and] cured them.

6 And He marveled because of their unbelief — their lack of faith in Him. And He went about among the surrounding villages [and] continued teaching.

7 And He called to Him the twelve [apostles], and began to send them out [as His ambassadors] two by two, and gave them authority and power over the unclean spirits.

8 He charged them to take nothing for their journey except a walking stick; no bread, ^qno wallet for a collection bag, no money in their belts (girdles, purses);

9 But to go with sandals on their feet and not put on two tunics (undergarments).

10 And He told them, Where you go into a house, stay there until you leave that place.

11 And if any [community] will not receive and accept and welcome you, and they refuse to listen to you, when you depart shake off the dust that is on your feet for a testimony against them. Truly, I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the judgment day than for that town.

12 So they went out and preached that men should repent [that is ^rthat they should change their minds for the better, and heartily amend their ways with abhorrence for their past sins].

13 And they drove out many unclean spirits, and anointed with oil many who were sick, and cured them.

14 King Herod heard of it, for [Jesus'] name had become well known. ^sHe and they [of his court] said, John the Baptist has been raised from the dead; that is why these mighty powers (^tof performing miracles) are at work in Him.

15 [But] others kept saying, It is because of what He is, the spotless Son of God, not Elijah! And others said, It is a prophet, like one of the prophets [of old].

16 But when Herod heard [of it], he said, ("This very) John, whom I beheaded, has been raised [from the dead].

17 For this Herod himself had sent and seized John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, because he [Herod] had married her.

18 For John had told Herod, It is not lawful and you have no right to have your brother's wife.

19 And Herodias was angry (enraged) with him, and held a grudge against him, and wanted to kill him, but she could not.

20 For Herod had (a reverential) fear of John, knowing that he was a righteous and holy man, and (continually) kept him safe [^uunder guard]. When he heard [John speak] he was much perplexed. And [yet] he heard him gladly.

21 But an opportune time came [for Herodias] when Herod on his birthday gave a banquet for his nobles and the high military and chief men of Galilee.

22 For when the daughter ^vof Herodias herself came in and danced, she pleased and ^vfascinated Herod and his guests; and the king said to the girl, Ask me for whatever you desire, and I will give it to you.

23 And he put himself under oath to her, Whatever you ask me, I will give it to you, even to the half of my kingdom. [Esth. 5:3, 6.]

24 Then she left the room and said to her mother, What shall I ask [for myself]? And she replied, The head of John the Baptist!

25 And she rushed back instantly to the king, and requested, saying, I wish you to give me right now the head of John the Baptist on a platter.

26 And the king was deeply pained and grieved and exceedingly sorry; but because of his oaths and his guests he did not want to slight her [by breaking faith with her].

27 And immediately the king sent off one [of the soldiers] of his bodyguard, and gave him orders to bring [John's] head. He went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head on a platter, and handed it to the girl, and the girl gave it to her mother.

29 When his disciples learned of it, they came and took [John's] body and laid it in a tomb.

30 The apostles [sent out as missionaries] came back and gathered together to Jesus, and told Him all that they had done and taught.

31 And He said to them, [^vAs for you] come away by yourselves to a deserted place, and rest a while. For many were (continually) coming and going, and they had not even leisure enough to eat.

32 And they went away in a boat to a solitary place by themselves.

33 Now many [people] saw them going and recognized them, and they ran there on foot from all the surrounding towns, and they got there ahead [of those in the boat].

34 As Jesus landed He saw a great crowd waiting, and He was moved with compassion for them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd; and He began to teach them many things.

35 And when ^wthe day was already far gone, His disciples came to Him and said, This is a desolate and isolated place, and the hour is now late;

36 Send the crowds away to go into the country and villages round about and buy themselves something to eat.

37 But He replied to them, Give them something to eat yourselves. And they said to Him, Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii [about forty dollars] worth of bread, and give it to them to eat? [II Kings 4:42-44.]

38 And He said to them, How many loaves do you have? Go and see. And when they [had looked and] knew, they said, Five [loaves] and two fish.

39 Then He commanded the people all to recline on the green grass by companies.

40 So they threw themselves down in ranks in hundreds and fifties — with the *regularity of arrangement of beds of herbs, looking †like so many garden plots.

41 And taking the five loaves and two fish, He looked up to heaven, and praising God gave thanks, and broke the loaves, and kept on giving them to the disciples to set before the people; and He [also] divided the two fish among [them] all.

42 And they all ate and were satisfied.

43 And they took up twelve [†small hand] baskets full of broken pieces [from the loaves] and of the fish.

44 And those who ate the loaves were five thousand men.

45 And at once He insisted that the disciples get into the boat and go ahead of Him to the other side, to Bethsaida, while He was sending the throng away.

46 And after He had taken leave of them, He went off into the hills to pray.

47 Now when evening had come, the boat was out in the middle of the lake, and He was by Himself on the land.

48 And having seen that they were troubled and tormented in rowing, for the wind was against them, about the fourth watch of the night [3:00 o'clock] He came to them, walking (directly) on the sea. And He acted as if He meant to pass by them, 49 But when they saw Him walking on the sea they thought [it] was a ghost, and †raised a (deep, throaty) shriek of terror.

50 For they all saw Him, and were agitated — troubled and filled with fear and dread. But immediately He talked with them and said, Take heart! I AM! Stop being alarmed and afraid. [Exod. 3:14.]

51 And He went up into the boat with them and the wind ceased, [†sank to rest as if exhausted by its own beating]. And they were astonished exceedingly — beyond measure.

52 For they failed to consider or understand [the teaching and meaning of the miracle of] the loaves; [in fact] their hearts had †grown callous — had become dull and had †lost the power of understanding.

53 And when they had crossed over they reached the land of Gennesaret, and †came to (anchor at) the shore.

54 As soon as they got out of the boat [the people] recognized Him, 55 And they ran about the whole countryside, and began to carry around sick people on their pallets (sleeping pads) to any place where they heard that He was.

56 And wherever He came into villages or cities or the country, they would lay the sick in the market places, and beg Him that they might touch even the fringe of His outer garment; and as many as touched Him were restored to health.

CHAPTER 7

NOW there gathered together to [Jesus] the Pharisees and some of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem,

2 For they had seen that some of His disciples ate with †common hands, that is, [with hands defiled and unhallowed, because] they had not [given them a †ceremonial] washing.

3 For the Pharisees and all of the Jews do not eat unless [merely for ceremonial reasons] they wash their hands (diligently †up to the elbow) with clenched fist, adhering (carefully and faithfully) to the tradition of (practices and customs handed down to them by) their forefathers — to be observed.

4 And [when they come] from the market place, they do not eat unless they purify themselves; and there are many other traditions — [that is] oral, man-made laws handed down to them, which they observe faithfully and diligently — washing of cups and wooden pitchers and widemouthed jugs and utensils of copper and ^abeds.

5 And the Pharisees and scribes kept asking [Jesus], Why do Your disciples not order their way of living according to the tradition handed down by the forefathers to be observed, but eat with hands unwashed and ceremonially not purified?

6 But He said to them, Excellently and truly — ^bso that there will be no room for blame — did Isaiah prophesy of you, the pretenders and hypocrites, as it stands written: This people (constantly) honor Me with their lips, but their heart holds itself off and is far distant from Me.

7 In vain — fruitlessly and without profit — do they worship Me, ordering and teaching to be obeyed as doctrines the commandments and precepts of men. [Isa. 29:13.]

8 You disregard and give up and bid depart from you the commandment of God, and cling to the tradition of men — keeping it carefully and faithfully.

9 And He said to them, You have a fine way of rejecting (thus thwarting and nullifying and doing away with) the commandment of God, in order to keep your tradition — your own human regulations!

10 For Moses said, Honor (revere with tenderness of feeling and deference) your father and your mother; and, He who speaks ill of, or reviles or abuses or treats improperly father or mother, let him (surely) die. [Exod. 20:12; Deut. 5:16; Exod. 21:17; Lev. 20:9.]

11 But [as for you] you say, A man is exempt if he tells [his] father or [his] mother, What you would otherwise have gained from me (everything I have that would have been of use to you) is Corban, that is, is a gift — already given as an offering to God.

12 Then you no longer are permitting him to do anything for [his] father or mother — but are letting him off from doing for them.

13 Thus you are nullifying and making void and of no effect [the authority of] the Word of God through your tradition, which you [in turn] hand on. And many [things] of this kind you are doing.

14 And He called the people to [Him] again, and said to them, Listen to Me, all of you, and understand [what I say].

15 There is not [even] one thing outside a man which by going into him can pollute and defile him, but the things which come out of a man are what defile him and make him unhallowed and unclean.

16 If any man has ears to hear, let him be listening — and ⁱperceive, comprehend by hearing.

17 And when He had left the crowd and had gone into the house, His disciples began asking Him about the parable.

18 And He said to them, Then are you also unintelligent and dull and without understanding? Do you not discern and see that whatever goes into a man from the outside cannot make him unhallowed or unclean, 19 Since it does not reach and enter his heart but [only his] digestive tract, and so passes on (into the place designed to receive waste)? Thus He was making and declaring all foods (ceremonially) clean [that is, abolishing the ceremonial distinctions of the Levitical Law].

20 And He said, What comes out of a man is what makes a man unclean and renders [him] unhallowed.

21 For from within, [that is] out of the heart of men, come base and wicked thoughts: sexual immorality, stealing, murder, adultery,

22 Coveting (a greedy desire to have more wealth), dangerous and destructive wickedness, deceit; ^kunrestrained (indecent) conduct; an evil eye (envy), slander (evil speaking, malicious misrepresentation, abusiveness); pride — [that is] ^lthe sin of an uplifted heart against God and man; foolishness (folly, lack of sense, recklessness, thoughtlessness).

23 All these evil [purposes and desires] come from within, and they make the man unclean and render him unhallowed.

24 And Jesus arose and went away from there to the region of Tyre and Sidon. And He went into a house and did not want any one to know [that He was there], but it was not possible for Him to be hidden [from public notice].

25 Instead, at once a woman whose little daughter (was under the control of) an unclean spirit, heard about Him, and came and flung herself down at His feet.

26 Now the woman was a Greek [Gentile in religion], a Syrophenician by race. And she kept begging Him to drive the demon out of her little daughter.

27 And He said to her, First let the children be fed, for it is not becoming or proper or right to take the children's bread and throw it to the (little house) dogs.

28 But she answered Him, Yes, Lord; yet even the small pups under the table eat the little children's scraps of food.

29 And He said to her, Because of this saying you may go your way; the demon has gone out of your daughter [permanently].

30 And she went home, and found the child thrown on the couch, and the demon departed.

31 Soon after this Jesus coming back from the region of Tyre, passed through Sidon on to the Sea of Galilee through the region of Decapolis [the ten cities].

32 And they brought to Him a man who was deaf and had difficulty in speaking, and they begged Jesus to place His hand upon him.

33 And taking him aside from the crowd privately, He thrust His fingers into the man's ears, and spat and touched his tongue;

34 And looking up to heaven, He sighed as He said, Ephphatha, which means, Be opened.

35 And his ears were opened, his tongue was loosed, and he began to speak distinctly and as he should.

36 And Jesus [^min His own interest] admonished and ordered them sternly and expressly to tell no one, but the more He commanded them, the more zealously they proclaimed it.

37 And they were overwhelmingly astonished, saying, He has done everything excellently — commendably and nobly! He even makes the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak!

CHAPTER 8

IN those days when [again] an immense crowd had gathered, and they had nothing to eat, Jesus called His disciples to Him, and told them,

2 I have pity and sympathy for the people and My heart goes out to them, for they have been with Me now three days, and have nothing [left] to eat;

3 And if I send them away to their homes hungry, they will be feeble through exhaustion and faint along the road; and some of them have come a long way.

4 And His disciples replied to Him, How can any one fill and satisfy [these people] with loaves of bread here in [this] desolate and uninhabited region?

5 And He asked them, How many loaves have you? They said, Seven.

6 And He commanded the multitude to recline upon the ground, and He [then] took the seven loaves [of bread], and having given thanks, He broke them and kept on giving them to His disciples to put before [the people]; and they placed them before the crowd.

7 And they had a few small fish; and when He had ^opraised God and given thanks and asked Him to bless them [to their use], He ordered that these also should be set before [them].

8 And they ate and were satisfied, and they took up seven [^olarge provision] baskets full of the broken pieces left over.

9 And there were about four thousand people. And He dismissed them,

10 And at once He got into the boat with His disciples, and went to the district of Dalmanutha (or Magdala).

11 The Pharisees came and began to argue with and question Him, demanding from Him a sign — an attesting miracle from heaven — [maliciously] to test Him.

12 And He groaned and sighed deeply in His spirit, and said, Why does this generation seek for a sign? Positively I say to you, no sign shall be given this generation.

13 And He went away and left them, and getting into the boat again He departed to the other side.

14 Now they had [^pcompletely] forgotten to bring bread, and they had only one loaf with them in the boat.

15 And Jesus (repeatedly expressly) charged and admonished them saying, Look out; keep on your guard and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod [^oand the Herodians].

16 And they discussed it and reasoned with one another, [It is] because we have no bread.

17 And being aware [of it], Jesus said to them, Why are you reasoning and saying [it is] because you have no bread? Do you not yet discern or understand? Are your hearts in (a settled state of) hardness? [Jer. 5:21; Isa. 6:9, 10.]

18 Having eyes do you not see [with them], and having ears do you not hear and perceive and understand the sense of what is said? And do you not remember?

19 When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many [^ssmall hand] baskets full of broken pieces did you take up? They said to Him, Twelve.

20 And the seven loaves for the four thousand, how many [^rlarge provision] baskets full of broken pieces did you take up? And they said to Him, Seven.

21 And He (^ekept repeating), Do you not yet understand?

22 And they came to Bethsaida. And [people] brought to Him a blind man, and begged Him to touch him.

23 And He 'caught the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the village; and when He had spit on his eyes and put His hands upon him, He asked him, Do you (^epossibly) see anything?

24 And he looked up and said, I see people, but [they look] like trees, walking.

25 Then He put His hands on his eyes again, and the man looked intently [that is, fixed his eyes on definite objects], and he was restored, and saw everything distinctly — even what was ^aat a distance.

26 And He sent him away to his house, telling [him], Do not [even] enter the village or tell any one there.

27 And Jesus went on with His disciples to the villages of Caesarea Philippi, and on the way He asked His disciples, Who do people say that I am?

28 And they answered [Him], John the Baptist; and others, Elijah, but others, One of the prophets.

29 And He asked them, But who do you yourselves say that I am? Peter replied to Him, You are the Christ, the Messiah, the Anointed One.

30 And He charged them sharply to tell no one about Him.

31 And He began to teach them that the Son of man must of necessity suffer many things, and be tested and disapproved and rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and be put to death, and after three days rise [again ^vfrom death].

32 And He said this freely — frankly, plainly and explicitly, making it unmistakable. And Peter took Him ^vby the hand and led Him aside, then [facing Him] began to rebuke Him.

33 But turning around [His back to Peter], and seeing His disciples, He rebuked Peter, saying, Get behind Me, Satan! For you do not have a mind ^vintent on promoting what God wills, but what pleases men — you are not on God's side, but that of men.

34 And Jesus called to [Him] the throng with His disciples, and said to them, If any one intends to come after Me, let him deny himself — forget, ignore, disown, ^vlose sight of himself and his own interests — and take up his cross, and (^vjoining Me as a disciple and siding with My party) follow ^xwith Me — continually, [that is,] cleave steadfastly to Me.

35 For whoever wants to save his [^vhigher, spiritual, eternal] life, will lose [the ^vlower, natural, temporal life ^vwhich is lived (only) on earth]; and whoever gives up his life [which is lived (only) on earth], for My sake and the Gospel's, will save [his ^vhigher, spiritual life ^vin the eternal kingdom of God].

36 For what does it profit a man to gain the whole world, and forfeit his life [^vin the eternal kingdom of God]?

37 For what can a man give as an exchange — ^aa compensation, a ransom, in return — for his [blessed] life [^vin the eternal kingdom of God]?

38 For whoever ^ais ashamed [here and now] of Me and My words in this adulterous (unfaithful) and (preeminent-ly) sinful generation, of him will the Son of man also be ashamed, when He comes in the glory (splendor and majesty) of His Father with the holy angels.

some standing here who will in no way taste death before they see the kingdom of God come in [its] power.

2 Six days after this Jesus took with Him Peter and James and John, and led them up on a high mountain, apart by themselves. And He was transfigured before them and became resplendent with divine brightness.

3 And His garments became glistening, intensely white, as no fuller (cloth dresser) on earth could bleach them.

4 And Elijah appeared [there] to them, accompanied by Moses, and they were ^bholding (a protracted) conversation with Jesus.

5 And ^vPeter took up the conversation saying, Master, it is good and suitable and beautiful for us to be here. Let us make three booths (tents), one for You and one for Moses and one for Elijah.

6 For he did not [really] know what to say, for they were in a violent fright — ^daghast [with] dread.

7 And a cloud threw a shadow upon them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is My Son, the (^dmost dear-worthy) Beloved One; be ^bconstantly listening to and obeying Him.

8 And looking around they suddenly no longer saw any one with them except Jesus only.

9 And as they were coming back down the mountain, He admonished and ^eexpressly ordered them to tell no one what they had seen, until the Son of man should rise from among the dead.

10 So they carefully and faithfully kept the matter to themselves, questioning and disputing with one another about what rising from among the dead [meant].

11 And they asked Him, Why do the scribes say that it is necessary for Elijah first to come? [Mal. 4:5, 6.]

12 And He said to them, Elijah, it is true, does come first to restore all things and set them to right; and how is it written of the Son of man that He will suffer many things and be utterly despised and be treated with contempt and rejected? [Isa. 53:3.]

13 But I tell you that Elijah has already come, and [people] did to him whatever they desired, as it is written of him.

14 And when they came to the [nine] disciples, they saw a great crowd around them, and scribes questioning and disputing with them.

15 And immediately all the crowd, when they saw Jesus [returning from the holy mount, His face and person yet glistening] were greatly amazed, and ran up to Him [and] greeted Him.

16 And He asked them, About what are you questioning and discussing with them?

17 And one of the throng replied to Him, Teacher, I brought my son to You, for he has a dumb spirit.

18 And wherever it lays hold of him (so as to make him its own), it dashes him down and convulses him, and he foams (at the mouth) and grinds his teeth, and he [falls into a motionless stupor] and is wasting away; and I asked Your disciples to drive it out, and they were not able [to do it].

19 And He answered them, O unbelieving generation — without any faith! How long ^bshall I (have to do) with you? How long am I to bear with you? Bring him to Me.

20 So they brought [the boy] to Him, and when the spirit saw Him, at once it completely convulsed the boy, and he fell to the ground and kept rolling about, foaming [at the mouth].

21 And [Jesus] asked his father, How long has he had this? And he answered, From the time he was a little boy.

22 And it has often thrown him both into fire and into water, intending to kill him; but if You can do anything, do have pity on us and help us.

23 And Jesus said, [You say to Me], If You can do anything? [Why,] all things can be — are possible — to him who believes!

24 At once the father of the boy gave (an 'eager, 'piercing, inarticulate) cry with tears, and he said, Lord, I believe! Constantly help my ^aweakness of faith!

25 But when Jesus noticed that a crowd [of people] came running together, He rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, You dumb and deaf spirit, I charge you to come out of him and never go into him again.

26 And after giving a (hoarse, clamoring, fear-stricken) shriek of anguish and convulsing him terribly, it came out; and the boy lay (pale and motionless) like a corpse, so that many of them said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus took (¹a strong grip of) his hand and began lifting him up, and he stood.

28 And when He had gone indoors His disciples asked Him privately, Why could not we drive it out?

29 And He replied to them, This kind cannot be driven out by anything but prayer and fasting.

30 They went on from there, and passed along through Galilee. And He did not wish to have any one know it, 31 For He was [engaged for the time in] teaching His disciples. He said to them, The Son of man is being delivered into the hands of men, and they will put Him to death; and when He is killed, after three days He will rise [from death].

32 But they did not comprehend what He was saying, and they were afraid to ask Him [what this statement meant].

33 And they arrived at Capernaum; and when [they were] in the house He asked them, What were you discussing and arguing about on the road?

34 But they kept still, for on the road they had discussed and disputed with one another as to who [was the] greatest.

35 And He sat down and called the twelve [apostles], and He said to them, If any one desires to be first, he must be last of all and servant of all.

36 And He took a little child, and put him in the center of their group; and taking him in [His] arms, He said to them, 37 Whoever in My name and for My sake accepts and receives and welcomes one such child, also accepts and receives and welcomes Me; and whoever so receives Me, receives not only Me, but Him Who sent Me.

38 John said to Him, Teacher, we saw a man driving out demons in Your name who does not follow along with us, and we forbade him to do it, because he is not of our band [of Your disciples].

39 But Jesus said, Do not restrain or hinder or forbid him; for no one who does a mighty work in My name will soon afterward be able to speak evil of Me.

40 For he who is not against us is for us. [Num. 11:27-29.]

41 For I tell you truly, whoever gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to and bear the name of Christ, will by no means fail to get his reward.

42 And whoever causes one of (these believers,) these little ones who "acknowledge and cleave to Me, to stumble and sin, it would be better — more profitable and wholesome — for him if a (huge) millstone were hung about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea.

43 And if your hand puts a stumbling block before you and causes you to sin, cut it off; it is more profitable and wholesome for you to go into the life [that is really worthwhile] maimed, than with two hands to go to hell (Gehenna), into the fire that cannot be put out.^a

45 And if your foot is a cause of stumbling and sin to you, cut it off! It is more profitable and wholesome for you to enter into the life [that is really worthwhile] crippled, than having two feet to be cast into hell (Gehenna).^b

47 And if your eye causes you to stumble and sin, pluck it out! It is more profitable and wholesome for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye, than with two eyes to be thrown into hell (Gehenna),

48 Where their worm [which preys on the inhabitants, (and is a symbol of)] the wounds inflicted on the man himself by his sins] does not die, and the fire is not put out. [Isa. 66:24.]

49 For everyone shall be salted with fire.

50 Salt is good (beneficial); but if salt has lost its saltness, how will you restore [the saltness to] it? Have salt within yourselves, and be at peace and live in harmony with one another.

CHAPTER 10

AND [Jesus] left there [Capernaum] and went to the region of Judea and beyond [east of] the Jordan, and crowds (constantly) gathered around Him again; and again, as was His custom, He began to teach them.

2 And some Pharisees came up, and in order to test Him and try to find a weakness in Him asked, Is it lawful for a man to "dismiss and repudiate and divorce his wife?"

3 He answered them, What did Moses command you?

4 They replied, Moses allowed a man to write a bill of divorce, and to put her away. [Deut. 24:1-4.]

5 But Jesus said to them, Because of your hardness of heart [that is, of "your condition of insensibility to the call of God] he wrote you this "precept in your Law.

6 But from the beginning of creation God made them male and female. [Gen. 1:27; 5:2.]

be ^vjoined to his wife, and cleave closely to her (permanently).

8 And the two shall become one flesh, so that they are no longer two, but one flesh. [Gen. 2:24.]

9 What therefore God has united — joined together — let not man separate or divide.

10 And indoors the disciples questioned Him again about this subject.

11 And He said to them, Whoever ^vdismisses (repudiates and divorces) his wife and marries another, commits adultery against her;

12 And if a woman dismisses (repudiates and divorces) her husband and marries another, she commits adultery.

13 And they kept bringing young children to Him that He might touch them; and the disciples were reproving them [for it].

14 But when Jesus saw [it], He was indignant and ^vpained, and said to them, Allow the children to come to Me — do not forbid or prevent or hinder them — for to such belongs the kingdom of God.

15 Truly I tell you, whoever does not receive and accept and welcome the kingdom of God as a little child [does], positively shall not enter it at all.

16 And He took [the children up ^vone by one] in His arms and (^vferently invoked a) blessing, placing His hands upon them.

17 And as He was setting out on His journey, a man ran up and knelt before Him, and asked Him, Teacher, (You are ^vessentially and perfectly ^bmorally) good, what must I do to inherit eternal life (that is, ^vto partake of eternal salvation in the Messiah's kingdom)?

18 And Jesus said to him, Why do you call Me (^vessentially and perfectly ^bmorally) good? There is no one (^vessentially and perfectly ^bmorally) good except God alone.

19 You know the commandments: Do not kill; do not commit adultery; do not steal; do not bear false witness; do not defraud; honor your father and mother. [Exod. 20:12-16; Deut. 5:16-20.]

20 And he replied to Him, Teacher, I have carefully guarded and observed all these and taken care not to violate them from my boyhood.

21 And Jesus looking upon him loved him, and He said to him, You lack one thing; go and sell all you have, and give [the money] to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come [and] accompany Me — ^vwalking the same road that I walk.

22 At that saying the man's countenance fell and was gloomy, and he went away grieved and sorrowing, for he was holding great possessions.

23 And Jesus looked around and said to His disciples, With what difficulty will those who possess wealth and ^vkeep on holding it enter the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were amazed and bewildered and perplexed at His words. But Jesus said to them again, Children, how hard it is for those who trust (place their confidence, their sense of safety) in riches to enter the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than [for] a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.

26 And they were shocked and exceedingly astonished, and said to Him and ^vto one another, Then who can be saved?

27 Jesus glanced around at them and said, With men [it is] impossible, but not with God; for all things are possible with God.

28 Peter started to say to Him, Lo, we have ^vyielded up and abandoned everything (once and for all and ^vjoined You as Your disciples, sided with Your party) and accompanied You — ^vwalking the same road that You walk.

29 Jesus said, Truly, I tell you, there is no one who has given up and left house or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or lands, for My sake and for the Gospel, 30 Who will not receive a hundred times as much now in this time, houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, with persecutions, and in the age to come eternal life.

31 But many [that are now] first will be last [then], and many [who are now] last will be first [then].

32 They were on the way going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was walking on in front of them; and they were bewildered and perplexed and greatly astonished, and [those who were still] following were seized with alarm and were afraid. And He took the twelve [apostles] again, and began to tell them what was about to happen to Him.

33 [Saying], Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man will be turned over to the chief priests and the scribes, and they will condemn and sentence Him to death and turn Him over to the Gentiles.

34 And they will mock Him, and spit on Him, and whip Him, and put Him to death; but after three days He will rise again [from death].

35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, approached Him, and said to Him, Teacher, we desire You to do for us whatever we ask of You.

36 And He replied to them, What do you desire Me to do for you?

37 And they said to Him, Grant that we may sit one at Your right hand and one at [Your] left hand, in Your glory — Your majesty and splendor.

38 But Jesus said to them, You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, or be baptized with the baptism [of affliction] with which I am baptized?

39 And they replied to Him, We are able. And Jesus told them, The cup that I drink you will drink, and you will be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized;

40 But to sit at My right hand or at

My left hand is not Mine to give; but [will be given those] for whom it is ordained and prepared.

41 And when the other ten [apostles] heard it, they began to be indignant with James and John.

42 But Jesus called them to [Him], and said to them, You know that those who are recognized as governing and are supposed to rule the Gentiles (the nations) lord it over them — ruling with absolute power, holding them in subjection — and their great men exercise authority and dominion over them.

43 But this is not to be so among you; instead, whoever desires to be great among you must be your servant,

44 And whoever wishes to be most important and first in rank among you must be the slave of all.

45 For even the Son of man came not to have service rendered to Him, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for (instead of) many.

46 Then they came to Jericho; and as He was leaving Jericho with His disciples and a great crowd, Bartimaeus, a blind beggar, a son of Timaeus, was sitting by the roadside.

47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to shout saying, Jesus, Son of David, have pity and mercy on me (now)!

48 And many severely censured and reproved him, telling him to keep still; but he kept on shouting out all the more, You Son of David, have pity and mercy on me (now)!

49 And Jesus stopped and said, Call him. And they called the blind man, telling him, Take courage; get up, He is calling you.

50 And throwing off his outer garment, he leaped up and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus said to him, What do you want Me to do for you? And the blind man said to Him, Master, let me receive my sight.

52 And Jesus said to him, Go your way; your faith has healed you. And at once he received his sight and accompanied Jesus on the road. [Isa. 42:6, 7.]

CHAPTER 11

WHEN they were getting near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany at the Mount of Olives, He sent ahead two of His disciples,

2 And instructed them, Go into the village in front of you, and as soon as you enter it you will find a colt tied which has never been ridden by any one; unfasten it and bring it [here].

3 If any one asks you, Why are you doing this? answer, The Lord needs it, and He will send it back here presently.

4 So they went away and found a colt tied at the door out in the (winding) open street, and they loosed it.

5 And some who were standing there said to them, What are you doing, untying the colt?

6 And they replied as Jesus had directed them, and they allowed them to go.

7 And they brought the colt to Jesus, and threw their outer garments upon it, and He sat on it.

8 And many [of the people] spread their garments on the road, and others scattered (a layer of) leafy branches which they had cut from the fields.

9 And those who went before and those who followed cried out, 'Hosanna! (Be graciously inclined and propitious [to Him]!) Praised and blessed be He Who comes in the name of the Lord! [Ps. 118:26.]

10 Praised and blessed in the name of the Lord be the coming kingdom of our father David! Hosanna (O save us) in the highest (heaven)!

11 And Jesus went into Jerusalem, and entered the temple (=enclosure); and when He had looked around, surveying and observing everything, as it was already late He went out to Bethany together with the twelve [apostles].

12 On the day following, when they had come away from Bethany, He was hungry.

13 And seeing in the distance a fig tree [covered] with leaves, He went to see if He could find any [fruit] on it [=for in the fig tree the fruit appears at the same time as the leaves]. But when He came up to it, He found nothing but leaves, for the fig season had not yet come.

14 And He said to it, No one ever again shall eat fruit from you. And His disciples were listening [to what He said].

15 And they came to Jerusalem. And He went into the temple (area, porches and courts) and began to drive out those who sold and bought in the temple area, and He overturned the (=four-footed) tables of the money-changers and the seats of those who dealt in doves;

16 And He would not permit any one to carry any household equipment through the temple enclosure [thus making the temple area a short-cut traffic lane].

17 And He taught, and said to them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? But you have turned it into a den of robbers. [Isa. 56:7; Jer. 7:11.]

18 And the chief priests and the scribes heard [of this] and kept seeking some way to destroy Him, for they feared Him, because the entire multitude was struck with astonishment at His teaching.

19 And when evening came on, He and [His disciples] as accustomed went out of the city.

20 In the morning when they were passing along, they noticed that the fig tree was withered (completely) away to its roots.

21 And Peter remembered and said to Him, Master, look! The fig tree which You doomed has withered away!

22 And Jesus replying said to them, Have faith in God (constantly).

23 Truly, I tell you, whoever says to this mountain, Be lifted up and thrown into the sea! and does not doubt at all in his heart, but believes that what he says will take place, it will be done for him.

24 For this reason I am telling you, whatever you ask for in prayer, believe — trust and be confident — that it is granted to you, and you will [get it].

25 And whenever you stand praying, if you have anything against any one, forgive him and let it drop — leave it, let it go — in order that your Father Who is in heaven may also forgive you your [own] failings and shortcomings and let them drop.

26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your failings and shortcomings.

27 And they came again to Jerusalem. And when Jesus was walking about in the (courts and porches of the) temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders came to Him, 28 And they kept saying to Him, By what (sort of) authority are You doing these things, or who gave You this authority to do them?

29 Jesus told them, I will ask you a question. Answer Me, and then I will tell you by what (sort of) authority I do these things.

30 Was the baptism of John from heaven or from men? Answer Me.

31 And they reasoned and argued with one another, If we say, From heaven, He will say, Why then did you not believe him?

32 But [on the other hand] can we say, from men? For they were afraid of the people, because everybody considered and held John actually to be a prophet.

33 So they replied to Jesus, We do not know. And Jesus said to them, Neither am I going to tell you what (sort of) authority I have for doing these things.

CHAPTER 12

AND [Jesus] started to speak to them in parables — [that is,] with comparisons and illustrations. A man planted a vineyard, and put a hedge about it, and dug a pit for the wine press, and built a tower, and let it out [for rent] to vinedressers, and went into another country.

2 When the season came, he sent a bond servant to the tenants, to collect from them some of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 But they took him and beat him, and sent him away without anything.

4 Again he sent to them another bond servant, and they stoned him and wounded him in the head and treated him shamefully — sending him away with insults.

5 And he sent another, and that one they killed; then many others, some they beat and some they put to death.

6 He had still one left, a beloved son; last of all he sent him to them, saying, They will respect my son.

7 But those tenants said to one another, Here is the heir; come on, let us put him to death, and [then] the inheritance will be ours.

8 And they took him and killed him, and threw [his body] outside the vineyard.

9 Now what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the tenants, and give the vineyard to others.

10 Have you not even read this [passage of] Scripture: The very Stone which [after putting It to the test] the builders rejected, has become the Head of the corner;

11 This is from the Lord and is His doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes? [Ps. 118:22, 23.]

12 And they were trying to get hold of Him, but they were afraid of the people, for they knew that He spoke this parable with reference to and against them. So they left Him and departed. [Isa. 5:1-7.]

13 But they sent some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians to Him, for the purpose of entrapping Him in His speech.

14 And they came up and said to Him, Teacher, we know that You are 'sincere and what You profess to be; that You cannot lie and that You have no personal bias for any one; for You are not influenced by partiality and have no "regard for any one's external condition or position, but [on the basis of] truth You teach the way of God. Is it lawful (permissible and right) to give tribute ("poll taxes) to Caesar, or not?

15 Should we pay [them], or should we not pay [them]? But knowing their hypocrisy, He asked them, Why do you put Me to the test? Bring Me a coin (a denarius), so I may see it.

16 And they brought [Him one]. Then He asked them, Whose image (picture) is this, and whose superscription ("title)? They said to Him, Caesar's.

17 Jesus said to them, Pay to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to "God the things that are God's. And they "stood marveling and greatly amazed at Him.

18 And [some] Sadducees came to Him, [of that party] that say there is no resurrection; and they asked Him a question, saying,

19 Teacher, Moses gave us [a law] that if a man's brother died leaving a wife but no child, the man must marry the widow, and raise up offspring for his brother. [Deut. 25:5.]

20 Now there were seven brothers; the first one took a wife and died leaving no children;

21 And the second [brother] married her, and died, leaving no children; and the third did the same,

22 And all seven, leaving no children. Last of all the woman died also.

23 Now in the resurrection, whose wife will she be? For the seven were married to her.

24 Jesus said to them, Is not this where you wander out of the way and go wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God?

25 For when they arise from among the dead, [men] do not marry nor are [women] given in marriage, but are like the angels in heaven.

26 But concerning the dead being raised, have you not read in the book of Moses, [in the passage] about the [burning] bush, how God said to him, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? [Exod. 3:2-6.]

27 He is not the God of [the] dead, but of [the] living! You are very wrong.

28 Then one of the scribes came up and listened to them disputing with one another, and noticing that Jesus answered them fitly and admirably, he asked Him, Which commandment is first and most important of all ("in its nature)?

29 Jesus answered, The first and principal one of all commands is, Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord;

30 And you shall love the Lord your God "out of and with your whole heart, and out of and with all your soul (your "life) and out of and with all your mind — [that is] with "your faculty of thought and your moral understanding — and out of and with all your strength. This is the first and principal commandment. [Deut. 6:4, 5.]

31 The second is like it and is this, You shall love your neighbor as yourself. There is no other commandment greater than these. [Lev. 19:18.]

32 And the scribe said to Him, Excellently and fitly and admirably answered, Teacher! You have said truly that He is One, and there is no other but He;

33 And to love Him out of all the heart, and with all the understanding — [that is,] with the "faculty of quick apprehension and intelligence and keenness of discernment — and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbor as oneself, is much more than all the whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. [I Sam. 15:22; Hos. 6:6; Mic. 6:6-8.]

34 And when Jesus saw that he answered intelligently — discreetly and ^ahaving his wits about him — He said to him, You are not far from the kingdom of God. And after that no one ventured or dared to ask Him any further question.

35 And as Jesus taught in (a ^aporch or court of) the temple, He said, How can the scribes say that the Christ is David's Son?

36 David, himself (inspired), in the Holy Spirit declared, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at My right hand until I make Your enemies (a footstool) under Your feet. [Ps. 110:1.]

37 David himself calls Him Lord, so how can it be that He is his Son? Now the great mass of the people heard [Jesus] gladly — listening to Him with delight.

38 And in [the course of] His teaching He said, Beware of the scribes, who like to go around in long robes, and [to get] greetings in the market places [public forums],

39 And the front seats in the synagogues and the ^achief couches (places of honor) at feasts, 40 Who devour widows' houses and to cover it up make long prayers. They will receive the heavier (sentence of) condemnation.

41 And He sat down opposite the treasury and saw how the crowd was casting money into the treasury. Many rich [people] were throwing in large sums.

42 And a widow who was poverty-stricken came and put in two copper mites [the smallest of coins], which together make ^ahalf of a cent.

43 And He called His disciples to [Him] and said to them, Truly and surely I tell you, this widow, (and she) poverty-stricken, has put in more than all those contributing to the treasury.

44 For they all threw in out of their abundance, but she out of her deep poverty has put in everything that she had, [even] all she had on which to live.

CHAPTER 13

AND as [Jesus] was coming out of the temple (^barea), one of His disciples said to Him, Look, Teacher! Notice the sort and quality of these stones and buildings!

2 And Jesus replied to him, You see these great buildings? There will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be loosened and torn down.

3 And as He sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple (^benclosure), Peter and James and John and Andrew asked Him privately, 4 Tell us when is this to take place and what will be the sign when these things, all [of them], are about to be accomplished?

5 And Jesus began to tell them, Be careful and watchful that no one misleads you [about it].

6 Many will come (^aappropriating to themselves) the name (of Messiah) which belongs to Me — ^abasing their claims on the use of My name — saying I am [He]! and they will mislead many.

7 And when you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not get alarmed — troubled and frightened; it is necessary [that these things] take place, but the end is not yet.

8 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; there will be earthquakes in various places; there will be famines and calamities; this is but a beginning of the ^aintolerable anguish and sufferings — only the first of the ^bbirth pangs.

9 But look to yourselves, for they will turn you over to councils, and you will be beaten in the synagogues, and you will stand before governors and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them.

10 And the good news (the Gospel) must first be preached to all nations.

11 Now when they take you [to court] and put you under arrest, do not be anxious beforehand about what you are to say nor [even] meditate about it; but say whatever is given you in that hour and at ^{the}moment, for it is not you who will be speaking but the Holy Spirit.

12 And brother will hand over brother to death, and the father his child, and children will take a stand against their parents and [have] them put to death,

13 And you will be hated and detested by everybody for My name's sake. But he who patiently perseveres and endures to the end will be saved [that is, ^{made}a partaker of the salvation by Christ, and delivered ^{from}spiritual death].

14 But when you see the abomination of desolation mentioned by Daniel the prophet standing where it ought not to be, [and] let the one who reads take notice and consider and understand and heed [this], then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. [Dan. 11:31; 12:11.]

15 Let him who is on the housetop not go down into the house, nor go inside to take anything out of his house;

16 And let him who is in the field not turn back again to get his mantle (cloak).

17 And alas for those who are pregnant and for those who have nursing babies in those days!

18 Pray that it may not occur in winter,

19 For at that time there will be such affliction — oppression and tribulation — as has not been from the beginning of the creation which God created until this particular time, and ^bpositively never will be [again].

20 And unless the Lord had shortened the days, no human being would be saved (rescued); but for the sake of the elect, His chosen ones — those whom He 'picked out for Himself — He has shortened the days. [Dan. 12:1.]

21 And then if any one says to you, See, here is the Christ! or, Look, there He is! do not believe it.

22 False Christs (Messiahs) and false prophets will arise and show signs and (work) miracles to deceive and lead astray, if possible, even the elect — those God has chosen out for Himself.

23 But look to yourselves and be on your guard; I have told you everything beforehand.

24 But in those days, after (the affliction and oppression and distress of) that tribulation, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light. [Isa. 13:10.]

25 And the stars will be falling from the sky, and the powers in the heavens will be shaken. [Isa. 34:4.]

26 And then they will see the Son of man coming in clouds with great (kingly) power and glory (majesty and splendor). [Dan. 7:13, 14.]

27 And then He will send out the angels and will gather together His elect — those He has 'picked out for Himself — from the four winds, from the farthest bounds of the earth to the farthest bounds of heaven.

28 Now learn a lesson from the fig tree; as soon as its branch becomes tender, and it puts forth its leaves, you recognize and know that summer is near.

29 So also, when you see these things happening, you will recognize and know that He is near, at [the very] door.

30 Surely, I say to you, this generation [the whole multitude of people living at that one time] positively will not perish or pass away before all these things take place.

31 Heaven and earth will perish and pass away, but My words will not perish or pass away.

32 But of that day or that hour not a [single] person knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father.

33 Be on your guard (constantly alert) and watch and pray, for you do not know when the time will come.

34 It is like a man (already) going on a journey; when he leaves home he puts his servants in charge, each with his particular task, and he gives orders to the doorkeeper to be constantly alert and on the watch.

35 Therefore watch — give strict attention, be cautious and alert — for you do not know when the Master of the house is coming, in the evening, or at midnight, or at cockcrow, or in the morning.

36 [Watch, I say] lest He come suddenly and unexpectedly and find you asleep.

37 And what I say to you I say to everybody: (Give strict attention, be cautious, active, alert, and) watch!

CHAPTER 14

IT was now two days before the Passover and the feast of Unleavened Bread. And the chief priests and the scribes were all the while seeking to arrest [Jesus] by secrecy and deceit, and put [Him] to death,

2 For they kept saying, It must not be during the feast, for fear there might be a riot of the people.

3 And while He was in Bethany, [a guest] in the house of Simon the leper, as He was reclining [at table], a woman came with an alabaster jar of ointment (perfume) of pure nard, very costly and precious, and she broke the jar and poured [the perfume] over His head.

4 But there were some who were moved with indignation and said to themselves, To what purpose was the ointment (perfume) thus wasted?

5 For it was possible to have sold this [perfume] for more than three hundred denarii [a laboring man's wages for a year], and to have given [them] to the poor. And they censured and reproved her.

6 But Jesus said, Let her alone; why are you troubling her? She has done a good and beautiful thing to Me — praiseworthy and noble.

7 For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you wish you can do good to them; but you will not always have Me. [Deut. 15:11.]

8 She has done what she could; she came beforehand to anoint My body for the burial.

9 And surely, I tell you, wherever the good news (the Gospel) is proclaimed in the entire world, what she has done will be told for a memorial of her.

10 Then Judas Iscariot, who was one of the twelve [apostles], went off to the chief priests in order to betray and hand Him over to them.

11 And when they heard it they rejoiced and were delighted, and they promised to give him money. And he (busying himself continually) sought an opportunity to betray Him.

12 On the first day [of the feast] of Unleavened Bread, when [as was customary] they killed the passover lamb [Jesus'] disciples said to Him, Where do You wish us to go [and] prepare the passover [supper] for You to eat?

13 And He sent two of His disciples and said to them, Go into the city, and a man carrying an (earthenware) jar or pitcher of water will meet you; follow him.

14 And whatever [house] he enters, say to the master of the house, The Teacher says, Where is My guest room, where I may eat the passover [supper] with My disciples?

15 And he will [himself] show you a large upper room furnished [that is, with carpets and with dining couches properly spread] and ready; there prepare for us.

16 Then the disciples set out and came to the city, and found [everything] as He had told them; and they prepared the passover.

17 And when it was evening He came with the twelve [apostles].

18 And while they were at the table eating, Jesus said, Surely, I say to you, one of you will betray Me, [one] who is eating [here] with Me. [Ps. 41:9.]

19 And they began to show that they were sad and hurt, and to say to Him one after another, Is it I? or, It is not I, is it?

20 He replied to them, It is one of the twelve [apostles], one who is dipping [bread] into the (same deep) dish with Me.

21 For the Son of man goes as it stands written concerning Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It would have been good (profitable and wholesome) for that man if he had never been born. [Ps. 41:9.]

22 And while they were eating, He took a loaf [of bread], praised God and gave thanks and asked Him to bless it to their use. [Then] He broke [it], and gave to them, and said, Take. Eat. This is My body.

23 He also took a cup [of juice of grapes], and when He had given thanks He gave [it] to them, and they all drank of it.

24 And He said to them, This is My blood [which ratifies] the new covenant, [the blood] which is being poured out for (on account of) many. [Exod. 24:8.]

25 Solemnly and surely, I tell you, I shall not again drink of the fruit of the vine till that day when I drink it ^oof a new and a higher quality in God's kingdom.

26 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus said to them, You will all fall away this night — [that is,] you will be caused to stumble and will begin to distrust and desert Me; for it stands written, I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered. [Zech. 13:7.]

28 But after I am raised [to life], I will go before you into Galilee.

29 But Peter said to Him, Even if they all fall away and are caused to stumble and distrust and desert You, yet I will not [do so]!

30 And Jesus said to him, Truly, I tell you, this very night, before a cock crows twice, you will utterly deny Me — disclaiming all connection with Me — three times.

31 But [Peter] said more vehemently and repeatedly, [Even] if it should be necessary for me to die with You, I will not deny or disown You! And they all kept saying the same thing.

32 Then they went to a place called Gethsemane, and He said to His disciples, Sit down here while I pray.

33 And He took with Him Peter and James and John, and began to be ^ostruck with terror and amazement and deeply troubled and depressed.

34 And He said to them, My soul is exceedingly sad — overwhelmed with grief — so that it almost kills Me! Remain here, and ^okeep awake and be watching.

35 And going a little farther, He fell on the ground and kept praying that, if it were possible, the [^ofatal] hour might pass from Him.

36 And He was saying, Abba, [which means] Father, everything is possible for You; take away this cup from Me; yet not what I will, but what You [will].

37 And He came back and found them sleeping, and He said to Peter, Simon, are you asleep? Have you not the strength to ^okeep awake and watch [with Me] one hour?

38 ^oKeep awake and watch and pray (constantly) that you may not enter into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

39 He went away again and prayed, saying the same words.

40 And again He came back and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy; and they did not know what answer to give Him.

41 And He came back a third time, and said to them, Are you still sleeping and resting? It is enough [of that]. The hour has come. The Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinful men — [that is,] of men whose way or nature is to act in opposition to God.

42 Get up; let us be going. See, My betrayer is at hand.

43 And at once, while He was still speaking, Judas came, one of the twelve [apostles], and with him a crowd of men with swords and clubs, [who came] from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders [of the Sanhedrin].

44 Now the betrayer had given them a signal, saying, The one I shall kiss is [the Man]; seize Him and lead [Him] away safely — so as to prevent His escape.

45 And when he came he went up to Jesus immediately, and said, Master! Master! and he embraced Him and kissed Him fervently.

46 And they threw their hands on Him and arrested Him.

47 But one of the bystanders drew his sword, and struck the bond servant of the high priest and cut off his ear.

48 And Jesus said to them, Have you come out as against a robber, to capture Me with swords and clubs?

49 I was with you daily in the temple (porches and courts) teaching, and you did not seize Me; but that the Scriptures be fulfilled.

50 Then [His disciples], forsaking Him, fled, all [of them].

51 And a young man was following Him, with nothing but a linen cloth (sheet) thrown about [his] naked [body]; and they laid hold of him, 52 But leaving behind the linen cloth (sheet), he fled from them naked.

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest, and all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes were gathered together.

54 And Peter followed Him at a distance, even right into the courtyard of the high priest. And he was sitting (in the firelight) with the guards, and warming himself at the fire.

55 Now the chief priests and the entire council (the Sanhedrin) were constantly seeking [to get] testimony against Jesus with a view to condemning Him and putting Him to death, but they did not find any.

56 For many were repeatedly bearing false witness against Him, but their testimonies did not agree.

57 And some stood up and were bearing false witness against Him, saying, 58 We heard Him say, I will destroy this temple (sanctuary) which is made with hands, and in three days I will build another, made without hands.

59 Still not even [in this] did their testimony agree.

60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, Have You not even one answer to make? What [about this which] these [men] are testifying against You?

61 But He kept still and did not answer at all. Again the high priest asked Him, Are You the Christ — the Messiah, the Anointed One — the Son of the Blessed?

62 And Jesus said, I AM; and you will (all) see the Son of man seated at the right hand of Power (*the Almighty) and coming with the clouds of heaven [Ps. 110:1; Dan. 7:13.]

63 Then the high priest tore his garments, and said, What need have we for more witnesses? [Num. 14:6.]

64 You have heard His blasphemy. What is your decision? And they all condemned Him as being guilty and deserving death. [Lev. 24:16.]

65 And some of them began to spit on Him, and to blindfold Him, and to strike Him with their fists, saying to Him, Prophecy! And the guards received Him with blows and by slapping Him.

66 While Peter was down below in the courtyard, one of the (serving) maids of the high priest came;

67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she gazed intently at him, and said, You were with Jesus of Nazareth too.

68 But he denied it ^afalsely and disowned Him, saying, I neither know nor understand what you say. Then he went outside [the courtyard and was] in the ^vvestibule to it. And a cock crowed.

69 And the maid servant saw him, and began again to say to the bystanders, This [man] is [one] of them.

70 But again he denied it ^afalsely and disowned Him. And after a short while again the bystanders said to Peter, ^aReally you are one of them, for you are a Galilean, and your dialect shows it.

71 Then he commenced invoking a curse on himself [if he were not telling the truth] and to swear, I do not know the Man about Whom you are talking!

72 And at once for the second time a cock crowed. And Peter remembered how Jesus said to him, Before a cock crows twice, you will (^vutterly) deny Me — disclaiming all connection with Me — three times. And ^ahaving put his thought upon it, he broke down and wept aloud and ^alamented.

CHAPTER 15

AND immediately when it was morning the chief priests, with the elders and scribes and the whole council, held a consultation; and when they had bound Jesus they took Him away [^vviolently] and handed Him over to Pilate. [Isa. 53:8.]

2 And Pilate inquired of Him, Are You the King of the Jews? And He replied, It is as you say.

3 And the chief priests kept accusing Him of many things.

4 And Pilate again asked Him, Have ^bYou no answer to make? See how many charges they are bringing against You!

5 But Jesus made no further answer at all, so that Pilate wondered and marveled. [Isa. 53:7.]

6 Now at the feast he [was accustomed] to set free for them any one prisoner whom they requested.

7 And among the rioters in the prison who had committed murder in the insurrection there was a man named Barabbas.

8 And the throng came up and began asking Pilate to do as he usually did for them.

9 And he replied to them, Do you wish me to set free for you the King of the Jews?

10 For he was aware that it was (^cbecause they were prompted) by envy that the chief priests had delivered Him up.

11 But the chief priests stirred up the crowd [to get] him to release for them Barabbas instead.

12 And again Pilate said to them, Then what shall I do [with the Man] Whom you call the King of the Jews?

13 And they shouted back again, Crucify Him!

14 But Pilate said to them, (Why?) What has He done that is evil? But they shouted with all their might the more, Crucify Him [^dat once]!

15 So Pilate, wishing to satisfy the crowd, set Barabbas free for them; and after having whipped Jesus, he handed [Him] over to be crucified. [Isa. 53:5.]

16 Then the soldiers led Him away to the courtyard inside the palace which is the praetorium, and they called the entire detachment of soldiers together.

17 And they dressed Him in a purple [robe], and weaving together a crown of thorns they placed it on Him.

18 And they began to salute Him, Hail (greeting, good health to You, long life to You), King of the Jews!

19 And they struck His head with a staff made of a [bamboo-like] reed, and spat on Him, and kept bowing their knees in homage to Him. [Isa. 50:6.]

20 And when they had [finished] making sport of Him, they took the purple [robe] off of Him, and put His own clothes on Him. And they led Him out [of the city] to crucify Him.

21 And they forced a passerby, Simon of Cyrene, the father of Alexander and Rufus, who was coming in from the field (country), to carry His cross.

22 And they led Him to Golgotha [in Latin, Calvary], meaning the place of a skull.

23 And they (attempted to) give Him wine mingled with myrrh, but He would not take it.

24 And they crucified Him, and divided His garments and distributed them among them, throwing lots for them, to decide who should take each. [Ps. 22:18.]

25 And it was the third hour (about nine o'clock in the morning) when they crucified Him. [Ps. 22:14-16.]

26 And the inscription of the accusation against Him was written above, The King of the Jews.

27 And with Him they crucified two robbers, one on [His] right hand and one on His left.

28 And the Scripture was fulfilled which says, He was counted among the transgressors. [Isa. 53:12.]

29 And those who passed by kept reviling Him and reproaching Him abusively in harsh and insolent language, wagging their heads and saying, Aha! You Who would destroy the temple and build it in three days, 30 Now rescue ^eYourself (‘from death), coming down from the cross!

31 So also the chief priests with the scribes made sport of Him to one another, saying, He rescued others (‘from death); Himself He is unable to rescue. [Ps. 22:7, 8.]

32 Let the Christ, the Messiah, the King of Israel, come down now from the cross, that we may see [it] and trust: in and rely on Him and adhere to Him! Those who were crucified with Him also reviled and reproached Him — speaking abusively, harshly and insolently.

33 And when the sixth hour had come (about mid-day), there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour (about three o'clock).

34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which means, My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me—^edeserting Me and leaving Me helpless and abandoned? [Ps. 22:1.]

35 And some of those standing by [and] hearing it said, See! He is calling Elijah!

36 And one man ran, and, filling a sponge with vinegar [a ^bmixture of sour wine and water], put it on a staff made of a [bamboo-like] reed, and gave it to Him to drink, saying, Hold off! Let us see whether Elijah [does] come to take Him down. [Ps. 69:21.]

37 And Jesus uttered a loud cry, and breathed out His life.

38 And the curtain [of the Holy of Holies] of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom.

39 And when the centurion who stood facing Him saw Him expire this way, he said, ⁱReally this Man was God's Son!

40 Now some women were there also, looking on from a distance, among whom were Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the younger and of Joses, and Salome, 41 Who, when [Jesus] was in Galilee, were in the habit of accompanying and ministering to Him; and also many other [women] who came up with Him to Jerusalem.

42 As evening had already come, since it was the day of Preparation, that is, [the day] before the Sabbath, [Deut. 21:22, 23.]

43 Joseph, he of Arimathea, noble and honorable in rank and a respected member of the council (Sanhedrin), who was himself waiting for the kingdom of God, daring the consequences, took courage and ventured to go to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus.

44 But Pilate wondered whether He was dead so soon, and having called the centurion, he asked him whether [Jesus] was already dead.

45 And when he learned from the centurion [that He was indeed dead], he gave the body to Joseph.

46 And Joseph bought a (fine) linen cloth [for swathing dead bodies], and taking Him down from the cross, he rolled Him up in the (fine) linen cloth; and placed Him in a tomb which had been hewn out of a rock. Then he rolled a [very large] stone against the door of the tomb. [Isa. 53:9.]

47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary [the mother] of Josés were [attentively] observing where He was laid.

CHAPTER 16

AND when the Sabbath was past [that is, after the sun had set], Mary Magdalene, and Mary [the mother] of James, and Salome purchased sweet-smelling spices, so that they might go and anoint [Jesus' body].

2 And very early on the first day of the week they came to the tomb; [by then] the sun had risen.

3 And they said to one another, Who will roll back the stone for us out of [the groove across the floor at] the door of the tomb?

4 And when they looked up, they [distinctly] saw that the stone was already rolled back, for it was very large.

5 And going into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting [there] on the right [side], clothed in a (long, stately, sweeping) robe of white, and they were utterly amazed and struck with terror.

6 And he said to them, Do not be amazed and terrified; you are looking for Jesus of Nazareth Who was crucified. He is risen; He is not here. See the place where they laid Him. [Ps. 16:10.]

7 But be going; tell the disciples and Peter, He goes before you into Galilee; you will see Him there, [just] as He told you.

8 Then they went out [and] fled from the tomb, for trembling and bewilderment and consternation had seized them. And they said nothing about it to any one, for they were held by alarm and fear.

9 Now Jesus, having risen (from death) early on the first day of the week, appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom He had driven out seven demons.

10 She went and reported it to those who had been with Him, as they grieved and wept.

11 And when they heard that He was alive and that she had seen Him, they did not believe it.

12 After this He appeared in a different form to two of them, as they were walking [along the way] into the country.

13 And they returned [to Jerusalem] and told the others, but they did not believe them either.

14 Afterward He appeared to the eleven [apostles, themselves] as they reclined at table; and He reproved and reproached them for their unbelief (their lack of faith) and their hardness of heart, because they had refused to believe those who had seen Him and looked at Him attentively after He was risen (from death).

15 And He said to them, Go into all the world and preach and publish openly the good news (the Gospel) to every creature (of the whole human race).

16 He who believes — [that is,] who adheres to and trusts in and relies on the Gospel and Him Whom it sets forth — and is baptized will be saved [from the penalty of eternal death]; but he who does not believe — who does not adhere to and trust in and rely on the Gospel and Him Whom it sets forth — will be condemned.

17 And these attesting signs will accompany those who believe: in My name they will drive out demons; they will speak in new languages;

18 They will pick up serpents, and [even] if they drink anything deadly, it will not hurt them; they will lay their hands on the sick, and they will get well.

19 So then the Lord Jesus, after He had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven and He sat down at the right hand of God. [Ps. 110:1.]

20 And they went out and preached everywhere, while the Lord kept working with them and confirming the message by the attesting signs and miracles that closely accompanied [it]. Amen — so be it.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE

CHAPTER 1

SINCE (*as is well known) many have undertaken to put in order and draw up a (*thorough) narrative of the surely established deeds which have been accomplished and fulfilled ^bin and among us,

2 Exactly as they were handed down to us by those who from the (*official) beginning [of Jesus' ministry] were eye-witnesses and ministers of the Word [that is, of *the doctrine concerning the attainment through Christ of salvation in the kingdom of God],

3 It seeming good and desirable to me, [I have determined] also after *having searched out diligently and followed all things closely and traced accurately the course from the highest to the minutest detail from the very first, to write an orderly account for you, most excellent Theophilus.

4 [My purpose is] that you may know the full truth, and understand with certainty and security against error the accounts (histories) and doctrines of the faith of which you have been informed and in which you have been *orally instructed.

5 In the days when Herod was king of Judea, there was a certain priest whose name was Zachariah, *of the daily service (the division) of Abia; and his wife was also a descendant of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6 And they both were righteous in the sight of God, walking blamelessly in all the commandments and requirements of the Lord.

7 But they had no child, for Elizabeth was barren, and both were *far advanced in years.

8 Now while on duty, serving as priest before God in the order of his division,

9 As was the custom of the priesthood, it fell to him by lot to enter (the *sanctuary of) the temple of the Lord and burn incense. [Exod. 30:7.]

10 And all the throng of people were praying outside [in the court] at the hour of incense [burning].

11 And there appeared to him an angel of the Lord, standing at [the] right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zachariah saw him he
